Yes... we need a new missionary academy

in Newfoundland .

THE children of Newfoundland appeal to you for help. Before Confederation in 1949 thousands of Newfoundland men and women, boys and girls, could not read or write. Today's boys and girls are anxious to receive an education. The Seventh-day Adventist Church should be in the forefront in providing facilities for a Christian education. Out of a population of 490,000 people the Adventist community in Newfoundland consists of 411 members. Provincial census figures show that 637 Newfoundlanders claim to be Seventh-day Adventists. This is more than the church records show. Many of these people are the product of Adventist operated schools. As a result of fellowship with Adventist teachers and students through the formative years of life these ex-students, now the business and professional men of Newfoundland, feel an attachment to the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Many times an Ingathering prospect will say that he attended our school in years past. This makes a good contact. The Seventh-day Adventist Academy in St. John's has been operating at its present location since 1920. In 1937 five new classrooms were added, as well as a principal's office. In 1944 an Auditorium was added to the facilities of the Academy. Today the building which was originally intended for not more than 150 students is housing 250. All the classrooms are crowded. All the facilities are taxed to their limit. Playground space is minimal. Yet this entire picture could be changed. Property for a new school was purchased in 1956. Construction of the new school has been delayed due to lack of funds. Now is your opportunity to make a substantial contribution to mission work at home. Give to the Seventh-day Adventist Academy fund now so that the needs of Newfoundland's boys and girls may be provided. Give so that funds will be available to enable the Newfoundland Mission to say, "Let us rise up and build." Neh. 2:18.

Newfoundland Academy Offering-May 9th

This building, which has been added to and altered many times during the years, houses the Seventh-day Adventist Academy, the Mission Conference offices, Book and Bible House and Radio Station YOAR.

Mrs. Hazel Janes with forty-eight pupils in Grades 5 and 6. Crowded conditions such as this make discipline a problem and classroom arrangement static.

Mr. John Thorn and the Grade 10 students make the best of a farmer radio studio for a classroom. It is too long and narrow for a suitable classroom.

A New School for . .

The present auditorium was an afterthought. When the addition was put on the Academy in 1937 it was built on a foundation, but the basement was not excavated.

In 1944 this area was excavated to a depth of eleven feet, the floor was drained, and an auditorium with a ten-foot ceiling constructed in the available space. This auditorium is now serving as an Assembly room, lunch room and classroom.

Besides being a school, the building at 106 Freshwater Road in St. John's is also the Mission Conference office and the studios of Radio Station VOAR.

As the school enrolment has increased the school has expanded, taking over year by year, first, one of the radio station studios for a classroom, then the front room of an apartment which was located on the second floor, and later the second room of the apartment so that it is now all school rooms. At present it is threatening to take over the conference office space which is located on the ground floor.

In an effort to provide classrooms the library has been taken over so that it serves a dual capacity of library and Grade XI room. The teachers' room has also been taken over and they must do with a hallway through which students have to pass on their

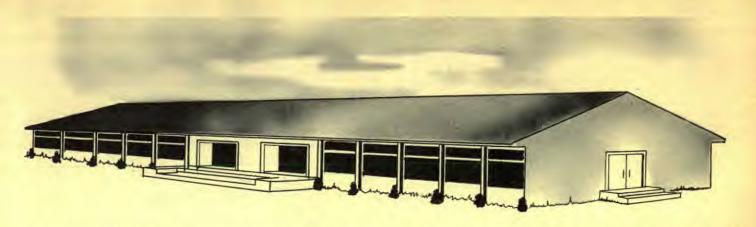

Ode to Newfoundland

When sun-rays crown thy pine-clad hills, And summer spreads her hand; When silvern voices tune thy rills We love thee smiling land, We love thee, we love thee, We love thee smiling land.

When spreads thy cloak of shimmering white, At winter's stern command;

Through shortened day and starlit night

We love thee frozen land, We love thee, we love thee, We love thee frozen land.

This is the artist's drawing of the proposed new academy for St. John's, Newfoundland. A generous offering on May 9 will help make this dream come true.

St. John's, Newfoundland way from classrooms to wash rooms.

Steel lockers were obtained some years ago and it was hoped that there would be one for each student. Now four students share a locker and in addition coat hanging space has been provided in the primary room.

The building is of wooden construction throughout. When the bell rings dismissing classes there is a dangerously crowded condition in the hallways. In an emergency this could have very serious consequences.

The Academy in St. John's is the only Seventh-day Adventist school teaching Grades X and XI. Young people come to St. John's from other communities so that they may be able to take their higher grades in an Adventist atmosphere. This also contributes to the crowded conditions already existing in the Academy.

Newfoundland, generally, is growing. Newfoundland is modernizing. Newfoundland is expanding. The Seventh-day Adventist Church and its school system must grow and modernize and expand to keep pace with the times. A liberal donation on May 9 will help the Seventh-day Adventist Academy in St. John's meet the demands for modern, adequate school facilities. GIVE LIBERALLY TO NEW-FOUNDLAND—Canada's own mission field.

When blinding storm gusts fret thy shore,
And wild waves lash thy strand;
Through spindrift swirl and tempest roar,
We love thee windswept land,
We love thee, we love thee,
We love thee windswept land.

As loved our fathers so we love,
Where once they stood we stand;
Their prayer we raise to heaven above,
God guard thee Newfoundland,
God guard thee, God guard thee,
God guard thee Newfoundland.
—Sir Cavendish Boyle

The very small playground, broken up by the VOAR tower and guywires.

Miss Alma Butler and fifty-two primary students make the best of their inadequate class room. Grades 1 and 2 cannot be separated because there is no other room to accommodate them.

Newfoundland Academy Is a Missionary Academy

Two hundred and fifty students empty into the halls at dismissal time.

The Seventh-day Adventist Academy in St. John's, Newfoundland, is a missionary Academy. Throughout the past five years there have been twenty-two baptisms from the high school section of the Academy. Of these twenty-two, seven have been from non-Adventist families. Three of the twenty-two are not now solid church members unfortunately, but this still gives a net increase of church membership of nineteen. Not only is the Academy bringing into the church fellowship, members of families who are not Seventh-day Adventists, but it is also serving as a refuge for our own young people. Through the years it has helped stabilize the young people of Adventist homes and to keep them in the church.

A splendid example of the missionary aspect of the school programme is the Hodder family. Phyllis and Shirley, both former pupils of the school, are now teaching; Phyllis in the Academy in St. John's, and Shirley in the Seventh-day Adventist School in Corner Brook. Dianne, who graduated last June, is now at Kingsway College preparing for a career in nursing. Donnie is in the baptismal class and Janis, who is in grade three, is looking forward to baptism as soon as she is old enough.

Much more could be done in a missionary way if space would permit. Teaching Bible subjects, as well as the academic subjects, is most difficult in a room with from forty to fifty students. Finding a room to conduct a baptismal class is a problem. Providing a room for pastoral counselling is almost impossible.

Two former Academy students and two students. Phyllis Hodder now teaches Grades 3 and 4 in the Academy where she formerly attended as a student, Shirley Hodder now teaches in the Seventh-day Adventist School at Carner Brook, Janis Hodder who is in Grade 3, and Donnie Hodder who is a student in Grade 8.

Music can do much to strengthen a child's spiritual life, as well as enhance cultural development. Efforts are being made to obtain the services of a competent music teacher so that a strong Music Department will result. For the time being the music department will have to share the auditorium and a radio studio.

Lack of space necessitates using an already crowded library as a Grade XI classroom.

Auditorium, Assembly room, lunchroom, music room, remedial English classroom—all in one.

The Campaign for Our Missionary Magazines Is On!

(For Eastern Canada: "These Times" - For Western Canada: "Signs of the Times")

THESE TIMES campaign is under full swing with R. J. Christian, circulation manager, promoting it. A gain of thirty to forty thousand new subscriptions is anticipated, giving These Times a total subscription list of 200,000.

Evangelist Billy Graham has ordered the 1962 and 1963 volumes of These Times, and has also requested his evangelistic organ Decision to be placed on an exchange basis with These Times.

More than fifty prayer requests per month are being sent to the prayer circle group, in response to the prayer circle note carried in These Times.

The center spread series in These Times has been selling almost faster than the presses can turn them out. By mid March, the three series, "A Faith for Today," "Messages for These Times," "Hope for These Times," had sold the grand total of 7,964,248 copies.

Coming in the June issue of These Times are two especially good articles. One is written by the well-known Seventh-day Adventist writer and poet, Adlai A. Esteb, editor of Go magazine. His story,

"A Significant Moment in My Life," tells about a faith-strengthening experience he had with a car dealer in the early depression days shortly after he returned from China where he had been a missionary for seven years. The other article is a commencement address given by Dr. J. DeWitt Fox, to the 1963 graduating class at Andrews University. Dr. Fox, besides being a contributing editor for These Times, is also editor of Life and Health.

The Book Department, under direction of Cecil Coffey, book editor of the Southern Publishing Association, reports a fifty percent increase in the number of book titles for 1964, and that fifteen new books will be ready for the 1964 North American camp meeting season.

On June 4, 1964, SIGNS OF THE TIMES will observe its 90th Anniversary. How does one commemorate such an event?

Ninety years ago the young church and its founders were deeply concerned with the task of telling the world that Christ was soon to return. How could this news be given clearly, effectively, and rapidly?

James White was sure that the message should be printed and sent to thousands of homes. Though short on funds he was long in faith, courage, and vision. His companion gave strong moral support when she said, "While in California in the year 1874, I was given an impressive dream. I saw that there would be a paper published upon the Pacific coast." So on June 4, 1874, Signs of the Times was launched with James White as its first editor.

That summer Elder White was called to be president of the General Conference. There were anxious moments regarding the future of the Signs. The leaders of the work felt that it must be continued. During a camp meeting held in Yountville, California, the problems of establishing and maintaining the Signs of the Times were presented to the congregation. Less than 500 Sabbath keepers were present on that occasion. The minister stood by the pulpit and indicated the needs of the hour. He pointed out the possibilities of doubling, trebling, or even increasing one hundredfold the influence of each member for the gospel by sending out the message through the printed page.

The congregation listened intently. When the opportunity to respond was given everyone was anxious. The first man brought his gift and placed it close by the pulpit. It was $1,000. Others responded until on that day $19,414 had been given to establish the work of God. What an amazing demonstration of faith and works.

How does one observe this 90th Anniversary of Signs? It would seem right to pause for a moment and bow our heads in gratitude for what our forefathers did to establish the work of the printed page 90 years ago, and to thank our heavenly Father for the fervour of our pioneers. Then would it not be fitting to pray that the fervour of the pioneers grip our hearts, that we might walk in the stately steppings of faith and recapture the spirit of Yountville for this 90th anniversary? That would seem an appropriate observance of this memorable date.

The average gift at Yountville was at least $40. If you will do the same, you can send the Signs of the Times to 18 important people—your neighbours and friends. Some are sending 90 Signs of the Times at a cost of $200 in observance of this 90th Anniversary. Still others have caught the spirit of that first gift in Yountville and are giving $1,000 for evangelism through the printed page. Make this 90th Anniversary a ringing success by sending out the gospel through the Signs of the Times.

Literature Evangelist Experiences

In May 1963 a lady purchased $128 worth of books. A month later I called at her home. During the conversation she related that her husband saw a light downstairs about three o'clock in the morning and rushed down to see if she was sick. She told him that she was not sick, but was reading the books she had purchased and was finding wonderful things she had never known before. She just could not stop reading as she wanted to know more. She was a good church member, too. Now her husband is reading them.

I called back on January 22, 1964. She seemed so glad to see me and wanted to know if I had any more good books. She purchased Your Bible and You and Bible Readings and signed for the Voice of Prophecy Correspondence Course. After having a Bible study together she expressed her desire to attend one of our churches. They have a nursing home. Please pray for this family that God will guide them in their decisions.

Why I Chose To Be A Student Literature Evangelist

When a student opens his heart to the will of our Saviour, the Holy Spirit will impress upon him the things he is to do. This is what happened to me during the previous school year. When I gave my life completely over to Jesus, I was first impressed that I was to prepare myself for the ministry, and then to go into the colporteur work for the summer.

I am sure the Lord knew that in the colporteur work I would receive experiences that would help me in my service for Him. As for going into the canvassing field, I was not worried about the lack of qualities which I posessed. My purpose for going was to learn the lessons which God would set before me.

God stands watch over each one of us and prepares us for a place in His cause. Kenneth Corkum

I met a very lovely family of eight. They are now enjoying the books Footprints of Jesus. Two girls have already completed the Voice of Prophecy lessons. As I was discussing the Bible with Mrs. her husband walked in and said, "I heard you discussing which is the seventh day-can't you see on the calendar that Saturday is the seventh day? I looked in the dictionary and the proof is there that Saturday is the seventh day and the Bible also states that the seventh day is Sabbath." They were glad to hear that I agreed with them. We had a Bible study together. Her young son enrolled in the Bible course and Mrs. - enrolled in Daniel and Revelation. I left The Desire of Ages with this family and we had prayer together before I left.

Expansion Progress of Branson Hospital

A. GEORGE RODGERS, Administrator

As promised by Elder Lowell Bock, Chairman of our hospital Board, the Administrator reports:

Consequent upon signing the two-year four-million-dollar contract for our expansion, last December, progress has gone forward with man-size strides.

As indicated in the accompanying photo, the building is in rapid escalation, and already almost half the steel is in erection.

The foundry technique of X-raying the steel members and fabricating in "H" components has facilitated this near vertical acceleration of our constructural programme.

As a metropolitan, public general hospital, we are prominently in the public eye, and the recent articulate and urgent insistence for more active treatment beds places the Branson administration under the most compelling obligation to achieve our 600 patient potential in the shortest possible time.

Including furnishings and equipment, well in excess of five million dollars will be involved; but an even greater consideration is determining the availability of men and women to staff the professional and also nonprofessional areas together with the supportive para-medical services of our clinical operation.

The hospital Administration would be happy to hear from those whose health, experience, licensure, certification, philosophy and dedication render them eligible as potential members of our growing institutional team.

Here in North York, with over three hundred thousand population, the needs are great; but the challenge is greater. Pray for s as we seek with fidelity and dedication, consonant with our calling, to discharge with consummate distinction the humanitarian task so confidently, and by so many, entrusted to our care.

D. E. TINKLER, President

Evangelistic advance was the theme of the annual audit and workers' meeting held April 7-9 at the conference head-quarters in Moncton, New Brunswick. All pastors and conference workers pledged renewed dedication to the task of soulwinning. Objectives for the year included advance in every phase of the church programme in a concerted programme of co-ordinated evangelism.

Elder J. W. Bothe's presentation on "Evangelism—our business" inspired the ministry to greater achievements with the limitless potential in every-member evangelism.

Also present from the Canadian Union headquarters were Elders Green, Soloniuk, Botimer and Biy. Elder R. J. Christian from the Southern Publishing. Association, brought the challenge of These Times evangelism. Financial reports and the budget for 1964 were reviewed by the conference committee, and plans laid for further advance in every department.

Conference workers and pastors wish to express appreciation to our faithful members throughout the Maritimes who are upholding their hands and loyally supporting the programme with their talents, gifts and prayers.

Voice of Youth Crusade Barnesville, N. B.

N. M. FROST, District Leader

The Voice of Youth Crusade was launched Sunday night, March 29, in the Barnesville Church. These programmes are under the direction of Mr. Wilfred Schulze, Missionary Volunteer leader. Miss Janet Landry, the assistant MV leader is helping along with the pastor. The meetings are held each Sunday, Wedday and Friday nights through the month of April, with a baptism anticipated at the close of the meetings. Each night several of the youth do the speaking. the pastor closes with the appeal. Special music is presented each evening by the young people and others in the church. A good constructive movie is shown each evening.

The youth are using colour slides and colourama to help with the meetings. This is a highlight in the church, as the pastor will not be holding public meetings in the church till sometime this fall.

The youth who are not speaking are assisting in other phases of the programme running projector, handling lights, ushering, welcoming the people, and doing whatever needs to be done to make a successful programme.

May we ask an interest in your prayers for the success of these meetings, as they work for the souls of the young people in and around Barnesville.

Your Treasurer's

Notes and Quotes . . .

"Let Everyone Search . . ."

If I have robbed God, "What must I do to be saved?" First, "Let everyone search his heart diligently. Let him look up his accounts, and find out how he stands as related to God." Counsels on stewardship, p. 75. Then we recommend this procedure:

- Promise God that with His help you will never default in your tithe again.
- 2. Pay tithe faithfully on current income.
- Determine the amount owed in back tithe.
- 4. Pay back tithe as quickly as possible. When we recognize our indebtedness to God, and lay definite plans for the repayment of this debt, then God will begin to pour out His blessing.

Prayerfully consider the following incident as related by the Lord's Servant on pages 95, 96 of the book Counsels on Stewardship.

"As the sin of robbing God was presented, the people received clearer views of their duty and privilege in this matter. One brother said that for two years he had not paid his tithes, and he was in despair; but as he confessed his sin, he began to gather hope. "What shall I do?" he asked.

"I said, 'Give your note to the treasurer of the church; that will be businesslike."

"He thought that was a rather strange request; but he sat down, and began to write, 'For value received, I promise to pay—'

"He looked up, as if to say, Is that the proper form in which to write out a note to the Lord? "'Yes,' he continued, 'for value received. Have I not been receiving the blessings of God day after day? Have not the angels guarded me? Has not the Lord blessed me with all spiritual and temporal blessings? For value received, I promise to pay the sum of $571.50 to the church treasurer.' After doing all he could do on his part, he was a happy man. In a few days he took up his note, and paid his tithe into the treasury. He had also made a Christmas donation of $125."

If you have defaulted in honest tithing, remember, "The Lord is not slack concerning His promise," so "Prove" Him, by paying your back tithe, so that your records will be in complete agreement with the records above, and you will experience the "peace that passeth all understanding."

Medicine Hat Investiture

February 22 was an important day for thirteen JMV's in the Medicine Hat area. Under the leadership of Pastor Larry Milliken, L. Nahorney, Mrs. L. Nahorney and (Mrs.) Marion Andherst these juniors successfully carried out the requirements for the Friend and Busy Bee MV classes. These good folk do not have the privileges of the church school, as yet, but are busy in Pathfinders, MV classes, crafts and active lay work for their church. It is showing results because now the church is too small to accommodate the members.

Billy Graham Dedicates Pavilion at World's Fair

NEW YORK,—Evangelist Billy Graham has formally dedicated the pavilion named for him at the New York World's Fair. The goal of the Billy Graham structure, he said, is to bring Christ's message to the fairgoer through straight evangelism without apology. A half-hour film entitled "Man in the Fifth Dimension" will be shown hourly at the pavilion on a wide, wrap-around screen. The sound-track can be heard in any one of six languages through special carphones. Featuring Graham as narrator, the film discusses the Creation, concentrates on the Gospel message, and closes with the evangelist in a face-to-face appeal for the audience to respond by meeting immediately with a member of the evangelistic team. Counselling rooms located to the rear of the theatre screen are provided for this purpose. The octagonal pavilion is located near the main entrance to the fair. In addition to the pavilion, Graham has set up an exhibit in the Protestant and Orthodox Centre, which houses exhibits by a dozen Protestant churches.

Five-day Plan In Lethbridge

As we read our church papers, we see many reports of the tremendous success of our Five-day Plans that are being conducted, not only from coast to coast, but around the globe. We in Lethbridge, Alberta, have had a rather unique situation which has been a real blessing to our Five-day programme in several ways.

Although Lethbridge is the third largest city of Alberta, we are not privileged to have one of our own medical physicians in practise here. We are glad however for two good Seventh-day Adventist dentists. These two men, Drs. A. Garner and B. J. Hover, were willing to join with the ministry in conducting these group therapy projects. The unique phase of the programme is this. One of the local prominent physicians, Dr. D. McPhearson, a fine Christian man, was willing to join with us, thus bringing real strength to the team. Dr. McPhearson had been a smoker for thirty years. However, when he realized, three or four years ago, the harmful effects of the weed, he broke the habit completely. Thus, he has been able to present the medical aspect with a true understanding of the people's problem.

The team is presently planning for another Five-day Plan to begin Sunday, April 5, in the Civic Center here in Lethbridge.

Several who participated in the last series, drove as far as forty miles each night. Our percentage of success has run high for the sixty-five enrollees from the two groups. We feel this programme is a wonderful way to serve a real need in our community.

"It Is Written" Changes Time at Lethbridge

A. E. ANDERSON, Pastor

March has been a banner month for us in Southern Alberta! You ask "Why"? Because the "It Is Written" programme, which began broadcasting from Lethbridge on the 5th of January this year, has resulted in over 200 enrolees for the "Take His Word" Bible Lessons. These interesting Bible studies are already producing results. We are pleased with an exceptionally high percentage of persons who are regularly returning their work sheets. Already, in less than three months, there are several who have made decisions to cast their lot with this wonderful movement.

Beginning with the month April, "It Is Written" will be seen over CJLH-TV at 3:00 p.m., Sunday, instead of the present 1:00 p.m. hour. There will be two exceptions, April 19 and May 10, when it will be televised at 3:30 p.m. We feel this may make it easier for some to tune in.

We solicit your continued prayers in behalf of God's work in Southern Alberta.

New Library at CUC

This will be CUC's new Library when registration comes next September. By then the cafeteria will be housed in its new quarters.

New-and still not exactly new. Sometime during the next few months, according to President Johnson, Canadian Union College will be able to boast a newly located, improved, and expanded library. As the cafeteria vacates the building it has occupied for the past fourteen years and moves into its new $290,000 quarters only a few yards west and north of the present building, the library will then move from its familiar but crowded housing in the east wing of the Ad building to the more adequate space, here to feed young minds where for so long CUC youth have been feeding their bodies!!

Reuben Buhler, CUC librarian, looks forward happily to more spacious and more efficient library facilities.

"This move and development of our library places CUC another step nearer the recognition we need as we move toward status as a full senior college for Canadian young people," said Elder Johnson. "We are particularly impressed with the enthusiastic attitude of our student family as the Student-Faculty Association took as a project the financial burden of furnishing the new library. New chairs and study-tables, bookshelves, and cabinet work for book receiving and charging desk runs into a large sum. Card catalogue file drawers alone will be a large investment.

"The SFA already has raised enough for a good beginning, and we trust our people will give hearty support to this needy project."

According to Librarian Reuben S. Buhler, the library at present consists of a little over 15,000 volumes and 130 periodicals. In the coming year, $4500 has been allotted for additional book purchases, which will mean another thousand or so volumes.

This is still a small library, though we continue to be careful in our choice of new material, so that the quality and rating can still be high.

But we do need more funds!!

Perhaps you have not been invited directly to contribute to this need at CUC. If not, won't you help anyway? Make your gift to the "S F A Library Project". Mail it to College Heights, Alberta. You may rest assured that if funds are raised above that needed for the furnishings, it will certainly be applied to other pressing library needs.

You may have some special gift you would like to make. In this event, write directly to the office of Public Relations, and we will give you suggestions and assist you in your presentation.

We anticipate with pleasure this new study and research centre for Canadian Union College.

Baptism At St. Leonard, Quebec

Sabbath, March 28, was a very special day for the members of the Montreal French Church as they worshipped in their new church building on Valdombre Street in St. Leonard, Quebec. Even though it was the Easter holiday week end, there was a good attendance. Being 13th Sabbath, the Sabbath School children's divisions presented a very interesting and enjoyable programme under the direction of Runa Douay and Lorraine Lemoing.

At the eleven o'clock hour, an impressive baptismal service was conducted by Pastor R. Devins, when four young people—Marie Bohl, Chantal Devins, Susanne Lemoing, and Gilles Gagne, took their stand for this Message, and were welcomed into church membership. These candidates were later presented with their baptismal certificates and a gift book entitled, Rabbi.

Pastor Devins had studied the fundamentals of the Message with these young people during the past years and prepared them for baptism. He was assisted in the service by Brother Lemoing, first elder, Brother G. Vuillaume, deacon, with Brother E. Chave at the organ. A solo was rendered by Pastor Devins.

The spring-like atmosphere, the sunny day, and this happy occasion, will long be remembered as a very special day for our church at St. Leonard.

Lay Evangelism Course in Montreal_L. ASTLEFORD, Pastor, Montreal English Church

For several weeks the Montreal English speaking church has been the scene of much activity in lay evangelism. Those leading out in this were brethren John Whalley and Charles Gaulin, themselves graduates of the School for Instructors in Lay Evangelism which was held in Oshawa last autumn.

The instruction periods were well illustrated with sermons, Bible studies, and dynamic talks on the importance of this great work because the task is so great, the city so large, and our labourers so few. The class periods were made intensely interesting by the use of pictures and flannelgraphs. The fact that this work has strong support from the Spirit of Prophecy, the General Conference as well as our own local conference, has served to impress our folk with the timeliness and its importance.

Graduating exercises were held on Sabbath, March 14, for ten persons that complied with the requirements of this course as set forth by the Home Missionary Department of the General Conference.

Because of the great distances to travel in this city to reach the church, many were unable to get in to all the class periods and so were unable to complete the prescribed course. For them it is planned to organize another class in the near future. We believe that when our laymen in Montreal get on fire for God that great things will happen in Canada's metropolis.

Faye Campbell, Dorcas Federation President of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference, has found that flying has been the only way she could keep up with her work. She literally goes "flying into her work." She, with her husband, Dr. Tom Campbell, and four children, settled in a dark county. In addition to helping her husband in his practice, she opened a health and welfare centre in the community of Bradford.

If you haven't read the story, YOU MUST-it is found in the Go magazine, August, 1963.

Christmas is the time of giving traditionally, BUT in a little community in Tennessee, Bradford by name, there is a beautiful story of giving that goes on 365 days of the year.

Pastors, Elders, Home Missionary Leaders, yes, Dorcas Ladies and Gentlemen, and All Church Members — You owe it to yourselves to come and hear Mrs. Faye Campbell at one of the following places:

It Is Written Reports

Posing for this picture in the CHAB-TV Moose Jaw studio are Elder George Vandeman and Gordon MacInnes. Gordon MacInnes recently joined the CHAB-TV staff and interviewed Elder Vandeman on television for 20 minutes the day prior to the first meeting. The interviewer stated that though he was not a religious man yet he viewed the IT IS WRITTEN telecast religiously.

To climax the IT IS WRITTEN telecast sponsored by the Moose Jaw and district churches, Elder George Vandeman came for a week end at the beginning of February. Several hundred attended over the week end at the Moose Jaw Technical High School Auditorium and at the Qu'Appelle Room in the Saskatchewan Hotel in Regina.

From February 3-22 the attendance kept steady at around 100—120 in Moose Jaw as Elder D. R. Watts of Saskatoon continued the Bible-in-the-hand programme each night. District Pastor E. L. Koronko was director of music and carried a strong visitation programme with Elder Watts. To date seven precious souls have taken their stand and joined the remnant church in baptism. During the series several others gained the victory over tobacco.

We are encouraged as we think of the many who manifested their desire to be true followers of the Lord. Several are taking studies now and another baptism is scheduled for the latter part of April.

A highlight in the Pipes and Drums concert was the presentation of a replica of the police crest especially prepared in the form of a stand-up plaque to be used by the band for future concerts. D. R. Watts, Pastor of the local Seventh-day Adventist Church made the presentation to James G. Kettles, Chief of Police and Deputy Chief J. R. Forbes, as a token of the church's appreciation of the fine concert presented and as a memento of their first public appearance. Upon the presentation of the plaque, Deputy Chief J. R. Forbes turned the plaque over to the Band officer, Inspector W. Neill for safe keeping.

It was later learned from Staff Sergeant J. R. Comrie, Public Relations Officer for the Pipes and Drums band that the plaque is to be mounted for public viewing in a special window to be built in the City Police Station.

The concert was well attended and all present were impressed with the precision and over-all quality of the performance.

The ladies of the church were especially grateful because the band did not charge for their services and the admission for the concert went towards the paying of the equipment recently installed in the auditorium kitchen.

The City Police were indeed grateful to have the honour of presenting the programme to our group and conveyed special appreciation for this fact.

Programme arrangements were made by Brother Alex Dobroskay, with assistance of Sisters Sarah Heinrichs and Hazel Koseruba.

An added feature were eight young ladies, known as "The Highlanders" who performed under the direction of their instructor, Mrs. Creighton. The band was assisted by two ladies, Miss Margaret Ireland and Miss Donna Fraser, daughters

Master Guide Investiture

An investiture service was held on Sabbath afternoon, March 14, in the Moose Jaw Church during the regular Missionary Volunteer hour. Elder Norman J. Matiko, conference M V Secretary was the speaker and challenged all present to do "extra-ordinary" exploits for God in these "extra-ordinary" times. We are confident that Elder E. L. Koronko, local pastor and literature evangelist Rudolf Dielman, who were invested as Master Guides will continue giving strong leadership to Missionary Volunteer activities in the Moose Jaw Church!

Civil Defence Rally in Vancouver Central Church

Left to Right: Eric Bracher, Radiation monitoring instructor; Group Captain A. Lewis, Civil Defence Co-ordinator for City of Vancouver; Mrs. B. J. Best, Health and Welfare Service leader for the Vancouver Central Church; Wing Cammander A. N. Roth, Administrative officer for the City of Vancouver. Back row: Just a dummy roped to the stretcher for rescue exercises.

The Health and Welfare Centre of the Central Vancouver Church sponsored a Civil Defence Rally on a Saturday night. The programme consisted of films, guest speakers and a Civil Defence display of rescue equipment. Mrs. B.J. Best, leader of the Centre, was in charge of the service.

Guest speakers for the evening were: Group Captain A. Lewis, Civil Defence co-ordinator for the City of Vancouver; Wing Commander A. M. Roth, administrative officer of the City of Vancouver; and Mr. Eric Bracher, radiation monitoring instructor.

The guest speakers explained that the operation of Civil Defence comes directly under the supervision of the Premier of the Province. The city mayor is under the direction of the Premier.

They also explained that the head of every city department must take a Civil Defence course, thus training him to handle emergencies.

In the City of Vancouver there are 200 Civil Defence police in addition to the regular police. Beside these there is need for many more volunteer Civil Defence workers.

Civil Defence trains not only for the danger of war, but for emergency service for floods, fire and earthquakes.

It was explained that some of the services offered are: EMERGENCY HOS-PITAL—This is a complex unit costing five and one-half million dollars that can be transported in one railway car or in seven tandum trucks. The hospital can be set-up in one hour, complete, ready for surgery.

MOTION PICTURES — These are used for showing the need of getting prepared for emergencies during times when everything is running along nicely as usual. FIRST AID COURSE—This is an eightweek course that is taught by the St. John's Ambulance, and can be given at a church provided there is a minimum of twenty persons in the class.

HOME NURSING—This is a valuable course that is also taught by the St. John's Ambulance and can be given at the church. Twelve weeks are required for the course.

RESCUE COURSE—This is a twenty-week course of two hours a week. It prepares one for such emergencies as floods, storms and earthquakes.

There are other courses taught, but these show the valuable place civil defence is filling in preparing persons to meet the unusual circumstances that can happen at any time.
