GENERAL ARTICLES

THE FIRST YIDDISH CLASS

At the invitation of the board of trustees of the South Lancaster Academy, the writer conducted a class in Yiddish and Bible manners and customs. For several years there has been a desire among the older students to know something of Yiddish in order to meet the Jews; and others have wished to get the background of Scripture that certain scriptures might be better understood.

To the student of the Bible it is evident that many customs and manners are referred to, especially in the New Testament, which if understood in their proper setting would make many texts of the Bible clearer. The Bible is primarily a Jewish book. The truth was given by inspiration to and through Jews. The Gentiles received the gospel from the Jews, and many truths taught have the Jewish coloring and Jewish background. Many expressions in the Bible would be understood in an altogether different light if the customs of the people were known to the reader. Furthermore, the very manners and customs referred to in the Scriptures are still in vogue among the children of the Jewish writers. So it was thought advisable to have such a class organized to give instruction to those who desired it.

The group shown in this picture represents the class in Yiddish. All are non-Jews save five. The students entered into the spirit of Yiddish very commendably; and in just one week from the day that the first lesson was given, they were able to put the letters together sufficiently to make words, and to begin to read.

SOUTH LANCASTER ACADEMY YIDDISH CLASS

With practise, in a short time the students would be able to gain a vocabulary, and read the Yiddish fairly well.

Two weeks were devoted to the study of the manners and customs of the Bible. Many truths were seen in a new setting, and we trust that a deeper interest in the Word of God has been created. We hope that the members of the classes will put forth more effort to reach the Jews. There ought to be more of such classes in our schools; and as a result we believe that many would want to labor for the poor lost sheep of the house of Israel.

MISSIONARY VOLUNTEER NOTES

GOOD reports are coming in concerning young people's day recently observed in our churches. Mrs. Jayne writes from Greater New York about the meeting held in the Harlem colored church as follows: "I had the pleasure of presenting to the juniors the certificates. The seniors had their bookmarks as badges. The juniors' were trimmed with yellow rosettes. They looked fine."

Mrs. Wilcox, of Southern New England, writes: "We had a very good day in this conference on May 6. I know there was good interest in every church, and from now on I think the parents will take more interest in this part of the work."

Miss Erickson in a letter says: "The Washington Post had about a nine-inch article in the Sunday edition about young people's day in the Adventist churches. I enjoyed reading it very much."

We have received our first quarterly report from our young people in Bermuda. They have eighteen members, and hold their meetings each week on Friday night.

A set of junior Standard of Attainment questions on Bible Doctrines has been prepared by the department. By fall they plan to send questions both in Bible Doctrines and Denominational History. Then the juniors can receive certificates.

Professor Kern announces that our new Missionary Volunteer emblem was to be ready for shipment by May 20. It is of oxidized silver with the letters "M. V." in red fired-enamel, and retails for fifteen cents. Order of the Review and Herald direct, sending cash, or through your tract society. State whether you wish solid button back or safety-pin fastener. This little emblem will be a reminder to us of the great work we are under commission to do.

By mistake Mrs. Jayne, of Greater New York, has an over-abundant supply of vacation and volunteer banks on hand. She can spare two hundred. If any of the conference or local societies can use any of these banks, kindly write to Mrs. J. E. Jayne, Room 902, 32 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Camp-meeting season is here. Let every young person plan to attend camp-meeting this year, as we know there are blessings in store for all of us which we cannot afford to miss. Splendid lessons have been prepared for us in our special young people's meetings, and we know we shall receive much help from our visiting brethren, Professor Shaw and Elder Spicer, both of whom are interested in our young people.

MRS. R. D. QUINN.

GIVING THE MESSAGE IN BOOKS

AFTER getting the "Missionary Idea," I accepted the "Call of the Lord," selected a "Practical Guide," left "The House We Live In," and started on a "Ministry of Healing," selling the "Seer of Patmos" and "The Story of Daniel." By "Looking Unto Jesus" and following the "Bible Footlight," in the "Steps to Christ," we reached the "Mount of Blessing," became "Men of Valor," in giving the "Heralds of the Morning." We can tell of "A Lover's Love," give the people a "Christian Education," and help them in "Making Home Happy."

In my selection for "Little Folks," I have "Gospel Primer" and "Best Stories," which contain "Stories Worth Rereading." I leave "Thoughts on Daniel and the Revelation" in about half the homes I visit. Each week I leave a few "Bible Readings," which will give them "Helps to Bible Study," with "Scriptural Evidences," and will reveal to them "Past Present and Future" and help them both "Here and Hereafter."

I speak to all I meet about "Christ Our Saviour," and tell them of the "Glorious Appearing" and of the "Coming King." The "Great Controversy" will soon be over, and the "Desire of Ages" will come. Then I hope to meet many to whom I have brought "Present Truth" and "Last Day Tokens," and, with the "Patriarchs and Prophets," enjoy "Our Paradise Home."

The above was composed by one of our colporteurs. It seems that no matter how our message-filled books are placed, they fit in just right, and give to the world meat in due season.

We might further add that since the above was written, we have "Rays of Light on the Sabbath," and can now review "Life Sketches," tell the people of the darkened "Shadow of the Bottle" and of the "World's Crisis," which brings us to "Armageddon," and gives us hope as we approach "The Other Side of Death."

BINDERY BENEFITS

BINDERY students form industrious habits; circumstances compel them to, and they are forced to learn the value of time and the worth of a dollar. They are obliged to work to a system constantly and to concentrate thought and effort; or, in other words, to prepare their lessons and to do things in general within certain limits of time. They are happy, and find time for everything worthy that is going on. In every contest or exhibition of endeavor, the superiority of their attainments is evident. In short, the self-supporting students give little trouble and are the backbone, brains, and mainstay of the school, and naturally their future usefulness is very largely assured.

It is hardly necessary to say that the bindery furnishes opportunity for steady work and a good home while pursuing to a finish a course of study in South Lancaster Academy; but I wish to emphasize the fact that the man who works, and whose work does not fail, is the man who does finish with honors. Five juniors and five seniors were in the bindery this past year, and at the same time three former bindery students graduated from the Washington Missionary College. These industrial students, of high scholarship, are usually graduated to higher courses or to immediate positions in the field. The bindery has contributed of its members to every branch of the cause at home and a number are booked for foreign fields.

The academy now recognizes work in the bindery as industrial training by giving school credits for the same. The bindery student is learning a useful trade and is producing something of commercial value. Young man, at the present moment this practical course is open to you. Will you take it?

During the past year the bindery has doubled its working space, but it still has its limitations and conditions. Contracts are taken in the spring to be delivered in the fall, and just when we need help most there is an exodus. About twelve of our best workers have left us to enter upon field work. It is so every year at the close of school. Shall we supply their places with mere wage earners, of whom there are plenty, and thus rob students of a splendid opportunity? or will parents and prospective students be alive to the situation now, and not delay and apply in vain for work near the opening of school in the fall? Now is the time to enter, and possibly the only time. Things generally cost in proportion to their worth, and this is no exception. There is always some test to prove our metal. On our own part we find this true more and more, and we find it necessary to look ahead and to exercise forethought, putting out thousands of dollars in stock and labor far in advance of sales and deliveries. Nearly the entire winter we run on this basis, making goods that are not yet contracted for in order to keep our help busy without the loss of an hour. Now it is your turn to think seriously and to talk.

CAMP-MEETING

Oneida

THE date for camp-meeting is rapidly drawing near. Our goods are already on the way from Schenectady to Oneida. We shall soon be pitching camp. This will be a very important meeting, and we hope to see a goodly gathering of our brethren and sisters.

In harmony with the action taken by the Loma Linda council last fall, we shall probably decide to hold conference sessions only once in two years. This necessitates our transacting business at this coming camp-meeting for a two-year period, so we desire to see as large an attendance of our people as possible.

Orders are coming in for tents, and the prospect is good for a large meeting. Dear brethren and sisters, let us pray earnestly, and so surrender ourselves to God that his blessing can rest upon us, and that we shall see a mighty outpouring of the Holy Spirit at this annual gathering.

We have a beautiful spot for the camp-meeting, and we expect that every provision necessary for the comfort of the campers will be made. We hope all who possibly can will plan to occupy tents. We shall probably be able to secure some rooms not far from the camp. We shall do the best we can for those who cannot camp on the ground, but so far as possible, brethren and sisters, we hope you will plan to be right on the ground. Especially are we anxious that the workers will occupy tents, so they can enter more fully into the spirit of the camp.

I hope to see you soon on the camp-ground at Oneida, and pray the Lord to richly bless you and prepare you for this important meeting.

W. R. ANDREWS.

RECENT LABORS

SABBATH and Sunday, May 20 and 21, I spent with the company at Otego. It is at this place that Brother Clinton Coon has been laboring during the past winter. A goodly number have taken their stand for the truth, among whom are several entire families. Among the number are some good, strong men.

Two automobile loads from Norwich met with us, and also Brother and Sister Keith, from Sidney. It was a real pleasure to meet these brethren and sisters, and the dear Lord graced our meetings with the presence of his tender Spirit.

During the past winter a neat and attractive little church has been erected, and it was used for the first time at this meeting. Father Place, who gave the lot upon which the church stands, and who has labored from start to finish on the building, was quite ill, which caused sadness to the little church, as he is greatly loved by them. We organized a church of twenty-three members, and others will unite in the near future.

Sunday afternoon we returned to Schenectady, and met with the church in the evening. Monday afternoon, in company with Mrs. Andrews and our daughter, Bernice, we started on a trip north. At our first stop we called on the Baroudi brothers in Glens Falls. They are of good courage and are working to bring the light of truth to the Assyrians in the city. We were kindly entertained for the night at the home of Brother and Sister Arthur Evans. Sister Evans is recovering from her serious accident of last fall, and expects soon to be able to walk without crutches. We found them of good courage in the Lord.

From there we journeyed to Keene to the home of Brother and Sister Rice. We remained with the Keene church over the following Sabbath.

HOME MISSIONARY ITEMS

THE church in Claremont seems to be a leader in the religious liberty line of home missionary work. They have ordered 1,000 copies of the Religious Liberty Free Press Extra of Liberty, and are planning a very aggressive work. We are glad for their courage and enthusiasm, and wish them Godspeed.

The church in Jamaica has also awakened to its privileges, and is using the Religious Liberty and Free Press Extra of Liberty. This church is located in the hills of southern Vermont, where no villages or towns are within easy reach, but the members of this church are planning to get a large number of signers to the petitions to Congress in the farming district roundabout. They are of good courage in their undertaking.

It was a very pleasant surprise to me to find a well-organized Sabbath-school of about twelve members in South Vernon, Vermont. We did not know that a Sabbath-school was being conducted in this place. Some quite systematic home missionary work has been done by the members of this school, until they have brought several persons to see the light of truth. These persons are now ready for baptism. We are very grateful to the members in South Vernon for their good work, and we wish them every spiritual uplift. E. A. JONES.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

WILL all of our home missionary workers please note that the address of the home missionary secretary, Brother E. A. Jones, is changed to 10 Walker Street, Concord, N. H. We thank you for your hearty cooperation in assisting us to have mail reach him promptly.

COLPORTEUR ITEMS

MISS ROSCOE is making a large delivery of books in Manchester this week.

Word received from Herbert Dawson is to the effect that the first day he sold nine dollars' worth of books.

Weston Cheney reports selling three books in one home. He is having precious experiences in meeting others.

Mr. Jerome E. Stairs joined our working force on Monday of this week. He sells "Bible Readings," and we predict for him a good list of sales.

Miss Evelyn Dodge was in Manchester and Concord last week selling magazines. On Friday morning she sold forty copies of the Watchman in twenty-five minutes in Concord.

On Monday morning of last week E. E. Clayton sold three copies of "Bible Readings." He is working in Grafton and Merrimack Counties, and is having many pleasant experiences in meeting the people.

Mrs. Eva Johnson writes: "I called at one home; the lady invited me in, but said she did not think it would do any good. After I gave her a canvass, she said the only trouble was she would like it sooner than I set my delivery. I told her I had one in my suitcase. 'Well,' she said, 'if you will bring it tomorrow I will take it.' I carried it up and she was very pleased to get it so soon, saying, 'I shall read it, then send it to my mother.' This experience and a few others since I came here richly repay me for all of my trouble. I know that God is leading me, and my prayer is that he will touch their hearts in such a way that they may see the light of truth and accept it."

THIRTEENTH SABBATH

OFFERING

I WISH to call on every Sabbath-school in our conference to take special notice of the Brazil thirteenth Sabbath offering leaflet. The twenty-three million souls in Brazil need the third angel's message. Let us make a desperate effort to do better than we have ever done before to help them raise their goal of $20,000.

I am so sorry that our Sabbath-school offerings in Western New York show a falling off during the last quarter, and we have been taken off the Honor Roll. My courage is good, however, and I wish to urge every school to rally around me, to help raise our figures that we may more than gain what we have lost.

Let us earnestly seek God that he will pour out his Spirit upon our children and youth, that we may see them take their stand for Christ, and prepare for service in this closing work.

ITEMS

SISTER E. E. PRESCOTT made a brief visit to Rochester last week.

By the time this issue of the GLEANER is out, the work on the camp-ground will be well under way. We trust that all our readers will pray for the work and workers.

Elder F. A. Tracy, who recently came to this field to engage in evangelistic work, has visited the churches at Corning and Hornell in the interests of the camp-meeting.

The nights are likely to be cool at this time of the year, so be sure to bring plenty of bedding with you.

Also bring overcoats and plenty of wraps. You will enjoy the camp-meeting very much better if you are warm and dry.

Before coming to camp-meeting, read the chapter on camp-meetings in the first part of Volume VI. It will give you considerable food for thought, and you will come better prepared to receive a blessing and to help others.

We would urge all our people to come to camp-meeting from the very beginning and to remain right through, if at all possible. It would be well to get there not later than noon on Thursday, so as to have a few hours to get settled in your tents before the evening meeting.

Orders for tents are continuing to come in, and it looks as though our people were getting a camp-meeting enthusiasm. You should not delay further to order your tent and furnishings, if you have not already done so, if you wish to be sure of having everything convenient and in readiness for you when you arrive on the ground.

All correspondence for the conference or tract society, after June 9 until June 22, should be addressed in care of Seventh-day Adventist camp-ground, Humboldt Parkway, corner of East Ferry Street, Buffalo, N. Y., as the conference office at Rochester will be closed during camp-meeting. Remember the date of the camp-meeting — June 15-25.

A number of welcome visitors at Rochester recently have been entertained at the home of Elder Hartwell. Among them have been Brother and Sister F. P. Munn, of South Lancaster, Brother and Sister Will Munn, from the New England Sanitarium, and Elder and Mrs. R. F. Cottrell, who are on a furlough from China. Brother and Sister G. H. Winslow have also been stopping there since the close of school.

ATHOL

SABBATH, May 6, it was the writer's privilege to be at Athol and see the talent that has been developed in this church. I believe every one of the younger members heartily took part in the exercises. The youngest children could readily quote the scriptures assigned them. The special hymn, which was chosen for this day, was sweetly rendered by the young people. The whole service was very impressive.

Nearly all the adults spoke of the special good they had received from the meeting.

Sister Florence Kidder, the church-school teacher, has rendered the Lord good service in daily training the young people. Elder Beckner, now deceased, also helped by conducting a Bible class at the school.

Nine Standard of Attainment and Reading Course certificates were presented to those who had won them.

CAMP-MEETING

DEAR BROTHERS AND SISTERS — FATHERS, MOTHERS, YOUTH, AND CHILDREN: We are glad to know that most of you are planning to attend camp-meeting, June 8--18. This is as God has directed. Ancient Israel went to the annual feasts with offerings of gratitude. From men of white hairs to the little children, they went to meet God in his holy habitation. As they journeyed, the experiences of the past — the stories loved so well by both young and old — were related to the Hebrew children; the songs that cheered the wilderness wanderings were sung; God's commandments were chanted; and, bound up with the blessed influence of nature and of kindly human association, they were forever fixed in the memory of many a child and youth.

We are rapidly nearing the end of all earthly things, and how necessary it is that we make every effort now in the little time remaining, that when the Judge of all the earth calls us to account we can say, "Behold, I and the children whom the Lord hath given me."

The chief objects of our annual camp-meetings are that we may "receive the divine touch, that we may better understand our work in the home," for our friends and neighbors, and finish the work God has placed in our hands to do. Let us lay aside our many cares, and pray in faith that our coming camp-meeting may witness such showers of God's blessing and his Holy Spirit as we have never seen before.

Personally, I am exceedingly anxious to meet every one to whom this is addressed.

ITEMS

ELDERS H. W. CARR and E. E. Osborne spent a few days with the Foxcroft church last week.

Misses Ruth Meleen and Ethel Hennessy have come to Portland to assist in the Portland effort as Bible workers.

Elder and Mrs. R. D. Quinn spent a few days in Portland last week. From there they went to West Burke, Vt., to attend the general meeting.

Brother Louis Ahrens, with whom many of our people are acquainted, reached Portland May 26, to engage in the field missionary work. Brother Ahrens takes up the work which Brother Brewer is laying down on account of his call to China.

We were pleased to have Elder and Mrs. F. C. Gilbert with us over Sabbath and Sunday, June 3 and 4. He gave a most interesting Bible lecture Sunday night, which was listened to by a very attentive audience. They returned to their home in South Lancaster Monday morning.

Elder A. E. Sanderson came to Portland last week to attend the conference committee meeting. He is again taking up the work of Union home missionary secretary, and is already arranging for a strong Harvest Ingathering campaign throughout the Union. Brother H. G. Knight is accompanying him as an assistant.

The conference committee, which has just closed its session in Portland, has invited Brethren Chester Perkins and Maurice Bailey to connect with the conference as laborers. We are very glad indeed to announce that these young men, who have been preparing for service at South Lancaster Academy, are to help in their home conference.

We are sure all our Maine brethren and sisters were much interested in the important instruction given on the front page of last week's GLEANER in regard to our religious liberty campaign. We are ordering free to our church leaders another supply of Liberty Extra to distribute among our members. Let each take a personal interest in quickly circulating these Extras and secure as many names as possible. Send them direct to the Congressman from your district. The importance of this work should not be overlooked by any.

She embraced present truth in 1890, and faithfully labored to bring others to the knowledge of the message she loved. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Nora Crowther. WOERNLY.—Charles A. Woernly was born in Germany, Dec. 28, 1837. He became an American citizen in 1867, and achieved success as a merchant in Hornell, N. Y. He brought up a family of ten children, all of whom survive his death, which took place at his home in Warsaw, N. Y., May 18, 1916. While he never identified himself with the remnant church, he lived an upright life and shared the same religious views as his companion, who sorrows not without hope.

BRIGGS.—Douglas Landon Briggs, little son of Percy and Ethyl Briggs, died at their home in Kansas City, Mo., aged 3 years and 9 months. His death was caused by diphtheria and scarlet fever. Sister Briggs was very ill at the time and afterward contracted diphtheria, as also did Donald, the remaining little boy. Both are recovering. Brother and Sister Briggs formerly lived at Tunesassa, N. Y. They have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement, but they find comfort in the blessed hope of the soon-coming resurrection.

ACADEMY STUDENTS

Please Notice

THOSE of us who are left at the academy feel lonely these days, for we miss the bright faces and cheery voices of the students. As we walk through the silent halls, a strange, unnatural feeling possesses us. Our only hope of relief is the school opening in September.

Many times since the close of school I have thought of you, students. Some of you are at your homes, and some are canvassing or doing other lines of work. Wherever you are, may God bless you, keep you in good courage, and help you financially so you may all be back with us in the fall.

Do not forget the standard clock campaign! At present we are looking up the matter of the new chapel seats, also the metal ceiling. We can promise you a beautiful chapel when you return. The only thing needed to make the chapel perfect will be the installing of the clock which the class of 1916 gave the academy. You will remember, however, that before this can be put in, the rest of the system has to be installed. Let us do all we can, by selling our magazines and books and by personal solicitation, to raise the money required to put these clocks in. If any need cards authorizing you to receive contributions, write me, and I shall be happy to forward the same to you.

WILLIAM G. WIRTH.
