Two Overwhelming Convictions

By WALTER A. NELSON
President, Canadian Union Conference

There were two overwhelming convictions that were forced upon me during my recent trip to the Far East. On this trip I visited Japan, Korea, Formosa, Indonesia, Hong Kong, Singapore, Malaya, North Borneo, Sarawak, the Philippine Islands, and the far-flung island field of Indonesia.

I became acquainted with the work in every field. I met with our churches in the large cities and in the more remote areas. I became acquainted with our workers in attendance at the various union sessions and the division council. I listened to the reports and testimonies of these workers. And during a period of three and one half months I observed too the political and nationalistic forces that are at work in all these lands.

One conviction is that the work in all of the countries of the Far East, whose doors are now so favorably open to our work and missionaries, could very quickly close. There are forces in all these countries that take advantage of every plausible incident to fan the increasing feeling of nationalism and to make everything of foreign origin appear as a stumbling block to the well-being of the people, and this includes Christianity, which is opposed to the ancient religions of the country.

Through the years, particularly recent years, we have established our work in the mission fields to meet such a contingency. Many times, even to the delay of necessary projects at home, our members and churches have sacrificed

In accordance with our usual custom of omitting one issue at this season of the year, no GLEANER will be published next week. The next issue will be dated July 13, 1953.

for foreign missions. And this has been in the providence of God, that when that day shall come when our missionaries can no longer give leadership to the work, the third angel's message will go forward because of the firmness of the foundation laid and the strength of the national workers who will be ready to take the responsibility of leadership. Our missionaries are building and training workers to this end.

Even now the leadership of our institutions, local conferences, and missions more and more is being delegated to national workers. We, therefore, need to continue to make foreign missions first in our denominational program. Later (even as now when funds that would otherwise go to China are appropriated to difficult London) we can turn the strength of the church to the work in the homeland.

The second conviction that was forced upon me is that God can quickly finish the work in all sections of the Far East, even this year, next year, any time. And I am sure the same is true in the other mission fields of the world.

In almost every section of the Far East our work is well-established in the important centers of all the countries. The work of Seventh-day Adventists is well known and appreciated by both officials and leading citizens, and nearly all know about the work of Seventh-day Adventist missions and institutions. The Spirit of prophecy tells us that the Lord will work in a way that we little conceive to bring the message in its closing work to the attention of all the people.

We have had some indications of this here in the homeland, with such articles as have appeared in Look and other magazines, and through the use of radio and television. We have a beautiful church, well located near the heart of Tokyo, with a membership comparable to the membership of many of our large centers in North America. The same is true in Manila, Hong Kong, Singapore, Seoul, Bandung, Surabaya, and in the Celebes.

Even in such scarcely-known British Crown colonies as Sarawak and North Borneo, our work is well-established,

In the Philippine Islands the Seventh-day Adventist church is the best known Protestant church throughout that large region in the far Pacific.

Rulers and officials in all of these countries are favorably impressed with the work of Seventh-day Adventists. I believe that the Lord is but waiting for His church to go forward and that when the church is burdened and praying and working for the finishing of the work, then the Lord will step in and do a quick work and cut it short in righteousness. It is most important that we continue to sacrifice and work for foreign missions, for it is in those fields that the doors will first close. Later we can turn the force of the whole church upon the work in the various homelands, and then God will do His self-appointed part and finish the work.

Midsummer Offering

In all of our churches on Sabbath, July 11, the Midsummer Offering will be taken. We have become so accustomed to this offering that we need not say much about its importance.

We have been greatly encouraged as we have watched the reports that have come in to our office which indicate that the Lord is greatly blessing our people. We have had a wonderful increase in tithe. This has been made possible only through the blessing of the Lord. As the Lord prospers us so we must in turn be willing to support His cause not only through the tithe, which belongs to the Lord, but through our offerings.

We are grateful to our people for what they have done through the years in their support of the work of God in all parts of the world. We are hoping that this coming Midsummer Offering will bring us at least a goal of $1.00 per member. This, however, is not an individual goal but a church goal on the basis of membership. There are those in our churches who can give liberally; others who cannot. That is why we are setting a church goal of $1.00 per member.

All of the money that we receive through this Midsummer Offering will be used to support the cause we love in all parts of the world. Let us not forget the blessings we have received in the past. God has promised to continue to shower His blessings when we in turn are faithfully supporting

His cause. Shall we not remember Him in a very definite way on Sabbath, July 11, by bringing a liberal Midsummer Offering.

Practical Nurses and Nurse-Aides Needed

Are you looking for an opportunity to fill an important place in the Lord's work? If you are, and can do practical nursing or nurse-aide work, or are willing to learn, please contact the Director of Nurses at the New England Sanitarium and Hospital, Melrose, Mass. There is a great need for conscientious, Christian women to fill this place. Service to others by ministering to those who are ill, is a most satisfying work. The need is great, the workers are few—who will answer the call for service? Will you?

National Guard or the Draft

The War Service Commission has been receiving a number of letters of late inquiring about advertisements made by certain National Guard units leading youth to believe that they can escape the draft by enlisting in the National Guard. Some of our Seventh-day Adventist youth have accepted these advertisements at face value and have enlisted in the National Guard.

It should be made plain that while it is true that enlistment in the National Guard will enable one to avoid the draft for the time being, at the same time such enlistment results in making the individual subject to and eligible for the draft for an additional period of nine (9) years beyond his 26th birthday, or until he reaches his 35th birthday.

Consequently, after his enlistment period in the National Guard has expired, which he entered to avoid the draft, a man may still be drafted and be required to serve his 24 months in the Army, and this liability will continue until his 35th birthday.

It is rather difficult to understand why any of our young men would enter upon a period of voluntary enlistment in a military unit, thus voluntarily surrendering all their noncombatant rights and privileges to avoid the draft. We cannot advise such a course.

Ingathering

We are surely thrilled at the good news that keeps coming in regarding Ingathering. We will be putting out a report when the treasurer's remittances are in for June.

We were very thrilled to learn that New York has now joined Southern New England in reaching the Minuteman goal. This is the first time in the history of the conference that this has been accomplished and we congratulate Elder Reiswig, Elder LaGrone, the workers, and members for their fine achievement. We expect Greater New York to have their goal by the time of the next report. They are within a very small amount of the Minuteman goal now.

We feel that when the final chapter of Ingathering history for 1953 is written, our union will have a gain of between $35,000 and $40,000.

Once again we want to thank each

News Note

Since the purchase of a church building, it has been the dream of the members of the Brooklyn Italian-American church to have their own baptistry. Once again God answered the prayers of all. By working hard and earnestly, a group of the men, together with Elder Castelbuono, had the baptistry finished by June 6, at which time three people were baptized. The three new members are Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Emanuel and Mrs. Frances Valentino.

All the members thank the Lord for this wonderful blessing.

VICTORY!

Greater New York has done it again! At the close of the Ingathering campaign our Spanish churches had passed the fourteen dollar per member goal set for them by the union conference. All the other churches in the conference were Minuteman churches with the exception of one. Now that one, Washington Avenue church, with the largest Ingathering goal in the conference, has reported victory via pledges.

God has wonderfully blessed the faithful work of our pastors, church officers, and members. Language problems have been overcome. Some who could speak very few words of English, prayed, worked, and smiled their way to victory. This is even more heartening when we note that eighteen of our churches use other than the English language.

It has been reported to me that a number of churches are setting out to raise their 1954 goals this autumn, climaxing with the Christmas caroling period. A motto has been suggested to me, "Let's do more in '54." Have you some suggestions?

The above motto reminds me of the reason given in John 15 why we must abide in Christ, that we might "bring forth more fruit." God is always asking for more, more, and more. We, too, are never satisfied with past achievements but want to do more and produce more for the One we love and the message we love. "Love never faileth."

"Higher than the highest human thought can reach, is God's ideal for His children." Consequently, we seek divine thoughts to guide us as we "press toward the mark." Today's victories cannot suffice for tomorrow. So friends, let us thank God daily for His enabling grace, for victory in 1953, and "Let's do more in '54."

Last Sabbath she and her family attended the Bronx Community Temple, and also the Town Hall meeting in the evening. Because of her interest two other families are now attending the Bronx Community Temple and taking Bible studies. Truly, the Lord is searching out the honest in heart in this big city.

Salamanca Dedication

For many years our believers in Salamanca have been praying and looking forward to the day when they would have their own church home. June 6 was a red letter day in their lives. On this day cars were driving in from every direction to one central place. This was the day for the dedication of the new Seventh-day Adventist church building in Salamanca. Our union conference president, Elder L. E. Lenheim, gave a challenging discourse at the eleven o'clock service from Revelation 14:12. He stressed three points: "Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus."

The history of the church was read by Sister Emma McHenry.

At one time the conference office was located in Salamanca. At this place Mrs. E. G. White was given a special vision on temperance work.

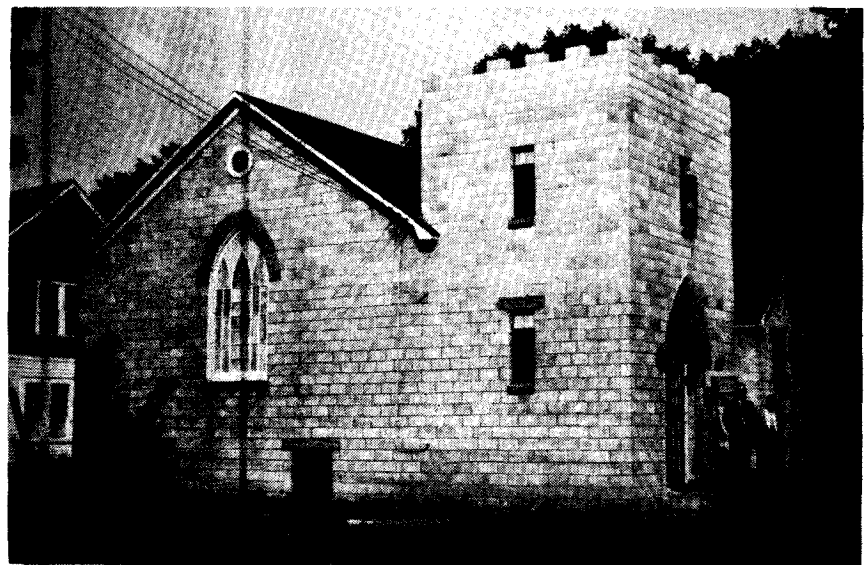

The pastors who had led out in the raising of funds and working on the building were present: Elder B. F. Hartman, former pastor, who had the building well under way; Elder L. H. Cox, the present pastor, who took over and helped to complete the task. Elder Cox led in the act of dedication. Elder J. J. Reiswig, president of the conference, offered the dedicatory prayer. He also spoke in the afternoon on "Justification." At the close of this service Elder L. H. Cox had a baptismal service in the new baptistry of the church.

This building represents a large investment for the membership of the Salamanca church in time, labor, and means. Brother and Sister Clark not only gave of their time and means for the building but they gave a beautiful Hammond organ which adds greatly to the worship.

All who attended the dedication were not able to get into the main auditorium, where two hundred people were assembled. So approximately one hundred listened to the loud speaker in the basement. This building is valued at $35,000. Surely another milestone has been reached in Salamanca in this beautiful edifice dedicated to God.

Camp Meeting

In the busy affairs of life we need to pause and count our many blessings as we journey along to the heavenly kingdom. The Scriptures call our attention to the fact that in the last days the cares of this life will be one of the prevailing problems for God's people to meet.

Camp meeting gives us an opportunity to pause and to gird up our spiritual loins for the warfare with sin. We hope that each of you have definitely planned to be at camp meeting and get the blessings there awaiting. Come one, come all, to the spiritual feast. We want to meet the boys and girls at camp meeting.

The first service will be Friday evening, July 3, at 7:30. Sabbath school will convene Sabbath morning at 9:15. We will be looking forward to seeing each of you at camp meeting.

Presque Isle Dedication

Friday night, May 22, and Sabbath, May 23, 1953, are the dates that will linger in the minds of our Presque Isle, Maine, members. For many months they had looked forward to this occasion which would culminate in the dedication of the church building in this city. On Friday night, Elder C. E. Perry, a former pastor of the church, presented an appeal for personal dedication. Those present responded by renewing their consecration to God.

The dedicatory service was held on Sabbath morning with Elder L. E. Lenheim, president of the Atlantic Union Conference, as speaker. Elder A. W. Perrine, the present pastor, in charge of the service, presented the city manager, who spoke words of welcome in behalf of the city. The history, read by the pastor, revealed that the first company in Presque Isle was organized by Elder B. F. Hartman, followed by Elder C. E. Perry, who organized the church in 1944 and started the building program in 1946. This building program was continued by Elder R. A. Mitchell from 1948 to May 1, 1953, when Elder A. W. Perrine came in and completed the building. The act of dedication was read by Elder R. A. Mitchell, and the dedicatory prayer was offered by Elder Roscoe W. Moore, president of the Northern New England Conference. Appropriate musical selections were sung by Elder and Mrs. R. A. Mitchell, Mrs. Pansy Currie, and a ladies' trio. Elder Roscoe W. Moore spoke at the afternoon service.

The members of the congregation worked untiringly to finish the building and present it for dedication. Their service was indeed labor of love. We cannot help feeling that this new memorial for Christ in Aroostook county will be a real asset to future progress in this beautiful territory where so much of our Christian literature has been sold during the past few years by our colporteurs, H. B. Colburn and George Peterson. Our good wishes and prayers ascend in behalf of the members and the work in this needy section of the Lord's vineyard. ROSCOE W. MOORE

After I showed a lady Great Controversy she said, "I have been thinking of getting one of the new Bibles and I couldn't afford both."

I proceeded to show her how this volume would help her to better understand the Bible than the new one could. "For illustration, do you have a Bible handy?"

"Yes," she replied, "I have all kinds of them, here is Moffatt's and King James, and then I have Mother's Bible."

And what do you suppose that book was? A worn Bible Readings. Someone invited her to a seance but she looked it up in Mother's Bible and it clearly said that spiritualism is the work of Satan, so she didn't go.

You can imagine how happy I was to leave Great Controversy with this good lady.

OBITUARIES

RICHARDS—Glenda Jeannine Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Richards, was born June 4, 1952, and passed away in her mother's arms at her home in Camden, Maine, on May 4, 1953. Funeral services were held at the Gilbert C. Laite Funeral Home on May 6, 1953, and she was buried at Mountain View Cemetery in Camden. Besides her parents, she leaves a brother, Gary Warren, age 4. During the last few weeks of her illness, Glenda suffered much and God in His mercy permitted her to rest. Although her loss brought great heartache and sadness to her parents, yet they accept God's way as the best way, and eagerly await the reunion on the resurrection morning. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer.

ROSCOE W. MOORE

WICKSTROM—Tekla Maria Wickstrom was born in Husna, Vastergotland, Sweden, on January 16, 1874, and died at the Roger Williams General Hospital on May 7, 1953, at the age of 78 years. She is survived by her husband, Axel Severin Wickstrom, and a son, Daniel Nelson of Montclair, N. J.

She was a faithful member of the Providence Seventh-day Adventist Temple. She awaits the call of the Life-giver in the not distant future. Interment was in the St. Paul's Lutheran Cemetery at Pontiac, R. I.

The funeral service was conducted at the Juhlin-Pearson Funeral Chapel by the writer, who was assisted by Pastor James L. Hayward.

O. D. WRIGHT

GALLANT—Felix B. Gallant passed away at the age of 71 at Danville Junction, Maine, on November 4, 1952. He was a native of Prince Edward Island, but spent most of his life in Maine. His wife, Mrs. Mathilda Gallant, has been a member of the Seventh-day Adventist church for many years. It was only in the lingering days of his last illness that the Spirit's power found its way into his life, and he accepted Jesus as His Saviour. The comfort of the great advent message brought hope to his life as he closed his eyes in rest until the great resurrection morning.

The funeral services were conducted in the Auburn Seventh-day Adventist church by the writer on November 7, 1952. Besides his widow, Sr. Mathilda Gallant, he is survived by two daughters, two sons, four brothers, and a sister.

The Rowena E. Purdon Library

The library, housing nearly forty thousand volumes, stands as the center of study and research at Atlantic Union College. Professor Oscar R.

Oscar R. Schmidt, Librarian

Schmidt, with the assistance of Mrs. Clifton Calkins and Mrs. Iva Furnival, keeps the library facilities available for the use of students and faculty at all times during the day, and in the evening.

Located on the first floor of the new administration building, the library was carefully planned for efficient service and beauty. The south and east walls are lined with windows which look out upon a beautiful campus. As you enter, you are impressed with the flood of light, softened by Venetian blinds. The reading room is equipped with fluorescent lights which shine into the distance at night and offer a warm invitation to take advantage of the quiet atmosphere for study and browsing. The north wall attracts the eye with its artistically arranged bulletin boards, planned to whet the appetite for wider reading and a more intelligent selection of books. At times during the year, most interesting displays of art works decorate the walls, giving opportunity for the Art Department to display the work of its students. The circulation desk and two offices are located so as to help maintain quietness.

Opportunity for Student Employment

The library offers opportunity for students to earn a large part of their school expenses. Eighteen students have been employed during the school year, earning over four thousand dollars during a ten-months period.

Library Holdings

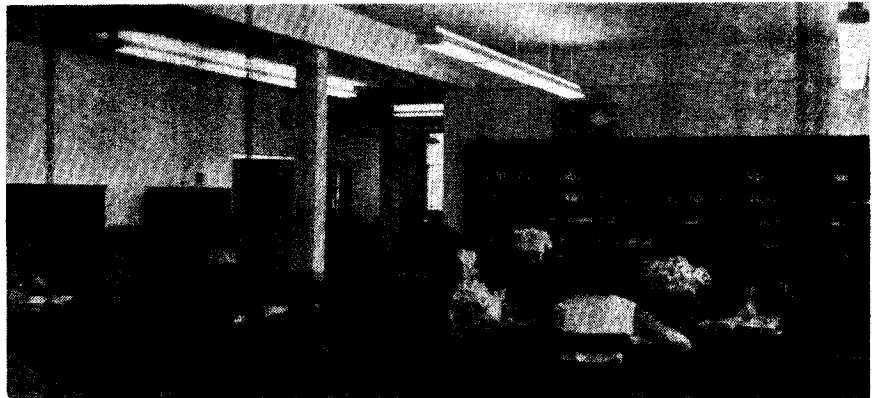

More than a thousand volumes have been added this year. The library subscribes to 150 periodicals, a large number of these being bound and made easily accessible for reference work.

One of the most complete collections of denominational literature is found here. Our holdings on the Review and Herald date back to 1850, when the first volume was published, and the Youth's Instructor collection is also complete. Denominational pamphlets, leaflets, and important clippings from denominational papers have been cataloged into our Denominational Envelope Collection.

From the library of the famous American poet, Edwin Markham, we received as a gift over a thousand volumes, known as the Markham Collection.

Recent Projects

During the past year, the denominational periodicals have been recataloged and rearranged on the shelves.

Reading Room of A. U. C. Library

At the present time, work is being done in rearranging the card catalog, making it possible for students to find desired material more easily. A file of nearly three thousand pictures has been organized and is ready for use.

A visual and audio-visual department is being developed. Adjacent to the library is a room, sound-proofed, to be used as a projection room for classroom purposes and other small organizations. Between three and four hundred phonograph records are obtainable for individual and classroom use.

Atlantic Union College is happy to welcome you to its library and the advantages which it offers.

URMAL STOUT CALKINS
Assistant Librarian
