Nealls Arrive in Cambodia

A Letter from RALPH AND BEATRICE NEALL

Greetings from the ancient fair-land of Cambodia! Boasting an old Buddhist civilization, Cambodia is nevertheless one of the newest independent nations of the world. We are happy to be here in the Lord's service.

Our ship, the S. S. "President Jefferson," sailed from San Francisco at 2:00 a.m. August 27. After two weeks of fairly smooth sailing with pleasant company on board, we docked in Guam, westernmost U. S. possession. It gave us our first view of a true tropical island, although the northern part looked much Americanized.

A few days later we heard our Sanitarium and Hospital in Manila described as the finest in the city. We saw Elder W. J. Hackett, formerly of Southern New England, and several families of C. M. E. doctors.

In Java we were treated to a thrilling, almost terrifying four-hour ride to Bandung, headquarters of the Indonesian Union Mission. The road led through robber-infested mountains, around sharp switchbacks, between tea plantations, and through rice terraces. The view of rice plantations just below Elder C. C. Cleveland's home is magnificent. Many Stateside audiences have seen it in one of the Sabbath school mission films.

After a week of gracious entertainment by the mission families in Singapore, where we met several old friends from the Atlantic Union, we flew to Phnom Penh by way of Bangkok. Once again, we found our medical institution spoken of as the finest in the city.

Elder H. Carl Currie, president of the Southeast Asia Union Mission, flew with us to Phnom Penh. We were glad for his help, since we knew nothing of native bargaining, native foods, or Brother and Sister Ralph Neall, their son Randolph Eugene, and daughter Cheryl Cynthia.

(especially) the native language. He helped us get started.

We are staying temporarily with Brother and Sister C. S. Ling, two of the four Seventh-day Adventists in Phnom Penh. The other two are Chinese also. We found no native Cambodian Adventists. Fortunately Sister

Ling knows English quite well, and can translate for us.

After Elder Currie left we began cooking for ourselves over charcoal fires up on the roof (fourth floor). We were glad to find some unexpected American foods available in the market.

Cambodia is enjoying its cool season now. The temperature seldom varies much from about 82. This is also the end of the wet season, and we see many native homes flooded. We understand the temperature may reach 95 to 97 during the dry season.

Our chief task just now is to learn the language. We have had lessons nearly every day since Elder Currie left. We find the vocabulary fairly easy, but the alphabet of 33 consonants and 26 vowel signs is quite a problem. Other Christian missionaries tell us they study the language six hours a day for two years—and then never stop studying.

We hope to find an open field for evangelism in Phnom Penh and throughout the country. About 99 per cent of the people are Buddhist in faith. Bible correspondence lessons and public meetings should find many honest in heart who will some day stand among God's children on the sea of glass. We ask the continued prayers of our people at home.

New York Center Needs Much Literature

Clean copies of Life and Health, These Times, Signs of the Times, Listen, and Liberty magazines are needed for use at the New York Center. Any number of these magazines can be used. Please mail them to the New York Center, 227 W. 46th St., New York, N. Y.

Arrangements Completed for Boston Outlet

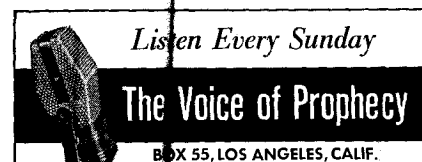

Faith for Today is happy to announce that beginning November 17, its half-hour television program will be seen each Sunday on Boston's new television station WHDH-TV, channel 5. The hour of telecasting has not been announced but newspapers and TV guides will publish it.

Boston is the last major television market in America to be reached by your Adventist television program. Ever since the beginning of Faith for Today, efforts have been made to find an outlet in this area. Now it has happened!

WHDH-TV will cover the nation's sixth largest population area, and New England's biggest. Its TV tower is the tallest in New England and will adequately reach Concord, Manchester, Portsmouth, Worcester, Providence, Fall River, and New Bedford. Some who are favorably located in the Springfield and New London areas will also be able to view the program.

In the area covered by WHDH-TV live over six million people. Now they will be able to tune in a television program that will point them to the message for these times. Watch Faith for Today and invite your neighbors to do the same. Pray for the program and the viewers. Hand out logs and enrollment cards. Help us open the nearly two million homes in this important area to Faith for Today.

"Gang Aft A-Gley"

"The best-laid schemes o' mice an' men," said Bobbie Burns, "gang aft a-gley," which means "oft go amiss." Evidently Scottish Bobbie thought he was acquainted with problems. I am sure, though, he never knew the hazard of laying "schemes" that depended upon synchronizing the terminal point of cabinet-maker, electrician, painter, floor coverer, and last but not the least man in the picture—the mover. But these problems, too, like Bobbie's, have passed away.

At last we are well pleased to announce the good news that you have been waiting to hear. The opening date of the Greater New York Book and Bible House will be Sunday morning, November 24, at 10:00 o'clock. Our complete selection of books and records will be available at camp meeting prices. We are planning to remain open until 10:00 p.m. Brethren J. D. Snider and D. A. Bailey are planning to be with us for the entire day. We all extend to you a cordial invitation. If you are one of our first two hundred visitors that purchase some of our good books, we will be happy to present to you with our compliments a beautiful souvenir gift valued at $10.00.

In order to pack and set up our new home at the New York Center, we find it necessary to close our office from November 17 to 23. No telephone calls or personal visits can be received during that week. Mail orders will be processed, so keep in touch with us by mail. Give books for happier holidays—they are lasting. The more they are used, the more they give.

Former Local Pastor Visits

Elder M. S. Krietzky, pastor of the Russian people in the Greater New York Conference from 1925 to 1937, visited the New York Center and friends in New York over the week end of November 2.

A.S.I. Convention

Elder Jamile Jacobs, together with three other delegates from the Greater New York Conference, attended the National Convention of the Association of Seventh-day Adventist Self-Supporting Institutions held at Takoma Park, D. C., October 28-31.

Two institutions in our conference are members of this association. These are the Adventist Home, Inc., represented at the meeting by Brother A. B. Heiser and Brother Howard Munson, and the Resthaven Nursing Home, represented by Elder J. M. Hoffman. Seventh-day Adventist laymen operating institutions and businesses in every section of the country met together to discuss ways by which they may, through their institutions, advance the cause of God.

The earnest consecrated spirit of these devoted workers was manifest in every phase of the convention proceedings. They discussed ways of closer co-operation and methods whereby they may more effectively witness to the principles and teachings of the church. Their report for 1956 indicates that 597 people became interested in the message through their institutions and 63 were baptized as a direct result of their work.

Port Jervis

Reconstruction of a brick mansion to be the future home of the Port Jervis church was commenced October 22. Preparations are now being made for the installation of steel girders.

Since the time of purchase of this property in 1954 under the leadership of Pastor William King, the members have looked forward to the day when sufficient funds could be raised to go ahead with the conversion of this ideally located mansion on Main Street.

The Lord has certainly blessed us this far in our efforts to provide a suitable and representative house where He may meet with His people in worship.

This building when completed will contain a worship chapel on first floor, school rooms and Dorcas room on a second, a basement for youth activities, and a four-room apartment on third floor.

Banquet Climaxes Meeting of Union Springs Academy Board

After the regular Union Springs Academy Board meeting on October 21, the faculty and board members met in the academy cafeteria for a banquet and social evening. Future plans for the academy were presented by Elder H. J. Capman, chairman of the board.

Elder Jerome Lastine for the district. Thirteen individuals were commissioned, and seven in absentia, making a total of twenty who joined the "120" club.

✓ Under the leadership of Gar Baybrook, president of the Western Sabbath School Association, a very timely and inspiring Sabbath School Association meeting was conducted. Various phases of the Sabbath school work were discussed and opportunity for the children's divisions officers was given to meet together to discuss their problems.

✓ The next two Sabbath School Association meetings are as follows: Central Association, Syracuse, Sabbath, November 16; Eastern Association, Albany, Sabbath, November 23.

✓ The workers of the New York Conference met November 4-7 in the Syracuse church. The main speaker of the meeting was Elder F. D. Nichol of the Review and Herald.

✓ Elder Capman and Elder Burchfield concluded a ten-day revival in the Cortland church, Sunday evening, November 3. A good interest has been aroused and approximately ten individuals have shown an interest to join the church.

✓ A very successful and inspiring teachers' convention was conducted in Rochester, October 27-29. The teachers received their conference certifications and service pins.

✓ Elder and Mrs. Capman were happy to have their son, Elmer, and grandson, James, visit them over the week end. They are from Washington, D. C.

✓ Miss Louise Richardson from the conference office enjoyed a recent visit from her sister, Beatrice, a nurse at the Oneida Mountain Clinic, in Oneida, Ky. This is a very needy field, and a wonderful work is being done there by our consecrated doctors and nurses. ✓ Week of Prayer will soon be here. The dates are November 16-23. This is the annual Fall Week of Prayer and our hope is that every member in the conference will receive a rich spiritual experience during this special week.

Book and Bible House Notes

During the week of November 30 to December 7 the traveling bookstand will visit three districts; namely, Oswego, Auburn, and Rochester. On November 30 we will serve the members of the Dexterville, Ellisburg, Roosevelt, and Pulaski churches at an all-day meeting to be held in the Ellisburg church. The bookstand will open at sundown or immediately following the afternoon service. A cordial invitation is also extended to any who are not members in the Oswego district who would like to come in and enjoy this occasion with us.

Wednesday, December 4, is the day the bookstand will be set up in the dining hall at Union Springs Academy to serve the members of the Auburn district as well as the faculty and students of the academy. This is always one of the high points in our annual holiday tour for especially the students show a great interest in our literature, and it is a real privilege to place hundreds of dollars worth of literature in their hands. Bookstand hours will be 3:00 to 8:00 p.m.

More information will be given in next week's GLEANER concerning the Rochester appointment. To the members of the Rome and Utica districts we would give this reminder—the bookstand will be in the Y.M.C.A. on West Liberty Street in Rome on Saturday night, November 23.

"See You At The Bookstand."

Meet the Murphys

Elder H. R. Murphy, new conference evangelist and pastor of the Bronx church, and his family came to Northeastern from Dallas, Tex., where he was president of the Southwest Region Conference. He brings to us a vast experience of twenty-four years in the ministry.

Elder Murphy comes from Wilmington, N. C., where he finished his grammar school education and then went to Oakwood College in 1926. He completed the academy in 1930 and the junior college in 1933. A year of further study was taken at Morris Brown College in Atlanta, Ga.

His first pastorate was in Bowling Green, Ky., and he entered evangelistic work in Richmond, Va. He spent seven fruitful years of soul-winning in Virginia and three new churches were established.

In 1942, he was called to Birmingham to serve as secretary of the Regional Department of the Alabama-Mississippi Conference and pastor of the church. He conducted four major evangelistic efforts, baptized four hundred persons, and started the building program for the large church that is now used.

When the South Central Conference was organized in 1946, Elder Murphy was elected as first president. As a result of this election, he had to move to Nashville, the conference headquarters. He served nine years as an able leader and built up the conference membership through active evangelism. In 1954 he went to Dallas, Tex., as president of the Southwest Region Conference. It was there that he received and responded to the call of the Northeastern Conference in 1956 to become conference evangelist and pastor of the Bronx church.

Mrs. H. R. Murphy, formerly Louise Crichlow, is a charming and able helpmeet. She is a graduate of Oakwood College (1930) and Tennessee State University, where she majored in history. In 1953 she received her Master's from Tennessee State. At present, Mrs. Murphy teaches social science and English at Northeastern Academy.

Elder and Mrs. H. R. Murphy and Daughter

The Murphys have a daughter, Sylvia Louise, who recently graduated from Union College, Lincoln, Nebr., with her degree in Business Administration. All of her education was obtained in the Seventh-day Adventist institutions, and at present, Miss Murphy is employed in the Bonds and Investment Department of the Presbyterian World Board of Missions in New York City.

Northeastern welcomes the Murphys and wishes them good success in their work.

Ellenville District News

Elder L. H. Davis visited the Ellenville church on Sabbath, October 26, when a district meeting was held; and believers from Albany, Kingston, and Newburgh attended.

During the morning, the writer gave a discourse on temperance, and at the close, the church exceeded its goal by 65 per cent for the Temperance Day offering. In the afternoon, Sister Viola McCoy, MV leader, directed a very inspiring Youth Rally, which was culminated by the showing of the 1957 junior camp films.

Under the leadership of Pastor S. J. Hooper and the local laymen, the church has completed the basement; and during the week of October 20-25, the exterior was painted. Let us remember the members of the Ellenville district as they labor in that part of the vineyard.

Lubec, Maine, Church

Work in the Maine Coast District is continuing to show the blessing of God. We are happy to report twelve baptized, and some more in prospect.

In spite of distress conditions in the Lubec end of the district, earnest, persevering work by members of both Lubec and Milltown churches resulted in both churches receiving the Minuteman banner.

Just now Lubec is struggling to build a church, after more than twenty-five years in rented quarters.

"My Missionary Territory"

In a recent letter sent to us by Elder J. S. Damazo, pastor of the Pawtucket district, he informs us the city of Pawtucket has been divided into forty sections. These sections have been assigned to members and families in the church, and are referred to as "My Missionary Territory." The plan is to see that each home is contacted and that literature is left, including a Faith for Today enrollment card, the tract Can Civilization Survive?, and a Voice of Prophecy radio log. They are in hopes that by spring-time each home within the city limits will have been contacted. As the different areas are worked, a map of that section of the city is being colored. Thus all can see just how the work is progressing.

This project was launched in the 11 o'clock service and details are being followed through in the weekly ten-minute missionary service. Elder Damazo states, "We are having wonderful results. It is doing something for the church as well as for the community." They are concentrating on the giving of Bible studies. A number of the laymen are right there on the firing line.

Others will soon join this group. The pastor further states, "We are aiming on getting each laymen in the business of winning souls." The Attleboro church is also carrying on a similar program.

We are glad for this good word from Elder Damazo. We believe that each church will find it profitable spiritually to the members of the church. Angels of God accompany us when we do this type of service for heaven.

May God find more of us taking our Bibles, going forth in His name to win souls for the heavenly kingdom. Let us pray that the Spirit of God will stir our own souls to larger endeavors so that the coming of Jesus can be hastened.

her health failed, her hope did not waver. She was ever steadfast in the Lord.

Sister Botsford was married to George Botsford on October 23, 1890, and for 58 years they lived a happy life together. Six children were born to their marriage, four of whom still survive her: Ella B. Hewes, Harry G. Botsford, Herschel C. Botsford, all of Poultney, Vt., and Chester G. Botsford of Rutland, Vt. She is also survived by nine grandchildren, including Dr. Cecil G. Hewes, associate professor in the Department of Anatomy at the College of Medical Evangelists, and Warren C. Hewes, Publishing Department secretary of the New Jersey Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. There are also fourteen great-grandchildren.

In 1950, she embraced the truth as held by the Seventh-day Adventist church, and she died in the hope of the resurrection.

Interment was in the Poultney Hill Cemetery, where she awaits the appearing of Jesus to call forth the sleeping saints.

FURBISH—Jairus H. Furbish was born in Presque Isle, Me., May 10, 1877, and passed away at his home in Norridgewock, Me., on Sabbath evening, August 17, 1957.

He had been a member of the Seventh-day Adventist church for twenty-two years, and a charter member of the Benton, Me., Seventh-day Adventist church. During his years as a member of the Norridgewock church, his life of faithfulness and service was a real blessing to many. On the very day of his death, he was found with his family at his place in church worshipping God; he also attended services of the colporteur institute with his son, Earl, during the same day; thus his last hours were spent praising and honoring his Maker.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Ermina, of Waltham, Mass.; four sons, Cecil of Lima, N.Y., Dwight of Georgetown, Me., Earl of South Lancaster, Mass., and Robert Wilmont, a foster son of Norridgewock, Me.; two sisters, Mrs. Rhonda Kenniston and Mrs. Aura Smart, both from Arlington, Mass.; and a brother, Benjamin F. Furbish, of West Sullivan, Me.

Funeral services were conducted in the Norridgewock Seventh-day Adventist church by Elder Arnold R. Swanson, assisted by Elder J. Wyland Wood. He was laid to rest in the Sawyer Cemetery at Plymouth, Me., to await the call of his blessed Saviour on the wonderful resurrection morning. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord . . . that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them." Rev. 14:13.

ARNOLD R. SWANSON

PIERCE—George Pierce was born in Saint Margaret's Bay, Nova Scotia, on January 21, 1883, and died September 26, 1957. Brother Pierce went to his rest after a few years in which he was constantly reminded of poor health and its limitations.

Brother Pierce was married to Elizabeth Mitchell on May 25, 1915, and for 42 years they shared joys and sorrows together. In 1945, he heard God's voice calling and was baptized and became a member of the Seventh-day Adventist church in Bennington, Vt. He remained a faithful and respected member of the church and for many years served it as a deacon.

Brother Pierce was laid to rest on a hillside overlooking the beautiful Pownal Valley, where one day soon the Saviour will break through the clouds over the majestic mountains to come and take His faithful home.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Pierce; two sons, Earl Pierce of Bennington, Vt., and Lawrence Pierce of Cropseyville, N.Y.; one daughter, Mrs. Helen Moon, Williamstown, Mass.; also three stepchildren, several grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

Words of hope and encouragement were spoken by the writer.

Quiet, Earnest Words

It was Friday evening at the close of the Week of Prayer. It had been announced as a testimony meeting. The auditorium was full. There were no psychological tricks, no superficial transient emotionalism, only a deep spirit of reverence and "quiet, earnest words that mean so much."

"I have never been to a Christian school with such a spiritual atmosphere as this. I pray that I may be like Christ. . . ."

"This is the happiest moment of my life. I am so glad I have committed all of my life to God."

"I am so thankful for my Christian parents who made it possible for me to come to this school. . . ."

"God has become so real to me; I want Him to lead every step of my life."

"I have been praying for years but it never had dawned on me that prayer is a two-way communication with the Lord. . . . I want the Lord to find me listening. . . ."

"I have discovered that I can go into a religious experience with all my faculties. . . . eyes wide open and be religious with every part of living."

"My high school friend thought she could not live if she were to give up dancing. I am so happy to have found a much deeper and lasting happiness in serving Christ."

"It was in answer to prayer that I came to this college."

"I have seen the answer to prayer in some of my classmates' testimonies tonight."

"In my life I have found a lack of control in respect to radio, movies, and dancing, but I have found Christ this week. I have got hold of principles for all walks of life. . . ."

"I have been having a struggle with myself and am reaching out and finding what will get me back on my feet. Pray for me. . . ."

"Although I have long been a professed Christian. . . . I have been afraid to be recognized or counted as such; now I want to stand up and be counted for God. . . ."

"I have been having a deep sense of guilt and didn't know what to do with it. To me the entire commitment was a brand new idea. . . . It has helped me confess my guilt and now I am free."

"For the first time I see the true relation between reason and emotion in religious experience. Both are a part of giving ourselves—of walking along together with God. I want my reason to be led by God, my emotion to be directed and controlled."

"I am so happy I have found God here in this college."

"I . . . forgive me if I have wronged you in any way."

"Pray for my father and mother, who are not Christians."

"Pray for my younger brothers."

"In this school the students are genuinely Christian. I know God has led me here."

"I would have been deeply resentful if you had put me in an emotional state and put something over on me. . . . I want God in all my life, to have my will and my feelings."

"I have found peace, joy, and happiness in surrender to God."

"It is really a privilege, not a sacrifice, to serve the Lord."

"I am so thankful for the Sabbath school teacher who seemed glad when I came to Sabbath school; who seemed glad even when I was going to high school and wearing make-up, who liked me and was interested in me. That is why I am here."

"I have been living close to Christ since my baptism five years ago, and I have had many wonderful experiences, but God has never been as real to me as He has been this week."

"A year ago I didn't know what a Christian college was. God led me here. . . ."

"I was looking around for a church to take the children to and I found an Adventist church conveniently near. I shall never forget the reception there. . . ."

"I am standing because I just couldn't stay in my seat tonight."

"I am so thankful my parents helped me to come here. I have found God."

There were hundreds of other testimonies.

Servicemen Honored

A special recognition service for servicemen at the college was held on November 11, at the chapel hour. Former servicemen now in school and other Atlantic Union College students now serving their country were honored at this occasion.

Dr. E. N. Dick, head of the Medical Cadet work for our denomination, was the main speaker for the occasion. Dr. Dick also addressed the servicemen and their wives at a social hour planned for them on Sunday night.

Medical Cadets from South Lancaster Academy acted as color guard for the occasion. On this visit to New England, Dr. Dick inspected the Medical Cadet Corps here and participated in the bivouac held over the weekend at Camp Winnekeag. Jerome Schwartz, dean of boys for the academy, is in charge of the Medical Cadet program.

Professor Rochelle Kilgore is servicemen's secretary for the college and the college church. There are more than sixty former servicemen now enrolled at the college.

Worcester Man Speaks

Francis J. McGrath, city manager of Worcester, was the chapel speaker on November 8. Mr. McGrath was presented by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the economics and business organization of the college. Dr. Charles J. Stokes, advisor for the group, announces that several civic leaders will be presented to various groups on the campus through the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Challengers to Travel

Schedules for the A.U.C. Challengers, the A.T.S. temperance teams of the college, include appointments through November and the first part of December. New programs are being prepared and many new students will be participating this year. It is the policy of the A.T.S. groups to rotate the personnel of the teams for each week so that more students may participate and the programs will not become a burden to any individual student. Ten of the faculty members have also volunteered to help in the work of the Challengers this year. Alice Zawrotniak is chairman of the temperance teams for this term.

On New York Trip

President L. M. Stump left for Syracuse last week, where he was to address the New York Conference workers' meeting on the subject, "What Atlantic Union College Has to Offer Young People of the New York Conference." Dr. and Mrs. Stump will also visit at Union Springs Academy for a few days.

Wedding

Gwendolyn Gay Joy of Camden, Me., became the bride of Judson Burns Jamieson, also of Camden, on October 6 at Lincolnton, Me. The marriage took place in the Seventh-day Adventist church and was performed by the groom's brother-in-law, Elder Arnold R. Swanson, of Norridgewock, Me.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bridal couple left on a motor trip through the White Mountains of New Hampshire. Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson are both graduates of Union Springs Academy. They have made their home for the time being in Camden. The groom will be leaving in the near future for service in the U. S. Army.
