"ADVENTIST EDUCATION HAD IT FIRST!"

No-booze dormitory wing a big hit" screamed the Worcester, Massachusetts, newspaper headline recently. The news report went on to say, "A 'substance-free' dormitory wing at Holy Cross College, where cigarettes, alcohol and other drugs are banned, has been so successful in its first year that the space will be tripled next fall."

What gave rise to this "novel experiment"? In the words of their campus newspaper editor, "It doesn't bother me that men down the hall drink, but it's the things that happen around drinking, like breaking windows, pulling out sinks, the senseless vandalism. It happens enough for me as a student to be ashamed of my peers. If you walk through one of the halls on Friday or Saturday night, you'll hear music blaring and see underage people with beers, which is against college policy, and the next morning you'll see the empty pizza boxes and pizza smeared on the walls."

I'm not surprised that students who wanted an education rebelled and that this new solution to the problem is catching on. And I'm sure it is worth the extra $350 they'll have to pay to get into the experimental dorm (making a total of $6050 for board and room next year).

But the really good news for our constituency is that this is the kind of dormitory that Adventists have been running at Atlantic Union College for more than a hundred years, and next year the equivalent cost for board and room will be only half what Holy Cross charges!

In this as well as in so many other areas, Adventist education and Atlantic Union College can be seen as not only first, but also actually as ahead of our times.

Recently, the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching issued a major report on American undergraduate education. It spoke about its loss of mission, confusion over values, absence of vigorous intellectual exchange, faculty and administrative distance from student life, separation from civic and social obligations in neighborhoods and the world, and the lack of a sense of wholeness.

The report's recommendations included advocacy of teachers caring about students, an integrated core curriculum, viewing the academic and non-academic life as interlocked, teachers being active with students in campus events, holding of all-college convocations, a "wellness" prerequisite to all else (good food, exercise, caring for body), searching for common values to share, attempting to build community, and even the college president becoming more directly involved in student residence halls.

Doesn't this sound like a blueprint of AUC's approach to education, thanks to the Adventist philosophy of education shared, incidentally, by all the elementary and secondary schools in the Atlantic Union Conference sponsored by the Seventh-day Adventist Church? Of course, it does. And again, we had it first. In so many ways, AUC is out in front of some of its more prestigious neighbors. Are you convinced of that? What are you doing to help spread the word? Should your son, daughter, grandchild, friend, student be at Atlantic Union College next fall? If so, tell them this: if they will get their application, Financial Aid Form, and supporting materials into us by May 1, 1991, they will automatically get a $2,000 earlybird scholarship for the 1991-1992 school year! (For more information, call toll-free, 1-800-AUC-2030.)

Now that's news worth sharing, isn't it! AUC is thriving because it has a unique mission, it is good at what it does, and it is God's favored New England school. Thanks for spreading the news!

After a fickle winter, it is refreshing to see the spring flowers dotting the landscapes with all their varied bright hues. Judy Wright from St. Johnsbury, VT, captures the beauty of this flower with her Konica Autoreflex TC camera using Kodachrome 64 film. Judy thoroughly enjoys the outdoors and everything connected with it—gardening, the ocean, and drives on old back roads, to name a few. Her photo received Honorable Mention in the recent Gleaner Cover Photo Contest for 1990-91.

(The word "Sukkah" is the Hebrew word describing the small, temporary dwelling booth that symbolized Israel's pilgrim life in the wilderness.) By constructing the booth and entering into the celebration, Co-op City members and friends were responding to Spirit of Prophecy encouragement:

"Well would it be for the people of God at the present time to have a Feast of Tabernacles—a joyous commemoration of the blessings of God to them. . . . Gratefully call to mind the various ways He has devised for bringing us out from the world, and from the darkness of error, into the precious light of His grace and truth. . . . The Feast of Tabernacles . . . pointed forward to the great day of final ingathering, when the Lord of the harvest shall send forth His reapers to gather . . . the wheat into His garner" (Patriarchs & Prophets, pp. 540, 541).

Songs of joy and praise opened the service. Pastor Charles Corno and Mitchell Greenbaum, head elder, shared readings from Patriarchs and Prophets and The Desire of Ages, as well as texts in Hebrew and English.

Hanging pieces of fruit decorating the Sukkah were an object lesson for the children to help them understand that they are to be part of the Lord's harvest. A hymn of thanksgiving and three small prayer circles closed the meeting. The celebration served as a congregational reminder of Revelation 21:3: "Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and He will dwell with them, and they shall be His people, and God Himself shall be with them."

Each month the Atlantic Union Gleaner will feature the various activities and events the conferences, institutions, organizations, churches, and members are participating in to reach "people groups" who must hear the Gospel and the hope of Christ's soon return. So, let us pray, share, and give.

Elder Manuel Cabral, Pastor of the Spanish Queens church in Corona, Queens, (far right) stands with some of the 40 persons baptized following a late-fall evangelistic series conducted at the church. The meetings were conducted by Elder Louis Torres, Conference Evangelist, and Elder Cabral. Half of the people baptized from the meetings were teens and young adults, according to Pastor Cabral.

The new young members are already busy in a prison ministry. Each Sabbath, ten different young persons go to a prison to witness. Twenty prisoners, both English- and Spanish-speaking, have already indicated an interest in studying the Bible as a result of the ministry. "Everybody is working for the Lord," Pastor Cabral reports happily. The influx of new members from the fall series brought the total number of persons baptized during 1990 into the Spanish Queens church to 90.

BLACK HISTORY CELEBRATED DURING FEBRUARY

Atlantic Union College celebrated Black history and culture in a number of campus programs during the month of February.

The traditional opening week, February 5 to 10, featured a display of African artifacts at the G. Eric Jones Library followed by several presentations by AUC alumnus Dr. Emory Tolbert, Director of Afro-Ethnic Studies at the University of California at Fullerton.

Tolbert emphasized the importance of diverse cultures in the Claudie Toussaint, AUC's Black Christian Union (BCU) president; Dr. Walter B. T. Douglas, Professor of Church History and History of Religion at Andrews University; and BCU sponsor Dr. Gosnell Yorke also spoke to the students during the week which concluded with a Saturday evening benefit concert and the always-popular International Food Festival on Sunday.

A number of additional presentations, discussions, and films focused attention on Black culture throughout February. Yorke felt that they achieved the BCU's goal in being "both informative and inspirational . . . a positive force on the AUC campus."

WOMEN'S MINISTRIES SEMINAR HELD

Since our lives are filled with so many schedules and activities, it is essential that we "come aside" to look back and evaluate the past and then reach forward to the future with its new challenges.

As Christian women, we are devoted to so many people and responsibilities that sometimes we do not have much left over to devote to our own personal and spiritual growth. With these thoughts in mind, it seemed a very positive solution to gather the women of the Bermuda Conference for prayer, fellowship, sharing, and learning so that each one could become more vibrant and enthusiastic about her Christian walk and work.

The bright and sunny fellowship hall of the Warwick Seventh-day Adventist Church provided the concern for the men and women in this war-seized area. Mrs. Richardson's thoughts and prayer drew each of us closer to our Lord Who can "calm all the troubled waters of our lives."

In a very timely presentation based on 2 Kings 13:17, Judith James from the Southampton church reminded us of the importance of "Opening the East Win-

This was exactly the message portrayed as Luann Wainwright beautifully sang "Windows for the world to see Jesus."

Considering the amount of dynamic energy that is needed by each one day by day, it is essential that we . . . "Prosper and BE IN HEALTH." Our guest speaker for the morning, Dr. Cheryl Peek-Ball (family physician) provided "just what the doctor ordered." Her presentation was lively, enthusiastic, and filled to the brim with information. We received factual and inspiring answers to all our questions which will provide us with a well-rounded and healthful outlook as we undertake our work for this year.

As a token of our appreciation, Dr. Peek-Ball was presented with a colorful floral arrangement and a copy of Dr. Ben Carson's book, "Gifted Hands." Her warm smile and words of thanks showed her heartfelt gratitude.

As we concluded with prayer, on the heart of each of the women were the words . . . "TO GOD BE THE GLORY, GREAT THINGS HE HAS DONE." We thank God for the blessings of this meeting.

setting for our meeting on Sunday, January 20. Marjorie Richardson, the wife of our Conference President, led the women in prayer. As we considered the crisis facing so many in the Gulf, the prayer of each was touched with love and Words put to music can very aptly say what is on our hearts.

WITNESSING YIELDS 22 BAPTISMS

1990 was a good year for witnessing at the Middletown church. The 36 church members who had completed Pastor Tony Cirigliano's Gospel Workers classes were active as lay Bible workers during the year: quarterly baptismal services for a total of 22 persons as a result of the lay activities. The church looks forward to many souls being won for Christ in 1991, with 40 active Bible studies currently in process. Pastor Cirigliano is now conducting a fifth Gospel Workers class, which will bring the total number of lay Bible workers in Middletown to 44. In speaking of the church's strong emphasis on lay training efforts, he cites compelling counsel of Ellen White in Christian Service, p. 253:

"When we have entire, whole-hearted consecration to the service of Christ, God will recognize the fact by an outpouring of His Spirit without measure; but this will not be while the largest portion of the church are not laborers together with God."

Yvonne Lazaroff, Communication Leader

MONTHLY BAPTISMS CONTINUE AT UNIVERSITY HISPANIC CHURCH

The pastor, leaders, and members of the University Hispanic church in the Bronx are working earnestly to bring as many persons as possible to the Lord to help speed His coming, despite Satan's strong efforts to block the way of any of Christ's followers. The scheduling of monthly baptismal services continues to be a priority for the church. At a baptism conducted at the end of November, 1990, Elder Abel Rosario baptized eight persons, five adults and three children. He is shown with two of the children: Evelyn Jiminez and her brother, Esdras Gomez. The pair, concerned that they might be prevented from being baptized, didn't sleep much the night before. Here, they thank God for their baptism.

Nine persons were baptized at the end of the year, including a number of former Seventh-day Adventists desiring rebaptism as they recommitted their lives to the Lord. Among the candidates were Brunilda Vega and her son, Randy; and Bernabe and Felicia Hichez, parents of Mercedes Hichez, a young lady baptized one month earlier. The courage of University members is strong, in the certain knowledge that victory is His.

NEW YEAR'S EVE IN THE CARIBBEAN

Thirty-four upstate New Yorkers spent ten days in the Dominican Republic. This was their third annual project building a church.

It has become a tradition for Gene Thomas, Fred and Myrtle Nudd, Brian Caster, Marty Goettsch, Erwin Stevens, and Mike Ortel to lead a group of energetic youth and adults to this beautiful Caribbean Island during the cold time of the year in the Northeast.

Besides the construction project, they gave hundreds of dollars worth of gifts to the Dominican children and ladies. At a New Year's Eve banquet which was given in their honor, the New York Maranatha youth made Christmas all over again for the needy children.

Elder Gene Thomas brought with him $554 given by his North Adirondack District. This money went a long way. It helped a blind couple who were expecting twins by Caesarean operation within a few days, a lady who needed cancer surgery and provided the pulpit for the new church.

Fred and Myrtle Nudd gave an electric sewing machine to a poor Adventist tailor, who earns his living sewing by hand.

Jennifer Wiley and Lester Herrington represented the Jamestown Seventh-day Adventist Church and the Taunton, Massachusetts, church. They took Spanish Bibles, literature, and toys to be distributed among the poor.

Upon completing their building responsibilities, the group visited the Adventist Orphanage at Beno which is headed by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fleck. At the close of their stay they enjoyed the facilities of the Adventist Mission Camp on the ocean.

Most of the youth who went on this trip raised their money by doing odd jobs and soliciting funds from family, friends, and church members. The following is a list of those who went on this trip. They truly appreciate the financial help and prayer support that were given.

CHURCH OFFICER'S TRAINING MEETING

The ninth annual Church Officer's Meeting for the Northeastern Conference was conducted in Albany, New York, from February 17 through 20, 1991. In spite of the below zero weather, elected church officers from all the churches in the sisterhood came out in record numbers to receive counsel and training for all the departments of church operation.

Every department had competent instructors and lecturers to speak and distribute printed materials and booklets. The enthusiasm ran high each day, starting from the devotionals through meals and ending with evening services. Speakers came from the General Conference, several unions, the North American Division, and local conferences. "I am very happy for the wonderful way our church members support this training session program. When you visit our 1992. The members of Northeastern are anxious to see the Lord return and have committed themselves to excellence in performance in their leadership roles.

Pastor Arthur Morgan, who serves as director for the Sabbath School and Public Affairs/Religious Liberty departments, coordinated the four-day session. As he watched the people come into the large registration area of the Turf Holiday Inn in Albany, he remarked, "I am afraid that we are not going to be able to accommodate all these people." Those attending this year numbered over 900 persons, which is more than could be handled by the three hotels reserved by the Northeastern Conference.

churches, you can see the results. The leaders know what they are doing and they inject a strong, positive spirit into their congregations," stated Elder Stennett H. Brooks, conference president.

NORTHERN NEW ENGLAND

HISTORY DOES NOT REPEAT ITSELF

The year: 1921

The School: Pine Tree Academy

Housing Accommodations: An old farmhouse for the classrooms, chapel, dining room and girls dormitory. The boys live in an uninsulated former chicken house aptly named the "Hotel de Hencoop."

The year: 1991

The School: Pine Tree Academy

Housing Accommodations: ?

The first Pine Tree Academy, founded in Auburn, Maine, was a victim of the Great Depression, closing in 1932. In 1973 the academy reopened in Freeport, sharing the grounds with the Northern New England Conference campground, with the Freeport church, and an eight-grade church school. Will it be a victim of an "economic downturn" in the 90's?

Some Seventh-day Adventist schools are having enrollment and tuition shortfalls. Providing affordable housing for faculty and students could make a difference between maintaining the only senior academy in Northern New England, or reverting to an eight- or ten-grade church school.

For many years, non-commuting students have lived with teachers or host families from the local churches. Such housing is limited, and prevents the school from accepting additional students. A student home, to be built on six acres of school property, will house two faculty families and eight students. The projected cost is $125,000. With $36,000 already received, we need $19,000 to break ground in May of 1991.

You can extend a helping hand to this school for your children, grandchildren, or a future generation. You know the value of a Christian education, especially if you graduated from an Adventist academy, or have children attending one of our schools.

BAPTISMS IN RICHMOND-FARMINGDALE DISTRICT

Last November 23, the Farmingdale and Richmond, Maine, Seventh-day Adventist Church members and visitors shared in a double occasion, the dedication of Wanda (Carr) and Stephen Millahn's baby, Sara Brianne, and the baptism of six new members.

Dexter Carr, Baby Sara's grandfather, became interested in Bible studies through the friendship and prayers of special friend, Earl Gilman, a lay Bible worker for the Northern New England Conference. While Earl was praying that Dexter would show an interest in studying the Bible, Dexter was hoping that Earl would just ask him!

Five others joined Mr. Carr in baptism—Brenda and Richard Crocker, Vaughn and Margaret Estabrook and their daughter-in-law, Cindy. Vaughn Estabrook had known the Seventh-day Adventist message for 30 years. It was by invitation of Richmond church friend, Charlie Hilliard, that Vaughn and his wife, Margaret, started attending church. The couple have five sons and two daughters. Cindy was married to their son, James, in May and started Bible studies the same month.

E. Frank Sherrill, evangelist and former President of the Arizona Conference, who held a Prophecy Seminar six nights a week in Richmond during last October and November assisted Pastor Michael D. Steenhoven with the baptism.

The commitment of the Crocker and Estabrook families has led other family members to join in Bible studies. Brenda Crocker's

SHOPPING MALL WITNESSING

The Berkshire Hills church closed last year with a beautiful outreach program, organized by Judy Lombard, at the Berkshire Mall in Lanesboro, Massachusetts, about a mile south of the church. The program was designed to witness for Jesus and to let the community know the types of services the church has for the area.

Many persons selected literature on a healthful lifestyle from the attractive display set up in the food area by the Personal Ministries Division. The shoppers expressed their appreciation and enjoyment of the music, both vocal and instrumental, by singing along with the church members. It was difficult to decide who enjoyed it more—the visitors or the church members. The church members are grateful for the opportunity to witness for Jesus.

NEW ENGLAND MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

NURSE EDUCATION TO BENEFIT FROM LARGEST GIFT EVER RECEIVED BY NEMH

The largest charitable gift ever received by New England Memorial Hospital (NEMH), Stoneham, will be used for a permanent endowment for nurse education.

John Parrish, vice president for development, says the $682,000 received from the late Lenaire V.

tinuing-education opportunities for nurses at the hospital, as well as nursing scholarships for community residents. A committee is preparing guidelines for distribution of the funds.

NEMH President Frank J. Perez called the record gift a tribute to the caring and professionalism of the hospital's nurses. "We're very proud of the personal sensitivity and high standards of patient care shown by our staff every day," he hospitals, NEMH offers a full range of health-care services to Stoneham and 14 surrounding communities north of Boston which make up its principal service area.

From 1902 to 1965 the hospital operated a diploma-granting school of nursing on its campus. The program was then converted to a collegiate curriculum; its graduates now receive bachelor of science degrees from Atlantic Union College, South Lancaster, Massachusetts.

Nursing students from the college, as well as those from several other colleges and universities in the Boston area, continue to receive clinical instruction and experience at New England Memorial.

The affiliation with Atlantic Union College also provides hospital staff and community residents the opportunity to enroll in a wide variety of college courses taught at the hospital. Some scholarship support from the Wennerstrom Endowment could assist nurse degree-candidates enrolled in such classes at the hospital, Parrish said.

As a nonprofit charitable corporation, New England Memorial Hospital actively seeks community support through tax-deductible gifts and bequests. Large and small gift opportunities exist in a variety of patient-care programs, Parrish reports. He asks interested parties to write or call him at the hospital's development office to discuss specific project possibilities.

The hospital mailing address is P.O. Box 9102, Stoneham, MA 02180-9102. The development office telephone number is (617) 979-7014.

Wennerstrom of Medford was a direct result of her deeply positive reaction to care she received from New England Memorial nursing staff and students when she was a patient at the hospital.

The gift, honoring Miss Wennerstrom's mother, has been named the Regina Patterson Wennerstrom Endowment for Nurse Education. Income from the invested endowment principal will support scholarships and con-commented. "Clearly, patients also recognize and appreciate outstanding care. This is living proof of why we refer to our team of health-care professionals as the 'Staff of Life.' "

Founded in 1899, New England Memorial Hospital is a 240-bed, community-based, acute-care hospital with a Greater Boston and regional reputation for health and hospital care of the highest quality. A leader in the worldwide system of Seventh-day Adventist

Update

For nearly six months, several part-time and full-time literature evangelists in Greater New York have been engaged in sidewalk outreach. The L.E.'s conduct their work from sidewalk tables filled with literature, books and Bibles which attract the attention of passersby in New York City, Long Island, and Manhattan. Eleven tables, with four in Manhattan, offer materials in English, Spanish and French.

According to Conference Publishing Director Nabor Muchiutti, many people ask publishing workers for addresses of Adventist churches near them, and former Adventists are often attracted to the tables also. While people often buy on the spot, evening home appointments are frequently made with individuals who wish to purchase books but who have not brought cash or checks with them.

Before I Was A Kid

by Reta Spears-Stewart
Illustrations by Mary Rumford

YOU ARE SOMEBODY!

"Mommy, before I was a kid, what was I?" A little boy's question has just opened the door to one of life's greatest truths. The answer will thrill parent and child with the wonderful reality that we have always been loved by God—even before we were born—and always will be. Before I Was a Kid, by Reta Spears-Stewart, gives children the gift of self-worth and the advantage of knowing they aren't here by accident.

You can come home again!

Coming home is the message of the gospel. No matter how far we may drift from God, we can always come home.

In one of his most hope-filled books yet, Morris Venden shatters the myths about backsliders and denies the idea that it's difficult to be saved. Hard to Be Lost gives the good news that God won't give us up without a fight.
