GENERAL ARTICLES

GOD'S READINESS TO USE EVERY SOUL

The Lord is waiting for human agencies by which to carry forward His work in the world. He will not depart from this plan. It is not His plan to have a certain few selected from the churches to take an active part in giving the message of salvation to this world, with all others excused, for His plan provides that every Christian shall become an active agency for carrying on the work of the gospel in the world. It is not only His means of giving the message to others, but the arrangement is designed as a means of carrying out His plan in bringing it very much into our lives. We cannot hope to make progress in the Christian life while selfishly declining to participate in the work that He assigns to us.

Selfishness must be overcome. Until self is set aside there is no place for Christ in our lives; and without His presence, wisdom, power, and love in our lives we can accomplish nothing. Nor can we hope for the working out of His purpose in our lives in preparing us for the society of angels. This brief sentence from "Testimonies" volume V, page 539, is significant: "He is given an inferior place, while self swells into importance, and fills the whole temple of the soul. This is the reason why the Lord can do so little for us."

The Lord's working for us is contingent upon His having His rightful place. We are His temples and unless He is permitted to dwell in us and be supreme in our lives, His purpose cannot be accomplished for us. How important it is that we learn to surrender our wills to Him and lay self aside. He is waiting to work mightily in and through those who will do this. Our every day's experience should be one of unselfish endeavor for the good of others and for the advancing of God's work in the earth. Heaven is keeping an account of our daily experiences. "Every act of love, every word of kindness, every prayer in behalf of the suffering and oppressed, is reported before the eternal throne, and placed on Heaven's imperishable record." Volume V, page 133.

How important it is that we make certain that our Christian experience is more than a mere form without this complete surrender! How dangerous it is for us to pass along with an indefinite hope to enjoy the fulness of His presence! We must be whole-hearted in the service of God with our daily lives fully surrendered to Him.

NORTHERN VERMONT

I find myself this morning enjoying the hospitality of a family of believers in northern Vermont. It is a great privilege to visit in the homes of our people and sit with them around their fireplace as one great family, our hearts all knit together with a common purpose—to hasten the finishing of the work and the coming of Jesus.

All week long, Elder Dexter, the district superintendent, Elder and Sister Townsend and I, with our faithful members, have been visiting the towns in this section of the field Ingathering. The Lord has blessed us richly, and this morning we have in sight the goal at Enosburg Falls and Richford. Just a few more dollars and both churches will be over the top.

Sabbath morning, August 17, we met with the Bordoville church. It was an inspiration to meet Brother and Sister Cross who have been in this truth seventy years. Eight others of those present stood in response to the question as to how many had been members of the church for over half a century. To those of us who are younger in the faith, it was a real source of encouragement and inspiration to meet those who have stood faithful through the years and have seen the development of this movement from the time we sent our first missionary until the work is nearing completion. In the afternoon we met with the Richford church.

Sabbath we are to be present at the general meeting at Cadys Falls. When this article reaches you this meeting will be over and I shall find myself preparing for a trip with Brother Bohner in New York. With every worker leading out strongly in his district throughout our Union, and our people responding to the call of this hour, the success of our campaign will be assured.

WAYS TO WIN

Every boy likes to win out in what he undertakes, and so does every girl. It is born in the blood of every normal young person to want something more than he has, to be something more than he is, and to do something more than he is doing. This is a heaven-born instinct, and if given proper direction will bear fruit in the life to the honor of its possessor and to the honor of his Creator.

One burning desire in the heart of every normal boy and girl is to obtain a good education. Never in the world's history have the external circumstances combined to emphasize this desire to magnify the need of special training as they do at the present time. No young man or woman who does not stir himself to do his very best, may hope to realize many of the laudable aims in these times of great opportunity.

There is no greater opportunity in the world than that of having some responsible part in the great advent movement that is to finish the last work this world will ever see done. Positions of worldly honor and gain pale into insignificance in comparison with becoming a co-worker with Christ and a joint heir in the great reward of eternal life just before us. The things of time are not a drop in the bucket compared with the things of eternity.

But How?

"How am I to get the education I long for?" is the question many young people are asking themselves and their neighbors. There are so many ways that it is impossible to mention all of them, but a few of the principal ones are suggested here. The youth who is really ambitious for an education will put it this way:

1. I will settle it that I am going to school, whether I see any present way of getting there or not.
2. If I can not find a way, I will set about at once to make one.
3. I will be in dead earnest and perfectly honest in whatever way I find or make to get to school, and to get through school.
4. If I don't see just now the way I prefer, I will take advantage of the way that lies next to me.
5. I will dedicate myself and my plans to God, and keep both constantly before Him.

What Are Some Of These Ways?

1. I will canvass if I can learn how—and I know I can learn how, because hundreds of other boys and girls have done so. This seems to me the best way, because I am both helping to win other souls to God, and I am winning my own way through school.
2. Until I have opportunity to learn how to canvass, I will work faithfully by the day, or the hour, or the piece, at the first and most paying thing I can find—and I can find something, because every boy and girl has who went about it in earnest.
3. During my spare hours evenings and rainy days, I will study shorthand with all my might, with a teacher if I can find one, but otherwise alone, and I will try hard to get access to the use of a typewriter. I think these will help me to win my way along. I have heard that several of our denominational leaders today got their education through stenographic work.

4. The first chance I get, I will learn to keep books. My mother tells me of a neighbor's son who took a course in bookkeeping the first year he went away from home to school, and supported himself in school the next two years by helping to keep the college books.

5. I think I will finish that nurses' course I started last winter. I heard one of our educators say not long ago that every one of our forty boarding schools ought to have a physician or a nurse on the school staff, to look after the health of the students and the community, and to teach the students first aid and simple treatments. This is both a paying and a gospel occupation. Besides that, I understand it is one of the best occupations for service in the mission field when one is through school.

6. I will arm myself with a lawn mower, a sharp sickle, and a rake, and do lawns at 25 cents to one dollar apiece in the autumn and the spring. For the winter I will arm myself with a snow shovel, and keep up my wholesome outdoor exercise while earning my way as I go.

7. I will learn how to fire a furnace economically, so as to deliver a uniform heat, and make a contract to serve a certain number of houses through the cold weather. This will give me spare time to study in a warm place between firings, and will keep my courage aglow by meeting my bills as they come due.

8. My mother says that I can cook many dishes as well as she can. During my spare hours I will study up on the latest principles of good cookery, and I see no reason why I should not assist in this delicate and wholesome art at the academy. I heard a W. C. T. U. leader say the other day that one of the highest accomplishments of the true woman is to be a first-class cook; that there is more real education in it than in the study of algebra and the piano.

9. It seems to me that Dorcas, the garment maker, must have been one of the most honorable women of New Testament times. She had the love and esteem of her neighbors, and Peter was moved to restore her to life that she might continue to accomplish her deeds of love. Why may I not develop the skill with a needle that I have often been told I possess, and turn this to good account on my education?

10. Printing is one of the greatest and most useful of modern arts. It is one of the chief ways of giving the gospel to the world. It educates both the hand and the mind; and while giving a practical experience that will be of great value in the mission field, it will help save my purse from the aching void.

In short, there are so many Ways To Win that I shall not delay another day in setting out for my goal—the very best education I can get in a Christian school.—Educational Leaflet.

It is a real pleasure to submit our final 1929 Big Week report by churches and districts. This last effort on behalf of our Missions Extension Fund has proved the best of all showing a gain of over $600 over last year and giving us an average of about $3 per member for the entire conference.

Surely the Lord has greatly blessed us again and as the figures tell their own story of achievement I need only express my sincere thanks to each and every one once more, and especially to those churches which have done so exceedingly well as to again place us in the leading position among the conferences.

The churches which may have regrets that they did not do better in Big Week have an opportunity to do their best in our present Harvest Ingathering campaign. Already cheering reports are beginning to flow in from various parts of the field and especially the Utica district which is taking the lead in our district report to August 17.

May the Harvest Ingathering reports received each week from each church reflect of devotion, and loyalty to the Master our time demands. Do give Him first place in your heart and in your service in this important time, and do not rest satisfied until you have reached your goal.

F. Bohner.

UNION SPRINGS ACADEMY

This is the last call to enter Union Springs Academy on the opening day. Before another issue of the Gleaner reaches you, school will have begun. Registration begins September 2, and the first chapel program will be at ten o'clock Tuesday morning, September 3.

Many eager young people will be here. Old friendships will be renewed; new acquaintances will be made. The school year means happy associations with Christian students and teachers. There will be many opportunities to strengthen character and prepare for the heavy responsibilities that God will place upon young people.

It means sacrifice for parents to send their children away to school, but how glad they are when the young people take their places in the work and help to hasten the coming of our Lord. No sacrifice is too great.

We do not know how much longer we shall have the privilege of conducting our schools as we now do. Already in some parts of the world the enemy is bringing about very distressing conditions. Many will be denied the privileges that are ours. While there is yet opportunity, every young person should do all in his power to attend one of our schools.

There is an opening here to earn board and room for a young man who can drive a truck. The principal would be glad to correspond with any one interested.

Remember the opening day and send in your application at once. Do not hesitate to write if there are apparent obstacles in the way. Perhaps your problems can be solved.

GREATER NEW YORK ACADEMY

Because our people manifest a renewed interest and enthusiasm for the advancement of our schools;

Because everywhere we find on the part of the young people a desire for a higher education for the service of God;

Because our school now has a home which promises to be permanent, which is a long step in the direction of ideal conditions for a school;

Because all through the changes and events of the past our students have shown a commendable spirit of adjustability;

Because in the student body to come, as in the student body that was, we find a remarkable feeling of loyalty, of intense interest in the progress of the school, and of school aggressiveness;

Because our work for the coming year promises extra features in art and glee club work—icing on the educational cake—that appeal to many; and

Because we, as teachers, are privileged to help in the saving of our young people—

We are very thankful to the Lord for his goodness to us and wish to share these blessings with all who care to come and work with us. In the words of Philip to Nathanael we say to you, "Come and see."

GREATER NEW YORK ACADEMY ATTENTION! STUDENTS! PICNIC!

A cordial invitation is extended to the young people interested in G. N. Y. A. to meet at Interstate Park, Sunday, September first. Come prepared to spend the day in a pleasant social outing, bring your friends. Meet at the Dyckman Street Ferry 10:30 a. m.

Don't miss this good time—former students especially welcome. Come and hear about your new school building. Many pleasant surprises to make your school year a pleasant one. Our chapel will seat 150. Bring a friend to G. N. Y. A. and help us fill it.

Watch next week's Gleaner for further announcements.

PRAY FOR CHRISTIAN BOLDNESS

Are you timid in your Harvest Ingathering work? If so, pray for Christian boldness. You may be the only Seventh-day Adventist living in your community and therefore you may not have a church organization in your town, but please keep in mind, brother, sister, that you are in direct connection with the most perfect organization in this world and in touch with the greatest power station. An earnest prayer from a sincere heart will give you the power needful to do all that is required of you in God's service.

For Your Encouragement

A glance at my solicitors card will reveal the following offerings:

Our Plumber	$10.00
Our Garage Man	10.00
Our Dentist	10.00
Our Coal Man	5.00
Two Clothiers, each	5.00
Two Bankers, each	5.00
Our Gas Station	5.00

Chinese Restaurant	5.00
Our Postmaster	5.00
Our Furniture Dealer	5.00
Our Shoe Man	5.00
Our Landlord	5.00
Three Doctors, each	5.00
Woolworth's	5.00
Newberry's	5.00

This is only a partial list of the donors on my list. It takes Christian boldness to urge men and women to put their means into something that is so unpopular as foreign missions these day, but we are called to be witnesses for God and with His help and the influence of the Holy Spirit we can accomplish something for the Lord.

The object of giving you a glance at the above list is to encourage you to make a like list in your home town where you are known the best. The next four weeks is the most profitable time to do Harvest Ingathering work. Splendid reports are coming in from nearly every church in our conference and our ministers and workers are hard at it all around the field.

F. D. Wells.

FROM THE FIRING LINE

A sister at Richford, Vermont, in order to participate in the Ingathering left her washing and took her bread sponge to the neighbors to have it baked. For three days straight she did her housework late in the evening and put in full time Ingathering.—The spirit that wins!

We have had an excellent week in northern Vermont. The Bordo-ville and Richford churches are within a few dollars of going over the top. One day $99.00 was gathered in, and another day the total reached was $87.00. Nearly $100.00 was solicited by some of the sisters at the Franklin County Fair.

One sister at Rochester, N. H., started to can some pears one day last week. She left them on the stove stewing, took some Ingathering papers and went down town. In three-quarters of an hour she was back home with $20.50, and then finished canning her pears. Dear reader, are you too busy to work for the Lord? What if the case should be reversed and the Lord should say He is too busy to bother with redeeming your poor sin-sick soul? Think it over!

Rochester had a big night for the Ingathering last Saturday evening. Solicitors were stationed in Portsmouth, Dover, Rochester, Sanford and Springvale, which resulted in nearly $100.00 for the evening's work.

Last Sunday was excursion day to Old Orchard. The members of the Portland church took advantage of the thousands of people who flocked there for the day and report that they gathered $100.00 for the Ingathering.

In a recent field day, one sister worked hard in the residential section of a town until 5 o'clock, receiving only $2.70. She felt just a little discouraged when starting home. However, it was decided by the group to call on a few farm homes on the way home. The first call this sister made she received a folded bill. When she returned to the car and unfolded the bill, what was her joyful surprise to find that what she thought was a dollar bill was $5.00. In just a short time her Ingathering day had reached within 20 cents of the $12.00 goal. Stick-to-it-ive-ness spells Success!

Don't neglect to secure the name and address of every donor who contributes $5.00 or more to the Ingathering. The General Conference desires a list of all such contributors to whom they will send a special missions quarterly next year.

The Ingathering work is forward, brethren and sisters. Are you with it? Help your church to reach their goal now!

GENERAL MEETING AT GARDINER

There is to be a Missionary Volunteer and Educational meeting in the Gardiner church on the Sabbath of August 31. To this meeting we are inviting the members of our Gardiner and Richmond churches, and any other brethren who may live within motoring distance. Sabbath school will be at 10:00 o'clock A. M., and will be followed by a preaching service. There will also be a couple of good services in the afternoon. Come early, and bring your lunch. This general meeting is one of a series which we have held in our conference this summer. Everyone that we have had thus far, has been helpful spiritually. Come prepared to stay all day.

BOOK AND BIBLE HOUSE NOTES

One young lady writes: "I am inclosing 25¢ for which send me the two little books 'Pope King' and 'Marked Bible.' . . . One lady has accepted the truth through the 'Marked Bible' and the Signs which I have sent her, and a man and his wife are convinced of the truth through these two books which I gave them. A Catholic man asked me to get these two small books for him, which he saw advertised in the Signs he was reading."

Here they are—56 objections to the teachings of Seventh-day Adventists, that will be answered through the weekly Signs—one each week—beginning June 4—by Elder F. D. Nichols—you may have missed a few, but re-order now.

The little book "Bear Tales"—given with the Little Friend is entirely sold out. We can supply "Prayer Stories" if you like.

Books soon to arrive, not ready yet: "Choma"—A story of African life—by Ella M. Robinson. "Master Men:" Inspirational book—by R. B. Thurber. "Bible Story Primer:" by Ella King Sanders. "Story Hour—Book No. 2."

Any one having clean copies of Present Truth—Life and Health—Watchman—Liberty—Signs, or Home and School, will do a good line of missionary work if they will send them to Brother J. F. Wilkinson, Chestnut St., Gardner, Mass. Brother Wilkinson, has several beautiful reading racks that he keeps filled with our good literature.

You who read current events, know that the men with the Byrd South Pole company, have recently seen the light of the sun for the first time since last fall. Brother David Moore says: "I sold a 'Great Controversy' to the family of one of the men (aviator) now in the South Pole expedition." Let's pray that this family may have the light of the truth while the other member is joyful over the return of the sun, and that the whole family may be united in the light of the truth.

Notice the record for "Great Controversy" sales for one week, in a country described as follows: "The dry weather still continues. The farmers here are discouraged, because there will be no apples and very little of anything else."

N. E. SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL

NOTES

With all the faculty out to the Chapel exercises each morning, we have outgrown our rostrum. We shall probably enlarge it. We also anticipate having to place more seats in the Chapel after the new class enters in September.

Elder J. E. Shultz, of Boston, spoke in Chapel on Sunday morning. We hope to have Elder Shultz come often.

The Sanitarium chaplain is assisting Elder Shultz with his open air meetings on Boston Common each Sunday afternoon from three to six P. M.

The Sanitarium church is now beginning its Harvest Ingathering campaign. This church has some disadvantage in this work because nearly every member is kept busy every day at the Sanitarium and it is hard for them to get away. We have an advantage that perhaps offsets this in that we deal with many business firms whom we can solicit each year. Our patients express appreciation by giving good donations, too.

This year the workers in every department of the Sanitarium are a new booklet by A. L. Baker, one of the editors of the "Signs of the Times,"

"The Pope King Again"

NOT ONLY TELLS of the recent agreement between Italy and the Vatican, but also takes up in a thorough way the position of the papacy on the union of church and state, the treatment of "heretics," the freedom of conscience, the equality of religions before the law, the control of marriage and popular education, the right to dictate to the state in political matters, etc.

The Prophecies of Daniel, Paul, and John concerning Roman Catholicism with their definite fulfillment are given in this booklet, as well as a strong appeal to the Protestant world to reject the papal Sabbath and to observe the true Sabbath of God.

The booklet is written in a kind tone, and is filled with verified and authoritative quotations on the various positions of the papacy, most of the proofs being taken from accredited Catholic sources, with full references.

Junior Missionary Volunteer Handbook

Here is a book that every boy and girl will be anxious to secure, for it is their book, especially prepared to help them to become active, intelligent workers in the Missionary Volunteer army. It is dedicated to "the Christian boys and girls of all lands, whose aim is, 'The advent message to all the world in this generation.' " It is interesting to see the loyalty of the boys and girls who have entered heartily into the special plans for the M. V. Juniors, and as a result we see them wearing the Friend, Comrade, and Companion badges, and a few have attained to the Master Comrade degree of excellence.

The book gives the Junior Law and the Junior Pledge, the plan of organization, and the qualifications that will enable the young person to meet the requirements of the different standards. The book is very practical; it teaches the Junior to be active, useful, and helpful in the home and outside. And above all it makes him resourceful and dependable in emergencies. Let your boy and girl read this little handbook, let it stir their imagination and their desire to reach the standards set forth in this manual, and you will be greatly surprised and delighted at the results.

128 pages, illustrated, with appropriate paper cover. Price, 35 cents.

NEW ENGLAND SANITARIUM

talking courage. The house is full to capacity a large part of the time, and each department keeps busy.

In spite of such a dry season the farm is having its banner year. There is an excellent apple crop.

The Dispensary at Somerville is also prospering. Our Sanitarium doctors are putting in a good deal of time there. The income so far this year is larger than for the entire year of 1928. Dr. Brown saw sixty-one patients at the Dispensary on Wednesday afternoon.

Among our prominent guests are Judge Richard Campbell, of New York, and Mrs. Howland, who is the wife of the oldest practicing physician in New England.

Mr. and Mrs. William Munn visited the Sanitarium on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Munn are from our Sanitarium in Orlando, Florida.

Mrs. Teresa David, sister of Elder D. J. C. Barrett, is spending a few days at the Sanitarium.

Mrs. A. T. Robinson came down from Washington, N. H., this week. Mrs. Robinson is a patient at the Sanitarium.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Amos Giberson early Thursday morning.

Miss Helen Spicer, laboratory technician at the Washington Sanitarium, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, of our staff, for a few days.

Miss Doris Thompson, class of 1928, who has been office nurse for one of the medical staff, is leaving for Washington to enter the Washington College. Miss Thompson plans to study for a B. S. degree.

This is vacation season and Mr. and Mrs. Place, Dr. Otis, Mr. and Mrs. Strand, Mr. and Mrs. Deininger and Mr. Bennett are away. Mr. Griffis is taking his family away for a few days also. Mr. and Mrs. Baker and Mr. Sanderson recently returned from their vacations in New Hampshire.

Two thousand tons of coal are piled in the rear of the engine room. We are prepared for next winter with its cold winds off the lake.

Last Friday our guests and helpers crowded to the roof to watch the air ship Los Angeles pass over toward Boston and New Hampshire. The great ship returned about dinner time and came quite close so that an excellent view was had from the Sanitarium grounds.

Some new aerial views of the Sanitarium grounds and surrounding country have recently been taken. They will be used for advertising purposes.

Elder Kime, of Providence, brought his daughter to the Sanitarium last week for a slight operation.

On Thursday evening the Clintonian Trio entertained with songs and music.

The weekly staff lectures were given by Dr. Ruble, medical superintendent, who had a question box lecture, and Mr. Cornforth, who gave an illustrated lecture on "The Staff of Life."

Friday evening the Y. P. M. V. society held its regular meeting. The program was in charge of the Senior Class.

Chaplain.

ATLANTIC UNION COLLEGE

THE COMING SCHOOL YEAR

With the approach of September comes the vivid picture of our youth throughout the Atlantic Union Conference making preparation for the new school year. Our church schools, our academies, and the College are making preparations to give a hearty welcome to our children and youth and young men and women who will be seeking a Christian education.

The hearty response of our young people to the call to prepare for Christian service, and the willing sacrifice made by parents to accomplish this end are most encouraging. They give evidence of the "latter rain" promised to the church of this generation which "shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers."

During its past history New England has heartily fostered all worthy educational endeavor in behalf of its youth. Its first college was founded with the one purpose of providing opportunity for training men to fill positions of leadership in the early colonies. Atlantic Union College has for its great objective the training of both young men and women for leadership in the second advent movement of this generation. From its halls scores have gone forth into many lines of service and into many lands. We want this work to continue and to grow.

Each year earnest effort is being made by the Board and the Faculty to strengthen the work of the College in order that it may fulfil in greater measure its purpose. During the present summer active work has been going on to improve the physical plant; such as painting and repairing buildings, beautifying grounds, and further equipping of departments. Plans have been laid for strengthening the scholastic work of the academic and collegiate departments respectively, thus enabling each to accomplish its appointed purpose more fully.

The College offers four-year courses leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Theology and Bachelor of Religious Education respectively. The two-year college courses are as follows: Normal Training, Ministerial Training, Bible Workers', Pre-medical, Literary, Commercial, Secretarial, Business Administrative, and Home Economics. A one-year Gospel Workers' course is offered for those desiring a short, special preparation. Courses in Pianoforte and Voice are also offered for those interested in the special field of music.

Furthermore, the institution offers the academic (high school) course for the young people of the Southern New England Conference, thus serving also as the academy for this portion of the field.

Students planning to enter this fall are urged to be present at the opening session to be held in the College Chapel at 8:00 p. m., September 10.

We ask the parents and workers in the entire Union to faithfully remember in prayer both students and instructors in order that God's purpose in the establishment of this institution may be fulfilled.

O. M. John.
