VOL. XXXIX

SOUTH LANCASTER, MASS., SEPTEMBER 4, 1940

No. 35

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

August 14, 1940

My dear Mr. Administrator:

Reports have reached me that some young people who had planned to enter college this fall, as well as a number of those who attended college last year, are intending to interrupt their education at this time because they feel that it is more patriotic to work in a shipyard, or to enlist in the Army or Navy, than it is to attend college. Such a decision would be unfortunate.

We must have well-educated and intelligent citizens who have sound judgment in dealing with the difficult problems of today. We must also have scientists, engineers, economists, and other people with specialized knowledge, to plan and to build for national defense as well as for social and economic progress. Young people should be advised that it is their patriotic duty to continue the normal course of their education, unless and until they are called, so that they will be well prepared for greatest usefulness to their country. They will be promptly notified if they are needed for other patriotic services.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) Franklin D. Roosevelt

Take Early Advantage of Ingathering

W. A. BUTLER
Assoc. Sec. Gen. Conf. H. M. Dept.

NO GREAT religious movement, with world extent or influence, has at any time equaled the task committed to Seventh-day Adventists. It is wonderful to contemplate that God's plans call for a people to appeal to earth's inhabitants to get ready to meet their God in the great judgment hour, just as the work of our High Priest in heaven is being finished. Seventh-day Adventists are a small people with a great task. We thank God for the honor of this great task, and for His omnipotent help in executing His will.

In carrying on His work God has many ways and agencies of which we may not be aware. He has given us favor and friendship with many government leaders, businessmen, and people of wealth and influence. In many ways, often unknown to us, these men and women are prompted to favor this great movement by voice, pen, influence, and in financial ways. God frequently uses governments in a large way to accomplish His purpose and work.

The Ingathering has been one means whereby many have helped to advance God's great message of truth. This year, in spite of such apparent difficulties, we have much to be thankful for. Our heavenly Father is blessing the sincere efforts of His people in taking early advantage in Ingathering. In many places the public is giving more readily and in larger amounts to help sustain our work. Everybody is aroused today by world conditions. It is the hour for Seventh-day Adventists to connect earth's loud-speaking events with the prophetic word. We must tell the people what it all means and courteously solicit their cooperation in making substantial gifts to spread the gospel and speed it on. Soon we may be prohibited to solicit, and before long many will not be able to give. The people must know that the greatest good can be accomplished by lending to the Lord, and that this is the only sure investment for eternity. Every one should aim to be a minuteman this year, which involves the sum of $12.05. Many will be glad to do much more than this.

We thank our dear loyal people everywhere for faithful time being devoted just now in earnest prayer and Ingathering. We are grateful for results already achieved this year. In this hour of great opportunity and great need, let no one be content with small effort and small results. Not much in prophecy remains to be fulfilled. Mathew 24:14 is our gauge of closing events. Bear in mind that the Lord twice uses the word "short" in Romans 9:28. May His blessing of living zeal rest upon us all.

Ingathering Program Launched

We have been made very happy by the encouraging Ingathering reports that are coming from all sections of the field, showing that the churches are actively working even before our scheduled program begins the first of September. With the vacation period over, we have now launched fully into the Ingathering program and are planning to raise our entire quota before the last Sabbath in October. In later issues of the GLEANER we will give more detailed reports of the work in the various churches.

Most of the conferences in North America started their official work several weeks ago, and indications are that the total received in North America this year will exceed that of any previous year. I know that this will be good news to all of our membership, for we have been much burdened to make up to the mission treasury the loss resulting from the European war. We don't know how much longer we are going to have the privilege of carrying the Ingathering work in this country, and we urge all our members in every church to make the most of their privileges and do everything they possibly can for Ingathering this year. The Lord has blessed us in such a wonderful way that surely it is a small thing for every member to do his full part, — and, in view of world conditions, to do a double share. In some sections the members have not only set their hearts to do what they did last year, but to raise at least one goal for some one else. After they have raised their own goal, then they work to raise a minuteman quota for an aged or afflicted member of the church who cannot get out to solicit, or turn in an extra minuteman goal for some one in Europe who is denied the privilege of Ingathering work.

What a blessing would come to all of our churches if every one of us, after raising what we did last year, or our own minuteman goal, would work to help some one else! This is the spirit of Isaiah 41:6 and 7.

"They helped every one his neighbor; and every one said to his brother, Be of good courage. So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smoothes with the hammer him that smote the anvil, saying, It is ready for the soldering; and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved."

The result of this spirit is seen in verse 5, which reads: "The isles saw it, and feared; the ends of the earth were

Thirteenth Sabbath, September 28

THE needs of the Portuguese fields of the Southern European Division are on our hearts this thirteenth Sabbath. This national group is most sincere in accepting the message. Their religious background made the work for them at first more difficult, but the Portuguese people everywhere today are very responsive to our message. It is a fruitful cause that is claiming our offerings; so let us be very liberal.

A beautiful spirit is seen in our Sabbath schools throughout the entire field. While favored, our believers realize their privileges to continue their liberality for other lands to hear the gospel. While men's hearts are being hardened by the enemy of truth, and the way is becoming more difficult for its progress, God is at work. We feel His appeals to our own hearts, brethren, and we want to do our very best.

Let us individually meet the mission obligations we have assumed through the Sabbath school. Then let us help our school to make its quota with a liberal overflow on the thirteenth Sabbath, September 28. That spirit of deep interest in the work of God in this hour will react in blessings upon ourselves, our homes, and our churches. Think of the brother or sister in some other land who is unable to give as you may, then slip into the offering envelope, with your liberal offering, his share, provided you are able to do it. A bit of extra faith in this direction will bring a large measure of extra blessings, too.

Faithful in Stewardship

IT has been some time since very much has been said in this column concerning the faithfulness of our people in Southern New England in the matter of stewardship.

As we look over the records of the past two years, we see that not only has the Lord blessed His people along temporal lines, but they have shown their gratitude by rendering to God His own.

The tithe in this conference has been steadily on the increase. During the past two years we have made something like a $25,000 gain over the previous two-year period. Already in 1940 the gain has been about $3,000. We feel very grateful for this faithfulness on the part of our people.

There is one matter, however, in which we have fallen behind, and that is with regard to our Sabbath school offerings. As the Lord blesses us with a greater income, we should respond with more liberal offerings. Let us all look over our records in the past and see whether or not we can come up in this matter. Surely if there ever was a time when we should be liberal, that time is now. Soon it will be too late for our offerings to do any good.

Literature Evangelism

With the Health Book

Words of Hope Given to One in Darkness. The last call I made Friday afternoon was at a Canadian French home in Leominster. After admitting me and getting acquainted, the lady of the house, who is quite young, told me her nerves were shattered and she had been considering taking her life, as there is no future for her. After tactfully asking a few questions, I found out the true cause of her trouble and talked to her of Jesus' love. She admitted that she had lost all semblance of faith in God. I prayed with her and her husband. When I left the lady said, "I feel better already! I believe God has sent you here today. Won't you come often and tell us more of our Saviour?" They live practically in the shadow of the French Catholic Church. Thank God for a message that does save.—R. McGann.

With a Religious Book

You Can Depend on God. I want to tell you how God answered my prayers. On July 18 it was almost dark when I came to a home where the lady courteously invited me in. She seemed very much interested in "Bible Readings" and asked what denomination printed the book. When I told her the Seventh-day Adventists, she said she had come in contact with us six years ago. She wanted the book very much, but she was on relief and her daughter had tried for two months to find work, but without success. I saw she wanted the book so much that I asked her if she would promise God to take it if He would give her daughter a job, and she did. I was to call back in two weeks to see if God had answered our prayers. When I went there Tuesday night she was very happy to see me, as her daughter had secured two jobs. She ordered the "Bible Readings" and is going to start attending the Adventist church. Before I left we had prayer and thanked God for His wonderful blessings.—H. H. Warren.

With Our Magazines

One Sale Paves the Way for Another. Here is an experience I had in Manchester. I canvassed a man who had just purchased one of our magazines from my partner. I thanked him and left, failing to canvass another man in the bowling alley with him. While next door he came in and said he had a sale for me and for me to come back. I did and apologized for overlooking him. He purchased readily. Our conversation led to current events and in giving my opinion of Hitler's future I told the story of Daniel two and the image. He remarked that he was glad to see a girl who knew her Bible. Two other young men were quite interested in our college and I invited them to visit it any time they had an opportunity.—Jeanie Fisher.

Will you, dear reader, consider most seriously and prayerfully this God-ordained avenue of service, and allow God to use you in this time of great need and opportunity? Write your field secretary for territory.

The Book

"For Such a Time As This"

"Seventh-day Adventists in Time of War"

By Elder F. M. Wilcox

WITH events taking sudden turns as they have during the past few months, many young persons have been asking some of the following questions: "What Shall I Do?" "Should Christians Bear Arms?" "How Can I Claim Exemptions?"

Seventh-day Adventist young people must prepare themselves for non-combatant service, or they will be forced into actual combative lines. The author gives experiences of war veterans, which will be found to be particularly interesting, demonstrating the marked manner in which God cared for His children and so shaped circumstances that they were able to be true to their conscientious convictions, not only in observance of the sixth commandment, but in the observance of the fourth commandment as well. Doubtless these experiences will be of practical benefit to others who may be called into service in the years to come.

Elder Wilcox also gives a full statement of the various types of military service for which Adventist young people should prepare themselves. All able-bodied young men and women should provide themselves with information without delay by studying this important book. Beautiful black binding with silver stamping; 407 pages; only $2.50.

News Notes

ELDER A. W. WESTPHAL, recently of South America, has taken up work in the Southern New England Conference in charge of the Portuguese work. He takes the place made vacant when Elder Knipschild went to Bermuda. We extend a hearty welcome to Elder Westphal as a worker in this field.

The Ingathering campaign is still making rapid progress. We have now passed the $22,000 mark. Let's finish it by the first of October.

The Boston church is meeting in Brattle Hall, Cambridge, Mass., for the present, pending the time when they will have a new place of worship. They have recently sold the Temple.

Elder Saunders reports bright prospects for the opening of the church schools. It looks now as if we shall have a large enrollment.

Elder L. H. Christian, of Washington, D. C., speaks at South Lancaster on Tuesday evening and at Boston on Wednesday of this week. We are glad for his help.

Our district leaders are looking forward to some strong evangelistic campaigns as soon as the Ingathering is out of the way, which we believe will be soon. The Lord has richly blessed the conference with many additions to the church thus far this year.

Wedding

A QUIET wedding took place the afternoon of August 15, 1940, at the home of Brother Clayton M. Brewer, South Lancaster, when his daughter, Miss Martha Alice, and Arthur Guion Randall were united in marriage by the writer.

Mr. Randall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. H. Randall, reside in Syracuse, N. Y. The mother was present.

Music was furnished by Miss Ethel Randall, violinist, sister of the bridegroom. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen C. Brewer. The best man was Fred G. Randall, brother of the bridegroom. Soon after the service, Mr. and Mrs. Randall left by motor for a wedding trip to New York City. They will make their home on Maple St., South Lancaster, and Arthur will continue his college course.

May the Lord richly bless these young people as they join in taking up the responsibilities of life for themselves and their Master.

ON August 19, 1940, at 8 P.M., Miss Dorothy C. Green, of the Richburg, N. Y., church, became the bride of Clarence W. Woodcock, of Bradford, Pa. Elder Cleon B. Green, an older brother of the bride, officiated at the ceremony, which was solemnized in the Richburg church.

ATLANTIC UNION COLLEGE

It's Here !!!

A VOICE over the telephone fairly shouted for joy as the speaker informed another that the organ was on a truck in front of the college building.

Yes, the organ is now in the process of installation on the platform of the Atlantic Union College chapel.

In last week's GLEANER we promised to tell you something of the organ which we have purchased, and we shall fulfill that pledge now.

We had originally planned to get an electric organ of a small variety in order to meet the limited amount of money that we planned to raise. But while we were pricing organs, Brother Brad Braley of the Boston Temple, heard of a fine used pipe organ, and put us in touch with the man who was selling it.

As a result of this contact we have bought a recent model Wicks electric pipe organ. The instrument has four ranks of pipes, a set of Deagan 4-40 chimes, and is the latest type of Wicks magnetic controlled equalized pressure organ.

Before purchasing the organ the Alumni Association sent a committee to inspect it. The committee was composed of Miss Madge Gould, head of the music department of Atlantic Union College; Mrs. Myron Cross, instructor in piano; Professor Bela Urbanowsky, President G. Eric Jones, and the writer.

Atlantic Union Gleaner

The organ is no longer a hope; it is a reality, and now with the installation of the instrument we expect to see an influx of dollars in order that the full amount of our drive may be realized.

Think of it! Our campaign began just a bit less than two months ago, and now we can see the end of the road. You can help us finish on time by sending in your donation now. And remember, every donor of one dollar or more receives the special organ campaign button absolutely free.

Next week we shall print another list of donors to the campaign. Will your name be there?

Daniel — A God-Honored Hero

THE world knows many heroes, and pays them respect and honor. Among such characters are men of war, heroes of invention, science, medicine, trades, and arts. Men and women have devoted their entire energies and lives to their aims and ideals.

God has even greater heroes who deserve our sincere praise and study. Daniel was one of God's most prominent heroes. We know him as "the hero of Babylon." His part in God's great redemptive plan for Israel was played with outstanding faith, confidence in God, boldness, and true courage. God honored this faithfulness by working marvelous deliverances for Daniel from fire, flame, ravenous beasts, cunning and evil designing men, and saved him as prime minister when Babylon was overthrown.

Daniel's life, fortitude, and adherence to principle, will thrill and grip you as do few other accounts. Here are only a few of the difficult situations which he faced victoriously:

Dormitory Days
The King's Lost Dream
Ordeal by Fire
The King Eats Grass
Babylon's Last Banquet
Open Windows
Four Jungle Beasts
The Price of Power
Seventy Weeks Determined
On the Banks of Hiddekel

"The Hero of Babylon" is a book you just cannot forget. You'll read and refer to its pages again and again. Charles G. Bellah is author. Ingathering Progress

OUR Ingathering device which appears week by week is intended to convey the thought that efforts in this concerted program are like mighty shafts of light piercing earth's darkness. As each beam reaches outward its sphere of benefit widens 'till joined by other powerful rays from sister fields darkness is dispelled and light has driven away those evils that lurk in shadow. Send out the Light!
