The Challenge of North American Missions

by John M. Howard,
Lay Activities and Sabbath School Secretary
Alberta Conference

Four years ago, Elder and Mrs. Murray Chapman had the burden to work among the Native Peoples of Alberta. At that time he was pastor of the Rocky Mountain House church. How could he gain the confidence of the Indian people in his area? This was the question that puzzled Murray for quite some time. After much prayer and thought he decided that the best effort that could be put forward to enable him to contact these people and tell them of the gospel story was through the Community Services Centre. The plan was to build a Community Service Centre in this little community of Rocky Mountain House. With God's help this has been started. Funds are still desperately needed. It's interesting to know that over the past twelve months, over two hundred and fifty Indian families have been helped through the Community Service Centre. The children that come with their parents are going to be told Bible stories in a Neighbourhood Bible Club.

As you can see from the accompanying pictures, the children seem very happy and at home. Brother and Sister Chapman themselves have six Indian children staying with them. These children are learning about the love of Jesus. Some have already been baptized. One is a Junior Deacon in the church this year. Certainly the doors have been opened.

The project to come next is a sewing school, which Mrs. Chapman will use to lead the parents of the children closer to the Saviour and also help them to make clothing for their families. Some who read this article may have sewing machines that are still in good working condition that you no longer use. The Chapmans could use as many sewing machines as you could send, or funds to purchase them. Also clothing in good condition. Mainly children's winter clothing. All of these items should be sent to: Pastor Murray Chapman, Box 280, Caroline, Alberta, T0M 0M0. Phone: 403-722-2104. He must be contacted directly.

The Alberta Conference has started a Native Peoples of Alberta Committee. Murray Chapman is the secretary of this committee, and some of the long range plans are for the building of a school which will enable the teenage Indians to have some sort of Vocational Training.

Another plan which will go into effect this year will be a Cree language school. The Alberta Government will provide the funds and some of the local church members have decided they would like to learn this language so that they can be a more effective witness to the Native Peoples in their area.

There is another possibility of witnessing proposed, and that is a Nutritional School. Many of the children in the Indian Community are undernourished. Because of this, the children are taken from their parents and placed in other homes. How much better it would be if our Community Service Centre ladies could train these mothers to prepare nutritious meals so that their families could stay together! We hope and trust that the Community Service Centre will always be an evangelistic instrument and that the needs of the community will be taken care of.

Many of the Community Service Centres are asking that a territory be assigned to them so that they can go out and witness in an area which is theirs alone. The Edmonton Central Community Services Centre for their evange-

Why Temperance? And Is It Relevant?

by Ernest H. J. Steed, Director
General Conference Temperance Department

Have you ever heard of a General Conference departmental leader who says his department is not relevant? is the retort of one who wonders about this vital subject. I am glad the answer to the above question does not depend upon me or any other leader in the Adventist church, for consensus of opinion is not God's approach in meeting current needs or problems.

Temperance is a Bible doctrine recognized not only by Adventists but by many other sincere Christians. Through inspired counsel to this church, Ellen G. White highlighted the significance of this aspect of truth for our crisis age. We have been called to be in the forefront of temperance reform.

Christianity Today, January 19, 1979, recalling that it is sixty years since prohibition was introduced, vigorously challenged the Christian church to a revival of temperance as a spiritual and practical ministry.

It is also worthy of note that in his first major doctrinal message, Pope John Paul II spoke on temperance, saying: "The temperate man is the one who is the ruler of himself, he in whom the passions do not take the upper hand over reason, will and, also, heart. We understand, therefore, how the virtue of temperance is indispensable to man's being fully human, to youth's being authentically youthful. The unhappy and demoralizing sight of an alcoholic or a drug addict makes us understand clearly that 'to be human' means, before anything else, to respect one's own dignity, namely, to guide oneself through the virtue of temperance. To dominate oneself, one's own passions and sensuality, does not mean at all to become insensitive or indifferent. The temperance of which we speak is a Christian virtue, which we learn from the teaching and the example of Jesus and not from the so-called 'stoical' morality."

But some Adventists feel the word temperance is out of date, just like some other Christians thought of the word Sabbath. I am glad such are in the minority. Because this Biblical word used so extensively in the Spirit of Prophecy writings has indeed a timely significance and is being accepted more and more by the public. Most translators of new Bible translations print the word as self-control. The word temp as in temperance and temple means time, division, or separation. Time is a separation of the past and the future. So temperance is the assurance of a separation in man between good and evil, an act of the Holy Spirit restoring control to man. (Galatians 5:23)

Temple likewise was a place of separation between good and evil. No wonder Paul says "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers; for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? and what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? and what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God: as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you." (2 Cor. 6:14-17)

The words sanctify and sanctuary stand in a similar relationship. Sanctify means to set apart or separate unto God, and the sanctuary was the place of separation. Sanctus means holy, an unmingled state. And we are called to recognize the "beauty of holiness". (Ps. 29:2)

Man became entangled with evil by accepting the enemy's concept of good and evil as superior to the absolute good. This has brought intemperance or the loss of control, with false cravings and desires gaining the ascendancy, bringing destruction to body, mind, and spirit.

"Intemperance lies at the foundation of all the evil in our world," said E. G. White Temperance p. 165. Likewise, "Temperance alone is the foundation of all the graces that come from God, the foundation of all victories to be gained". Temperance p. 201

The intemperance commencing in Eden and of antedeluvian times and the days of Sodom and Gomorrah is being maximized today, as prophesied by our Lord. At just such a time, God has raised up a people who will rebuke such evil deeds and who will present the good news of deliverance through Jesus Christ. "The result of the eating of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil is manifest in every man's experience. There is in his nature a bent to evil, a force which, unaided, he cannot resist. To withstand this force, to attain that ideal which in his inmost soul he accepts as alone worthy, he can find help in but one power. That power is Christ. Cooperation with that power is man's greatest need." Education p. 29

To recognize God above all else is the primacy of the Three Angels' Messages—"Fear God and give glory to Him". Revelation 14:7 Paul told the Corinthians, "Whithersoever ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God". I Cor. 10:31

Reiterating this principle, the Lord graciously gave to E. G. White for us the law of temperance: "The law of temperance must control the life of every Christian. God is to be in all our thoughts; His glory is ever to be kept in view. We must break away from every influence that would captivate our thoughts and lead us from God. We are under sacred obligations to God so to govern our bodies and rule our appetites and passions that they will not lead us away from purity and holiness, or take our minds from the work God requires us to do." Counsels on Health p. 42

Your General Conference Temperance Department, acting under authority of an Annual Council vote, is highlighting 1979 as Temperance Year to invite your commitment and response. The next article will outline the specific organization of temperance, established by inspiration, for each church in its witnessing to the community.

“Interest No. 1”

by G. D. Strunk, Director
Adventist Health Ministries

A few years ago a survey of adult education in the United States was conducted through the co-operation of the University of Chicago, The American Association for Adult Education and the YMCA School, at a cost of $25,000 and covering a period of two years. The results of this survey of the American adult indicated that the primary subject of interest for further education was that of HEALTH. The second area of interest was in acquiring more skill in human relations; how to get along with their fellowmen, gain promotions from their employers.

As a result of this survey the Dale Carnegie Institute was born and the very popular work, How To Win Friends and Influence People. Hundreds and thousands of people have attended the Dale Carnegie courses. People of every walk of life, income bracket, and cultural background have sought these courses for their improvement. And the demand for these courses has not been confined to this continent only, but has spanned the globe.

But this was an answer for interest number two. Where is the answer for interest number one? The public's primary interest was that of Health. Their formal education had apparently left this deficiency. Nearly everyone suffers in some way from pain, or lack of energy, or from some lingering illness that is constantly a nuisance to them. Diseases plague our country. Communicable diseases infiltrate our schools and communities. Cancer continues to increase.

And who hasn't had the flu or common cold. They are more than a nuisance as they rob people of needed time from their work, of being a source of help and blessing to their families and friends, and cause them to lose precious advantages. And the metabolic diseases take their toll; those diseases that are thought to be quite natural with time and age — liver, kidney, heart, lung and vessel diseases. Is it any wonder that the American public expressed as their primary interest for further education the subject of Health?

Americans are still concerned. Even though this survey was conducted a few years ago, and scientific knowledge has advanced markedly, American's desire for improved health has increased with time. Even the late President Kennedy a few short years ago expressed his great concern for the physical fitness of the citizens of his country, and it is no wonder when nearly 50% of America's young men fail their pre-induction physicals for military service.

Health food stores that have sprung up in nearly every town of any size are more than just a fad. They are an attempt to meet a demanding need being registered by the people. Millions of dollars are spent every year for drugs in an attempt to gain relief from pain, fatigue, or nervous conditions. Millions of dollars are spent annually for medical advice; just advice. "Tell me how to get well, and stay well." Millions of dollars are spent annually for surgery completely apart from repair of accidents. Millions of dollars are spent annually for research in heart disease, cancer, muscular dystrophy, tuberculosis, and a whole host of new diseases the names of which I can't even pronounce. Is it any wonder that the primary interest expressed by people today is Health? Where? Where in all the world is the answer to this urgent question?

Seventh-day Adventists have the answer! And it is based upon the principle found in Deut. 7:12-15. These instructions were written not for our amusement but for our learning and for our application in the 20th century "upon whom the ends of the world are come". "Wherefore it shall come to pass, if", and that "if" is a mighty big word that needs to be underlined several times and circled. "If ye hearken to these judgments," (the instruction that the Lord gave to preserve His people) "If ye hearken to these judgments, and keep and do them, that the Lord thy God shall keep unto thee the covenant and the mercy which He swore unto thy fathers."

Notice the intervention of His mercy. The fulfillment of this passage involves more than the pure cause-and-effect, biological relationship that is bound to occur, but includes the Divine co-operation in mercy to sustain us in these days. He says if you will do this "He will love thee, and bless thee, and multiply thee: . . . Thou shalt be blessed above all people:" And verse 15, "And the Lord will take away from thee all sickness". These are not unattainable promises. They are recorded here for our claiming. But it is a co-operative effort. If we obey these judgments the result will be well beyond mathematical proportions. The Lord will co-operate in algebraic proportions to keep us free from the diseases that plague the country.

The rest of the world does not have the inspired magnification of this instruction. Listen to this language. Here is language that is ordinarily used to describe the great cosmic scenes of the conflict between Christ and Satan. Gigantic dimension is employed here but notice the subject. "Seventh-day Adventists are handling momentous truths." That word "momentous" is a big word. It has dimension. This is language used to describe nations in conflict and issues of universal significance. Seventh-day Adventists are handling momentous truths. Now what is the author talking about? "As a people we should make advancement proportionate to the light received. It is our duty to understand and respect the principles of health reform. On the subject of temperance we should be in advance of all other people." Momentous truths! What a fantastic blessing rests within our power to bring to a suffering world!

It Is Written Easter Special Features Harry Anderson

by Suzanne Hula, Assistant, Public Relations Department, It Is Written

Watch for a special treat on your television screen this Easter as the It Is Written telecast presents "The Brush of Harry Anderson". This new program, to be aired Sunday, April 15, illustrates the life of Jesus as seen through the works of one of America's foremost artists.

Since he began his art career in the 1930's, Harry Anderson's unique story illustrations have been published in many of the nation's top magazines — including Good Housekeeping, McCall's and Saturday Evening Post. He has also created full-page color advertisements for such clients as Cream of Wheat and Velveeta Cheese.

After Anderson accepted Christ and joined the Seventh-day Adventist Church, he dedicated his artistic talent to the Lord. Working with T. K. Martin, then art director at the Review & Herald Publishing Association, he pioneered an exciting new concept which has become his hallmark — that of painting Christ in contemporary settings.

This new concept attempts to portray an ever-present Christ we can identify with. One who's with us in our homes, in our offices, on the play-ground. Anderson's beautiful portraits of the Saviour have made him known and loved around the world.

Certainly one of the denomination's finest artists, Harry Anderson has created over 300 paintings on a free-lance basis for the Seventh-day Adventist Church since his baptism in 1943.

This It Is Written Easter special brings to your television screen a gallery of these unforgettable paintings. And you'll meet the humble Christian man who holds the brush as you visit his home and studio in a beautiful New England country setting.

Why does Harry love to paint his Lord? He explains, "If I can in some way present Jesus, our Example, to people who might see my pictures, and one of my pictures might help them in their daily lives, I feel I have done something worthwhile".

This is how Ruth Anderson, Harry's wife, sums up the character of her husband. She says, "You have to know Jesus before you can paint Jesus".

This Easter, as many people's thoughts turn to the risen Christ, it is our privilege to bring you this special program. See why millions have been attracted to Jesus by the inspiring paintings of Harry Anderson. And invite your family and friends to watch It Is Written's "The Brush of Harry Anderson" the weekend of April 15. Check your local TV Guide.

A Most Exciting Outreach

One year ago a very bold and exciting plan was launched in the North American Division — that of sending Ministry Magazine to 250,000 clergy of all faiths! The journal has for the past 36 years been dedicated to our own Adventist ministry, but in our zeal to finish God's work by the unusual and faith-filled means at our disposal, our leaders conceived of reaching out to the hundreds of thousands of clergy in North America by sending them a complimentary subscription to Ministry on an every-other-issue basis.

And what happens when a project of such dimensions is undertaken? Exciting, dramatic things! Here are a few:

1. On December 30, 1978 Pastor and Mrs. David Gran of Wisconsin were baptized and became members of the La-Crosse church. Gran was pastor of the Congregational Christian church nearby and was involved in a satisfying, successful ministry in that church. Eleven months before, however, Ministry Magazine began coming to his home as part of the P.R.E.A.C.H. project. (Project for Reaching Every Active Clergyman at Home) He eagerly read the articles and by September, after reading five issues, he wrote this letter to the editors:

"...the articles have 'pricked' my conscience, and have forced me to reassess my pastoral ministry. Please... put me in touch with someone who can help me as I go through this process."

Ministry served to awaken conviction as the Holy Spirit revived the latent experiences of a past series of studies during which they had learned the great truths of this message, but had turned aside from accepting them. Even though time had gone by, God had not forgotten them.

2. Over 4,300 letters from clergy have been received. Most of them praise the magazine. Nearly 100 are so appreciative that they have sent the $10.95 subscription price, requesting to become full subscribers. Other letters from earnest seekers present Scripture to us, requesting our answer and Bible texts. Bible studies by mail, if you please! We have heard from monks, priests and clergy from practically all Protestant faiths on many different subjects.

3. Professional Growth Seminars are now in progress where both Adventists and non-Adventists fellowship in a one-day meeting. Recently in Orlando, Florida, 193 persons attended, 115 of whom were non-S.D.A. clergy! By June, 33 such seminars will have been held, and 40 more are planned for next Fall and the early months of 1980.

We are living in exciting times! God is finishing His great work. Ellen White foresaw that "In the closing proclamation of the gospel, . . . special work is to be done for classes of people hitherto neglected. . . ." Acts of the Apostles p. 381. Perhaps the P.R.E.A.C.H. project is filling such a need. Influential thought leaders are to be reached before Jesus comes, many of whom will have the ability to lead whole congregations of sincere Christians into God's special truth for this time.

Canadians Have Answered The Call Says Dr. Gus Hoehn

From Los Angeles your jet soars over the blue Pacific before it turns east to cross the Atlantic. Below the equator in Africa it circles the Indian Ocean and the Spice Island of Zanzibar before it lands. Who would you expect to recognize here half way round the world amidst a sea of black smiling faces? Would you expect to see a Canadian? We did, because our son Jack met us in the airport at Blantyre, Malawi.

We left some instruments at Dr. David Neumann's house and his wife Myra (Kelln) was the second Canadian. At famous old Malamulo Hospital we shared glasses of passion fruit juice with their director of nursing education, Bethel Wareham, the third Canadian, so far from sunny Alberta.

Beside a tree laden with papayas at the Mission Compound in Blantyre a smiling Oma Radford, now Dr. Lowell Kattenhorn's wife, hurried to greet us.

The red earth of Malawi is rich and fertile. We drove 400 miles on a smooth highway lined by miles and miles of tea estates, clusters of banana groves, fields of macadamian nut trees, thousands of hectares of corn fields. It is all hand cultivated. It looked like one big back-ache to me. We crossed the border into Zambia and stopped at Jack's pride and joy, Mwami Adventist Hospital.

Here we found nurse Ruth Rowe driving her cute blue mini truck and helping revive this mission outpost. Roger Gimbel, a student missionary from Calgary was commissioned to fix the badly leaking roof and plant the cashew and avocado trees and keep the monkey out of mischief in his spare time.

Later we met Gloria Tym, the seventh Canadian of our trip. Her husband, Dr. Ken Pearson, is the dentist at the Adventist Clinic.

Into all the world!! How much further could you get from the wheat fields of Saskatchewan than the tropical forests on the Zambia plateau? Canada has shared her sons and daughters with the lands bathed by the warm, mysterious Indian Ocean.

Since returning I talked to John Capcara who is going to Zambia under the Canadian Government agricultural aid program.

Canadians have heard the call and have answered.

Moose Jaw

Promotes "No Smoking"

1979 is noted as Temperance Year for the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The emphasis on healthful living was promoted in Moose Jaw recently by Pastor Rudy James who held a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking in conjunction with the city's "Weedless Wednesday". Fourteen of the seventeen participants were thankful for the victory over tobacco. Several surrendered their packs of cigarettes and Pastor James also received a cheque in appreciation for the knowledge of a better way of life.

A Good Year for Tugaské

With the addition of two new families, one with school-age children, the Tugaské church began renovating a building for a church school. School opened with four students taught by Miss Sherri Gimbel, however the school's future seems assured because there are several pre-school age children.

Tugaské members believe in missionary magazines — they more than doubled their goal for Signs subscriptions and provided Listen for all the area's school libraries. Not only did the Tugaské members reach their Ingathering goal they tripled the amount specified for their church.

As a follow-up to the twenty-first V.B.S. two Neighborhood Bible Clubs were conducted with forty-five children happy to attend.

De Vone Dale Foulston, infant son of Dennis and Carol Foulston, was dedicated to the Lord by Pastor Rudy James.

Fredericton Five-Day Plan Fifty Quit in Five Days

In connection with National Education Week on Smoking, January 21-27, Pastors Cameron Johnston and Ladd Dunfield conducted Five-Day Plans in the Fredericton area. The first Plan was conducted in the Student Union Building of the University of New Brunswick. Here thirty students attended each day from 3:30 to 5 o'clock. It was the first time Seventh-day Adventists were able to put the Plan on in the University setting. Pastors Johnston and Dunfield were assisted during the afternoon Plan by Miss Jane MacLeod of the University Health Department. On the last afternoon of the program 20 students were able to say they had Chosen Not to Smoke.

The evening session was held in the Centennial Building in the downtown section of the city. Here fifty folks attended faithfully. Once again the success rate was good, with thirty of the class taking a stand against their former habit. A number of the rest of the class had not smoked since the first night. Once again the two pastors were assisted, this time by Vernon Smitz of the New Brunswick Council on Smoking and Health.

On the last night of the Plan a follow-up program dealing with nutrition was announced. Thirty of the class signed up for these follow-up programs.

Ingathering Victory

A total of $2,649.02 was solicited by dedicated workers of the Dartmouth church during their recent Ingathering Campaign. In nine evenings they more than doubled the goal of $1,150.00.

The Lord blessed the solicitors with excellent weather, except for a couple of cold evenings. However, the workers returned from their labour each evening warm and happy from the many wonderful contacts they had made.

Each Saturday evening, on their return, a hot meal was provided for the doorbell ringers and car drivers at the home of Sister Tina Bullock.

On December 9 a victory social was held in the Salvation Army building.

Ribbons were presented to the solicitors, car drivers, and others who helped to make the campaign a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Perk Have Golden Wedding

On December 19, 1978, friends and relatives of Brother and Sister Peter Perk assembled at the Silver Creek Community Hall to honour them on their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

The North Okanagan band played the "Wedding March" as the couple entered the hall. A program was arranged consisting of sacred and secular music, poems, and readings.

The day was especially blessed in that their son John and his wife and daughter were present from Oshawa. It was also the birthday of John's daughter, Melinda.

Congratulatory letters were read from the Prime Minister of Canada, and from Mr. Len Bawtree, the local M.L.A.

We wish for the Perks many more years of happiness and health.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Perk happily celebrate 50 years of marriage.

lism outreach, had a Vacation Bible School. It was thrilling to see how many came! The Dorcas ladies also, under the leadership of Sister Anne Krpalek, the pastor's wife, started giving Bible studies, not only to those that came for clothing, but to other interests that they have found in their territories. May we never forget that Jesus said, "inasmuch" as we give a cup of water to the thirsty "Ye have done it unto Me". Let us try to support our Community Services Centres and let us make them an outreach for the Lord. Not only for this life but for the results that we will see only in Eternity.

Listen Helps Change Lives

Turned-around lives pull at heart-strings. Here's the story of a young boy who believes Listen can help his friends:

"I have looked at a lot of your magazines and I think that they are great; they really help change people a lot.

"I used to be into a lot of drugs and do a lot of stupid things, but one day I got caught! I felt awful. And I really got it from my mother and father. But now I have stopped; I haven't been into any trouble for 3 years now. I am 13, so I did insane things when I was only 10! Wow, what a way to go!

"You know something. I still have a lot of friends who do get into a lot of trouble still. Isn't that sad? I would subscribe to your magazine but I don't have much money. So would you kindly help my friends and I by sending me a few copies of your magazine?"

"They don't have to be new, it doesn't matter how old they are or how many you send me, but please help if you have the time. I just hope that you continue your magazine. It's great."

Do you have the time—and the money—to help this teen-ager help his friends? The Listen campaign extends through the end of March.

Check with your lay activities secretary or Adventist Book Centre for complete pricing information.

The new factory for Parkland Furniture at C.U.C. is to open officially in late August, 1979.

Mr. Harvey Jacobson, General Manager of Parkland Furniture, said the new factory will enclose 72,000 sq. ft. There is also 1,500 sq. ft. of lumber storage area under an extension of the roof.

"The primary purpose of the Parkland Furniture is to provide labour for the students at C.U.C.," says Jacobson. There are 65 students and 40 non-students employed at present.

Parkland Furniture is owned by Canadian Union College, but is operated as a private business. "C.U.C. does not subsidize the factory," said Mr. Cliff Patterson, Business Manager of C.U.C.

New Faces at Kingsway College

The Caos

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Cao come to us from Monterey Bay Academy, California. Mr. Cao is the Dean of Men and is greatly appreciated especially by the men in the dormitory. His quiet, dignified manner has won him many friends and we are happy he is a part of the administration of the College.

His wife, Ann has been a great blessing to the school family and has already spent many hours helping the Student Association in the several social functions held at the College. Teaching physical education to the girls at K.C. and being in charge of their intramural program is only one phase of Mrs. Cao's many talents. Besides being wife and mother of baby Carys, Ann Cao is a florist and an interior decorator.

The Caos graduated from Loma Linda University and we here at Kingsway are proud now that they are one of us.

The Petersens

Floyd Petersen with his wife, Eileen, and two daughters, Cindy and Sharlane, ages 10 and 6 have come all the way north to us from Loma Linda, California. After spending 7 years in Zambia, Africa, teaching science, the Petersens returned in 1976 and Mr. Petersen studied at Loma Linda University School of Health where he earned a Master of Public Health degree with emphasis in bio-statistics. On completion of his degree he was employed as a statistician with Survey Research Service at Loma Linda University where he worked on a number of research projects. He says one of the interesting projects he worked on was an investigation into some of the effects of smog on chromosomes.

The Petersens are not strangers to Canada. Though born in Wisconsin, U.S.A., Mr. Petersen moved to British Columbia when he was 17 and attended Canadian Union College, from 1963 to 1966. Eileen is a native of Saskatchewan and attended Canadian Union College, Oshawa Missionary College, and Branson Hospital School of Nursing where she graduated with the class of '64. Mr. Petersen teaches chemistry, physics and Bible and is waiting for snow. This is Mr. and Mrs. Petersen's first winter in ten years and the very first for Cindy and Sharlane.

We welcome them to the snow and the ice and the cold but also to the warmth and friendship of fellow students and teachers at Kingsway College.

The Rasmussens

Keith and Kathy Rasmussen come to us from Andrews University. Keith graduated with a Master's in Music last year. He teaches organ and also teaches piano to the beginners. Mr. Rasmussen is the accompanist for the Symphonic Choir and will be travelling with them on tour at spring break. College Park Church services are enhanced by having an organist of his calibre play each Sabbath.

Within the next few months Keith and Kathy plan to share their talents by visiting the churches in Ontario and helping with their music programs.

The Rasmussens are happy in their work here at the College and we wish them much of God's blessing as they continue to work for Him at Kingsway. The Royals

New faces on campus this year include Jim and Margaret Roy. Recently graduated from Andrews University with a Master's degree in Physical Education, Mr. Roy directs the Physical Education department here at Kingsway. The department has undergone a complete reorganization and the students appreciate the way the development of both body and soul is combined. Total use of each student's capabilities is the goal set by Mr. Roy. The intramural sports program is pervaded with a fantastic team spirit.

Plans for the future include expanding the department and adding a variety of classes including a touring gymnastic team.

Mr. Roy's wife, Margaret shares his heavy responsibilities. She takes an active part in school functions and is one sponsor in the social area of the Student Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy are an asset to Kingsway College campus.

Mr. Jones

Ormond Jones is a native of College

Heights, Alberta and received his education there through second year college. After three years at Southern Missionary College he graduated with a degree in music focusing on the bass trombone.

The Kingsway 45 member Concert Band is under the directorship of Mr. Jones who also heads up the beginners' and Cadet Bands at the College Park Elementary School. Approximately 25 private instrument lessons a week keep bachelor Jones very busy.

Spring tour plans in the making now include visits by the band to St. Louis Missouri, Union College, Lincoln, Nebraska and several academies throughout the mid-west.

Students in the band are becoming confident, proficient and accomplished musicians under the baton of Director Jones. (See pictures back page.)

Greetings From New Guinea

Up here in the highlands we have no seasons, no snow, no shopping (no shops to speak of) and very little if any of the glitter of the western world. As we minister to the needy people here, we long for Jesus' soon return to put an end to all the sickness, poverty and depravity.

I am so very thankful to so many of you dear people for your prayers, donations and your parcels of clothes, sheets, towels and medical supplies. I wish I could send pictures to you all of this beautiful country, its interesting people and of our very simple but neat hospital.

I wish I could share some of our lovely flowers with you folks who are submerged in several feet of snow in the north country.

Ernie spent several days flying with Pastor Gibbs, pilot and district director. They flew into areas more primitive than here where malaria, leprosy, parasites and tropical disease are rampant. Our dear missionaries suffer from many diseases as they visit these villages.

Heathenism still has a very strong hold on these people. Even after some education and contact with missionaries and the Gospel—many, many revert back to heathen practises.

I must say again we are most grateful for all the parcels we've received. Thank-you for the appeal in the MESSENGER. We received some bandages, but have still one pressing need and that is for baby clothes. We're trying to teach the new mothers to put clothes on their babies. We teach them to use soap and try to give each mother a small receiving blanket and a vest when they leave the hospital. We deliver about 30 babies each month so our supplies deplete very quickly.

Wishing you blessings in the new year,
Sincerely
The Raindas

Master's Program In Social Work?

The social work department at Andrews University is scouting for persons interested in its proposed master's program, according to Dr. Reger C. Smith, department chairman.

Andrews presently offers a bachelor's degree in social work which has been approved by the Council for Social Work Education, and plans call for the master's program to begin operation in the near future.

BOOK REVIEW

BASEBALL, POPCORN, APPLE PIE, & LIBERTY

by Roland R. Hegstad

Religious liberty may not come to mind as readily as some of the other elements of Americana, but it definitely plays a part in what makes this nation unique.

For many years the magazine Liberty has championed the cause of religious freedom and kept the vital issues before the attention of the nation's thought leaders. In BASEBALL, POPCORN, APPLE PIE, & LIBERTY the editor presents a cross-section of Liberty's content, representing the best articles of two decades. Church-state entanglements, freedom of the press, mail-order religions—all these and more are examined in carefully-documented style or with humor, as the need may be.

Elder Hegstad, an associate secretary of the Religious Liberty Department of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, and author of numerous books and articles, has been editor of Liberty since 1959. His work calls him before legislative bodies in Congress and across the United States.

In Canada Bible Society Distributes Eight Million

Last year for the first time since Bible Society work began in Canada in 1805 the Canadian Bible Society distributed over eight million Scriptures in 70 languages in Canada. Of the total distribution 242,581 were complete Bibles, and 534,854 New Testaments, the remainder being single books of the Bible and Scripture Selections. A highlight of the year was the distribution of 220,630 French New Testaments and a total of 1,543,448 Scriptures in French, mostly to Roman Catholics. The Canadian Bible Society now distributes more French Scriptures each year than any Bible Society in Europe or in French West Africa.
