The Challenge of the Ripening Harvest

BY EARL J. PARCHMENT, Director
Personal Ministries Department
Atlantic Union Conference

Another one of time's milestones has been reached. The old calendar has become obsolete, and a new one hangs on the wall with pages all fraught with sunny days, weeks, and months. What will their story be? You doubtless have made many resolutions and plans for the new year. Among them, have you included the attainment of the higher heights of excellence in the performance of life's most important duty? What is that, you may ask? Is it scholastic achievements or financial gain? Or could it be the perusal of some personal ambition which will enhance your social or political standing in life? No, the Christian's greatest and most important duty is to witness for Christ, which results in the winning of precious souls for the kingdom of heaven. God's messenger, Ellen G. White, wrote: "The greatest work, the noblest effort, in which men can engage, is to point sinners to the Lamb of God" (Gospel Workers, p. 18). "Nothing is to be permitted to hinder this work. It is the all-important work for the time" (Testimonies, vol. 5, p. 456). The proclamation of the gospel is the great mission of the church. It was the mission of Jesus when He came to this earth almost 1900 years ago.

In your imagination, see Him as He and His disciples arrived at Jacob's well in the Vale of Schechem. They were hungry and thirsty after walking a long distance in the heat of the day. But to their dismay, there was nothing with which to draw the water. Jesus sat by the side of the well, while His disciples went into a nearby city to buy food. While they were gone, a Samaritan woman came to the well to draw water. Jesus asked her for a drink. She was surprised at His request. She had perceived that He was a Jew, and the Jews had no dealings with the Samaritans; so she asked Jesus how is it that He being a Jew would ask her, a Samaritan, for a drink of water? He offered her living water that would spring up into eternal life. It was not long after talking to Jesus that the woman was convinced that He was the Messiah. She forgot her errand, she left her water pot, and hurried into the city to invite her relatives and friends to go to the well to meet Jesus.

While she was gone, the disciples returned with the food which they had bought. They offered it to Jesus, but He refused to eat it by saying: "I have meat to eat that ye know not of" (John 4:32). The disciples wondered if anyone had given Him food. Jesus dispelled this thought from their minds by saying: "My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work" (John 4:34). Jesus then looked on a field of grain nearby. He noticed the tender green grains glistening in the noonday sun. Pointing to the field of grain, He said to His disciples: "Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest" (John 4:35). Just then, coming down from the city of Sychar, could be seen scores of people coming to see the Messiah and to hear Him speak.

Jesus is saying to us today, as He said to His disciples in the long ago: "Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest." Jesus expects each one of us to respond to His call and thrust in the sickle and reap. We are grateful for the many souls who have been won so far during the "Thousand Days of Reaping," but there remains much more to be done, and time is running out. The words of the poet are true: "The work that centuries might have done must now crowd the hours of setting sun."

How can the church most effectively accomplish her mission in 1984? In order to do so, all its departments must coordinate their activities and cooperatively join hands to achieve the great objective of winning souls for the Lord Jesus. It has been said that "if a department is not winning souls, it has no justifiable reason to exist." To be specific, let us think of each department of the church and how best it can achieve the soul-winning objective. First, think of the Sabbath school, which includes all the members of the church. We are told that "the Sabbath school should be one of the greatest instrumentalities, and the most effectual, in bringing souls to Christ" (Counsels on Sabbath School Work, p. 10). We are happy for what the Sabbath school is doing to win souls through Vacation Bible Schools, Branch Sabbath Schools, Neighborhood Bible Clubs, Story Hours, et cetera. But what other means can be employed to help reap the harvest? A few suggestions are: Community Guest Days—these should be soul-winning events for every church. Members should invite their friends and relatives who are not members to attend. A special program should be prepared for this special occasion. A guest speaker may be invited that day who will open the doors of the church, thus inviting the guests to join the family of God. In some places this plan has proved very effective to obtain decisions for Christ and His church.

Then let us think of the Sabbath school class—let us make them evangelistic units. Invite the class to set a goal for souls. The class teacher should not only teach the lesson, but also present to his class the mission of the church and suggest ways and means of fulfilling it. Each Sabbath school class should be given a part of the church's territory, which will be the mission field for the class. Plans should be made to evangelize their class's territory. Visitors to the class should be warmly welcomed by the teacher and introduced to the class members. Names and addresses of all visitors should be ascertained. They should be called or visited during the week by the teacher or someone appointed to do so. Whenever possible, visitors should be invited to have Sabbath dinner either at the church or in the home of a class member. If there is a pastor's Bible class, visitors may be invited to attend. Time should be allotted for class activities other than the time for the teaching of the lesson. This may necessitate a change in the Sabbath school program, which may be desirable.

The Personal Ministries Department, like the Sabbath school, involves the whole church and is responsible for the execution of all missionary activities of the church. This fact makes it necessary for this department to work very closely with all the other departments. Specific soul-winning plans should be carefully planned for each quarter of the year. These plans should include outreach activities such as systematic literature distribution; Bible evangelism, which includes Bible studies, lay efforts, Bible seminars, or cottage meetings; home visitation, which may involve community religious surveys, Community Services, Ingathering, and follow up. Avenues of service through the Personal Ministries Department are unlimited. Let us utilize every means of witnessing and reap the ripening harvest of precious souls for the kingdom of God.

The Youth Department was organized for service. Its aim is to "take the Advent message to all the world in this generation." Young people have been endeavoring to achieve their aim. All through the ages they have been God's helping hand, and especially now as we near the end of time are their services needed to work for their fellow youth and point them to the Lamb of God. Inspiration provides us with this thrilling statement concerning the potentiality of young people: "With such an army of workers as our youth, rightly trained, might furnish, how soon the message of a crucified, risen, and soon-coming Saviour might be carried to the whole world" (Education, p. 271).

The Temperance Department, the Education Department, Religious Liberty—every organization of our churches—should be pressed into service with one great objective in mind—to finish the task commissioned to us. The promises of God are bright, the power of God is unlimited, the love of God is boundless, the opportunities for service are numerous. Let us, therefore, with firm resolution and determined effort, make 1984 a banner year for soul winning. May our daily prayer be:

"Lord, help me to live from day to day,
In such a self-forgetful way
That even when I kneel to pray
My prayer shall be for others."

The Apprentice Certificate Program

Though Atlantic Union College's varied academic programs are as sound as ever, it is possible to attend AUC for one or two years and obtain a certificate in a wide range of areas.

During the fall of 1981, a small group of students sent a request to Academic Dean, Dr. Lynn Sauls. Their request was "we need an educational program which will give us hands-on experience, and specific training in the areas of employment which we are interested in." Up to this point, Dr. Sauls had been apprehensive about developing a program involving Industrial Arts. "Industrial Arts programs failed," he said, "because there was a very low student interest." As there now seemed to be some interest, Dr. Sauls immediately began developing what is now known as "the Apprentice Certificate Program."

It is a work-study program which provides specific training for interested students. Presently, programs are available in Physical Plant Maintenance, Grounds Upkeep, Audio-Visual Technician, Dairying, Plumber's, Electrician's, and Power Engineer's license. Through this type of diversified program it is possible for students to gain the experience and training they need, without four years of college. This new program does not limit itself to just work training, there is also a minimum number of hours that must be spent within the general education core curriculum of AUC.

In 1981, Daryl Gustafson came to AUC. He found the program at AUC to be almost planned for his needs. In it, he was able to get a broad spectrum of experience in the Plant Maintenance program. This program gave him the opportunity for experience in electrical, power operation, plant management, and an emphasis in his real interest—plumbing. Daryl finished in the summer of 1983. Shortly after his graduation, he was hired as the manager of the physical plant for a large apartment complex in Brockton, Massachusetts. "It was because of Daryl's background, training, and varied experiences that he was hired," said Dr. Sauls. Presently, Daryl has two people working for him.

Dr. Sauls was very surprised when the job offer came through. "In setting up our program we had no idea that this type of employment was an opportunity for our students involved in the Apprentice Program. Now that we realize the success of students, such as Daryl Gustafson, the possibilities of our program are greatly diversified."

One of the greatest advantages of this program is that you, as a student, have the benefit of working one to one with an expert in your field of interest. Unfortunately, with the one-on-one system there is a limited number of students that can be accepted into the Apprentice Certificate Program. The Apprentice Certificate Program is available to all students upon request for entrance to the Academic Dean's office (specifics can be found in the AUC bulletin).

Business Educators Hold Workshop

On November 30, 1983, in Purdon Auditorium on the campus of Atlantic Union College, the Massachusetts Business Educators Association held one of its many workshops. This particular workshop was coordinated by Terrance Ingano, who is an AUC Business Education graduate and who now heads the Business Department at nearby Clinton high school.

The MBEA is a state-wide organization that provides conventions, workshops, and lecturers throughout the year in various locations in Massachusetts. According to organizer Terrance Ingano, the purpose of MBEA is "to promote business education and the professional growth of those educating."

One business teacher commented on how the majority of his colleagues reacted to the workshops, "We rated them on a scale of 1 (poor) to 5 (excellent) and I don't recall there being one rating below a 4 (good)."

Midland Heights Church Honors Two Members for Long, Faithful Service

Mrs. Wilma Foggo and Mrs. Willa Tucker were recently honored by the Midland Heights Seventh-day Adventist Church at their Community Relations Day, October 8, 1983, for their long and faithful service to the church.

Mrs. Foggo is a charter member of Midland Heights church having been a member of the St. George Seventh-day Adventist Church previously. She has spent many hours sewing for the Community Services of the church in which she was once the leader. In addition, she has served the church as Sabbath school teacher, Sabbath school song leader, and on numerous Sabbath mornings she has carried flowers and greenery to beautify the church.

She is an avid fisherlady spending many hours on the restful waters alone with God and her fishing line.

Vacation Bible School at North Bronx

The 1983 Vacation Bible School at North Bronx, under the direction of Vernice Bramble, had a total of 150 children in attendance; 100 were non-Adventists.

Theme for the V.B.S. was "Jesus, Lord of Promises." The children were taught many of these promises, which they really believed Jesus would fulfill in their lives. A graduation program held on Sabbath evening, July 30, highlighted the promises.

Many parents, relatives, and friends attended the program and openly expressed their appreciation. Sister Bramble and her assistants give God the glory for the success of the 1983 V.B.S.

Approximately thirty members of the Whispering Pines School Choir offered special music at the Old Westbury church on Sabbath, October 22. The group was directed by Heather Maurer, teacher of grades 3 and 4, and is composed of pupils from grades 3 through 8. The group will sing in several area churches in the spring, including Hempstead, Rockville Center Spanish, and Huntington. The pupils greatly appreciated the opportunity to praise their Saviour through the medium of music.

Literature Evangelism Pays Dividends

In a recent meeting for literature evangelists held at the Adventist Book Center in Manhattan, a man came up to me and called me by my last name. He said, "Don't you remember me?"

At first I did not recognize him, but then I remembered. My mind went back to 1975 when I had worked with literature evangelists in the New Jersey Conference. This man, a customer at that time, was drinking heavily, used drugs, and had a heart filled with hate. His intention was to kill someone the very next day.

I don't know how (but God knows), he purchased the Triumph of God's Love and Bible Readings for the Home. The Spirit of God started to work on him.

On that day in the Adventist Book Center office in Greater New York he told me, "Remember that day when you came to my home? Today, I am a college graduate and will be a pastor in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. My wife and children are baptized into this church. All together, eight people from my family, including my mother, have been baptized; and 30 people I am working with right now are ready for baptism."

I don't have to tell you, my heart was filled with joy. Literature evangelism pays big dividends.

Oliver to Pastor Bronx Tabernacle of Joy

Willie Oliver, who has been serving as assistant pastor at the Grand Concourse church in the Bronx, is the new pastor of the Tabernacle of Joy. The Tabernacle is the sister church of Grand Concourse and began following an earlier crusade at Grand Concourse.

Pastor Oliver received his Master's in Pastoral Counseling from Andrews University. He is a native of Panama, where his father recently retired from the ministry.

Brother Oliver will continue assisting at Grand Concourse as he assumes his new duties.

Yonkers Church Dedicates Pulpit

On October 15, the Yonkers church dedicated a new church pulpit to the memory of Alfred F. Cadavero, a charter member of the church.

The dedication ceremony was under the direction of Pastor Anthony Romeo, associate pastor, who introduced the program. Pastor Rick Howard, district pastor, delivered a dedicatory prayer. A biographical sketch emphasizing the Christian qualities of his father was presented by David A. Cadavero. Mrs. Justine Cadavero, surviving spouse, was presented with a corsage by Mrs. Marlene Romeo.

A few noteworthy points mentioned in the service depicted the scope of Alfred Cadavero's influence upon the members of the church: he accepted the Adventist message in 1947 and, for 34 years, was a faithful member. He held various positions of leadership, including church elder for 25 consecutive years; missionary leader, Sabbath school teacher and deacon. He enthusiastically supported each missionary project, evangelistic effort, health seminar and other church-related activities. His evangelistic zeal resulted in numerous baptisms into the church. After his retirement from the New York Telephone Company in 1968 (which he served for 47 years), he donated numerous hours to the care and maintenance of the Yonkers church facility.

Revelation Banquet at Yonkers Church

A Revelation Seminar banquet held in the church's fellowship hall on Wednesday, November 9, proved to be one of the nicest church potlucks ever.

The social committee met the night before to decorate the hall and rearrange the tables that had been used for two months by between sixty and eighty students of the Book of Revelation. Each table was covered with fresh paper tablecloths and a little vase containing dried autumn flowers, with a small yellow candle in the center.

The festivities got under way with a welcome and prayer of thanksgiving by Pastor Rick Howard, the seminar instructor. After dinner Pastor Howard presented the 1984 devotional book, Show Me Thy Ways, as a gift to 17 students for perfect or near-perfect attendance at the 25-session course. Lastly, diplomas were handed out to 52 students for successfully completing the Revelation Seminar.

Most people present expressed interest in continuing their studies by attending an advanced course beginning November 12. They received the first lesson for this course as they left the banquet, so they could do their homework and arrive prepared for the first class.

Some of the students chipped in to buy their teacher a beautiful plant as a token of their appreciation.

One other person recognized for faithful attendance and support of the program in keeping accurate records for the class was Mrs. Merle Henriques. As she walked up to the front supported by a cane, the entire group spontaneously rose to their feet in respect and affection. The pastor presented her with a Vegetarian Cookery Guide from Living Springs Retreat.

With warmth and friendship so evident, it was not surprising that Pastor Howard remarked that he had found the seminar series and closing program to be one of the best times he has had in his eight years as a Seventh-day Adventist.

In response to the advertising for the seminar, 97 non-Adventists signed up for the course and 41 Adventists participated. Thirty-one more preregistered by calling the number listed but did not come, for some reason. These people will be invited to attend the next program in 1984. Sixteen names were presented to the church Board for approval to join the church, subject to baptism in the near future. May the Lord continue to bless as Yonkers and other members in Greater New York plan their outreach programs for 1984.

Saratoga Church Benefits from Revolving Fund

When the members of the Ballston Spa Seventh-day Adventist Church finally realized their dream of moving into a new church building in Saratoga Springs, New York, in the summer of 1981, little did they realize that the need for expansion would arise in just two years. Yet the Lord's leading has brought the congregation to exactly that point.

It all began when members began discussing the need for a church school beginning with the 1982-83 school year. Since finances seemed limited, it was decided that such a school would be feasible only if a minimum of six students enrolled. Early registration figures seemed to indicate that the time was not right. However, the church board decided that although the necessary six students had not registered, they would appeal to the congregation to support the school on a missionary basis with their pledges. A figure was decided upon in advance which would be necessary for operating the school, and the congregation turned in pledges totalling just $50 more than the required amount. As a result, the little school opened in one of the Sabbath school rooms of the Saratoga church in 1982. And almost as if to confirm the Lord's leading in the matter, eight students were ready to begin learning when the first day of school finally arrived.

When the 1983-84 school year rolled around, the registration jumped to 18 students. Members rejoiced at this growth, yet realized that present facilities were inadequate to meet the needs of such a student body. Since the congregation was heavily involved in paying off the mortgage for the church building, the necessary support to finance an addition to the existing structure seemed unrealistic.

It was at this time that the Lord used the Atlantic Union Revolving Fund to provide a miraculous answer. Through comparison of the Revolving Fund's terms with those of the local bank, it was discovered that the Saratoga church could refinance their loan through the Revolving Fund and, due to the lower interest rate, add on enough money to pay for an addition, while making lower monthly payments. As if this were not enough, the church also found that the entire mortgage would be paid off four years earlier than if they continued with the loan through their bank!

Having completed the necessary paperwork, the church plans to break ground in the Spring for the new school rooms. Surely the Lord has led, and the expanded facilities will enable the congregation in Saratoga to be an even brighter light in the community.

SAWS Clothing Prepared and Shipped to Baltimore Warehouse

This fall, thirteen congregations in the New York Conference had clothing prepared for the Seventh-day Adventist World Service. This is a program of providing clothing for individuals overseas. Nearly six hundred boxes were picked up from the following churches: Cortland, Dexterville, Elmira, Herkimer, Ithaca, Norwich, Rochester Bay Knoll, Roosevelt, Schenectady, Tioga County, Union Springs and Vestal Hills.

Each year the Conference collects these clothing boxes and delivers them to the Baltimore warehouse of SAWS (Seventh-day Adventist World Services). SAWS is one of the outreach ministries of the Adventist Church to the world community.

Niagara Falls Church is Active

The Niagara Falls church has been active in many ways the last few months. First, two new members, Tony Nichele and Chris Orr were baptized into the church in August. They accepted the message as a result of Bible studies given by two members from the Falls church. We know that Tony and Chris will be good workers for the Lord.

This past fall two of our elders, Jack Carey and Harold Rutherford, replaced the stairs and railing to the front porch of the Williams home, an elderly couple who are members of the Falls church. As you can see from the picture, the stairs were in bad shape. The Williams's could not do it themselves so Jack and Harold donated their time and using some of the money from the church poor fund replaced the stairs. The Williams's were very grateful.

As was reported in an earlier issue the church has started a Community Service program operating out of the basement of the church. Volunteers work Wednesday afternoons giving away donated food and clothing to the needy in the Niagara Falls area. The program started slowly, but today the church is helping many people. This program has not only blessed the people who come here for help, but also we feel the Lord has blessed the church for our work. We would just like to thank the volunteers for their time and enthusiasm in this work.

Finally, our church has just completed its Ingathering for the year. Many members participated and we were very successful. In fact, we celebrated with a Victory Dinner with good food and fellowship.

The Niagara Falls church is a small church (only 40 members), but it is an active and growing church. Someday with the Lord's blessings and our participation with Him it will be a much bigger church.

Union Springs Academy Girls' Open House

The first of the two major social events of the year, the Girls' Open House, was held on December 4, 1983.

The Girls Club put many hours into the evening to make it a very special occasion. This year's theme was "Christmas," and the dorm and cafeteria were beautifully decorated with all the traditional Christmas garnishes.

There was a special guest appearance by Santa, who on regular school days is our principal, Elder Clyde Newmyer.

After dinner and special entertainment the film "Little Women" was shown.

Prophecy Seminar Helps to Enlighten Nashua, New Hampshire

Communications . . . an important part of a thriving church, especially a church preparing for an exciting series of prophecy lectures. The members of the Nashua, New Hampshire, church had the special privilege of bringing this good news through literature distribution, personal invitation, letters, and radio and newspaper advertisements to the people in the community to hear evangelism at its best. The seminar was coordinated by Pastor Robert Korzyniowski, pastor of the Nashua and Manchester churches, presented by Rocky Gale, Northern New England Conference evangelist, and supported by the Nashua, Manchester and Concord churches. This program was held in the Nashua church, 20 Robinson Road, September 9 through October 9, every Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at 7:30 p.m.

The opening night's presentation was, "Our Day in the Light of Prophecy." Other topics, such as the "Mark of The Beast," "Life After Death," "Second Coming of Christ," and many others were aptly introduced and discussed by Elder Gale as a hushed audience listened attentively to truth-filled Bible instruction. Three films were also shown, "Deceived," the ministry and tragedy of Jim Jones; "Arrow of Prophecy"; and "John Huss." These films were appreciated by all.

An average of fifteen non-Adventists attended the meetings with nine decisions made for Christ, two of whom have already been baptized into the remnant church. They will continue to study these new truths to prepare themselves for the Master's service and the heavenly kingdom. Many souls are still waiting to be harvested in this city of 70,000. People burdened with sorrow, sin, worry, heartache, and loneliness. May God give us renewed strength and compassion to continue witnessing that people's hearts may be touched and converted, not by our righteousness, but through Christ's.

Our thanks to Rocky Gale and all those who supported this effort for a job well done. May God richly bless you, Rocky, in your series in Berlin, New Hampshire.

The Witness

"THE WITNESS" was presented to the Norridgewock church members at Riverview Memorial school on October 22, 1983, by a group from the Farmington Seventh-day Adventist Church, under the direction of Pat Manning.

This program consisted of the story of Jesus told and sung by "Peter, The Witness" and the other men and women who knew the Master best. In "The Witness" we hear from Peter, the fisherman, played by Hugh Sipowicz; from Peter's wife, by Michelle Cookson;

Participants of "The Witness."

Mary the mother of James, by Deborah Manning; James, by Edward Chase; John by Patrick Cote; Mother of James and John by Gloria Fitzherbert; Judas, by Robert Acheson. The singers were Christopher Cote, Debra Cote, Stanley Glazier, Bruce Malcolm and Pat Manning. Robert Manning played the Bass Violin and Cordelia Chase was the prompter.

This group would accept invitations to present this strong and moving story of Jesus Christ; because they, too, desire to follow Peter in being a witness to their loving Saviour. Those interested should contact Pat Manning, Farmingdale Seventh-day Adventist Church, Main Street, Farmingdale, ME 04345.

Carthage Church Presents Award to First Selectman

The evening of November 19, 1983, was a special evening in the small Community of Carthage, Maine. The Carthage Seventh-day Adventist Church awarded the Community Services plaque to the First Selectman of their town. A letter of invitation was sent to each family in the community encouraging them to join with the church to make the event a special "THANK YOU" from the townsfolk as a whole. Approximately sixty folks turned out. Of this number, fifteen were members of our church.

Everyone had a good time. A slide program was presented taking us on an imaginary trip through the community depicting scenic spots and visiting people along the way. Pastor R. Lenbert Cheney read a poem written in honor of Mr. Steven Brown who was also presented a beautiful hand-stitched maple-leaf quilt made by the ladies of the church.

It was the first time many of the townsfolk had been in our newly dedicated church. Needless to say, they were invited to return.

The church is fast becoming the talk about town with radio and newspaper ads and stories. Also, Pastor Hutchinson rotates with other Pastors in the area taking part in the five-minute devotional time given free by one of the local radio stations to all churches.

Health programs like the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking and "The Taste of Nature Cooking School" are bringing to the attention of the community what the church has to offer to the general public for their personal good.

The primary reason for the different outreaches is to help people in an area of their personal lives that they currently feel needs improvement. The leaders are always ready and willing to witness for Christ as well. One family that successfully completed the Five-Day Plan is currently taking Bible studies in their home. When this happens, it goes a long way to boost the morale of the ones who put so much time and effort into the outreach programs of the church.

We ask again for your prayers and interest in this part of God's vineyard.

Pastor Malcolm Hutchinson

Generally on the fourth Tuesday of each month, there is a health class, featuring Natural Remedies such as internal and external uses of charcoal, hydrotherapy, fomentations, and poultices. These health classes are led by Mrs. Gepka Penney and Pamela Rossetti who are nurses. When this series of Natural Remedies is finished, there will be a series of vegetarian cooking classes.

Anyone interested in more information regarding any of these classes may call the Church on Tuesday evenings between 6:30 and 7:30. Telephone number: (617) 752-4783.

Fitness Tuesday

What's so special about a Tuesday night at the Worcester church? Tuesday is a night to get healthy—mentally, spiritually, and physically. First there is a Bible study conducted by Joe Savage that is guaranteed to stimulate the mental processes. Currently the topic being studied is the book of Daniel.

For those who are interested in physical fitness, there is an exercise class following the Bible study. This class is led by Barbara Lempicki, a former Gloria Stevens exercise instructor. Ms. Lempicki is not a church member, but has been attending the Bible study and has volunteered her expertise.

PAN AMERICAN YOUTH CONGRESS

December 18-22, 1984

The Pan American Youth Congress will be held in Mexico City, Mexico. The theme of the congress will be SOWING LOVE, INTO ALL THE WORLD! The Youth Congress is intended to provide opportunity for young people from various countries and cultures in the Pan Americas to share their methods and enthusiasm for presenting the gospel in unique ways. This will be a time to educate our young adults in the involvement in the mission of the church.

The churches in the Southern New England Conference are encouraged to select and financially assist one or more youth delegates to the Youth Congress. We have been allotted thirty-five delegates to attend from this conference. For further information, please contact your local pastor, or Elder Robert Farley, Youth Director, Southern New England Conference.

ATHOL CHURCH OPENS COMMUNITY SERVICES CENTER

The Athol church officially opened their community services center on November 5, 1983. Mrs. Hazel Lackey, community services leader (left), and Ernest Alner cut the ribbon to the center, which is small, but well stocked. It is at Mrs. Lackey's home, but a separate building. She lives on West Street, New Salem, Massachusetts. The center has already been a blessing to the community. The workers distributed sixteen Thanksgiving food baskets to needy families.

College Church Celebration of Thanksgiving

The College church celebrated Thanksgiving on Sabbath, November 20, by giving thanks for our Community Leaders as well as our thankfulness to God.

The church setting included three banners on the brick wall in the front of the church which read, GIVE THANKS, PRAISE THE LORD, and ALLELUIA. On both sides of the church were decorated tables set up for the congregation to contribute their gifts of food—fresh, canned, boxed, et cetera, during the service.

During the introit, the South Lancaster Academy Bell Choir played beautiful music from the balcony. The congregation sang, "We Gather Together" as the children dressed as Indians and Pilgrims, the College Choir (Cantus), and the S.L.A. Choir brought their gifts to the front.

The church invited our Lancaster Town Officials to be with us for our Thanksgiving celebration. They were as follows: Eunice Janda, Town Clerk; William Moran, Chief of Police; John McLaughlin, Fire Chief; William Jacobson, Clinton Hospital Chief of Staff; Frank Mitchell, Superintendent of Schools; and John Dyer, Pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church. Also on the platform was Roger Handysides, Atlantic Union College Campus Counselor. The Litany of Thanks for the Servants of God was read by the above named and the congregation responded by saying, "We thank you Lord for these servants of our community; for their dedication and sacrifice on our behalf. May Your will always be manifest in their work."

During the singing of the hymn, "Now Thank We All Our God," the congregation was dismissed by rows and brought their gifts to the celebration tables. Elder David Osborne gave a Homily entitled, "Attitude of Gratitude." His thought was, "Take Time to be Thankful Everyday." It was a beautiful service.

The food that was collected was distributed to the unfortunate in our community for Thanksgiving.

The Rebirth of Newspaper

Pioneer Renascence. The revival of a newspaper. That's what's been happening in the journalism class at South Lancaster Academy. So far, four issues have been completed, and apparently the dream is becoming a reality for the first time in several years.

The paper, produced by a staff of ten (which also doubles as the yearbook staff), is actually the product of a journalism class taught by Rondi Aastrup. As well as learning the necessary skills for putting words and pictures together effectively, the staff, under the editorship of Dennis Doucett, is also learning actual production skills. The camera-ready format adds a great deal of pressure to the job, but it also offers opportunity for a broader learning experience. Although frustrating at times, the staff has learned much about teamwork and responsibility.

The staff is working on putting together a master address list of everyone in the five-church constituency so that eventually all members will receive a monthly issue of the paper. If you are interested in the Pioneer and you are not a member of the constituency, please send us your name and address and we will gladly send you a subscription. Pioneer Renascence, South Lancaster Academy, South Lancaster, MA 01561.

Adventist CPA's Meet

The Adventist Association of Certified Public Accountants (AACPA) held its annual national meeting on the campus of Southwestern Adventist College, October 21 to 24. The Association's primary goals are to encourage students in our colleges to enter the accounting profession, encourage professional development of its members, and foster cooperation among the members in denominational employment and those in the public accounting sector to cooperate in the advancement of the church.

Two professional development seminars were held—one on the new government regulations affecting hospitals, and one on the use and selection of mini and micro computers in today's office environment.

Highlights of the meeting were: A Sunday brunch where the AACPA hosted the business faculty and the business and accounting students. Various of the CPA's made presentations on the involvement of CPA's in public accounting, the teaching profession, the General Conference Auditing Service, and other areas of denominational employment. This was followed by a business meeting to study goals and elect the 1984 officers. Adventist CPA's who are interested in membership should direct queries to D. D. Dennis, the secretary, at: 6840 Eastern Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20012, (202) 722-6436. ☆

COMING— CARING CHURCH SEMINAR UNION-WIDE

MARCH 4 - 8, 1984

Teaching Personnel

Bob Dale
Bill Scales
Tom Ashlock
Floyd Bresee
Mark Finley
and others

Occasionally an idea is introduced that at once captivates the imagination of nearly everyone. Such is the "Caring Church" model. It is not just another program. "It is a strategic outline of why and how things happen." Understanding why some things work and others do not will enable a person or a group to experience success and avoid failure.

The Caring Church Seminar is for administrators, departmental directors, pastors, and laymembers. This meeting has tremendous potential for our churches in the Atlantic Union. When all of our churches become "caring churches" the results of our work will multiply many times over. Come and join with me for these few days of inspiration and instruction.
