

Southern New England Re-elects Mills and Tilghman

By LEWIS E. LENHEIM, President Atlantic Union Conference

During the past biennium the ministerial workers in the Southern New England Conference baptized 550 souls.

In giving his report to the Sixteenth Biennial Session, President Merle L. Mills stated: "The poignancy of our loss of church accessions for the period is blunted and the picture brightens when we learn that the net gain of membership was 357 or a betterment over the former biennium of approximately 40 per cent. This is the largest net gain we have enjoyed since our conference was reorganized in 1926."

The weather was ideal as the official delegates from every section of the conference gathered in the Little Theatre at Worcester, Mass., for the sixteenth Biennial Session. Elder W. B. Ochs, vice-president of the General Conference for North America, was present for the occasion and delivered the opening address on the subject of "Guidance." His timely remarks and helpful counsel were greatly appreciated. The reports of the president, secretary-treasurer, and departmental heads brought great encouragement to the delegates, and definite advancement was observed along all lines. One of the most important and farreaching actions taken at the session was in reference to a proposed boarding academy for the conference. A large committee was appointed to study the problem and report to the constituency at the coming camp meeting.

Elder Merle L. Mills was unanimously re-elected as president, and Elder Kenneth W. Tilghman was returned to office as secretary-treasurer. All departmental secretaries were re-elected, and the newly elected conference executive committee is as follows: M. L. Mills, K. W. Tilghman, W. E. Baxter, G. A. Coffen, J. S. Damazo, George Davis, L. J. Gaspie, C. W. Guenther, Dr. David Johnson, James Hayward, and W. P. Thurber.

The Session adjourned at 5 p.m. It was an enjoyable and profitable day for the delegates. A good spirit prevailed throughout the meeting and the conference business was handled with dispatch. May the continued blessing of the Lord be upon the newly elected officers and secretaries of the conference, and let us pray that the next two years will prove to be the very best in the history of the Southern New England Conference.

Last Call for Camp Doss

Because your church wants you to be prepared when you are called into military service, Camp Doss is operated for a fraction of the actual cost. The total charge of $31.50 for the two weeks covers all camp expenses, such as registration fee, tuition, board, room, use of fatigue uniform and other camp equipment, use of all required books, insignia to be placed on the uniform, all certificates and chevrons earned at camp, accident insurance while going to, attending, and returning from camp.

Before coming to camp each young man must provide himself with a Class "A" uniform. This consists of suntan shirt and trousers and black shoes. The shirt and trousers are easily secured at local Montgomery Ward, J. C. Penney, or Sears, Roebuck stores. A better grade may be purchased at an Army store. The length of trousers should be $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches from the ground at the heel, and the trousers must not have cuffs. Socks, tie, cap, and belt can be purchased at wholesale prices at camp. It will be cheaper to bring \$3.00 to camp for that purpose.

A single cot will be assigned to each person. Campers should bring pillow, sheets, pillow slips, and two blankets preferably army or navy wool. Remember that the weather is often cold in Michigan in June. Sleeping bags are not acceptable. Some of the young men who attended this camp informer years testify of the help it gave hem:

"Every Seventh-lay Adventist young man should attend Camp Doss. I hope and pray that the camp may continue to serve the young men of the denomnation and that every person who wants to come may find a way. I'm sure they will never be sorry."—Richard Leet, Vestaburg, Michigan.

sure they will never be sorry. —Richard Leet, Vestaburg, Michigan. "Camp Doss taucht me self-discipline. The camp is run by godly men who have instilled in the hearts of hundreds of young men a stronger faith in God and a more faithful allegiance to their country. No young man in the denomination should miss this valuable training." — Themas Newlove, Audubon, Iowa.

"Camp Doss was a real blessing to me. Although I had to sarrifice a lot in order to get there I feel that the blessings received there were worth many times more than the sacrifice. I am thankful to God that such a place as Camp Doss has been made possible. No one who attends ever negrets it."—Daniel Walter, Mexican Hat, Utah

Registration begins at 8:00 a.m. on June 3, and the camp closes at 11:00 a.m. on June 17. If you are a young man of military age you should be there to receive preparation for the tests which you will face if you are called into military service.

Relief Requests

From time to time our church members in the States receive requests from individuals in the Philippines for clothing, food, and a great many similar items. Sometimes these requests are from non-Adventists who, in one way or another, have secured the names of Adventists in America.

It has been suggested that before you respond to any of these requests, you forward said request back to the North Philippine Union Mission, P. O. Box 401, Manila, Philippines, where the request will be screened and every needed assistance rendered to all worthy and needy cases, whether Adventists or non-Adventists. This procedure concerns relief and not literature.

The fact remains that we have a Welfare and Relief organization functioning in both the North and South Philippine Unions, and we believe that they can handle every legitimate request for aid. Needless to say, our people do appreciate what our people have sent, but no doubt referring the requests back to the Union office in Manila can contribute to greater efficiency.

A Most Successful Way Of Saving Souls

On Sabbath afternoon, April 12, two precious souls from Port Jervis were baptized in the Middletown church by Elder Senecal.

Although Mrs. Earl Prest has three lovely children, she still finds time to search for souls about eight hours a week the literature way. About a year ago she sold Mrs. Ryerson a Great Controversy and found her to be interested in the study of the Bible. Pastor and Mrs. Prest gave her studies and she accepted Christ and the third angel's message.

In the same town last summer, Brother Jennings and Michael Lay sold Mrs. Harris a Bible Readings, gave her a few studies, and turned the interest over to Pastor Prest. After nine months she also followed her Lord in baptism.

Perhaps, dear reader, you should devote some time to this type of ministry. We read: "This is the very work the Lord would have His people do at this time." (italics ours) The servant of the Lord has also said: "God has ordained the canvassing work . . . for were it not for the efforts of the canvasser, many would never hear the warning." News Notes

Investiture services were held in five of our church schools recently, according to Elder M. E. Erickson, Missionary Volunteer secretary. The young people from Albany, Troy, Buffalo, Olean, Wayland, and Randolph received their scarves and pins for the various classes, and a few senior young people were invested as Master Guides. Three Missionary Volunteer rallies were recently held in New York Conference. April 19 the first was held in Auburn: May 3, in Saratoga Springs; and May 10, in Buffalo. In each of these three area rallies, all-day meetings were held, including special Voice of Youth features and the presentation of "The Prisoner at the Bar."

Friends of Elder and Mrs. Jerry Lastine, who are on leave for a year of service in Bermuda, will be interested to know that a son, Robert Allen Lastine, was born on April 18.

✓ Baptisms were reported by ministers in the New York Conference, as of the end of April, as follows: V. A. Anderson, J. S. Blahovich, G. E. Carter, and R. E. Pleasants, 1 each; W. G. Ambler, R. E. Ferris, and G. H. Greene, 2 each; H. N. Bresee, 3; K. B. Burke, 5; Louise DeLillo, 6; S. W. English, 8.

Book and Bible House Notes

Touch and Live, by George E. Vandeman, will be one of the very new books you will find at the camp meeting bookstand when it opens August 7. This volume contains thirteen sermons which are the identical scripts of the author's weekly telecasts on both the West Coast and in the Washington, D.C., area. They are as up-to-date in appeal as the titles "Atomic Trigger" and "Psychic Masquerade" would suggest. They throb with personal conviction and are alive with apt illustrations of the principles of Christian living and thinking which they extol. This book comes recommended as one of the best for the breaking down of prejudice in non-believers. This volume is already in stock at the Book and Bible House for those desiring a copy immediately. See your church missionary secretary or send an order direct to your Book and Bible House. Price $1.50, plus 15c postage.

Investiture Service

Over five-hundred church school and academy pupils met at the Ephesus church Wednesday, May 14, to participate in one of Northeastern's largest Investiture services, under the direction of Elder L. H. Davis, secretary of the Missionary Volunteer Department of the conference.

The children in attendance were from the Manhattan Elementary School, Bethel Elementary School, and the Northeastern Academy. In addition to the regular Investiture services there were musical numbers given by the boys and girls chorus from Bethel, the eighth grade chorus from Manhattan. Demonstrations of knot-tieing, bandaging, and craft work were given by the children.

At the Investiture service proper 50 children in the Junior Preparatory received the Builders pin, 49 received the Helping Hand pin, 24 received the Busy Bee pin, and 44 received the Sunbeam pin. In the Junior MV Group 34 were invested as Friends, and 68 as Companions. Four teachers received the Master Guide pins — Miss Anne Palmer, Mrs. E. F. Carter, Miss Helen Belt, Mrs. Winifred Faison.

Transportation to G.C.

Those who are looking for transportation to General Conference will be interested in a pleasant trip sponsored by the Ephesus Dorcas Welfare Society and Oakwood Educational Club. Private coaches will be leaving New York Penn Station Wednesday, June 18, at 5 p.m. The cost is $33.52 round trip, which is a sizable discount from the reguar train ticket price to Cleveland. It is required that all leave at the time specified but you may return any time within thirty days. Some of the features are: private compartments, stewarderss-nurse service, health food prepared by the Dorcas Society and the Oakwood Alumni group, spacious, clean washroom lounges, individual reclining seats, slumber coaches for those who desire beds, observation lounge car and refreshment shop.

Baptisms

The first bartism of the year in the Bridgeport and Nyack district was conducted on the week end of May 10. These two churches, under the pastorship of Elder S. A. Hutchins, have been carrying on active lay and public effort evangelism. In the Bridgeport church Pastor Hutchins has been conducting a three-nights-a-week series.

church Pastor Hutchins has been conducting a three-nights-a-week series. Elders S. A. Hutchins and F. L. Jones conducted a baptism in Nyack in which five persons were baptized. The following Sunday evening Elders S. A. Hutchins and R. H. Carter of New Rochelle conducted a baptismal service in Bridgeport in which seven people were baptized. The baptismal classes of both churches are still active with people preparing for the next baptism. In addition to this regular evangelistic program they have a strong program being cartied on for the young people in the Bridgeport church. Sabbath, May 12, a baptismal service was held in the New Rochelle Seventh-day Adventist church, at which seven people went through the ceremony of baptism. Elder Stovall was the speaker for the evening. It was stated that the five that were baptized from the White Plains area were the result of Bible study and lay evangelism work done by that church. In addition to these several others were preparing for the August baptism.

Headlines for S.D.A. School

Principal Roger Holton of the West Lebanon Seventh-day Adventist School is also church press secretary. He has kept church and school news flowing regularly into the office of the Valley News (the leading daily newspaper for central New Hampshire). The public relations program carried on by Brother Holton has resulted in much favorable publicity for our church and school. Often when the news editor wishes a picture of a school in connection with some civic project, he sends his photographer to our church school. A recent example was the May 6 headline picture on the front page showing the pupils in Miss Christine Dyer's room observing the Civil Defense instructions during the nation-wide test that morning. The caption stated that this school's participation was an example of what was taking place in all of the Valley schools.

Brother Holton is choir leader for the church, and in his spare time gives Bible studies and does some canvassing work.

Church Schools

"The Head and Not the Tail" Maine's new school law goes into effect September 1, 1960, which among other items requires all elementary schools in the state to make an annual report and receive annual approval before they can continue in operation.

Our educational committeee was authorized by the state to make a test of the new requirements so we asked our school boards and teachers to fill out the new reports. There was much correspondence between the state department and our office, but our school boards and teachers courageously met the challenge, and through sacrifice increased the instructional and equipment facilities and made the necessary changes in their schedules so that now all of our Maine church schools have been approved and are displaying the new state certificate of approval. We understand that our church schools are now the only schools in Maine, including both private and public schools, which have met the terms of the new law and have been approved and certified. The efforts of our schools to comply with the new law before it became mandatory have placed our schools in a unique historic position.

Report Shows Loss

The report for this week shows a loss of $6,293.31. Bermuda has a gain of $1,655.03, and Northeastern $1,935.99 as compared with last year. The other conferences have a loss. We are confident that this loss will not continue and we feel that plans are already under way in every conference so that the loss will be wiped out and we will have a gain for the year. New York leads with a per capita of $23.47, followed by Greater New York and Southern New England.

We will be wanting reports for two more weeks, one for the 28th of May and one for the 4th of June.

Summer School More than 130 applications for summer school have been received by the registrar's office of the college. This is the largest number of applicants for the summer session, as far as is known, and represents a substantial increase over last year. More applications are coming in dail

The Intersession, lasting for three weeks and ending June 17, is already under way with classes offered in six departments. The main session begins July 1 and ends August 20. Course work in practically all departments of instruction will be available for the summer. New England is pleasant in summer and the cultural advantages of study here are numerous.

From June 17 to July 1, during the time of the General Conference, there will not be any classes.

Summer Series

The college chapter of the American Temperance Society has just announced that it will present a special summer series of Saturday night programs in Machlan Auditorium. They will be billed as "Surprise Nights" and will feature a large variety of items including special major motion pictures, live dramatic sketches, audience participation guizes, and musical numbers.

Chapter president Erling Odell, who will be director and host for the series, stated that only clues will be announced for each program. "We plan to have such superior programs," he added, "that anyone within commuting distance will not dare miss a single program." He further stated that it is the hope and aim of the chapter to set a new precedent in recreation for our people. The programs will not only entertain, but also instruct, enlighten, inspire and induce greater patriotism for country and denomination.

The first three dates for the series are listed for June 7, 21, and July 12. Others are being arranged for later dates. Starting time is scheduled for 9:00 p.m. and admission will be by contribution of 50 cents, with children under 10, with parents, free.

The June 7 program will feature a sneak preview of a new Cinemascope and color film, along with other surprises.

Evangelism at A.U.C.

The program of evangelism at Atlantic Union College extends to large numbers of students not enrolled in evangelism classes.

A Voice of Youth campaign at Harvard, Mass., gave opportunity for participation to many speakers, as well as musicians, ushers, and other helpers.

The evangelism class with Elder L. E. Tucker conducted a fifteen-meeting evangelistic series at the Lowell Seventh-day Adventist church. Elder Tucker was the speaker for the series, with evangelism students taking over other duties at the evening meetings and participating in the visitation and Bible study program. Ten persons took a stand for uniting with the church. Three have already been baptized, and another baptism is planned for the near future. (Continued on page 6)
