Disaster and Famine Relief Offering May 10, 1969

By R. H. PIERSON, President
General Conference

Our Lord's coming is near. Do we realize it? Or has Satan numbed our senses and blinded our eyes, so that we are unable to feel and see the physical and spiritual needs everywhere around us. God, open our eyes and help us to see and understand!

Human vice and wickedness is becoming bolder. Murder and theft are multiplying at giant pace. Disasters in the sea, on the land, and in the air happen one after the other, as foretold. How often storms, fire, and earthquake cause great suffering and loss. Do these things concern God's children? They should.

As we see such tragedies intensifying all around us, men and women should be aroused to sense their condition and need before it is too late. One day soon God will wipe wickedness from the earth. Yet these present troublous conditions still seem to cry out for man's quick awakening to duty and responsibility. God would yet give man his final opportunity. But one day not too far hence man's day of grace will be over.

Are we, the children of God, responding to the opportunities and needs which these conditions indicate? The love which God placed in the heart of man has almost been extinguished. The church must rekindle this love and co-operate with God in vanquishing lust, greed, and selfishness from the human heart. It must do all it can to relieve suffering and want. It must lift the struggling and the fallen. It must nourish hope and stimulate faith. It must turn men's eyes to heaven, from whence the Saviour of mankind will come.

A magnificent opportunity to show our compassion for those who are cast down and who are groping for hope will be given to us on May 10 through the Disaster and Famine Relief offering. Let us joyfully do that which our hearts tell us we should do.

Alternate Tour

The sleek DC-9 lifted off from the runway with jet-powered ease. We settled back in our seats and glanced out of the window at the quickly receding scene below. We were anticipating a scenic flight from Milan into Zurich over the Alps, but soon realized that imagination had been surpassed by reality when we looked down at these splendid mountains, famed the world over for their beauty. Mantled in a heavy layer of snow, bathed in the afternoon sunlight, the jagged peaks raised their lofty summits to greet us. All the while a perfect circle rainbow, with the shadow of the plane in the center, danced from peak to peak and from cloud to cloud. Our thoughts raced forward to the summer, when many fortunate people from the great Atlantic Union would share many thrilling and educational experiences in Europe, many for the first time.

All air and land reservations have now been confirmed for all groups in the Youth Congress and Alternate tours. Space is still available in the Alternate tour with departure dates of July 17 and July 22.

The itinerary for the July 17 tour is almost identical to the Youth Congress tour except that more time is spent

Fuller Memorial Celebrates Thirty-Second Anniversary

Recently, Fuller Memorial Sanitarium of South Attleboro, Massachusetts, celebrated its thirty-second anniversary. Dr. Laurence A. Senseman, who has been director of Fuller Memorial for thirty years, was honored after the Board of Trustees meeting and presented with a plaque by Gerald Shampo, present administrator, in appreciation of his long service to the Sanitarium. Dr. and Mrs. Senseman were also presented with a trip to Ireland—a trip they had long wanted to make. Pictured above are Ellis Snow, Fuller Board member; Dr. Laurence Senseman, holding the plaque presented to him; F. R. Millard, Atlantic Union Conference president; and Gerald Shampo, administrator of Fuller Memorial Sanitarium.

Greater service to the community and nearby area will be given by Fuller after construction of the new wing. Work will begin as soon as weather permits. The new wing will increase bed capacity to seventy-five, provide additional space for an expanded Environmental Therapy Department, greatly improve facilities in the physiotherapy section, and provide room for a medical library, conference room, and additional physicians' and administrative offices.

"The Living Word"

The Voice of Prophecy has recently completed production of a new series of five-minute broadcasts to be used as public service radio programs. Entitled, "The Living Word—Five Minutes with H. M. S. Richards and His Bible," the program begins with the reading of a text, after which Pastor Richards draws on his experience as a student of the Scriptures and world traveler to amplify and shed light upon what he has just read. Listeners are thereupon invited to send for more information on the study of the Bible, thus leading to an introduction to the Bible correspondence school.

Described by Wayne Hooper, Voice of Prophecy programming director, as "a dynamic capsule of inspiration," the program is being made available on a loan basis free of charge to anyone who might have access to sustaining or sponsored radio time. The fifty-two completed broadcasts, a year's supply, come in magnetic tape form, with six programs on each seven-inch reel, which should be returned to the Voice of Prophecy when they are no longer needed. They may be purchased for personal use at a cost of $2.25 per six-program reel also.

Requests for further information regarding "The Living Word" broadcast should be addressed to the Voice of Prophecy Recording Company, Box 1511, Glendale, California 91209.

NOTICE

To All Families of Servicemen in Vietnam

The church in Australia is most anxious to assist your sons when they go to Australia from Vietnam for Rest and Recreation leave. Many of our young men are profiting by this during their term of service in Vietnam. It is much more enjoyable to see Australia with friends than it is to arrive in a country foreign to them with no one they know. Our Australian brethren want to extend the hospitality of their land and the fellowship of the church to those arriving in Australia from Vietnam. Therefore we suggest that you cut out the box below and send it to your serviceman so that he might have this information.

CLARK SMITH, Director
National Service Organization

If coming to Australia on R and R leave and wanting accommodation with Seventh-day Adventist members, please ring any of the following phone numbers on arrival in Sydney:

48 1061, 49 1138, 747 5655, 48 5693.

Dean's Conference to Convene at AU

A professional work conference for residence hall deans will be conducted at Andrews University, June 15-July 16, for persons interested in residence hall supervision and for college, academy, and nursing school deans. The conference will emphasize dynamic leadership for effective learning experiences in the Seventh-day Adventist residence halls, according to Dr. Mercedes H. Dyer, director of the conference.

The conference is for the inspiration and educational stimulation of residence hall deans as they meet together to evaluate and study the new problems continually arising in the administration and supervision of residence halls in an era of rapidly changing values and standards of conduct in society.

Activities will include guest lecturers, discussion and dialogue on current issues and problems, interest group discussions, demonstrations and experience activities, participation in individual and group counseling of students, and individual study.

Persons who qualify for entrance to the School of Graduate Studies may earn five quarter credits toward an M.A. degree; persons who do not qualify for credit may audit the course.

For registration blanks and further information concerning the institute, write to Dr. J. G. Smoot, Dean, School of Graduate Studies, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49104. All applications should be mailed not later than May 1, 1969.

Musical Tapes to Vietnam

A set of audio tapes featuring songs used on Faith for Today's telecasts have been sent to our servicemen in Vietnam. The tapes, thirteen in all and entitled "Music for Listening," were requested by the denomination's National Service Organization and will provide spiritual music during Sabbath gatherings at service centers throughout the war area.

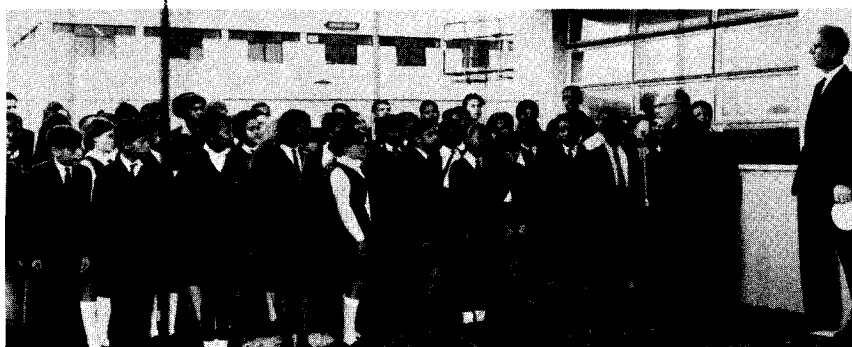

Pastor Franklin W. Hudgins, director of station relations, comments: "It gives Faith for Today great pleasure to provide blessing and inspiration for our Adventist military personnel who are serving so honorably in South Vietnam. Our prayers at television headquarters are that through these religious songs God will bring peace to the hearts of those involved."

The Bermuda Institute Choir greet Elder Robert H. Pierson, world president of Seventh-day Adventists, at the Bermuda airport on the occasion of his "first-ever" visit to Bermuda. The reception was televised. At right is Elder H. Carl Currie, Bermuda Mission president. Pastor Carlyle Skinner, principal of the Bermuda Institute and director of the choir, is not shown here. Elder Pierson was much impressed with the musical talents of the youth and the people of Bermuda in general.

General Conference President Visits Bermuda

The "first-ever" visit to Bermuda by a General Conference president was made by Elder Robert H. Pierson on March 20. During his three-day stay he preached to over two thousand people; visited His Excellency the Governor, and the chief secretary; appeared on radio and television; was reported thirteen times in the press; and directed special meetings for church officers and members.

At the airport to greet our world leader were Elder H. Carl Currie, president of the Bermuda Mission, and the pastors; also present were Carlyle Skinner, principal of Bermuda Institute, teachers, school choir, and officials of each of the five churches. The reception was featured on television.

One of the six large services conducted during his visit was the convocation at the Rosebank Theatre where Elder Pierson presented his latest book, Though the Winds Blow, to the Honorable Mr. J. W. Sykes, chief secretary of Bermuda. The president gave his address there to an audience of over one thousand church members, dignitaries, and guests.

The climax came Sabbath afternoon in a consecration service at the Southampton church when hundreds responded to the consecration call for greater dedication and service.

The last service was entitled "Challenge to Youth," which was introduced by a musical program featuring three choirs and many musical arrangements by individuals and groups from each of the five churches.

Elder Pierson's challenge to the youth was also directed to every member in Bermuda; it was a reiteration of his messages which can be summed up in a few pithy sayings: "We must not fear for the future"; "We dare not forget how God has led us through crises"; "We must determine, come what may, we must go through"; "Never lose your sense of urgency"; "Think big"; "We ever have a changeless Christ in a changing world!"

The church and theatre services were arranged and conducted by the ministers of the mission: Elder Willie Lewis, Hamilton pastor; Elder Donald Burgeson, St. George's and Midland Heights pastor; Carlyle Skinner, Bermuda Institute principal; and Elder

Spanish Work Expanding

The Spanish work in New York City is growing at a rapid pace. A recent Spanish workers' meeting highlighted the following interesting accounts of soul-winning endeavor:

- Elder Hugo Visani, pastor of the Spanish Manhattan church, reported on a branch Sabbath school and continuing effort his church has been conducting at Haverstraw. Since there is no church building there, they have rented a house for their meetings. Through the years a number of individuals have been baptized, including the owner of the house himself. Now the group has grown so large, it appears that they will have to rent larger quarters. In fact, the parent church has selected three families to foster the work at Haverstraw, and one of the three has been asked to move there to give steady help.

- Francisco Ramos told of 82 members of the Spanish Central Brooklyn church out the previous Sabbath distributing copies of El Centinela, the Spanish Signs of the Times. They have been active in this pursuit for some time, and already 35 different families have asked for regular Bible studies. Mr. Ramos reported in the absence of Elder Norberto Mulinari, who was in South America following the death of his brother in an accident.

- Elder Arthur Santos of the Washington Avenue church, explained that his church maintains three baptismal classes: a beginners, an advanced, and finally one for those who are nearly ready for baptism.

- The Spanish East Brooklyn church, under the direction of Elder Pedro DeJesus, carries on an active program. The church school established just this year is progressing nicely, and a talented choir has been formed. The young people of the church work in teams and conduct their own meetings. At their recent Week of Prayer, two were taken into membership. Others are in a baptismal class, and will join the church at an early date.

- Elder D. A. Rodriguez reported for the Mott Haven church. Thirty people are receiving Bible studies regularly, and five were baptized the last Sabbath in March. Eighteen others are planning on baptism by June. Three hundred people now fill the church to overflowing Sabbath by Sabbath.

- The Spanish Prospect church is carrying on an active literature distribution campaign. Pastor Ruben Ruiz told of visiting the home of a man who had been injured, and who had nothing to do but watch television or read whatever came to hand. He eagerly read and reread the church magazine left him and asked for more. Now he is attending church regularly and preparing for baptism. Another lady visited turned out to be one who had slipped away from the Adventist church some ten years ago. Recently she was shocked to learn that one of her own children in high school was using dope. She is now attending church once again and wishes to enroll her children in our academy.

- Elder Jose Gil of the Spanish Bay Shore church baptized five people in February and seven in March. Meetings are being held in Freeport. The Sabbath morning and Sunday evening meetings there are held in the Baptist church. The pastor there has refused to charge them, but they have taken up offerings and left them with him.

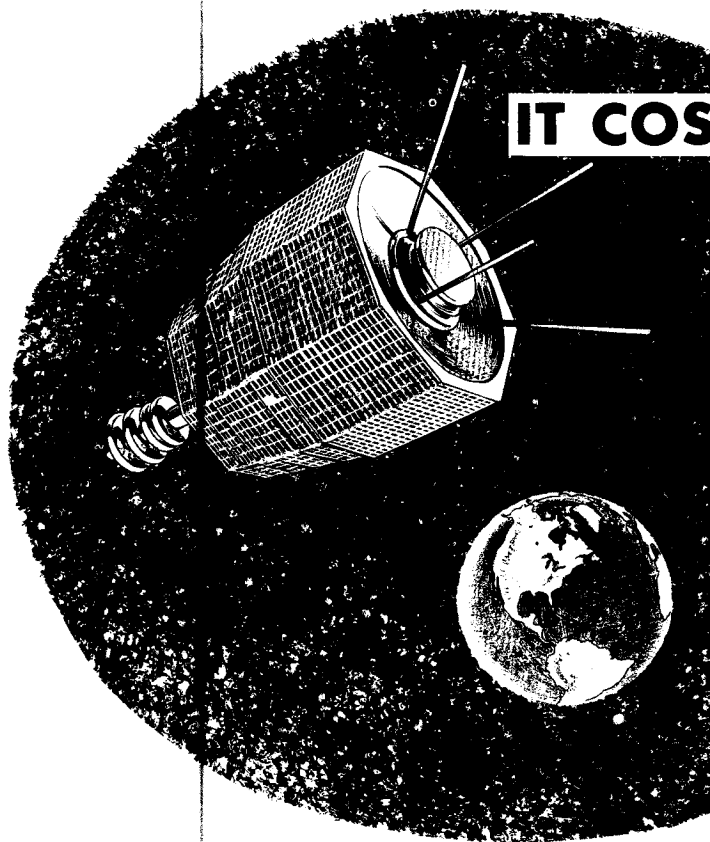

- Elder Conrad Visser and his associate, John Kelley, are working diligently at the Spanish Broadway church. During the three years Elder Visser has been there, the membership has risen from 70 to 150. They have approximately this many visitors each Sabbath, and are planning a baptism shortly.

AUC Students Visit Staten Island

A special rally was held March 22 in the Staten Island church, with Atlantic Union College students leading out in the services.

Stirring messages in both song and word were presented by Gordon Pifher, Harold Camacho, Toni Reeves, and Loraine Decowitz. Harold Camacho told of the college young people

IT COSTS SOMETHING . . .

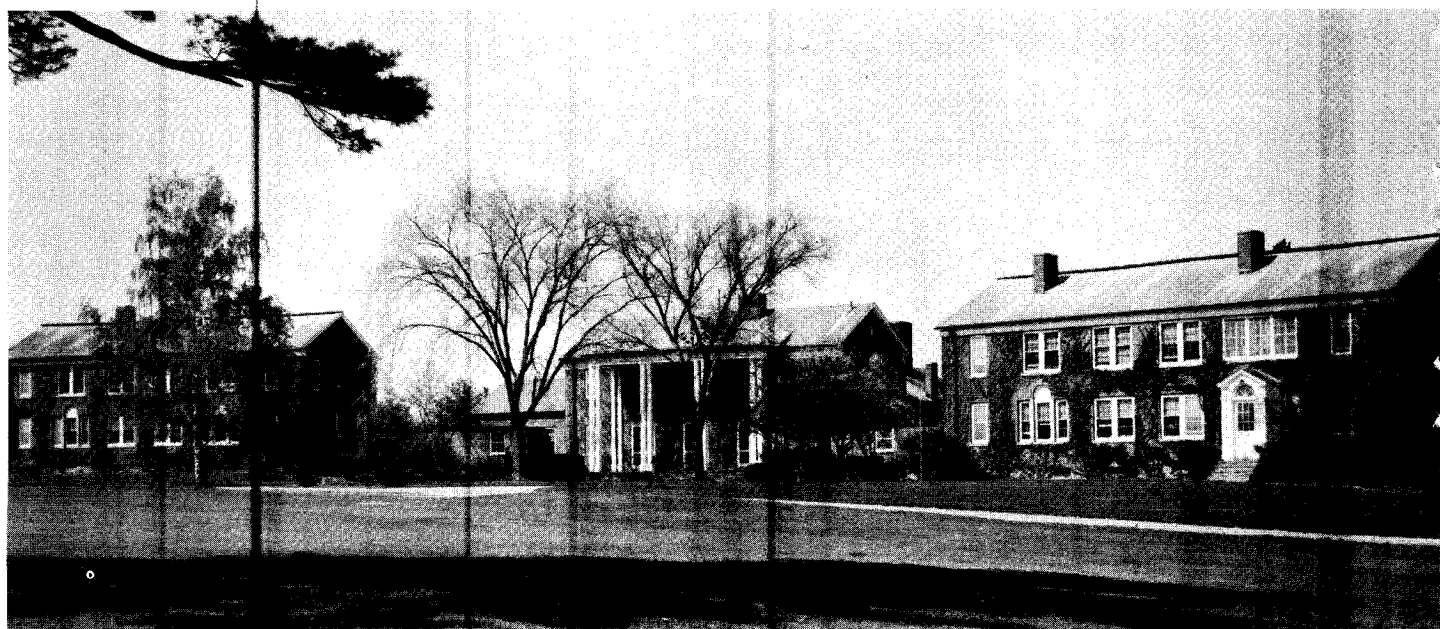

. . . to put a man on the moon. And even if successful, the benefits to be derived are somewhat doubtful. As Christians, we must not overlook opportunities close at hand to help others with the means that God has entrusted to us.

A loving church will not forget its senior members when the time comes for them to carry a lesser load. It will want for them a busy, meaningful, and happy life in friendly surroundings,—and Greater New York has just such a place. It is the Adventist Home, a voluntary, non-profit home for elderly members of the Adventist Church, owned and operated by the conference.

Located in the beautiful Hudson River Valley near Livingston, New York, the "Home" can boast of strong programs in good health, planned recreation, and spiritual emphasis. Here the lonely and empty hours give way to enjoyable activity and Christian fellowship.

The residents of the Home make monthly payments for their care. However, in many cases their resources are meager, and the Home must depend on voluntary contributions of interested friends to continue its operation. You will soon have an opportunity to help provide our elderly members with a good home and kindly care during their later years. Plan now to give generously to the . . .

working against adverse circumstances in the town of Clinton, Massachusetts, and how God had blessed nonetheless. Gordon Pifher brought a mission story from the Middle East, and pointed out that some places are even more difficult to work in than the great city of New York.

Church-School Project a Success

The pupils at the Babylon church school, under the direction of their teachers, sold attractive little rocking-chair pincushions as a school project. The proceeds of this project amounted to $45, which enabled the school to purchase a table-tennis unit. It is felt that this type of physical exercise will aid the pupils to develop better co-ordination as well as to enable them to have wholesome indoor recreation when the weather does not permit them to be out-of-doors.

Mrs. White states in the book Child Guidance that all faculties are strengthened by exercise. The use of the brain in studying without corresponding physical exercise has a tendency to attract the blood to the brain and the circulation of the blood through the system becomes unbalanced.

It is hoped that other types of physical education equipment may be acquired for the school in the future.

Northeastern

Federation of Laymen and Ministers Rally

The Mount Zion (New Haven) church was an ideal place to hold the first Federation of Laymen and Ministers rally in the Northeastern Conference for 1969. Here is a church with noteworthy achievements for 1968—a summer's evangelistic campaign had netted 83 souls; a new church building program is nearing completion by the installation of pews, carpeting, and pavement of the car parking lot.

Between these two major projects, the church minister, John F. Guy, found time to work with retarded children at the Regional Center of New Haven, conducted a special summer youth program for the community, set up a free nursery for shopping parents, provided citizen-band radios in the community center, and worked on several other civic programs.

The pastor has plans for holding two public evangelistic campaigns for 1969 and has set October 4 as the date for the church dedication and observance of the 50th anniversary of the New Haven church.

On Sabbath, March 1, the church was filled with members and visiting laymen from Bridgeport, Hartford, and Springfield. Elder William Peeke, lay activities secretary of the Atlantic Union, preached the keynote sermon.

After the sermon five individuals were baptized into the faith. One of the lay officers said, "I worked with three of those baptized today." Inspiration says that "hundreds and thousands were seen visiting families and opening before them the word of God."—Testimonies, IX, 126. Have you been seen lately?

H. W. Kibble, now retired, originated the Laymen's Federation for the Northeastern Conference in 1967. Some 270 souls were baptized in 1968 as direct result of the lay ministers' work.

Other Federation sessions are being held for the other four districts. Many are responding to the call of Jesus who

Pastor John Guy is shown exhibiting some of the many visual aids and tools for soul-winning to the audience. The exhibit included charts, books, Bible studies, films, tapes, slides, Bible lessons, and projectors which have been used in successful evangelistic projects by laymen.

Lloyd Wilson, pastor of the Bridgeport church, presented the challenge to the laymen in the afternoon rally. These remarks were followed by short talks from the Federation presidents and representatives from each of the churches in attendance.

Mrs. Velma Brown, Health and Welfare leader of the Springfield church, is shown accepting the challenge and relating the plans for the Springfield church. She was accompanied by a bus load of delegates including the pastor, Elder W. D. Felder, Jr.

said: "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men" (Matt. 4:19). They are finding that "it is a joyous work to open the Scriptures to others."—Testimonies, IX, 118.

The greater goal is to enroll every Seventh-day Adventist member in the Atlantic Union in active partnership with God as soul winners. This is our first interest.

Operation Winter Wardrobe

Operation Winter Wardrobe, the recently conducted aid-to-needy-children's program sponsored by the Capital City church has been termed very successful. "We've helped a lot of youngsters, and made some new friends," said Mrs. Annetta Andre, director of the program.

The church had appropriated $1,000 to finance the endeavor, designed primarily to help needy children, ages six to twelve, by furnishing them with warm clothing in an effort to help prevent school absenteeism. More than one hundred items—boots, coats, shoes, mittens, and other apparel—were distributed.

A few senior citizens also were recipients of winter coats and overshoes.

An instructional "class" for the boys and girls to teach them how to care for the new apparel was conducted in the church office by representatives of Almart's Department store, where the purchases were made.

Warm words of gratitude and satisfaction were expressed by the parents to the program staff as the children clung happily to their gifts.

General Nutrition Course at Parkview

Seventy people (including men) attended an intensive course in general nutrition conducted by Miss Ella May Stoneburner, R.N., of the General Conference Medical Department, at Parkview Memorial Hospital, Brunswick, Maine, on March 2-4.

There were delegates to the nutrition course from churches in all three Northern New England states. Those completing the course are qualified to conduct nutrition courses in their districts. Thirty certificates were issued.

In conjunction with this course, a public cooking school was held in the evening. It was a successful public service sponsored again by the Parkview Hospital.

News Notes

- Elder Joel O. Tompkins and Pastor Kenneth Millard conducted a series of meetings in St. Johnsbury, Vermont, recently. Three souls accepted Christ and there are approximately five others who will soon be baptized.
- Elders Joel Tompkins and Paul

Kline recently conducted a successful revival and evangelism preparation class in Camden, Maine. Tremendous victories were gained as our members did heart-searching and studied the "Straight Testimony to the Laodicians" in Revelation 3:14-21, and in Testimonies for the Church.

Southern New England

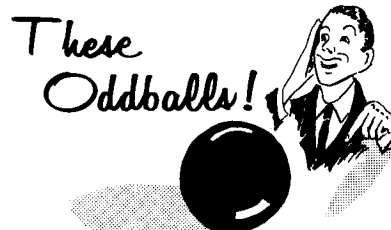

Report from Athol District

Pastor Paul Peterson of the Athol (Massachusetts) church reports a good response from the series of paid advertisements about the church's beliefs in the Athol Daily News.

The advertisements, prepared by the General Conference Bureau of Public Relations, consists of three series of six ads, measuring a column by eight inches in length. Each of the three series takes a different approach in making its point and is illustrated with line drawings and cartoons.

Pastor Peterson reports that the cost of reaching the 5,000 subscribers of the newspaper was less than $10.00 for each ad in this small-town paper. As a result of the ads, a teacher and 40 students from a local church came to our church

For more than 100 years Seventh-day Adventists have stressed the health hazards in smoking and the use of tobacco. All during those years they seemed mighty odd because they didn't smoke.

They don't seem so odd now in the light of current findings on smoking. Furthermore, they've worked out a plan to help those trapped by the vicious habit. Through their "Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking," thousands are now breaking the habit.

Total abstinence from alcoholic beverages has also been a distinctive mark of the Seventh-day Adventists. Many a joke has been made about those "water drinkers." But today one of the major health and safety problems in the nation is alcoholism. And the "oddballs" have in operation a program of alcohol education for schools and homes that functions in over fifty countries.

Adventists have been called grass-eaters too, because they stress the importance of avoiding cholesterol-packed flesh foods and use vegetables as protein sources. But medical science today has endorsed what the Adventists have taught and practiced since the early 1800's.

Now, there's another odd thing about Adventists. They worship on Saturday while most folks worship on Sunday. Could these "oddballs" be right here too? Why not get the facts about the matter? It's your life that is at stake.

Please send me the booklet "To Lift, To Love," which tells about the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

and spent an hour asking the minister about the beliefs of Seventh-day Adventists. They received a good supply of our literature as well.

Following this, Pastor Peterson was invited to be a guest on a phone-in radio program on station WCAT and for an hour discussed spiritism and the nature of man in death. A spiritist had been on the program the week before and different ones called in wanting someone to present an opposing view. Pastor Peterson was invited to do this, doubtless as a result of the advertisements.

So far, 20 doctrinal books have been mailed out, five persons have enrolled in the Gift Bible course, and a former member has indicated a desire to return to church after 18 years—all as a result of the newspaper campaign.

"After seeing our advertisements," Pastor Peterson said, "other churches in town began to make inquiries at the newspaper for similar ads for their own churches."

"This program has also given our own members a certain feeling of pride and accomplishment to know that their church is making its presence known in the community," he added.

The pastor is currently running the first of the series of ads in the Greenfield Recorder, which covers another part of his district, and he anticipates good results there as well.

Conference-Wide Youth Rally Held at Cedar Brook School

Only two weeks after the official opening service of the Cedar Brook Intermediate School gymnasium in Rehoboth, Massachusetts, eight hundred area church members met in this facility for a conference-wide youth rally, March 7-8.

Also new was the keynote speaker, Elder Malcolm D. Gordon, recently appointed conference youth leader. He presented the Sabbath morning sermon highlighting the great hope that Elder M. D. Gordon (center) who arrived recently from the North Dakota Conference, had occasion to become acquainted with hundreds of young people at the youth rally. Above, he visits after the Sabbath service with (left to right) Virgil Nielsen and Nancy Beardwood of the Pawtucket church, Elder Bruce Fox, Taunton church pastor, and Debbie Ware of the Brockton church.

A girls' sextet from South Lancaster Academy sang "I Talked to God Last Night" during the youth rally Sabbath worship service. Janel Bock, at the podium, sang the solo part.

God's people have for the future. He compared the false hope of those who espouse communism and other false philosophies with the victorious prospect of those who follow Christ. He challenged Seventh-day Adventist youth to use their talents for finishing God's work on earth.

Speaking at the Friday evening service was Elder Bruce Fox, of the Taunton-Middleboro district, who also helped co-ordinate the rally.

At the Sabbath afternoon program, Elder Gordon explained a new program which will be presented to each local church MV Society this year, to challenge our youth to total fitness—mentally, spiritually, and physically. Entitled, "Let Yourself Go for Christ," the plan calls for activity in various areas of development which are charted for progress and will require high levels of achievement in mental, physical, and spiritual pursuit.

The Cedar Brook band and choir performed under the direction of Charles Randall, music teacher at the school. Students from South Lancaster Academy were present to provide vocal music, and Share Your Faith teams from Pioneer Valley Academy highlighted the soul-winning potential of our youth in telling of their experiences in witnessing for Christ. The PVA band was present on Saturday night to present a secular concert, which brought this successful youth rally to a conclusion.

Church School Pupils Aid Faith for Today

The pupils of the elementary division of South Lancaster Academy participated in various projects which helped them to raise a total of $429.66 for the annual Faith for Today Valentine offering.

Some of the projects conducted by the pupils to raise money were:

The first-grade pupils fed pennies to a giraffe bank, others sold Amway products and turned in the profits, made and sold pot holders and covered coat hangers, conducted a white elephant sale after school, and sold 72 whisk brooms donated by one of the parents, conducted bake sales, and pledged $2.00 each, earning that amount in various ways.

These funds will be added to those raised by church school children all over North America to purchase special camera equipment needed in the filming of the Faith for Today television programs.

Hartford Church Offers Unique Course

The Hartford (Connecticut) church sponsored a community-centered course during the month of February featuring preparedness in the event of nuclear attack or natural or civil disturbance.

In six two-hour sessions, members and some interested community persons received instruction on how to be managers of Civil Defense fallout shelters. Under the direction of Mrs. Rita Vital, Dorcas leader, the course required that a certain number of individuals spend eight hours in a fallout shelter, which was designated to be in the church basement. Ten persons, including an infant, were sequestered in the shelter for the required time, ate only government rations prepared for such "emergencies," and were kept informed as to simulated post-nuclear attack conditions above, via specially prepared and taped short-wave radio messages.

Joseph R. Callahan, director of the Hartford Civil Defense program, expressed, in a newspaper article, his appreciation of Adventist efforts to help the community prepare for civil emergencies and stated that the graduates of the course would be qualified volunteers, prepared to assist in riot, nuclear attack, flood, or other natural disasters.

Baptism Follows Crusade

Associate in Science Degree in Secretarial Science

Up until this year, Atlantic Union College has granted an Associate in Science degree in nursing, only. The state has recently given the college authority to grant the degree in any field where there is a demand.

This year, the secretarial science field was chosen. Other fields will be added as the need arises.

The Associate in Science degree in secretarial science permits a student to complete in two years a course of study majoring in the executive secretary, secretarial accounting, and medical secretary fields.

The diploma is presented upon the completion of sixty-four credit hours, and gives the student a degree which is recognized in academic and business circles as signifying that the individual has completed two years of study with emphasis in secretarial science, but with a portion of the work having been done in the liberal arts area.

"The Voice with a Smile" is the aim of eighteen girls taking the receptionist-PBX techniques class taught by Dr. Gertrude Gibson, chairman of the Secretarial Science Department.

For one hour's credit, the girls spend fifteen hours in class and laboratory work. Part of this time is spent in outside reading and at the switchboard with an experienced operator. Then the girls spend thirty hours alone at the board.

After passing the course, the girls can work at the board for hourly pay, between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 11:00 p.m.

Once a year, Mrs. Helen Smith of the New England Telephone Company spends several days with the girls at the switchboard, observing their techniques and offering help and suggestions.

The shorthand laboratory, overseen by Dr. Gibson, is equipped with seventeen IBM executory listening stations capable of giving four different speeds of dictation simultaneously to thirty students.

Gibson states there is a demand for men in this field.

She adds that, for this class, the current lessons are dictated on tape at various speeds and the students work at the speed of their choice.

In addition to aiming for speed and accuracy in straight typing, the typing students become familiar with typing not only shorthand notes, but also outlines, reports, theses, and bibliographies.

The beginning typing group uses manual typewriters. Electric typewriters are used by the advanced class.

Other classes offered in this course include communications, secretarial office procedures, business law for secretaries, and introduction to data processing for the future executive secretary; nine hours of accounting are substituted for intermediate shorthand and transcription for the secretarial accounting major; and medical office secretary, clinical office practice, anatomy and physiology, and medical terminology and transcription for the medical secretary major.

This spring, two young women, Susan Neumann and Brenda Worden, will earn their Associate of Science degrees in secretarial science.

Interested prospective students may write for information to the Chairman, Secretarial Science Department, or the Registrar, at Atlantic Union College, South Lancaster, Massachusetts 01561.

Medical Staff Begins Organization of Building-Fund Campaign

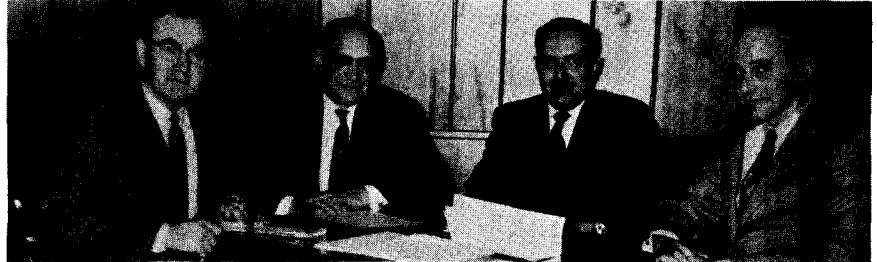

The medical staff steering committee for the New England Memorial Hospital building-fund campaign met February 19 at the Red Coach Grille in Saugus to organize an executive committee which will formally conduct the campaign among the hospital's medical staff.

New England Memorial Hospital in Stoneham is presently in the midst of a major building and expansion program which will enlarge its facilities from the present 185 patient beds to 300.

The following names were recommended on February 19, and have been accepted for the executive committee: General Chairman, Joseph Mazmanian, M.D., from Medford; Advance Gifts Chairman, E. L. Latimer, M.D., Medford; Solicitation Chairman, Max J. Klainer, M.D., Stoneham; and Campaign Co-ordinator, John A. Danis, M.D., Stoneham.

In addition, recommendation of names for section leaders for the campaign were submitted and are subject to acceptance.

The Building-Fund Campaign Executive Committee: Drs. E. L. Latimer, M. J. Klainer, J. Mazmanian, and J. A. Danis.

In his opening remarks, Dr. Mazmanian, 1969 president of the medical staff at New England Memorial, challenged the committee to promotion of the building program and the fund-raising plans—to support the program both physically and financially so the medical staff may assume its rightful role in this community endeavor.

A high tone of co-operation and enthusiasm was displayed throughout the meeting, and everyone is looking forward to a successful campaign among the hospital's medical staff.

At Rest

BRYCE—John F. Bryce was born in Pittston, Pennsylvania, on February 16, 1907, and passed away after a short illness at the Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester, New York, where he made his home. He was a member of the Bay Knoll church in Rochester.

Services were held at the Frank Ashton Funeral Home by H. E. Walsh, pastor, on January 7, 1969. Interment was at the White Haven Memorial Park. Mr. Bryce is survived by his wife, Alfreda; two sons, John Jr., and Alfred; one daughter, Mrs. Roger (Jacqueline) Williams; eight grandchildren; one brother, William Stenekenis, of Brooklyn; and one sister.

H. E. WALSH

CHASE—Arthur E. Chase was born August 8, 1884, and died at his home in Danielson, Connecticut, on February 17, 1969. Mr. Chase is survived by his wife, Elizabeth, who tenderly ministered to his needs during his recent illness; and a son, Clayton Chase, of Hackensack, New Jersey.

Funeral services were conducted by the writer, who had the privilege of paying them a Sabbath afternoon visit recently. Mr. Chase, on that occasion, expressed his confidence in the "blessed hope."

LOWELL BOCK

JOHNSON—Ellen (Carlson) Johnson of Worcester, Massachusetts, was born March 29, 1912, and passed to her rest February 27, 1969, following a long illness.

She is survived by her husband, Lennart; one sister, Mae Tora Lahde, of California; two brothers, John Carlson, of Coalmont, Pennsylvania; and Martin Carlson of Brookfield, Illinois.

Services were conducted at the Worcester church where she was a faithful member for many years. She was laid to rest at the new Swedish Cemetery in Worcester, Massachusetts, awaiting the call of the Life-giver.
