The Statistical Report for 1916

A Report Showing Fifty-four Years of Progress

THIS is the fifty-fourth annual statistical report of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, and is made for the year ending Dec. 31, 1916. The report covers four division conferences and other Union conferences, the whole being organized as follows: Twenty-six Union Conferences; 130 Local Conferences; and 113 Mission Fields.

Membership

In the four divisions referred to, the membership stands as follows:

Name	Membership	Per cent
North American Division	79,946	56.51
European Division	37,617	26.59
Asiatic Division	11,171	7.89
South American	5,331	3.77
Miscell. Union Conferences	7,423	5.24
Total	141,488	100.00

The returns for the European Division are the same as for the year 1915. The only returns received for that division were for the British Union, which are a part of the grand total. The 1915 totals for the division are therefore used in lieu of the returns for 1916. The number of persons baptized during 1916 was 10,395. This number includes no baptisms for the European Division.

Churches

The number of organized churches throughout the entire field now stands at 3,987, an increase of 111 during the year 1916.

Laborers

At the close of 1916 there were employed in various departments of evangelistic and institutional work the following number of persons:

Ordained and licensed ministers	1,678
Missionaries	1,860
Teachers in schools	2,070
Physicians and nurses	1,808
Literature workers	2,733
Total	10,149

This is an increase of 673 during the year, and constitutes one worker engaged in service for every fourteen members in the denomination.

Funds

Summaries 1, 2, and A take up the matter of funds, showing that the total amount contributed during the year was $3,950,491.73, or an increase of $543,193.61, the per cent of increase being 15.94. The per capita for the entire field was $27.92. In Summary A it will be seen that the per capita in the North American Division was $37.85; in all other countries, $15.02, the average being the $27.92 previously stated.

Summary 1 classifies the various funds by Unions and Divisions, with comparison of the amounts for the preceding year, and also the per cent of gain indicated.

Summary 2 gives the total contributions by Unions and Divisions with the per capita for each, and the per cent that the total amount contributed sustains to the grand total. Thus the percentages stated in columns 4 and 6 enable one to determine whether the contributions received sustain the same relation to the grand total that the per cent of membership sustains to the grand total membership. In the North American Division there was 56.51 per cent of membership, while the total contribu-

(a) Under General Conference and North American Division are included those engaged in general labor, and not accounted for elsewhere. Miscellaneous tithes and offerings are also listed under this head. In column 13 there is also shown the amount of book and periodical sales by the various publishing houses for the North American Division, and not included in the report of sales by conferences.

The report of the Treasurer of the North American Division shows $769,507.53 as the total foreign mission funds received from the Unions in the Division during 1916. This amount may be verified by deducting the receipts by the General Conference (included here because they cannot be conveniently shown elsewhere), namely $3,866.52, from the grand total foreign mission funds, as listed in this report, namely $778,694.10 and there is secured the exact amount first stated above.

Of the total contributions $3,026,254.14, or 76.61 per cent, was raised in North American Division; all other countries contributed $924,237.64, or 23.39 per cent.

The total contributions during the past five years from 1912 to 1916 amounted to $16,017,201.17; during the preceding five years, from 1907 to 1911, the total funds were $10,046,780.15; for the five years preceding; or from 1902 to 1906, $5,083,579.79. Thus during the past fifteen years the total contributions for all lines of evangelistic work amounted to $31,147,561.11; for the thirty-nine years preceding 1902, or from 1863 to 1901, the total amount of similar contributions were $7,886,123.60. The annual average for the thirty-nine years was a little over $200,000; the annual average for the five years from 1902 to 1906 was a little over $1,000,000; the annual average from 1907 to 1911 was a little over $2,000,000, and from 1912 to 1916, a little over $3,200,000.

A further expenditure of $1,008,048.39 was made during 1916 in support of denominational colleges and academies, while for charity work in connection with sanitariums and treatment rooms there was expended $47,484.24. The increased valuation of church buildings is shown to have been $215,261.97; donations and investments during 1916 increased the net worth of denominational institutions by $821,796.21; so that the total contributions for evangelistic work, the increased valuation of church buildings, and the amount contributed for the support of, and investment in, denominational institutions during 1916 constituted a grand total of $6,043,082.59, or an average of $42.71 for every member in the world. For 1915 this average was $37.01, or an increase of $5.70 per capita during the year.

The total valuation of all church buildings and denominational institutions at the close of 1916 was $15,284,215.27, an average per member of $108.02. This is an increase of over $1,029,000 during the year. These resources may be classified as follows:

Some of the figures appearing above indicating the resources of institutions vary slightly from the figures appearing in Table 2. This is because a portion of the resources of some of the institutions are held by other corporations and associations, and all are not included in this respect in Table 2. The figures appearing in the foregoing summary may be taken as being more accurate.

During the fifty-four years since this work has been organized, there have been contributed for all lines of evangelistic work $39,033,684.71. Nearly $26,000,000 has been tithe; nearly $8,000,000 foreign mission offerings; and over $5,000,000 for other lines of work.

Publishing

At the close of 1916 there were 40 publishing houses and branches, with investment of $2,167,177.94, and employing 740 persons in the production of denominational literature, in the circulation of which there were engaged 1,993 persons. b Total contributions to 1906.

For a number of years the figures in Summary 9 have included information regarding certain sanitariums and treatment rooms, and of those connected therewith, which were listed in Table 2 as being under private management, but are now omitted from this report. This omission will account for the apparent decrease in the above figures.
