Voice of Prophecy Offering Set for October 11

By ELMER R. WALDE, Secretary
General Conference Radio-TV Department

"A minister with a message and a microphone reaches a million in a moment."

This describes in a very few words the instantaneous impact of the denominational radio program, the Voice of Prophecy. By it millions of individuals around the world have an opportunity to listen to the gospel message every week and to receive the spiritual help they urgently need.

Through the ministry of the Voice of Prophecy many a person with a bruised and lonely soul has discovered the healing companionship of Christ and fellowship with His people. Thousands who have tasted the bitterness of separation from their loved ones taken in death have found blessed comfort. And yet others, seeking the Way, the Truth, and the Life, have found Him!

During the past quadrennium nearly a million persons applied for a Voice of Prophecy Bible correspondence course. Students sent in nearly four million test papers for grading. The Voice of Prophecy reported more than 26,000 interested persons to be followed up, and of these more than 6,000 were baptized. Dollars invested in the Voice of Prophecy have brought rich returns.

While we thank God for the success that has followed the work of the Voice of Prophecy, even more could be done by going on additional stations now making time available to us. Surely we must use radio even more in the future than at present, as we face the tremendous challenge of an unfinished task.

Even as we consider these opportunities that are opening up before us whereby a greater work could be done, we are sorely vexed with the realization that it may be necessary for us to cut back in the work because of the great effect of the increase of postage rates and the increase in station time costs. To us who are so close to this work, and who can see its results and possibilities so plainly, this would be nothing short of a catastrophe.

Never before have the expenses of the Voice of Prophecy at this time of year so far exceeded the income. Fortunately, the day upon which the Voice of Prophecy offering will be taken is not far away. Never before, even in its beginning, have the workers at the Voice of Prophecy so earnestly prayed and hoped for an offering large enough to cover present demands and, if possible, to expand in the future.

The goal of $150,000 is the minimum amount that must be raised in order to see us successfully through this time of financial perplexity. We would like to urge every pastor, every elder, and every church member to pray earnestly over the matter of how much he should give for the Voice of Prophecy on October 11. Somehow we believe that the Spirit of God will put it into all our hearts to give more than we ever have given before, for who of us who names the name of Christ favors a retreat at this time when God says "Go Forward."

"Bearer of the Book"

Bearer of the Book is the title of a new 28-minute sound motion picture in color of the worldwide work of the American Bible Society that highlights the Society's distribution of the Scriptures in many tongues and many lands.

The picture starts in the beautiful canyon country of northeast Arizona, ancestral land of the great Navajo tribe; from there to the Indian people living around Lake Atitlan in Guatemala, colorful and picturesque land of Central America; by the magic carpet of the camera the viewer is transported to Africa, where Scriptures from the Bible Society are helping to shape the lives of Congolese boys in the Congo where Protestant missions are educating a half-million children; then back to the continent of South America. Here you learn that even with the great increase of Scripture distribution over the last 10 years the Bible Society cannot keep up with the great demand for Bibles in this land of evangelistic opportunity. Back to the homeland the camera carries you to follow the work of the Bible Society in this country as the Scriptures are brought to neglected areas and to people in need, particularly the blind.

Whichever country you see, whatever people you watch, the fact that speaks so vividly in the Bearer of the Book is that the message of John 3:16 is the same in the United States as in the Congo or Latin America.

The World Premiere of the new film will be held the evening of October 9 at the Carillon Hotel Auditorium in Miami Beach, Florida. General James A. Van Fleet, U.S. Retired, will be Master of Ceremonies at this meeting.

Following its premiere, the film can be secured for a four-dollar service charge from the American Bible Society in New York City.

Scully Addresses Assembly

Elder James V. Scully, leader of youth activities for the American Temperance Society, last week addressed a special student assembly conducted by the College Chapter of the A.T.S. He was introduced by Elder Vernon W. Becker, temperance secretary of the Atlantic Union Conference.

Elder Scully challenged the college youth to high standards of living, and especially emphasized the effect of the use of alcohol in heredity, even to the third and fourth generations. He described briefly his visit to the Rosewood State Training School in Maryland, a hospital for the mentally ill children of that area. He related some of the experiments being conducted by Dr. Dora Papara-Nicholson in her research with rats and guinea pigs in studying the effects of alcohol upon descendants of people using alcohol.

At a joint worship program that same evening, Elder Scully appeared again and answered questions from the students.

Elders Scully and Becker have spent several days recently visiting the academies throughout the Atlantic Union, as well as the New England Sanitarium and Hospital and Atlantic Union College.

Disney Film Slated

It has become traditional in recent years for the academy to present a Walt Disney film as its annual fall benefit, and this year adds another outstanding achievement by the veteran motion picture producer.

Felix Salten's well-known story, Perri, has provided the model for this year's offering, Disney's first True Life Fantasy. This is the second time one of Salten's beloved stories has been created for the screen by Disney. They had previously collaborated on Bambi, which today stands as a distinguished classic.

In the forest solitudes of northern Utah, remote from all human traffic, this Technicolor production unfolds nature's own love story in the lives of all the animals involved in this fascinating wildlife drama.

Perri, whose life and loves become the center of a great adventure, is a dainty, perky, frolicsome little female pine squirrel. Porro is her admiring companion.

For the better part of two years, eight of the nation's top wildlife photographers lived in a mountain wilderness camp recording every act and mood around which the film was made.

Perri will be shown at 8:15 Saturday night, October 4, in Machlan Auditorium. A March of Time subject, Palestine, will be an added unit. Admission will be 50 cents for students and 85 cents for others.

Weddings

Weiss-Knittle

Jean Weiss and Orlando Knittle were married in Providence Rhode Island on August 24. Attendants included Betty Parrett and Marilyn Mamay. The bride graduated from A.U.C. in 1957 with an English major. The groom is laboratory technician in the Hillside Hospital in Ukiah, California.

"Give Ye Them to Eat"

Just as the disciples wondered how they could feed the hungry multitude with five loaves and two fishes, you may wonder how the spiritually hungry multitude can be fed today. The same God lives today that blessed and multiplied the loaves and fishes. He will bless and multiply our contributions if we are faithful.

Dorcas Federation to Offer Benefit Concert

Dorothy Evans Ackerman, formerly on the music staff at Atlantic Union College and now professor of voice at Southern Missionary College, will give a benefit concert in the New York Center Saturday night, October 25. The concert is being sponsored by the Metropolitan Dorcas Federation in an effort to raise funds for a change in the heating system at the Adventist Home at Livingston, N.Y.

Mrs. Ackerman is a gifted contralto whose rich voice and friendly personality has endeared her to the hearts of many of the church members throughout the Atlantic Union Conference. She has given concerts throughout the eastern section of the United States from Maine to Florida. She has done extensive concert work in the oratorio field and has been church soloist in a number of large churches in Massachusetts; Atlanta, Ga.; Nashville, Tenn.; and Washington, D.C. Mrs. Ackerman was soloist on Faith for Today from 1950 to 1952 and during that time she sang at a number of churches in the New York area.

Roger McNeily, tenor in the Faith for Today quartet, will join Mrs. Ackerman in the concert. They have worked together in concerts before. Mrs. Marjorie H. Henslee, organist for Faith for Today, will be accompanist.

Tickets to the concert are available to all who make a contribution of one dollar or more. Many will willingly contribute more than the one dollar, and all who do so will be considered as "boosters" of the benefit program. Tickets are available through the Dorcas societies of all metropolitan churches.

Spanish V.B.S.

The first Spanish Vacation Bible School in the Greater New York Conference was held in Bay Shore by Elder and Mrs. H. S. Mendez this August.

Twenty-seven Spanish-speaking children, thirteen from non-Adventist homes, enrolled. Although the Vacation Bible School was conducted in Spanish, the regular English V.B.S. books were used, since the children have learned to read and write only in English.

A non-Adventist druggist and grocer whose children were in the Vacation Bible School voluntarily gave gifts for the school. One mother expressed a desire for a longer Vacation Bible School. Approximately eighty persons attended the closing program.

Three children have joined the regular Sabbath school as a result of having attended the Vacation Bible School, and one parent has manifested real interest in the church.

Elder Mendez reports that the Vacation Bible School has been a very successful missionary program. Through it they have won friends in their community and have broken down much prejudice.

In a recent issue of the GLEANER we reported four Vacation Bible Schools in our conference this summer. This Spanish school brings the total to five schools conducted, with 311 children enrolled. Present reports indicate 12 children enrolled in the Sabbath school, seven parents interested in the church, and two children in church school as a result of these Vacation Bible Schools.

Miller Chapel Memorial Service

On October 22, 1844, a group of ardent Adventist people gathered on a limestone ledge near Hampton, N.Y., to meet Christ, who was supposed to come down to earth from heaven on that day. He didn't come.

On Sunday, August 31, 1958, another group of Adventists, the Seventh-day Adventists, gathered on the same spot, and they too are looking for the coming of Christ.

The Seventh-day Adventists had not set August 31 as the date of Christ's second coming to earth, though. They gathered on "Ascension Rock," as the place has become known, as part of a memorial service held once each year in the William Miller chapel, a small, simple building located nearby. This was the fourth annual memorial service in the chapel by Seventh-day Adventists.

Elder Arthur L. White, director of the Ellen G. White Publications office at the General Conference, delivered the memorial address. He said that Seventh-day Adventists affirm that Christ's second coming is "imminent," but they believe the Bible instruction, that "of that day and hour knoweth no man."

He reviewed the life of William Miller, in whose honor the chapel was built, as a vigorous exponent of Adventism; and the disappointment Miller's followers suffered as a result of date-setting in regard to the second coming. He paid tribute to Captain Miller, a good citizen of the community, an honored captain in the War of 1812, and the leader of the Adventist movement in America in the early 1800's.

Up-state Federation: October 5, 10:30 a.m., Adventist Home, Livingston, N.Y. (Bring sandwiches; drink and dessert will be provided by the Home.)

Metropolitan Federation: October 6, 10:00 a.m., New York Center, 4th floor Chapel, 227 West 46th St., New York City.

Every Dorcas worker urged to attend these meetings. It is most important that every Dorcas leader and secretary be present.

Nancy Offensend, great-great-great-granddaughter; Dorothy Offensend, great-great-great-granddaughter; and George Backus, great-grandson. Other relatives in back row. Elder Arthur L. White was the guest speaker at the meeting.

This movement reached a climax on October 22, 1844, when the day passed without the predicted return of Christ to earth.

Elder White is the grandson of Elder James and Mrs. Ellen G. White, who accepted the Adventist message through the preaching of William Miller. They became pioneers in the Seventh-day Adventist movement, which is one of several denominations that grew out of the message proclaimed by William Miller. The Seventh-day Adventist is the largest of these denominations today, numbering about 1,250,000 members in about 190 countries in the world.

Elder White led the audience, after the sermon in the chapel, to the site of the Baptist church in which Miller began preaching the Advent message, to the home of Miller, and to "Ascension Rock." The spot in the maple grove where Miller prayed and promised God that if he was invited to preach he would accept the invitation, was also pointed out.

Present at the memorial service was a grandson of William Miller, Attorney Philip M. M. Phelps of Fair Haven, Vt. He donated the chapel to be held jointly by the Advent Christians and the Seventh-day Adventists. Also present were three-generation descendants of Solomon Miller, brother of William Miller. These were George Backus, great-grandson; Dorothy Offensend, great-great-granddaughter; and Nancy Offensend, great-great-great-granddaughter.

Book and Bible House Notes

Eastward Ho! is the title of the newest book to reach our office from our publishing houses. This interesting volume is written by Pearl L. Hall, associate professor of Romance languages at Union College in Lincoln, Neb. Miss Hall started traveling to further her knowledge of languages and the peoples behind the languages, and from a recent trip comes Eastward Ho! In this odyssey of adventure in the Middle East, the writer takes you on an exciting, fascinating trip to visit, among a host of things, the tombs of Pharaohs, dancing dervishes, and the fallen splendor of the Acropolis. Miss Hall does not miss the human drama either. She tells of Arab women hanging clothes out to dry on the desert bushes along the road to Mount Sinai and watching tailors working on Singer sewing machines in Jerusalem. One manuscript reader states: "The author has the ability to carry the reader along with her, sharing the many experiences that make this book so interesting and stimulating. This is a book that will not only add to the reader's knowledge but will also bring him many a pleasant hour as he shares with Miss Hall her thrilling trip through these ancient lands." Order now for yourself and your friends through your church missionary secretary or direct from your Book and Bible House. The price is $2.50 plus 15 cents postage.

Laymen's Congress

Plans are in progress for one of Northeastern's greatest laymen's conventions, which will be held Sabbath, October 18, at Rockland Palace.

In addition to the following speakers—E. E. Cleveland, G. A. Coon, L. E. Esteb, W. J. Hackett, and F. L. Peterson—there will be a pictorial display of laymen's soul-winning activities in Northeastern. Elder Coon is the evangelist for Southern Union and will give instruction on how to improve soul-winning techniques, and Elder Hackett is the new Atlantic Union Conference president.

Elder Bradford has promised a most interesting day and expects all to be present.

Evangelism

Over 250 people have been baptized during the month of September as result of summer evangelistic meetings. This figure includes the twenty-seven persons Elder G. R. Earle baptized Sabbath, September 13, and he will have another baptism on the 27th. Elder Earle is conducting his meetings in Jamaica, N.Y.

It is anticipated that over 300 will soon have been baptized; and in addition to these summer efforts, plans are in the making for a number of fall efforts.

THE MESSAGE REACHES MEN IN HIGH PLACES

. . . and in all walks of life.

His Excellency, Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, has sent through his embassy a letter commending what he terms "the great humanitarian work being done by THE MESSAGE MAGAZINE."

And many more people of influence around the world are reading this publication and finding in it the answer to a multiplicity of problems. You send gift subscriptions in these directions because of your increased awareness of the Christian obligation. You realize that the problem of spreading the gospel to the world is your problem—to think about, to understand, and to support with every available means. You want to know what needs to be done and how you can help.

The price is only $2.00 a year for single subscriptions and 1.75 a year in quantities, 6 or more.

Here, briefly, are some of the requests that people across the world are making for THE MESSAGE MAGAZINE in 1958:

From Bandung:

"I can testify of the good influence THE MESSAGE MAGAZINE has among Indonesian officials. . . . I wish I could secure many more for free distribution."

—A. Leonard Lesiasol.

From the Philippines:

"THE MESSAGE is a wonderful magazine. . . . I would appreciate copies of it for the Philippine field."

—Fely R. Abaya.

From Egypt:

"I am of the conviction that we should be using THE MESSAGE MAGAZINE more and more . . . in the Middle East."

—Neal C. Wilson.

We urge you to plan for a considerable use of THE MESSAGE MAGAZINE in your program of missionary work for the coming year. We think that every member should subscribe for himself, for his friends, and certainly for the workers who are waiting to place literature in the hands of hungry thousands in mission lands.

beautiful Armory in Augusta, Me. From the opening meeting Friday evening, with conference president, A. E. Millner, as speaker, to the closing social Saturday evening, every moment will be filled with inspiration for youth and by youth. A variety of the best musical talent in the conference as well as quartets, trios, and a trumpet trio from Atlantic Union College and the New England Sanitarium will be provided.

The theme, "Inspiration from the past; faith for the future," will be carried out throughout the meetings. A backward glance into early Adventist history will be provided Sabbath morning by a "pioneer" Sabbath school, with Elder Arnold Swanson as superintendent. The speaker for the 11:00 a.m. service will be Elder T. E. Lucas of the General Conference MV Department, whose messages never fail to bring inspiration and courage to youth and adults alike.

The 2:30 program, "Doors of Opportunity," will feature some of the descendants of the Adventist pioneers and at 3:45, Adventist youth will take part in a lively panel discussion on "Community Service."

Climaxing the rally will be the meeting at 6:00 p.m., "The Living Church Moving the World Godward." This colorful and unforgettable program was one of the highlights of the General Conference in Cleveland, and it is something every Seventh-day Adventist should see. This program will close at 7:30 and a social evening of games and recreation has been planned for those who wish to stay. If you are a young person, or if you can remember when you were young, you won't want to miss this rally! S. A. RENZI

Bookmen Convene

The Annual Colporteur Institute of the Northern New England Conference was held at Camp Lawroweld, Me., August 13-17. The opening message was brought by Elder A. E. Millner Wednesday evening. The next morning our program of events began at seven o'clock. The early morning prayer meetings were presided over by Carrol Lombard of Rochester, N.H. His speakers were H. B. Colburn, Lewis Fleming, Roger Holton, and Samuel Lombard.

Each morning at nine o'clock we assembled for our devotional talks. We remember the exhortation to "take time to heart—there is but a little time to do the work" and to "keep at your work, be as steady as a star" as brought by Elder J. W. Clarke from Rochester. Mrs. C. H. Smith's message on "Choices" caused us all to think back over the years and decisions that brought us the place where we are called God's literature evangelists.

The other meetings of the days brought instruction from C. H. Smith, union publishing secretary, and S. L. Clark from the Review and Herald Periodical Department. Demonstrations were made by Ronald Turk and Carrol Lombard, and a panel of seven members answered questions from the floor. R. E. Aldrich, manager of the Book and Bible House, was with us, and he gave counsel where needed and made certain we had plenty of good food.

We are indebted to Roger Holton of West Lebanon, N.H., for the beautiful music arranged for us and interspersed throughout our sessions. Many were the vocal solos, duets, trios, and instrumental numbers which we enjoyed.

The children thank Brother Holton, too, for their song fests.

Recreational hours were provided and we thank R. E. Aldrich for ball equipment, Elder J. D. Meade for boat and water privileges, Elder J. W. Clarke for water front directing, and Bill Blair for a mountain climbing trip.

As the sun set and Sabbath began we seated ourselves to be blessed by the meeting arranged by student colporteur Merrill Carkin. We rejoiced to hear such testimonials as: "This work has become a new challenge to my life." (J. Currie); "I try to have prayer in every home." (R. Clausen); "It is not just sales which keep anyone in this work but the personal contacts where we can see definite results." (R. Turk); "God impresses us with words to speak." (E. Getchell); "The angels go before us." (G. Carkin).

The Sabbath afternoon (first part) symposium presented experiences told by part-time and regular colporteurs. These men and women are laboring to be obedient to God's command when He said: "Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel; therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me." (Ezek. 3:17)

The symposium (second part) was presided over by Elder C. H. Smith. Elder Smith interviewed all of the student colporteurs and called for experiences from some. We were pleasantly surprised for the response of our people from nearby churches to our afternoon symposium; every available seat was filled.

Our closing meeting was held Sunday morning at seven o'clock in which each one was given opportunity to testify for his Master.

We came away from Camp Law-

Colporteurs at Institute held at Camp Lawroweld

rowled with the feeling that these crucial days demand our very best for the Master.

Worcester District Meeting

Elder H. R. Thurber and the members of the Worcester church will welcome any of our believers who would like to come and worship with them on Sabbath, October 4, in a district meeting. We are very happy to announce that we will have as our guest speaker at the 11:00 service our new union conference president, Elder W. J. Hackett. There will be a special meeting in the afternoon, when a picture used at the General Conference Session will be shown.

Outstanding soul-winning experiences will be related by a number of our laymen from the Pawtucket district. Brethren Eva and Groth and Brother and Sister Sargeant plan to be present with some of their trophies.

In the evening a picture in color will be shown. A social time will be enjoyed by all.

We are inviting each member in the Worcester district to be present and bring a friend. And a special invitation is extended to all other members who can meet with the church on October 4.

Sabbath school begins at 9:30. The afternoon service will start at 2:30, and the evening meeting at 7:30.

A.S.I. Meeting

We have a very splendid group of Self-Supporting Institutions in our conference. Our members would enjoy visiting these institutions, where a wonderful work is being done in the name of the Lord. The workers are endeavoring to uphold the standards of Seventh-day Adventists. The Saviour said, "Come ye apart and rest a while."

Plans have been made for a meeting to be held in the Battle Creek Sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich., November 3, 4 and 5, for our Self-Supporting Institutions. We hope we will have representatives from each member institution at this important gathering.

Greater Boston Academy

Greater Boston Academy opened its doors September 3. The current enrollment is 97.

Growth is seen not only in our student body but also in our faculty. Members of last year's staff still with us include Eugene Wilson, mathematics, science and music instructor; Morris Lowry, Bible and history instructor; Miss Shirley Stiles, English and history; and Miss Magdalene Schlenker, French and typing.

Mrs. Beverly Wilson, who taught home economics last year, has left us to join her husband at the Hartford Institute in Connecticut. We regret our loss to their gain.

New members joining our faculty staff are Miss Edythe Mansfield, Mrs. Eleanor Pelletier, and Charles Zuill.

Miss Mansfield comes to us from Athol, Mass., having graduated from Atlantic Union College with a B.A. in home economics. She has had experience in this field, as she taught last year at the North Brookfield (Mass.) High School. She will teach home economics, English I, and girls' gym.

Mrs. Eleanor (Lashua) Pelletier will be the new librarian and instructor in algebra I, and geometry classes. She graduated this spring from State Teachers College at Boston with a B.S. in the fields of education and mathematics and is the first graduate of G.B.A. to return to her school as a staff member.

Our part time staff consists of two—Jon Asgeirsson, who will continue as band director, and Charles Zuill. The introduction of art into the curriculum brings Mr. Zuill to us from Bermuda, a B.A. graduate from A.U.C. Louis Renzi, former physical education instructor, has transferred to Walla Walla College, Washington. Miss Mansfield and Mr. Wilson will instruct these classes for the girls and boys respectively.

New courses that will supplement last year's offering and their respective instructors are: art (Mr. Zuill), general math replacing general business (Mrs. Pelletier), German I and short-hand I (Miss Schlenker), and wood-working (Mr. Lowry).

● Elder Morris Moyer and family, who have been working in West Africa for a number of years, will be flying back to their place of labor October 3, after a few months' stay here in the home land. Elder Moyer acted as pastor of the Bridgeport district for a few weeks.

● The State Fair of Danbury, Conn., opened September 27. The church is having three booths: one for Faith for Today, another for showing the film "One In Twenty Thousand," and one for the Publishing Department. Let us pray for the success of this work. Brother Rolfe Mitchell is chairman of the fair committee.

● Sabbath, October 4, is National Field Visitation Day. Approximately one hundred thousand tracts entitled "Space Travel—Fact or Fancy?" are ready for distribution on this day.

● Twenty-two are attending the Light Bearer's Training class which is being conducted by Elder Fowler in the Springfield church.

● The youth of the South Lancaster church spent a very pleasant afternoon of recreation, games, and swimming at Camp Winnekeag, Sunday, September 14. At the close of the day's activities they all gathered around the campfire and enjoyed delicious corn and potatoes roasted in the embers of the campfire.

● The opening meeting of the Williamite evangelistic series was held in the town hall September 20. There was a good attendance, with thirty-five to forty non-Adventists present. The subject was "Are Other Worlds Inhabited?" Featured guest was Brother Joseph Melashenko. He and his five sons gave a concert prior to the lecture.

OBITUARIES

GONSALVES—Frank J. Gonsalves was born on October 19, 1874, at Flores, Azores, and died on September 10, 1958, in Taunton, Mass.

Brother Gonsalves came to the United States at the age of 16 and settled in Taunton, Mass. He became a member of the Seventh-day Adventist church 46 years ago, being baptized by Elder W. W. Rice.

From 1912 to 1921 he was a licensed minister and labored untiringly in behalf of the Portuguese people. Largely due to his efforts and God's blessings, Portuguese churches were established in Taunton and New Bedford.

Brother Gonsalves passed away peacefully, firmly believing in the soon return of Christ.

He left to mourn a sister, Mrs. Mary Soares; three brothers, Lawrence Gonsalves, John Gonsalves, and Charles Gonsalves; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Dias, Mrs. Doris Dever, and Mrs. Emma Pine; and one son, Frank Gonsalves, Jr. There are also three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

PAUL F. BORK

HUSSEY—Mrs. Evelyn Ada Hussey was born October 8, 1879, at Pembroke, Nova Scotia, and died June 15, 1958, at her home in China, Me. She lived in Massachusetts from the time she was three years of age until eleven years ago, when her husband, Walter, retired. She was a member of the Lynn, Mass., church, where she was an enthusiastic worker for a number of years.

She was a descendant of Rev. Steven Mumford of London, England, who founded the Seventh Day Baptist church at Newport, R.I., in 1671.

She is survived by a son, Elmore Hussey of China, Me.; a daughter, Mrs. Otto Merz of Waterville, Me.; two granddaughters, Glenys Longley and Ottina Merz of Waterville, Me.; one brother, Clarence Fielding of Mont Vernon, N.H.; one sister, Mrs. Effie Webster of Los Angeles, Calif.

Services were conducted by the S.D.A. minister of Norridgewock, Maine, and burial was in Union Cemetery, Amesbury, Mass.

KNEELAND—Benjamin Franklin Kneeland was born on August 18, 1874, in Orleans, Mich., and passed to his rest on September 7, 1958, in South Lancaster, Mass. He was the second son of Lewis B. and Mary Maushund Kneeland, who were brought into the Seventh-day Adventist church by Elder Joseph Bates. Thus he came under the powerful influence of some of our earliest pioneers.

Elder Jerome Fargo baptized Benjamin at the age of eleven in November 1885. His simple faith in the power of God was greatly strengthened when he was marvelously healed by prayer from a serious and often fatal disease, in April 1890.

After attending public school in Michigan he entered old Battle Creek College in October 1891. He completed the secondary and college work there and graduated May 23, 1898.

Like so many of our church leaders he began as a colporteur, then taught church school and academy before he entered the ministry. He was ordained in 1906. While serving as pastor of the church at Kalamazoo, Mich., he was joined in marriage to Florence Kelsey on July 17, 1906.

Elder Kneeland was president of the New Jersey Conference from May 1907 to September 1911. One of the high points in his early work was his part in the organization of the Young People's Missionary Volunteer Society in Mount Vernon, Ohio, in July 1907.

Elder Kneeland continued his active ministry three years in Kentucky and seventeen years in Carolina Conference until 1952. His was a busy life, and it seemed to be his lot to build scores of churches. This was his greatest joy and satisfaction.

Many, many young men were given their initiation in our denominational work by B. F. Kneeland, for he was also a builder of men as well as of buildings. He rejoiced in the achievements of his young men.

Services were conducted in the Morganton, N.C., Seventh-day Adventist church by Elder H. V. Reed, president of the Carolina Conference, assisted by the pastor, A. D. Liven-good, and Silas Neese of Charlotte. Interment was at Glen Alpine, N.C.

His wife, Florence, preceded him in death on September 13, 1952. He is survived by his daughter Ruth, wife of Carl L. Jacobs, assistant treasurer and auditor of the Southern New England Conference in South Lancaster, Mass., and their two sons, Frank Lea and Lloyd Ray; a son, Harold, of Washington, D.C., and his two sons, Bob and Allan; a niece, Florence Kneeland Rebok of Arlington, Calif.; a nephew, George A. Kneeland of Miami Beach, Fla.; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Grace Kieth of Maitland, Florida. A. D. LIVENGOOD

MULLIN—Mrs. Clara L. Mullin was born at Henderson, N.Y., and lived most of her life in the Jefferson County area. At the time of her death, July 24, she was residing in Adams Center, N.Y. During the past several years she had been receiving Bible studies from Brother Carl Cobb and had signified her desire to join the Ellisburg church. Fracturing her hip prevented her from being baptized but we are confident of her hope in a risen and soon-coming Saviour.

Services were conducted by the writer in the Piddock Funeral Home, Adams, N.Y. Surviving are a son, Easton Waits, a brother, G. E. Spicer, two grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and a host of friends. Burial was in the Evergreen Cemetery at Roberts Corners, N.Y. R. H. FERRIS

Conquering NEW HORIZONS With the Voice of Prophecy

1959 will bring opportunity to carry the message to new millions.

HORIZONS for Youth

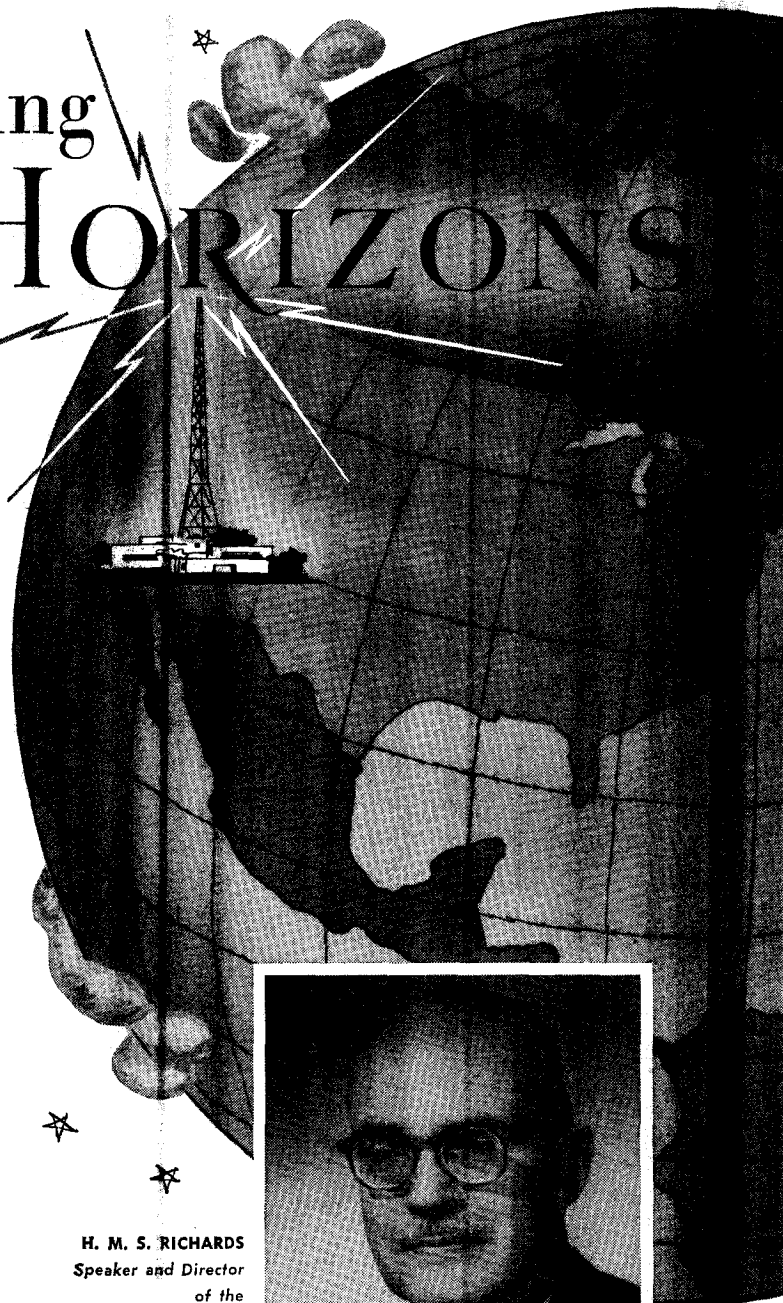

The Voice of Prophecy will team with the MV's to reach America's young adults through our entirely new Bible story approach—the Bright Horizon Correspondence Course.

HORIZONS of Neighborliness

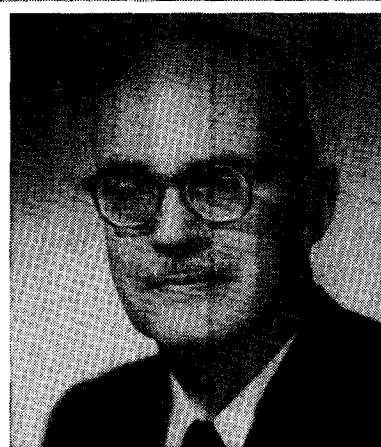

By expanding radio station coverage in Canada, The Voice of Prophecy could reach waiting millions. By adding U.S.-Mexican border stations, "La Voz de la Esperanza" could reach many of our 30 million Mexican neighbors.

HORIZONS in U. S. Radio Coverage

Long-needed coverage in areas not yet reached by Voice of Prophecy network releases can be achieved by adding new high-powered stations.
