ADVENTIST REVIEW
BETWEEN PAGES 12-13

DR. DAVID L. TAYLOR is president of the Atlantic Union Conference SDA

I BELIEVE IN TODAY'S YOUTH!

Among my many years in gospel ministry, God has blessed me to spend fourteen years in Youth Ministry and College Chaplaincy for the Adventist Church. Having seen so much good in so many of our young people, I am happy to say that I believe in today's youth. Full of energy and enthusiasm, anxious to do great things for their fellow human beings, our young people represent a reservoir of talent that heaven can use to help finish the work of the gospel in this generation!

During the month of April 1993, some 25,000 young people met in the Sun Coast Dome in St. Petersburg, Florida, to participate in the United Youth Congress, 1993. Delegates representing the nine regional conferences in the North American Division numbered 2,100. There were additional representatives from non-regional conferences such as Greater New York, Southeastern California, Southern, Central, and Northern California, Washington State, Bahamas, Bermuda, Canada, and London.

Parents could be proud of the fact that workshops conducted at the Congress were relevant: Sharing Your Faith, Satan's Secret Passage, When AIDS Comes, Challenges and Choices, Finding Money for College, Secrets for Success, Music, Christian Values, Pathfinding, SDA and the Military, and many other timely topics. Guidelines for behavior for young men and young women were taught. Education was stressed. But the dominant message was to be found in Matthew 6:33: "But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

Six of the 21 delegates from Greater New York Conference thought the Congress was fantastic; however felt that future youth congresses should emphasize the similarities of other races and nationalities.

Those who attended the Congress saw the Friday evening National Temperance Oratorical Finals for high school students. The winner, Megan McGlover, from Southeastern California, received a $1,000 college scholarship. The National Bible Bowl championship showed the results of diligent student and memorization of preassigned books of the Bible.

Presenters for the Youth Congress were carefully selected by the Black Adventist Youth Directors Association which sponsored the Congress. Ellen White wrote many years ago: "With such an army of workers as our youth, rightly trained, might furnish, how soon the message of a crucified, risen, and soon-coming Saviour might be carried to the whole world!" Counsels to Parents, Teachers, and Students, page 555.

It is the right and privilege of parents and older ones in our churches to do everything possible to encourage and inspire our young people to reach the highest heights. They can do it! I know they can! I believe in today's youth!

GATHERING A COUNTLESS HOST FOR ETERNITY

*"They come from the east and west,
They come from the north and south
Invited to join with Jesus as guests,
And dwell in their Father's house."*

The capital district (New York Conference) rejoices in the diversity of the cultural backgrounds of its new members. I am also an immigrant and remember well the gospel hymn quoted above.

Within four weeks we have had three baptisms in the Albany and Schenectady churches. On May 8 John Lim, a medical student, was baptized in Albany. In the left picture he is shown flanked by his spiritual mentors, Sabrina Kim, church treasurer, and her husband, David Kim, one of our deacons.

On May 29 a mother and daughter, Eleanor and Rachael Lessard (center picture), were baptized together in Schenectady. Rachael graduated a few weeks later from our Tri-City Jr. Academy. Also at this baptism the third generation was represented by Anna Guenther who joined the church by profession of faith. She finished several of our Bible correspondence courses and studied God's Word diligently with one of our elders, Naomi Hamman. Also, she as well as our other seven new members attended our evangelistic Good News Discovery series during April in the Howard Johnson Hotel.

Finally, on June 5 we had a very special Pathfinder-Youth Sabbath in our Albany church. The impressive investiture service was followed by the baptism of four of our fine Pathfinders: Donald and Jane Lee (right, right picture), children of our first elder and his wife, William and Emily Lee, and two brothers, Josafat and Carim Cervantes (left), who came with their parents, Joel and Lupita Cervantes, from Mexico City.

As we witness the harmony of these precious souls from the United States, Korea, Mexico, and Germany, we praise the Lord that the Three Angels are still flying, proclaiming eternal Good News, and bringing home God's children from "every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people" (Revelation 14:6).

MEMBERS ADDED TO NORWICH, NEW YORK, CHURCH

In response to a Word of Prophecy crusade by Charles Buursma and much personal spiritual work by Pastor George Kretschmar, Jr., and fellow workers in Christ, seven new Christians were recently added to the membership of the Norwich, New York, Seventh-day Adventist church. The six persons added by baptism and one by profession of faith are (l. to r. clockwise) Jeff Barrows, Christina and Frances Shapley, Jeremy Vantine, Oril Stanford, Donna Waddell, and Rhonda Quinn. Please join with us in rejoicing in this work for the Lord Jesus.

SPOTLIGHT ON EDUCATION IN

In the past four years nine teachers in the Southern New England Conference have received either the Alma McKibbin Sabbathical Award or The Thomas and Violet Zapara Award. The Office of Education would like you to meet these exceptional teachers.

The Thomas and Violet Zapara Award

PURPOSE: The North American Division Board of Education K-12 believes that the purpose of Adventist education is best met through excellence in teaching. Therefore, the Board seeks to recognize and encourage quality in the teaching ministry.

Thomas and Violet Zapara, energetic and devoted supporters of Adventist education, are making it possible for the K-12 system to provide recognition of excellence in teaching by providing a generous gift which will annually identify 137 distinguished elementary and secondary classroom teachers with a $1,000 award. Specific criteria and the process for selection are established at each union conference board of education. Only full-time teachers are eligible to receive an award.

CRITERIA:	Spiritual credibility	Commitment to quality education
	Respect of peers and administration	Professional development and participation
	Concerns for students	Involvement in church and community
	Competence in teaching	Current denominational certification

Sandra D. Bent, from Stoneham, Massachusetts, received her Bachelor of Arts degree in Chemistry from Atlantic Union College, and her Master's degree in Biology from Walla Walla College. She has taught for 26 years; in Michigan, North Carolina and the last 18 years at Greater Boston Academy. She is a member of the National Science Teachers Association, and served for many years on the Curriculum Committee and other Union Committees.

Bettyrose Minty, teacher of sixth grade at Browning Elementary School in South Lancaster, Massachusetts, for 28 years. Previous to that she taught in Amesbury, Massachusetts, for three years. She received a Bachelor of Science degree in Elementary Education from Atlantic Union College. Bettyrose and her husband, Cliff, have four children. She enjoys walking, bicycling, and reading.

Eileen Brown, upon graduation from Andrews University with a Secondary Education degree in the fields of French and English, accepted an academy teaching position in the Cajun South of Mississippi, where she met Chuck, whom she married in 1963. The same year they returned to Connecticut where she taught high school French for four years. She was awarded a Master's degree in French Literature from Trinity College in 1971. She presently holds a professional denominational teaching certificate with several hours towards a second Master's degree in the field of education.

Rose Ellen (Oaks) Paden, born in Flint, Michigan, received her education from Holly Elementary School, Adelpian Academy, and Andrews University. She also received a Master's degree from Andrews in 1984. She has taught for the denomination for 25 years. Five of these were at Troy, Michigan, and the last 22 have been at Cedar Brook School in Rehoboth, Massachusetts.

Beverly Frazer-Costa, born in Taunton and lifelong resident of Massachusetts received her Bachelor of Science degree from Atlantic Union College. She has taught for 41 years, all of them in the Southern New England Conference. She is currently teaching at Cedar Brook School where she has been since it opened in 1961. She is the wife of Joseph Costa. They have one daughter, Sharon, radiology technologist.

Susan Randall has taught in Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio, and Massachusetts for a total of 17 years. She earned a Bachelor of Science degree in vocal music from Atlantic Union College and has taken graduate courses at Penn State, Salem State, Atlantic Union College, and Andrews University. She is currently working toward a Master's degree in Elementary Education specializing in curriculum and instruction. Susan has been a teacher at Edgewood Elementary for 10 years.

SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND CONFERENCE

The Alma McKibbin Sabbatical Award

PURPOSE:

The Alma McKibbin Sabbatical Award has been established to recognize excellence in education and promote professional upgrading by awarding a number of funded summer sabbatical opportunities to qualifying K-12 education personnel. Through this award the professional skills of a substantial number of educators will be upgraded and, equally as important, the spirit and morale of others will also be enhanced.

The North American Division Board of Education, K-12, in partnership with private donors, Thomas and Violet Zapara, and church leadership, has established this award as an additional dimension in recognizing and rewarding excellence in education.

CRITERIA:

Full-time regular employment with certification held in the K-12 SDA education program at the school level.

Written presentation of how they met or participated in three or more of the following experiments or activities within the past four years:

Written and published an article in a professional and/or denominational journal.

Professional presentation at a conference or union teachers' convention.

Led out in significant program serving the community of which their school is a part.

Served as a mentor to another teacher desirous of professional assistance.

Received Zapara "Excellence in Teaching" Award.

Served as the chairperson for a major faculty committee, school self-study report for accreditation visit, etc.

Served on a NAD steering committee or summer workshop for the development of curriculum materials.

Served on a conference or union K-12 curriculum committee or board of education.

Prepared teaching materials that have been published.

Supervised student teachers or have taught an education course at a college or university.

Served as a manuscript reader and evaluator for a NAD textbook development committee.

Performed a major role in some aspect of helping their school in obtaining voluntary financial support.

Performed in other professional areas or have participated in other educational activities that can be documented.

Eleanor Brown, born and raised a Seventh-day Adventist, attended Browning Elementary School, South Lancaster Academy, and Atlantic Union College. She received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Elementary Education from Atlantic Union College and later a Master of Education degree from Fitchburg State College. She taught several years in public school systems as well as Seventh-day Adventist schools in Ohio, New Jersey, and Massachusetts. For the last 13 years Eleanor has been teaching at Browning Elementary School and loves it! She is married to Mike Brown, who is also teaching at Browning.

Renate Wehtje, after receiving her Bachelor of Arts degree in Elementary Education from Andrews University, began her teaching career in South Dakota. She continued denominational teaching in Alberta, Canada; Worcester, Massachusetts; and South Lancaster, Massachusetts, where she is currently at Browning Elementary School. She holds a Master of Education degree from Fitchburg State College and has served on committees and contributed to various publications.

Janice Ford, born of German parents, and raised with two brothers and one sister, in a loving Christian home in Troy, New York. She is a graduate of South Lancaster Academy and Atlantic Union College where she earned a Bachelor's degree, and holds a Master's degree from Fitchburg State College. She has been a teacher at Browning Elementary School in South Lancaster, Massachusetts, for 11 years.

41 PERSONS BAPTIZED IN CAYMAN ISLANDS CRUSADE

The Cayman Islands may seem remote from metropolitan New York, but a Greater New York pastor, responding to a call to conduct a month-long crusade there, recently found hearts hungering for the same Good News New Yorkers seek. Pastor Rollin Shoemaker of the Manor Road church in Staten Island presented messages based on Romans 1-8, and opened with a study of salvation. Though Islander church members wondered if there would be any response at all to evangelism conducted in Bodden Town in which very little work had been done previously, the Lord blessed with 41 baptisms. Others are preparing for baptism at a later time.

On the first two Sunday evenings, meetings were broadcast live over the island's radio station, and included an announcement of the following Sabbath's services. Subject of the second Sunday's broadcast was the Sabbath, and the Sabbath theme was emphasized throughout that week's meetings, closing with an all-day celebration of the Sabbath. This gave visitors an experience of what it means to keep the Sabbath even before they attended meetings in which they were given opportunities to make their decisions for baptism. Week-night meetings had an average attendance of approximately 200, as many as 700 persons attended the week-end meetings.

41 persons were baptized in the crusade led by Elder Rollin Shoemaker (at right), despite problems a sizable immigrant population encounter in obtaining Sabbaths off. Compounding the potential loss of employment if Sabbath problems arise, non-Caymanians who are jobless face deportation.

Elder Shoemaker, who was accompanied to the island by his wife and daughter, Katy, expresses gratitude for the way the Lord blessed, and for the many persons who helped throughout the "New Life in Christ" series. "I'm very thankful for the constant assistance of Pastor Jeff Thompson, president of the Cayman Islands Mission; he spared no expense or effort to see to it that the crusade would be successful, including being intimately involved in every aspect of the meetings. Many others also helped every day, including the mission treasurer, local pastors, and Bible worker, Sister Virtue, from Jamaica.

Crowds filled the big tent on weekends especially. Following a Sunday-evening broadcast of the service on the subject of the Sabbath, concerned area clergy arranged for a pastor from England to come and preach to their members for a number of days on the correctness of worshipping on Sunday.

CONTRIBUTING QUALITY TO EDUCATION—

ATLANTIC UNION TEACHER BULLETIN COMMITTEE

Each summer 13 of the finest teachers from all over the Atlantic Union gather in South Lancaster, Massachusetts, at the Atlantic Union Conference office to produce the Atlantic Union Teacher Bulletin. The Bulletin is a teacher-made magazine that includes "hands on" reproducibles in all subject areas, plus administration, tips, skits, art projects, AJY, et cetera. The Bulletin is designed to provide useful supplemental work that is easy to use for teachers of grades K-8. The teachers represent areas all over the Atlantic Union.

Paul Kilgore, Director of Education for the Atlantic Union, is quoted as saying:

The purpose of the Atlantic Union Teacher Bulletin is to serve our 300 elementary teachers. The Atlantic Union does not have adequate help on the local conference level to produce a good practical teacher bulletin each month. The Union has tried to take some of the burden off both the superintendent and the teachers by supplying a bulletin which gives the teachers hands-on material to use in their classrooms. The Union produces, prints, and sends out once a month, a completed Bulletin of about 170 pages.

We supply the Bulletin free of charge to all elementary teachers employed by the Atlantic Union. To all others, the subscription rate is $33.75. At this time, 36 of our sister conferences outside of the Atlantic Union purchase this bulletin for their teachers.

Lancaster, MA; Janice Ford, Browning Elementary, S. Lancaster, MA; Brenda Wright, Bulletin Word Processor and Registrar of Atlantic Union Conference; Irene Whiteman, Glen Ellyn Elementary, Glen Ellyn, IL; Ann Frost, Kellogg Elementary, Bedford, NH; Martha Ban, Pine Tree Academy Elementary, Freeport, ME; Beverley Bucknor, Meadowbrook SDA School, Hudson, MA; Larry Robbins, Kellogg Elementary, Bedford, NH; Gary Fellows, Bulletin Artist, Dixfield SDA School, Dixfield, ME; Tim Brown, Dixfield SDA School, Dixfield, ME; William Snow, Bulletin coordinator, Oxford, ME; Frank Stahl, Forestdale Elementary, Bryant Pond, ME; Lillian Mitchell, Brooklyn SDA School, Brooklyn, NY; not pictured, Mari Gibbs-Pickett, Bulletin Artist, Cortland, NY.

Anyone wishing to subscribe to this bulletin should send a check for $33.75 to the Office of Education, Atlantic Union Conference, PO Box 1189, South Lancaster, MA 01561. Make all checks payable to the Atlantic Union Conference.

Two factors which contribute to the success of the Bulletin are that, first, this is a totally teacher-produced product; and second, we have a commitment to quality—doing the job right. We have a great crew to work with—it's like a family.

The Certification Registrar for the Atlantic Union, Brenda Wright, is the Word Processor during the four-week session, and spends many long days and nights producing the copy-ready material. According to Brenda, "The nine issues for the upcoming school year were produced in approximately four weeks of very intense work by our own teachers here in the Atlantic Union. Many of the teachers spent 12 hours or more a day while creating the Bulletin and making sure the material published is worthwhile and valuable to their fellow teachers. They can be proud of the quality of their work."

ATLANTIC UNION COLLEGE

ALLEN IS NAMED ACTING PRESIDENT

Carol Allen, vice president for academic affairs at Atlantic Union College, will serve as acting president until the presidential search committee has completed its responsibilities.

David Taylor, Atlantic Union Conference president and chairman of AUC's Board of Trustees, announced Allen's appointment after a meeting of the college's Executive Committee July 22. Prior to taking this action, the committee accepted the resignation of Robert L. Reynolds, who served briefly as interim president.

Reynolds had agreed to interim presidency at the college's May 17 board meeting, when Lawrence Geraty, president for the past eight years, announced his resignation and with counsel from the Executive Committee, as it has since Dr. Geraty's departure," Taylor said.

Emphasizing the need for a thorough and careful presidential search, Taylor added that the search committee will take whatever time and energy are necessary to ensure that the unique needs of the AUC family, friends, and constituents will be met as they search for an appropriate leader for the college.

The committee has taken a prayerful and positive teamwork and planned move to La Sierra University in California.

"Administration of the college will continue to proceed smoothly by officers' consensus and approach to processing recommendations from constituents, students, faculty, staff, and administrators, Taylor said. Researching professional qualifications and characteristics, experience, and personal recommendations is necessarily time-consuming.

"The unique Seventh-day Adventist mission of the college will not be compromised," he continued. "We want the very best person for the position. We want a person with intelligence and leadership, with vision and commitment to working with the needs and resources of Atlantic Union College."

At the request of the Executive Committee, Reynolds, a 1941 alumnus and president of the college from 1960 to 1968, will remain as consultant to the college's administration until the board selects and installs a new president.

THIRTY-TWO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS AT JULY 11 COMMENCEMENT

Thirty-two graduates received their diplomas at summer commencement, held in the College church July 11. In addition to those who had completed the regular on-campus program were eight from the Adult Degree Program, one from Continuing Education, ten from the Master of Education program, and the first graduate to earn an Associate of Arts degree through Electronic Distance Learning.

Commencement speaker was Edward Lugenbeal, professor of business, anthropology, and religion at AUC.

ARTIST RECEIVES HONORARY DOCTORATE

Vernon Nye, who studied at Atlantic Union College 56 years ago, returned to AUC July 11 to receive his diploma. But rather than the bachelor's degree he would have received if he had stayed at AUC and graduated in the 1930s, he received an honorary Doctor of Fine Arts degree.

A native of Batavia, New York, Nye studied at AUC during the 1936-37 school year. He then left school because he wanted to be a professional artist, and AUC didn't offer the courses at that time to prepare him for his career. Instead, he learned his art from members of the National Academy of Art, worked for 15 years as a professional artist and illustrator, and then taught art at Adventist colleges for more than a quarter of a century, including the 1965-66 school year at AUC. He and his wife, Nora, now live in Calistoga, California, where he is a watercolor painter and workshop instructor.

BERMUDA

TOUCHING THE HEARTS OF BERMUDA'S FAMILIES

A fantastic phenomenon has left an exciting buzz and hope for the family, an endangered species. Realizing that the family circle needs to be strengthened, the Family Life Department of Bermuda Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, under the direction of Mrs. Saadia Bean, conducted a "Love Takes Time" Seminar on July 2 and 3, 1993, at the Pembroke Community Center. The presenters, Pastor Harvey and Mrs. Kathlin Corwin, are Family Life Specialists and Counselors whose speaking calendars are booked up to 18 months in advance. They have traveled the United States, Canada and Russia sharing warm, down-to-earth presentations that guide couples and singles in the discovery and application of keeping families healthy and meeting real needs in such a rushed, ever-changing world.

The large crowd of about 250 sat for 11 hours in extremely warm conditions. Their input and excitement certainly revealed that our families are experiencing a definite need and that marriage and the family must become high priorities on the Bermudian agenda. Everyone was open to practical ideas and efforts that will keep marriages in strong and good order.

Some of the topics included were, Men's Needs/Women's Needs, Finances, Romancing, Understanding Your Mate's Personality, Adultery, How to Have A Good Fight, Communication and Appreciation. The seminar ended with a touching candlelight Recommitment Wedding ceremony.

It was obvious that those attending experienced a strengthened and renewed relationship with God, their spouse, children, and others. Notwithstanding the circumstances

BRONX ADVENTIST SOFTBALL LEAGUE INAUGURATES SEASON

Nelly Harris (center), manager of the Adventist Book Center, tossed out the first ball of the season, inaugurating the 1993 softball season for the Bronx Adventist Softball League in Morris Park, in the Bronx.

Officiating and speaking at the opening game were Norberto Aponte, president of the Adventist League, and Juan Arredondo, president of the Softball Federation. Teams playing included the Crusaders, Royals, Braves, Twins, Corinthians, Eagles, Dyckman, and ABC teams played at the event.

PORTUGUESE CHURCH HOLDS SERIES

Pastor Paulo Stabnow (pictured below), president of the Sao Paulo Conference of Brazil, conducted a 10-day evangelistic series at the Queens Portuguese church in Long Island City this spring. The church's young-adult choral group (picture below) was active in the series. Six persons were baptized at the Portuguese camp meeting as a result of the evangelism, and others are studying.

COMMUNITY REMEMBERED BY CHURCHES

Bronx—About 20 guests from the neighborhood attended the Morris Park church's most recent Community Guest Day. A fellowship luncheon was followed by a combination AY program and concert. Guests received folders of information containing health and spiritual information as well as a letter of welcome from the pastor, and details about Adventist organizations and events in the area. Elder Gerald Mattenson is the pastor.

A project one church found to be gratefully received by community elderly was sharing homemade Mother's Day cards. Peekskill church members got together during early springtime, to create warm and attractive messages of love for local seniors. Sufficient paper remained last year for Father's Day cards as well. Elder Sergio Manente is the pastor.

GREATER NEW YORK L.E.'S HAVE BIG MONTH DESPITE BLIZZARD

Apparently adopting the motto of the U.S. Post Office that "neither snow nor rain..." would keep them from their appointed work, Greater New York Conference literature evangelists reached the highest total sales in March, despite frigid weather and an historic blizzard.

According to Nahor Mucchiutti, Publishing director, sales for the month of March totaled $127,252, with approximately 43 L.E.'s participating—about half of them part-time. All sales in the conference, he adds, are on a cash basis. The banner month closed out the first quarter of 1993 with total sales of $209,788.50, representing a 301% gain over the total of $69,795.30 recorded for 1992's first quarter.

SEND YOUR YOUTH TO CAMP CHEROKEE

The Dexterville youth held a fundraiser May 8 to raise money to send 15 youth to Camp Cherokee.

After an unusual Vesper Service in which the youth participated, they sold pizza, sodas, goodies, and services to raise money for camp. The going rate was $5.00 per hour and youth hired out for as many as 15 hours to work for folks in the church. They did such things as spring cleaning, digging and weeding gardens, babysitting, washing cars, and digging out a septic system. You name it, they did it! With these activities plus early-bird discounts, and Temperance contest earnings, the group was able to pay their way to camp.

Youth get a real spiritual blessing and a wonderful bonding with other Christians at summer camp. Why not start planning for next year! Get your group busy today.

EARLITEENS IN GENESEE PARK CHURCH HAVE ACTIVE PROGRAM

During March the Earliteen group from the Genesee Park church had an educational adventure at the Maple Tree Inn in Angelica, New York, which is nestled in a maple sugar grove. Not only did the group enjoy eating all they wanted of buckwheat pancakes with maple syrup, but they learned how maple syrup is made. They were surprised that it takes 40 gallons of sap to make one gallon of maple syrup. After finishing the meal with maple cream sundaes, they decided to make this experience part of their venture every spring!

Later in the day they explored the Mt. Morris Dam, built to prevent floods of the Genesee River. Next month they will have a brisk walking tour of the Letchworth Park. Not only do they enjoy their outings, but also their project of taking turns in conducting the Sabbath school class. Robert Altman and Steve Rooker are their teachers.

SCIENCE FAIR A SUCCESS

This year's second Annual Parkview Jr. Academy Science Fair was a great success. Pupils from three other SDA schools (Fingerlakes Adventist School, Frontenac SDA Elementary School and Vienna SDA School) participated this year. There were 35 exhibits in three divisions at the Science Fair—Junior Division (Grades 5 and 6), Intermediate Division (Grades 7 and 8), and Senior Division (Grades 9 and 10). Within each of these divisions, ribbons were awarded according to set criteria. These levels were Highest Honors, High Honors and Honors. The judges were Gloria Eldridge (PJA Board), Charlene Hamilton (Science—USA), Bill Knott (Pastor—Westvale and Onondaga Nation) and Dr. Beth Burghardt. Awards were given as in the table below.

EMMANUEL TEMPLE'S OFFICER APPRECIATION DAY

The Adventist Youth Service (AYS) of Emmanuel Temple in Buffalo, New York, under the leadership of Carol Dozier, held an Officer Appreciation Day program. The program gave recognition and appreciation to the 1992 officers who served faithfully, and to encourage the officers for 1993 to maintain the goal of service for Christ through commitment and endurance.

Pastor James LaMar addressed the officers and charged them to obtain the gifts of the Holy Spirit to enable them to fulfill their offices. No matter how talented one may be, without love, joy, peace, long-suffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control, we serve in vain.

Special recognition went to Elizabeth Holmon for her long-standing service as church treasurer (25 years) and to Elder Norris Weathington for his all-round qualities of encouragement, commitment, and dependability. Elder Colin Rhodes also received recognition for his commitment to his office as personal ministries leader.

Finally, a special recognition was noted for Helen Arnold who has given more than 20 years of service to Emmanuel Temple. She has been the Health Food Director, building up the store to its present smooth-working order. Through her means and ability, she has worked faithfully to help the church school operations as an efficient school board leader. Through the years, she has been a master guide for the Pathfinders, and served in various offices. She has been an asset wherever she served.

ELLENVILLE HOLDS CRUSADE

On Sunday night, July 11, 1993, the "Back to the Bible" tent crusade began in Ellenville, New York. Among the dignitaries seated on the platform behind Lionel Martel, pastor of the Ellenville church and evangelist for the meetings, was Ellenville mayor, Elliot Auerback, and deputy mayor, Raymond Younger, who additionally are pastors of the Church of Jesus Christ. Auerback greeted the audience.

Martel—whose picture graced the cover of a recent issue of the local newspaper—was among the leading clergymen and civic leaders calling for peace and unity in the wake of racial problems that had disturbed the tranquillity of the upper Hudson Valley Community. The mayor repeated the call for unity and congratulated Martel for his leading role in promoting racial harmony.

The crusade, which features the singing of international songstress Yolanda McCullah Innocent, is attended by a multi-ethnic, multi-racial audience and has been positively responded to by the community.

CHELSEA HISPANIC CHURCH ORGANIZED

On Sabbath, April 3, 1993, 300 attendees including charter members, well wishers, and friends gathered for the organization of the Chelsea Hispanic church. The joyful congregation listened to words of commendation and encouragement from conference administrators, Stennett Brooks; Trevor Baker; Leroy Hampton; and Hispanic Coordinator, Irenio Martinez.

More than $6,000 was raised towards the purchase of new pews for the church building that the Chelsea group previously purchased.

The organization of Chelsea brings to 14 the number of Hispanic churches in the conference.

"WOMEN AT THE WELL"— THEME FOR WOMEN'S RETREAT

More than 85 women thoroughly enjoyed the fourth annual Women's Retreat at Camp Lawroweld in Maine held earlier in the year. It was obvious that the women dipped and drank deeply from the well through the excellent seminars presented by Spirit-filled women.

The women prayed, sang, cried, and laughed together cementing lasting friendships not only for this life but for the life to come throughout eternity.

Rose Otis, world director of women's ministries from the General Conference, was warmly received. She presented many thought-provoking ideas through her presentations concerning "End Time Women." She also brought us up to date concerning the problems and trials of women around the world.

Many thanks to Nancy Malcolm, Helen Burtnett, and Marge Tyree for their tireless efforts in providing us with such attractive souvenir cups and the excellent folders with credit to John Robertson for his artistry.

Our dedicated women's room in the Lodge is now tactfully decorated and nearly finished, thanks to Helen and all of the ladies who have helped support this project.

The "Chrysalis" newsletter started in March 1992 by our Vermont ladies, Lois Taitague and Linda Drum, is doing great and will help bind our churches together in women's issues as it continues to grow. Please read it and "feed" it with timely news of interest to encourage each church to be active as we reach out to others.

Junell Vance, Atlantic Union women's director, closed our retreat weekend with an inspiring message as usual. She reminded us that we must be ready as was Esther to step forward and not hold back, for our time to serve our Lord is NOW, with faith and determination.

May we be filled with the Holy Spirit so that our good deeds will reflect Christ's life at all times. See you at the Atlantic Union Women's Retreat in October at Cape Cod.

100 YEARS OF TRUST IN THE LORD

On February 28 about 100 friends and relatives gathered together to help Harold Henderson celebrate his 100th birthday. He is pictured with the birthday cake made for the occasion.

Harold has been a Seventh-day Adventist since his late teens, and a member of the West Townshend, Vermont, Seventh-day Adventist Church since 1920.

He enjoys good health and is still active in the church, playing his violin every Sabbath for Sabbath school and preaching the sermon once a quarter! Every summer he raises a big garden and gives lots of it away. He attributes his long life to trusting in the Lord.

PLANNING SESSIONS HELP NEWLY FORMED DISTRICT

Someone has said, "If we do not plan, we will probably end up just where we are heading." An annual event at the White Memorial Church in Portland is the Planning Session which includes all church officers and encourages any and all other members to participate. This year the Saco and Limington Churches, recently included in the Portland district, also met for a planning session under the leadership of Edmund Labbe, associate pastor.

Pastor Paull Dixon explains, "Usually when church members hear that three hours is scheduled for intense planning, they groan and say 'Three hours?' but once they have participated they usually say, 'We really need more time for this.'" This change in attitude is the result of the format followed in the planning sessions. The meetings are highly spiritual with prayer and praise, but also very important in the small group approach which allows input from every member. The final goals and plans are voted on by the participants, giving each one a sense of ownership. These goals, including long and short range objectives, are then typed and handed out to the entire church membership.

The Church Board takes up the challenge of structuring specific actions and calendar coordination to see that the goals are incorporated into the church's emphasis. This gives the church a sense of direction, accomplishment, and ownership. "We have been very pleased to see many projects completed, and plans accomplished as a result of these sessions," states John DePalma, first elder of the Portland Church.

RUTLAND CHURCH HOLDS STRESS MANAGEMENT CLINIC

For four Sunday afternoons recently from 2:30 to 5:00 the Rutland, Vermont, Seventh-day Adventist Church held a stress management clinic in their hospitality room. Approximately two dozen people gathered for these sessions, many being non-members.

Pastor R. Lenbert Cheney, compiler, facilitator, and lecturer, emphasized practical concepts relative to stressful situations in everyday life. With graphic illustrations, films, and practical biblical guidance, help was offered for the major forms and areas of stress. Health tips and relaxation techniques were studied in such areas as the nerves, heart, breathing, hydrotherapy, physical therapy, anxiety attacks, and massage.

Assisting in the programs were Michael Brown, a physical therapist; Ellen Busl who is knowledgeable in water therapy and fomentations; and Gene Campbell and Leigh Adams in other areas.

The program was appreciated so much that one class member came to some of the evangelistic series that followed, and another person was able to apply credit from these sessions to her application for Day Care Director.

Each person sensed the positive caring by the Rutland church for those in the community.

SMALL GROUP MINISTRY LAUNCHED

With much power, study, and planning, a "small group" ministry was recently launched in Portland, Maine. A leadership training class was held each Wednesday from 5:45 to 7:00 p.m. in the home of Elmer and Nancy Malcolm. Twelve people participated and will serve as host/hostess, leaders, or assistant leaders for future groups, known as "Friendship Circles." The groups share personal joys and concerns, Bible study, conversational prayer, and outreach.

One of the objectives of the groups is to "multiply." This is done by inviting new people to join the group, which starts another group in a new location, when it has reached a certain size. Friendship Circles were launched in two locations with approximately ten people in each group. The groups met from 7:00 to 8:45 p.m. on Wednesdays for six weeks.

Originally, plans called for the groups to meet after the evangelistic efforts in Portland were over, but there was such enthusiasm to continue, that another six-week cycle was scheduled.

The Spirit of Prophecy has given the church counsel on many effective methods of ministry, and small group ministry is no exception. "Let small companies assemble together in the evening or early morning to study the Bible for themselves. Let them have a season of prayer that they may be strengthened and enlightened and sanctified by the Holy Spirit"—This Day With God, p. 11.

HOW TO BE REJUVENATED SPIRITUALLY, MENTALLY, AND PHYSICALLY

After a hard, cold winter the people of New England long for seasonal rejuvenation. The month of May satisfies their longing and with this comes the opportunity for Christians to gather together for spiritual rejuvenation as well.

Retreats at Camp Winnekeg offer spiritual fellowship, enrichment, and peace for those willing to partake of it.

This past May, members from the Fitchburg and Leominster Seventh-day Adventist churches assembled for the annual spring retreat.

A vespers service opened the weekend. Pastor David Berthiaume shared his vision for meeting the needs of the people and invited his congregations to share their visions with him. We are pleased to welcome him as our pastor and friend.

Alfred Williams, the key speaker for the Sabbath service, entreated young and old to put on the whole armor of God to successfully battle the enemy.

The Fitchburg choir sang for the service ending with an apropos song, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Alfred dedicated the rest of the Sabbath "rapping" with various age groups concerning issues that need to be addressed in our churches.

Alfred Williams (third from left) conducting a "rapping" session with a group from the Fitchburg church during its annual retreat at Camp Winnekeg in Ashburnham, Massachusetts.

Although the summer is almost over, it would be advantageous to start a Camp Winnekeg retreat savings. Pray and ask God to help you store away one or two dollars a week towards spiritual rejuvenation for next May. When spring rolls around you will not be found wanting!

AMESBURY CHURCH NEWS

On Sabbath, May 1, the Amesbury church family witnessed the baptism of Paul Noyes by Pastor Steve Scholz.

An employee of Paul's, Juli Ann Felch, witnessed for her faith every time Paul asked questions. Eventually he began to have Bible studies with Clayton Greenleaf, Sr., and made a decision to be baptized. Following his baptism, Paul sang "Lay Your Burdens Down." We wish Paul God's blessings as he begins a new life in the Lord.

The Amesbury Seventh-day Adventist Church school under the direction of teachers Julie Kamieneski and Phil Vasseur held its final program of the year. Three pupils, Sarah Lucies, Corwin Moore, and Matthew Steer were graduated with honors and plan to attend Greater Boston Academy in the fall. We congratulate both pupils and teachers.

NEMH BRINGS YOUNG CUBAN BURN VICTIM TO BOSTON FOR TREATMENT AT CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

A 12-year-old Cuban burn victim is receiving the life-saving surgery he needs thanks to a unique collaboration, initiated by New England Memorial Hospital, that also includes Boston's Children's Hospital and the Swiss Embassy. Courtesy of American Airlines and its "Miles for Children" program, Alexis Abrahantes Carrallero and his mother arrived from Miami to Logan Airport in Boston on Monday, June 21, at 10:56 a.m.

Two years ago Alexis Abrahantes Carrallero was badly burned while attempting to light an alcohol-based stove at his home in Cuba. As the stove ignited, Alexis gasped, inhaling the alcohol that caught fire, burning his mouth, throat, and trachea as well as his chest, neck hips, and legs. Doctors are concerned that as Alexis grows the scar tissue will restrict his breathing. Because the medical expertise and technology he needs is unavailable in Cuba, Alexis' condition is critical.

"When I heard this boy's story, I knew that even though New England Memorial Hospital didn't provide the surgical procedures that he may need, we still wanted to help," says New England Memorial's president, Frank Perez, himself a native of Cuba.

After enlisting the services of Children's Hospital and Laurie Ohlms, M.D., a pediatric ear, nose, and throat surgeon at Children's, New England Memorial went to work on getting the child to Boston. Working with the Swiss Embassy (which maintains formal diplomatic relations with Cuba), New England Memorial is serving as Alexis' sponsor in order for the boy and his mother to secure medical VISAs.

As the boy's sponsor, New England Memorial Hospital assumes responsibility for him and any financial obligations beyond his stay England Memorial Hospital is treating Alexis, who is undergoing the painful treatment of softening the scar tissue preparatory to plastic and reconstructive surgery.

Alexis and his mother are living on the campus of New England Memorial Hospital and enjoying their stay. He is having fun playing with other children on the hospital grounds.

Hello Boston! Alexis, 12-year-old Cuban burn victim (left), arrived at Logan International Airport on June 21 with his mother, Xionara (second from right), and his cousin, Lillian Keyes (right), who will accompany them as a supporter and interpreter. Lillian's husband is a Seventh-day Adventist minister in New Jersey. They are greeted warmly by Frank J. Perez, (second from left), president of New England Memorial Hospital.

and treatment at Children's Hospital. All of these treatments and surgeries are free of charge.

Alexis went to Children's Hospital and the scar tissue was removed from his trachea. He is now breathing on his own and doing well.

Founded in 1899, New England Memorial Hospital is a 200-bed acute care facility with a reputation in the greater Boston area for healthcare of the highest quality. A member of the Adventist health system, New England Memorial Hospital offers a full range of services to Stoneham and 14 surrounding communities north of Boston.

Worthington Foods, Inc., announces that Burger King Corp. expanded the testing of their meatless hamburger called Grillers® to three additional restaurants beginning early August. This expansion is based on the success to date in Burger King's original test unit in Watkins Glen, NY. Grillers® were added to the menu at this restaurant in late April 1993. The new test sites are in Rochester, Corning and Painted Post, NY. Worthington Foods sells the Grillers® product under its Morningstar Farms label in supermarkets nationally with annual sales of approximately 20 million. Worthington Food has authorized Burger King to use the product name "Grillers," a registered trademark of Worthington, in the test markets. Worthington Foods, Inc., located in Worthington, OH, is the world's largest company solely dedicated to producing and marketing meatless and other healthful food products.

Deaths

BRADLEY, Beulah—b. Apr. 22, 1903, Crosfort, PA; d. Jan. 13, 1993, Lansing, NY. Survivors include two sons, Wellington and Marvin Stewart from her former marriage to Neil Stewart; her brother, Jearold Davis and his wife, Katie; four grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren. Claude Bradley predeceased his wife four years ago.

GAUL, Camille Popolo—b. Jan. 21, 1910; d. Feb. 17, 1993, Atlanta, GA. She graduated from New England Memorial Hospital and owned and operated with her late husband, Lester, the Reading Rest Home, Reading, MA, for 25 years. Survivors include her son, Richard; daughter-in-law, Barbara; two grandsons, Brian and Kelvin; and nine brothers and sisters.

KNIGHT, Marquise M.—b. Jan. 12, 1927, College View, NE; d. March 17, 1993, Worcester, MA. Survivors include two daughters, Cherie M. Asgeirsson and Heidi J.E. Knight; two brothers, Dr. Donald E. Wahlen and Dr. J. Raymond Wahlen; one granddaughter; nieces and nephews.

ORTEL, Florence Ruth Rogers—b. Jan. 17, 1916, Collins Center, NY; d. Mar. 12, 1993, Gowanda, NY. Survivors include two children, Marlene Spaulding and Michael Ortel; an adopted son, John; three foster children, William Smith, Donald Smith, and Barbara Howe; 14 grandchildren; two brothers, Harold and Floyd Rogers; and four sisters, Hazel Lawton, Gladys Degenfelder, Dorothy Taylor, and Harriet Mackmer. Her husband predeceased her in 1971.

"I'd heard about the SDA Church for many years, but looking for a Christian school for my daughter put me in touch with one. Although a member of an AME Zion Church, I knew about the Sabbath, but because of my daughter's school, I finally attended Sabbath services at the Worcester Airport church. It takes me a long time to make up my mind about anything and I don't like crowds or long rides. However, when I decided to attend the Atlantic Union Women's Retreat at Lake George in October 1991, I was face to face with a long bus ride and a crowd of people. It was one of the most beautiful experiences in my life. The bus ride didn't seem long and the crowds seemed not so big. With all the workshops and programs, I ran around just like a child in a candystore.

"It was my first full weekend of vegetarian foods and I loved it.

"When I came home, I knew I had to join the church that showed me such love.

"Now, I've joined the Worcester Airport SDA Church by profession of faith and I'm busy working on a bus to help other ladies attend Retreat '93 at Cape Cod. I want them to enjoy all the fellowship and relaxation. I had a very enjoyable time."

FEEL THE HEAT!

500 Degrees in the Shade

by Andrew Demsky

The hot sun beat down upon the sea of umbrellas, multicolored beach towels, and glimmering bodies. Everyone on the beach was so full of life; why did Benny feel so out of place? Nothing was going right in his life, and all he wanted to do was end it all.

500 Degrees in the Shade is a revealing journey into the often topsy-turvy world of teens as they try to learn who they are and make sense of life.

"All I want to do is run away."

Hanging On by Your Fingernails
by Dan Day

Do you ever feel too tired to keep up your relationship with God? Feelings of despair and defeatism can make you feel like a failure, especially when you don't live up to your expectations of what a Christian ought to be.

It doesn't have to be this way. Hanging On by Your Fingernails, by Dan Day, offers understanding and gives hope to Christians who feel that they can't hold on any longer. With this book, you can step away from a "grin-and-bear-it" front and find a new spiritual experience.
