SLIGONIAN IS AWARDED SECOND-CLASS HONORS

RISES FROM THIRD CLASS

Press Association Membership Includes Free Bureau For Information

W. M. C.'s student weekly newspaper is mounting the ladder in college circles. Word received this week from the National Scholastic Press Association includes a certificate awarding The Sligonian a second-class honor rating among college newspapers.

Less than a year ago The Sligonian joined the association to take advantage of the benefits which are offered to the members. Not long after joining, it was given a third-class rating, and has risen in a few months to the second-class position. The new certificate is dated April 10, 1930, but was not sent to the office sooner for fear of its being lost during the summer.

The National Scholastic Press Association, Fred L. Kildow, director, has its headquarters at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn. There are two more steps to which The Sligonian aspires: the first class, and the all-American rating.

DR. WILKINSON SPEAKS BEFORE CITY COUNCIL

On Sabbath, Sept. 27, the Mt. Pleasant church heard Dr. B. G. Wilkinson, dean of Theology, tell of his experiences with the city council of Philadelphia. This council met Friday, Sept. 26, to decide whether the city of Philadelphia should vote for or against the abolition of Pennsylvania's Sunday Blue Laws of 1794.

Dr. Wilkinson, along with other authorities, spoke before the morning council. While the others spoke with Sunday movies and Sunday baseball as their aim, the Doctor pleaded for religious freedom. He presented many new facts before them, and read statements by George Washington which explained that the United States Constitution was adopted for the sole purpose of religious freedom.

"If the Blue Laws are not abolished in Pennsylvania," the speaker declared, "the people will come a thousand strong to Washington to ask for a national Blue Law. This is truly one of the signs of the end."

ENGLISH SEMINAR HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF YEAR

Eight college seniors met for the first time last night in the English Seminar class with their instructor, Prof. Charles E. Weniger. The purpose of the course, which is open to college seniors majoring in English, includes writing on English problems of denominational interest.

Although it was not necessary for members of the class to file their choice of a thesis subject with Prof. Weniger before Oct. 1, most of the seniors have shown their interest in

Former W. M. C. Greek Professor Publishes History of Christianity

Prof. J. N. Anderson, former professor of Missions and Greek at W.M.C., has entered the field of authors. "God's Epoch in History" is the name of the book just completed by him and soon to be published. It is a history of the advance of Christianity, especially in mission lands, during the 20th century. With his varied experiences as a background, he shows God's hand in the forming of the destinies of nations.

For two years Prof. Anderson has been retired, living at Milton Junction, Wis., where he is pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist church. Previous to his retirement he taught for four years at W.M.C., having already had five years' teaching experience in the school when it was still the Foreign Missions Seminary. He was also an instructor in Union College, Lincoln, Neb., for nine years.

China was the field of his endeavor before taking up work in the colleges. He opened up work there in 1902, being the first Seventh-day Adventist missionary in that country. Prof. Anderson received his Bachelor of Science degree at Milton College in Wisconsin in 1892, and was ordained to the ministry in 1899.

MEDICAL SECRETARY URGES HEALTH CARE

Statistics Presented to Show Effects of Faulty Habits

"The time to fit oneself for service in the mission fields is during college life," stated Miss Kathryn L. Jensen, secretary for the Nurses' Division of the General Conference Medical Missionary Department in her chapel talk Monday morning, Sept. 29.

Miss Jensen presented charts which showed that a large percentage of college students have defects in their hearts, lungs, eyes, posture and skin. "A proper diet and a scientific study of the different food combinations will eliminate many of these difficulties," said the speaker.

Recruits Are Rejected

Of 557 persons called to the foreign fields, 32 per cent were rejected because of physical deformities. Seventeen per cent of these were men, while 30 per cent were women. Wrong habits of living proved to be the causes of 90 out of every 100 of these rejections.

In closing, the speaker related several stories of persons whose health broke down in the mission fields because they neglected minor ailments such as diseased tonsils and teeth. She urged the students to take care of their health at the present time so that they will be physically as well as mentally qualified to labor in mission lands when the call for service comes.

SANITARIUM RAISES $1700 FOR MISSION FUND

The Investment Fund for missions has again proved a success. The Sanitarium Sabbath school last Sabbath raised $1,233.66 to apply on this fund.

Twice a year an Investment Fund offering is taken up in the nurses' Sabbath school. The spring offering

STUDENT ASSOCIATION GIVES ENTERTAINMENT

MARCHES ARE FEATURED

'Mid loud applause the officers of The Students' Association stepped on to the platform in Columbia Hall last Saturday night to initiate the season's activities with a program of readings, music and extemporaneous speeches.

"Hail Washington," the school song, was sung by the student body, with Leon Robbins supplying the necessary vim behind the baton.

Following the opening speech by President Andrew Robbins, Thomas Lupo played a violin solo that called for an encore. Miss Ollie Mae Robertson gave a reading recounting the experiences of a colored mammy's first visit to the "big town."

Vinston Adams and Max Shoup entertained with a novel duet on a piccolo and a tuba, playing "Yankee Doodle."

The program became a surprise

NEWS WRITING CLASS GOES ON FIRST TOUR

The first of seven News Writing laboratory tours will take place this afternoon by auto under the direction of Walter Crandall. Miss Minnie Abrey, dean of women, will accompany the group.

The purpose of the tour is to gain material for news write-ups and stories for current class work.

The Washington Cathedral, where a directed tour will be conducted, will be the first point of interest. The post office building on Pennsylvania avenue, where is housed the second largest flag in the world, the old brick capitol, the mother's tree on the capitol lawn, and the world's shortest subway are places to be visited on this trip.

MONTHLY DATES SET FOR CLUB MEETINGS

Five Organizations Will Meet First Time Saturday Evening

The Social Committee has voted that the first Saturday night of every month shall be devoted to the activities of the various clubs of the College. On Oct. 4, the following clubs will hold the initial meeting of the school year 1930-1931: Spanish, English, Cosmic Ray, Kate Lindsay Guild, and Vestal. In the case of special events during the year which cannot be transferred to another date, the clubs will convene the second Saturday evening.

The Kate Lindsay Guild, under the direction of Miss Florence Oliver, is open to graduate nurses taking college work. The Guild is designed to promote advanced education among nurses and to foster good fellowship.

The object of the Cosmic Ray is to broaden its members scientifically. Prof. E. C. Blue is the promoter of this club, and is arranging for lectures and visits of a scientific nature.

The Spanish Club plays Spanish games, takes Spanish hikes, has Spanish picnics, and sings Spanish songs. Miss Virginia Hoelzel is the leader.

In the Vestal Club, the girls, under Miss Anna Roedel's supervision, study improved methods of housekeeping.

Prof. C. E. Weniger is sponsor for the English Club. Many interesting features in the way of contests, hikes, and lectures are being prepared for the club this year.

NEW STUDENTS SPEAK ON HISTORY OF HYMNS

"To my mind the highest form of worship is in song," was the opening remark made by John Osborn, leader of the W.M.C. Missionary Volunteer Society, Friday night, in a program featuring the stories of some of the most loved hymns.

Mr. Osborn reminded the audience that music was used to celebrate creation, to announce the birth of Christ and to welcome the Redeemer back to heaven. Talks by four new students followed.

Miss Marion Booth showed the importance of song in divine worship. Miss Louise Archibald told the life stories of Messrs. Philip Bliss and Robert Lowery, which were testimonies to the converting power of song. The audience learned from Owen Wheeler that "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" is one of five thousand hymns written by Miss Fannie Crosby. Dell Haughey told of the power exerted by Martin Luther's hymns.

LAURENCE GIBSON STARS IN SCIENCE ENTRY TEST

Freshmen entry exams have been the order of the day since the beginning of school. A mathematics exam on the fundamentals of arithmetic, algebra and geometry was given by Prof. C. L. Woods as a prerequisite to General Chemistry, Biology, Physics and Mathematical Analysis.

STUDENTS AND FACULTY LAUNCH NEW DRIVE TO SECURE SUBS

C. GUENTHER IS MANAGER

Scholarships Are Offered to Association Members Getting Most Subs

By Carl Laubach

"Let us take the 'pain' out of 'campaign' by rolling up our sleeves and really getting into it," advised Carl Guenther, campaign manager for The Sligonian drive, launched yesterday in chapel.

The goal set is 1200 subscriptions. Progress made in each of the six groups (the four college classes, one academic group, and one faculty group) will be indicated during the three weeks of the campaign by a device in the chapel.

President Andrew Robbins introduced the subject to the organization, and explained that The Sligonian is "the voice of the school." It radiates not only throughout the community, but into the far corners of the earth where W.M.C. alumni and friends are waiting patiently for the news.

Premiums to Be Given

Mr. Guenther, in a booster speech, presented to the student body a new incentive, that of premiums. For 10 subs a Sligonian pennant will be given, and for 18, a Sligonian pillow top. Then for the real enthusiasts, scholarships of $5, $10, $15 and $25 will be awarded for 25, 50, 75 and 100 subs respectively.

During the program, Boone Holmes played a flute solo entitled "The Whistler and His Dog." He was accompanied at the piano by Miss Mildred McClary. The music excited the interests of the assembly to action, and all separated into classes where plans were laid to make this year's subscription list the biggest ever.

Sligonian stationery and subscription blanks were distributed to be used in writing to friends and those interested in supporting the College paper.

MUSIC FACULTY OFFERS NEW COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The music department is offering a varied program this year. Eight teachers under the leadership of Prof. H. A. Miller comprise the music faculty, and these persons have arranged to give many new courses.

Prof. Miller, who heads the voice department, will also teach advanced piano students, and will have charge of the choral organization. Mrs. Howard Metcalfe and Russell MacMeans are his associates in the piano department. Mrs. Metcalfe has under her supervision the ladies' glee club. Prof. Victor Johnson will have charge of the violin department, orchestra, band and the men's glee club, and Mrs. Ethel Knight Casey, of the children's division. Miss Ruth Lindup will teach cello, Boone Holmes, the flute, Mr. V. E. Dietel, the brass instruments and Mr. H. D. Clapp, the reed instruments.

The Sligonian Platform To Make Washington Missionary College an Ideal Educational Center.

1. A Sligonian Representative of Denominational Standards.
2. Student-Faculty Co-operation.
3. A Definite Program for Additional College Equipment.

MAKING FRIENDS

The privileges of college life! The next time you get that slightly discouraged feeling, make a list of the opportunities and privileges you receive in college that could not be obtained by just staying home, or keeping your former job.

At the head of this list place the opportunity of MAKING FRIENDS. Where else could you find 350 Christian young men and women banded together with the same ideal in view—that of entering the Master's service?

Yet there seem to be a few who act as if they have no time to be friendly. These few rush past their fellow students without even a nod or a smile! Limber up, fellow students. If you were here last year, it is your privilege to become acquainted with the new students. Help them over the rough places; make them feel at home. In doing this you will form friendships that will last throughout college and after life. New students, make friends with one another and with those who were here before you. Pray with them, joy with them, sorrow with them in times of trouble.

OLD students and NEW, make friends with your faculty members. They have passed the road before you. They know every turn and crack and can see beyond that hill which is obstructing your vision. Make a special confidant of one of your instructors. He is here to help you, and nothing will give him more joy than to have you come to him in times of perplexity. The advice he is prepared to give you will be a constant source of help throughout your college life.

"The remedy for all blunders, the cure of blindness, the cure of crime, is love."

HONOR SYSTEM IN CHAPEL

Speaking of honor systems, we wonder if the system of Washington-Lee were started in W. M. C. how long it would last.

It seems that some of us do not have enough honor in chapel to give the speaker his due. We rob our neighbor of time by whispering to him or passing notes by him; we keep chattering away while some one is trying to get peace and quietness before the President walks in. We do not have enough respect, self or otherwise, to listen quietly to Prof. Miller, whose accomplishments in his chosen field deserve our attention.

But it is useless to appeal to our altruistic motives because the President has tried it, Prof. Miller has tried it, and Prof. Weniger—and apparently failed to make any impression on our hard hearts. But do you know that by so doing we are defeating the very purpose for which we came—that of building an all-around, foursquare character?

There are some things to be learned outside of books, and part of that liberal education is offered in chapel. We are fortunate by merit of our location to have on our visiting list prominent men in the Christian world. They understand us; they are our friends; they come to help us succeed. Let's give them our best attention.

"Every evil to which we do not succumb is a benefactor."

"SMILE, DON'T KNOCK"

Smile and the world smiles with you; Sigh and you "rake in" nothing;
Knock and you go it alone; Work and the prize is won;
For the cheerful grin For the nervy man
Will let you in, With backbone can,
Where the "kicker" is never known. By nothing be outdone.

Growl and the way looks dreary; Sing and the world is harmonious,
Laugh and the path is bright; Grumble and things go wrong,
For a welcome smile For all the time
Brings sunshine the while, You're out of rhyme,
And a frown shuts out the light. With the busy, hustling throng.

Hustle and fortune awaits you. Kick and there's trouble a-brewing,
Shirk and defeat is sure! Whistle and life is gay;
For there's no chance The world's in tune
For deliverance, Like a day in June,
For the fellow who can't endure. And the clouds all melt away.

FAMOUS FIFTY HOLDS ITS OPENING MEETING

The Famous Fifty again lives. The ninety residents of North Hall held their first meeting Sept. 25 under the presidency of Russel Quackenbush.

"The Famous Fifty stands for the ideals of Christian manhood," declared Donald Stonier, a former president, in an address to the club. He gave a short history of its founding and purpose.

Raymond Montgomery spoke on the achievements of the organization in former years. He pointed out that the College fire equipment, the tennis court, the North Hall parlor and various school home equipment were results of Famous Fifty effort.

The club motto, "Remember the Golden Rule and Be a Man," was emphasized as the new members were welcomed, and a vote of thanks was given Dean Eric Jones for his efforts in behalf of the home.

The Famous Fifty was formed in North Hall during the deanship of Prof. Lee R. Marsh to fulfill the demand for organization and co-operation among the students.

SANITARIUM RAISES $1700

amounted to $800. Last week this and the thirteenth Sabbath offerings were combined to amount to $1,701.66

The device for raising the money originated with C. C. Pulver, business manager of the institution. A pyramid four feet high by six feet long was built and divided into one-inch squares. The ten classes were given 109 squares or shares. These shares were sold to the class members, and last Sabbath the pledges materialized.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS OF THE STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

(Concluded from last week)

Committees

Section 21. A nominating committee shall be chosen at the first meeting of each semester and shall consist of one representative from each college class and one representative from the academic body. This committee shall report a ticket consisting of not more than two nominees for each office.

Section 22. The religious committee shall consist of the religious secretary and the leaders of the Missionary Volunteer Society, Seminar, Missions Band, Correspondence Band, Sunshine Band and all other bands of a similar nature, and shall be charged with the direction of such campaigns as the Harvest Ingathering, Institutional Relief, Big Week, etc., and co-operation in: the Week of Prayer, organization of Prayer Bands, etc.

Section 23. The cultural committee shall consist of the cultural secretary and the leaders of the Cosmic Ray, the English Club, the Kate Lindsay Guild, the Spanish Club, the Vestal Club and all others of a similar nature, and shall foster cultural interests by directing programs, and contests such as the "Watchman" and "Signs" literary contests, etc.

Section 24. The social committee shall consist of the social secretary and the presidents of the Famous Fifty and the Halcyon Club and two representatives elected by the resident students, and shall promote such activities as Campus Day, outings, etc.

Auditor

Section 25. The Executive Board shall choose an auditor to audit the books of the Association, "The Sligonian" and "The Book of Golden Memories" at the close of each semester.

Document Display

Section 26. The Constitution and By-Laws shall be published in "The Sligonian" during the first semester of each school year, and a bound copy of these documents shall be accessible at all times in the college library.

Quorum

Section 27. A majority of the entire membership of this organization shall constitute a quorum.

Parliamentary Authority

Section 28. All meetings of this organization shall be governed by parliamentary law as set forth in Robert's "Rules of Order Revised."

Section 29. Dues of $1.50 for membership in this organization are payable at the time of matriculation. Membership entitles the holder to receive "The Sligonian."

Amendments

Section 30. These By-Laws may be amended by a two-thirds vote at any regular or special meeting of this organization provided that the proposed amendment shall have been read before the assembly and posted on the college bulletin board at least one week prior to the time of voting.

ENTRY EXAM IS GIVEN TO SCIENCE STUDENTS

The test was so constructed that one glance at the score would tell whether the student had picked the right science or not. A perfect score was 66. Of the 45 who took the test, only eight persons scored better than 50. Of this group Lawrence Gibson had the highest score of 54.

On the other end of the scale, there were nine who failed to make sufficient grade to take a pure science course without an additional class in Preparatory Mathematics, which is now being formed. The lowest score was 22.

You'll Always Find the Happy Home
WELL LIGHTED

Wherever there's a home well lighted ... and most of them are ... you'll find happiness and content within. Every member of the family enjoys that feeling of security afforded by "Matchless Service" during the hours when night has cast its shadow of darkness. The warmth and friendliness of good illumination have no equal.

Keep your home cheerful with light. Replace burned-out lamp bulbs with new ones ... keep a supply always on hand ... have lamps wherever you need them. And remember, the difference between good light and poor light is merely a matter of pennies.

TABLE TALK

Prof. and Mrs. J. R. Sampson and family were guests of Andrew Robbins at dinner in the College dining-room Sabbath.

Relatives of Miss Edna Royer who came from her home in Camden, N. J., were guests at the College Sunday.

Misses Edna Parsons and Margaret Thomas visited Miss Helen King's home in Dunn Loring, Va., last weekend.

Elder J. S. James, missionary from India, who is home on furlough, with his family, and Misses Edith McPherson and Marguerite Perkins were guests of Miss Prue Halstead at Sabbath dinner.

Club Receives Gift

A member of the Halcyon Club, Miss Ruth Harding, recently made several additions in the line of glassware, dishes and kitchen utensils to the kitchenette in South Hall. Miss Harding made this disposition of the money she received from selling her second-hand books of previous years.

The first Halcyon Club meeting was held Thursday evening with Mrs. Bertha Magill acting as chairman. Several speeches and musical numbers were features of the program. Three members were elected to act on the nominating committee to select officers for the first semester of this year.

Girls Enjoy Social

Mysterious notes bearing invitations were received by all the girls of South Hall last Wednesday evening. First-floor girls were invited to the kitchen, and second-floor Halcyonites were directed to the Home Economics department. A hike, candy, pop-corn and taffy that would not pull were features of the evening's entertainment. The girls sang a bit, a few speeches were given, and at the conclusion rousing cheers were given for Dean Abray. Miss Abray and the monitors were responsible for the occasion.

Several students were present at an exhibition given at the War College in the city Saturday evening.

A winding gravel footpath down the hill to the Sligo is an improvement on the Sanitarium campus.

A surprise party was given Miss Mildred McClary last Friday afternoon in South Hall in honor of her birthday.

party when Mr. Robbins called for impromptu speeches. Miss Gladys Andress told the advantages of being short, and Miss Beverly-June Pruette followed with "The Advantages of Being Tall." Don Stonier gave a few ideas of his own about "Music in North Hall," while Walter Crandall enlightened his hearers about etiquette in the dining room.

To back The Students' Association and The Sligonian in all that is undertaken this year was the theme of Miss Anetta Truman's booster speech. "Join the Association," was her admonition.

All the students went to the gymnasium to spend the last hour marching. Herman Paul and Maynard Bourdeau directed the marches.

The program was concluded with a "tag" march, in which every one marched who wore a tag, denoting that he was a member of The Students' Association.

SEMINAR IN ENGLISH HAS ITS INITIAL MEETING

the course by choosing their subjects and working on them this summer.

During the first part of the class period yesterday, two quizzes were given—one on the backgrounds of English literature, and one on the fundamentals of English grammar. The remainder of the time was devoted to a discussion of plans for the course and the seminar method. It was decided to meet once a month, on Wednesday night, for two hours.

Those who enrolled in the course are Misses Ruth Harding, Beatrice Levine, Ollie Mae Robertson, Nannie Mae Smith, Edith Starr, Jean Wingate, and Winston Adams and Howard Metcalfe.

Mr. and Mrs. William Goransson sailed from New York Sept. 6 for South America, where they will take up work at the Lake Titicaca mission. Mr. Goransson was graduated from the Junior Theological Course in 1929.

"Go Ye Into All The World"

International Campaign for Missions

GOD has an abundance in our world, and He has placed His goods in the hands of all, both the rich and the poor, the obedient and the disobedient. He is ready to move upon the hearts of men to give of their abundance for the support of His work, and He will do this as soon as His people learn to approach these men wisely and to call their attention to that which it is their privilege to do. If the needs of the Lord's work were set forth in a proper light before those who have means and influence, they would do much to advance the cause of present truth. God's people have lost many privileges of which they could have taken advantage, had they not chosen to stand independent of the world.
