THE LORD IMPRESSING HEARTS

The following interesting experience by one of our field secretaries is so much to the point that we feel impressed to pass it on for the benefit of others. He writes:

"I stopped a man the other day to ask him what cotton was worth, as he had a load on the wagon. He of his own accord began to tell me about what was coming on the world between capital and labor. He gave me a good five minute talk on Seventh-day Adventist doctrines and then it was my turn. I had "Bible Readings" with me, so I pulled it out from under my coat and gave him some of the same kind of talk he had been giving me. Of course, he was interested, and said he and his family had sat up far into the night, just the past night, talking about these things. I readily sold him a "Bible Readings" for cash and delivered it to him in about five minutes, getting one from Brother B. People are stirred as never before on account of the conditions now existing, and the worse conditions get the more people will wake up and want to know what is coming. We can't afford to take it easy while others are hungering for the precious truths our books contain. Let us all do something, if we can't work all the time let us put in our spare moments selling little books or magazines. The Lord is calling for workers. Shall we disappoint the Master by choosing an occupation to our liking, when we know hundreds, yes thousands of people could be warned of coming events if we would just wake up and do our part."

Surely the Spirit of God is going before our workers and preparing hearts for the reception of Seventh-day Adventist literature. It is for this reason that this work is to be carried forward with increasing success notwithstanding hard times or other unfavorable conditions from a human point of view.

TENNESSEE RIVER CONFERENCE

News Items

Having just returned from a six weeks visit to Memphis, I am anxious to tell of some of the good things that are in progress there. The Y. P. M. V. society has begun meeting again with a great deal of enthusiasm and determination for doing things.

The Christian help and Gospel Meeting Band has begun their work by going to the county poor house and holding meetings on Sabbath afternoon. They enjoyed the trip immensely and received great benefit. They reported their work with tears in their eyes, brought by their thoughts of what they had seen and learned.

They are not stopping at this. Already they are planning other trips to hospitals and jails and other visits to this same place.

Miss Naoma Jones, who was chosen to be a member of the Sister Gideon Band which went out for street work last Saturday night, received the most contributions and should have her name on the Honor Roll as she received over $22.00. They are planning on going out again next week. I am sure there will be others who will be encouraged to attempt more than they have in the past and will reach their goal of $10.00

The Correspondence band has begun their work. They have already written several letters and have received the name of one interested person from the members of the band which visited the poor house.

The society at Memphis is working under the group plan and finds it very successful. It removes a great deal of the detail work from the shoulders of the leader and gives her more time to promote the missionary activities of the society.

The young people here are working with the Reading Courses too. While there it was my privilege to grant eight certificates.

We have but four weeks of this year left to us in which to work. Are we doing all that we want to do this year? Have we reached all of our goals? If we have reached our goals, have we reported what we have done? Let us work and talk and talk and work and see if we cannot reach our goals before the year is out. If we have already reached it let us see if we cannot come close to doubling it.

What are you doing in the drive to gather serviceable clothing for our people in the war stricken district in and around Poland? We have but a short time to work. Winter has already set in. It has been put up to the Y. P. M. V. department to collect this clothing. Are you working as much as you can?

Remember this clothing goes to our own people over there. They are destitute indeed. One is considered very well dressed if he has enough clothing to cover the whole body. Most of the people do not have that much. It is now almost mid-winter there. It is, to say the least, very cold. Shall we not put forth every effort to send them a supply to last until the winter is over?

We want good clean serviceable clothing, shoes, and warm hats. It must be mended if it is torn. Do not send any that is in need of patching. Do not send shoes that are worn so badly that you could not wear them but a short time. The style does not have to be of the latest but the clothing must be fit to wear. It costs considerable to send this clothing over, so do not send things that are not worth spending so much money on. When you have collected a quantity send it to the office, 322 Jackson Bldg., Nashville in care of the Y. P. M. V. department.

Do you own a set of this year's Reading Course Books?

Are you using the Circulating Library?

Are you due any Reading Course Certificates?

Have you finished the Bible Year?

The Standard of Attainment questions will be out soon.

Order your Morning Watch Calendar now.

Mrs. McElhany spent Sabbath, December 4, with the Madison Sabbath school and had a very pleasant and profitable time.

Brother Brooks was out last week and delivered some books for which he had orders and he reports splendid success—nearly a one hundred per cent delivery.

Brother L. E. Christman, our new Home Missionary Secretary, is spending this month in the interest of the Harvest Ingathering work in this state, dividing his time among the churches. Sabbath he and Brother Staines were in Memphis visiting both churches. They report a splendid interest there. Soliciting boxes were prepared and in about two hours, Saturday night, six of the sisters had collected $92.00, a fourteen year old girl having gotten $22.69.

Brother Martin, of the Bon Aqua Church, was a visitor at the office last week.

Brother Hudson who has been spending some time in Memphis in the interest of the young people's work has returned to Nashville and brings with him a good report of the work there.

All Sabbath school supplies for the new year should be ordered at once. Sabbath School Quarterlies and Morning Watch Calendars are on hand and all orders will be given prompt attention.

The new Home Missionary Calendar is also ready for mailing. Price 35c. The calendar is very attractively gotten up and the information it furnishes will prove valuable to every home.

Will all who have tithe, Harvest Ingathering or other funds on hand kindly forward the same to the Conference office promptly this month that all may be included in the 1920 report. The Conference books will be held open until January 3, 1921 to allow both individuals and churches to get their funds in on time. Money received after that date will be applied to the 1921 offerings.

Jackson Church No. 1

It was my privilege to spend December 6 and 7, with one little company at this place. They are of good courage and very much alive to this work. One interesting feature is that every church member is a working member. We read in "An appeal to our churches," that "A working church is a living church." This thought is very forcibly demonstrated here. Their Harvest Ingathering goal was $200.00, or $10.00 per member. However, they have already gone over the top, raising $210.00, and have set a new goal of $300.00. Jackson is the first church in the Conference to "Go over the top."

The writer made a number of mission boxes for the young people who are planning a "big night," Saturday night. Mrs. E. Holland raised the magnificent sum of $50.00, while Bro.

Keele comes next with $47.00, then Sister Keele with $35.00.

Many of our people have many trials and obstacles to work under and we feel gratified for the splendid success they had. Let us all work with renewed energy the remaining time that is allotted to us in this work, thus hastening the work to a glorious triumph.

L. E. CHRISTMAN.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE

Alabama News Notes

Brother Staton was a recent caller at the office. His report of the work is quite encouraging. He is now beginning to plan for the Institute which opens Jan. 9, 1921.

After some time out of the field pursuing other lines of work, Brother William Crowson again entered the colporteur work Monday, the 6th. We are happy for his return.

Brother Burroughs has returned from the churches in the southern part of the Conference. He says that the churches are taking hold of the Harvest Ingathering in earnest. He hopes to see Alabama reach the goal. We can do it by all taking part.

Elder Wright is at the office for a few days. He will soon be in the field again to help some of the churches in finishing up the year in good shape.

Sister M. McKay, who has charge of the Vegetarian Cafeteria in Birmingham has been real sick the past few days. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

Brother Zilke is one of our new colporteur recruits. He is enjoying his work and we wish him success. He is canvassing a part of Birmingham.

Only three weeks left to finish the Harvest Ingathering Campaign. Let us each have our $10.00 or more ere the New Year dawns. Alabama must win this time, then we shall all rejoice and praise the Lord for what He has enabled us to do.

Let us make this coming "Week of Prayer," December 11—18, the best we have ever enjoyed in this Conference and Mission. As a people we need to draw very near to God in these dark and perilous times. So dear brother, sister make much of this prayer season.

Office Mail Bag

Elder V. O. Punches, Field Secretary of the Bureau of Home Missions for the General Conference, and Elder O. R. Staines, Home Missionary Secretary for the Southern Union, visited Louisville the past Sabbath. They came in the interest of the Harvest Ingathering work, especially that among the foreign speaking people. Stereopticon lectures were given at both the Jefferson and Chestnut Street churches. Much enthusiasm was created for this line of work and definite plans were made to enter the foreign section of the city.

Elder Keate is visiting the Sand Hill and Stanford churches this week in the interest of the Harvest Ingathering work.

The Louisville church school set its goal at $35.00. They now have $183.48. The goal set for the Y. P. M. V. was $280.00, ten dollars each. They now have $550.00, almost double the goal. Surely the Lord is blessing this work. We are quite a distance from our Conference goal, but we have great hopes of reaching it if everyone will put forth faithful effort in the few weeks which remain.

Notice our colporteurs summary for this week. You will see that the Lord is still blessing in this work. We are constantly receiving requests from people of the world for a privilege to sell our good books. Why does not such a spirit prevail in the hearts of more of our people? "Take heed lest ye be overcharged with surfeiting and drunkenness and the cares of this life,"—and the "loud cry" pass you unawares.

The Home Missionary calendar for 1921 is an attractive one.

Every Seventh-day Adventist should have one. Price 35c. Order through the Tract Society.

Special Notice: We still have on hand the following small books which we will continue to sell at the old rate of twenty-five cents a copy less fifty per cent for any order for ten copies or more: "Our Lords Return," "What is Coming," "Christian Sabbath," and "Spiritualism."

Family Bible—We have a splendid offer for anyone who desires a large table Bible. It is 10½x12½ inches and the list price is now $10.50. While they last will sell them at $6.00 per copy postpaid.

Christmas Present—Get a nice book for that friend of yours. We have several of the current Reading Course books which we will sell at the special campmeeting price. If interested, correspond with the office. First come, first served.

SHREVEPORT

Never were the prospects for the work in this city as bright as at the present time. From the beginning a deep interest has been manifested and is now at its height. We believe the Lord has many precious souls here who will respond to the message and take their stand for the truth.

The influence of the campaign has extended far beyond the limits of the city, many coming a distance of forty miles to attend the lectures, and the crowd keeps coming. Sunday night, though wet and cold, the tabernacle was packed. Over six hundred were present, many having to stand. The evening offering amounted to $56.00.

The servant of the Lord is giving the message with much freedom and power. The hearty responses of the people indicate that they are rejoicing in the glorious truths.

The newspapers are giving us considerable free advertising and free space for sermons. Our excellent music is an attractive feature. We thank God for the songs that stir the hearts of the people.

As a band of workers we believe that the hour has struck and the day dawned to proclaim the truth with power. Trusting God, He will bless our efforts and we will see such results in this field as we have never known before. We trust our people throughout the Conference will remember the work in Shreveport.

MRS. M. C. MORGAN.

We are pleased to report success and the marvelous workings of the Lord all along the way.

The Union Evangelistic effort is progressing well. Elder Bunch, Brother and Sister Melendy, Brother Vreeland, Sister Homung and Sister Morgan began the tabernacle meetings November 21st with splendid attendance and interest, which has continued to date. The attendance ranges from three to five hundred.

Our tabernacle is forty-eight by eighty feet, and presents a very attractive appearance from within, being beautifully decorated with plants, flowers, and oil paintings. Every feature of the program is receiving encouraging compliments from the public.

The Lord has led in all the arrangements for this campaign. Every step was hedged until the Lord opened the way. Now we have, as we think, the best location in the city, a free lot, and a free piano. The building is heated with natural gas—the only cheap thing in Shreveport.

Last evening, a showing of hands expressed the belief that we are living in the time of the end, and near the close of earth's history. Considerable enthusiasm was manifested over the "Signs," especially the modern inventions.

Evidence is clear that this is an opportune time for gospel work in this city, and we all feel much encouraged. Please do not forget to pray for Shreveport.

E. H. HUNTLEY.

Rouse colporteurs, rouse ye, lift up high your goals
 For books you should deliver to reach dear honest souls,
 Angels stand beside you as you enter in the press
 To open hearts before and give you good success.
 Probation hours are closing. The night is setting in Make every effort stronger, decide that you must win.
 Let early morning hours find you fit and true as steel
 To do the work before you in the Lord's great harvest field.
 The mystery soon will finish, summon all your powers
 Deep love for souls should stir you to put in telling hours.
 Oh, buckle on the armor, in love and faith work hard,
 The Master waits to bless you and give you great reward.
 Pray for the spirits quickening, and mind to pray and work
 The time is gone forever to idly dream and shirk.
 The Master expects full duty from all who share a part
 In His work of love and mercy sought out by willing hearts.
 The time is not far distant when the trumpet peal so loud
 Will call you safe to witness His coming in the cloud,
 With holy joy unutterable and countenance like the sun
 You'll hear the words so priceless "My son thou hast well done."
 Enter thou the mansions I have long prepared for thee,
 And see our Father's face and live eternally.
 The books you sold are living in souls around my throne
 Then joy for ceaseless ages shall always be your crown.
 One word more, Colporteurs, the soldiers phrase adopt,
 Don't stay in the trenches, but go on—"over the top."

Missionary Volunteers, Notice!

Knowing that our people generally are greatly interested in the Young People's Missionary Volunteer work, I take pleasure in passing on to the readers of the WORKER a report of the council of this department, held at Indianapolis recently. This report was written by a member of the General Conference Department and has appeared in other of our denominational papers

J. C. THOMPSON.

Echoes from the M. V. Council

As many of our readers know, there was held in Indianapolis, Indiana, October 14-19, a Missionary Volunteer Secretaries' Council, immediately preceding the Fall Council of the General Conference. Every union conference Missionary Volunteer secretary in the United States and Canada was present

Since the calling together of these twelve secretaries also brought all but three of the union educational secretaries, and this department also is confronted with many problems, it was decided almost at the last moment to divide time at the council with this twin department, and so a call was extended to the three union secretaries having only the educational work.

M. E. Kern, J. F. Simon, Mrs. Harriet Holt, and the writer, of the General Conference Missionary Volunteer Department, and W. E. Howell, Otto John, Sarah E Peck, of the General Educational Department, were present. Several local Missionary Volunteer secretaries and educational superintendents also were in attendance. Prof. L. L. Cavinness, who with his family has recently sailed for Europe to take general oversight of these departments in the Latin Union, Guy Dail, recently from Europe, and Mrs. Chase, our editor, attended practically every session.

Each day opened with a devotional hour, at which time the deep spiritual significance of our work in the conservation and training of our army of youth was emphasized. Leaders must be what they wish their followers to become. "Leaders may not do as other men."

Much of the detail work of the council was referred to committees, several of which were named by each department. Careful attention was given to consideration of details connected with each of the three general divisions of our Missionary Volunteer work: namely, devotional features, educational features, and missionary activities.

Under the first were discussed plans for promotion of the Morning Watch and for the make-up and circulation of the Morning Watch Calendar. It was voted to ask the Department to prepare a certificate to be issued to those completing the Bible Year.

After considering the Australasian Standard of Attainment plan, it was voted to continue the present plan for Standard of Attainment. An advanced Standard of Attainment, the same to embody the element of mission study, was asked for.

Several most interesting manuscripts prepared by our missionaries and others, were examined by the committee on educational features. It looks as if our next Reading Courses may be made up, as are the present ones, largely from books of our own production.

COLLEGEDALE AS IT IS

Nestled among the foot-hills of the great Cumberland Mountain range, in Hamilton County, Tenn., we find the happiest little neighborhood in the world.

Beautiful for situation, unique for position, and happily fortunate for surroundings, lies the scene which none can forget.

This dear spot is an oasis to the weary heart, the tired eye and the exhausted and overworked brain.

The thoughts of Collegedale occupy the dearest place in the hearts of all the young men and women who have the happy privilege of dwelling within the halls of the Southern Junior College each year.

If one desires a real retreat from the tiresome hustle, bustle and routine grind of city life, there could be no more satisfying or effective soothing balm than the serene joy afforded by its sweet, fragrant atmosphere.

This peculiarly sweet fragrance of the air is not superceded in any place in the world.

The lofty trees of the beautiful woods are filled with singing birds and all nature ascribes praise to the Creator, which causes the rebellious hearts of man to involuntarily join in this outburst of holy rapturous joy and praise to the all-wise Creator. The world holds no sweeter place for the one who enjoys nature's purest communion.

The green clad mountains in the background on the west furnish the finishing touches to the picturesque arrangement of nature's playground. The all-wise Creator waters the fruitful hills overlooking the fertile valley with two large bountiful springs of heavens purest crystal waters. In drawing the curtains of Gods canopy over this valley, He has graciously portrayed to sinful man one of heavens grandest masterpieces of eternal art, painting and sculpture. The golden sunrise, the peaceful hours of the beautiful day, the painted sunset, merging into the silvery moonlight in the eve which is so peculiar to this valley, all testify unmistakably to the matchless wisdom of a Master Artist.

On arising in the morning, one's eye is first greeted in the East by that faithful old Sol, who then is causing the million dewdrops lurking in the vale to give forth the complete spectrum reflection of the gorgeous paints of the Master.

The bountiful crops in the fertile valley testify explicitly to the magnificent powers of God cooperating with man's efforts.

O! That all the world might have the supreme privilege of dwelling in this hallowed spot that their lives might be quickened, refined and enobled by the vivifying effect of the balmy air of this Divine canopy of Eternal grandeur. WARREN FRANKLIN.

Louisiana and Mississippi Conferences

The delegates from the Louisiana and Mississippi Conferences met in joint session at Jackson, Miss., Dec. 8, 1920, and voted the following after carefully considering the needs, conditions and possibilities of each conference.

Voted that: We the delegates of the Louisiana and Mississippi Conferences unite, beginning Jan. 1, 1921, into one conference in accord with the recommendation that was passed by the Union Conference Committee, also the committee of the Louisiana and Mississippi Conferences in joint session.

For many reasons the delegates from both fields felt that Providence was leading in uniting the two conferences into one, to be known as the Louisiana-Mississippi Conference, with headquarters at Jackson, Miss., at least for the present.

After the consideration of the two conferences it was thought best by the conference officials that one Colporteurs Institute for the white and one for the colored be held for the combined conferences, instead of two for each as was announced in the last Union WORKER, and that the date and place for the white institute be held at Jackson, Mississippi, December 30 to January 8.

That the one for the colored be held January 19-28. The place to be chosen later.

To this end let all the colporteurs begin to plan to so arrange their affairs so that nothing will interfere with their attending.

Brother F. W. Schmehl was chosen as Field Missionary Secretary of the new conference and Brother C. R. Kenney the assistant.

These brethren will either write or visit you regarding the necessary arrangement for your

The Test of a Well-taught Lesson

A missionary in India one day gave three native boys this lesson: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." He told the boys to learn it, and when they had done so, to report to him. A long time afterward he met one of the boys who had been in the class and asked him why he had not reported. The boy said, "I have not yet learned the lesson."

The missionary was surprised. "Why," he replied, "the lesson is not difficult," and he repeated: "Whatsoever ye would," etc. But the boy interrupted, "O yes, yes, me can say it, but me can't do it yet."—Selected.
