GENERAL ARTICLES

CONFERENCE WORKERS AND THE HARVEST INGATHERING WORK

In this as in all lines of activity, it is expected of the leaders that they shall lead. Those who carry important responsibilities in all of our conferences and institutions are expected to lead out in every activity pertaining to the advancement of the cause. They are giving their entire time to the work. Their time belongs to the conference or institution from which they receive their wage allowance. It is perfectly natural that they should have an active part not only in doing just the amount of work that would be expected of a lay member of the church, but in promoting strongly, and to the best of their ability, the various lines of activity.

This is especially true with reference to our Harvest Ingathering work. I believe too that this is what is being done by our workers throughout the field. No one is excused. There is no reason why a president of a union conference, local conference, or college, or the head of any institution, should not take his part and lead out strongly; and all others associated with these leaders should be expected to give a strong lead in making our Harvest Ingathering successful in connection with all parts of our organized work. Not only should our workers in the different conferences and institutions participate in the work, but, in my judgment, they should be willing to take the leadership in bands and in churches in a way to help the entire membership have an active part in this work. To take the position that one is loaded with too many responsibilities to lead out in this work, is indefensible. I believe that we as leaders should take into account what it means for the lay members to go out and give time in this work. When they engage in the Harvest Ingathering work it is wholly a benevolent act. They give their time, and incur some other expenses often times, which is not the case with one employed in our conferences. We should recognize that their participation in this work involves a great sacrifice, and is more likely to be prompted by generous and commendable motives, than in the case of one who is working for a salary and whose time is paid for when he participates in this work.

I feel to strongly urge upon each worker in our field the maintaining of a position of leadership in this line of activity. When the campaign is on the ordinary work should be so managed as to make it possible for every worker, no matter what his responsibility may be, to have active part and to be a means of encouraging the entire membership of our churches to engage in this important endeavor.

LOOK AT YOUR CHILD'S TEETH!

In a farm magazine I found the following editorial which I pass on for the consideration of our parents: "A Parable for School Days"

"A certain father and mother prepared a bounteous meal for their children, but having set it before them, they first put a bandage over the mouths of the little ones, and tied their hands, and then commanded them to eat. But they could not, and so in the presence of plenty the children were starved.

"A parable of foolishness!

"And yet, many parents will this fall set a year's schooling before children whose eyesight is poor, whose ears are stopped up, whose teeth are giving pain and putting poison into their blood, whose bodies are weakened by throat infections, and expect them to fill themselves with learning.

"That is what they do when they send their boys and girls to school without first having them examined by a competent doctor and correcting such defects as may be found. Boys and girls cannot learn well when they are handicapped by physical weaknesses; they merely lose time and weaken their bodies still further.

"Common sense says, Give your children a physical examination before they start a new school year."

Such words as these appeal to our parents who believe in health reform and healthful living. We have made wonderful progress in the care of the health of our church school children.

We expect to have the first physical inspection of our schools early in the school year. We hope that parents will see that all defects reported by the Union nurse are remedied, and that no child is sent to school handicapped by diseased teeth or tonsils or other serious defects.

MARKED IDEAS

By direction of the general body of Seventh-day Adventists a system of auditing for the denomination has been introduced into the working plans for the advancement of God's cause. The prime motive of the system is to make available to all officers, who have to do with accounting in the churches, council and practical help from those who are experienced in this line of work.

In order that true help may be given, a detailed review of accounts is necessary. The higher the officer to be helped, the greater experience is required.

For the General and union conference treasurers' books, the General Conference has appointed a General Conference auditor with one or two assistants, and recommends that the Union Conference treasurer audit the books of the local conferences and institutions within the union territory. For the church treasurers' books the General Conference recommends that the local conference treasurer audit them. And to logically follow out the plan the church treasurer should review the accounts of the church departments—Sabbath school, Missionary Volunteer Society, and church missionary society—and give helpful council as to methods and use of funds.

When this system of accounting was introduced, the idea of some seemed to be that it was to catch the officer, who kept the records, in wrong practices or error. Consequently a feeling of resentment was manifested and remarks were made like this, "No one will ever look over my work," "If I cannot be trusted they can take the work and do it themselves." Now that this system has become somewhat established there has come in a desire on the part of those who have been working for a time in these lines to have a visit from the auditor to get his help. They want him to go into the details of their work and be able to certify to its correctness. They seem to appreciate the evidence he can give of their faithfulness in keeping the records and much prefer to have his certificate attached to their reports than to pass them out without his certificate.

The faithful treasurer seeks the assistance of his auditor and is happy in having his work reviewed. The honest treasurer, in fact, does not need protection, but he is glad to be protected and to have the evidence of his faithfulness conveyed to his constituency.

Naturally the treasurer or secretary who is conscious that his work is not correct prefers not to have his work reviewed, whereas if he is conscious that he has done his best he will seek assistance and wish to have his work reviewed by those of longer experience.

On these principles the Sabbath school secretary, the Missionary Volunteer secretary and the church missionary society secretary of each church will desire a review of his work and will seek certificates from the proper officer, or be associated with a higher officer in making his record of money handled.

WHY HAZARD ALL?

We do not say that Seventh-day Adventist boys and girls will not or can not develop strength of character while attending a non-Christian school.

We do not affirm that our youth will surely lose their faith in the doctrines of the third angel's message if they do not study in a Seventh-day Adventist school.

We do not even declare that our sons and daughter will fail to become gospel workers if they are not educated under teachers whose chief aim is to build character and develop such workers.

What we do say, is that you, parents, hazard all when you send your children away from your direct influence to a secular school; and that you, boys and girls, hazard all when you attend a non-Adventist school.

Our Reasons

The reasons why we are so positive about the hazard are these:

Ten to one the way a boy or girl looks at things is colored by the way his daily companions look at them.

Ten to one the incentives to a pupil's choice and action are the ones most held out by his teacher.

Ten to one the spirit that flavors a young life is a reflection of the atmosphere of school days.

Ten to one a youth who is not diligently taught of God in his tender years will not make the teachings of the Bible his rule of life.

Ten to one a young man or woman who has had no missionary training in his education will not be inclined to give his life to soul-winning service.

Why, Then?

Why, then, hazard all when so much is at stake?

Why hazard eternal life when there is a better way?

Why hazard the burying of God-given talent in the earth when putting it to the exchangers in gospel service will insure the laying up of treasure in heaven?

Why hazard all when you may hazard least, parents, by sending your children to a Christian school, and when you may hazard least, young men and women, by attending a Christian school—a Seventh-day Adventist Christian school?—"Christian Education Leaflet."

GREATER NEW YORK ACADEMY

For a number of years we have waited for the privilege we are about to enjoy—that of meeting in our own school building. Greater New York Academy will be such that all can be proud to enter its doors. All who attend will enjoy the large chapel and spacious class rooms. Many times we have felt the need of such rooms, and often we have wondered whether it would be for us or for future generations. But now we are about to enjoy that which we have looked forward to for so long.

We are thankful that God has made it possible for us to have such a building in so large a city. Our one desire and prayer is that God may manifest His approval of our school and be present with us in our chapel and class rooms, for class rooms without Christ are but darkened cells, and a chapel without God is as deserted Babylon.

There is no reason why our academy should not with more room and added facilities do work as good, if not better, than any academy in ex-

PORTUGUESE CAMPMEETING

Where? Fall River, Mass.

When? August 29 to Sept. 2, 1929

Again we come up to the time of the third Portuguese campmeeting of the So. New England Conference. Remembering the blessings of last year, when God impressed hundreds of Portuguese to come to our camp in New Bedford, and to continue to come to the main tent during the evenings of September and half of October, we look forward to this year's gathering with more than usual interest and anticipation.

Knowing that we are living in the time of the latter rain, this year should be marked by even greater blessings than last year, upon those who sincerely seek Him. This year we are entering a new city where there is no Portuguese S. D. A. church and will be located in the center of thousands of Portuguese Catholics, and on one of the main lines of travel. We feel this is as it should be, that our light should shine in the dark places, and certainly Fall River is a dark place that needs the light of God's last message among the thousands of Portuguese there.

The Gleaner family will be interested to know that as a result of the Portuguese campmeeting last year, many new souls were added to the New Bedford Portuguese church, and to the Taunton church as well. The New Bedford company were obliged to seek larger quarters, and now they have the use of a Nazarene church entirely for themselves, that is admirably adapted to their needs. The tithe being $2\frac{1}{2}$ times greater this year, is an indication of how the work in that city received an impetus from last year's campmeeting. Already the Portuguese churches are well on their way toward getting their goal in the Harvest Ingathering work, and at the present writing the Taunton church has but little more to receive to be over. Thousands of papers have been distributed among the Portuguese in Fall River. A splendid response has been made by the Portuguese members to the call to go out in this work and God has wonderfully blessed and shown His favor upon our efforts.

Careful and earnest study is being given to the plans for the young people and children at our Portuguese campmeeting, and we hope and anticipate that no parent will deprive their children of the privilege of getting the benefit of these special meetings during the entire five days. Sisters Kidder and Schnetzler will have the charge of this work. They have a splendid program outlined. Bro. Herman-son will be with us during the entire time. Elders Campbell, Slade, Barrett, Shultz, Kime, Osborne, and Lamont will be present to minister the words of life and duty for this supreme hour in which it is our privilege to live. Others among our ministering brethren will no doubt be present if they can so arrange their plans. Any of our English brethren and sisters who can come will be welcome to our meetings.

The presence and prayers of every Portuguese member will be necessary throughout the camp if we would have God's blessing on this campmeeting. Deep heart searching, putting away sin, consecration to His service, and loyal support during the five days will bring God's blessing; and the light will shine in the darkness of that city and a foothold will be gained in the stronghold of Catholicism. "Our Captain, who never makes a mistake, orders us to advance and annex new territory."

We solicit the continual prayers of the Gleaner family for our campmeeting.

WORKERS' MEETING AND HARVEST INGATHERING GOALS

August 12 and 13 the workers in our field gathered here at Rochester to consider ways and means of carrying the Harvest Ingathering campaign successfully. It should be satisfying to the members of the conference to know that you have leaders that are willing to lead in the Harvest Ingathering work.

Our conference goal is $13,500 and it is interesting to learn that the conference laboring force have gladly assumed the responsibility of raising $4000.00 of this goal. Seven of our working force set personal goals for themselves of $500.00 each. Brother, sister, this means work for ministers as well as for laymen. It is just as hard for the minister to solicit funds as for any other class and yet more than $1000.00 has already been raised by the workers in this field.

Quotas are being sent to each church so that if each church will raise the $12.00 per member our conference will be able to send on to the needy fields of earth $13,500. May we count on you to be a loyal supporter of this mission campaign?

Awards

We will look to Jesus for the final award and commendation for the activity we have been able to do for Him, but it is pleasant to know that our fellow men appreciate what we are doing to hasten the work of God. Our conference has voted to give each Harvest Ingathering worker who raises $12.00 or more in this campaign a beautiful silk bookmark. Ask your church elder and treasurer for a full explanation of the plan.

F. D. Wells.

OFF FOR VICTORY!

The 1929 Harvest Ingathering campaign is now well under way, and we are anticipating the largest Ingathering receipts for the month of August that have ever been turned missionward during August of any previous year. Every member should set his stakes for the largest record ever made. Thus 1929 shall go down in history as a banner year for every church, and the conference as well.

Ingathering funds reported by the church treasurers August 10 totaled $1693.05. We are sure that more Harvest Ingathering money is in the hands of the treasurers which has not yet been reported. Let us be prompt in reporting, church treasurers, for we cannot keep the members throughout our conference posted as to the progress of the campaign without your cooperation by way of sending in your H. I. report card at the close of each week.

Report from Workers

At the recent workers' meeting held in Rochester the workers set individual Harvest Ingathering goals ranging from $500.00 down to $100.00. We have a faithful band of workers in this conference, brethren and sisters. They are willing to do more than their share. How about you, dear reader? Are you willing to do more than your share?

Elder Dexter reports over $200.00 gathered from the Burlington business section. And he hasn't finished working it yet. Elder Capman has the backing of the Portland Chamber of Commerce in his work among the business men in Portland. He started his work in the business section of Portland last week and reports that the response is excellent. We understand that he gathered somewhere around $200.00 last week. Portland is over the half-way mark already. Every church in the districts of Elders Cardy and Hanson have reported something for the Ingathering. Elder Gram's district has a good start. Let's all get under the load and lift, brethren, that we may have a speedy Ingathering campaign this year. Why not have Northern New England the first conference over the top? Will you help do it?

Field Day at Rangeley

Recently we went with several members of the Wilton, Maine company up to Rangeley Lakes, bringing back about $50.00 for a few hours' work. There are thousands of dollars waiting to be gathered in for our mission work. All it needs is a consecrated heart and you to go after the money. Would you be a soul winner? Then get busy in the Ingathering work. The Lord will bless you not only with funds to carry on the work, but He will give you souls if you go after them.

Two Calls—$20.00

A few days ago, with the church elder of a local church, I went back to my old home village in the Ingathering work. We called upon the superintendent of the mill in Oxford, who treated us very kindly and pulled out three $5.00 bills as a donation, stating he would make it more next year. After this successful call, we went to the country store, and the storekeeper gave us $5.00. Several smaller donations followed. This experience made the church elder feel that he was glad he left his work of peeling pulp, which was rushing at the time, to work for the Lord. Don't neglect to call on your wealthy townspeople in the interest of the Ingathering. Some will gladly give if called upon. Give them a chance!

"Give this Gentleman Two Dollars"

On a field day recently I called on a business man, who, when I told him that we were gathering funds for missionary work, expressed himself as feeling that there ought to be some other way to get money for this line of work than soliciting. In reply I kindly asked him to offer a suggestion as to how he would advise us to go about such a proposition—that of raising $1,000,000 for missions. He stood in a thoughtful mood for a few seconds, then turned quickly to his secretary and said, "Give this gentleman $2.00."

Let us be courageous, dear people. "If the Lord be for us, who can be against us?"

V. C. Townsend,
Home Missionary Secretary.

ATTENTION! SOMETHING NEW! SILK BOOKMARK AWARDS

Yes, we have something real interesting in connection with the 1929 Harvest Ingathering campaign. The conference is awarding beautiful silk bookmarks to those who turn in at least their $12.00 quota. The bookmarks will be given according to the following scale:—

Adults

Cerise	$12.00
Green	25.00
Blue	50.00
Silver	75.00
Gold	100.00

Missionary Volunteers

Cerise (Senior)	12.00
Orange (Junior)	6.00

The bookmarks will be ready for distribution by September 1. Several have already merited the $50.00, $75.00 and $100.00 awards. Really, they are very pretty. Don't miss getting one. As soon as you turn over to your church treasurer Harvest Ingathering funds to merit the bookmark awards, they will be sent to you. How many bookmarks will you get?

V. C. Townsend.

MISSIONARY VOLUNTEERS AND THE HARVEST INGATHERING

Of course we all know that it is time for our annual Ingathering campaign again. This is the season when our loyal Seventh-day Adventist young people go out to raise funds to send the story of Jesus into all the world. And let us remember that every time we hand out a Harvest Ingathering paper we are telling some one of the work of God, and how it is extending to the ends of the earth.

This year our Missionary Volunteer goal for Northern New England in the Harvest Ingathering is one thousand dollars. And we feel that we must reach this amount,—must make every effort to reach it, for if we do our best, we shall reach it. Will you do your part?

We are going to have special awards for our young people. Our Junior M. V. individual goal is six dollars, and to all our Juniors who reach this sum we are going to give a special silk ribbon bookmark. Our Senior M. V. individual goal is twelve dollars. To all our Missionary Volunteers who reach the twelve-dollar goal we are going to give a special silk ribbon bookmark, of a different color than the first, and different design. These bookmarks have stamped on them a few lines telling about the Harvest Ingathering campaign in our conference. You will want to have one, will you not? Keep it in your Bible, and it will remind you of your share in the work of God in 1929.

All together, then, young people, for our Harvest Ingathering goal!

NEWS NOTES

Thirty-two applications for admission to the new class beginning in September have already been accepted. Those who are considering making application this year should do so at once, as only a few more can be accepted into this class.

From examination of the applications received and noting the unusual qualifications and experience of the applicants, we expect to have a very fine freshman class.

Miss Jemma Joy entered upon her work as superintendent of nurses this week. Mrs. C. L. Blandford is assistant to Miss Joy, and is also medical matron.

Elder C. O. Perkins, formerly assistant to the chaplain, was recently called to take charge of the Lynn district. He has severed his connection with the Sanitarium.

Elder A. T. Robinson, who spent nine years as chaplain of the Sanitarium has retired, but will still retain his place on the Sanitarium board as chaplain emeritus. Elder and Mrs. Robinson are spending the summer at Washington, N. H.

Elder C. L. Blandford, who was for more than ten years connected with the work in China, has taken over the work laid down by Elder Robinson.

Last Sabbath the Sanitarium church had the pleasure of hearing Elder T. M. French, who spent so many years in Africa. Elder French has promised us several illustrated lectures later in the year.

Plans for graduation are as follows: Class night, September 5; Baccalaureate, September 7; Graduation, September 9, to be held in Memorial Hall, Melrose; Alumni meeting, September 11. On the latter occasion the graduating class joins the alumni association.

Dr. and Mrs. Fisher are now on their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Matson left by auto for Nova Scotia. They are also on a vacation. They took Miss Blakney as far as St. John, N. B.

Mr. James Girard, of the engine room staff, expects to take his family to Canada for a vacation. They will drive through to Moncton, N. B.

Brother and Sister Webster are vacationing in New York State.

Recent arrivals are Wyonona Joy, John Skantz, and Fred Havens. They are welcome additions to our already large family.

Because of the increased number of children to attend our church school this year we are forced to build a new schoolhouse. Building will begin as soon as sufficient funds are in hand. We expect to dedicate the building free from debt. We expect to have twenty-one pupils in grades one to six. Miss Esther Feltus will continue as teacher. Miss Helen Guthrie will teach music and drawing.

The roof is now going on the new apartment house being erected here. There is a great demand for apartments. Some of our doctors have waited a long time for suitable accommodation.

We have discontinued departmental worship, and now all the family who are not on duty meet in the chapel every morning at seven o'clock. We are glad to get back together again. It is an inspiration to see the chapel so nearly full each morning.

Elder O. D. Cardey spent Wednesday night at the Sanitarium. He gave us an inspiring talk in chapel on Thursday morning.

Elder Slade talked to the family in Chapel on Friday morning. We hope to have Elder Slade with us more often now that the family meets together each morning.

Our Friday evening meeting was well attended. Elder H. D. Greene, of the Boston No. 2 church, was the speaker.

Last week the usual Thursday evening entertainment was a musical program rendered by entertainers from Boston. Mr. Rolland Partidge, who teaches sociology at the University of New Hampshire, was the soloist. His singing was a treat. Miss Sirarpe Kondayau, violinist, was also exceptional. On Thursday evening, the 15th, Miss Violet Morgan, who is taking some work at Emerson College, Boston, entertained us in her own inimitable style. We also heard Miss Jean McLellan, soloist. Chaplain.

WORDS

Opinions formed on personal appearance are frequently changed when you begin to speak. People cannot see what is inside your skull. The only way they can find out what is inside is through your conversation.

Before there were words there was no mutual understanding between living creatures.

Animals cannot cooperate to any considerable extent because they do not know each other.

In all animal life distrust is predominant.

It is by words that you impress people, favorably or unfavorably.

It is by words that you convince them that they had best have nothing to do with you.

An uneducated employer is almost as quick to estimate conversation as an educated one.

He may himself double his negatives and say "I seen" and "I done" but if you do the same thing he will notice it, and put you down as one of the undesirables.

Inasmuch as it is "by your words that ye shall be known," it is a good plan to learn to use them well.

OBITUARY NOTICES

TAYLOR.—Elizabeth H. Scholley was born Nov. 10, 1861 and died August 3, 1929, aged sixty-seven years, eight months and twenty-four days. The immediate cause of death was heart block.

Her marriage to Watson F. Taylor was blessed by the presence of one daughter, Katherine T. Niles, of Kingston, Mass., at whose home death occurred and from whose residence the funeral was conducted, attended by the daughter, three brothers and one sister, beside a large number of friends and members of the Temple church of which she had been a faithful member for more than eleven years, having with her daughter, Mrs. Niles, accepted present truth under the labors of Elder E. L. Cardey in Boston.

We laid her to rest in beautiful Evergreen Cemetery, Kingston, on the afternoon of August 6, to await the call of the Archangel on the morning of the first resurrection. J. E. Shultz.

NOON.—James Noon was born in Loughborough, England, July 2, 1851, and died at the home of his son, George Noon, in Boston, August 1, 1929, aged 78 years and 30 days.

For the past two years the deceased had been practically helpless, dependent upon the loving ministry of his son, George, who is a devoted member of the Temple church. SABBATH, AUGUST 24, A DAY OF FASTING AND PRAYER

No doubt the notification concerning this important occasion has reached the eyes of all of our people. I wish only to add briefly an urgent request that this occasion be recognized throughout our field. At the Spring Council, as we were permitted to study the needs of this cause, the times in which we live, and the conditions that make this indeed a perilous time to every believer, it was felt that one day should be set apart to be devoted to earnestly seeking the Lord for His blessing and guidance at this time, and for the outpouring of the promised latter rain. It would be well for all to make a careful study not only of our personal needs, but of the requirements for the fulness of God's blessings that we may finish the work and be prepared individually for the soon coming of our Saviour.

E. K. Slade.

NEWS NOTES

Wednesday and Thursday were busy days for our summer school students as they finished up their school work by taking the final examinations. It is with a feeling of having accomplished something that these young people look back over the summer.

Mrs. Mabel Trout has gone to Orlando, Florida, where she is taking a little vacation with her parents before the beginning of the winter school session.

Professor J. Henry Tiney, Jr., has just returned from a two weeks' vacation which he spent in Vermont.

Three of our professors, C. D. Utt, H. T. Curtis, and I. A. Armstrong, drove to Portland, Maine, Friday to attend the general meeting which was held there Sabbath.

Our president and Elder T. M. French spent Sabbath with the Temple church in New York City. They were present at the regular church services in the morning and also at the educational rally which was held in the afternoon.

Mrs. S. E. Green of California, mother of Mrs. T. M. French, is visiting Elder and Mrs. French. We hope she is enjoying her stay in our little village.

Mrs. Erlon Thurlow has recently been added to our staff of workers, and is already at work in the business office. Mr. Thurlow is planning to go on with his education this fall.

We are still busy sending out catalogs and answering letters of prospective students, but not too busy to answer yours, so feel free to write in for any information you may desire.
