Scattering, yet Increasing

M. L. Rice

IT seems as if the Lord permits crises to come in the world in order to teach His people their utter dependence upon Him. In the feeding of the five thousand we see how Christ purposely brought the disciples into perplexity. He wanted them to learn more fully that their help and strength were in God.

Out in a lonely desert place, with no food or supplies, and with the day drawing to its close, the disciples were perplexed as to how such a multitude could be fed. They saw no way out except to send the multitude away. The five loaves and two fishes were barely enough for themselves.

It is a sad commentary on the church, but the inclination, in every age, has been, "send them away." And so long as the church treats the multitudes with indifference, she will have barely enough for herself. She will always be in a half famishing state, and her resources will never be much more than the "five loaves and two fishes." But the moment the church recognizes her responsibility to the multitudes—the world—and from her meager store begins to divide, to scatter, and to spread, that moment she not only becomes a blessing to others, but she also enlarges her own borders. "There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth."

"Send them away," say the disciples. "They need not depart," says Christ. Instead of turning a deaf ear to the hungry multitude, Christ says, "How many loaves have ye?" What are your resources? While standing ready to help in the emergency, He throws back on His followers their responsibility. He asks them to bring what they have. And when God adds His blessing and power to the efforts of the church, then the multitude is fed.

It was truly a great miracle to feed so many with so little. The secret was in bringing to God what they had. "Bring them hither to Me."

As we face our great world-wide task, and then look at our own resources, we seem helpless to meet the challenge. But Christ says of our resources, "Bring them hither to Me." If we will but unreservedly and in sincerity of heart bring ourselves and all that we have to God, we shall see His mighty power manifested even as of old.

The world is dying for the bread of life. There is an actual famine in the land for the Word of God. All who desire a part in feeding the famine-stricken multitudes, should bring to Christ their all. He will bless these gifts, and by His miraculous power convert them into the bread of life for those who are famishing.

In the story of the feeding of the five thousand we read, "they did all eat," and the last words are, "and were filled." There is no failure with God. In the last warning message that is to be given to the world, there will be no failure. All who will consecrate their resources to God will have a part in this closing work.

The call of God for this time is for a full and complete consecration of the resources of the church for the finishing of our work.

Week of Sacrifice Offering

THROUGHOUT the years our people everywhere have become acquainted with what we usually speak of as the Week of Sacrifice. A number of years ago, when our work was facing a terrible crisis, our brethren asked all of our members everywhere to donate one week's income to missions. For several years now the Week of Sacrifice has been carried on successfully. The means received in this way has been helpful in supplying our world-wide field with suitable means to carry on their work.

This year the needs are as great as ever. As we all know, there are many countries of this world that are engaged in war at the present time. We cannot tell what the future holds in store, but we know that God's work must go forward with greater and greater success. In order that this may be done, our people will of course carry their full share of the financial load.

Throughout the past God's people have been very faithful, giving of their means, giving of their time, and raising means throughout the world for the carrying on of our great message. This year we hope that every one will remember the Week of Sacrifice, the offering for which is to be taken on November 25.

Let us plan for this offering and week by week between now and November 25, set aside the necessary amount so that we shall be able to come up to the house of the Lord on that date with a good offering. We are looking to our people everywhere to have a part in this Week of Sacrifice.

Expansion Pledges

PLEASE note that all pledges of church members should be paid through your church treasurer and not sent direct to the conference office. Thus proper credit will be entered on your local church treasurer's books.

Members of the conference church and non-members may send direct to the conference office. We appreciate the payments that are coming in, and trust that all will remember to pay something before the close of the year.

Progress on the new dormitory is shown from day to day. The builders hope to have the roof on before many weeks.

Light

"YE are the light of the world." Matt. 5:14. We are favored of God in being permitted to live in a country where peace and liberty still prevail. This providential privilege places upon us a great responsibility to arise and shine. In John 5:35 it is said of John the Baptist, "He was a burning and a shining light." He was a burning, and therefore a shining, light. "Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning." Luke 12:35.

Dear reader, since coming here as the field missionary secretary, and surveying the territory and its needs, with its many cities and vast rural districts, I am aware of the great need in this field for men and women who are willing to let their lights shine, who are willing to burn that they may shine.

"We have the word of God to show that the end is near. The world is to be warned, and as never before we are to be laborers with Christ. The work of warning has been intrusted to us. We are to be channels of light to the world, imparting to others the light we receive from the great Light-bearer. . . . Let us not be backward now. That which is to be done in warning the world must be done without delay. Let not the canvassing work be left to languish. Let the books containing the light of present truth be placed before as many as possible."—"Colporteur Evangelist," p. 22.

"If there is one work more important than another, it is that of getting our publications before the public, thus leading them to search the Scriptures."—Id., p. 80. There is nothing of greater importance that needs to be done now.

"Jesus is calling for many missionaries, for men and women who will consecrate themselves to God, willing to spend and be spent in His service.

Oh, can we not remember that here is a world to labor for? Shall we not move forward, step by step, letting God use us as His helping hand? Shall we not place ourselves on the altar of service? Then the love of Christ will touch and transform us, make us willing for His sake to do and dare."—Id., p. 42.

"Who then is willing to consecrate his services this day unto the Lord?" I Chron. 29:5.

Are there those who feel they should dedicate their lives or some time to colporteur evangelism, those who are ready to place themselves on the altar of service to be a burning and a shining light in this world of darkness, those who want to enjoy the blessings such service brings? Won't you get in touch with the writer at once? We shall be glad to assist you in getting started.

I. H. IHROG, Field Miss. Sec.

Nature Friends Still Active

As all summer long nothing has been said about the activities of our nature club, perhaps our GLEANER readers would like a little report of our activities.

We have been silent in print, but very active otherwise. We have had a nature walk, varying from two to five miles, every good Sabbath afternoon all summer (unless the leader was away). Several of our boys moved away, but as others have taken their places our numbers remain the same.

It has been a pleasure to have the girls join us on our walks nearly every Sabbath this summer. Last spring Mrs.

The GLEANER is sent to persons outside the Atlantic Union only upon receipt of the subscription price.

Leland Wood, who is a Master Comrade, moved into our community and she has gone along with us in charge of the girls.

On our walk last Sabbath we had a group of twenty-two, which is one of the largest of the season. We had a very enjoyable visit to a private home where an elderly gentleman has a fine collection of native birds. This is a good chance to study them closely, and helps the young people identify them when they are seen in the open.

Besides our walks we have given short nature talks, written letters, and given help and encouragement to several other nature groups which have started.

I have kept a list of the things we have seen and identified on our walks and to date have listed ninety birds, fifty-one trees, eighteen shrubs, and two hundred and five wild flowers. We have also seen many different butterflies and insects and have a small collection of them. This does not mean that our members can identify all of these things, but they have been exposed to this knowledge and the older children will identify a great many. It has been an interesting summer and I think we have as fine a group of boys and girls as one would find anywhere.

Wedding Bells

On the evening of September 9, a quiet home wedding was solemnized at the home of the writer in Amesbury, Mass., when Miss Emily Kendrick became the bride of Alphonse Barcelow. Miss Mildred Burke attended the bride. Raymond Chase acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Barcelow are members of the Amesbury church. Their many friends wish them every blessing of God as they unitedly journey through life.

A BEAUTIFUL wedding took place in the Seventh-day Adventist church in Lowell, Mass., on the evening of October 12, when Miss Ruth Stoddard became the bride of Roy Ekstrom. Both are members of the Lowell church.

Atlantic Union Gleaner

Miss Fern Stoddard was maid of honor, and Miss Eunice Arnold, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. The best man was Austin Davis. The ushers were Osborne Smith and Clement Stoddard. Marilyn Marshall, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Miss Roberta Rice, of Atlantic Union College, sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." Miss Miriam Sauer, also of the college, accompanied her at the piano.

A reception was held at the home of the bride immediately following the ceremony.

The newly married couple will make their home in Tyngsboro, Mass. We trust that their united lives will be fruitful in the work of the Master, and that His rich blessing may ever be with them.

Rivers of Water

WE are prone to forget, as we stand enraptured at the entrancing sweep of a glorious sunset, that it is made possible by a reflection of myriads of particles of dust and drops of water.

The prophet Ezekiel foresaw the day when the church would become the fountainhead of a mighty stream of gospel life that would flow out to all the world. (Chapter 47) Flowing out from under the door in a thin trickle, it became knee deep and then waist deep, then a torrent that no man could pass over.

What a beautiful prophetic picture of the work and deeds of the third angel's message, as it goes out to give life to distant lands, growing as trickle after trickle from other churches join it. Your church has the privilege of sending out from "under the threshold" a thin stream of dollars for Ingathering. As they go on their way, other churches join in to enable the conference to send on this year more than $28,000.

The fountainhead of this great power, though, is not the church. It is you as an individual member of the church. Before the church becomes a stream of life, each member must become a "fountain of living water." Your part is as essential in the finishing of the work in the earth as is the drop of water to make a sunset or a rainbow.

Your church cannot do all that God prophesied it could do unless it has your help now. This is one of the last calls this year to you to do your full part in Ingathering this very week, that next Sabbath may be your victory day. Let's swell the Ingathering stream into a torrent as it leaves the church this Sabbath. What do you say?

Student Aid Fund

WE greatly appreciate the early returns in response to our appeal to build up a Student Aid Fund. According to this plan, a list of those contributing one dollar or more will be printed in the GLEANER from time to time unless we are instructed to the contrary. The following is our first list:

Mrs. E. N. Davis	$ 1.00
Mrs. Carlotta Rhicard	1.00
Mrs. Grace Horr	10.00
Lillian A. Wardwell	5.00
Mrs. Lucy Brines	2.00

Frank Powers	1.00
Ada M. Brown	1.00
Mrs. A. Capen	1.00
Amanda H. Allen	1.00
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Johnson	2.00

This will prove a great blessing to many of our worthy young people, and I trust that our list of donors will grow rapidly.

Offerings made to this fund may be sent to the conference office or turned in to the local church treasurer labeled "Student Aid." The treasurer will in turn send it on to the conference with the other funds. We are very grateful for the foregoing gifts.

Change of Laborers

AFTER giving careful and prayerful study to the needs of the field, the executive committee of the New York Conference recently recommended the following transfers:

Elder Theodore Carcich from Rochester to Syracuse and Elder D. P. Wood from Buffalo to Rochester. A call has been extended to Elder M. E. Munger of the Review and Herald Publishing Association to come to Buffalo as pastor.

We wish these brethren the richest blessing of the Lord in their respective fields of labor, and feel that their ministry will be fruitful in every way.

Harvest Ingathering
Progressographs

WITH almost $22,000 in hand to October 21, no doubt when you read these lines only about $2,000 will separate us from our $25,000 goal and victory.

Four of our churches, Keene, Pierrepont, Oneida, and North Creek, have attained minuteman standing, and we trust a number of others will join them soon. Keene, our mountain church, has soared so high that $11.04 more will make it a two-minute a member church. Its present per capita of $23.17 places it among the highest standings in the union. Only $110 more would give our entire Adirondack District minuteman standing.

Both of our colored churches have passed the normal goal of $10 a member. Our Ebenezer church in Rochester has assured us that they would reach minuteman standing; perhaps Buffalo East Side will spring an equally pleasant surprise.

The Elmira District stands in fourth place in the total amount gathered. With a $9.54-a-member average, it ranks third in our per capita line-up to October 21. For the first time in many years the Elmira church reached its full goal. The Lord richly blessed the loyal efforts of our leaders and people there. Our Corning church leads the district at this time with the fine per capita of $10.97. Richburg is a close second with $10.92 per capita.

From all indications, our Albany District will also soon be able to sing the song of victory. Schenectady, Gloversville, and Canajoharie have already achieved success, Albany and Amsterdam being very near the victory line.

Cortland, with a per capita of $10.56 to its credit, leads at present in the Binghamton District. Undoubtedly the entire district will be able to sing the jubilee song in the near future.

Salamanca and Jamestown Swedish have proved once more that Ingathering goals can be reached in the Jamestown District in good season. Cattaraugus has the best chance to go over next.

We are also pleased to welcome Penn Yan and Watertown to our honored group of victorious churches, numbering twenty-two in all now, and wish to thank each and every one who has helped in making possible this good report thus far.

Not only do we thank the Lord for the good sum gathered for our needy mission fields, but also for the 181 interested ones found thus far. We hope each church is laying definite plans to follow up each name with a year's subscription to Present Truth for we must ever bear in mind that our Ingathering work has a two-fold objective — the winning of souls at home and abroad.

Dear friends, young and old, we are near the goal and victory is in sight. When will our conference be able to report a complete Harvest Ingathering victory? With our church schools, M. V. Societies, and all adults promptly doing their best, it will be soon, we trust.

With thankful hearts for the great blessings of peace and liberty, let us all unite once more in pushing the conference over the victory line by at least November 11, our next reporting day. Even if you have reached your goal, bring in a victory dollar on or before November 11 to make sure of going over then. In this hour of great need, the goal of every loyal member should be nothing short of his best.

"Give of your best to the Master,
Naught else is worthy His love."

F. BOHNER.

Offering for Evangelism

UPON the constituency of the New York Conference rests the responsibility, duty, and privilege of supplying the necessary funds with which to finance evangelistic efforts in the various cities, towns, and villages in the territory. Inasmuch as the tithe income is insufficient to meet the apparent demand, in spite of a most encouraging increase, we are making a special appeal to our people in this conference territory to give an offering Sabbath, November 11, in all of our churches to create an evangelistic fund for use in efforts throughout the territory.

We must, at all cost, build up our membership in this field. We have set aside a safe amount of money from our operating funds for this purpose; but we need more funds, that modest efforts may be carried on in each district.

The financial burdens in connection with the carrying of the message are heavy, the calls are frequent and insistent; but let us remember that the work is rapidly expanding and therefore the calls for means are to increase rather than decrease. Our needs at the home base must be met; therefore we earnestly appeal for a ready response from each member as the offering for a conference-wide evangelistic effort is taken in all of our churches Sabbath, November 11.

"Unmistakable evidences point to the nearness of the end. The way must be prepared for the coming of the Prince of Peace. Let not our church members complain because they are so often called upon to give. What is it that makes the frequent calls a necessity? Is it not the rapid increase of missionary enterprises? Shall we, by refusing to give, retard the growth of these enterprises? Shall we forget that we are laborers together with God? From every church, prayers should ascend to God for an increase of devotion and liberality. My brethren and sisters, do not plead for retrenchment in evangelical work. So long as there are souls to save, our interest in the work of soul-saving is to know no abating." —"Testimonies," Vol. IX, p. 55.

We must strengthen our membership in the established churches, and raise up new centers of interest in our own conference territory. We most earnestly plead for a wholehearted response to this appeal. We pledge ourselves to get the utmost result out of every dollar expended.

Some can make large gifts; some, small; all can do something; let us respond.

W. H. HOWARD.

Wedding

OCTOBER 12, 1939, was a happy day in the lives of Harry Francis Rynaker and Jean Orpha Brewer, when they were united in the bonds of holy matrimony at the Elmira Seventh-day Adventist church. The church was modestly decorated with flowers for the occasion. A large number of relatives and friends were present.

As the bride and bridegroom pledged their troth to each other, Mrs. Loretta Lucy sang "Because," accompanied at the piano by Miss Hazel Butler. Miss Jessie Brewer, a sister of the bride was bridesmaid; Robert Taylor was best man.

After the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride's father, after which Mr. and Mrs. Rynaker left for a short trip to Canada. They are faithful members of the Elmira church. Their many friends wish them God's blessing and much happiness. Their address will be Route 4, Elmira, N. Y.

ALEXANDER HOUGHTON.

Elmira Victory and Baptism

SABBATH, October 14, was a high day for the Elmira church because, for the first time in twelve years, the congregation was able to sing the Harvest In-gathering victory song. A "victory jubilee" supper and entertainment was conducted on Sunday night, October 15, when the Corning church joined with Elmira in the celebration. Elders R. G. Strickland and F. Bohner, representing the union and local conference home missionary departments respectively, were in attendance.

At the outset of the campaign it seemed to the Elmira church that it was virtually impossible to raise the goal of almost $1,200, for it had been tried in years gone by with no success. However, the church organized into eleven large bands, each with a goal and a leader, and every one started to work. Realizing the power of God, the workers added much prayer to their efforts. After a time a spirit of real enthusiasm swept the church; the discouraging note entirely disappeared, and a faith that God would give the victory took its place. And, of course, God would not allow such a program to fail. The victory came on the day the church had planned for it.

The Corning and Richburg churches have been "over the top" for several weeks. The Richburg church was one of the first in the conference to reach its goal. Wellsville and Catlin will go over this month. This entire district shows a gain measurable in hundreds of dollars and many souls over this same period last year. To God belongs all the praise, for victory is His.

On Sabbath, October 7, a baptism was conducted in the Elmira church when seven precious souls buried the "old man of sin" and arose "to walk in newness of life." One, a young man with whom we studied, was in training for the priesthood just a few years ago. At the present time the writer is engaged in giving other studies, and hopes to have several more persons ready to unite with their Lord in a short time. A few have already expressed their desire, and as soon as they have been fully instructed we plan for another baptism.

We are opening our fall effort in the city of Corning on October 29. A six months' Present Truth campaign has sown a great deal of seed, and we are praying that God will give a rich harvest. Pray for the work in this field, for "the harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few." WILLIAM FAGAL, JR.

ATLANTIC UNION COLLEGE

News Notes

TUESDAY morning the International Relations class of the college, under the direction of Prof. G. T. Anderson, held a debate on the topic, "Resolved that the arms embargo law should be repealed." The negative side won.

Miss Ellen Smith, a senior at the college, left early Thursday morning for the Women's Hospital in Boston for an operation.

New wooden steps have been constructed for the front entrance to the administration building.

Lieutenant E. J. Carroll, of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation of Worcester, gave an illustrated lecture on finger-print identification at a joint meeting of the Kappa Nu Epsilon and Phi Delta Chi Clubs in the college auditorium Wednesday evening.

Teachers of the elementary training department left for New York City on Thursday afternoon. They visited the World's Fair and attended a convention at the Teachers' College of Columbia University. Those who went were Miss Ellen Klose, director of elementary teacher training; Miss Euphemia M. Bryne, Mrs. Doris Brown-Lamont, and Miss Myra B. Kite.

William Fagal, theological graduate of 1939, who is interning at Elmira, N. Y., visited the college Tuesday, October 24.

The second floor joists are being laid in the new dormitory for young women. The roof will be on in about five weeks if all goes well.

Prof. Frederick Griggs, former vice-president of the Far Eastern Division, who for a number of years was principal of South Lancaster Academy, spoke in the college chapel on Friday, at the church on Sabbath, and in the college chapel hour on Monday. Professor Griggs is now chairman of the board of trustees of the College of Medical Evangelists.

Elder Elmer E. Osborne, of Lancaster, spoke in the college division of the church on Sabbath.

Saturday evening the students and teachers of the college and the academy took part in a scavenger hunt, the last outdoor event of the season. There were twelve groups, under student leaders. After a short hike and supper beside a large campfire, the hunt began. Band number one, with Peter Churchward as leader, won first prize, having assembled all the required articles first.

The work of connecting steam heat from the college to the Miles Bindery is now completed.

Prof. Robert W. Woods, head of the department of mathematics and physics, announced in chapel recently his intention of forming a science club in the college. This club will be divided into four different groups comprising those interested in astronomy, photography, aeronautics, and radio.

NEW ENGLAND SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL

News Notes

VISITORS to the sanitarium are impressed with the new brass railing which has recently been installed on each side of the front steps. This is another one of the many improvements under way here.

Thomas Bennett, Jr., who recently joined the sanitarium family as a student in the hydrotherapy course, underwent an operation for appendicitis last week. His friends will be glad to learn that he is getting along well.

A miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Christine MacKay, senior nurse, by her classmates on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Seymour Turple, Stoneham. Miss MacKay's marriage to Herbert Preston, of Washington Missionary College, Takoma Park, D. C., is scheduled to take place within the next month, when she has completed her course.

When the honor guest arrived at the home of Mrs. Turple, she was ushered to a beautifully decorated chair. Over this was suspended a yellow tulip from which Miss MacKay was showered with flower petals when she had been seated. As she opened the many useful and beautiful gifts, among them she found small packages which announced musical numbers and readings to be given by the guests present. Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the entertainment.

Mrs. Kate Nelson, of Albany, N. Y., arrived this week to undergo treatment here in the sanitarium.

Mrs. Nettie F. Tuttle, of Rochester, N. H., registered as a patient during the past week.

After the summer vacation the Sanitarium Band has resumed its regular weekly practice and rehearsal periods. A number of new recruits have been enrolled this year, and prospects are that a much stronger band will be the outcome of this new class of musical talent. The band rehearsal is held in the cabin each Monday evening.

Special Notice

Teachers, editors, librarians, departmental secretaries, and many others will be interested to know that bound volumes of some of our periodicals, dating back as far as 1871, are available at give-away prices. This assortment includes the Review, Youth's Instructor, Ministry, Sabbath School Worker, Church Officer's Gazette, Life and Health, and Liberty.

We are offering these periodical volumes at a nominal figure that will cover the cost of wrapping and shipping—50 cents on the Review, Instructor, and Ministry, and 25 cents on the others.

Space does not permit listing the assortment here; a complete list will be sent on request. Final disposition will be made of any of this stock uncalled for on December 31. So be sure your order reaches us before that time.

Atlantic Union Gleaner

I ASK you, dear Christian workers, to do what you can to circulate the books that the Lord has said should be sown broadcast throughout the world. Do your best to place them in the homes of as many as possible. . . . The Holy Spirit will attend you. Angels of heaven will accompany you, preparing the way." — "Colporteur Evangelist," p. 40.

OBITUARY NOTICES

HULL.—Mrs. Minnie M. Jordan-Hull was born in Taylor Center, N. Y., January 6, 1864; and died at the University Hospital, Syracuse, N. Y., September 9, 1939. She was united in marriage to Elmer J. Hull, May 20, 1885. Mrs. Hull accepted present truth in 1898, and became one of the charter members of the So. Onondaga Seventh-day Adventist church. She has loved this message and has been a faithful supporter of its many branches. To those who knew her best she was a source of encouragement, for her life spoke more loudly than words could express the faith she held most dear.

She leaves, besides her husband, Elmer J. Hull, a daughter, Miss Gladys M. Hull, principal of one of the city schools, but also a constant companion and helper to her mother; also two sons, Neil and Haskell, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted by the writer, from the home. She was laid to rest in the beautiful hillside cemetery overlooking the house where she had spent the years of her married life. We believe she sleeps in Jesus and will come forth to meet her Saviour in the resurrection of the just.

SIDNEY N. RITTENHOUSE.

OLIVER.—William Henry Oliver was born in Newburyport, Mass., October 1874, and died at the home of Brother Fred Oliver, at Salisbury, Mass., October 14, 1939. Mr. Oliver was a veteran of two wars, and was given a military funeral. While he was not a member of any church, he loved his Bible and during his last days asked to have it read to him. It was the writer's privilege to visit him and pray for him just before he died. It is both the hope and the consolation of his loved ones that he fully surrendered his life to the Lord and will come forth when Jesus comes. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer.
