GENERAL ARTICLES

OUR ACADEMY FOR THE COMING SCHOOL YEAR

THE prospects for a good year at South Lancaster Academy are decidedly encouraging. The faculty that had charge of the work last year will be continued with some changes. Professor Pringle will resume his work as head of the Science Department, which in past years he has built up to a high degree of efficiency. Professor Derby will take the English Department, Miss Gladys Machlan, the former teacher in that subject, having been released to enable her to complete the work for the A. B. degree. Professor Lindsay will assist Professor Prenier in the Bible Department, teaching classes in Old and New Testament History. Professor Shull will continue to teach History, and will also serve as preceptor.

On account of failing health, Professor Dexter will not be with us. His long and valuable service with us has been much appreciated. His place will be filled by Professor Jess Fair, of Lincoln, Nebraska, who will be the head of the Music Department, giving his attention chiefly, however, to voice culture. Professor Fair is giving up a remunerative position in Lincoln, where he has a very large class of devoted pupils, in order to come to South Lancaster, and we are sure he will receive a hearty welcome. He sings with rare force and expression, and will put his whole energies into the work of building up the department in South Lancaster. Miss Farnsworth, whose efficient work is much appreciated, will continue to teach piano and History of Music.

Brother John Wahlen will have charge of the Domestic Science Department, and will teach the principles of healthful cooking, which he so well understands, to our young people.

Mrs. Harmon Lindsay will have charge of a class in practical nursing and hydrotherapy, which will meet a widely-felt want. Her work will be supplemented by a series of lectures given by Doctors Bliss and Ruble and others. The instruction given in this class will be adapted to the needs of the young men nearing draft age who desire to fit themselves for places in the Medical Corps of the United States Army. It will be appreciated, we are sure, by many others.

The foregoing are only a few of the features of interest in connection with the coming year at the academy. Mention has been made chiefly of changes. The board is pleased that the majority of the teachers can continue for another year the strong work they have been doing in the training of our youth. We feel that our training school at South Lancaster is a very important factor in the work of this Union, and we urge our members everywhere to do all in their power to encourage the young people to go there to get a fitting for service.

The General Conference has asked that every family be visited, every young person of school age personally interviewed sometime this summer with a view to being encouraged to go to school. Let the educational secretaries and our other workers and our people generally all do what is in their power to carry out the spirit of this resolution. The time for work remaining to this people is short. Let us make the most of it.

Doctor M. E. Olsen, the principal, will be glad to answer all questions and give full information.

R. D. QUINN.

BOSTON

SUNDAY night, July 14, we opened the tent campaign on the same location as last year, near Park Square. We are using the large pavilion this summer, and on Sunday nights it has been filled to its capacity. Good audiences also have attended during the week, when the weather has not been rainy. The offerings have been exceptionally good, and a deep interest seems to be awakening in the minds of many.

Sunday night, July 21, Elder J. K. Jones preached to a crowded tent, and the sermon made a deep impression on the large audience.

There are associated with the writer this year Mr. Clarence Gibbs, musical director; Harold Henderson, tent master; Miss Cora Spencer, Mrs. Wm. Sypher, and Miss Annabel Orr, Bible workers. Mrs. D. M. Martin has volunteered her services again as organist, and many of our church people are assisting in the singing and distributing announcements.

Doctor Clara Schunk, of the New England Sanitarium, assisted by nurses, is conducting a very live and helpful health institute Tuesday and Friday evenings of each week, from 7:20 to 8 P. M. The attendance has been increasing.

The workers are all full of courage in the Lord, and are praying for a large harvest of souls this summer, fall, and winter in this great center of population.

E. L. CARDEY.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

THOSE wishing to have rooms or tents engaged for camp-meeting should send the orders at once to Elder F. S. Hartwell, Lebanon, N. H. The advantages for tenting are much more favorable than we at first thought. We are putting up all the tents we have. They will cost $2, $2.50, and $3. Already a number of orders have come in for these. We advise those wishing tents to get the order in quickly.

R. J. BRYANT.

CAMP-MEETING PLANS

It will be of interest to all our people to know that already a number of tents are being put up. Water-pipes are being laid and the ground wired for electricity. The camp-meeting will be held on a high and beautiful piece of ground, within three-minutes' walk of the business center of town. At the same time, it is so situated that when on the grounds one would seem far from any business or manufacturing center. Beautiful shade trees surround the place, making it very pretty indeed. A large tent formerly used for meetings will be pitched near the entrance and serve as a covering for automobiles. Here they will be sheltered free of charge. We trust that all our brethren and sisters who have cars will come and bring others with them.

An interesting feature is that there will be no dining tent erected on the grounds. We have succeeded in making special arrangements with a first-class restaurant to furnish vegetarian meals on the European plan at a low rate. Our medical secretary will have the privilege of visiting the kitchen at any time, and making suggestions regarding the meals. This will eliminate all busy activities from the grounds, thus making it possible for all to attend all the meetings. As the restaurant and first-class fruit stores are within three minutes' walk of the grounds, it will not be necessary to run a grocery stand.

Those of our people who have already heard of the plan are delighted with it. We are sure it will prove a great blessing to our meetings. Special arrangements are being made to make this a great meeting for our children and young people. Also plans are being made to give special instruction along the lines of medical work.

Strong outside help is promised us, which will mean much for the spiritual side of our work. We trust that all our people who can possibly do so, will begin at once to plan to attend this meeting. We earnestly solicit the prayers of all in behalf of the success of this gathering.

R. J. BRYANT.

LEBANON, NEW HAMPSHIRE

We are having a steady attendance of a small group of faithful ones, which is the Lord's encouragement to us to continue. Our average attendance for sixteen services is thirty-two. We have had as low as two, six, and nine persons in our large pavilion. This would be discouraging if it were not a prevalent condition in all the beautiful town churches with good talent at their command.

All the Protestant churches united in a rousing Sunday night rally outdoors, on the common, at the same time that we conducted tent services. These were discontinued after the second attempt, because, as one of the doctors complained, "The tent is getting the crowd"; yet, by actual count, our best Sunday attendance has been one hundred five, and since, seventy-five and fifty-five. The federation combined with all its resources is not able to get out members. What may we expect?

The constancy of a handful is our hope for success. We are all of good courage and working hard hunting out the sincere and promising from home to home. Our house-to-house distribution of Present Truth is helping our good Bible workers to find many interested in Bible study. We believe that there will be a harvest of honest, faithful ones in the following-up of the summer's work by Sisters Scribner and Sanborn.

Cornelius Pearl is improving since his operation in the Hanover hospital. He expects to once more take up his duties in another week.

Ezra Longway has had much freedom in his discourses. He will soon give us a stereopticon travel talk on Siam, the field to which he and his wife are going in a few weeks.

Ethan Allen Lee, of our company, in his first week of canvassing round about Lebanon, sold one hundred fifty dollars' worth of "Our Day."

Pray for us.

LEBANON TENT COMPANY.

TO OUR CHURCH-MEMBERS

"He who saves the children saves the church," we are told. Will you help us in our effort to save the children of this conference? Many a child is deprived of a Christian education for lack of means. Can you be content in thinking, "Since it is not my child, I carry no special burden." "The church has a special work to do in educating and training the children," we are told. Are you a member of the church? If so, "Where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?"

As Sabbath, August 10, is set aside for an educational program, I trust you will become interested in this department. May God greatly bless you at this time, as you carry out the program I shall send you. I shall think much of you on that day, and pray that God will impress you to give freely to this needy cause. "There is no work more important than the education of our youth."—"Counsels to Teachers," p. 46.

"We oft the plea of trying to keep
The lambs of the flock in the fold.
And well we may, but what of the sheep?
Should they be left out in the cold?"

"'Twas a sheep, not a lamb, that strayed away

In the parable Jesus told,
A grown-up sheep that had gone astray
From the ninety and nine in the fold.

"The lambs will follow the sheep, you know,

Wherever the sheep may stray.
If the sheep go wrong, it will not be long Till the lambs are as wrong as they.

"And so with the sheep we earnestly plead,
For the sake of the lambs today,
If the lambs are lost, what a wonderful cost

Some sheep will have to pay!"

EDUCATIONAL SECRETARY.

BURLINGTON

A VERY pleasant and profitable occasion was the union meeting and Sabbath-school convention held at Burlington, Vt., Sabbath, July 20. The Vergennes people came over early, and a preaching service was held at ten o'clock. The speaker dwelt upon the nearness of the end, and the magnitude of the work to be done, appealing to all for a closer walk with God, and a deeper consecration to the service. There was a very general and favorable response.

At one o'clock the convention proper began. In addition to the regular lesson for the day, there were papers and speeches on various lines of Sabbath-school work, spiced with a goodly number of illustrations and demonstrations, both literary and artistic. The program was also brightened with suitable music, the children doing their part to make the effort a success. Miss Hawthorne very ably directed the proceedings. We trust there will be tangible results in quickening the interest and increasing the attendance of the schools participating.

After the convention a brief meeting of the Burlington church was called in which delegates were elected to represent the church at the conference and camp-meeting soon to be held at Lebanon, N. H.

It was a day of privilege and blessing, long to be remembered by those present.

CHANGE OF DATE

OWING to the General Conference staging a camp-meeting at Takoma Park on the same date we had chosen for our meeting, the date of the Southern New England camp-meeting has been changed to one week earlier than previously announced, and will be held September 5-15.

TENT MEETINGS

BRETHREN F. M. DANA and F. L. Abbott have been conducting a series of tent meetings in New Britain for about four weeks. They have a good location for their tent and have had a good interest and attendance all the time. They are hopeful for good results.

Elder Walleker secured a beautiful location in one of the residence districts of Newport, R. I. Owing to the pressure of work in the government service, he was delayed one week in getting work done in connecting the lights in the tent.

It was voted by our committee last spring that we secure the services of three trained Bible workers for our tent work this summer. Notwithstanding every effort put forth in this direction, we are able to secure but one. We have selected three young ladies who are taking instruction in Bible work in connection with the Newport tent company. We believe in this way we shall be able to secure some Bible workers. I visited the tent company last Sunday and was present at the evening service. The attendance was good, and the interest manifested was very marked. We hope to see a church raised in Newport, this great center of wealth, where more than fifty millionaire families spend their summer vacation.

Let us remember the tent workers in our prayers. A statement in the Testimonies reads like this: "Brethren, have you forgotten that your prayers, like sharp sickles, should go out with the laborers in the harvest field?"

A. T. ROBINSON.

HARTFORD

LAST summer Elder F. W. Stray opened the tent effort in Glastonbury, Conn., in which the writer was called upon to assist in the absence of Elder Stray. Mrs. Cassie Reed Bates was connected with the work part of the time, as was also Brother E. A. Jones. Brother F. L. Abbott was also asked to help develop some of the interests that had been somewhat neglected in the removal of Elder Stray from our field.

A few months ago two or three candidates were baptized in the Adventist chapel in the city from the Glastonbury district; also those from the South Manchester district, where Brother Abbott had held a tent effort followed with hall meetings the past winter. Others who at that time were studying, recently signified their faith in the message and desired to unite with the church.

There were those in Hartford who had been associated with Sister Bates, Brother Jones, Brother Abbott, and the church people, as well as the writer. Accordingly, Sabbath, July 20, after a short study on the new birth and baptism for the benefit of the candidates and the church-members, Brother Abbott conducted an examination of seven candidates (three from South Manchester, two from Glastonbury, and two from Hartford) and Brother D. B. Parmelee extended to them the right hand of fellowship into the Hartford church. From the church service most of the congregation went to the river east of Weathersfield, where these candidates were buried in baptism by the writer.

Owing to the shortage of laborers and the possibility that these members from Glastonbury and South Manchester would receive equally as much help, if not more, they were advised by the president of the conference to unite with the Hartford church instead of organizing separate churches at these two places. F. M. DANA.

CONSERVATION IN OUR ANNUAL CONFERENCE

CONSERVATION is the call of the hour. Since our country declared war on the imperial government of Germany, our government has been calling upon its citizens to conserve in every way possible. We are asked to conserve food, clothing, light, heat, the quality of paper used in printing, and in nearly every line. The holding of large conventions is being discouraged by the government, owing to the enormous expense involved.

The principle of conservation is one of the great reasons that led our committee to decide to hold our annual conference and general gathering in a large, commodious, civic building such as we have been able to secure in the very center of the city of Rochester, known as Convention Hall. This we have been able to secure free of charge.

It must be very evident to all that the cost of freight on tent equipment, lumber, labor, and other things necessary to the holding of a camp-meeting is very large in these times of excessive prices.

Some may say that the expense involved in attending the conference this year, owing to the fact that families must live in rooms, will be much greater than it was when one family could occupy a single family tent. We believe that, with but few exceptions, the rooms will be as cheap as a tent when one considers the rent of tent, cost of floor, straw, etc.

We can understand that in cases of families of six or seven children it might be cheaper in a tent, but for the benefit of such we are going to rent one or more vacant houses with stoves all set up. We intend to furnish these houses with cots, tables, and chairs, so that they may be rented at a rate that will be as cheap, or cheaper than tents. Where one or more families occupy rooms in a house together they will share the use of the stove.

As the result of a careful canvass of the people in the vicinity of the hall, we have found that plenty of rooms can be secured, ranging in price from two to seven dollars a week. The two-dollar rooms are somewhat inferior in furnishings, and the seven-dollar rooms are furnished with the finest of furniture and are located in excellent homes. The prices generally range around $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50, and $4 a week. These prices depend wholly on the location and furnishings of a room.

Plenty of rooms can be secured where they have no objections to children.

In a previous issue of the GLEANER we have quoted the prices of certain vegetarian articles of food that can be obtained at some restaurants. Besides the Manhattan Restaurant, to which reference was made, very reasonable meals can be obtained at the Young Women's Christian Association cafeteria, besides other places where food can be obtained at reasonable rates. Those who wish to buy food and eat it in the rooms could do so by exercising care in keeping the rooms tidy.

Our aim is to make the expense in attending the meeting as cheap as though you were attending a regular camp-meeting.

Send orders for rooms to D. A. Bailey, 60 Grand Avenue, Rochester, N. Y., stating about the price you wish to pay and whether you wish a room where they will admit children. K. C. RUSSELL.

ELDER RUSSELL reports a pleasant visit at the Belknap home at Campville.

The hot weather has lessened the attendance at our different tent meetings this summer.

J. E. Eick, of Buffalo, and R. W. King, of Auburn, were called to the army camp Tuesday, July 23.

Mrs. K. C. Russell and her daughter, Berenice, are visiting Mrs. Bula Artress, the elder daughter of Elder and Mrs. K. C. Russell, who resides in Fostoria, Michigan.

Most of the leaders of our tent companies expect to introduce the Sabbath question in their meetings Sunday, August 4. Pray for these important tent meetings.

Mr. John S. Wightman, with whom many are acquainted in this conference, died June 21, 1918, in Los Angeles, California, of tuberculosis. His wife and daughter, Ruth, survive him.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Miles, of South Lancaster, have been touring with their auto through Western New York. Their many friends in the "Empire" State have welcomed them back to their native State.

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS

THE fifty-seventh session of the Eastern New York Conference was held in connection with the camp-meeting at Pulaski, June 27 to July 7, 1918. The first meeting was called at 10 A. M., Friday, June 28, with Elder H. C. Hartwell presiding. Elder F. M. Wilcox led in the Scripture lesson from Psalms 96, and offered a fervent prayer for the guidance of the Holy Spirit in all the deliberations of the conference.

Ninety-six regular delegates were present at the first meeting, besides a number of delegates at large. In harmony with the provisions of our constitution, all visiting brethren from the Atlantic Union and the General Conference were invited to take part in the meetings. The following were in attendance during at least a part of the session: Elder and Mrs. R. D. Quinn, Elders W. W. Eastman, F. M. Wilcox, J. O. Corliss, C. S. Longacre, K. C. Russell, and J. K. Jones. The educational work was represented by Doctor M. E. Olsen and Professor L. O. Machlan; the home missionary department by Brother V. O. Punches; and the publishing work by Brethren J. D. Snider, J. O. Mace, and E. E. Franklin.

Requests were presented from the newly organized churches at Oneonta, Cortland, and Canton for admission into the conference. These requests were granted, and the delegates seated at the first meeting.

Session committees were appointed as follows:

Committee on Nominations: F. M. Wilcox, F. C. Gilbert, L. H. King, M. W. Milks, A. E. Huntington, C. S. Coon, C. H. Castle.

Committee on Credentials and Licenses: J. O. Corliss, F. C. Gilbert, D. H. Kress, F. M. Wilcox, W. W. Eastman.

Committee on Constitution: J. D. Snider, H. A. May, C. H. Castle.

The departmental secretaries rendered reports for the biennial period, all showing encouraging features. The ministers and Bible workers also told of their work during the past two years.

The report of the Committee on Plans and Recommendations was as follows:

Whereas, The Lord has blessed the cause of present truth in our conference during the past two years in adding believers to our numbers, increasing tithes and offerings, sparing the lives of our workers, and in general prosperity to the cause,—

1. We hereby express our gratitude to our Heavenly Father, and consecrate our lives anew to him for service.

Whereas, The Sabbath-school membership was much smaller than the church-membership at the end of 1917; and,—

Whereas, Our Sabbath-school membership should exceed that of the church,—

2. Resolved, That we, as members in our Sabbath-schools, do all we can to get every Sabbath-keeper in the conference to join the Sabbath-school either as a regular or home department member.

Whereas, The Lord has blessed us during the past two years in giving for missions; therefore,—

3. Resolved, That we endeavor to reach the Sabbath-school goal of fifteen cents a member for missions, and that our officers and teachers use their influence in building up the thirteenth Sabbath offerings.

Recognizing the importance of the Sabbath-school Teachers' Training Course,—

4. We recommend, That all present and prospective officers and teachers avail themselves of its privileges, completing the course.

Whereas, For nearly seventy years our general church paper, The Advent Review and Sabbath Herald, has been one of the leading factors in establishing unity of purpose and action in our work, and has kept our members informed regarding the progress of our work throughout the entire field; and,—

Whereas, Those who do not regularly read our church paper are missing that which is a great help to them in maintaining their Christian experience; therefore,—

5. We recommend, That earnest efforts be continued to place the Review in the home of every English-reading believer.

Whereas, Present Truth meets the present-day demands for cheap, attractive, and effective missionary literature; and,—

Whereas, This paper, through its encouraging results, stimulates the missionary spirit in our churches, and brings people quickly into a knowledge of the truth,—

6. We recommend it to all of our churches for use in systematic missionary work.

7. We recommend, That colporteurs' credentials and licenses be granted to colporteurs on the following basis:

(a) That licenses be given to those who qualify and are accepted as colporteurs.

(b) That credentials be given to those who have been regularly and successfully engaged in the work for not less than one year, and who meet the following qualifications:

(1) Sound in the message.

(2) Consistent and exemplary in dress and Christian department.

(3) Faithful in time.

(4) Prompt in settling accounts with the tract society.

(c) That these papers be given by the conference in the usual way.

Whereas, The Instructor Temperance Annual has won a wide, favorable reputation among all temperance people, serving as an entering wedge for our special evangelical work while rendering needed help to the cause of temperance; and,—

Whereas, It is as much needed in maintaining prohibition as in securing it; therefore,—

8. We recommend, That it have an extended and constant circulation throughout our conference territory, especially during the time of the pending of the ratification of the prohibition amendment by the State legislature.

H. C. HARTWELL, President;

H. A. MAY, Secretary.

July 21. The meeting was very well attended, and it is quite evident that the tent will have to be enlarged in order to accommodate the large number of people who attend.

Doctor Magan, of Los Angeles, California, gave two very interesting talks at the services of the New York No. 1 church in the morning and afternoon of Sabbath, July 20, at the tent. He told of the marvelous way in which the hand of God has been manifested in bringing into existence and raising to a high standard our medical college at Loma Linda.

CAMP-MEETING

THE Maine Conference and camp-meeting will be held at Lewiston, commencing August 29 and continuing to September 8. Efficient help from the General Conference is expected. We are very anxious that parents and children shall attend this important meeting. The churches should elect their delegates,—one for the organization, and one for every additional ten members. A list of the delegates should be sent to the conference secretary, Brother Osterblom, by August 20. This will assist us very much in having arrangements perfected for the conference meeting.

The usual arrangements for board and lodging will be provided. Those desiring tents should order early, as we have only a limited number. Some may have to take rooms who would prefer tents. The tents will cost three dollars besides floors and furnishings, which will be somewhat higher than last year, as prices have advanced. Rooms will be provided as last year, but your orders for rooms should be in early also, so that we can be ready. Bring straw ticks if you expect to tent and sufficient bedding and clothing for changes in the weather.

There will be special meetings for those interested in the national draft, for parents, for youth, and for children. Come early. Stay all through, and get every help provided for, careful and prayerful preparation.

H. W. CARR.

ITEMS

BROTHER S. I. BRAGAN attended the general meeting at Woodstock Sabbath, July 20.

Sister Jessie Bishop is spending a few weeks with Sister Evelyn Manter, at Winthrop.

Elder and Mrs. Gilbert and son spent a few days in Maine recently visiting friends.

The many friends of Sister Osterblom and little Katherine welcomed their return to Portland after an absence of several weeks to the seashore.

Miss Annabel Houghton returned to Portland July 19, after an enjoyable stay of a few weeks at the New England Sanitarium.

Brother Stanley Hills feels that his reclassification has been ordered by the Lord, which will enable him to continue in the colporteur work.

A Missionary Volunteer society was organized by Sister Bates at Redding July 21, with an enrolment of nineteen members. All were not present on this occasion.

Brother Stevens, of Harpswell, who became interested in the truth through reading our literature last winter and attending some of Elder Verrill's lectures, was baptized at Redding July 21. Brother Johnnie Andrews was also baptized at that time.

Brother Maurice Bailey is continuing the work in Lewiston. He will begin a series of meetings at once in the new church. Elder Sanderson plans to move immediately to Bath to begin a series of meetings in that place.

Have you tried selling the new book, "World in Perplexity," yet? It is proving a fine seller, and we are ordering thousands to supply the demand. One of our good sisters asks if we object to her selling more than ten copies. We hope no one feels there are not enough books to go around to supply more than ten copies. While the publishers are being pushed hard to keep pace with the demand, and are finding it hard to do so, let us keep them hard at work. God will bless these little messengers of truth. Outsiders are writing for this good book, and why should not every one of our dear people help in the distribution? Send a trial order for ten copies, enclosing $1.25, selling them for $2.50, and see how easy it is. People do not think so much of a quarter now as they used to, and they will find a good quarter's worth in "World in Perplexity."
