GENERAL ARTICLES

WHAT PROVISION HAVE YOU MADE FOR THE EDUCATION OF YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS?

THIS is a question which means much to every Seventh-day Adventist parent at this time. We have again reached the time when plans must be made for another school year. I know something of the significance of this question to parents who are isolated from our schools, who see their boys and girls growing up and forming characters which will lay the foundation for the future.

We are deeply anxious here in the Atlantic Union Conference that all of our young people shall be given the advantage and help of our church schools, academies, and college. We are also anxious for the parents who are not awakened to the importance of a Christian education for their children and the need of the safeguard that is provided in such a plan of education.

Perhaps not all who attend our schools will be saved in the kingdom of God. Perhaps some will fall by the way, but will be restored later because of the seed planted and the principles instilled during the school days.

However, whatever our reasoning may be, can it be thought that our children will be saved when subjected to the environments and training that the world is prepared to give them in these days? Can we feel safe in neglecting any provision that God has made in such a time as this? Will we not need every possible help and every safeguard that can be thrown about our youth?

We must not look to our schools as places of absolute perfection. That does not exist anywhere in the world today, but we can look to them as God's agency and as a means of helping to shield and train our children for the kingdom of God.

I appeal to every parent in our field to study very carefully this question of making proper provision and giving proper aid to the children, and to the young men and women, who should be in our schools this coming year.

ITEMS

ON the first Monday in August the workers of the Massachusetts Conference came together at South Lancaster. The forenoon was spent in listening to the reports of the various tent companies.

Elder Greene's 40 x 60 tent is full from night to night, with an overflow in attendance on Sunday nights.

The attendance at the other meetings is ranging from fifteen to fifty. The encouraging feature about the attendance is that the same people are coming from night to night. All of these efforts are being held in places where it has been impossible in the past to establish permanent footholds, being chiefly Catholic centers. The daylight saving time, together with the universal use of automobiles, is playing havoc with the summer attendance at our meetings. However, the Fall River company is planning to start a Sabbath school immediately.

In Hudson every member of the tent company is going strong on personal work. The Sabbath question is now being presented, and the outlook is favorable.

We were very much pleased, on a recent visit to Lawrence, with the excellent location and nice appearance of the tent. The workers are doing everything in their power to reach the people, and we believe they will succeed in winning some souls even though the attendance is exceptionally small. However, the attendance is increasing, and in spite of the terrific storm which swept over the city of Lawrence, damaging the tent, Brother Freiburger is going right ahead with the meetings.

Elder Mortenson is meeting with very bitter prejudice in his Swedish effort at Brockton. Several previous efforts have been held in this field, two on the same spot where the tent is located, and so far it has been impossible to get any representative attendance of the Swedish people, although on nights when the preaching has been in English, there has been a good attendance of English-speaking people. We have been unable to secure a Bible worker for Elder Mortenson, which is a further handicap to him in his work.

The effort at Holyoke did not get started until the last of July, and it is too early to predict anything regarding the interest there.

The afternoon of the workers' meeting was given over to a consideration of plans for the securing of the $20,000 Harvest In-gathering goal which was set for the conference at the time of the camp-meeting. It is hoped that every church will start early while the summer people are with us, and keep right at it vigorously until the church goal is reached. In order to make our goal of $20,000, it will be necessary for every church to raise an average of $10.00 a member and for some to go over that amount.

The workers set personal goals ranging from $25.00 to $750.00, totalling $3,000, and the office force, including the field secretaries, have set individual goals totalling $1,325.00.

Immediately at the close of the meeting Elder and Mrs. Schnetzler and Brother and Sister Knipschild set out for the Cape and Martha's Vineyard to prosecute the Ingathering work among the summer people in that section.

Past experiences have taught us that the best time to work among the foreign-speaking peoples is on Sunday when the men, who carry the pocketbooks, are at home. As there are only so many Sundays in a season, the quicker we begin to use the Sundays in this work, the more we will get in offerings.

We think it is well understood that our people are to confine their attention entirely to Massachusetts territory, and not to break over into the territory of our neighbors who are covering their fields thoroughly.

A special envelope has been provided for use in sending letters to friends or business men, and can be supplied free of cost to any churches desiring some.

Elder and Mrs. Bicknell have been placed in charge of the working of the fairs, as their long experience in this line enables them to get into fairs where others have failed, and to obtain much more favorable terms than others are able to get. As there are only a limited number of fairs to work, it is their intention that only the picked solicitors from the churches are to do this work that Brother Bicknell directs.

Elder Fries has baptized nine more converts, making his total one hundred.

W. C. MOFFETT.

BOSTON

SABBATH, August 2, nine candidates were baptized in the Boston church. This is the fourth baptism, making a total of forty-two this year. Truly, the third angel's message does reach people from every nation, for among these were natives of Russia, Sweden, Cuba, Canada, France, Newfoundland, England, Italy, Finland, Denmark, and America.

Heeding the call to come out of Babylon, they came from all the leading Protestant denominations. Quite a few were former members of the Catholic church, one was a Russian Jewess, and one a Mennonite. Some remarkable conversions took place among those who were not members of any church. We praise God for the changed lives of these new members. It is marvelous to watch the Holy Spirit moulding lives and changing the very countenance, as He prepares individuals for translation.

As workers we have not striven for numbers, but for "twice born" men and women. The preliminary work in every case was long and thorough. After keeping the Sabbath for some time and knowing every point of present truth, they entered the baptismal class, where for some weeks they were grounded in the spirit of prophecy. We are convinced that after such thorough instruction, candidates are ready to join the remnant church which "keeps the commandments of God, and has the testimony of Jesus."

Our cooking school has been a strong factor in helping our people to secure physical health through a vegetarian diet.

This baptism was a blessed occasion. This makes one hundred persons who have been baptized by the writer since entering the Boston field. This has largely been the result of Sunday night meetings held in the church and the faithful work done by our two Bible workers, Sisters Mary Walsh and Harriet Holloway. There are about twenty others keeping the Sabbath, besides many interested ones. Pray that the Holy Spirit may use the few workers in this needy field in winning many more precious souls.

HARVEST INGATHERING

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS are becoming known as the greatest foreign mission workers in the world. We may all be foreign mission workers by the methods we employ as a denomination. Our Harvest Ingathering program gives all our people a chance to strongly hold the ropes at home while our missionaries go down into the pit of heathenism and seek to gather out the jewels for the Master. In such a work as this, every church member should be earnestly employed.

Our business for the next few months will be working for the Master in this Harvest Ingathering campaign. True, you will have to spend some time making your living, but your business is to get funds and bring souls to the fold of Jesus. Somehow we must get at least seventy-five per cent of our members busy in this work this year. It means your own salvation, brethren, to be doing something for the Lord in this personal house-to-house work.

Brother J. W. Sypher, accompanied by Mrs. Sypher, will be visiting all our churches, and lead-

NEWS NOTES

ELDERS Blomstedt and Nordenmalm are holding a tent effort in New Britain for the Swedish people. They report a fair attendance and a growing interest among the people in that city.

Brother H. E. Shipley is conducting a tent effort in Bridgeport, and reports a good attendance almost every night. Miss Edith Kirkley is assisting in this effort as Bible worker.

Two baptisms have been held since camp-meeting. One was in the New Haven Colored church, when two were baptized. Eight others are planning on going forward in this service a little later. The other one was held in the Bridgeport Hungarian church, when eight new believers were baptized. The Bridgeport Hungarian church is now the largest Hungarian church in this country, and is growing under the faithful labors of Brother and Sister Mozar.

Seven new members have been taken into the Hartford church by baptism since camp-meeting. Another baptism will take place in this church early this fall.

The date for the dedication of the new church building in Providence has been set for September 12, 13, 14. The repairs on the building are going forward rapidly. The painting is finished, new floors are laid, and now the seating is being put in.

Mrs. Robert Hall is spending a few weeks with her parents in Maine before the opening of school.

The students of Hartford Academy will be much pleased with the changes that are being made in the school buildings in Hartford. A large enrollment is expected this year, and plans are being made accordingly.

PINE TREE ACADEMY

TODAY the words of the prophet Malachi, as recorded in the fourth chapter and sixth verse, are being literally fulfilled. Surely, parents are making sacrifices in behalf of their children and children are making sacrifices in behalf of their parents, which fulfills this Scripture.

In visiting the homes of our good people in the states of Vermont and New Hampshire, over and over again I found that parents were planning to make just these sacrifices for their children this fall, and the young people were planning to leave their homes and their own firesides and enter Pine Tree Academy to continue their training for the Master's service.

At the beginning of my trip through the western part of this conference, I confess that my courage was not as bright as it might have been. We were told quite definitely that there were not many young people. When Professor Wright and the writer entered Manchester, New Hampshire, it was with the foreknowledge that there were no young people there at all, but before we left we found half a dozen who are really interested in Christian education and are planning definitely to get it.

This was our experience in Jamaica, Townsend, Rutland, Claremont, Vergennes, Burlington, and in fact, all through the western part of the field. Time and again parents would talk to us with tears in their eyes, and tell us how they wanted their young people to go to school, and how they were planning to sacrifice everything for their children. We found young people on the hillsides and in the valleys, in the cities, the towns, and the country, all of them with the same hope and the same ambitions and desires. Day after day as we were in the field, my courage was rising until at the close of our trip through Vermont and New Hampshire I could see our academy so full of students this fall that we would hardly know what to do.

Since returning home, letters have been coming in every mail from young people asking for admittance into the school. The Lord surely blessed our efforts on our trip, and with the assistance of many of our good brethren and sisters in the field, we got in touch with practically all of our young people. While our work was primarily for the young people of academic age and Pine Tree Academy, yet we did not forget to direct college students to Atlantic Union College; and even the children came in for their portion, because church schools were organized as a direct result of our field trip.

Brethren, let us take courage and fight the good fight manfully. The Lord is coming soon, and when He comes, let us not be found wanting in that through negligence we have permitted any of our children or youth to fall by the snares of the evil one and not be with us in the kingdom of God.

GEORGE E. OWENS,
Principal.

HOW IS YOUR COURAGE?

AT present the most popular topic in our conference is Harvest Ingathering. I suppose every Missionary Volunteer in the entire Union has inwardly vowed a personal goal for himself, or at least has vowed to do his very best. If you have not made this vow, and you are a professed Volunteer, something is lacking! I wonder if it is courage.

A student once remarked, "It takes a heap of courage to go Harvest Ingathering." To this the presiding missionary secretary replied, "It takes just enough courage to smile, and that is not very much!" If there is so much magic in a smile, it would seem the photographer's admonition, "look pleasant, please," is always in order when soliciting.

If it actually takes more courage to smile than you have on hand, be sure to get a good supply of the prayerful kind. It is the King's business, and "He it is that doth go before thee."

Remember

"It takes a deal of striving
And a firm and stern-set chin,
No matter what the battle,
If you really want to win.

"It takes a little courage,
And a little self-control,
And some grim determination,
If you want to reach the goal."

If you are a Voluntary Missionary, you are a Missionary Volunteer.

KENNETH A. WRIGHT,
Missionary Volunteer Secretary.

Dear Friends:

IN the daily study of our Sabbath school lessons, one cannot help but get the one big thought of trying to live a victorious life. The lessons reveal such practical help that any person interested in his own spiritual welfare will stop to review his past to see wherein he has failed, and in so doing is likely to become discouraged.

Elder Meade MacGuire has gained many victories, insomuch that he considered it his duty to pass on a helping word to those who are seeking to gain a better foothold in their daily experiences. So we have the inspirational book entitled, "The Life of Victory."

No other new book can fit in with our Sabbath school lessons any better than Elder MacGuire's book. Quoting from page nine, we get these helpful words:

"We need victory for Christ's sake, because a sinner really saved from sin is the evidence that His plan of redemption is a success.

"We need victory for the sake of other men, for we can have little power to win men to a Saviour whom we acknowledge has not saved us.

"We need victory for our own sake; for the wages of sin is death, and if we keep on sinning, we must expect to receive wages.

"But we need not despair. The inspired Word says, 'Thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory.'" And so on throughout its thirty-three chapters, in each one of which are complete, yet helpful, sermons.

If ever there was a book that was worth a dollar, this one is. No doubt you have read over its description on the last inside page of the Review and Herald. For gifts, we have a special edition that is made up in an ooze sheep binding with overlapping edges, in either purple or green, enclosed in a dainty gift box for only $2.00. If you anticipate purchasing any books, "The Life of Victory" should have a careful consideration.

Another timely book has been published to meet the demand concerning two great issues of public consideration. "Christianity at the Crossroads" deals with the Modernist and Fundamentalist Movement according to the Bible. Elder Carlyle B. Haynes, its author, lives in New York City, the hotbed of the Modernist Movement. He is well acquainted with its features. This volume contains 128 pages, well illustrated, for only 25c. The regular discount is allowed in quantity orders. Order through your church society today to obtain the quantity rates, if possible, for the two above mentioned books. The New England Tract Society believes that you have been looking for a book like "The Life of Victory" for yourself; also the book, "Christianity at the Crossroads," for your neighbors and friends. Do not delay, but get it while the subject is still lively.

Yours in the interest of timely books,

RALPH W. TATRO.

NORTHERN VERMONT DISTRICT

SABBATH forenoon, August 2, the writer enjoyed the Sabbath school and church services in the church building at North Wolcott. In the afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, in company with the elder and family, he met with the East Elmore division of the church, which is some nine miles distant. Here we found a growing Sabbath school under the consecrated leadership of Sister Sillo-way.

It did us good to see the faces of so many young people, many of them being children of non-Sabbath-keepers. Both Sabbath schools of the North Wolcott church are striving to reach the Sabbath school standards in daily lesson study and offerings. Visitors are cordially invited to the services of both companies.

Harvest Ingathering Items

On Sunday, August 3, a field day was made possible by the hearty cooperation of nine persons from the North Wolcott church, two of whom were children. Brother Hall and family, of Hardwick, assisted not only in the use of his auto, but also in soliciting, for which we felt grateful. The Lord blessed our efforts with nearly $40.00.

On Monday four went out from the same church for about four hours, and returned with $17.30.

Tuesday, in company with Brother Bailey of North Wolcott, the writer found two members of the North Hyde Park company who desired a part in the Harvest Ingathering. In all, the day netted about $20.00.

The Hyde Park company determined to work another day, so after adding one more of their members, we went forth on Wednesday; but due to bad roads, we were delayed in travel, and this day did not result in quite so much in offerings. Nevertheless, all were of good courage and had the "go-till-you-get-there" spirit. That spells ultimate success. We are thankful for the many good experiences God has given us in meeting and ministering to needy souls.

Children as Messengers

In the early days of this message, when persecution made it impossible for older people to proclaim the truth, God chose to use the children. We believe God wants to use our children today, and the Junior Standard of Attainment has been prepared to fit them for such service.

The juniors of the Swedish New York church have just taken the examination in Bible doctrines, and are now beginning the studies in denominational history. Not one who took the examination failed; nearly every member passed with a percentage above ninety.

It is encouraging indeed to see these girls and boys taking such an interest in the Word of God, and it fills us with the conviction that God is working mightily in, and through, our children.

THE NEXT MOVE IS OURS

FOR some months our publishing houses at Nashville and Brookfield have been on a lively move to prepare the three million Harvest Ingathering papers calculated to be needed for our 1924 campaign. They have done their part, and they did it well. The next move is ours.

As far as I know, every church has received its English papers, solicitors' cards, instruction booklets, and goal cards. Have you read the magazine and the instruction booklet? Have you studied the canvass on the back of the goal card?

This should be your first move to success. Then after earnest prayer, move into your assigned field, and keep on praying as you work that God will move the hearts of the people to take a liberal interest in the greatest enterprise under the sun.

Be cheerful and courageous as you go out, remembering that the Lord has promised to be with us and even go before us as we enlist in this world-wide, soul-winning campaign. Then, indeed, will your good report every Sabbath cause the hands of the Harvest Ingathering dial to move at a lively rate toward your church goal.

If you have need of foreign papers, please order them at once. They are obtainable in twenty of the leading foreign languages.

If you are located near any lake or mountain, now is the best time to meet the summer visitors, bring them the message, and obtain their help for the needy mission fields. Next month it will be too late in many cases.

Remember the goal for every member is, "at least 10 hours' service with the Harvest Ingathering papers;" "at least $10.00 for missions;" and "an earnest effort to win at least one soul to Christ."

Which church will shine the brightest along these three lines and win the banner? Which will be the first to reach its goal and win the banner for promptness?

Set a good example in your church by doing your part as soon as possible. Who knows what may hinder you next week? As for myself, I hope to have enjoyed several field days before you read these lines, and expect to get a little preliminary training by a few field days each week this month. As there is no good reason for delay, why not aim to reach the goal in every church before the end of September?

Choose whatever line of work you prefer, house-to-house, business section, correspondence, street, or fairs. All are good, so please move into line and help us win an early victory.

Let us not overlook the wonderful soul-winning possibilities this campaign offers. We should not consider our duty done after obtaining an offering for foreign missions, but should watch as "winners of souls" and take the name and address of every interested person for future follow-up work. May the harvest of dollars now be merely a prelude to the harvest of souls later. Scores of people have been won to the truth who were first met by a faithful Harvest Ingathering solicitor, and then visited and instructed.

Beginning with the first Sabbath in September, we hope to get a weekly report from every church regarding the number of hours' service given, amount gathered in, and definite interest found. If you do any work before September, please keep careful track of these three important items, and report them the first Sabbath in September when they are called for.

In view of the clear call to service, the great need for service, and the matchless joy of service, it is my sincere hope that every member of the New York Conference, who possibly can, will do his full part to help make our 1924 Harvest Ingathering campaign the complete success it ought to be.

Why not render double service by planning to take one of the new or timid members along with you and initiate him into the joy of active service?

If you will send me your interesting experiences, I will promise to tell you mine. Who is going to be first?

F. BOHNER,

Home Missionary Secretary.

UNION SPRINGS ACADEMY

WE are back at work again after a brief vacation spent out of the state. Mrs. Shull and the children and myself, accompanied by Miss Annabel Orr, drove down into Virginia to get in touch with some of the historical spots in connection with the Civil War. We visited the battlefields of Gettysburg and Antietam, and then drove to Harper's Ferry where we talked with an old negro ex-slave who joined John Brown's forces at the time of his raid on that place. He told us a good many interesting things about that event. From here we went down the Shenandoah Valley to spend the Sabbath at our academy at New Market, where we were glad to renew our acquaintance with our old friends, John Z. Hottel and wife. Professor Hottel was at one time principal of Fernwood Academy, later preceptor at South Lancaster, and is now doing very successful work as principal of Shenandoah Valley Academy.

From New Market, we went south to Staunton, and then east across the Blue Ridge Mountains to Richmond, the center of many historical scenes. We visited Petersburg, twenty-two miles to the south where the greatest siege of the Civil War was carried on, and then to Appomatox Court House where Lee surrendered. To a teacher of history, this was a very valuable trip, and we all enjoyed it thoroughly. We returned by way of Washington, Philadelphia, New York, and South Lancaster, and now feel much refreshed and ready to plunge into the heavy work of the school year soon to open.

While at Ocean Grove, N. J., we were glad to have a visit with Miss Viola Severs, whom we have secured to head the piano department next year. Miss Severs is now taking special advanced work in the university at Brunswick, and is looking forward with keen interest to her work here. I would suggest that as many young people as possible should plan to take piano lessons next year, for you will seldom find a better opportunity or such an able instructor.

We are very glad to see the excellent reports being made in the colporteur work by our academy students. It seems certain that we will have the largest number of scholarships ever earned. The Lord surely honors young people who stick by a hard job, and He will continue to give them success so long as they remain consecrated to Him.

By the time this number of the GLEANER reaches our readers, we will have sent out a little post-card containing a calendar for September and a very unusual picture above it. Please hang this in a prominent place so that every member of the family may see it; and as you look at it, if you have no children of your own, pray often that God will open the way for every Seventh-day Adventist to secure a Christian education. Too many of our fine young people are squandering their talents as hewers of wood and drawers of water for the world, when the Lord intended for them to fill a place in giving His last message to the world. They are not filling the place He wishes them to because they do not have the education necessary. If any of our readers in New York State failed to receive a copy of this striking post-card, drop us a line, and we will see that you get one. It is worth a good deal of study.

We have a number of copies of the senior annual issue of the Academy Forum, and shall be glad to mail them free to any asking for them. They contain pictures of our graduates of last year, of the faculty, student body, and various other features of interest.

We are receiving some orders for entire wheat flour ground from wheat grown on our own farm, and are now ready to supply the flour in any quantity. If you have not already received price-list, write for it.

According to present plans, I hope to meet with the Ogdensburg and Canton churches on Sabbath, August 16, and trust that I may meet all in that vicinity at that time who are interested in our young people.

CLAUDE A. SHULJ.

ATLANTIC UNION COLLEGE

MORE than fifty persons from out of the village, many of them from a distance, visited the college during the past week. Several new students applied for admission for the coming year.

We are expecting Prof. C. L. Taylor, our new Bible teacher, to arrive this coming week. Prof. Taylor is an old student of this school and has held positions of trust and responsibility in the cause for a number of years. He is the author of the "Outline Studies from the Testimonies." His coming will greatly strengthen our ministerial course, and the young people will find a sympathetic friend in him.

On last Friday evening the writer attended the young people's meeting in the Providence, R. I., church. An excellent company of young people was in attendance, and a number signified their intention of coming to the college. At Pawtucket on Sabbath a full church welcomed us, and here again were found several new students.

The afternoon was spent with the Providence church. The repairs and alterations on the church building are going forward with enthusiasm and dispatch. It was inspiring to note the intense interest of the members of the church as Elder Sanderson talked of what had been done and what they proposed to do. Such team-work as was in evidence will soon finish the church and get it ready for dedication.

There were fully two-thirds more in attendance than during a visit there a year ago. The Lord has called out an excellent class of people. They showed great interest in the college as well as in every other phase of the work, and we shall have the privilege of welcoming a number of young people from the Providence church.

B. F. MACHLAN.

SUMMER SCHOOL

"NOTHING" was the title of Professor Robison's chapel talk last week. At first it may sound very empty, but not so after listening to the discourse and hearing the earnest appeal made to us that when we read, we should read something; when we sing, sing something; when we talk, talk something; and even when one whistles, he ought to whistle something instead of always giving the answer, "nothing," to the oft asked question, "What are you doing?"

The usual Boston trip took place last Thursday. Nearly all the students went. The historic places of Boston and vicinity were visited. The glass flowers at Harvard furnished material for much admiration. The homes of the poets; namely, Hawthorne, Emerson, and Louisa May Alcott, together with the resting places of many found at Sleepy Hollow and Mount Auburn cemeteries, were also visited. Professor Ross reports the trip to have been the best he has ever taken with a group of students.

Elder Moffett's talk one morning in chapel about seeking to find the best in the children we teach, especially in the bad boy, was very helpful.

We are very glad to welcome the educational secretaries of the various conferences this week. Mr. Kenneth Wright from the New England Conference, and Mr. F. R. Wood from the Greater New York Conference, spoke in young peoples' meeting Friday evening on the importance of good reading. Mr. Tiney from Massachusetts is with us, and we have enjoyed his helpful talks during the summer school session. We are glad to welcome Mrs. Markham from the New York Conference once more, and she has promised to talk in vesper service one evening this week.

Professor Saunders talked in sunset service at the close of last Sabbath. He also sang that beautiful hymn:

"In vain I've tried a thousand ways
My fears to quell, my hopes to raise.
But what I need for all my days,
Is Jesus."

Elder Moffett spoke in church Sabbath morning. He gave a very interesting and practical talk on the subject of education. He also launched the Harvest Ingathering campaign.

We had the privilege of having Professor and Mrs. Machlan visit us at worship Tuesday evening. Professor Machlan's talk on the importance of the Bible and the high place it should hold in all our teaching, was good. We hope Professor and Mrs. Machlan will come again.

Saturday night we played games in the assembly room, and closed with the usual Saturday evening march.

THE FRENCH HARVEST INGATHERING PAPERS

THE French Harvest Ingathering papers are now off the press, and our people should avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the French people in their community with this beautiful magazine. It will help in securing funds for missions and lead some to inquire into our work. On the inside back cover of the paper our French literature is advertised. The writer also has an article telling of the work being done in this country among the French.

Order at once; do not procrastinate. Let us all remember the foreigners in our midst as we go out with our papers to solicit funds for the missions abroad.

L. F. PASSEBOIS,
Secretary French Department,
Home Missions Bureau.

N. E. SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL

WITH our patients' list past the one hundred mark, the problem of arranging vacation periods for our large number of employees in such order as to cause the least interference with the service to our guests, becomes quite a problem.

Mr. Paul Baker, our head accountant, recently accompanied his mother to Missouri, where she received successful treatment for cure of cancer. While on the trip, Mr. Baker visited his sister in Western Nebraska, also former friends in Wyoming. He has now resumed work at his desk.

Two automobiles, loaded with all that goes to make up a complete camping outfit, drove away from the sanitarium on Wednesday, August 6. The occupants were Mr. S. E. McNeill, our business manager, and his family, Mr. W. R. Bobst, cashier in the business office, and his wife. They were headed for Washington, D. C., thence to New York, up the Hudson River, to the Adirondack Mountains, taking in Niagara Falls as the last lap of the trip, from which place they will return home. Their trip will take about two weeks. The sanitarium family wish them all much pleasure, and a safe return to the arduous duties of their respective offices.

Dr. Newton Dwight Hillis and wife, of Brooklyn, New York, are again guests of the sanitarium family. They were absent a few weeks, incident to the marriage of their daughter. Doctor Hillis occupied the pulpit of the Brooklyn Tabernacle for twenty-five years, succeeding Dr. Lyman Abbott. Although somewhat broken in health at present, he is a man of God, and the sanitarium family greatly enjoy having him with them.

Hon. Henry Bond and wife, of Brattleboro, Vermont, frequent guests of the sanitarium, are again with us for a brief stay. We are always glad to greet them as good friends of the institution.

Among recent arrivals at the sanitarium are Mrs. Addie M. Roberts, of Everett, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Louis Routt, of Austin, Texas, Miss J. B. Rice, Fitchburg, Mass., Mr. Joseph Brenner, Portland, Maine, Mrs. H. P. Frye, Springfield, Mass., Miss Ruth Tabachnick, Portland, Maine, Mrs. S. A. McCourt, Boston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Knight, Tampa, Florida, Mr. J. H. Belville, Brattleboro, Vermont, Mrs. J. A. Kroner, Wakefield, Mass., Miss H. M. Weston, Skowhegan, Maine, and Miss M. Zimmerman, Amherst, Mass.

One of the healthful exercises of some of our more robust guests, occasionally accompanied by the chaplain, is a before-breakfast hike of four and a half miles around Spot Pond.

All the surgical cases mentioned in my last report have made a splendid recovery, and several later cases are doing well.

An interesting entertainment was recently given in the guests' parlor by Mrs. Louis Routt, of Austin, Texas, who is a guest at the sanitarium. Mrs. Routt is a teacher of elocution.

One of the busiest persons on busy "sanitarium hill" is Mr. O. J. Osier, our energetic, up-to-date farmer. One must get up early in the morning not to be able to see him at work on the land. Frequently the rattle of farm machinery is the first sound heard in the early morning. But with all the pressure of farm-gardening work, he always manages to be present at the chapel worship hour at 7 o'clock.

Mr. J. L. Kennedy, a technician in the physiotherapy department, recently gave an interesting lecture in the guests' parlor, on the subject of "Life's Best Investment." By way of comparison and illustration it was shown that the investment of service for others yields the truest and best returns of any investment that one can make.
