THESE are the days of big things. Now is a time of enlarged vision, a time when men and women are attempting great things. This should be true of the church.

The accompanying picture, taken at the shipping room of the Review and Herald, represents the largest single shipment of books ever sent out from that publishing house. The picture of the shipment leaving the International Branch in Brookfield, Ill., is of foreign books.

But why are these pictures of special interest to the readers of the ATLANTIC UNION GLEANER? Because these books went to the Atlantic Union. This shipment of English books alone consists of more than 138,000 books, packed in 850 cases, and weighs twenty-five and one half tons. This makes over thirteen million pages. That is a lot of reading in any language.

Here is the story behind these books, which is perhaps different from that regarding any other book. For more than fifty years we have been circulating our tracts, papers, and books by the thousands and by the tons in this territory. Literally we have sowed the country with our literature, and it has not been without results. Scores and hundreds of people have embraced our message as a result of this literature. But in most of this reading matter our denominational name has not been made prominent, if mentioned at all. No doubt there are many who have read our literature, have embraced its teachings, but have never identified themselves with us, simply because their attention has never been called to the specific fact that the truth they have discovered is the belief of Seventh-day Adventists.

We believe that it would be a fine thing to circulate in this particular field, here where we have been fishing for men so many years, something that would bring to the public in a very definite way just what we as a people believe. This largest shipment of books, weighing over twenty-five tons, is our answer.

A word about the book. We wanted something that would tell who we are and what we believe. After much study and consideration, the union conference committee selected that excellent little volume, "Belief and Work of Seventh-day Adventists," written by Elder Alonzo L. Baker, former editor of the Signs. This book made its first appearance about ten years ago. It is written in a pleasing easy style, and presents in a very modest, yet fascinating and thought-provoking, way just what we as a people believe. Because many things have happened in the world since this book made its first appearance, the author, at our request, revised his original manuscript, and only about six weeks ago returned it to the publishers so that this special edition could be printed. This publication is brand new, with many new pictures. It is perhaps the latest book to come from this publishing house.

A glance through this book will captivate our people in this union. It has been written and illustrated especially for this field. While this book gives the world-wide message we are to proclaim, and is profusely illustrated with pictures of our world-wide work, yet the many pictures of churches, institutions, and groups from the Atlantic Union will prove of special interest to the people in this territory. The following church buildings from this union have been included in the English edition: The oldest church in our denomination—Washington, N. H.; Boston Temple; Brooklyn Washington Avenue church; Ephesus—our large church for colored people, in the heart of Harlem, N. Y.; Binghamton, N. Y.; Southampton, Bermuda; Jamestown (Swedish) church, N. Y.; Danish-Norwegian church, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Glens Falls, N. Y.; and the newest church in the union, dedicated Sabbath, August 1—Staten Island, N. Y. In the foreign books some of our foreign churches are shown. This book is available in the following languages: German, Portuguese, Swedish, Italian, and Danish-Norwegian.

Atlantic Union College is well represented, as is also the New England Sanitarium and Hospital.

In each book that is to be circulated in the New England States will be found the name and address of every Seventh-day Adventist church in that respective territory; and in the books that will be circulated in New York and Bermuda the name and address of all our churches in those fields will be found. Because the list of churches in the entire union conference was so long, we found it necessary to print one edition for the New England States, listing the churches in that territory, and another for the State of New York and Bermuda, giving the names and addresses of the churches in those fields.

How are these books to be obtained, and how are they to be used? They can be obtained only from your local church. They are not to be ordered from your Book and Bible House.

Through a very special concession on the part of the publishers, and by appropriations from the local and union conferences, we are in a position to offer this book to our people for only five cents a copy. Just think of it!—one hundred pages of reading matter, with pictures of our world-wide work, for only a nickel. But remember, you can procure these books only from your local church.

Now how are these books to be used? They are not to be sold. The first thing is to be sure to procure a supply of this special edition. Give a copy to any person you think this book might help. We especially recommend that they be given to those who are interested in our message.

We are asking our people to cast these books as a great net into the sea of humanity found in this union. It will be interesting to see just how many souls we can gather in from this largest single shipment of literature ever to leave our publishing house. We believe the possibilities are tremendous. Of course it all depends on how faithfully our people circulate these books.

We hope every book that is given away will be sent forth on its mission with a prayer that God will impress the reader with its message. We confidently believe that many souls will be added to our numbers as these thousands of books find their way into the homes and hearts of the people.

“By Their Fruits (or works) Ye Shall Know Them”

COMPARATIVELY speaking, only a very few of the people of these United States really know and understand the scope and nature of the work of Seventh-day Adventists. It is true that many here and there know about us, but do not know us. There is a great difference.

Many today are prejudiced toward us because of what they have heard about us, but not as a result of a true knowledge of our belief and works. If the people can be brought face to face, as it were, with what we believe, and with our activities for suffering humanity throughout the world, an altogether different feeling would exist in the hearts of many. Some today have us confused with a well-known sect who, by their improper methods, are causing certain local laws to be enacted that are interfering with our liberties. A recent decision of the Supreme Court upholds such laws.

Right now the book “Belief and Work of Seventh-day Adventists” meets a most definite need. It represents a real challenge to every Seventh-day Adventist. Each one should become responsible for circulating scores and even hundreds of this timely volume, so that when the grand totals are registered we shall find that literally hundreds of thousands have been placed in the hands of the reading public and having read, they will know us by our works.

I know that every literature evangelist will find opportunities to circulate judiciously many of these, especially where the people know the source of their work. There is one thing certain, and that is this, if we will at this time arise and seize this golden opportunity, thus sowing the seed of truth abundantly, we shall reap abundant results.

J. F. KENT.

It is heart missionaries that are needed. Spasmodic efforts will do little good. We must arrest the attention. We must be deeply in earnest.—“Testimonies,” Vol. IX, p. 45.

A Challenge to Every Seventh-day Adventist

THE book, "Work and Belief of S. D. A.s", written by A. L. Baker, first came from the press in 1930. It was revised and published again in 1938. Early in 1942 Elder Baker was asked once again to revise and bring up to date his document dealing with the world work of Seventh-day Adventists, their basic and fundamental beliefs. The Atlantic Union then asked the publishers to incorporate in the book certain pictures that would make it more applicable in the Atlantic Union. In harmony with this, the Review & Herald Pub. Assn. secured the printing privileges from the Pacific Press, and the present volume has come forth streamlined to meet the needs of our people in the Atlantic Union. It is being published in two English editions as well as in a number of foreign languages, namely, Danish-Norwegian, Swedish, Portuguese, German, Italian, and also, we are now advised, in Slovakian.

The regular cost of these books to our people would be two for 25 cents in English, and two for 35 cents in the foreign languages. However, the Atlantic Union Conference committee has set aside a large sum of money, being joined by each of the local conferences of the union to make these new books available to our people at only five cents a copy. Think of it! One hundred pages, new, up-to-date, individualized literature for our union for only five cents. It is hoped that many of our members will take a hundred copies apiece, and some even more at this exceptionally low price.

One edition of the English book will carry the addresses of our churches in the New York and Greater New York Conferences and the Bermuda churches, while the other edition will carry the addresses of all of our churches in Northern and Southern New England, together with an invitation to attend the nearest Seventh-day Adventist church.

We feel that we have here a book that can be most heartily recommended to all of our people. However, we would put forth this warning—do not buy these books and then lay them aside in your house, for in each copy the union and local conferences have a heavy investment. We therefore strongly urge that the books be purchased and given out at once to do their appointed work.

Our initial order for this book called for nearly 140,000 copies, English and foreign. The initial English order called for a shipment of 51,000 pounds, or 850 cases of books going to one field. Our foreign orders were large, but the whole program will fail unless we pass out these books judiciously, and yet as rapidly as possible. Let us get them into the hands of the people by the end of September. Give them out to neighbors, to friends, to professional men. Leave one with your grocer, your baker, your service station man, those neighbors next door, the friends that call to visit, etc., etc. But let us place them with the prayer that the Lord will win many souls through this simple, concise outline of the beliefs and work of Seventh-day Adventists. Nothing is hidden. Everything is open, and we seek your earnest co-operation. Here we have a book of one hundred pages costing the same as one copy of the Signs of the Times, or just one half the price of one Life and Health—three of these books for the price of one Health magazine. Really, brethren and sisters, it's the cheapest literature ever offered to our people. These books must go out by the thousands, and at once. May we have your full support.

Trained Dietitians Needed

At this time, when all Americans are called upon to exert themselves to the utmost in the National Defense program, nutrition plays an important role in maintaining the physical stamina and high morale which are so essential to war-time effort.

America's population is much below par nutritionally, as evidenced by a number of surveys. This state of malnutrition is reflected in the poor physical fitness and lack of courage and determination which are so much needed now by soldiers and civilians alike.

War has stimulated a marked interest in nutrition. The National Defense Council now recognizes it as one of the most potent factors in the maintenance of sound health and physical vigor, and therefore one of the most vital agencies in army and civilian defense. Acting upon this fact the council has launched a nutrition education program, whose aim is to make practical nutrition knowledge available to every man, woman, and child in the United States.

Such a far-reaching program bids for the services of many who are trained in nutrition and dietetics. Many women undoubtedly will be called to serve their country actively in one capacity or another in the near future. To the one adequately trained, there exists this interesting, fruitful, and wide-open field of service. Dietitians are not only needed in public health and nutrition teaching, but in sanitariums, hospitals, clinics, school homes, doctors' offices, and industries. The numbers being trained today are not sufficient to meet the calls.

The School of Dietetics offers scientific training in the field of nutrition and dietetics. The first two years of the course are offered in any one of our colleges, junior or senior, followed by two years of study in the School of Dietetics, which leads to a B. S. degree.

Young women who are entering college this fall would do well to consider this field of training when selecting their course of study. The opportunities offered in the dietetic profession are varied and numerous. For information address the Dean, School of Dietetics, College of Medical Evangelists, Loma Linda, California.

Important Notice

This is the time for us as a people to arise and go forth in a united endeavor to inform the world once and for all time as to who we actually are, what we believe, why we believe it, and the work we are doing around the world. How to accomplish this undertaking? The Northern New England Conference Book and Bible House has just received 20,000 copies of the book, "Belief and Work of Seventh-day Adventists." Now you should order your copies, ten or more, for each one. Just think, one hundred pages at the low cost of five cents a copy. Let's place this book in every home in our communities, NOW.

Baptism in Manchester

MEMBERS from several churches in the district were present for an inspiring service which was held in Manchester, N. H., Sabbath, August 8. The meeting place was the Universalist church, one of the most attractive places of worship in the city. The beautiful pipe organ music by Harvey Davies lifted our thoughts above this world and prepared our hearts for the sermon on "The Unfolding of the Christian Life."

Following the service nearly the entire membership, together with a number of visitors, went to a near-by lake to witness an impressive baptismal scene. The members sang praises to God as the candidates followed their Lord in the holy rite of baptism. Ten members were added to the churches in the district, eight by baptism and two on profession of faith.

Never has it been the privilege of the writer to baptize a more earnest and zealous group of believers and it is a pleasure to commit them into the care and keeping of Christ, resting assured that no one will be able to pluck them from His nail-pierced hand.

V. A. ANDERSON.

A Forgone Conclusion

"COME unto Me . . . Take My yoke." These words form two parts of Christ's invitation to us. Each one of us has heard them.

Our eternal destiny depends on whether we accept or reject this invitation.

The two parts of this invitation are inseparable. We cannot accept the one and be saved, while at the same time we reject the other.

If we really come to Him, we will surely take His yoke.

We can bear a part of the yoke by faithfully bearing our part of the Ingathering quotas.

Let us each one be faithful. Soon we shall hear those welcome words, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant: . . . enter thou into the joy of thy lord."

A Record Beginning

NEVER before in Southern New England's Ingathering history was half of a $40,000-goal in hand when the report of the first official week was compiled. But such is the splendid record for 1942, with all our highest expectations exceeded by August 8. How thankful we ought to be that we can still carry on unmolested, and that the public is still on the giving hand.

Seven churches, some of them with minutemen goals, the others a good gain over 1941, joined the honor roll. We list them in the order of their post-marked reports: Sanitarium, Middleboro, Burrillville, Fall River, Springfield No. 2, New Britain, and Haverhill. Several others are near the mark, with the Bridgeport, Hartford, New Bedford, Northeastern, and Pawtucket Districts nearing the goal. Some of these will finish ere you read these lines.

Another encouraging feature is the excellent list of minutemen. Over three hundred were sent in by August 8, with hints of hundreds of others almost over. This counts in all efforts. If every member would do his share at or about the same time, we could finish in a month or less and devote the last four months of the year to a strong lay and ministerial evangelistic effort. We have much to encourage us in this. During the past four years nearly 600 have been added to the membership. If all will work hard in the Ingathering, we can finish by August 30 or September 15 and sail right on, with the Lord's blessing, in adding 300 or 400 more by December 31. We believe that every member will do his best in this program and realize victory in all phases of our work in 1942.

a thorough cleaning and washing. Their plans include artistic redecoration of the entire church schoolroom, replacement of clear glass windows for additional light, and a sanding and refinishing of the floor before school begins.

Other churches might well give thoughtful consideration to their schoolrooms and follow the worthy example of the Springfield church.

News Notes

SYRACUSE was the church favored by a visit from our conference president, Elder O. T. Garner, on Sabbath, August 8. He reported that the church building was packed, and a fine spirit was manifest among the members.

Sunday, August 9, saw Elder Garner in attendance at the evening meeting of the Jamestown Swedish tent effort, which is being conducted by Elder J. A. Nordstrom. We were told that there is a good interest shown in the meeting—the tent was full and everything is going nicely.

Brother C. J. Oliver, conference field missionary secretary, was the speaker at the Union Springs and Auburn churches. We are sure he had some very interesting experiences to tell about the colporteur work in this field. Have you noticed our GLEANER reports on that lately?

Elder F. Bohner was also a visitor at the Auburn church. We are glad when summer comes around, for it always brings to Union Springs many who spend the winter in the Southland, among whom are Elder and Mrs. Bohner and their son, Jack.

Brother R. T. Minesinger, Union Springs Academy Bible teacher, spoke at the Cortland church on August 8.

The churches are welcoming the offer of purchasing the little booklet "What Seventh-day Adventists Believe" to distribute among their friends and neighbors. Both the Union Springs and Auburn churches, where the matter was presented recently, went over the quota set for them, having reached around 2,000 and 480 respectively. We know that when reports come in from the other churches, we shall have as good results.

Union Springs Academy

UNION SPRINGS ACADEMY is a Christian school. The opportunity for Christian education received in a Christian school is the most wonderful privilege you can give your children and youth for this life and the life to come.

"From the earliest times the faithful in Israel had given much attention to the matter of education. The Lord had directed that the children, even from babyhood, should be taught of His goodness and His greatness, especially as revealed in His law, and shown in the history of Israel. Through song and prayer, and lessons from the Scriptures, adapted to the opening mind, fathers and mothers were to instruct their children that the law of God is an expression of His character, and that as they received the principles of the law into the heart, the image of God was traced on mind and soul. In both the school and the home, much of the teaching was oral, but the youth also learned to read the Hebrew writing; and the parchment rolls of the Old Testament Scriptures were open to their study.

"In the days of Christ, the religious instruction of the young was thought to be so important that the town or city which did not provide schools for this purpose, was regarded as under the curse of God. Yet in both the school and the home, the teaching had become mechanical and formal. Since 'in all things it behooved Him to be made like unto His brethren' (Heb. 2:17), and Jesus gained in knowledge as we may do, the intimate acquaintance with the Scriptures, which He evinced in His ministry, testifies to the diligence with which, in those early years, He gave Himself to the study of the sacred word. . . .

"Every child may gain knowledge as Jesus did, from the works of nature and the pages of God's holy word. As we try to become acquainted with our heavenly Father through His word, angels will come near, our minds will be strengthened, our character will be elevated and refined, and we shall become more like our Saviour. And, as we behold the beautiful and grand in nature, our affections go out after God; while the spirit is awed, the soul is invigorated by coming in contact with the Infinite through His works. Communion with God through prayer develops the mental and moral faculties, and the spiritual powers strengthen as we cultivate thoughts upon spiritual things."—Fundamentals of Christian Education, pp. 442, 443.

Do not permit the younger members of your family to grow up and leave home without attending Union Springs Academy. This school was established by God, where our young people may get a Christian education; obtain an "intimate acquaintance with the Scriptures," and learn how to commune with the Most High.

The beginning of the school term is hastening on apace. Let nothing hinder your young people of academy age from coming to Union Springs Academy this fall. Their salvation is of more importance, and their training in Christian schools of greater consequence than many realize. Send them to Union Springs Academy where they will have a better opportunity of becoming heirs of salvation.

1942 Junior Camps

THE 1942 Junior Camps for both boys and girls are now a pleasant memory. Long will the 138 Juniors who attended our summer camps remember the Morning Watch circle, prayer bands, handicraft classes, swimming periods, recreational hours, devotional exercises, campfires, and other occasions of character training. Enriching friendships were formed with those of Christian ideals that will last forever.

During the boys' camp there were in attendance a total of fifty-seven boys. This was an increase of nine over the 1941 boys' camp. Brother Edward Cross, with the help of several counselors, including two conference workers, Brethren Pratt and Jenkins, ably led the boys through two weeks of active enjoyment. The climax of the camp for the boys was reached on the last Sabbath when fourteen boys gave their hearts to God for the first time at the invitation of our conference president.

The girls' camp, which followed immediately after the boys' camp, was directed by Miss Margaret Hirt. Thirteen counselors competently assisted her in providing for the eighty-one girls in attendance a happy combination of lessons in character building. Twelve more girls attended our 1942 camp than were present in 1941.

When an invitation to surrender to God was given the girls at the close of the camp, nineteen responded.

The handicraft classes at both camps added materially to the enjoyment at camp. All boys participated in wood-working and leather class work. Each boy made his own leather belt to wear as a souvenir of the 1942 camp. Girls engaged in leather and basketry weaving classes. Key cases and coin purses were made by the girls in their leather classes.

At the close of both camps, junior camp banks were given each Junior in which to start saving for next year. Prospects are good for 1943. Already some have started earning money for the next camp.

We express our appreciation to all pastors, church officers, and parents for their co-operation in contributing to the success of the 1942 camps. With renewed courage we are determined to guide aright the boys and girls of Greater New York.

Wedding Bells

MISS OLIVE M. LINDBERG became the wife of James A. Roberts in the presence of many relatives and friends who had gathered to witness the nuptials in the Worcester, Mass., Seventh-day Adventist church at 8 P.M., July 23, 1942, the writer officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Lee Robbins. The groomsman was George Leslie, nephew of the bridegroom. Two songs, "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me," were sung by Clarence Stanton and Mrs. Harry Jones, accompanied by Miss Beverly Jones. Mrs. Frank W. Cummings played the wedding march.

Immediately following the ceremony, the happy couple received the felicitations of friends in the church parlor, after which a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Robbins on May Street, where refreshments were served after the guests had sung a number of old favorite gospel songs.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are connected with Atlantic Union College, Mrs. Roberts as a critic teacher in the normal department, and Mr. Roberts as supervisor of maintenance.

CLAUDE A. ELDRIDGE.

THE Fuller Memorial Sanitarium at South Attleboro, Mass., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Sunday, July 26, when Miss Edna Mae Spencer, of Port Deposit, Md., became the bride of George P. MacLarn, Jr., of Tewksbury, Mass., before a large number of relatives and friends.

Promptly at 4 P.M., the bridal party took their places in the spacious sanitarium living room, to the strains of Wagner's "Bridal March." Miss Margaret Brown, an associate nurse employed at the sanitarium, attended the bride, and Karl Cady was the best man.

Mrs. Thomas Brown, of Lonsdale, R. I., appropriately rendered two vocal solos, "At Dawning" and "Because," with Mrs. V. C. Townsend, of Middletown, N. Y., presiding at the piano.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held on the sanitarium lawn.

This devoted, happy couple will make their home in Malden, Mass. As this new home is established according to God's order, we believe it will be one "where angels will love to dwell, and where often will be heard the voice of prayer."

V. C. TOWNSEND.

ON Sunday, June 28, 1942, Mildred Howard, of Hartford, Conn., became the bride of Arthur Arendt, of New Britain, Conn. The wedding was solemnized in the Hartford Seventh-day Adventist church, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

The bride was attended by Lucy Senkwalk, maid of honor, and Doris Preissel, bridesmaid. The bridegroom's brother, Kenneth Arendt, was best man, and Cecil Hewes was the escort. Robert Anderson and Gunter Scheffler were ushers. Special organ music was rendered by Mr. Strong of New Britain.

The reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony. Many beautiful gifts were presented by relatives and friends.

After a short wedding trip to New York City, the newlyweds will make their home in Hartford, Conn. We bespeak for them the blessing of God as they journey together on the pathway of life.

Great Victories

from Greater New York indicates that Hempstead and the German New York churches both went over this week.

In this little review we have not mentioned the exploits of many of our workers. Space forbids it. But as I look at the reports before me, I see the names of many individuals who could well be named for outstanding Ingathering achievement—such names as Ortner in the Hartford District, whose district is nearly over with the first report; Saunders in the Bridgeport District, whose district likewise is nearly over in the first report; Thurber in New Bedford; Eldridge in the Northeast District; and Colson in the Swedish District—to say nothing of Andress from the sanitarium, where the goal is already in hand with an overflow of $237. Space will not permit the mention of the large number of other workers this week who have sent in excellent reports, but we thank each faithful member for his part. Let us now redouble our efforts for a speedy and complete victory in every church.

Great Victories

THROUGHOUT the union most heartening reports are being received. This week marks the best week in our campaign, showing a weekly gain of $13,076.53. The major portion of this amount comes to us from the Southern New England Conference, that just now gets into its stride. We have several districts that need special mention this week. We are sorry we cannot mention them all. I notice from Southern New England, Elder Claude Eldridge reports having received $240 in one church in one day. Most of his district is practically over. We congratulate Elder Eldridge.

From the New York Conference bulletin we note Elder S. N. Rittenhouse's district, though well over, presses on to super-victory, and we feel assured they will press on until each church in the entire district is over. From the same conference Elder McLeod passes in a fine report. A few more like that and his district will be over.

From the Greater New York Conference we note this week Jamaica, the Swedish New York, the Jugoslavian, and the Russian churches reaching their full goals. That is splendid. Also from Greater New York, Elder Rowe, a member of our executive committee of the Atlantic Union Conference, told me as he was in South Lancaster for a meeting last week, that two weeks ago Saturday night Sister Rowe led an Ingathering band with about fifteen members five blocks and they received $26. The next Saturday evening the same band, on identically the same territory, received $46. That's success! We are awaiting further reports from this same band.

From Northern New England most heartening reports continue to arrive.

As a conference, it has $1,666 to go. New York has approximately $1,300 to go. Which conference will be over first? This very week should tell the story.

In the Northern New England Conference this last week we found Elder Rolfe, the leader of the large Vermont District, out hitchhiking from church to church, saving gasoline for Ingathering. Elder Strickland, of the General Conference, and the writer joined with the believers in Rutland in a field day last Tuesday with excellent success. Ingathering success is natural when we give our hearts to God and put forth real zeal and enthusiasm for the accomplishment of our task. I note that in Brother Chrispin's district, the North Searsmont church in the Northern New England Conference now has 200 per cent of its goal. Word just in
