Literature Evangelism Calls You

By C. H. SMITH, Publishing Department Secretary
Atlantic Union Conference

Literature evangelists of the Atlantic Union Conference secured more than $57,000 in orders and delivered nearly $31,000 of this during July. As it has been truly said, these books are under the guardianship of angels. Think of the impact these thousands of pages, when read, will have upon the inhabitants of this union who have already manifested their interest by purchasing our books.

C. H. Smith

Our hearts have been cheered as many have indicated their desire to enter the literature work in recent weeks. Without a doubt the Spirit of the Lord is working upon many hearts, indicating to them that this is the line of service where their talents may be used. Of course, the need is always for more. Will you not, as you read this, ask yourself the question, "Cannot the Lord use me in this work?" It is a matter to be settled individually as no man can tell another what his work should be. This has to be decided between you and God.

Last spring at Atlantic Union College, many students were impressed to work for scholarships; and they are giving a good account of themselves. Here are a few typical statements from those who are canvassing this summer:

We are out in active service this summer. We are out because of a conviction.

After canvassing seven summers, I pay a real tribute to the year-round workers.

I would not stop canvassing for anything.

Early this spring the Lord spoke to my heart. Now that I have been out two months, I would like to say that canvassing has helped me a great deal.

When a carpenter builds a house he takes great satisfaction in it. I am more satisfied than if I built a house.

This is a satisfying work. After working for some time in a community, a man accosted me, "Hey, young fellow, I want to see your books." He ordered a Desire of Ages, deluxe binding.

I had prayer with a lady afflicted with cancer. Her eyes were moist.

Year-round workers can testify to these same experiences.

There are some especially interesting features in our six months report of literature evangelist activities in addition to the literature sold. Our workers gave away 45,592 pieces of missionary literature while securing 3,442 Bible correspondence course enrollments. They offered prayer in 8,180 homes and gave 911 Bible studies. This resulted in the attendance of 374 newly interested people at church or Sabbath school, and 399 former Seventh-day Adventists were contacted and invited to church. But the highlight is that 47 were baptized from literature evangelist contacts. Many of you in this union worship in churches having a similar membership and you can visualize how important these 47 individuals are.

September 5, Rally Day, will come to your conference, your church, and to you. We pray that God's spirit may direct as to whether you should have a part in literature evangelism in days to come, remembering that, "As long as probation continues, there will be opportunity for the canvasser to work."—Colporteur Ministry, p. 11.

Oakwood College Offering August 29, 1959

Atlantic Union

Oakwood College trains workers for the finishing of God's work among the colored peoples of North America. Its influence, likewise, reaches out to other parts of the world where missionaries have gone who are products of Oakwood. Many nationals from other lands, likewise, attend Oakwood. The constituency in North America served by Oakwood's graduates is about 40,000. By far the majority of Regional workers in North America are from Oakwood. Without Oakwood as a training school, this segment of God's vineyard would have made little advancement.

From its small beginning in 1896, Oakwood has now grown into a fine accredited senior college. It is suffering from growing pains, however, in that much expense has been, and is being, entered into to make it what it should be. The General Conference, along with the constituency served by the college, is loyally aiding the school financially. We look forward to further advances at Oakwood.

The Northeastern Conference is proud of the influence Oakwood has had over its young people who have gone there. We are proud of our workers who were trained there.

H. D. SINGLETON, President
Northeastern Conference

Central Union

Over the years Oakwood College has filled a great need for the youth of the Seventh-day Adventist church preparing them for service in the vineyard of God. Now that Oakwood is fully accredited, her ability to serve is enriched and even greater than before. Yes, Oakwood stands tall with the great colleges of the land, and today we have the opportunity to give a liberal offering in order to meet some of the pressing needs of the college. Let us give liberally to Oakwood on August 29.

F. L. BLAND, President
Central States Conference

Columbia Union

Sabbath, August 29, 1959, the day set aside for an offering to our Oakwood College is surely one to remember! It is heart warming to be reminded of Oakwood's recent accreditation, and we thank each one who has given liberal, sacrificial offerings to aid in this accomplishment. Oakwood is prepared as never before to train our youth for service. Scores of young men and women who have entered these walls of learning have gone forth to serve. Help is greatly needed to increase the facilities at the college so that others who desire to enter may, and will be able to prepare themselves to aid humanity. Will you, as never before, learn the precious lesson of making gifts to God by giving freely to the Oakwood offering?

W. L. CHEATHAM, President
Allegheny Conference

Lake Union

We all rejoiced greatly over the recent accreditation that was awarded to Oakwood College by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. God has richly rewarded our faith and sacrifices in behalf of this institution. Oakwood College has trained and sent out many of our Regional workers who are serving faithfully and successfully throughout North America and in some of the mission fields. We trust that all our believers will take an active part by giving liberally in the coming Oakwood College Offering, which according to the General Conference action should be received in all our churches on Sabbath, August 29.

H. W. KIBBLE, President
Lake Region Conference

Pacific Union

As a student who has spent six years at Oakwood College, and twenty-three years as a minister in the denomination, I feel that Oakwood has done more to advance the work among the colored people, under God, than any other single agency. My hope is for its continual growth and incomparable usefulness in preparing our young people for work here and a place in the world to come. I am sure that the offering this year will be one of the most liberal that we have ever received for Oakwood College.

W. S. LEE, Secretary
Regional Department

Southern Union

Oakwood holds a unique place in the educational program of the denomination. The servant of the Lord personally pointed out the location for the school as she had been directed by the Spirit of God.

It is my sincere belief that those who attend Oakwood College receive a special preparation to work for our people. In observing the results of the work accomplished by the products of Oakwood, I am assured of this fact.

At the present time, Oakwood is in need of some necessary facilities. In order to maintain its present accreditation status and to arrive at the proper place where it should be to cope with sister institutions and their offerings, your contribution will prove a blessing to the school and will go far in helping to bring this message to others.

J. H. WAGNER, President
South Atlantic Conference

The sons and daughters of Oakwood College are serving the cause of God in every section of the United States and in lands across the seas. They stand in the forefront holding key positions in the Advent movement. Oakwood must continue to prepare leaders for responsible positions in the denomination; however, in order to continue its program of supplying leaders and workers for the various interests of the denomination, Oakwood must continue to expand its program as well as its plant. Consequently, I am appealing to you to give liberally on Sabbath, August 29, 1959; thus enabling Oakwood College to meet its pressing needs, and in the language of the prophet Isaiah, to "enlarge the place of thy tents . . . lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes" (Isaiah 54:2), so that its aim to prepare youth for service may not be retarded or interrupted due to a lack of financial support.

W. W. FORDHAM, President
South Central Conference

Southwestern Union

We are proud of Oakwood College, and justly so, because it is giving to our young people an education patterned after heaven's blueprint. We are told by Divine Inspiration that, "The youth should be taught the importance of cultivating their physical, mental, and moral powers, that they may not only reach the highest attainments in science, but, through a knowledge of God, may be educated to glorify Him; that they may develop symmetrical characters, and thus be fully prepared for usefulness in this world and obtain a moral fitness for the immortal life."—Testimonies, IV, p. 425. This our youth receive at Oakwood. In order to maintain the facilities necessary to give our youth a well-rounded education, Oakwood desperately needs our financial help. Let us remember our institution so that the multiple demands for funds might be met because of our liberal giving on August 29.

V. L. ROBERTS, President
Southwest Region Conference

Free Services for the Blind

Fine looking, and bright!

Unfortunately he is blind. He is nineteen years old and is a member of another denomination. While taking one of the nine Bible correspondence courses offered by the Christian Record Benevolent Association, Inc., he learned truth that opened up a new world to him.

Gayle Griffith

He eagerly raced his sensitive fingers across the Braille lessons and then filled out his answers to the questions at the end of the lessons.

Once he wrote: "I firmly believe the Bible account of creation." Later: "I now understand that the Sabbath is a sign of creation." And then: "It is my prayer that others will seek to honor this day as I will."

Our local Seventh-day Adventist pastor is following up this young man's interest. Surely God loves the blind. He is eager to open their eyes to truth now and to give them eternal sight when Jesus comes.

All of the services of the Christian Record Benevolent Association are entirely free to the blind. You may offer any blind person any of the following services:

Six Monthly Magazines in Braille:

1. The Children's Friend, which is similar to Our Little Friend in ink-print
2. The Youth, which is similar to the Youth's Instructor
3. Life and Health
4. These Times
5. The Student, which is the Sabbath school lessons
6. The Christian Record, which contains general inspirational articles primarily for adults

The Christian Record Talking Magazine—This is recorded on 33 1/3 rpm phonograph records. It is different from the brailled magazine of the same title. It contains Bible studies, poems, hymns, and general articles which generate cheer and hope.

Nine different Bible Correspondence Courses—Seven are in Braille, two on records. Three brailled courses are for children up to twelve years of age.

Large Lending Library—Many Spirit of Prophecy books are brailled. Hundreds of brailled books for children and adults containing nature stories, biographies, travel tales, social guidance, health, and religious subjects.

College of Medical Evangelists Plays Host to the A.S.I. Biennial Convention

The biennial convention of the Association of Seventh-day Adventist Self-supporting Institutions, a General Conference sponsored organization, will be held on the campus of the College of Medical Evangelists, Loma Linda, California, September 15 to 17, 1959.

Readers of the GLEANER will be interested to learn that two councils will precede the opening of the convention itself. One, a council of medical workers, the other a council of operators of nursing homes and other care homes. These meetings are scheduled to convene between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, September 15. The convention general will convene at 7:30 p.m. the same day.

Recent research findings in the field of medicine will be one of the major topics for discussion by the medical group. The nursing-homes group will deal with items pertinent to the operation of Seventh-day Adventist care homes in North America.

During the ensuing days, there will be a variety of items presented by panels, symposiums, and lecturers. A wide field of coverage will occupy the general meetings, in order that medical, nursing-home, and industrial enterprises may be benefited. A series of workshops will provide opportunity for discussion of specific topics pertinent to these three groupings.

There will be representation from the General Conference, the union conferences, many of the local conferences, and the College of Medical Evangelists, as well as from A.S.I. member institutions.

Elder Arthur L. White, of the Ellen G. White Publications, will be one of the featured speakers. His topic will be:

"Spirit of Prophecy Counsels on Self-supporting Work."

The fellowship dinner on Wednesday night will be held in the C.M.E. cafeteria dining hall. This is always one of the highlights of each A.S.I. convention. A guest speaker of note will bring a message of interest and importance.

Thursday afternoon, there will be a conducted tour through the College of Medical Evangelists; and that same evening, an interesting program is to be presented by the college, accompanied by a recent movie featuring a phase of Seventh-day Adventist denominational life and work.

An A.S.I. convention is an experience which can be evaluated only by those present. There is no other convention group engaged in activities of the Seventh-day Adventist church where lay members predominate the convention. It is a truly democratic organization, where those of like minds and ideals meet together in personal relationships, in order to become better equipped for the work which they are doing.

With the exception of the business sessions, the convention is open to members and nonmembers.

Voice of Prophecy Network Changes

Word has been received from the Voice of Prophecy office that as of August 9 the Sunday broadcast will be heard on the Yankee network stations rather than on those of the Mutual network. In some places this will involve a change in hour and station, so please note the following schedule, which will give broader coverage to this outstanding denominational program. We would like to encourage each one to do his best in securing new listeners for the broadcast and also in promoting the Bible correspondence courses offered by the radio school.

Senior College Administrators

LOMA LINDA — Nearly 150 Seventh-day Adventist senior college administrators and officials were guests of the College of Medical Evangelists at a buffet supper and program Wednesday, July 22.

A campus tour and program, featuring C.M.E. administrators, were organized to acquaint the visitors with the educational program and campus at Loma Linda. The senior college administrators were attending the college administrators conference at nearby La Sierra College, July 20-24.

Those visiting C.M.E. from the Atlantic Union included L. M. Stump, C. H. Kelly, R. E. Cleveland, Mary Lou Peckham, and P. B. Riley.

A Special Cluster

This is the season when the clusters of grapes add daily a little more of that fragrant sweetness that makes them so luscious, and the colors that distinguish their special flavors. It is also the time to say a word about a special cluster of unusual values available at the Home Study Institute.

One of these colorful attractions is a new course just now ready for an introductory offer at a special price. This course, The Preschool Child, is available in two parts: the one, Guidance for the mother; and the other, Activities for the child. It is designed to help the mother prepare the child for his coming school adjustments, and to assure his certain and satisfactory progress.

Another special value offered at an unusual low cost is Christian Salesmanship, designed under the direction of the General Conference leaders of the book work and filled with suggestions of particular worth to colporteurs. One good, practicable idea that can be turned into sales and win souls is worth many times the cost of this course.

For several years the Supervised Study Plan has been used by many students and their parents. Pupils, who have finished the work offered in their local elementary school and who are unable for justifiable reasons to attend a boarding school, can continue their studies under the supervision of the teacher of the elementary school. This is all possible through courses provided by correspondence.

To name and describe all the courses of extraordinary benefits would make a large cluster indeed. All are described briefly in the Golden Anniversary Bulletin for 1959 that may be obtained upon request. ### Harvest Ingathering Queen

Bethel Ingathering program this year was a campaign without pain. This was due to the able leadership of its missionary leader B. Best and Bible instructor Zilda Forde. The goal was reached in six weeks.

Four queens were selected and the remaining members of the church were grouped as subjects to each queen, with the understanding that the queen whose subjects contributed the largest amount to the campaign would be crowned queen of Harvest Ingathering. They were dressed in robes representative of the following queens: Esther, Sheba, Elizabeth and Isabella.

June 21 was the evening of the program. There were many in attendance to witness a well-planned program conducted by Zilda Forde. Lucille Bryant, who represented Queen Sheba, was crowned by Elder Eugene Carter as the queen of Harvest Ingathering. Her success was aided by the East Coast Attic and Basement Inc., of 6125 Woodhaven Blvd., Rego Park, Queens. The Bryants are satisfied customers of that company.

Northwestern Vermont District News

Listed below are several items of interest concerning the work of God in the Burlington, Morrisville, and Enosburg Falls section of the state of Vermont. These news items cover the past several months of activity throughout the district. We give all the credit and honor to our Heavenly Father for any forward accomplishments.

First, we should mention the successful Ingathering campaign. A strong and concerted effort was put forth during the pre-Christmas season to cover the many towns and villages in caroling. About 35 to 40 per cent of the membership took part in the caroling during the coldest early winter weather in forty-one years. Some nights the temperatures were down to 20° or 25° below zero, but we went right ahead with the program. By New Year's Day we had raised about $2,300. This gave us a strong start on the district-wide goal which was successfully raised during the spring among the merchants and others. The district Minuteman goal was about $3,400. We found ourselves, when the campaign had ended, with over $3,600 in hand. Surely, to God be all the glory.

Next, I should mention the continuous public evangelism carried on. Meetings were held during the winter and early spring in three different towns: Sunday nights at Montgomery, Vermont; Tuesday nights at Ferrisburg, Vermont; and Thursday nights at Wolcott, Vermont. There have been results from these meetings. Two or three people are keeping the Sabbath from the Montgomery Center meetings; these are expected to be in a future baptism. Six have already been baptized from the Ferrisburg meetings. The Wolcott meetings are still in progress, with four to six people showing a sustained interest. The next series of public meetings will be held in either Burlington or Waterbury, Vermont.

The last item of special interest is in regard to the welfare work. Ellen Gray deserves much of the credit for her interest in the operation of the welfare center at the Burlington church. Each year hundreds of people are helped, and thousands of pieces of useful clothing and other articles are given away. Food baskets are distributed at Thanksgiving and Christmas time. Much good will has been established in the Burlington area by the operation of the welfare center; and this has served to help the Ingathering campaign, too.

We solicit the interest and prayers of God's people throughout the conference in behalf of the work in this part of His vineyard. ALLEN T. BIDWELL
District Leader

Sowing the Seed

During the summer months, student literature evangelists have been placing our truth-filled books in the homes of the people in Aroostook County. Many encouraging experiences can be related of God's leading in this work. Openings for Bible studies have been made.

Those engaged in the work in this area are: John Currie, Dwight Smith, Carl Lombard, John and Neil Wagner, and Nathan Day. Some families have been attending the church as a result of their contacts. Last Sunday evening, Brother Dwight Smith began cottage meetings with a family whom he had contacted. Nathan Day will soon be given the privilege of having a book display at the commissary at the Presque Isle Air Base. We are hoping and praying this will bring openings to place our books in the homes on the base.

The servant of the Lord tells us in Testimonies, Volume 6, page 331: "There is no higher work than evangelistic canvassing, for it involves the performance of the highest moral duties. Those who engage in this work need always to be under the control of the Spirit of God. There must be no exalting of self. What have any of us that we did not receive from Christ? We must love as brethren, revealing our love by helping one another. We must be pitiful and courteous. We must press together, drawing in even cords. Only those who live the prayer of Christ, working it out in practical life, will stand the test that is to come upon all the world. Those who exalt self, place themselves in Satan's power, preparing to receive his deceptions. The word of the Lord to His people is that we lift the standard higher and still higher. If we obey His voice, He will work with us, and our efforts will be crowned with success. In our work we shall receive rich blessings from on high, and shall lay up treasure beside the throne of God."

We solicit your prayers for the Lord's work in this part of His vineyard.

DONALD S. ROBBINS, Pastor

My Impressions of East Africa

The first part of my trip to Africa covers the East African Union comprising Uganda, Kenya, and Tanganyika, with a membership of nearly 50,000. In this union we have two hospitals and a number of dispensaries.

In the evening of the day I landed I met with the union workers in the small school operated for the missionaries' children. The missionaries send their small children here from the various parts of the union, hundreds and sometimes thousands of miles away, and then do not see them again for nine months.

Early the next morning I went by air to Uganda and then traveled by road from Kasesi to our Ankole Hospital. We saw huge elephants with their young and the small Avestin in which we were traveling seemed to me no match for these monsters for elephants are very treacherous when they have their young with them, or when they are taken by surprise.

But nothing can be quite so thrilling as seeing the progress of God's work in these mission lands and the utter devotion and consecration of His workers. Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Stilson and the two nurses at Ankole Hospital work fourteen hours and more a day. Dr. Stilson, in addition to his surgery and other medical tasks, acts as building and purchasing agent and does other odd jobs. His wife, besides her medical responsibilities, acts as business manager. This sixty-five-bed hospital, erected in 1950, serves an estimated 250,000 population. The dispensary cares for seventy to ninety patients a day. The hospital is so crowded that there is no space to isolate the various infectious diseases. Malaria is the most prevalent disease, then comes pneumonia, and tuberculosis. There is a wonderful opportunity here to establish a mission station, but our small staff is so busy caring for the sick that they have no time to help the people spiritually. The mission cannot afford to send another worker so these golden opportunities are neglected.

From Ankole we traveled by road two hundred miles to Bugema Missionary College, which is located twenty miles outside Kampala, the capital of Uganda. This is the training school for East Africa, but one sad part of it is that it only goes to grade 12 and is for boys only, there being insufficient funds to build a girls' dormitory. The boys' dormitory was built to accommodate forty boys but eighty boys are crowded into it. We have two hundred forty pupils in the primary school, grades 1-6, and two hundred boys on the higher school level. At least 50 per cent, if not more, are non-Adventists, but if by the time a pupil reaches grade 10 he is not in a baptismal class he is not permitted to enroll in the higher grade school. The school has a good farm but flying ants or termites thrive and cause endless trouble. The school also holds a two-year evangelistic course to which the various missions in East Africa send two of their most promising workers each year. A dispensary is also operated in connection with the school.

About twenty-five miles from Bugema is our Katikamu school for girls. This school has thirty-seven girls in grades 1-8. There are no boys for there is no money to build a boys' dormitory.

Certainly the needs are very great here, for workers and for buildings, and what we are going to do must be done quickly in order to establish our work and strengthen the program so that we may have well-trained, qualified national workers. When I think of our 13th Sabbath offerings and how so many people drop in a little silver or a dollar bill when they could give so much more, I just wish they could realize the great need and many opportunities of the mission field, for I know they would give more than they do now, and would sacrifice to give.

A Hearty Welcome Dr. and Mrs. Lentz

Dr. and Mrs. Lentz and their two children

Dr. Hilbert Lentz has recently opened a dental office at the Old Lyme Stores, Post Road, Old Lyme, Connecticut. This office is in a new shopping center of Old Lyme.

Dr. Lentz took his dental work at the College of Medical Evangelists. He is married to Evelyn Mahen, formerly of New Mexico. They have two children, Wendi Joy, age 2½, and Paul Roberg, age 5 months.

We are very happy to welcome Dr. and Mrs. Lentz to the Southern New England Conference family of physicians and dentists. Our group of medical men is growing in Southern New England, and we feel that they will have a definite part in helping to finish the third angel's message in the east.

Visitor's Day—Sept. 12, 1959

"The Sabbath school should be one of the greatest instrumentalities and the most effectual in bringing souls to Christ."—Counsels on Sabbath School Work, p. 10. A special day, September 12, has been set aside, that we may invite our friends to attend Sabbath school with us and to enjoy its blessings. We believe that we should have our friends visit with us each Sabbath; but this is a special day when we put forth a stronger effort than usual to get more of our friends to come. Many individuals can trace their first contact with the church to the Sabbath school. Personal visitation, writing a letter, a telephone call, may help to bring someone to Sabbath school on September 12. Our slogan is "Each One Bring One." Now is the time to prepare your list and make a personal contact to invite these individuals to be with you on September 12—hoping and praying that they will come back often to worship with us. It would be well to spend time in prayer asking God to impress our friends to come with us September 12. The pastor, the Sabbath school teachers, and the home missionary leaders will have everything geared for Visitor's Day. Let us make it an outstanding day for God.

V. A. LA GRONE
Sabbath School Secretary

Soul-Winning Hour

There will be a soul-winning hour in the South Lancaster church on Sabbath, September 5, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. We invite you to be there.

This will be an hour of soul-winning experiences told by our faithful literature evangelists. We wish it were possible to hold a soul-winning hour in every church on that day so that all our people could hear these experiences and rejoice in the good work that the literature evangelists are doing.

There is a way that all can have part on this rally day. The district leaders have received special church bulletin folders for September 5. On the back of the folder there is a place for the name and address of those who are interested in the colporteur work, either full or part time. Just place your name and address on the sheet, then tear this section out and send it to:

Publishing Secretary
Southern New England Conference of Seventh-day Adventists
South Lancaster, Massachusetts

Your publishing secretary will be more than happy to visit your home and explain to you the plan of winning souls through the printed page.

PARENTS' EXCHANGE

Sponsored by the General Conference Department of Education
Archa O. Dart, Assistant Secretary

Juvenile Delinquency

If the child's family life is wholesome, the chances are 97 in a 100 that the child will become a wholesome, normal individual.

If his family relations are strained, the chances are 98 out of 100 that he will become a delinquent.

Such are the findings of a survey made by Doctor Eleanor and Sheldon Glueck of Harvard covering 500 delinquent boys and 500 non-delinquent boys over a ten year period. This study now enables parents to have some kind of device by which they can determine the direction in which they are traveling with their children. "Little progress can be made in delinquency control until the home relationships between parents and children can be strengthened."

If you are a parent, sit down right now and answer each question:

Now count the number of "yes" answers.

If you have 18 or more, praise the Lord and keep going in the same direction.

If you have 13-17, that indicates that your child has a better than average chance of turning into a wholesome citizen. But seek to improve.

If the score is 9-12, pray for Divine wisdom and make immediate changes in your relationships. Let neither business nor pleasure hinder you.

If your score is 8 or less, confess your sin to God and set your house in order. A parent's first duty is to his own child. No missionary work can excuse one from neglecting his own family.

Each parent should analyze his "no" answers himself. Don't be content to let a single "no" answer go without attention.

If it is a Seventh-day Adventist hospital, it can do all these things and in addition, as an agency of the church, it can cause the light of truth to remove many of the shadows from the pathways of life which stretch before every individual. If it is a Seventh-day Adventist hospital in Stoneham, Massachusetts, the New England Sanitarium and Hospital, it can do all of these things and still more. It can bring to the neglected people of the Greater Boston area and to others a lifesaving service which has been partially denied them. It can be made possible for those who have pioneered the work and who have built a firm foundation over the past years, to continue a growing valuable service in the community where we live.
