Reflections after the Conference

Back to the Fray

By H. W. Lowe

It was a blessed time of refreshing at the Union Quadrennial Session. A place of prayer, a season of study and soul-searching, a period of planning and resolving.

But now we are scattered once more. Some are far away in lonely places. Others find a place in our army of city churchmembers. Still others are in schools, in our corps of colporteurs, and so on. Wherever we may be, we are on a battle-front. The enemy never yet saw saints seeking God together without striving mightily to discourage them and destroy their union with God. Let us beware lest the tempter snatch away the blessings we enjoyed together. Constant closeness to our Lord, daily watchfulness and faithfulness to duty, regular study of God's Word, persistence in prayer—these things alone will avail to thwart the enemy.

THINGS OF PARAMOUNT IMPORTANCE

During the conference we spent considerable time in preparing plans, discussing ideas, passing resolutions. All to the good, no doubt. But now our resolutions are passed and are in print. Shall they remain there in their stark coldness, like so many lifeless lines from times long past? Shall we read them with fond memories of the good times we had together discussing them?

Rightly understood, the resolutions passed at our Adventist conferences are revolutionary. Transplanted from cold print into the warmth of converted hearts, they set men and women on fire for God. Their terms, translated from words into glorious Spirit-inspired service for God, change us from

slothful do-nothings into zestful seekers for souls for whom Christ died.

During the conference we were revolutionary. Let us now be revolutionary! Let us so give ourselves to God that what we have thought of as progress in the past may leave us amazed at our smallness of faith and our unfruitfulness of service.

OUR MEMBERSHIP PROBLEM

We must think not in terms of adding a few souls a year. We must let God, through His Spirit-filled servants, double our membership. What cannot five thousand Spirit-empowered men and women do by the grace of God, each proclaiming His loving-kindness, His goodness, His truth?

The question of the Sabbath makes our unemployment problem acute. Had we double our constituency we could employ many more of our members in our institutions, in our colporteur ranks, and in our conferences.

OUR EVANGELISTIC PROBLEM

Our colporteur ranks could and should be greatly and quickly augmented. We need two hundred colporteur evangelists—not mere book salesmen—going throughout these islands with burning hearts and heaven-inspired books that shall bring hundreds into the Advent message.

We need, we must have, larger numbers of fruitful preachers, pastors, and Bible-workers. Every 1936 graduate from our college has now been appointed to the work. We must have larger results from our ministry, because we are first and foremost a missionary pioneer, Bible-loving, spiritual ministry.

Our laymen—and is not this our chiefest need?—must more and more be a soul-winning laity. Every picture we have of the early church is that of voluntary, personal, spiritual groups of soul-winners.

GOOD NEWS FROM NEWBOLD

Newbold Missionary College has a record enrolment of 130 students this year, and accommodation is outgrown there. The Continental Department has begun well with some twenty-five students from abroad. The Textile Department, partly through a much-appreciated gift for the purchase of a new machine and partly from our own meagre resources, is being enlarged to cope with the many orders hitherto unfulfilled. Had we more means, we could use still more knitting machines, for these products find a ready market and offer employment for more students.

Plans are hastening along for raising the status of Newbold to that of a senior training college, and we should pray earnestly for a large, constant outflow of consecrated young men and women for service at home and overseas.

SUCCESS—THE MEASURE OF OUR STEADFASTNESS

We shall meet increasing problems as we set out determinedly in the years ahead. But the progress of God's cause has always come against great odds. The main thing to think of is our personal relationship to God and to His work.

This, therefore, comes as an appeal to our entire membership, for a complete giving of heart, mind, and action to the blessed work of this Advent message.

We can maintain solidity in our ranks, we can vigorously prosecute our Lord's commission, we can enjoy unprecedented success and blessing, only as we belong utterly and wholly to our Lord Jesus.

When we are tempted, we must pray. If things are not clear, we must see God and His glory. Should the enemy seek to divide and create loss of confidence, we must still love God and His children.

The work can be finished and we can each be constantly victorious by "looking unto Jesus."

Notes from the Union President

CONSEQUENT upon recent changes at the Union session, and further to strengthen the work in certain places we have made some re-distribution of workers through the responsible committees.

DEPARTURES

PASTOR A. S. MAXWELL, as announced at the recent conference, is accepting a call as chief editor in the Pacific Press Publishing Association, California, and expects to sail about October 28th. For long our editor, we shall miss his work, his irrepressible enthusiasm, and his fruitful energy. Good-bye "Uncle Arthur," and if the folk on the other side love you as much as we do, we shall be very happy. But, beyond that, we want you and yours to be greatly blessed of God.

Also to California have gone Pastor Roy Anderson and family, together with Brother George Freeman and his wife. Brother Anderson's labours will be a great loss to us, for we have so little in this great city of London, and he was a tower of evangelistic strength to us. We trust God's blessing may rest on His servants in their new surroundings. Incidentally, we never knew California was so needy before!

For a different purpose, Brother Clifford Anderson is leaving for California in about two months' time.

IN looking over this formidable list of departures from our evangelistic ranks, we can but prayerfully follow our co-labourers as they seek to serve God elsewhere.

GOD CHANGES APPOINTMENTS

THE following student appointments have been made as from

October 1st, subject to medical examination:

To the Welsh Mission

Miss B. Buck, D. Conroy.

To the South England Conference

Miss M. Clement, Miss M. John, P. Cumings, W. J. Newman, C. Smith.

To the Scottish Mission

Miss D. Fraser, Miss M. Mason.

To the North England Conference

D. J. Clarke, B. Kinman.

PASTOR F. C. BAILEY has been called from Ireland for evangelism in London.

PASTOR J. G. BEVAN goes to Ireland to conduct a strong campaign of evangelism.

PASTOR J. HARKER, after long years of faithful service, will come to the South England Conference.

BROTHER A. G. TAPPING is transferred to South England, and Pastor H. W. McCrow goes to Scotland.

BRETHREN W. J. CANNON and J. C. French join our forces in North England.

ONE or two other changes may be notified shortly, thus completing our re-arrangements for intensive work in each field for the winter.

WE invite the prayers of all that 1936-1937 may be a period of great enlargement in soul-winning. That is the supreme need and the only justification for our existence as a people.

WELSH MISSION

Superintendent: Pastor S. George Hyde

Office Address: (Until October 1st) 252 Rye Bank Road, Chorlton-cum-Hardy, Manchester

Farewell!

It is always difficult to say good-bye. I find it especially hard as I leave the Welsh Mission. The past four and a half years have been happy years and, under the blessing of the Lord, some measure of fruitage has been gathered.

As I leave to take up other duties in the Union I am mindful of the Lord's guidance and leading in the past—where He calls, we must go.

I wish to thank all who have been associated with us in the Welsh field for their loyal co-operation and support. Our members have rallied to every call that has been made, and because of their faithful labours higher goals have been reached and more souls won to the truth. God has greater things in store for the work in Wales than have yet been experienced. I know that you will give to Pastor S. G. Hyde the same loyal co-operation and support that it has been my happy lot to receive.

During the third quarter several baptisms have already been held. Seven were baptized at Swansea on July 22nd—the fruits from lay effort in that area. On July 23rd eleven were baptized in Newport, some coming from Caerphilly, Cardiff, and Barry, and one from Newport itself. On August 22nd five were baptized at Cardiff, being the first-fruits from the effort in Tonypany. These baptisms bring the total for the first eight months of this year added by baptism and vote to thirty-five. A baptism was planned for Shrewsbury on September 6th, the report of which will doubtless appear in the MESSENGER.

We should pray that these dear souls recently added to the church will ever be kept faithful to the Lord, and that our own example will be such as to build them up in the faith.

May God richly bless the work in the Welsh Mission is my earnest prayer.

G. D. KING.

Greetings!

By this time the news will have reached you of changes that were made at the recent quadrennial conference, which affects the Principality of Wales.

Wales has lost a popular and

Pastor S. G. Hyde, recently appointed Superintendent of the sympathetic leader by Pastor G. D. King's call to a place on the Union staff. We regret the necessity for his departure, but assure him of our prayers and of our desire for his success in the future.
Welsh Mission.

As your newly-appointed leader, I ask for your kindly co-operation and prayerful support. With God's help, our desire is to see the work in Wales move forward strongly in all departments, the membership not only advancing numerically, but in spiritual power and status.

Until the end of this present quarter, it will be necessary to direct the Welsh interests from Manchester, where we are binding off our past year's work. Will you, therefore, kindly send any correspondence to me at 252 Rye Bank Road, Chorlton-cum-Hardy, Manchester.

After October 1st letters should be addressed to "Ventnor," Tyglas Road, Llanishen, Cardiff.

Another change affecting our Mission is the transfer of Brother W. J. Cannon to the North England Conference. We all hope sincerely that Brother Cannon will recover his health speedily and have successful days in his future ministry. He is planning for a baptism early in September before he leaves Shrewsbury.

Two college graduates are joining our Welsh group of workers: Sister Bessie Buck and Brother Dennis Conroy. They will be assisting in the Ingathering work from September 1st. May the Lord bless these recruits to the ministry.

And may the Lord bless every one of you dear members in the Welsh Mission and enable you to succeed again this year in your great Ingathering Campaign for missions.

S. GEORGE HYDE.

Cardiff District Meeting

VISITORS from across the border who have been privileged to attend a district meeting in the Welsh field always have cause to remember the occasion. The greetings of friends, the enthusiastic singing, the devotion of our people and the fervent preaching make these meetings a real spiritual feast and days long to be remembered. On August 22nd we were privileged to attend one of the best of these district meetings. Representatives of the various churches were asked to stand and the following churches and companies were represented: Aberdare, Barry, Blaenavon, Bridgend, Caerphilly, Cardiff, Hereford, Llanelly, Merthyr, Mountain Ash, Newport, Porth, Swansea, Tonypany, and Ystrad Mynach.

The occasion was tinged with a note of sadness, for we were assembled to say farewell to our beloved superintendent, Pastor G. D. King. During the past four years Pastor King has certainly found a real place in the hearts of our Welsh believers. Through years of deep depression and distress he has proved himself a real friend, an able guide, and a wise administrator.

Pastor King, in his farewell address, used five texts from Paul's epistles which began with the word, Finally: "Finally, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord," "Finally, . . . think on these things," "Finally, . . . be strong in the Lord," "Finally, . . . be perfect," "Finally, brethren, pray for us." The lessons brought out will long be remembered and cherished in our hearts, and we determined to pray for him in his new sphere of labour.

At the afternoon meeting we had a specially blessed time, five dear souls, the result of a recent effort in the Rhondda Valley, being baptized. After Pastor King had examined the candidates on the doctrines of the church, the writer addressed the meeting, welcoming the candidates into the joys and privileges of church fellowship, and exhorting those already members to be more faithful and to deepen their consecration. His remarks were based upon Revelation 3:12. Pastor King then conducted the baptism.

Following the baptism the meeting was thrown open for praise and testimony. Many availed themselves of the opportunity of praising God for His wonderful goodness. Before closing the meeting, Pastor King thanked all for their hearty co-operation and help during the past four years and asked for the same support for his successor.

We face the next four years with courage and confidence, believing that, as the Lord bares His mighty arm to finish His work, He will cause the work in Wales to triumph gloriously. Pastor S. G. Hyde comes to us with a wide experience in the ministry of the Advent faith and we shall work and pray together with him that the years before us may be rich in spiritual attainment and better than ever in soul winning.

Brethren, we ask for Wales a deep interest in your prayers, that God will richly bless our new superintendent and the work in the Welsh field. W. G. NICHOLSON.

Cardiff District

On Thursday, July 23rd, in the Cardiff area, it rained as though it would never stop. In some places the rain came down incessantly until five o'clock. Then, in answer to our prayers, our heavenly Father rolled back the clouds and the countryside was bathed in sunshine as the candidates for baptism travelled to the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, Newport, to obey their Lord's command.

Pastor G. D. King, the superintendent of the Welsh Mission, examined the candidates in the vestry and found them in harmony with all our points of faith. He then conducted a song service in the church, while the candidates were attired in their white baptismal robes.

The writer addressed the meeting on the significance of baptism, after which he led eleven precious souls through the baptismal waters. The Lord was present with us in a marked way, and many tears of joy were shed during the service. In due course the candidates were received into church fellowship; two at Newport, four at Cardiff, three at Caerphilly, and two at Barry.

I would like to express our appreciation of the help the members have given us in Cardiff, Barry, and Caerphilly. Some have taken meetings in these places and others have helped in various ways.

We also feel thankful for the faithful work done by Miss Taylor, a student Bible-worker, who was released from Newbold College to work in Caerphilly for a short time. Since Miss Taylor's departure, Miss Anderson, our Bible-worker from Newport, has done good work at Caerphilly in the limited time of one day per week.

We invite the MESSENGER family to pray that others, who are learning the message, may soon be ready for baptism. T. H. COOPER.

IRISH MISSIONS

Superintendent: Pastor E. E. Craven

Office Address: Advent Church, Florenceville Avenue, Belfast

Greetings!

GREETINGS to old and new friends! In the year 1907 I landed in Belfast, a lonely boy in my teens. On August 31, 1936, I again found myself in Belfast.

As I stepped off the gangway of the steamer a little boy ran along by my side saying, "Shall I be taking your bag, Sir." I politely declined assistance as I only had to walk just a little way to the G.P.O.

I soon stopped a stranger and said to him, "Can you kindly show me the way to the Methodist College?" Immediately my stranger friend said, "Sure I can. I am going that way. Come with me." We jumped into a certain tram and immediately I put my hand in my pocket for my fare. My stranger friend said, "No, no, sure, I am buying the ticket." I have been in England many years, and never have I had such kindness from a stranger.

I then planned to visit some of the members in the Lisburn Road area. I stopped Stranger No. 2 and asked him the way to Chadwick Street. Stranger No. 2 replied, "Sure, I am going that way. Come with me." We both finally stepped into another tram-car. My friend pushed my hand on one side as the conductor came along and said, "Sure, I am paying for the tickets. It is my pleasure." How kind and polite these northern Irish are! I have never met their equal. On the second day I continued visiting with Miss Kirby, the local Bible-worker.

We found a certain member was out. We fumbled in our pockets for a visiting card to show we had called. Neither of us had a card—but finally we found an old envelope which we pushed under the door. We walked back again up the street. Suddenly a lady came running up the street with a post-card and pencil. She had seen us fumbling in our pockets and she thought we would like to leave a message for the member in question. Never have I had such kindness shown me. I am hoping that these northern Irishmen will be just as kind when I begin to present the great testing truths of God's Word. I solicit the prayers of God's people that the work of God may prosper in Catholic Ireland. Pray for us, brethren and sisters. E. E. CRAVEN.

Portsmouth

THE church at Portsmouth has recently enjoyed two happy experiences. On July 18th four dear souls were baptized by Pastor A. E. Bacon at the Elm Grove Baptist Church and afterward received the right hand of fellowship. We pray this may be but the beginning of greater things in this city.

The following Sabbath, July 25th, our young people conducted the morning service. Opening with the hymn, "The love of Christ constraineth," each member next responded to the roll call by repeating a verse of their favourite hymn. Then followed a delightful programme of solos, recitations, choruses, interesting talks, Bible questions, and an organ recital.

NUTTOLENE

Overheard at the recent Conference:

"I have been an Adventist for many years, but somehow I could not get used to Nuttolene. The entree to-day, however, was delightful. I wish I could get the recipe."

WELL, HERE IT IS!

Stuffed Nuttolene

- 4 oz. bread-crumbs
- 1 oz. Vegetable Suet
- Grated lemon rind
- Pinch of dried herbs
- 1 dessertspoonful chopped parsley
- Salt
- Milk or Egg to bind
- A little chopped onion to choice

Method.—Put all the dry ingredients into a basin, mix well, and add enough milk or beaten egg to make into a stiff paste which will bind together.

Mince or mash with a fork the desired quantity of Nuttolene. Place a layer half an inch thick on the bottom of a well-greased baking-tin or pie-dish. Roll out the stuffing and spread above the Nuttolene to a depth of about one inch. Cover with a further half-inch layer of Nuttolene. Sprinkle the surface with bread-crumbs and small lumps of margarine. Bake in a moderate oven for about forty minutes. Serve with a brown gravy.

This is merely one of scores of enjoyable dishes made with Granose Nut Foods. Look out for another in the next issue of the MESSENGER.

If you find it difficult to get supplies near at hand, please write direct to us. We are at your service.

GRANOSE FOODS LTD., WATFORD, HERTS.

It did our hearts good to hear the children taking their parts in simple songs and recitations. All gave of their best to the Master, and every member, old and young, spent a most enjoyable morning.

MRS. A. HILLS,
Church Clerk.

Ealing

By the grace of God, a new place of worship has just been opened in West London to accommodate the new believers in the Ealing district. This is the Ealing Advent Chapel, Shaftesbury Hall, 5a New Broadway, Ealing, W.5. It is situated opposite Christ Church tower.

A vast amount of voluntary labour has been put in to make the various necessary alterations. This compact and well-situated chapel is centrally heated and comfortably arranged to meet the needs of this new congregation.

Services are as follows:

Sunday, 6.30 p.m. Evangelistic address.

Wednesday, 8 p.m. Devotional meeting.

Friday, 8 p.m. Young People's meeting.

Sabbath, 10 a.m. Sabbath-school, 11.15 a.m. Divine service, 3 p.m. Bible study.

We heartily welcome members and friends who may be at any time visiting West London.

C. R. ANDERSON.

made reference to the crowded dormitories this year, and suggested that Newbold must extend just as the Hebrew school of old, described in 2 Kings, chapter six.

Pastor O. M. Dorland welcomed the school family on behalf of the North England Conference. He reminded the students and teachers of the definition of true education given in the Testimonies—to endeavour to restore in man the lost image of God. In such an endeavour the Lord would lend His mighty help to every teacher and student who consecrates himself to God. Untold possibilities lie ahead for such men and women who wish to prepare for devoted service in God's vineyard. "It is yet to be manifest what the Lord can do with young people who will consecrate themselves wholly to Him and His work."

Pastor G. D. King, in his earnest closing prayer, expressed the desire that the Lord's richest blessing would crown the efforts of students and teachers in Newbold Missionary College this year.

Important Announcement

WILL all Seventh-Day Adventists who are owners or occupiers of factories or workshops which are compelled to close on Sunday under the existing Factory Acts, please send names, addresses, and nature of business immediately to A. S. Maxwell, Stanborough Park, Watford, Herts.

Efforts are being made to secure recognition of the rights of Seventh-Day Adventists to open their factories and workshops on Sundays in connection with the new Factory Bill, now in course of preparation, and early information from our people on this subject will be greatly appreciated.

A New School Year Begins at Newbold

WHEN does the gate of opportunity open? Where is it located, and who may pass through? The gate of opportunity opens now. It is located at Newbold Missionary College, and the students of 1936 may pass through. The principal, W. G. Murdoch, made these statements in his introductory remarks when students, teachers, and friends of Newbold Missionary College assembled on August 26th to celebrate the beginning of a new year.

The chapel was filled with an earnest group of young people who were eager to begin their College work. The College building is filled to its utmost capacity and accommodation has had to be found outside the main building for quite a number of young men. We need to enlarge our quarters before beginning another school year.

The principal speaker at the opening exercises was Pastor H. W. Lowe, the new chairman of the College Board. Pastor Lowe stressed the spiritual objectives of our educational system. "We have come here to study God and His Word," he said, emphasizing that education does not end with the activities in the classroom, but is a lifelong character development. Adventist education is something altogether different from secular schooling, and one of its most prominent aims is to develop in the student the power to do—to do the will of God.

Pastor J. I. Robison, Educational Secretary of the Northern European Division, said that the greatest opportunity given to young people is to have a part in God's work. To-day the world offers but little to its youth. The Advent movement, however, offers much. He stressed especially the missionary aspect of our educational work, and spoke of the continent of Africa, from which he had just come, as a continent of opportunity. Pastor Robison appealed to the students to prepare themselves to take hold of that opportunity. Above all we must have a part and a place in the Lord's work.

The lack of leadership in the world at present was described by the president of the South England Conference, Pastor R. S. Joyce. We, on the other hand, have God as our Leader, and our business is to follow Him. As students and teachers in Newbold Missionary College we must represent the divine ideals of Christian education rather than the pedagogical policies of the world. Our studies and our lives must bear the distinct stamp of God.

A. Carey, the secretary-treasurer of the Union, compared Newbold with the schools of the prophets in the days of Elijah. Brother Carey Advance!

Most loyal Adventists firmly believe that a great work will be accomplished by the printed page in what we call the "closing days." Such a belief is, of course, securely grounded on the Word of God and the Spirit of prophecy. What does not appear to be so firmly believed is that a great work must be accomplished now, if we are to enter into that later experience. There can be no escaping the conviction that God has greater things in store for us in our publishing work here in this country when we are ready to accept His purposes for us in this line of service.

Upon connecting again more definitely with this important phase of our work I wish to send greetings to all who are loyally carrying the printed page from door to door. We have in the British Union a loyal band of faithful colporteurs, many of whom are achieving remarkable success, and the Lord is blessing their earnest efforts with souls won to the truth. A goodly number of our members in the churches are working nobly with Present Truth, Good Health, and small books. We have cause to thank God for these labourers whom the Lord has called. He will honour and reward their faithfulness, but as we see the fields already white unto harvest, with multitudes scattered abroad seeking light and guidance, we must say with the Master, "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few." Those who have the interest of the Lord's work at heart will surely be led to pray the Lord of the harvest that He will send forth labourers into His harvest.

It is the earnest desire of the Field Missionary Department in the British Union to greatly strengthen our colporteur force throughout the field. Many of our faithful newly appointed Field Missionary Secretary of the British Union.

Pastor G. D. King,

colporteurs are struggling with problems and difficulties and they need the prayers of our members and all the kindly, efficient leadership that can be given them.

Brother B. Belton brings a wide experience of service with him as he enters the work in North England, and that conference is greatly blessed in securing his experienced help.

Brother A. W. Cook will soon be leading the forces in South England. He comes from service in missions overseas—a background of experience which means added strength in leadership.

You are asked constantly to remember our book-workers in your prayers. Bear them up in your daily devotions that God will give them courage and confidence as they visit the people.

There must be many who read these pages who are conscious of the call of the Lord: "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?"

May the Spirit of the Lord lead you to respond, "Here am I, send me."
 G. D. KING.
