

Statistical Report of Seventh-day Adventist Conferences and Missions

For the Year Ending December 31, 1906

The Statistical Report for 1906

There is presented herewith the statistical report for 1906. A careful study of the items presented, and a comparison with former reports, will be of value to those interested in the progress of this work, and will show with unmistakable certainty the rapid advancement this cause is making in many lands.

The adjoining column gives the main features of the report, showing, by grand totals, the funds, membership, net gain, per cent of gain, etc. This report is presented under three tables, the first being the regular statistical report for 1906, while Table No. 2 gives a summary of the main items of our reports from the organization of the General Conference down to the present time. This will be found valuable for comparative study. Table No. 3 gives a brief report of institutions.

Accurate returns have been received from all the conferences and missions reported in Table No. 1, with the exception of the following: British Guiana, East Caribbeian, South Caribbeian, West Caribbeian, Central America, and Hayti. The figures for these fields were estimated on a conservative basis, so that they should show considerable gain in the report for 1907. The delay in issuing this report has come from the delinquency of many secretaries in furnishing prompt reports.

The main report which is comprehended under Tables Nos. 1 and 2 deals only with the work carried forward in evangelistic lines, and does not touch the work of denominational institutions. A statement showing the resources and liabilities of all such institutions could be given, but would be very voluminous. For the present purpose it will be sufficient to summarize the resources of denominational institutions, by union conferences, as follows:—

The above figures show something of the strength which this cause has attained in the way of material facilities for the advancement of this message. From a very humble beginning this increase has come gradually, the ratio being more rapid during recent years. The complete consecration of all those connected with the organizations and institutions which these facilities represent, and the blessing of God resting upon their efforts for the promulgation of the message for which these institutions stand, will bring more rapid progress to the cause for the future. That this may be so, and that the cause may triumph speedily, is the ardent, sincere desire of every loyal believer.

H. E. ROGERS, Statistical Secretary,

Foot-notes for Table No. 1

1. The tithe per capita is based upon the total Sabbath-keepers.

2. By "total laborers" in column 20 is meant the number of persons employed in the conference or mission field, including not only the four classes named, but all other persons not specified.

3. Full returns have not yet been secured for columns 37 and 38.

4. In column 39 is shown the retail value of book and periodical sales. In unions where periodical sales were not already accounted for, they have been conservatively estimated, and the amount shown in the line for each union. These sales are not duplicated by the local conferences. In the Canadian and Southern Union book sales are also reported by the union publishing house, since they deal directly, and not through an intermediate organization.

5. Tithe for Western New York for only that portion of year after it was organized; hence the small per capita. Because of the division of the New York and Western New York Conferences during 1906, the per cent of gain can not be shown.

6. Mission fields are indicated by proper indentations in the columns where these names appear. They are unorganized, hence the dates given do not indicate the time they were organized, but when the work in each field was first reported separately.

7. Including institutional laborers not counted elsewhere.

8. Under General Conference are included those engaged in general labor as well as the amount of tithes and offerings not accounted for elsewhere in this report.

9. The four quarterly reports which the Sabbath-school Department has published for 1906 show the following: Total Sabbath-school contributions, $74,775.26; donations to missions, $57,913.71. This annual report shows, respectively, $75,068.55 and $58,866.14. The difference is accounted for by the difference of time in making out the reports. The annual report closes December 31. Furthermore, the quarterly reports include reports from foreign fields one quarter behind those in the United States; hence as the time of reporting does not correspond, the amounts do not agree.

Foot-notes for Table No. 2

1. Estimated conservatively.

2. By the term "mission" is meant a local field not yet organized into a conference, whether in the United States or elsewhere.

3. In the column showing total laborers are included all persons specified in preceding columns as well as all other laborers not thus specified.

4. Beginning with 1900 the report shows the number of Sabbath-keepers, as well as the church-membership. The difference is made up of members of companies and isolated believers. From this point the tithe per capita is based on the Sabbath-keepers.

5. From 1887 to 1906 the amount given to missions, and included in preceding column, was $515,722.33, while $53,104.40 was given through this particular avenue to the Haskell Home for Orphans from 1897 to 1906, leaving $262,670.24 as the amount retained by local schools.

Institutional Report

Table No. 3.

There is given below a condensed report regarding the institutions of the denomination, covering the three main lines of work carried on by institutional effort; namely, publishing houses, educational institutions, and sanitariums. The report, although brief, will indicate quite fully the present standing of each of these lines of work, showing the approximate number of persons engaged in each branch, the value of resources employed, as well as other items of general interest to the reader. By reference to other portions of this report, especially the grand totals of Table No. 1, it will be observed that the growth of educational institutions has been at a very much more rapid rate than the growth in most other lines of work. The increase of publishing houses and sanitariums during recent years has been at the same ratio, and even greater in the latter instance.
