A Call to Adventure

3,782,000,000.

That's quite a figure! It represents a recent estimate of our world's population. By the time you read these words, that colossal total will be out of date and it may well have drawn near the four thousand million mark.

Four thousand million people — men, women, boys, and girls of all shapes, sizes, ages, colours — and the God whom we adore loves them all, and is 'not willing that any should perish'. Yet not one in a thousand is a Seventh-day Adventist conscientiously keeping His commandments and preparing for His Son's return. That gives each Adventist an awe-inspiring responsibility. How can we fulfil it?

From the four corners of the earth come reports of opportunities that call for our most vigorous responses and tax our greatest resources. In southern India, where converts once came so slowly, one baptism now represents more people brought to Christ than previously were brought in a whole year. In the Kasai area of Zaire, where we had closed our mission station, thousands are requesting instruction, hundreds have already been baptized, more than 2,500 are in baptismal classes, 10,000 will probably be enrolled by General Conference session time, and new churches are being established as fast as we can provide the facilities and workers. We know that similar opportunities await us elsewhere, while others will open unexpectedly. Are we prepared to seize them and reap their potential harvest?

Anticipate God's Providences

The Church, our Church, must take advantage of these providences. We should anticipate them. 'Go out into the highways and hedges,' commands our Master, 'and compel them to come in.' This, as our Lord's faithful servants, we must do.

At its Annual Council in Mexico City, October 1972, the world-wide church planned that there would be an ADVENTURE IN FAITH in conjunction with the 1975 General Conference session in Vienna.

ADVENTURE IN FAITH is a global programme to inspire our entire membership to make extraordinary efforts to complete its God-given task of taking the saving Gospel of Jesus Christ into every corner of our troubled, needy world. The emphasis is on new places — new countries, new states, new districts, new towns, new villages, new people — areas and people yet untouched by the blessed Advent message. The Church is called to marshal all its resources for the greatest-ever spiritual thrust to bring salvation, and to bring it rapidly, to the uttermost ends of the earth.

Total Commitment

This unprecedented effort calls for every member of the Church to commit himself totally. It calls for unselfish dedication, for gifts of time, energy, service, and prayer. It calls for gifts of money to finance the public and personal evangelistic thrusts that will lighten the unentered recesses of our world. As plans are outlined in our Church papers and by our pastors in their pulpits, we are confident that our generous self-sacrificing Adventists will meet the challenge of this bold programme and supply the means that will enable ministry and laity to reach each carefully planned objective.

Adventures are exciting! The most exciting of all can be this ADVENTURE IN FAITH. Join with me, dear people, and share the holy excitement of leading souls to Christ and preparing them for the kingdom of heaven. Join with me and my fellow leaders in this greatest of all adventures. Join with us now, then share the inspiration that will flow when the final offering is received at the General Conference session in July of this year.

Remember that figure—3,782,000,000. Work and give through our ADVENTURE IN FAITH, to bring many, many of these millions into the kingdom of God.

The Challenge of Canada!

By A. N. HOW, Secretary, Seventh-day Adventist Church in Canada

Twenty-two million people! Twenty-two million people in Canada who haven't heard the truth! "How then shall they call on Him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? . . ." (Romans 10:14). That is the challenge of Canada.

Last year (1974) 1,755 people were baptized and joined the Church. That is the highest baptism figure in our history. And that brings our membership in Canada up to 23,890. But with a population of 22,133,000 that means there is only one Seventh-day Adventist to every 926 Canadians!

By conferences these are the figures:

Alberta 4,176 members or 1 Adventist to every 407 of the population.

British Columbia 6,027 members or 1 Adventist to every 393 of the population.

Manitoba-Saskatchewan 2,922 members or 1 Adventist to every 654 of the population.

Maritimes 1,409 members or 1 Adventist to every 1,140 of the population.

Newfoundland 687 members or 1 Adventist to every 807 of the population.

Ontario 7,670 members or 1 Adventist to every 1,034 of the population.

Quebec 999 members or 1 Adventist to every 6,064 of the population.

Statistically it is a rather bleak picture. Cecil Rhodes said it very well in his statement "So little done, so much to do." Yet we can be heartened as we accept the challenge. We are thrilled to hear from Quebec that over 9,000 people have responded to the IT IS WRITTEN program there, where it can be seen in both French and English. Or from the Maritimes where over 100 people are in attendance at a series of meetings conducted by four laymen. These men are preaching Christ and the people are responding.

And the Church has a program in which you can be involved in 1975. It is called OPERATION RESCUE. It is designed to reach former Adventists as well as to reach out to the community. Take your choice from this list:

1. Providing Insight for youth, by subscription or personal delivery.
2. Providing the Review for older persons.
3. Participating in an active and meaningful visitation program.
4. Each Sabbath School class make "missing members" a real concern.
5. Searching out new Canadians who were members of the Church in their homeland.
6. Working on a baptismal goal of 10% of your Church membership.
7. Keeping your Church open for evangelism every Sunday night (or other nights if more convenient).
8. Conducting a health series of meetings.
9. Getting interests through invitations to a vegetarian dinner.
10. Planning a baptism in every district every month.
11. Distributing tracts door to door.
12. Distributing special magazines in an area.
13. Operating Branch Sabbath Schools.
14. Electing an Interest Co-ordinator in your Church who will tie all these avenues of service together.

As each one of us becomes part of the team, "workers together with God", then, and only then, will the Church be able to meet the Challenge of Canada.

Eastern Canadian Literature Evangelists Enjoy Spirit-filled Institute

C. K. OKUNO, Publishing Director, Canadian Union Conference of S.D.A.

On January 21, 1975 the Literature Evangelists from Ontario, Quebec, the Maritimes and Newfoundland, along with their families convened at Camp Berkshire, Wingdale, New York, for their Annual Winter Institute. Camp Berkshire is owned and operated by the Greater New York Conference and is situated in the beautiful Hudson Valley just east of Poughkeepsie.

Each day began with a morning devotional and then prayer bands, followed by a general-form workshop, in which each of the various workers had an opportunity to share their experiences and discuss matters of mutual interest. Part of each afternoon was devoted to outdoor recreation and then an after-supper meeting was held each night.

Those who have been attending similar institutes for many years felt that a new high was reached in spiritual devotion and enthusiasm at this gathering. Saturday night, awards were made to the outstanding literature evangelists in Eastern Canada. Simeon Cuffy was Canada's number one literature evangelist for 1974. He was called to serve as assistant publishing secretary in the Ontario Conference in October. His deliveries in less than one year's time were slightly in excess of $36,000. He specializes in the sale of our Spirit of Prophecy books and is now helping others to follow his good example. Canada's number one leading lady was Miss Lydia Batten, from Bay Roberts, Newfoundland, who delivered $20,375 worth of truth-filled literature.

You will notice the smiling faces of those in attendance. They have not only set a record goal for themselves in sales but also hope both to win souls and recruit at least one spiritual canvassing partner this coming year. Wouldn't you like to join their happy throng? If so, please contact your local publishing director.

Adventures in Faith Offering

Urgently Promoted by C. K. OKUNO, Publishing Director, Canadian Union Conference of S.D.A.

RECLUSE FOUND DEAD — FORTUNE DISCOVERED IN RUBBLE!! How often a news account appears in the paper telling us about someone who for years lived alone in a house with closed, shuttered windows; doors that were seldom opened. Then one day, a neighbour calls the police and states that the retiring eccentric has not been seen for many weeks. The house is entered. A search is made and in the midst of abject squalor the missing occupant is found dead. A further search of the premises suddenly reveals a hidden fortune which its owner accumulated but never enjoyed while alive. Perhaps we try to imagine what sad experience caused the recluse to withdraw from human society and attempt to find safety and security in hoarded riches. "What a tragedy, what a loss," we say. We may even muse to ourselves that it is fortunate that such tragedies do not occur too often — or do they?

Is it not true, that too frequently we are prone to hoard both the material and spiritual wealth which God has given to us and fail to share it with others who desperately need the warmth of human love and faith to give them strength and courage to carry on? Only too often, we close the doors of our hearts and in an empty round of selfish living, hide the heavenly treasure in the rubble of barren, unfruitful lives. Only too soon, time's silver cord may break and we may be found unloving, unloved and unprepared to meet our Maker.

Speaking to the multitude on the mount, Jesus said, "Lay not up for yourselves treasure upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt and where thieves break through and steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." — Matt. 6:19-20.

"For God so loved the world that He gave. . ." John 3:16.

Giving is both a necessity and a law of the universe. Giving is the secret of joyous, satisfied living. "There is nothing, save the selfish heart of man that lives unto itself. No bird that cleaves the air, no animal that moves upon the ground, but ministers to some other life. There is no leaf of the forest, or lowly blade of grass, but has its ministry. . . The angels of glory find their joy in giving — giving love and tireless watchcare to souls that are fallen and unholy. . . All things Christ received from God, but He took to give. . . And thus through Christ the circuit of beneficence is complete, representing the character of the great Giver, the law of life" — Desire of Ages, pp. 20, 21.

Every appeal to share our substance with others is a golden opportunity to lay up treasures in heaven. This year God asks us to prove Him and see if He will not pour us out a blessing so great that we cannot contain its abundance. Jesus likewise has promised to give us a greater return for our investment than any bank in the world can offer. Read His words in Mark 10: 28-30, where He assured Peter that anyone who forsakes home, friend, family, or possessions for His sake and the gospel, will receive in return one hundredfold in this world and eternal life in the world to come.

Won't you give now, to set aside the largest offering of your life for Jesus and give it to Him on April 26 as you "Adventure in Faith" with Him and help His word to reach regions in Canada never entered before? It has been suggested that one week's pay be used as a personal goal for this special occasion. Remember, "He is faithful who promised" and soon His promise will be fulfilled and we will be taken together to a home of ineffable glory and beauty.

Canadian Union College Hosts Western Publishing Leaders

C. K. OKUNO, Publishing Director, Canadian Union Conference of SDA

On February the 4th, 1975, the publishing leaders from British Columbia, Alberta and Manitoba-Saskatchewan met at Canadian Union College and conducted a three-day Student Evangelist Institute. The attendance at the meetings was excellent and enthusiastic plans were made for this coming summer. Also, club officers for the remaining months of this year were appointed. Al Matchim will serve as the president, Leonard Ilchuk as vice-president and Laurel Boettcher as Al Matchim and his wife Donna. Al was appointed president of the Student Colporteur Club for the remaining months of this year.

Workers Retreat a Real Treat

Ministers, Colporteurs, Teachers and Workers of the Maritime Conference were richly blessed by an opportunity to come to Moncton, New Brunswick, January 10-13 for a spiritual retreat with Elder Charles J. Sohlmann and his devoted wife.

President Andersen arranged for such a retreat to unify all workers together in a common cause and aim in the Maritimes.

Elder Charles Sohlmann (a close friend of Emilio Knechtle) came to us from New York where he ministers to a Hungarian Adventist Church. He also has a weekly radio broadcast, and has been God's earnest helper in the salvation of many souls for Christ.

We were fortunate to have Elder Sohlmann bring to us many refreshing points which we as Christians need to keep alive in our minds. He emphasized that we keep ourselves spiritually awake and not to forget the revival within our own church. With this alertness of heart we will be more instrumental in effective evangelization of those who seek to know Jesus Christ, for they will see Him in us and desire to have Christ live in their own lives as well.

125th Anniversary of the "Review and Herald"

This year marks the 125th anniversary of the church paper, The Advent Review and Sabbath Herald. To commemorate the anniversary a gold seal has been produced which is being used on REVIEW and publishing house correspondence. Congratulatory messages have been received from many world figures, including the following from U.S. President Gerald Ford:

"For one hundred and twenty-five years, the Review and Herald has faithfully served the members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in America. It is a great pleasure for me to pay tribute to all those who have had a part in its successful publication and to commend those who continue to build on its tradition in our time.

"Its many interesting articles have carried the message of compassion and Christian brotherhood far and wide across our own country, and indeed throughout the world.

"I welcome this opportunity to express my greetings to both its staff and readers."

The Review and Herald was first published in Paris, Maine in November, 1850. This was 11 years before the first local conference was organized — Michigan — and 13 years before the General Conference was organized.

In the first number the editor, James White, wrote: "TO OUR READERS: The Review and Herald is designed to be strictly confined to those important truths that belong to the present time. We hope to be able to send you this enlarged size of the paper quite often, containing a simple and clear exposition of those great and sanctifying truths embraced in the message of the third angel [embodying the Sabbath in the last day setting]." The purpose of the paper, as its name suggests, was to review the Advent experience of 1843-1844 and to herald the Sabbath doctrine. Throughout its 125-year life the Review and Herald has endeavored to unify the Advent family by its presentations on doctrine and by its news of the activities of the church in all parts of the world. It is the church's one unbroken record of all notable events throughout Seventh-day Adventist history.

In its early years the Review contained eight pages, about 10 x 14 inches in size. In the later years of the 19th century the page size was much larger and the average total number of pages per issue slowly increased to about 24. By 1965 the issues usually were either 24 or 32 pages.

Early circulation of the magazine was 1,000 or 2,000 copies. Present circulation of the weekly edition in English is more than 100,000 copies.

The magazine now appears in six editions — weekly in English; monthly in English; monthly in English with four pages especially for the Inter-American Division; monthly in Spanish for South America, published in Buenos Aires, Argentina; monthly in Spanish for the Inter-American Division, published at the Pacific Press in Mountain View, California; and monthly in Spanish for North America, published at the Pacific Press. Study is being given to publication in other languages.

In its 125 years the Review has had only nine editors — James White, Uriah Smith, J. N. Andrews, A. T. Jones, W. W. Prescott, W. A. Spicer, F. M. Wilcox, F. D. Nichol, and Kenneth H. Wood.

The Review originally published the proceedings of the General Conference Sessions, which at first were held annually. Later separate General Conference Bulletins were issued to cover the sessions. But in 1905 and from 1926 until the present the Review has served as the official minutes for the General Conference Session, the special issues being supplied to all subscribers free. This year the Review and Herald will publish the daily Bulletins in Vienna, Austria, for distribution among delegates, and then will publish them in Washington, D.C. for regular subscribers. Church members who wish to receive the General Conference Bulletins may do so by subscribing now to the weekly Review and Herald. The regular annual subscription price is $12.95. Orders may be placed through the Adventist Book Centers on the perpetual plan for $10.50.

New Ottawa Church Opens

By EITHENE AMOS
Church Communications Secretary

Elder W. E. Kuester commended Mrs. N. Atkins and Mrs. M. Horricks (in uniform) Community Services Director, for the strong program they direct in the Ottawa Church and community.

What started as a Centennial Project nine years ago was brought to completion Saturday January 25th with the official opening of the new Seventh-day Adventist Church in Ottawa. Purchase of the land from the National Capital Commission was made from contributions made by congregations all across Canada as well as from the General Conference in Washington as a special Centennial Project in 1967.

Actual building of the church, however, did not commence till last year when the existing church on Spencer Street had become inadequate for the growing membership and it had become necessary to hold two services each Sabbath in order to accommodate them all.

At the opening ceremony on Saturday,

Mr. Lorrie Greenberg, Mayor of Ottawa, remarked about the pleasure he felt at seeing so many young people in the Church. He spoke of his continuing interest in fighting crime in the city of Ottawa, and said it was a "joint responsibility of the Church and Government agencies."

Other guests included Mr. Walter Baker, MP Grenville-Carleton and special guest speaker Pastor L. L. Bock of the General Conference of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

A sacred concert was given by the organ virtuoso Frank Iaccino later that evening in the new church.

Brother Malcolm Andrews, who joined the church about three years ago, was the contractor for the building. He has had many years of experience in construction and directed the work which saved the church many thousands of dollars. The church members helped to build the church. Men, women, youth, and even children helped with the building of this church. This beautiful church is truly a work of love.

The exterior of the building will be completed in detail when winter is over. The inside is beautiful and the design is worshipful.

The church has provisions for children's divisions and storage for visual aids.

The membership and attendance of the church is growing fast. The church will soon be filled. We praise God for His blessings.

Special Day for Senior and Shut-in Members of Kingsview Village Church

The Sabbath School department honoured the senior and shut-in members of the Kingsview Village Church recently.

Many members, some of whom are still in active service in the church, had served for many years in various positions. Miss Strawbridge, eighty-nine years of age, gave an encouraging testimony of forty-five years of service for God. This was a wonderful example for the youth of the kind of service as a pattern for their lives.

Because the theme of the program was of the future as well as the past, the earliteen division played an active part in welcoming the senior members and shut-ins on that day. They were responsible for pinning on the corsages of baby pink rose buds on the dresses and lapels of the visitors. It is hoped that these young people will in their turn, be the recipients of such honour after many years of faithful service.

Special music was provided by the Harvilite Quartet, a contribution which Front: Mrs. S. Bane, Mrs. A. Heuer, Mrs. N. Selivanoff, Mrs. L. Farenick, Miss I. Agar, Miss M. Noble, Mrs. J. Bradler, Miss A. Strawbridge, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. H. Collins, Mrs. Ford. Back Row: Barbara Payton, Pastor and Mrs. J. Donesky.

further enhanced the enjoyment of the day.

Miss Noble, one of the members present, has since been laid to rest. We are happy that we had the opportunity to honour her before her death.

Our shut-ins have not been neglected after that day. The church under Pastor D. J. Donesky's direction, has initiated a visitation program with taped messages and the various church services of the church for these circumstantial absentees.

This, together with the plans of the Sabbath School to repeat the Senior and Shut-in Day at least once a year, should make them feel that they are still a part of the Sabbath School and church.

Branson Hospital Slimming Club

Mrs. Sokol and Miss Gaffud providing concrete evidence of food value requirements and possibilities.

Dr. Murray Davidson on Branson Hospital stage, conducting the question and answer period following the topic he presented — "Diseases Related to Obesity".

A good section of the audience attentive to lecture presentation in auditorium of Branson Hospital.

During 1974, the Dietary Department conducted various Community Nutritional Courses. The one in particular, which above any other, we would mention at this time, is that of Weight Reduction — which we named the "Branson Hospital Slimming Club". Since Obesity is labelled as Health Enemy No. 1, both in the U.S.A. and Canada, because it is the forerunner of other serious illnesses, the teaching project of dealing specifically with this health problem, would promote a means of practising "Preventive Medicine", for those in any community.

We have found, by the conducting of this program — for 12 weeks duration — that it proved to be very necessary, helpful and well received. We teach the nutritional value of the diet, the need of suitable exercise, the caloric food values as is required for weight reduction, and also curbing the health hazards of obesity.

Topics varied, dealing with such subjects as:

1. Obesity, a Health Hazard
2. Diseases that Relate to Obesity
3. Your Child and Weight Control
4. Developing Good Eating Habits
5. Energy Out-put and Your Caloric Intake
6. Why Not a Crash Diet?
7. Drugs vs. the Reducing Diet
8. The Psychological Aspect of Obesity
9. Balanced Nutrition Essentials
10. Dieting and Caloric Counting
11. Importance of Breakfast and Planned Meals
12. The Process of Digestion and Metabolism

At several meetings we were pleased to have Doctors of our Staff speak on very pertinent topics relating to Obesity and Health. These were well received and appreciated. Usually a lively question and answer period followed each lecture. Films and Nutritional Lectures as well as Exercises are an important part of the course. Menu planning with calorie control is taught at each meeting, which makes the course practical and educational.

The attending audience was a mixed multitude of various national backgrounds, yet coping with similar problems and desirous of obtaining better health.

Among the group were housewives, mothers, social workers, nurses, dietitians, as well as students, and retired citizens.

The Dietitians assisted, by their directing group discussions and providing guidance in personal calorie meal planning, as a motivating factor to the Club members.

We ended up with 250 enthusiastic members, who declared it to be a successful effort, and each person received a membership card for 1975. This program was conducted as an experiment, in order to evaluate its level of acceptance by those attending, and also the possibility of this answering to a prevailing need.

With the use of food Models, Miss Gaffud (R.P.Dt.) explicitly demonstrated food portions as relating to calories. Mrs. Sokol demonstrated the preparation of a variety and suitable food combinations, tasty nutritional "finger-bit" foods, to meet nutritional requirements and at the same time fulfill caloric requirements.

We are thoroughly convinced that the community around us is ready and waiting for our assistance, our health living principles, our concern, and our enthusiasm, as we provide the "Know How", and the motivation to cope with acquired health hazards, so as to build healthier bodies, and happier minds.

The community projects that have been conducted are not part of Dietary Services — but because of the interest by the Community and willingness of Staff members, it has been possible to organize the plans so as to provide these courses.

We have so many requests for 1975 we feel it is imperative once again to launch another Hospital Community Service, which may become a continuous service.

We have invited Dr. K. Richards to join our Group Committee and would also invite the professional assistance of Doctors who have so graciously contributed in times past.

The over-all interest in this phase of Health Education is gaining momentum — as the Department of Health, University of Toronto, C.B.C.-T.V. and Radio have become involved and equally, are enthusiastically participating in disseminating information to the public, with the intent to alert and provide facts to educate and promote better health.

Ontario Chapter of Andrews University Alumni Elects New Officers at Kingsway

The Andrews University Ontario Alumni Chapter voted William Sowers, '38, to succeed Philip Moores as chapter president at a banquet at Kingsway College late last year.

University President Richard Hammill praised Moores for his years of service as chapter president and awarded him a centennial medallion. For others present, Hammill narrated a slide show about Andrews describing its growth, activities, and centennial events of the past year.

The other new officers of the Ontario alumni chapter are Arnold White, '61, vice-president; Stan Blabey, '64, secretary-treasurer; and Earl West, '72, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Horace Shaw, executive secretary of the AU Alumni Association, welcomed the new officers and met with them following the banquet as they laid plans for next year's chapter activities.

They urge all alumni in the Ontario conference to represent their alma mater by participating in chapter activities and reporting address changes and personal news.

Dr. Shaw says that the new officers see in Romans 9:28 a hint that AU's second century might be its shortest: "A short work will the Lord do in the earth, and cut it short in righteousness."

Officers elected for Ontario Alumni Chapter of AU.

North Bay Evangelism

By G. SMEDLEY, District Pastor

Happiness shows on the faces of Mitch Matton and Mark Pitt following their baptism. Pastors Gordon Smedley and Frank McMiller are sharing their joy.

Dr. Hilda Rainda instructs attentive listeners at a Nutrition School in North Bay.

An experimental new feature of this Nutrition program was that following the lecture and demonstration, all who attended entered into making the item of food for themselves, and they enjoyed that very much, both the men as well as the ladies. This served to overcome the problem of getting folks to make their first try at some cookery which had not been familiar to them. The results were termed very successful.

Kananaskis winter camping country.

Would you believe 28°F below zero? And living under open plastic and nylon shelters? This is winter camping at its best — or worst, depending on one's point of view.

The idea behind winter camping is to have fun and to teach survival skills. I'm not thoroughly convinced about the fun, but I know one thing: a person certainly has his mind set on survival, especially when it is 28° below and the wind whistles down the valley.

A group of the Calgary Pathfinders and friends, encouraged and accompanied by leader Norman McMurray, decided that winter camping was the thing to get involved in. Perhaps they just needed to get out into the fresh, cold air, or else earn another MV honour, or perhaps they needed a little extra challenge in life. The weekend of February 7-9 found a dozen folks camping in the South Kananaskis area of the Rockies. They survived. As one member said, "This certainly shows what the Bible meant when it said, 'Pray that your flight be not in the winter time.'" That's right. However, should their "flight be in the winter time," a dozen people will be better able to cope with it.

Why not try wilderness, winter, or survival camping? It might come in handy.

Having fun. Pathfinders Doug Garner, Brian Munson, and Devon Graham.

Need More Blessings?

(A Question for SDA Youth Today)

What are your needs? More money? Friends? Understanding and love? Someone who cares? To advance your education? To know what to do in the future?

There are certain basic things that everyone needs to receive, and God wants to give us what we need — not just what we deserve, but what we actually need. He says, "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you: for everyone that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened." Matt. 7:7, 8.

We pray the Lord's prayer, asking that our basic needs be taken care of by our heavenly Father: "Give us this day our daily bread . . . forgive us our debts . . . lead us not into temptation . . . deliver us from evil." Matt. 6:11-13. Sometimes, we are not so sure that we have received these blessings. Perhaps we need to look a little further into the Scriptures.

"Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give." Matt. 10:8. Then we find the words of our Lord who said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." Acts 20:35.

There appears to be a basic principle involved: to get, one must give. To receive blessings, a person must be a blessing.

To have friends; be friendly. To receive love; give it. To receive help; give help. This is what Christianity is all about: being a blessing to others and being blessed in turn.

Nature illustrates the "be-a-blessing-and-be-blessed" aspect of life. We know that all good things come from God. We know also that good things don't remain good if they are not put to good use. In Christ's own country there are two seas — the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea. What a contrast! Populous towns, luxurious gardens, and productive fields surround the living, sparkling, fish-filled waters of Galilee. They say that the Dead Sea is good for floating in. I hope that that is true even if it doesn't take much talent and ability to float around, because the sea is dead — no fish, no towns, no orchards — and good for nothing else.

What causes the difference? Galilee gets water and then gives it to the Jordan Valley. The Dead Sea receives only and does not let its blessing flow on to other areas. The Lord would have His Spirit fill lives today and flow on out to those around in living, sparkling testimony of His goodness. Some would retain the blessings for themselves and end up deader than the Dead Sea. What a tragedy!

Today there are still Josephs, Esthers, Isaiahs and Daniels numbered amongst us. There are still leaders amongst our youth who are contributing to the church and its development as did James White, John Loughborough and J. N. Andrews when they were in their youth. They gave their time, their money, their talents, themselves to the cause of God.

This is General Conference Year. The opportunity comes again for us all, youth and older members as well, to join in a practical plan of giving to advance the program of evangelizing Canada today. The plan is simply this:

THE ADVENTURES IN FAITH offering is scheduled for April 26, 1975. It consists of one week's salary being set aside in special offering to give a determined, forward thrust to finish the task before us. By far the greatest portion is returned to the local conference to assist in local projects — evangelization, witnessing, education, etc.

This is the youth's opportunity to lay up treasure in heaven; opportunity to unite with all members in sacrificial giving; opportunity to receive blessings by being a blessing.

My Bible tells me, "According to your faith be it unto you." Matt. 9:29. ADVENTURE IN FAITH, APRIL 26, 1975. May God bless you.

Foothills Camp Report

It has been a busy year for the camp. It has served the Conference well. Throughout the winter months many have come to study, to seek inspiration, to relax, to hold workshops and to work. Today is the day to talk about the work.

In preparation for the on-coming summer camping program starting with Camp Meeting, June 20-28, a number of Workbees have been organized to complete projects underway and to provide some additional facilities which are needed. The first workbee was held on February 16 with over twenty volunteers in attendance. Most of the effort was directed toward completing work in the lodge.

Additional Workbees are scheduled to complete specific projects for the dates of March 30, April 27, and May 11 and 25. Carpenters will be especially welcomed and all who may be able to attend and lend a helping hand will be sincerely appreciated.

We wish to express our thanks for all who have helped in the past. We look forward to working with you on future Workbees. We are, above all, anticipating a wonderful fellowship and spiritual blessing with all of our members at Camp Meeting.

The younger set cleans out the barn — Darl Graham, Debbie Scott, Angie Lovett.

We might survive without cooks but never without dishwashers — Bev. Penner and Mrs. Patzer.

Brother Remfert measures up to the job.

MV/Pathfinder Leaders' Training Course

Being a leader today is somewhat of a challenge, especially if it involves working with the children and youth of the church. To harness and direct the enthusiasm, courage, ambition and strength of the church's future leaders demands time, talent, and training. Young men and women (and a few that are not so young) devote their time, sharpen their talents, and enroll in training courses.

About 35 were in attendance at the course presented at the Alberta Conference Foothills Camp, Jan. 31-Feb. 2, 1975. Twenty-two participants received either the MV or Pathfinder Leadercraft Certificate.

The Friday evening program commenced with a "song service with a meaning" as Mrs. Carol Nicks, Lacombe Elementary school teacher demonstrated techniques in teaching songs and choruses. Elder De Haven and his ukelele were also present. M. Graham presented thoughts on leadership and led out in discussion on characteristics and qualities of a leader.

The Sabbath School was conducted on the Youth Sabbath School Program plan as outlined in the MV Handbook. The theme of the worship hour was "Effective Witnessing."

The Sabbath afternoon program included a nature hike during which about 15 brave souls "braved" the snow and icy winds. Elder De Haven led out in discussion of the Pathfinder program for those chiefly interested in this aspect of youth work while M. Graham discussed the MV programs with the remainder of the group.

After supper, group games were played. Then followed Pathfinder drill and marching with drill sergeant Bill Wigley in command — and he really shaped them up. A volley ball game rounded out the evening's activities.

Sunday morning wasn't nearly long enough. An outstanding display of interesting and inexpensive arts and crafts was presented by two of the ladies who led out in the Innisfree community Bible Story Hours and Pathfinder Club, namely, Mrs. A. Bancarz and Mrs. L. Markowsky. The program was rounded off by Al Munson's presentation on wilderness living and survival. Mr. Munson, principal of the Calgary SDA School demonstrated survival techniques and equipment which he has developed from years of experience in camping.

Calgary Fascinating Womanhood Seminar

By ETHEL J. BEFUS

It all started about a year ago when someone from the CBC saw a newspaper advertisement for a course entitled Fascinating Womanhood being offered by the Health Education Center in Calgary. With 1975 being International Women's Year, plans were soon underway to make some of this material available to their viewers.

On the morning of February 3 fifty-five ladies (including three from B.C. and one from Montana) met in the newly renovated Hill Professional Building, 1214 Centre North in Calgary. These beautiful facilities were graciously supplied to us at no cost by Wayne Hill, vice-president of Hill Realty.

The three-day seminar was co-ordinated by Ann Gimbel and taught by Nancy Van Pelt, who did a tremendous job despite the presence of four men, TV cameras, the heat of floodlights and all. We felt we were privileged to receive from her wide experience, research and enthusiasm.

The entire three days were most rewarding and worthwhile but lest I be accused of being prejudiced (which I won't deny) I shall let others speak for me.

It was Sherrie's first time at class but she discovered there was much more to it than she had expected.

Ann Klaiber, a tall, charming lady, who had taken the course three times previously, was one of our hostesses. She feels she needs it about every two years as kind of a refresher and says that each time she gets a different perspective as to what things are important. She also feels that her marriage wouldn't have lasted long without this course. "It has affected all facets of my life. My relationships with people are stronger. I find I'm working harder to understand all people. It helped me in dealing with the children I taught . . . It really worked!"

Laurie and Jean thought it was just great and said they learned a lot as to how to relate to other people.

Mr. John Kasner, Producer of the CBC "Up Canada Show" discusses a point with Mrs. Nancy Van Pelt, Instructress of the Fascinating Womanhood course.

We now have in our church two lovely families (Knudsens and Richardsons) whose first contact with Adventists was through the FW class. Both Dianne and Ruth said they were prejudiced toward Adventists, although it seemed to be a rather nebulous thing that they couldn't quite define. FW was a means of reaching these folks who are a tremendous asset to our work.

Paul and Sonja Burgess are an outstanding young couple who recently joined the church. He is a welder by trade, having come from down East. This fall they will be moving to C.U.C. where he will begin the ministerial course. I thought it might be interesting to hear from the husband of one of our members so I called Paul. He says, "I think it's fantastic! I agree with the principle of helping women be women in the ways they can be and the way the Bible tells them they can be. I've always liked my wife's little notes and things like that . . . Men and women are very different and it makes it very difficult if we don't try to understand, try to look at ourselves and look for the answers instead of getting upset or mad or hurt." I gathered he was not in sympathy with the women liberationists. "This course has kind of turned it around and women can think for themselves instead of just accepting what people push on them."

T.V. cameras brought highlights of the course to cross-Canada viewers on CBS "Up Canada Show" February 18, 10 p.m.

Opening Services for New Addition to the Red Deer Church

Opening services on November 30, 1974 for a new addition to the Red Deer Church were attended by approximately 170 people.

The Sabbath School program included a brief history of the Red Deer Church given by Mrs. Earl Fitch and a group lesson study by Elder J. W. Wilson, President of the Alberta Conference. Elder

L. L. Reile, Canadian Union President delivered an inspiring sermon for the 11 o'clock service.

A fellowship dinner following church allowed many to stay for the afternoon baptismal services utilizing the new baptistry in which two young people, David Thir and Birdie Alexander, received the ordinance marking their entry into the church.

The new wing of the church includes an addition to the main sanctuary which increases the seating capacity by one third, a mother's room, pastor's study, baptistry, library and a youth room with a kitchenette.

What's In Your Clothes Closet? (Paperback)

By NEAL C. WILSON, Vice President, General Conference, North American Division

A perennial problem for many believers is the dress dilemma. When the Lord takes His saints to heaven, will they go sweeping through the gates of the New Jerusalem dressed in mini-skirts, wearing exaggerated coiffures, robed in jackets and trousers of many colours and gaudy combinations that bewilder the beholder and perched atop shoes of unusual styling?

Not that clothes are the important thing — even mod clothes — but doesn't a Christian have some principles that control his dress as well as his diet, his money management, his time, his social life, his business conduct, et cetera? What are these principles?

In this 96-page paperback book, Elder D. A. Delafield develops the fundamental guidelines in a disarming manner. This brings pleasant relief. Instead of hammering away on the subject and forcing the reader to a private view of the Bible and the Spirit of Prophecy, he presents "the truth as it is in Jesus" — in His lovely life and example. This is the standard — for women and for men.

Three chapters are especially interesting dealing with the historical phase of the dress question through the centuries, particularly in Christian times, not to forget the dress styles of the ancient Israelites and the Adventist dress picture a century ago. The chapter, "Ornaments, Jewelry, and the Wedding Ring," will bring help to many people. But don't expect that this book will lower any standards; it will elevate them. The author moves with grace and makes the dress subject attractive.

Every church member should have it, and pastors can go far toward securing help for their people if they will encourage them to purchase and read this attractive little volume, "What's In Your Clothes Closet?" Young people and young married couples, particularly, will find it helpful.

At the last Ontario Camp Meeting Brother Maitland remarked to Pastor Pearce, "I'll see you next year at Camp Meeting." STEEPLE — Charles Bruce Steeple was born on February 4, 1918 and passed away on September 28, 1974.

Brother Steeple's enthusiasm in the Seventh-day Adventist faith will certainly be missed by all who were acquainted with him as he was baptized in the Edmonton Ukrainian S.D.A. Church only on February 15, 1974. Sister Viola Nakoneshny (a member of the Edmonton South Church) can tell of the total consecration and change in Brother Steeple's life that took place after he accepted the Lord.

His total personality after, becoming an Adventist, witnessed of the Saviour's love to friends and strangers. He took every problem to the Lord in prayer.

Brother Steeple witnessed a miraculous healing in his life. It was after three doctors had examined him that one mentioned "it must be an act of God" as no trace of the rare blood disease could be found.

In a testimonial given by him Brother Steeple stated: "I personally know it was a miracle through my being born again and turning to the Lord. I study the Bible and other books for two or more hours each day. This is my promise to the Lord".

Because of her age and weakness Mabel had not been able to attend church for some time. Everytime she was visited she was thinking about the second coming of Jesus. She longed for the day when she would see her Saviour face to face.

Relatives, friends and church members gathered for the service at the W. C. Town Funeral Chapel and later around the graveside. We said "good bye for just a little while" knowing we will meet Mabel again soon in a place where pain suffering and death will be forever banished.

Our sympathy goes out to her two sisters Edna and Peggy who lovingly cared for her until the end, and to her brother Peter in Ottawa.

adventure in Faith

This means involvement in something so much larger than yourself that when it is accomplished,

you know that it was God who did it through you, not you alone.

By C. L. KLAM, Treasurer, Canadian Union Conference

Much has been said in the last few months about adventuring in faith. I believe everyone enjoys an adventure or a challenge. Every member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Canada is being challenged to step forward in an "Adventure in Faith".

Just in case there is a soul who has not up until now heard of this challenge, let me briefly tell you of the thrilling experience that may be yours. Around the world, every member of the church is being challenged to give an amount equal to one week's income between now and April 26, 1975. This will take the place of the usual "Million Dollar Offering", taken during General Conference Session year.

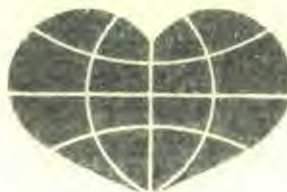

In order to give you an idea of what this could mean to Canada, let me give you a few figures. In 1974, the total tithe for Canada was $7,074,394.22. And, how we thank the Lord for His blessings and for the faithfulness of our members. This is an increase of 21% over the previous year. Based on this tithe returned to the Lord, it would indicate that our members in Canada earned $70,743,942.20, or a weekly amount of $1,360,460.00.

Would it not thrill your soul if you could do your share in making an offering of this kind possible? As it has been stated previously, 70% of this offering will be returned to Canada to be used for for some predetermined "Faith Project" in your conference. The other 30% will be used for "Faith Projects" in other Divisions of the world field.

Will you, with me, step forward in FAITH, adventuring for God?

*Around the world
workers of the church are turning back to God
one week's income*

*In Canada
according to tithe
one week's income
would be an offering of $1,360,460.*
