"REVIEW AND HERALD"

Why Every Seventh-day Adventist Family Should Subscribe for Our Church Paper

By J. K. JONES

WE have been told in the Spirit of prophecy that in the days just before Jesus comes everything that can be shaken will be shaken, and that every wind of doctrine will be blowing. Truly, we are entering these very days. Many who hold their membership in outside religious organizations are so confused that they are giving up their hope of everlasting life because they do not know what is truth.

Seventh-day Adventists will soon be brought into a time of persecution, when they must defend their faith. We shall need something more than the mere knowledge that years ago we heard this message preached in some hall or tent. We must study this truth for ourselves. We have the Bible, the writings of the Spirit of prophecy, and our good church paper, the Review and Herald.

The Review always rings true. It is the first to point out error and apostasy, and it never steers us in a wrong direction. No unbalanced message by extremists will ever be endorsed by our good church paper. It favors none, but deals firmly with those who would unsettle us in our faith. When we read the Review we can rest assured it will uphold every point of this truth. It gives us each week up-to-the-minute sermons from our leading brethren, while at the same time giving full and thrilling reports of the progress of the work in the foreign fields. It records the plans worked out in the General Conference Councils, so our people can be well informed every step of the way.

Wars will soon come to this world; persecution will confront us; here and there apostasy will creep in; God's people will have to face spiritualism in the near future. You and I need a helper to point out the way. We have this in our good church paper, the Review and Herald.

We have an excellent staff of brethren serving as editors. They will lead us in the right way. The Review will be needed in the days to come more than at any other time. Many among us pay two and three cents a day for a worldly newspaper. In the course of a year this amounts to as high as from five to ten dollars, and after we have purchased it, what do we have?—A little bit of news and a lot of undesirable matter we can well afford to go without.

The Review should be in every English-speaking Seventh-day Adventist home in the Atlantic Union. Where there is a will, there is a way. If it means that you can only subscribe for one paper, surely that one should be the Review and Herald. Better by far go without the newspaper and take our good church paper.

If you subscribe between the dates of May 18 and June 1, you can have the Review for a whole year for the small sum of $2. Some may say, How can I afford to take it? The thing we ought to say is, How can I as a Seventh-day Adventist in these days of peril go without this messenger of the Lord? To have it in your home will not only comfort your own heart and keep you true to the faith, but it may be the means of saving your loved ones in the home who are now out of the ark of safety. Review readers stay in the message.

Think it over, dear reader, and send in your subscription for the Review and Herald between the dates mentioned—May 18 and June 1—and secure the special low price of $2 for a whole year's subscription.

SAVING OUR CHILDREN

WHERE IS YOUR CHILD?

(Concluded)

THEN, aside from the subject matter of the readers, is the question of associates, both pupils and teachers, in the public schools. Our boys and girls mingle on the playground and when going to and from school, with all sorts. Many children come from depraved families, with no moral standards, and our children often learn from them much of vice, profanity, and corruption. Again, some teachers are irreligious or careless about proprieties or even scornful of Bible standards of right and wrong. How can a child sit for five hours a day, five days a week, under the teacher who finds pleasure in card playing, dancing, theater going or cigarette smoking, without being definitely molded in the wrong direction?

"Work as if you were working for your life to save the children from being drowned in the polluting, corrupting influences of the world," is the counsel of the Lord when urging the importance of establishing church schools even where "there are no more than six children to attend."—Testimonies, Vol. VI, pp. 198, 199.

So tragic as to be almost too painful to mention are statistics which reveal that from 75 to 90 per cent of the children of Seventh-day Adventist parents who have attended public schools, are now outside the church, while about the same percentage of those who have attended our Christian schools are now in the faith.

When parents wake up and realize that unless they place their children in Christian schools the odds are overwhelmingly against their salvation, they will be ready to sell out and move, to change their location or their business, or do almost anything otherwise impossible. Many have done such things to get children into our schools, and notwithstanding the difficulties entailed are now praising God that their children are in the truth. May God help us all to work as if working for life, to save our children.

CLAUDE E. ELDRIDGE.

OUR DENOMINATIONAL ORGAN

It matters not whether isolated or grouped in churches, every believer, week by week, may have the messenger that unites all members in one faith and fellowship.

The missionaries write for us their interesting experiences, inspiring all to do more for others, that every member of this great advent band may become one in spirit and service to herald a world-wide message.

Our good Review contains a wealth of instruction and information of special interest to every true Seventh-day Adventist. Besides the editorial and general articles are found columns devoted to reports from foreign missions, young people's work, health and temperance, the home and children, etc. Is it any wonder that the Spirit of prophecy has this to say: "The Review is a valuable paper; it contains matters of great interest to the church, and should be placed in every family of believers."

During the period of May 18 to June 1 the very special price of $2 a year will prevail. The Big Three: Review and Herald, Life and Health, and Present Truth, will be $2.75; the Family Group of a year's subscription to all of the following: Review, Youth's Instructor, Sabbath School Worker, Church Officers' Gazette, Life and Health, Liberty, and Present Truth, will be reduced to $5.50.

Provide your home with good reading by the entrance of our own periodicals for old and young, and bear in mind that "The Review is a valuable paper; it contains matters of great interest to the church, and should be placed in every family of believers."

THE MODERN BOOK OF ACTS BY THE MISSIONARY VOLUNTEERS

THE following interesting report comes to us from Miss Gwentyth Johnstone, who has been assisting in the meetings being held by a number of young people in East Princeton, Mass.:

"She was a young woman of Indian descent and the mother of three children. She had been listening to a study on the 'Plan of Redemption.' After the study she told us about a very strange dream which she had had the week previous. It seemed to her that the sky was on fire, cries rent the air—'God is coming!' She saw Jesus with His hands outstretched, saying, 'The world is Mine!' It made such a vivid impression upon her that she actually looked to see if her dream were really true.

"We have continued the studies with this little woman, and she has listened eagerly to the words of life. On a recent Sabbath she told us that her husband had lost his job and that they were moving into a one-room cabin which he had built in a logging camp. Sorrowfully she told us of the expected change, and even tiny Paul and Donald and Albert were reluctant to leave. We knelt there in the kitchen and prayed to the Father of us all to take care of the mother and father and their children. As we arose a marked change was noted in the little family. Peace seemed to have come to their hearts, and it was a courageous group who stood in the doorway and waved their good-byes as we drove away.

"We intend to follow them, if possible, to their out-of-the-way camp and continue to water the seed already sown. There are many honest-hearted people all around us. It remains with us to search them out, and today, as in the days of Christ, 'the common people hear Him gladly.'"

NEWS NOTES

ELDER HALSWICK, of the General Conference Bureau of Home Missions, recently called at the office.

Orders for Big Week literature have been very gratifying. The demand for "Prophecy Speaks" has far exceeded our expectations, and Brother Aldridge in the Book Society explains that while he has endeavored to fill all orders promptly, some slight delays have been unavoidable because of this unexpected but very welcome volume of orders.

We are very glad to welcome to our conference Miss Sigfrid Gryto, who is taking up work as interne Bible worker in the Danish-Norwegian church.

Our members will be glad to know that for the first three months

Those who attended the program given by LePetit Ensemble (a musical organization of local talent) last Thursday evening at the Temple church, are eagerly looking forward to another entertainment. The music was of a high order and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Following Brother Carl Guenther's winter effort, eight members were recently baptized and joined the Jamaica church.

Elder Lund attended the commencement exercises of the Washington Sanitarium, at which time his daughter was graduated.

JEWISH EVANGELISTIC EFFORT IN NEW YORK CITY

We are glad to announce that Elder F.C. Gilbert, head of the Jewish Department of the General Conference, will speak at McKinley Temple, 155th Street and St. Nicolas Avenue, Sunday evening, May 19, estine and Restore the Temple on "Will the Jews Return to Pal-Services?"

This will afford our brethren and sisters an opportunity to invite large numbers of their Jewish friends and neighbors to hear a timely and thrilling message. We believe that the time has fully come for the Jews to be given light, and that before long many of them will join the ranks of God's remnant people.

As this effort at McKinley Temple is to close within a few weeks, let us fervently pray that God will move upon the hearts of many to take their stand for the truth.

SAMUEL KAPLAN.

DISCUSSION HOUR FOR CITY YOUTH

THE young people are awaiting another discussion hour, and we are pleased to announce that on Sabbath, June 1, 2:30 P.M., all the Missionary Volunteer groups of New York and Brooklyn are to have the privilege of a rally for that purpose, to be held at the Washington Avenue, Brooklyn church, 484 Washington Ave.

Elder Heckman, Elder Capman, and Elder vonPohle will join us in this meeting. BLANCHE MARKHAM,

WEDDING

A VERY pretty and happy wedding took place on Sunday, May 5, in the Seventh-day Adventist church at Canajoharie, N. Y., when Miss Helen Lawyer became the bride of Chester Hirst, of Middletown, N.Y. The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Ruth Ferbert, and the bridegroom by Earl Bush, both of Middletown.

Following the wedding a reception and supper were given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lawyer, in Fort Plain, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Hirst are to make their home in Schoharie, N. Y.

Their many friends and relatives wish for them a very happy and prosperous life.

IMPORTANT ITEMS
"Review and Herald"

WE have again come to the time when the good old Review is to be presented to our people. For the small sum of six cents a week—a little less than one cent a week cheaper than the price of a newspaper—this deeply spiritual paper can be brought to your home by Uncle Sam.

Elder Branson, the vice-president of the North American Division, writes: "We believe that no greater service could be rendered the cause just now than to encourage our members everywhere to become regular readers of the Review. Dark war clouds are gathering in many lands. Fear and perplexity have everywhere taken hold of the hearts of men. The times are perilous, and we must do all in our power to fortify our people for what is just before them. A year's subscription to the Review will do much to accomplish this."

From May 18 to June 1 special effort should be made to place this paper in the hands of every S. D. A. family. The Review keeps us informed as to the progress of the message in mission lands; it carries a deeply spiritual tone; it has counsel for old and young, and keeps us in touch with the times.

If you are not already receiving this paper, lay definite plans to obtain it; the Lord will bless and help every family to obtain it. The rate for a year's subscription will be $2 during the time of the campaign.

Big Week

Because of the great demand for "Prophecy Speaks," we have not been able to supply the churches. As soon as we can we will send the books to you.

Inquiry has been made if the offering is limited to May 11. If books are sold and the offering of $2 has yet not been reached, it will be perfectly proper to send it at the close of this month. The totals will not be reported until the end of May, so be sure your offering is turned in to the treasurer by the end of May.

Regional Meetings

Special efforts will be made during the regional meeting to help our young people, so we wish the parents to be sure to bring their children. We hope to arrange it so that all young people's meetings will be separate from the meetings for the adults.

CAMP MEETING

WE believe the members of the Southern New England Conference are looking forward with real interest and anticipation to the camp meeting for 1935. Our conference committee has given much time and thought to the location of our camp for this year, and after studying the entire field we have come to the conclusion that there is no better place for our camp ground than the location where we held it last year.

We understand that there has been some criticism concerning the location on account of the sanitary conditions, but we believe we can report to you that the sanitary condition has been changed. We have understood that one of the breweries has been emptying their refuse into the river which flows by the camp ground. We have been told that the city of Clinton has put a stop to this nuisance, and for this reason we believe we shall have much better sanitary conditions this year.

Important

Camp meetings have meant much to this denomination. The Spirit of God has been present at such gatherings and individuals blessed as they have sought God together. Surely if there ever was a time when we should meet together for prayer and consecration that time is now, and we want to urge every member in this conference to spend the entire time of the camp meeting with us, June 28 to July 7.

Quotations from the Servant of God

The following message was sent to us many years ago: "Strengthen the meeting all you possibly can by being present with your families. Put forth extra exertion to attend the gathering of God's people."—"Testimonies," Vol. VI, p. 39.

"Brethren and sisters, it would be far better for you to let your business affairs suffer than to neglect the opportunity of hearing the message God has for you. Make no excuse that will keep you from gaining every spiritual advantage possible. You need every ray of light. You need to become qualified to give a reason of the hope that is within you with meekness and fear. You cannot afford to lose one such privilege."—Ibid.

Young People—Take Notice

Our committee has voted to invite all of the young people of the Southern New England Conference to join together in a special rally two days preceding the coming camp meeting. The first meeting for the young people will be held Wednesday evening, June 26. We are planning to have our entire camp in readiness by Wednesday night, and every possible accommodation will be offered to our young people to make their two-day meeting of special benefit to all who attend. Miss Louise Kleuser will have charge of the program. We recognize we cannot have a successful conference of our young people unless we have the co-operation of every Missionary Volunteer Society in our conference.

For definite information as to accommodations such as lodging and board, write directly to Miss Kleuser.

F. D. WELLS.

YOUTH'S CONFERENCE

WHEN visiting one of our societies recently, about one hundred young people became enthusiastic to attend the coming Youth's Conference at South Lancaster. As our youth learn what this occasion holds in store, every energy is bent to attend in a body.

We invite all groups of Senior youth to come to the Youth's Conference, June 26-28, prepared to make some definite musical contributions during the inspiring music hour planned each evening from seven to eight o'clock. Our societies will now be preparing solos, duets, quartets, and choruses. We suggest that, where possible, each society bring its banner or pennant, lifting high the standard of our M. V. aims.

From six o'clock in the morning to nine at night, a program for devotion, Bible study, conference, music, and inspiration has been planned. Occasional invigorating hikes will teach health and bring pleasure. Youth will close the conference with a new vision of Christian living and service.

Elders Ochs and Montgomery from the General Conference will be with us. Several inspiring foreign missionaries will bring unusual accounts of thrilling adventures for Christ while pioneering on the very frontiers of foreign missions. Nothing like this ever brought such a challenge for each Senior Missionary Volunteer to rally to his colors. Every youth is needed. Every young man and young woman must be there to keep step with the mighty advance of Seventh-day Adventist youth. Come, young people, occupy your place at the Youth's Conference.

LOUISE C. KLEUSER.

SPECIAL "REVIEW" OFFER

WE were surprised when we received a list of the actual subscribers to the Review to learn that there were so few families who are receiving our church paper; therefore we feel that it is very timely for the Review and Herald Publishing Association to offer us special inducements so that more of our people can have this church paper.

From May 18 to June 1 the Review is offered at a lower price than we have received it for many years. During this period you can get the Review for one year at only $2. This offer will also apply to renewals.

Permit me to urge every family in our conference who possibly can do so, to see that they have the weekly visits of our church paper. Really, brethren and sisters, we cannot afford to be without this paper. We are sending to each church elder the names of those individuals who are receiving the paper, and urging the elder to appoint a committee to call on every family who does not receive it. The Review will help to guide us through trying times that are before us.

MISSIONS EXTENSION FUND

THE final appeal of our General Conference Home Missionary Department in behalf of the Missions Extension Fund is so striking that we wish to share it with all of our members in its fullness:

GREETINGS:

That thrilling word advance, which went out from the last Fall Council, is ringing in the ears and rejoicing the hearts of God's people in all the world. The work of God must not mark time, but must go steadily forward. And outstanding in our onward march into all the world is the Missions Extension plan. For twelve years our people rallied around the standard which placed our publishing, educational, and medical work on vantage ground in mission fields, and the result is seen in 379 enterprises, located in strategic places, which have received appropriations from the Missions Extension Fund. Nearly two million dollars has thus been invested in precious souls.

The world-wide depression made it necessary to discontinue the establishment of new institutions, for a time, and concentrate efforts on maintaining the work already begun; and, thank God, we have been able to hold the work intact, without a single call to retreat. But the Missions Extension Offering of May 11, 1935, again echoes the word advance, for one new project has been added to the list—the establishment of our denominational headquarters in a new building in the city of Jerusalem, Palestine. Surely it is time that the third angel's message advance with power on the very soil hallowed by sacred memories of the life and work of our Saviour, and the birthplace of the Christian church.

We rejoice in the "sound of a going" which is heard throughout our churches in North America at this time. Thousands of our church members are filling the Missions Extension banks, hundreds are planning generous gifts, while conference and institutional workers dedicate a day's income to the offering on May 11. No other missions investment will yield more glorious fruitage in souls; no other plan has done so much to lift the burden of suffering or to banish ignorance and superstition; no other plan has meant so much in the scattering of the light of truth in the printed page.

Take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to make up the shortage in your Forty-cent-a-week Fund by the largest Missions Extension Offering your church has ever raised. Many have already promised to double last year's offering. May God bestow upon all the spirit of sacrificial giving, is the earnest prayer of our hard-pressed workers in every land.

The Lord has greatly blessed the Missions Extension efforts in our field in the past. For the past two years our conference has had the honor of leading all the conferences in North America in the number of actual Missions Extension dollars, as well as per capita, raised, and I am sure we can again depend upon the demonstrated loyalty of our people to do their best in this hour of great need.

"Prophecy Speaks" Selling Well

It was a real joy to see Brother Leonard Bohner, the missionary leader of our Sanitarium church, carry away the few remaining packages of "Prophecy Speaks" the other morning, and call for more. Brother Aldrich assured him that a second lot was on its way and would be in soon. Our first 3,000 copies of this excellent little book have been quickly called for, and I am sure will prove a great blessing to hundreds of souls.

Are you doing your part in increasing faith and trust in God in your community by the sale of this book? It is very timely, and we should sell several times the number we have sold thus far.

Brother Rooney, of our Providence church, has formed the habit of carrying a few in his pocket every day, and has had some fine opportunities of using them.

Sisters Olivia and Ethel Williamson have each earned $2.50 in literature profits for the Missions Extension Fund, and are thus entitled to a place on our Lightbearers' Honor Roll. Are you eligible now, or will you be soon? Let us hear from you. Do your part to help your church win a complete victory by May 31.

F. BOHNER.

WEDDING

ON Sunday morning, May 12, at ten o'clock, a quiet wedding took place, when Miss Hilda Grieshaber, of Hopkinton, Mass., was united in marriage to Carl Peterson, of Providence, R. I., at the home of her pastor in Worcester. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will make their home in Providence. All the many friends of this couple will wish them a most happy married life. Mrs. Peterson will be greatly missed by the Natick church, where she has been a most helpful member.

A STUDY IN CONTRASTS

I AM writing these lines sitting in a camp shed erected by the Travancore Government for the convenience of its traveling officers. By the courtesy of the state I am allowed to stay in this shed while on tour. The shed is upon a hill, and in the valley below can be seen the winding road. On the other side of the valley the ground rises to a considerable height. The hills and the vale are covered with gorgeous tropical vegetation, and the prospect is delightful.

Down a little path leading from the hill opposite to the road in the valley I see a number of women coming, all dressed in white. I also see a man in white go forward to meet them, and as they pass, he gives something to each of them. It is too far away to see clearly, so turning to one of my Indian workers, I ask what it means. He tells me that the Roman Catholics have recently opened work in the district, and they are following their usual procedure of paying all who attend their services.

The women I saw coming down the path were on their way home from church, and the man was the priest doling out to the "faithful" the reward for their good works. Here was at least one reason for the numerical strength of the apostate church. As I sit musing upon the subject, our own people arise before my vision in striking contrast, and I take courage.

Recently I sat in a meeting in one of our churches. I was not responsible for the meeting and did not know what form it would take. As the meeting proceeded I listened to a very earnest appeal delivered by one of our ordained Indian ministers. It was stated by the speaker that our most urgent need was church buildings. It was explained that there was no money available in the mission for this purpose, and an appeal was made for donations.

The meeting was very enthusiastic, and we were soon delighted to hear brethren and sisters making pledges in value up to three months' salary. Not satisfied with what had been accomplished, they pledged themselves to erect one church building every year. Said one brother there present, "We do not have many nice things in our homes, because we put all the money we can spare into the cause of Christ." Said another, "It is a joy to me to look around the field and see the many church buildings in which I have money invested."

We have one fine stone church building which we call "St. Thomas Church," for it was built entirely on the responsibility of one of our workers, a Brother Thomas, faithfully assisted by his church members. While engaged in the building of the church he would repeatedly say, "I must sacrifice still further, till the church building is completed." Just how much money he has put into the building he hardly knows, but for months his salary was spent in this way. We were happy to be able to pass on to him some money that had been made available for the tiling of the church, which made his joy complete.

It is as true today as when spoken by the Master, "Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also," and our people have learned the joy of giving. Your prayers and assistance will greatly encourage these fine people.

"ACID STOMACH"

may not be your difficulty, but there's helpful, up-to-the-minute information on a dozen other health topics in June Health, which features this splendid article on diet by Winifred F. Lindsay. Included in the article is a very complete list of "base-forming" and "acid-forming" foods, arranged in a very simple comparative percentage table.

You and your friends would enjoy such articles as "The Brain," "Health Fads," "The Mouth," "One Mother to Another," "Boils," and "The Most Dangerous Place in the World."

Single copy, 15 cents. Special proposition to agents who sell quantities. Your Bible House secretary will gladly care for your order for a copy of this June issue, and give you further information.

WHY?

—Why is it some allow their church membership to lapse and their spiritual experience to dwindle through neglect?

—Why is it some fail to give whole-hearted support to the missionary activities of their church?

—Why is it some drift into unfaithfulness in paying tithes?

—Why is it some fail to see the importance of Christian education?

—Why is it some of our small churches wither and die?

—Why is it some lack enthusiasm and know so little of the joys which thrill the heart of the faithful believer?

—Why is it some have so little interest in foreign missions?

—Why is it that many are unable to give an answer for the hope within them?

—Why is it the loud cry of the message will come and some will not know it?

Perhaps not in every case, but in many, a failure to keep pace with the message by regular reading of the Review and Herald is the answer to many such questions.

The publishers will not accept partial payments on these individual reduced-price subscriptions. However, it is well worth your while to secure the cash, for it is not probable that the Review will be offered
