TURNING POINT

The majestic march of the seasons has ushered us into the final quarter of 1980. Across America most families will be making plans for yuletide joy for there is peace in our land. Said one writer, "Love and peace go together for love is the flame that warms, a light that glows, a magnet that draws, a fragrance that refreshes, a cup that cheers, a hope that endures."

It was hope and faith that helped Victor Herman survive the Soviet gulag. Writing for the "Wall Street Journal" Carl Gershman presents this provocative backdrop.

The following experience is the ultimate rewards that satan extends to the whole human race—man against man and man against God. Carl Gershman writes as follows:

Herman went to Russia with his family in 1931 at the age of 16. He was one of 300 Detroit families that resettled in Gorki where the Ford Motor Company was helping the Russians build a great automobile factory modeled after its own River Rouge plant. Along with many of these families, Herman stayed on beyond the contracted three-year period and so got caught in the great purge of 1937-1938 period. All but a small handful of these Americans had already been arrested by the NKVD in the summer of 1938.

Victor Herman claims to be the only survivor of all the Americans from Gorki who were sent to the Siberian camps. The astonishing thing is not that the others died, but that he lived.

He endured 10 years in the gulag and eight more in exile in Siberia. His first year was spent in a prison near Gorki in a cell 10 feet by 5½ feet in which 16 men were kept. It was like a war in purgatory, before he would enter "the vastly harder conditions of the camps." The men would sit on either side of a large pot which received their waste and was emptied every 10 days. Their "meals" would consist of a bowl of hot salty water, or a small bowl of cereal, or a bit of soggy black bread. They left this cell only when they were taken to the bathhouse every 10 days, or when one of them was removed for interrogation.

During this first year, Herman was interrogated for 55 nights running. Refusing to confess his counter-revolutionary activities, he was systematically beaten about the kidneys and subjected to other torture. He saw others die from this treatment, including a hugh, powerful American who had been famous in Detroit for knocking over a mounted policeman during a workers' demonstration. The gulag destroyed such people but not Herman. He even achieved a kind of triumph when, using the prisoners' "tap language" which he had deciphered, he proclaimed to those who thought he had been executed that, in fact, he continued to live.

He spent the next nine years in a Siberian hard labor camp that was really an extermination camp since no one sent there was expected to survive. He endured starvation, exhaustion, the arctic cold, epidemics, and periodic visits to the isolator, a hole dug in the frozen ground in which he was forced to sit while guards doused him with water every two hours. He even survived—he was the only one of 18 foreigners to do so.

It is to Victor Herman, and the Russians, and to all men everywhere, that the Gospel of Jesus Christ must be proclaimed. Jesus Christ perceived the needed preparation when He commissioned His witnesses, "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations . . ." (Matthew 28:19). But before one is qualified to teach, he himself must become a learner. He must understand the ABC's of the Christian's commitment. And what better time than "year-end, and square-up-time" that has this annual reminder on Stewardship Day, December 13, 1980.

By Aaron N. Brogden, Director
Stewardship and Development
Atlantic Union Conference

The purposes and objectives of the annual stewardship day is to:

- a. expose the largest number of church officers and members to the biblical concepts of Christian stewardship
- b. to establish the need of stewardship education
- c. to encourage ministers to present in every pulpit the stewardship day sermon
- d. to expel the erroneous idea that World Stewardship Day is a "money raising" occasion or a "special offering" day.

World Stewardship Day will enable the members to understand better that the stewardship program is an education program. They will glimpse anew and realize what it will take to finish the work.

Education must go on throughout the year, but World Stewardship Day is the special Sabbath of the year when all Adventist pulpits should give united emphasis to the great principles of Christian stewardship. We need to understand the stewardship of the TOTAL LIFE. This includes not only the stewardship of our money—but also our other resources, health, time, abilities, et cetera.

Money is important. It is needed urgently. But the partnership—the living experience is needed most urgently—critically!

Money is not the problem today. It never has been the problem in God's work. The problem lies in the spiritual experience of the recipients of God's blessing.

Just to raise money is not the answer. The answer lies in satisfying the poverty of the soul—and receiving unto ourselves an enriched experience with Jesus Christ in salvation. We need to develop FAITH.

The results will be predictable:

1. Deeper spirituality of membership.
2. Individual involvement.
3. Willingness to learn and participate.
4. Greater appreciation of our being or body, our time, our talents and our resources.

Stewardship is indeed a spiritual principle which will:

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| a. help find missing members   | g. provide a system to analyze the spiritual and financial conditions of your church |
| b. activate church officers  |  |
| c. activate church members   | h. help organize and coordinate a spiritual plan for your church                     |
| d. eliminate unnecessary Sabbath promotion   | i. help organize and coordinate financial plans of your church                       |
| e. eliminate unnecessary emphasis on financial needs                                       | j. teach the principles for basic Christian living                                   |
| f. inform the members as to what their money, time and abilities have already accomplished | k. teach a person how to surrender the life to Jesus Christ                          |

"God expects personal service to everyone to whom He has entrusted a knowledge of the truth for this time. Not all can go as missionaries to foreign lands, but all can be home missionaries in their families and neighborhoods" (Testimonies, Vol. 9, p. 30). "So vast is the field, so comprehensive the design, that every sanctified heart will be pressed into service as an instrument of divine power" (Ibid, p. 47). The church of God has reached the turning point, each individual member has reached the turning point, each minister has reached the turning point, each worker has reached the turning point, can Christ count on you to turn right and keep going straight?

Ingathering Experience

The following experience was published by Elder Nelson, Lay Activities director in the New York Conference:

"It was Saturday night, December 15. It was cold and windy as we started for a rural area near Syracuse to do some Christmas caroling and share with others our love for our wonderful Saviour. The carolers' voices blended beautifully on 'Silent Night,' 'O Little Town of Bethlehem,' and 'O Come, All Ye Faithful.'"

"Almost every family we contacted gave readily and willingly. Many $2.00 offerings were received, and one $5.00 offering. As we left each home, the carolers broke into 'We Wish You A Merry Christmas,' and each one waved a cheery goodbye. Mothers, fathers, and children waved back with smiles on their faces, and many called out a hearty 'Thank you.' Most people seemed to be thankful for the opportunity to give."

"What a wonderful way to get our Ingathering. Those who feel they cannot solicit, would gain a wonderful blessing by singing at the homes with the group. We raised $47.00 in 1½ hours. Feelings of contentment and achievement were experienced by those who volunteered their time that night."

It is these personal, friendly contacts in the homes of people that will leave a good impression in the minds of all who are contacted by the Seventh-day Adventist Church members.

Constituents Vote to Move Review and Herald

Constituents of the Review and Herald Publishing Association met October 16, 1980, to discuss the proposed move of the Washington and Nashville plants to a new site. After an all-day session, it was voted that the Review and Herald Publishing Association move to a new location. Neal C. Wilson, President of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists and Chairman of the Board of the Review and Herald, led the Constituency in the motion which voted in favor of the move.

According to Harold F. Otis, Jr., General Manager of the Review and Herald, the new site has yet to be determined. However, the Board of Directors recommended Washington County in Maryland as a possible option. Negotiation for a new site are now being conducted by the Board of Directors.

Sales Boost VOP Radiobroadcasts

Lance Liebelt (Right), Voice of Prophecy treasurer, receives a check from Mary Lou Whitford Dahl that marks her milestone of $100,000 raised for the radiobroadcast through the sale of antiques, jewelry, and other valuable objects given to the VOP by friends of the VOP. Mrs. Dahl works as a volunteer for the Voice of Prophecy, specializing in the sale of such items as sterling silver, fine china, cut glass and crystal, heirloom antiques, precious stones, and watches. She reached the $100,000 mark in six and a half years and plans to strive for even higher goals.

SDA/ME National Convention

The fourth annual Seventh-day Adventist Marriage Encounter (SDA/ME) National Convention was held at Auburn Academy, Auburn, Washington, during August, 1980. With 300 in attendance, representatives came from Ohio; Michigan; Washington, D.C.; California; Maryland; Colorado; Oregon; Washington; Tennessee; and British Columbia. Principal speakers for this unique convention were Doctor D. W. and Betty Holbrook from the General Conference Home and Family Service and who are members of the National Board of SDA/ME.

Approximately 5,000 couples have now attended an SDA/ME "weekend." The weekends are designed not as a therapy for broken marriages, but they are geared to make good marriages better. The weekends are open to both pastors and laity and a large number of pastors and their wives have attended the weekends at a number of locations.

According to Jerry and Beverly Olson of Simi Valley, California, who serve as the National Executive Couple, SDA/ME began in July, 1975, and has steadily grown both in couples attending and in the geography of weekends. Currently SDA/ME weekends are underway in New Mexico, Puerto Rico, and Idaho, in addition to the above-mentioned states.

1981 sees plans for some 60 to 70 SDA/ME weekends with some reaching into new areas of Alaska, Georgia, and Florida.

Chaplin Al and Betty Brendel of Kettering Medical Center are the National Pastoral Couple and the founders of SDA Marriage Encounter. Any couples interested in finding out more about SDA/ME should write to:

Who Shall Teach Our Little Ones? (BETTER LIVING SERIES)

BY GEETA R. LALL, PH.D.

With so many mothers working outside the home and the care of children left to supervisors of day-care centers or teachers, the question of child training is increasingly important to contemporary life. Admitting there are factors over which we have no control, Dr. Lall provides some thoughtful answers to the questions that are sure to be in the hearts of today's parents. Her background as an educator (currently,

Education Faculty of Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan) qualifies Mrs. Lall for this important subject. ☆

Christ Our Salvation (DIMENSION SERIES)

BY HANS LARONDELLE

With the pen of a scholar moved by the heart of a compassionate pastor, Dr. LaRondelle reviews the essential truths of the Christian gospel. He does not avoid the problems that have divided the Christian church for centuries—he faces them with intellectual vigor and Christian joy. Such subjects as these are explained in this book: Divine Election and Providence, Reconciliation, Justification, Sanctification, and Glorification.

Hans LaRondelle was born in The Hague, Netherlands. He was raised a Roman Catholic until age eight, then went to a small evangelical fundamentalist church, later becoming an SDA by reading SDA literature—especially The Great Controversy while a law student at age 19. Hans received a Th.D. from the Free University, Amsterdam. He was pastor-evangelist for 14 years in Holland and at present he is Professor of Theology at Andrews University. ☆

In Absolute Confidence (ANVIL SERIES)

BY WILLIAM G. JOHNSON

"I am convinced that Hebrews is not the enigma that we usually think. We may be certain that the pamphlet's author wrote it to be understood in its own day—and not just by professors of New Testament! The early Christians did not include many learned and educated men (see 1 Corinthians 1:26-28), yet Hebrews was aimed at them. Indeed, as we shall see in chapter 1, the book has a practical purpose, a point often missed by those who lose themselves in its theological thickets.

"The modern believer may also grasp Hebrews. The document will not yield its message easily, however. And we must be prepared to listen to the writer. In practice that is the hardest part of Bible study. We continually inject our own conceptions into the text. Only as we sit back and let Hebrews open to us its message in its own terms can we understand it."—WILLIAM G. JOHNSON

An Australian by birth, Dr. Johnson is an associate editor of the Adventist Review. He has previously authored "The Great Physician" and "Religion in Overalls." He holds a Ph.D. from Vanderbilt University.

November Cultivation

NOW—November, 1980—is the time to prepare for TELESEMINAR March 1, 1981.

Those people who mean much to us—non-member family or coworkers, et cetera, and the huge It Is Written list—need our prayers and our attention now, to:

- Establish a friendly, loving relationship.
- Encourage new or continued viewing of It Is Written and other media programs of the church for deepening conviction.
- Pray for the Holy Spirit to use us in leading these people to Jesus and His saving truth for this troubled hour.

Remember, "When we have entire, wholehearted consecration to the service of Christ, God will recognize the fact by an outpouring of His Spirit without measure; but this will not be while the largest portion of the church are not laborers together with God."

TELESEMINAR, It Is Written's new and exciting venture on March 1, 1981, will place deeply interested people within the influence of your church only as everyone of us do this vital preparatory work now.

Every name is a sacred trust; and remember, success then depends on what God does in us and through us now. ☆

Keep the Light Burning Brightly

Society is composed of families, and is what the heads of families make it. Out of the heart are the "issues of life"; and the heart of the community, of the church, and of the nation is the household. The well-being of society, the success of the church, the prosperity of the nation, depend upon home influences.

The elevation or deterioration of the future of society will be determined by the manners and morals of the youth growing up around us. As the youth are educated, and as their characters are molded in their childhood to virtuous habits, self-control, and temperance, so will their influence be upon society. If they are left unenlightened and uncontrolled, and as the result become self-willed, intemperate in appetite and passion, so will be their future influence in molding society. The company which the young now keep, the habits they now form, and the principles they now adopt are the index to the state of society for years to come.

Home should be made all that the word implies. It should be a little heaven upon earth, a place where the affections are cultivated instead of being studiously repressed. Our happiness depends upon this cultivation of love, sympathy, and true courtesy to one another.

The sweetest type of heaven is a home where the Spirit of the Lord presides. If the will of God is fulfilled, the husband and wife will respect each other and cultivate love and confidence.

The atmosphere surrounding the souls of fathers and mothers fills the whole house, and is felt in every department of the home.

To a large extent parents create the atmosphere of the home circle, and when there is disagreement between father and mother, the children partake of the same spirit. Make your home atmosphere fragrant with tender thoughtfulness. If you have become estranged and have failed to be Bible Christians, be converted; for the character you bear in probationary time will be the character you will have at the coming of Christ. If you would be a saint in heaven, you must first be a saint on earth. The traits of character you cherish in life will not be changed by death or by the resurrection. You will come up from the grave with the same disposition you manifested in your home and in society. Jesus does not change the character at His coming. The work of transformation must be done now. Our daily lives are determining our destiny. . . .

God would have our families symbols of the family in heaven. Let parents and children bear this in mind every day, relating themselves to one another as members of the family of God. Then their lives will be of such a character as to give to the world an object lesson of what families who love God and keep His commandments may be. Christ will be glorified; His peace and grace and love will pervade the family circle like a precious perfume.

Much depends on the father and mother. They are to be firm and kind in their discipline, and they are to work most earnestly to have an orderly, correct household, that the heavenly angels may be attracted to it to impart peace and a fragrant influence. . . .

Never forget that you are to make the home bright and happy for yourselves and your children by cherishing the Saviour's attributes. If you bring Christ into the home, you will know good from evil. You will be able to help your children to be trees of righteousness, bearing the fruit of the Spirit. . . .

The home may be plain, but it can always be a place where cheerful words are spoken and kindly deeds are done, where courtesy and love are abiding guests. . . .

You must not have strife in your household. . . . It is gentleness and peace that we want in our homes.

The family tie is the closest, the most tender and sacred, of any on earth. It was designed to be a blessing to mankind. And it is a blessing wherever the marriage covenant is entered into intelligently, in the fear of God, and with due consideration for its responsibilities.

Every home should be a place of love, a place where the angels of God abide, working with softening, subduing influence upon the hearts of parents and children.

Our homes must be made a Bethel, our hearts a shrine. Wherever the love of God is cherished in the soul, there will be peace, there will be light and joy. Spread out the word of God before your families in love, and ask, "What hath God spoken?"

The home that is beautified by love, sympathy, and tenderness is a place that angels love to visit, and where God is glorified. The influence of a carefully guarded Christian home in the years of childhood and youth is the surest safeguard against the corruptions of the world. In the atmosphere of such a home the children will learn to love both their earthly parents and their heavenly Father.

From their infancy the youth need to have a firm barrier built up between them and the world, that its corrupting influence may not affect them.

Every Christian family should illustrate to the world the power and excellence of Christian influence. . . . Parents should realize their accountability to keep their homes free from every taint of moral evil.

Holiness to God is to pervade the home. . . . Parents and children are to educate themselves to co-operate with God. They are to bring their habits and practices into harmony with God's plan.

The family relationship should be sanctifying in its influence. Christian homes, established and conducted in accordance with God's plan, are a wonderful help in forming Christian character. . . . Parents and children should unite in offering loving service to Him who alone can keep human love pure and noble.

The first work to be done in a Christian home is to see that the Spirit of Christ abides there, that every member of the household may be able to take his cross and follow where Jesus leads the way.

While there are weighty responsibilities devolving upon the parents to guard carefully the future happiness and interest of their children, it is also their duty to make home as attractive as possible. This is of far greater consequence than to acquire estates and money. Home must not lack sunshine. The home feeling should be kept alive in the hearts of the children, that they may look back upon the home of their childhood as a place of peace and happiness next to heaven. Then as they come to maturity, they should in turn try to be a comfort and blessing to their parents.

The home should be to the children the most attractive place in the world, and the mother's presence should be its greatest attraction. . . .

Fathers and mothers who make God first in their households, who teach their children that the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, glorify God before angels and before men by presenting to the world a well-ordered, well-disciplined family—a family that love and obey God instead of rebelling against Him.

The greatest evidence of the power of Christianity that can be presented to the world is a well-ordered, well-disciplined family. This will recommend the truth as nothing else can, for it is a living witness of its practical power upon the heart.

Home Study Institute Accreditation

Home Study Institute is engaged in a far-reaching program to secure official accreditation or recognition in as many states as possible. In 1976 Maryland gave its approval for grades kindergarten through twelve. More recently, during 1980, the State of Pennsylvania, through the State Board of Private Correspondence Schools, voted approval for the kindergarten, elementary, secondary, and college programs offered by HSI. All diplomas issued by HSI are recognized and approved in that state.

A letter from the Department of Education office in Virginia confirmed that the accreditation granted by the National Home Study Council to HSI was accepted by the Virginia State Department of Education. Home Study Institute has been accredited by National Home Study Council for many years, the latter being the only accrediting body for correspondence schools in the United States. HSI is also a member of the National University Extension Association, a member of the International Council for Correspondence Education and is accredited by the General Conference Board of Regents.

Lay Workers Trained for Service

Forty-hour lay workers from the seven churches of Bermuda attended a Lay Workers' School of Evangelism from September 12 through 14 on beautiful Wight's Island, which is situated in the harbor a few hundred yards from the city of Hamilton.

After an enjoyable supper, the first meeting started on Friday evening followed by a challenging message by Elder Lee Kretz, the Lay Activities Director of the Atlantic Union.

Early Sabbath morning everyone was awake and ready to attend "Morning Manna," a devotional service designed to provide spiritual food to energize our lay workers with holy zeal and enthusiasm to live for Christ and devote their time and talents in loving service for others. Pastor E. J. Parchment, Lay Activities Director of the Bermuda Mission, spoke on the topic "Power for Witnessing."

4. Panel discussion with Elder Alvin Goulbourne (second from right), Mission President.
5. Seeking God in prayer, asking for power to witness.
6. Time for a break out in the fresh air.

What delicious meals were served during the entire weekend. Mrs. Parchment and her efficient helpers are commended for the delectable food provided.

Sabbath school and divine service were memorable events that made a profound impression on the hearts of our lay workers. Elder George Knowles, Director of the Lay Activities Department of the General Conference, was the guest speaker at the divine service. Our hearts were thrilled as he expounded the message of God's Holy Word which was specially adapted to lay workers.

The Sabbath afternoon program, conducted under the trees, was practical and beneficial. The topics discussed were: Organizing the church for service, The Importance of Personal Work, Home visitation, Bible Study, Bringing People to a Decision for Christ, The Gospel Presentation, and The Personal Testimony.

The day's activities ended with slides and moving pictures highlighting lay witnessing and the mission of the church in helping others materially when in need as well as spiritually. At the close of the day one brother made the remark: "I wish we could spend every Sabbath day here on Wight's Island." It was certainly a wonderful and delightful Sabbath day which we spent on a beautiful spot in nature's wonderland.

Sunday's program was geared to public evangelism. Topics such as: Lay Preaching, The Lay Effort, Bible Seminars, Cottage meetings, and other aspects of public evangelism were presented and discussed.

Too soon the time came for us to board the boat and leave for our homes and churches. Everyone was sad to leave but delighted and grateful for the inspiration and knowledge gained which will enable us to set our churches on fire for God and win Bermuda for Christ.

Pastor E. J. Parchment directed the weekend program ably assisted by Pastor Collin Dunbar, Pastor of the Devonshire church. Guest speakers were Elder and Mrs. George Knowles of the General Conference, Elder Lee Kretz of the Atlantic Union, and Pastor Alvin Goulbourne, President of the Bermuda Mission. ☆

New Pastor in South Brooklyn Hispanic Church

Recently, Pastor Eliezer Barreiro was transferred to the South Brooklyn Hispanic church at 42 Prospect Place in Brooklyn, New York.

Since 1975, Pastor Barreiro and his family served at the Central Brooklyn Hispanic church located in an old theater building with a capacity of 1,700. However, with the maintenance being so costly, it was sold to a Pentecostal congregation. Within a year of the sale, the Central Brooklyn Hispanic church was able to enter their new property, which included a private parking lot with a capacity for all the members' cars, sufficient rooms for all the church departments and facilities that, upon completion, may be used for a church school. The new church building has a capacity for over 350 people. With much enthusiasm and fidelity, the church members raised more than $60,000 for the construction.

The community is pleased to have a new church building in the area, and embraces the hope that it will be a great blessing to all. The South Brooklyn Hispanic church has enthusiastically welcomed the Barreiro family. Mrs. Leonor Berreiro is secretary to the President of the Greater New York Conference, G. M. Kretschmar.

The Barreiros have three children, Harold and Edwin, now studying at Atlantic Union College, and Sara, who is a student at Greater New York Academy. We pray for rich blessings upon the Barreiros and may their stay in South Brooklyn be just as happy as in Central Brooklyn. ☆

Camp Berkshire New Sewer System

Work on the new sewer system is going well. Excavation for the system began on October 1. Extensive earth work for the project was done in two stages during October, as was a test on the water system. This test or "pump down" required that the water run for 72 hours straight while being checked around the clock to check the amount of water available from the well at any given moment. If all the necessary parts are obtained on schedule, the work should be completed by the end of the year. Pictured above is earth-moving equipment working on a lagoon for the new sewer system at Camp Berkshire.

Visitors to the New York City Area

(Left) Elder Roger McQuiston, Ministerial Secretary of the Ohio Conference, demonstrated telephone evangelism in a recent Tel-Con Seminar held at the Conference for workers and pastors. Out of nine random phone calls placed in the demonstration, three persons were reached, and one of those three accepted McQuiston's invitation to take Bible studies. Results of this seminar were similar to those achieved in phone evangelism in other cities: an average of one of three persons called request studies (which are followed up weekly by phone). It was interesting that this average held true in New York City even during World Series week!

(Right) Elder George Vandeman, speaker for the It Is Written telecast, speaks to lay leaders at a special meeting at the Jackson Heights church in October. The meeting was called to explain Teleseminar, a seminar via satellite scheduled for March 1, 1981, at four Greater New York locations.

Camps

Camp Lawroweld, ME, Activities

The camp was the center of activity for the Christian Record Braille Foundations Camp for the blind in Northern New England. During July 6 to 13, days were filled with excitement for the seventy-five campers who enjoyed swimming, archery, programs, water skiing, boat rides, nature, crafts, and especially the good food and fellowship.

Tape recorders were often brought out and letters written home to loved ones. Kind merchants had graciously allowed CRBF representatives to bring tractors, bug zappers, and other useful items to camp to make the week more enjoyable by those with sighted problems.

Eldon Blaney was the director and he worked closely with local representatives and camp staff to make the week memorable. The campers ranged in age from pre-schoolers with their guardians, to retired people who also thoroughly enjoyed themselves. This made being a staff member extra important so that a balanced program would be enjoyed by all.

The sound of music was also a pleasant feature of camp. Groups would meet in the "Someone Cares" building, the meeting hall

1. Danny started the tractor as Erith Catlin watched.
2. Linda Horner, a Vermont girl, certainly could play the piano.
3. "... and the band played on."

which serves the camp whenever a break time came. Voices, instruments, and even stamping feet joined in to make beautiful music.

All this was delightful but when the campers did archery and hit the target better than I can using my eyes to sight it, it brought thoughts to mind of just how well adjusted and happy the campers were with their lack of sight. They may not have had the use of their eyes, but they made up for it in many ways and even went beyond to find happiness, which I hasten to add, many sighted people still lack.

They have all returned home, but their memory lingers in our minds, for one of the best weeks at Camp Lawroweld will be recalled as "Blind Camp, 1980."

John Williamson
Communications Director

Three blind campers strive to win in the corn husking competition at Camp Winnekeag. Left to right they are: Cheryl Jones, Joyce Whitney, and Barbara Maynard.

Camp Winnekeag, MA, Memories

What do you do when there are 50 kids all wanting to say the dinner blessing at the same meal? You give thanks. And we had much more to be thankful to the Lord for at Camp Winnekeag this summer as well.

Our total attendance for the five weeks of regular camps was 622. For the two additional weeks of blind camp we had an extra 178 blind campers; all 800 of them experiencing the fun and joy of a Christian life-style. Needless to say with that many campers our camps were full. The dedicated staff at Winnekeag did an excellent job to make every one of those campers feel welcomed.

One of the emphases this summer at Camp was to share one's faith at a very personal level with the campers. This personal type of evangelism led to many decisions for Christ and several decisions for baptism. I wish you could read the letters of thanks I received from many parents.

One of the highlights of our camping season was, of course, the blind camps. To watch the courage these kids have to do the things they do strengthens one's own commitment to excel. Their talent show was the highlight of the week with many of their parents and other organizations attending. What a beautiful way to witness a Seventh-day Adventist Christian life-style to a group we would probably not meet in any other way. As Eldon Blaney, director of Christian Record Braille Foundation would say: "Blind Campers are out of sight."

Remember our Camp in your prayers and offerings that we might continue to grow as a youth evangelism center for the Southern New England Conference.

Camp Cherokee, N.Y. Reflections

Theresa wrote that she liked her camp pastor (Elder John Johansen from Jamestown) and that she was happy for Camp Cherokee where she could do lots of fun things.

Ann, a non-Seventh-day Adventist, returned to regular camp this year after coming to Opportunity Camp last year. She was the neighbor of an Adventist friend. Ann made a first-time commitment to Jesus.

Appreciably mild weather, during a summer of extreme heat for much of the country, and increased camper enrollment gives encouragement to Cherokee's future. Anyone interested in the specific needs and future considerations of Camp Cherokee may write to the New York Conference Youth Department for written plans and copies of proposed buildings.

In reflecting on the summer camping season, there is spacious room for praise to God and anticipation of the positive impact Cherokee can have on the lives of the wonderful young people of the New York Conference. They are an investment for eternity.

Gouverneur VBS

The Gouverneur church held its Vacation Bible School program July 14 to 18 with good response. Thirty-eight young people attended—mostly non-Seventh-day Adventists. The program included crafts, Bible study, refreshments, nature stories, and nature films for all divisions. For several children this was the third straight year in attendance. Eleven adults worked closely together assuring the success of the VBS. During the closing program of the Gouverneur VBS, children from all the divisions joined in singing the theme song, "He's Able."

Follow-up work is in progress; and, as a result, a story hour program began August 2, on a once-a-week basis. It has become obvious that the Lord is working through this avenue in this area.

Niagara Falls VBS

The Niagara Falls church held its first Vacation Bible School in several years during the second week of August. Sessions were held from 6:30 to 8:30 each evening, Monday through Friday with a closing program on Sabbath.

A total of 28 children from families outside the church membership attended. Classes were held for beginners, primary, and junior age groups by VBS leader Dorothy Vignass and helpers Mae Key, Rudy Carey, Donna Dietz, Ada Rutherford, Karen Hamblen, and Pastor Gerald Hamblen.

Shelburne Falls VBS

The week of August 4 to 9, 1980 was a special and unforgettable week for the Shelburne Falls, Massachusetts, church. During that week, the church hosted a Vacation Bible School which reached 47 non-Seventh-day Adventist children. The children in attendance enjoyed a program of stories, songs, activity books, and crafts. A special attraction on Thursday was the "Humpty Dummy" which demonstrates the amount of toxic substances in cigarettes.

This year's Vacation Bible school was led by a staff of 14 dedicated workers which included both church members and non-church members. Marsha Hammond served as the director as well as the Primary Division Leader, while Pearl Archambo and Cathy Taylor directed the Kindergarten and Junior Divisions.

The closing program was held during the eleven o'clock worship service on Sabbath morning. A sermonette entitled, "Who Knows Jesus?" was given by Pastor Laurel Laing. This was followed by the VBS theme presentation in which each division had a part. The program was followed by a Fellowship Dinner held on the lawn by the church members.

We continue to praise God for His blessings and that this program was successful.

Gardner VBS

Gardner, Massachusetts, Seventh-day Adventist Church held an interfaith Vacation Bible School, August 11 to 22. Children 4 to 15 years old were registered. Although none were turned away, there were one-, two-, and three-year olds attending also. The program was held daily from 9:00 to 11:45 a.m.

We shared a wonderful experience with these young people. Great appreciation goes to the pastor, teachers, and helpers who took part, and the wonderful enthusiasm of our youth who helped in many areas. Crafts were a special part of each child's day. Kindergartners made terrariums, refrigerator magnets, creation scrap books, and egg carton caterpillars. Primary and Juniors made rug animals, sand art, decoupage, and paintings.

A follow-up program is being carried out of visitation to the children's homes. Thirty non-Adventists enrolled and eighteen Adventist children.

Fitchburg VBS

The impelling challenge of child evangelism was again accepted in the strength of the Lord by Thelma Hale and Jean Wilson as they led out in Vacation Bible School July 7 to 18, 1980. To God's glory 37 persons volunteered their time and talent to help the 67 enrolled children understand what God, the Father; Jesus, the Son; and the Holy Spirit are like. The sweet, quiet, consistent lives of the teachers and their assistants were an attractive contrast to the lives of many of the adults with whom these children associate daily. Thirty-seven of those attending VBS last summer came from non-Adventist homes; 27 were issued certificates.

Pastor Paul Peterson was in charge of the junior class which was the largest division of our enrollment. Pastor Peterson (left) in the above picture is kneeling to help the juniors in his class with their notebooks. It was sad to see the many raised hands in response to the pastor's question, "How many feel that nobody loves you?"

Under the kind, loving, and able leadership of Cynthia Wilson, the VBS study theme of Creation was reinforced as the pupils made related craft objects.

The parents and friends of the children who attended VBS helped to fill the Fitchburg church Sabbath morning, July 19, when the children so proudly demonstrated in song, words, and actions a brief summary of their two weeks' training. All were welcomed into the fellowship of the study of God's Word in individual classes.

Let us pray that we may continue to be God's fan to keep alive the interest in heavenly things featured in VBS.

Swampscott VBS

The Swampscott SDA Church held a very successful Vacation Bible School in August. This year, for the first time, evening sessions were held from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m.

There were 42 students attending, 31 of whom were not members of the Sabbath school.

Natural Bridge VBS

A few of the 62 children enrolled in the Natural Bridge Vacation Bible School which was held August 11 to 15. The children enjoyed Bible stories, songs, crafts, games, and a nature nugget each evening by Elder Gerald Greene. Director was Mrs. Doreen Hebert, who was joined by many willing helpers. Parents of the children were entertained at a closing program.

Ballston Spa VBS

Singing, happy faces, flags, pledges, prayers.

A Vacation Bible School was held at the Ballston Spa Seventh-day Adventist Church August 4 to 8. Thirty-four young people attended and enjoyed songs, Bible stories, and crafts from 9:30 a.m. to noon each day. Pictured are the children and their teachers.

A big tent was pitched behind the church for the kindergarten department. Many songs and stories were learned and enjoyed by these little ones. Animal hats, name tags, pom pom worms, bug houses, vases, and plaques of Jesus were their crafts.

The Primary and Juniors met downstairs in the church with their lessons and crafts which included name tags, key holders, vases, flowers and duster dolls.

Days were ended with nature talks with a live bunny, a dog, polish hens, and a goat. On Friday evening parents came to see what VBS was all about, enjoyed refreshments, talked to the teachers, and took home the projects of the week.

Fourteen teachers led out in this week of bringing young folks closer to God. Director was Cheryl Roberts and Rachel Landa served as her assistant.

Drewsville VBS

On the evening of August 7, 1980, the Drewsville, New Hampshire, Community Seventh-day Adventist Church was the scene of the closing program of their Vacation Bible School. Under the capable direction of Jennie Biggs and Lee Stacy, and a dedicated staff of workers, youngsters of the area participated in Bible Study, craft projects, nature stories, and games. "Creation" was the theme of the Bible study and "Life in the Desert" and "Farmer's Helpers" held the attention of everyone.

The staff was composed of Kindergarten: Ruth Dunn, Myrtle Lowell, Lillian Dunn, Tina Lowell; Primary: Jennie Biggs; Junior: Roxie Whitney; Crafts: Lee Stacy, Agness Ball, Florence Crosby, Ethel Pike, Victoria Morey; Playground: Gary Dunn, Marie James, Paula Batchelder; Song Leader: Lee Stacy; and Pianists Linda Campbell and Gloria Brock.

The largest attendance in many a year with a total enrollment of fifty plus the favorable comments by the parents and expressions of pleasure and thanks by the students gave testimony to the success of the eight-day program.

Plans are under way to continue serving the youth of the community by organizing a Pathfinder Club.

Jackson Heights Members Welcome New Pastor at Annual Picnic

On Sunday, September 7, 150 members and friends of the Jackson Heights church met together at Camp Berkshire for their annual church picnic. The occasion also served to celebrate the arrival of newly appointed Pastor Ronald Schmidt and his wife and their three daughters, Connie, Jennifer, and Michelle.

Following a nutritious lunch of sandwiches, salads, and watermelon, Artie Campbell master of ceremonies for the occasion, called each of the church elders forward to present a brief welcoming speech. These remarks were followed by the presentation of a giant welcome card containing the signatures of the church members. Two poems were then read from a lovely booklet of poetry which was presented to the pastor. After prayer was offered by the new head elder, all joined hands with the Schmidt family to sing, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds."

The rest of the day was filled with many other enjoyable activities such as tug o'war, sack races, an egg-throwing contest, boating, soccer, baseball, and hiking.

The Jackson Heights church always enjoys its annual picnic at Camp Berkshire, but this year the picnic proved to be just a bit more special. It is the sincere prayer of each member that Pastor Schmidt and his family will be richly blessed in their new ministry.

Baptism in Ballston Spa

The Ballston Spa Seventh-day Adventist Church recently celebrated the baptism of two individuals: Karen German of Ballston Spa and Paul Turcins of Porter Corners. Werner Stavenhagen, head elder and acting pastor, conducted the baptism at the Ballston Spa's sister church in Gloversville.

Karen first came in contact with the Seventh-day Adventist message through her response to an advertisement for health journals. The inquiry for the health journals led Karen to accept an invitation to receive Bible studies through the mail. Shortly after this, while living in Virginia, she attended Sabbath services for the first time.

Karen continued with the Bible studies through the mail, although she did not again attend Sabbath services.

Pastor Werner Stavenhagen baptizing Paul Turcins.

Friends who were Seventh-day Adventists began to send "These Times" and "Signs of the Times" magazines which helped to keep the spark of interest alive.

Karen and her husband, Tom, moved to Ballston Spa where Karen again came in contact with Adventists through Ingathering. A successful visit was made and Bible studies were begun. Karen finally gave her heart to the Lord completely, joined with God's remnant church, and is now serving as church communications secretary.

Paul Turcins is the son of Lydia and Robert Turcins who are both members of the Ballston Spa church. Paul has been a member of Sabbath school and has attended Vacation Bible School for many years. His parents served as an example for him and studied with him, but always allowed Paul to exercise his free will in regard to being baptized.

Many of Paul's friends were being baptized sooner than he but he did not want to be baptized until he understood and was certain of the true meaning of baptism. Following prebaptismal studies with Elder Stavenhagen, he committed his life to the Lord in baptism. ☆

USA Church Progress

Construction is progressing well on the new Union Springs Academy church. The facility will soon be completely closed in, including completed brick work.

It is anticipated that the academy students and membership will be worshipping in the church in early 1981. A conference-wide offering thrust is scheduled for Sabbath, November 29, to benefit the building fund.

LE Statewide Rally

The Vestal Hills church in Binghamton was the destination of the literature evangelists from the New York Conference for a Statewide Rally on October 4.

The Sabbath school program was conducted by the literature evangelists and many experiences were conveyed to the congregation which demonstrated how the Lord truly blesses these frontline workers. The LISTEN literature evangelists held the Lay Activities period in which they also gave experiences from their particular areas of service.

Highlight of the worship service was a sermon by Atlantic Union Conference Publishing Director, Paul Bernet. The afternoon featured a symposium of experiences and special music.

Elder E. O. Robinson, pastor of the Vestal Hills church, and two of the local church ladies demonstrated through a skit how a lady was contacted by a literature evangelist, studied with by a church member, and baptized by the pastor. At the conclusion of the skit, Elder Robinson introduced the participants as the ladies involved in the original contact.

Literature evangelism continues to be an effective entering wedge—inspiring men and women to search the Scriptures. ☆

A Different Community Guest Day

Dixfield, Maine, church has successfully carried out an idea for a different variety of Guest Day in our churches—to invite retired public school teachers and have a program especially geared to recognizing their contributions to the youth who learned under their guidance and tutelage.

April 12 was the day chosen and preparations included plans for a delicious dinner. The day arrived and fifteen teachers attended to be recognized. A lovely book of poems and the missionary book of the year were presented to the teachers who had taught the longest.

Elder Raymond Richardson, former teacher himself, local pastor of the Dixfield church gave an inspirational message especially prepared with the guests in mind and offered special tributes to each teacher present.

Following the delicious dinner, people stayed for some time to share experiences and enjoy the fellowship of our people and their teacher friends. The members of our church feel that all enjoyed themselves and look forward to other times of sharing in their community.

Workshops Pay

Elder Leon Davis, Communications Director of the Atlantic Union Conference, and Elder John Williamson, Communications Director of the Northern New England Conference, were the speakers at the 2:30 p.m. Workshop, October 18, held for workers of the area at the Jay Maine, church.

Elder Williamson spoke to over thirty persons on topics of interest, not only to the church secretaries present, but also to individual members who want to present their church in an accurate, friendly, and favorable way. He said, "EACH MEMBER is a Public Relations representative for his church and most people would rather 'see' a sermon than hear one." He emphasized courtesy, orderliness, and reverence toward the Lord's house and the Holy Scriptures.

Long-range Evangelism

Bonnie and Audene Kirby, mother and daughter, were interested in health and attended a series of Wholistic Health meetings in Portland, Maine, last year. This led them to Radene Drexler's home for one of her home nutrition cooking schools. After that the Kirbys attended church periodically until they decided they wanted to be baptized. They were baptized on October 11, 1980.

Having medical doctors, nurses, dentists, and other health professionals working with the evangelist or pastor in a health series is long-range evangelism. It took several months for the Kirbys to be moved by the Holy Spirit; and the Drexlers were praying all the time.

Elder Williamson held up pictures of Adventist workers and activities and asked those present to make up a caption for the local paper and one suitable for the GLEANER. There was an enthusiastic response with many original and thought-provoking ideas presented.

Elder Davis then gave instructions on good photography, explaining the difference between the indiscriminate viewing of the camera's eye and the selection and censoring of the human eye, proper focus, and light and shadow.

Pictures were shown graphically illustrating the difference between clear and indistinct photos, plain and uncluttered background and the appeal of persons showing interest in an object or another person rather than staring straight ahead.

Literature was distributed on various topics related to being a good Public Relations reporter. A question-and-answer period followed with good participation. Even those reporting for some time found inspiration and re-dedication in a workshop of this type, making it well worthwhile.

Prior to the Workshop session, a pleasant fellowship was enjoyed at a potluck dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Amos and Mrs. Lucille Lord.

Walking Pays Off

Ruth Mattson, over 80, walked on two Walk-a-thons from the Portland, Maine, church 18 miles to Pine Tree Academy in Freeport, Maine, to raise funds to pay off a church debt. She finished the walk in less time than many of her younger friends, some of whom never finished because of sore feet.

Ruth loves to walk and recently she turned in $20 for Investment. She has decided to turn in what she finds on her walks for her Investment project. It has reached over $40; so you can see that Ruth does plenty of walking. If heaven was on this earth Ruth would walk to it. Walking is her favorite exercise and it has kept her young and active.

One of God's Ambassadors

Pictured is Delbert Gilman and his wife, Karen. Feeling a desire to share what God has done for him and do God's work, Delbert, supported by his wife Karen, accepted a call to the Literature Ministry. Delbert has completed his basic training and is now working out of Clinton, Massachusetts, and is bringing our wonderful truth-filled literature to non-Adventists in the surrounding cities and towns. Delbert started full-time work in July, 1980, and as of October, 1980, with the help of the Holy Spirit, has delivered over $5,000 worth of literature. Some of Delbert's customers have already shown interest in visiting the church. It's exciting how God is using literature that has a positive seed.

Is God calling you today? Has He called you in the past and you decided to wait? Don't hesitate any longer. Write NOW to SNEC, Publishing Department, So. Lancaster, MA 01561.

Busy Children Are Happy Children

The Primary Department of the Taunton SDA church has made up a beautiful card to send to the American hostages in Iran for Christmas. Inside contains a passage of faith and courage from the Bible, a personal message, and the signature and age of each child. We are hoping the Tehran Airport will once again open its gates so that this card and many others from around the world may arrive in time for the holidays. Better still would be their release from captivity in the very near future.

Combining the harvest season with last quarter's theme of how God provides for our needs, our Thirteenth Sabbath program held on September

27 projected how God provides for our needs through the working of the soil to produce food. A table was beautifully arranged with an open Bible in the center surrounded by various kinds of vegetables brought in by the children. A poster displaying many varieties of farm produce and carrying the slogan "There is so much for which to be thankful" was placed behind the table. The children, dressed as farmers, presented a lovely harvest program of songs, poems, a memory verse, and a Bible reading—ending with both the children and congregation singing together "Come Ye Thankful People."

Plans are now in the making for early December to sing carols at a few nursing homes in the area followed by a Christmas party at the church.

These children are very busy and happy in the Lord.

Born in Lodi, California, Elder Wilson has an impressive background of denominational service both in the United States and overseas. ### Leominster Spanish Church Celebrates

During the weekend of October 3 and 4, the Leominster Spanish church celebrated their tenth anniversary. One of the special speakers at the services was Elder Pedro DeJesus, who is pastoring the Spanish church on Prospect Avenue in New York City. Ten years ago he was studying for a Master's degree at Clark University in Worcester, Massachusetts, and during that time he was responsible for raising up the group in Clinton, Massachusetts.

On October 4, 1970, the group was organized into a church. This church became part of the Boston-Framingham Spanish district under the direction of Rolf Butendieck, who now rests in peace waiting for the coming of our Lord. In his honor there was a period of silence for one minute. Pastor Butendieck was the first official pastor of the church. The second was Efrain Murillo and then Pastor Ronald Aguilera who presently is their pastor.

The history of the church was given

Dear FAITH:

"I wish to thank you for this opportunity to learn more about our Wonderful Father in heaven. I've watched your program for years and truly love its message.

"God bless you for helping so many people."

J. R., Gt. Barrington, MA

by one of the original founding members, Mrs. Hortensia Pasos. The consecration sermon was given by Pastor Pedro DeJesus. Others participating in the program were Elders Ronald Aguilera and Victor Collins from the Southern New England Conference.

In the afternoon another lovely program was presented consisting of poems and music given by several members of the church. Also the church choir, under the direction of Salvador Garcia, sang several numbers. Again Pastor Pedro DeJesus and Ronald Aguilera spoke.

Under the leadership of Ronald Aguilera, the church of 35 members who formerly met in Clinton, purchased a church building in Leominster. They are now meeting in this new building, and the membership has grown to 108 members. This is our largest Spanish church in the Southern New England Conference. ☆

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

WOULD YOU BELIEVE that you or I can be held just as responsible for the loss of mankind as was Cain in destroying his brother? After Cain had killed his brother and was questioned by God as to Abel's whereabouts he replied, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

God put him [Cain] in his place of responsible stewardship saying "The voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto Me from the ground."

"Cain was held responsible—as men have always been held responsible for the welfare of their fellow beings. Man is accountable to God for his part in the family, the community, the church, the nation, and even the world" (Your Stewardship and Mine, S. A. Wellman, p. 8).

By deliberately neglecting God's closing work in the final distribution of the assets lent to us by God, we might find it most difficult to answer God's question, "Where is your brother?"

Your new Trust Services Director is eager to be of service to you.

W. ROBERT DAUM, Director

Baptism in New Bedford, Massachusetts

On Sabbath morning, September 13, 1980, Chester Brown was baptized in the New Bedford English church. Chester has faithfully attended church for several months, and as the pastor studied with Chester he found a young man with a love for his Saviour and a desire to know truth.

Chester became acquainted with our church through a young lady who later became his wife.

May God bless Chester and Brenda as they serve their Master together.

At Rest

HARWOOD, Floyd Alson was born to Charles and Lillian (Bourne) Harwood on June 15, 1903, at Hawley, MA, and died May 4, 1980, in Pittsfield, Mass.

Floyd had been employed as a paper-maker at Crane and Sons in Dalton until his retirement in 1967. He was a longtime faithful member of the Berkshire Hills Seventh-day Adventist Church, and an enthusiastic listener to the Voice of Prophecy. He loved the out-of-doors, and summer days often found him tending to his garden and fruit trees. A loving and faithful husband and father, he is greatly missed by his wife, Florence, of almost 46 years; their two sons, Richard and Harold; relatives; friends; and his church family.

Floyd died as he lived, strong in the faith of our Lord's return. He is interred in the Spruce Corners Cemetery in Savoy, where he awaits reunion with those he loved.

STEVEN FARLEY

PETERSON, Mrs. Lillian C. was born on August 13, 1893, in Pawtucket, RI, and passed away on October 16, 1980, in Central Falls, RI, following a long illness. She was the widow of Charles V. Peterson.

Sister Peterson, a member of the Pawtucket, RI, church, loved her Lord and her church. She loved to memorize Scriptures and she expressed her feelings and thoughts through poetry, prayer, and thoughts in her diary. Her beautiful voice brought cheer to those around her through her singing.

She is survived by a daughter, Louise Peterson of Pawtucket, RI; and one brother, Fredrick Donnelly of New Haven, CT; also nieces and nephews.

Peacefully sleeps our sister awaiting the call of the Life-giver whom she served so faithfully through the years. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer.

W. H. JOHNSON

SLOCUM, Marion O. Restani was born March 14, 1900, in Syracuse, NY, and passed to her rest on September 6, 1980, in Syracuse at the age of 80.

As a girl, the last of nine children, Marion grew up in the Syracuse area attending area schools. In the early 1920's she met Clifford Slocum also of Syracuse. They were married on May 3, 1924, and settled in the Syracuse area, where they were lifetime residents. To this marriage union were born two children.

It was during the mid 1940's that sister Slocum was introduced to Adventism and with her husband joined the Seventh-day Adventist Church to which she was faithful until her death.

Sister Slocum's husband predeceased her in 1971. She is survived by her two children: Mrs. Daniel (Marion) Buckley of Canastota, and Floyd Slocum of Syracuse, four grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.
