LOMA LINDA UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER PRESENTATION

Neal C Wilson and W O Coe introduced John D Ruffcorn, president of the Loma Linda University Medical Center. Ruffcorn and his associates then gave a presentation concerning new plans for the Medical Center.

Loma Linda University Medical Center is sponsoring the design and construction of the first particle accelerator built specifically for therapy with proton beams. In comparison to conventional radiation therapy, it will irradiate cancerous tumors with more accuracy and with fewer side effects.

The new cancer-treatment and research center will feature a unique, 250-million-electron-volt proton accelerator called a synchrotron. The machine has been designed by Fermi National Accelerator Laboratory (Fermilab), America's largest high-energy, physics-research laboratory.

The new radiation oncology center will be constructed within a new building located near existing conventional cancer-treatment facilities, and is expected to cost $39 million. Financing is expected to come from reserves, anticipated gifts and fund-raising.

The University and Medical Center expect to offer patients the benefit of this new treatment method in early 1989.

This meeting was called to give opportunity for the raising of questions concerning the interior design of the new General Conference headquarters building. In his opening remarks, Neal C Wilson made reference to the authority which was delegated to the Office Relocation and Building Committee by the General Conference Committee, and the rationale used by that committee in determining to whom open and closed spaces were assigned.

At the close of his remarks, Wilson asked Kenneth Wood to pray. The floor was then opened for questions and comments. Primary concerns of the speakers centered around the following:

1. Reason why certain individuals were designated to have open rather than closed offices
2. Availability of conference rooms for seeing guests when privacy is a factor
3. Possibility of having higher partitions with doors
4. Proximity to one's secretary
5. Function rather than status ought to be the criteria for determining the type of office space assigned
6. Suggestion that space allotted to the atrium, cafeteria be reduced to permit larger office space

87-218
June 23, 1987 - GCC

7 Possibility that library be close by for editors of publications

8. Morale of the staff is suffering

9. Suggestion that all offices be open with the exception of those for the three principal officers.

In each case either Neal C Wilson or Donald F Gilbert responded. It was agreed that another meeting would be held on Thursday, June 25 at 8:30 a.m.

PRAYER Neal C Wilson

Discussion of the closed and open office concept for the new General Conference headquarters was continued. Concerns regarding open offices included the following:

1. Decrease in the quantity and quality of work done due to noise
2. Increase in costs due to the need to purchase laser printers to cut down noise
3. Loss of confidentiality--files and material stored on personal computers
4. Unsuitability for personal counseling
5. Possible feelings of diminution of status if all workers at a certain level are not given closed offices--low morale
6. Increase in long-term costs as staff members are moved

Benefits of the open office plan include the following:

1. Decrease in the cost of heating and air conditioning
2. Economy when office personnel are moved or the offices rearranged.

87-220

June 25, 1987 - GCC

There is need to develop a rationale for the assigning of closed and open offices.

The Chairman regretted that this profitable, open discussion was not held months ago. Any additional concerns or questions regarding the new headquarters office may be passed on to the General Conference Headquarters Relocation and Building Committee by letter, by telephone or by a personal visit.

An update on the matter of closed and open offices will be brought before the General Conference Committee after consideration has been given to the concerns expressed.

The following items on the weekly General Conference Committee agenda were considered under the chairmanship of Kenneth J Mittleider.

MINUTES of the meeting held June 18, 1987 were approved.

COLOMBIA-VENEZUELA UNION SURVEY COMMISSION
REPORT--RECOMMENDATION TO 90GCS

On June 4, 1985 the Executive Committee of the Colombia-Venezuela Union Mission voted to request the Inter-American Division to consider changing the status of the Colombia-Venezuela Union Mission to that of a union conference. On January 10, 1986 the Inter-American Division Committee voted to pass this request on to the General Conference. In harmony with policy, the General Conference Committee appointed the Colombia-Venezuela Union Survey Commission. This survey commission met in Medellin, Colombia on January 22, 1987. A summary of its report follows:

The Colombia-Venezuela Union was organized in 1927. In 1976 the membership of the Union was 63,231. At the end of 1986 the membership had grown to 120,929 in five conferences and three missions. Statistics covering membership accessions and exclusions, the distribution of workers (by category), the organization of new churches from 1981 to 1986, as well as a comprehensive financial report were presented. The survey commission recommended that additional study be given to the following:

1. More adequate supervision of denominational educational institutions which are widely scattered throughout the union territory
2. Additional study regarding the financial structure/operations of the Adventist Book Centers
3. Provision for more adequate salaries for workers in the Union.

VOTED, To accept the following recommendation of the Colombia-Venezuela Union Survey Commission and to present it to the 1990 General Conference Session for final approval:

RECOMMENDED, To approve union conference status for the Colombia-Venezuela Union Mission, provided that a positive report on each of the recommendations made above is submitted to the Survey Commission by October 31, 1987.
