Enabling Adventists Around the World to Clasp Hands

Let me admit it from the outset – I am biased toward the Adventist Review! After all, I am a staff member and my work and thinking about my work consume many of my waking hours (I get some of my best ideas for the magazine while blowing my hair dry in the morning). And while, unlike you, I am paid for reading the magazine week by week, I am positive that if I were to change jobs tomorrow, I would continue to read the Review faithfully. You see, I love my church and its people and I want to keep up with their thoughts and activities. What I read weekly gives me many reasons to be happy; things to think about and pray about; reasons to be amazed at the continued goodness of God; things to laugh about and cry about.

The Review allows me to be an armchair observer of and participant in the work of my church around the globe. One week I am whisked to Thailand where I share the trials and triumphs of a couple who are translating the Bible into the language of the Pwo Karen tribe. Another issue thrills me with the story of the miracles that enable a southern California physician to ship donated medicines to outposts around the world; he often receives just the medicines needed at the exact time they are requested.

The Review provides its readers the opportunity to have a say in how their church is run. The letters we receive each day are noted carefully, the opinions they express are greatly appreciated. Some letters are published, some are answered personally, many are sent to the General Conference official or committee that makes decisions in the areas the letter writers are concerned with.

Another way in which the Review enables readers to have a say in their church is by soliciting comments about certain problems or doctrines. For instance, the recent statement regarding "The Inspiration and Authority of the Ellen White Writings" (July 15) is a preliminary document to one that will be presented to the Annual Council in October. Those who prepared this statement want to incorporate reader suggestions into the final document. The many people who are interested in this topic would not know of the opportunity to make a contribution if they were not readers of the Review.

The Review tells me what the leaders of my church are thinking and doing. Even though I work next door to the General Conference, it is rare that I converse personally with the people elected to run my church. They are busy and I am busy and our paths do not cross. So, when I want to hear about the exciting things that are happening around the world as a result of the Thousand Days of Reaping, for example, I do not find it out firsthand any more than you do; I read the report sent to the Review. (By the way, General Conference President Neal Wilson has promised us an article on that very topic. He says wonderful things are happening around the world and I can hardly wait to know the specifics.)

Finally, and to me the most important, the Review brings me closer to God. Many times when I am proofreading an article, tears will come to my eyes as I read an experience that gives me a fresh insight into the character of God. The authors of the articles we publish prod me gently, inspire me, teach me. I am often aware that the Holy Spirit is working on my heart through the words of the people who write in the Review.

We all know that times are hard economically and all are faced with choices of how they are going to spend their shrinking currency. Yet, most of us have more discretionary income than we might imagine. When I compare the price of a Review subscription (less than $.10 a day) to the cost of a Time magazine subscription ($.13 a day), a daily newspaper subscription ($.35 a day), or a television that many of us think is necessary to keep us abreast of current events, I find the Review to be a genuine bargain. In fact, $36.75 a year ($32.95 for automatic renewal) for a weekly magazine is a much better bargain than the $22.85 I paid for 12 issues of the American Kennel Club Gazette so that I could keep up with another interest of mine – dogs.

Not only are times rough economically, they also are serious – we are on the brink of eternity. In such times Adventists need a means by which we can clasp hands, through which we can be inspired, informed, and encouraged. From my perspective, the Adventist Review admirably fills that roll.

Holyland Tour '82 – “Full Steam Ahead!”

About 12 weeks remain before the ARTS Holyland Tour departs Toronto International Airport on October 25 with a proposed group of 200 North Americans. The 10-day tour will be both spiritual and educational. Following this, ARTS will host a Brazilian group of 200 from South America on a similar tour. A good number of seats are yet available. Contact us as early as possible to be included in this outstanding adventure that promises to be even better than the year before.

A number of people have expressed concern about the political and military situation in the Middle East. Others have assumed tour plans, for this reason, have been cancelled. On the contrary, plans are all “Go” and the tour is steadily filling. We wish to emphasize that tourism, being one of Israel's major sources of income, is under constant and careful scrutiny. The government is extremely mindful of the safety and comfort of its tourists. We at ARTS are likewise committed to this. If by our judgement or notice from the Israeli government that conditions are seen to be unsafe or at all risky for travel in the Holyland, the trip will be cancelled and money refunded. Last year some were disappointed after cancelling out because of over-apprehension. At present, no difficulties are foreseen that would hinder the progress and safety of this tour.

What Pilgrims of Last Year's Holyland Tour are Saying:

“All your life long you'll never spend time or money and get so much for it as on a trip like this. A thrill beyond words to walk where Jesus walked! I would never trade this trip for anything. I had such a great time visiting the markets and rubbing shoulders with the people in Old Jerusalem and Egypt.” — Gordon Kaytor

“My most urgent suggestion to future travellers is, ‘Go now, when you're young, as you'll have much longer in life to enjoy the inspiration of it all.’ As a retired teacher, I wonder how I ever taught Bible before I went to Israel. Now the Bible is so real, it's like living in its pages. It would take a book to describe my impressions. It was rather an emotional and factual encounter with the times, places and peoples of this marvelous land, historically and in the present day setting.” — Violet Hall

Trenchard and Cotton Ordained at Alberta Camp Meeting

On Sabbath, July 3 at the Alberta Camp Meeting two men were ordained to the gospel ministry—Warren Charles Trenchard and Ian J. Cotton. At this very special service, the exhortation was given by R.H. Pierson and the two families were welcomed to the ministry by H.S. Larsen.

Warren Trenchard was born in St. John's, Newfoundland. Residing the major portion of his life in the United States, he received his education from Andrews University and his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago.

Although his ministry has been devoted mostly to the educational field, he has had experience in pastoral ministry as well.

Since 1975 he has served at Canadian Union College where he is chairman of the Humanities Division and Professor of Biblical Languages and Religion. Dr. and Mrs. Trenchard, nee Marilyn Beaumont, have three boys, Mark, David and Kevin.

Both Ian Cotton and his wife Averil were born in Hampshire, England. He studied as an engineer before marrying Averil Ward in 1966. Shortly thereafter they moved to Canada where they were baptized at Calgary, Alberta. Ian became a literature evangelist and continued in this work after their return to England. In 1980 Ian graduated from Newbold College with a degree in theology. Once again they emigrated to Canada and the Cottons have served at the Calgary Central Church and at Peoria-Smoky where he is now the pastor. Elder and Mrs. Cotton have two children, Lauralee and Adrian.

Littmans Join Staff at Union Office

The Littmans with Brent, Sharna and Darren.

Elmer Littman, his wife, Marlene, and three of their four children will be moving to Oshawa to take up duties in the Union Office. With the anticipated merger of the It Is Written (Canada) interests with that of ARTS and Destiny, there is much internal work to be accomplished. Elder Littman has been called to work in this capacity, and does so with a splendid background of pastoral service in British Columbia and Alberta. He has also served in the treasury of both Alberta and the Maritimes, and the Publishing Department of Alberta.

Sister Littman has been a church school teacher of some years' experience, although is not presently engaged in classroom activity.

The children are all pursuing educational programs, Raelene (who is to be married in August) at La Sierra, Sharna at Andrews, Darren has just graduated from technical school, and Brent will be attending Kingsway College.

It is a pleasure to welcome them to the duties and responsibilities that will be assigned within the structure of the Canadian Union.

60 Years Married!

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Liske

Fred Liske and Erika Neuman were married on January 12, 1922 in the bride's home at Morden with Elder O. Ziprick officiating. They farmed in Inglis, Manitoba until their retirement to Kelowna, in 1959.

Their union was blessed with 4 children. There are 11 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren.

On May 16, 60 years later, the ladies of the church hosted an open house and dinner in their honour. Among the many guests present, was Mrs. M. Heimers from Winnipeg, who had been the bridesmaid in 1922. Congratulations were received from the Queen and other dignitaries as well as one from the mayor of the city who is a long-time friend of the Liske's.

Both were deeply moved by the many expressions of congratulations and encouragement they received from their guests and are thankful for the blessing of the Lord.

Four Children Dedicated to the Lord

Two Boys Dedicated At Orchard City

Nathan John Doucette and Bradley Christopher Toijanen were dedicated to the Lord by Pastor Sven Behm, left, on a recent Sabbath morning at the Orchard City Church in Kelowna. Nathan is the son of Larry and Sandra Doucette, while Bradley is the younger son of Marco and Vaughny Toijanen, right. Both little boys were well behaved during the service, the first dedication to be performed by Pastor Behm.

Ninety-Fourth Birthday

Mrs. Myrtle Reiswig, widow of the late George Reiswig, has been a member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church for 76 years, and celebrated her 94th birthday. Congratulations!

On May 15, 1982 the Iron Bridge Seventh-day Adventist Church was dedicated. Filled to capacity, the afternoon ceremonies began at 3:30 p.m. with Elder Morgan, Ontario Conference President, giving the scripture reading and Mrs. Ruth Schaber presenting a historical review. Elder P. Lemon, Secretary of the Canadian Union and Editor of the Canadian Adventist Messenger, had the dedicatory sermon. Special music was provided by Mrs. Marlene Heintz. The act of dedication was led by Pastor Dennis Heintz, with Pastor Fred Irish, former pastor, giving the dedicatory prayer.

The congregation had the joy of seeing Jim Runkle from Wawa, Ontario baptized by Pastor Heintz.

Official Opening of St. John Church

May 16, 1982 was a high day for the congregation at the St. John, New Brunswick church as the members, many friends and well wishers attended the official opening of their beautiful church structure. Pictured are Mrs. Love Christiansen, Pastor Max Mercer, Charles Denton, City Councillor, and Frank Dey. Representing the Maritime Conference were Elmer Littman and Elder Lawton Lowe who delivered the sermon for the opening ceremony. The history of the church was presented by Herb Farris, long time member and elder of the Saint John Church. Following the service, refreshments were served in the church kitchen and fellowship hall.

Evangelism

Toronto East Churches Lead the Way in Baptisms

The Life Enrichment Evangelistic meetings held at the Toronto East Church were a great success. The meetings lasted for five weeks, April 24 to May 29, 1982 during which time men and women from all walks of life rose to the call of God. The series was sponsored by the five churches in the east end of Metro-Toronto: Scarborough, Agincourt, Ephesus, Kingston Road, with Toronto East as the host church.

The speaker was Pastor F. Maitland, who through his preaching and counselling has given comfort, inspiration and enlightenment to many.

Many hearing the message for the first time responded positively to God's truth. At the end of the meetings a total of eighty-five souls were baptized.

In order to accommodate the hundreds of people attending on weekends, a close-circuit television was installed.

We would like to say thanks to the other members and Bible workers who have worked hard to make the harvesting of souls a successful one - Pastor Henry and Dr. Cassimy of the Scarborough, Agincourt and Ephesus churches, Pastors Waugh and Lazarus of Toronto East and Kingston Road churches, Bible workers Sisters Waugh and Jones and Jerome Gregg.

Five Join Simcoe Church

On May 8, 1982, Pastor Laren Kurtz and Pastor Brian Juriansz had the joy of baptizing five new members into the Simcoe SDA Church. From left to right are Anura Fernando (whose mother was also baptized by Brian Juriansz), Pastor Brian Juriansz, Christine Tofan, Janice Bridges, Wally Tartaglia, Catherine Barrière and Pastor Laren Kurtz.

Surrey Baptism

Baptism Unites Family

On April 17 the Langley Church rejoiced with his family when Ken Chandra was baptized by Pastor Robert Bradley, making the whole family members of God's Remnant Church.

Age Does Not Deter Baptism

The fact that he is 86 years old did not deter George Michael from being baptized on May 15 in the Nipawin, Sask. SDA Church. It was the wish of his wife, who passed away in March, that George commit his life to God that they might meet again in the Kingdom. After studying with Pastor John Sabo, he took the step of public testimony along with Mrs. Olive Clarke, Mrs. Ann Liss and Linda Salls who were baptized as the result of contact with friends and relatives.

Blessings Return to Willing but Nervous Lay Person

The successful response of over 120 names from a mailing of "Signs" covering all of the North Vancouver area resulted in the local church members having to learn how to give Bible studies to meet this demand.

So, Irene Singer, willingly but with some fear and trepidation, went on visitations with one of the team members from Radiant Living Seminars.

As Irene learned how to give Bible studies the day finally came when she would have to present a study by herself. Her willingness and sincerity outweighed her nervousness but one question arose . . . on whom could she practice? It was suggested she try Ray, her husband of 14 years. Ray did not share Irene's beliefs; consequently it was felt he would be ideal for Irene's practice sessions.

With much prayer and sincerity Irene began the studies with her husband. On her first study, due to her nervousness, she concluded in 15 minutes. But as each week went by the Holy Spirit guided and directed. Irene became less timid and Ray became more interested. Soon Irene was no longer "practicing" and Ray was eagerly waiting for "his" Bible study, which had now advanced to about 2 hours in length. With many prayers on Ray's behalf, Pastor Brad Thorpe invited him to attend the evangelistic series in North Vancouver. Ray was captivated. He never missed a meeting. The Holy Spirit was really working in Ray's life and as a result he was baptized February 27, 1982.

Although Irene was an inexperienced lay person, she was willing to learn and to give Bible studies. As a result, she was blessed abundantly. The conversion of her husband was a remarkable event and one of great joy for Irene and her mother, Thelma Zeelie, as they had been praying for Ray for 15 years!

The Singers left immediately after Ray's baptism for 5 weeks to share and witness to Ray's family and friends. Your prayers are appreciated on behalf of this family that the Lord will continue to bless their efforts.

Murrin Field Tests Multi-Media Evangelism in Newfoundland

Pastor Larry Murrin of Botwood, Nfld., is excited with the results of his field test of a multi-media presentation in public evangelism. Developed in the Lake Union, this series of slide-sound presentations captures the attention of the audience with a well-developed, spiritual, Christ-centered message. Along with his own pulpit and personal ministry, combined with music and the multi-media, Pastor Murrin reports that he as a pastor can successfully carry on public evangelism. Pastor Murrin further states that this is what pastors need for Newfoundland.

This program requires a unit of:

- (a) 2 Kodak Carousel projectors (preferably 3)
- (b) 1 dissolve unit
- (c) 1 audio-visual cassette player
- (d) 1 series of slides with cassettes

The Newfoundland Mission is hoping through the generosity of members, friends, and supporters to provide several more of these units for the use of pastors during the 1000 Days of Reaping and beyond.

Answered Prayer After 27 Years!

Mrs. Frances Merrill was a member of the Vancouver SDA Church. When her family moved to North Vancouver she found it difficult to arrange transportation to church on Sabbath and just never managed to attend the North Shore Church. Eventually Frances stopped attending church altogether. She admits that she was no longer progressing forward in her Christian experience.

One day a Bible worker, Phillip Armbruster, arrived at their door. Perseveringly, Phillip befriended two of the Merrill girls, Donna and Kristi and began to study with them. Only 3 or 4 studies confirmed their mother's teachings and this led them to be baptized by Pastor Brad Thorp in May, 1981.

Attending the baptism, much to the girls' surprise, was their father, Victor. He was very deeply moved by the service. Vic had attended 2 or 3 of the 1981 meetings, but became frustrated and stopped attending.

The Merrill's older daughter, Karen (Lalonde) also was baptized in December, 1981.

Because much discussion was now taking place amongst the girls and their mother, Vic and his son, David, began to show more interest in spiritual matters.

It is a miracle how the power of prayer has an influence on people even while they are still yet unaware of it. As Victor watched his daughters' baptisms, he never dreamed that a year later he would be led to make a public testimony for the Lord. After having attended the Prophecy '82 Series in North Vancouver, he and Frances were baptized together on March 13, 1982.

Frances had been praying for her husband's conversion for 27 years! She and her family are still praying for their son, David, with much trust and hope that the Holy Spirit will continue to work at totally uniting the family in Jesus.

Divided families take courage! The Lord truly cares and makes ways available to those who seek Him to unite their families.

The Merrill family - Karen (Lalonde), Kristi, Mrs. Merrill, Donna and Mr. Victor Merrill.

Five Baptized in Quebec Crusade

Pastor Steve Cassimy of the Lasalle and Pointe St. Charles churches planned a Family Enrichment Crusade and invited Pastor F. Maitland to be the speaker. Personal invitations were sent to the It Is Written viewers in the area. The response was excellent and as a result fifteen have been baptized.

Pastor Cassimy now is having Bible studies with forty interested individuals.

Baptisms in Kelowna and Penticton

Lloyd Lee of Kelowna, was the first candidate to be baptized in the Orchard City church. Lloyd, now sixteen, has been attending church since he was four years old. For the past two years he has been a member of the Earliteen Sabbath School class at the Orchard City church. When the Youth Commitment Day was advertised in the Messenger, Pastor Sven Behm suggested to Lloyd that this would be a good time to make his commitment. They studied together and the baptism was held on May 15. Lloyd is the son of Mrs. Wilda Flak and is now serving the church as a Junior Deacon.

A baptism was conducted at Penticton by Pastor Osborne Lee when Sterling Reid of St. Catharines, Ontario was baptized.

Pastor Lee has concluded a six-week Crusade at Keremeos with from twenty to thirty attending. At the present there is no church in Keremeos.

Baptism at Portage la Prairie, Manitoba

At the May 22, 1982 Sabbath service, three precious souls were added to the Portage la Prairie SDA Church by baptism. They are Kent Rusk, Rosella Scott and Randy Rusk with Pastor John Gilbert. Sister Alice Plantje, head deaconess, studied with Rosella and invited her to attend church services prior to her baptism.

New Westminster Youth Blanket Island with Signs

An island near Vancouver, B.C., usually overlooked by evangelism outreaches, was blanketed July 10 with Signs of the Times.

Bowen Island, about six miles long, has a settlement of permanent and vacation homes. However, there is no Seventh-day Adventist Church there.

About 40 young people spent Sabbath passing out literature to the residents on the island.

The day ended with a Linkette roast on the beach and vespers at the New Westminster Church.

A multi-denominational choir recently gave a concert in the New Westminster Church.

The Handel Society of New Westminster, founded in 1966, performed works by Mozart, Handel, Bach and other great composers.

Because of its top quality, the choir charges for its performances which are usually given in one of Vancouver's most elaborate cathedrals. However, the Society agreed to perform here free.

Lady Baptized Through It Is Written

Mrs. Kathleen Erhardt lives in the Brantford area. She attends the Brantford church. Some time ago her uncle who lives some distance away asked her to watch the It Is Written television program. He had seen it once and got the book, "Papa, Are You Going to Die?" Now he requested her to watch the program and get the book request for him. He said it was a good health program. Apparently the health program is the one which interested him the most. After watching the program for a while, Daisy Hayes, a Bible worker, received Mrs. Erhardt's name and began Bible studies with her. After the Bible studies had gone on for some weeks, Elder Lawton Lowe came to the area and held a crusade in Brantford. Mrs. Erhardt attended these meetings and was baptized in October of 1973. The books that interested her were "Planet in Rebellion" and "Papa, Are You Going to Die?"

The It Is Written television program reaches many people out there in television land.

I want to thank our many viewers for the good support they are giving to the It Is Written television ministry. I personally appreciate it very much and know by the mail we get that people who are watching the program also appreciate it very much. We get many nice letters here and from time to time we plan to bring to you more of the thoughts from the letters of the It Is Written viewers.

Thanks again for your continuous support which keeps the program on the air. God bless you all.

Health

Adventist Health Care in the 80's

by A. George Rodgers,
Health Care Institutions Coordinator

As a member of the North American Division Health Services Board, the writer, as an invitee of the General Conference, and authorized by the Union administration, attended the North American Health Systems Consultation Seminar, June 21-23.

This three-day session which was convened in Columbia, Maryland, was also attended by James Bruce, Chief Executive Director of our Branson Hospital, Toronto.

Dr. Rudolph Klimes, Director of NAD Office of Health, prepared a most provocative and stimulating agenda, and Elder C.E. Bradford presided as chairman of the session.

Basic Counsel was predicated on the language of scripture pertinent and most appropriate to the aims and objectives of the Seminar. Selected passages sustained the philosophy resident in Adventist theory and practise elaborated throughout our healthcare system everywhere. (Romans 12:1-5; 3 John 2; and 1 Corinthians 6:19, 20) Further, and by way of accentuation, appropriate comment from the pen of inspiration included vital counsel from Testimonies 7, p. 174.

Delegates' badges and other materials emphasized the seminar's slogan: "Fit and Free." In Christ we are fit - physically, mentally, and spiritually, and free from health-destroying practices like alcohol, tobacco and drug use.

The purpose for assembling the leaders of our North American health discipline was (a) to strengthen the spiritual leadership of all participants, and (b) to jointly explore, and define, the mission and distinctive features of Adventist Health Systems for the 80's.

Outstanding addresses were delivered by administrative leaders of the church, including Elder F.W. Wernick who spoke on "The Distinctive Features of Adventist Healthcare Institutions;" Elder C.E. Bradford: "Interdependence," and President of the General Conference, Neal C. Wilson, "Where Do We Go from Here in Adventist Healthcare?"

The assembly was highly privileged, and much enlightened by, the speech delivered by Paul R. Willging, Ph.D., Department of Health and Human Services of the U.S. Government.

This Columbia convention, called to study and advance our God-ordained ministry of healing, and to point men and women to the more excellent way, will yield dividends commensurate with our personal and institutional dedication to our motivational imperative: "The love of Christ constraineth us!"

"Lifeline" Opens the Way for Health Fair Booth in Mission

Members of the Mission Seventh-day Adventist Church had an opportunity to witness to the community our wonderful health message.

"Lifeline," a health ministry program designed to move from physical health to mental health and finally to spiritual health, was conducted in Mission by Dr. Ronald Ruskjer. The public response to the series of seminars on smoking cessation, weight control, physical fitness, cooking and nutrition, stress management and spiritual health and happiness was very favourable.

It was this health ministry program that opened the doors for the Mission Church to display a booth at the Physical Fitness and Health Fair held in Mission. Howard Homenchuk, church pastor, telephoned the organizers of the Health Fair to inquire as to whether the Mission Church could submit a booth in the Fair. He was told that since he was associated with a religious organization that there would already be a "ministerial" booth. After realizing that the Seventh-day Adventist Church was involved with the "Lifeline" series, the organizer of the Fair called to say how pleased he was with "Lifeline" and consequently, the Mission Seventh-day Adventist Church was able to open a booth in the annual Health Fair.

September Symposium - Lifestyle Medicine

by Ron Vader,
Director of Total Health Seminars

Today, we are paying billions of dollars annually for "after-the-fact" medical care, forever seeking out the "best" doctor to patch up what many of us have done to ourselves by improper diet, smoking, lack of exercise and stressful living. We need to take care of ourselves and learn how to shoulder more responsibility for our wellbeing in an intelligent way.

The key concept in this new outlook on medical care is health enhancement, the active pursuit of physical and mental well-being through the fostering of habits and lifestyles that promote health. This coming September 12, all day, 13 and 14 evenings only, will be the first in a series of annual year-round medical symposiums on preventative medicine for the province of Alberta. The September symposium is titled "Life Style for the Eighties - a New Medical Era". It will be held at the Edmonton Inn.

There will be world class speakers such as Dr. William P. Castali, M.D. Medical Director, Framingham Heart Study, NIH, NHLBI, Lecturer on Preventative Medicine, Harvard University Medical School; Dr. Hans Diehl, Director Lifestyle Medicine Institute, Palm Springs, Post Doctoral Research, Fellow Cardiovascular Epidemiology (National Institute of Health).

Many exciting topics: "Can Atherosclerosis be Reversed"? How to Evaluate the Pritikin Diet Exercise Program, The Role of Exercise in Cardiovascular Health, Forum on the Fat-Cholesterol Controversy.

Whether you are a prospective student, parent of a prospective student, or simply an interested person, WELCOME TO THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT OF C.U.C.

The Education Department provides excellent facilities for the student to prepare for a future in education. A fine library, an educational curriculum lab and a number of Adventist elementary and junior-high schools in the area provide resources for the learning teacher.

You may be interested to know that the Education Department currently has close to 90 students. However, students who enter an educational program receive much individual attention from the highly qualified faculty.

There are a variety of educational programs available to the student which are listed. For further information contact the Education Department personally. We would like to help you.

FOUR-YEAR B.ED. PROGRAMS

1. Elementary Education (Grades 1-6)

The Elementary Education Curriculum is a generalist program, but there is considerable latitude in choice of non-education courses, education options, and elective packages.

C.U.C. Report

God's people are stewards of the gospel of salvation which is to be shared with a needy world. Parents have the high honour and responsibility of being stewards of the greatest gift that God has given to mankind – the lives of the children which bless our homes and our churches. We all are called upon to exercise financial stewardship and stewardship of time, talents and influence. The church's various programs of ministry to its members, the children, the surrounding community and the world in general is the responsibility of all Seventh-day Adventists.

The administration, faculty and staff of Canadian Union College is pleased to play an active and important role in the church's education program. The school is designed to serve the church by ministering to the spiritual, mental, physical and cultural development of the youth of the church. The school is dedicated to providing optimum opportunities and assistance to youth in personal character development, in outreach and evangelistic endeavours, and in preparation to present to the world the good news of Christ's second advent.

To meet the challenges of educating an ever growing youth group within the church and to take advantage of opportunities for academic expansion, Canadian Union College has, in the past few years, undertaken several major building projects designed to provide better instructional facilities, increased student housing, and expanded work opportunities.

Financial income to support the development has been less than anticipated. Money has been borrowed. Soaring interest rates have hurt. College industries have suffered from a sluggish economy. The following report indicates the school's need of continuing, dedicated, substantial financial support by all members. The Board of Trustees, school administration, faculty and staff are determined to be responsible stewards of the funds entrusted to them, of their influence on the lives of students and associates, of the opportunities to increase spiritual strength within the church and to take advantage of evangelistic opportunities. Thank you for your continued generous financial support and for your trust and confidence shown by enrolling as a student at Canadian Union College.

While we owe the amount indicated above, and considerable interest is being paid monthly, the total assets of the institution are estimated to be approximately $25,000,000 at fair market value.

The Board of Trustees and the school administration is carefully studying the financial situation. Immediate action has been taken, upon recommendation of the Finance Committee, to most effectively use the finances available. A long-range plan of financial responsibility and recovery is being developed.

If by the end of September of this year the school received $1,000,000 in donations from the constituency, the school would save about $200,000 in interest payments alone within a year's time. Please help according as the Lord has blessed you and as the Spirit impresses.

Your continued interest in all the education enterprises of the church, your prayers, and your financial donations are appreciated. We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for your participation in the LIFT (Let's Invest for Tomorrow) project which amounted in total to $293,689.28.

Commencement Services Held for 119 Graduates

One hundred and nineteen students graduate from the high school division of Canadian Union College.

One hundred nineteen seniors graduated from the high school division of Canadian Union College on June 20, 1982. The entire weekend was filled with commencement activities. For example, "Class Night" on Friday evening highlighted interesting, humorous events from the life of each senior.

Sabbath school, the next morning, was planned and presented by the high school juniors. Later, in his Sabbath morning Baccalaureate address, Elder J.W. Wilson, President of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Canada, challenged, "You Better Believe It." He meant, of course, the Christian message which CUC stands for.

Sabbath evening consecration highlighted a staff member whom the seniors have come to love and respect. Dean Jim Ryan came to the campus in 1977 as a student and became a student-assistant dean of men in 1979. After graduation in 1980, Mr. Ryan became a full-time assistant dean. He will be the dean of men at Kingsway College this fall. His address, "Your Hands Are Full," will not soon be forgotten.

In Sunday morning's Commencement address, Dr. Douglas D. Devnich, Director of Public Affairs for the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Canada, asked the seniors, "What is the Message to Live?" He pointed out that the senior aim "Onward, Forward, Upward" needed all three elements to be successful.

This graduation weekend marked the end of one era and the beginning of another for the secondary program at CUC. Not only were the seniors completing their secondary years, but the school was changing its name. This high school class is the last one to graduate from CUC. The new name, Parkview Adventist Academy, is designed to designate between the secondary and post-secondary schools more clearly.

Like to Attend Junior Academy in the Country?

Would you like your children to attend a junior academy (grades 1-10) that is located away from the big cities in accordance with inspired counsel, where quality Seventh-day Adventist education is provided and where Jesus Christ is uplifted?

If so, then Grand Valley Adventist Academy, located in beautiful Paris, Ontario, at the forks of the Grand River, is the place for you.

For more information please write to: Gary Proctor, Grand Valley Adventist Academy, 17 Spruce Street, Paris, Ont. N3L 1R7 or phone: (519)442-2175.

Canadian Receives Dean's Award at Loma Linda University

Horace Alexander, former Director of Education and Youth for the Seventh-day Adventist Churches in Newfoundland, has been named this year's recipient of the Dean's Award at Loma Linda University School of Education. The award is given annually to a graduate student "in recognition of distinguished academic achievement and outstanding contribution to campus life."

Dr. Willard Meier, Dean of the School of Education presented the award at the Conferring of Degrees ceremony held June 13, 1982. At that time Mr. Alexander graduated with the Ed.S. (Specialist in Education) degree in Curriculum and Instruction. He will be a candidate for the Doctor of Education degree in 1983.

Tenth Grade Class Pays Tuition

The tenth grade class at Crawford Adventist Academy recently sent $110 in tuition aid to a fellow student named Mack in New Guinea. Earlier the primary Sabbath School of the Willowdale church purchased a wheelchair for this paralyzed boy. Mack is an excellent student, speaks several languages, and is a friend of many people in Toronto.

Oranges and grapefruit also became well known to the tenth graders this past school year, as they took charge of the unloading of the Florida truck and the disbursement of the fruit to the school's customers. From the money earned students were able to buy clothes and other necessary things during the school year.

During the holiday weekend of May 22-24, a large group of this energetic class converged on Ferndale, first for spiritual refreshing on the Sabbath and then to rake tons of leaves and do other necessary work to get the camp ready for summer. The profits from this project are helping Mack to continue his Christian education.

Ten Graduate from Saskatoon Junior Academy

Graduating from grade eight was an exciting experience for 10 Saskatoon Junior Academy students. Elder Robert Schafer, Education Secretary of the Manitoba-Saskatchewan Conference, challenged the graduation class to accept their graduating experience as an important step in God's plan in preparing for work in His service. Principal Ruth Bodrug officiated in the granting of diplomas and gave recognition to each student.

Crawford Adventist Academy Graduates First Grade 12 Class In Its History

The first graduating class at Crawford Adventist Academy received their diplomas on June 13, 1982. Earned credits by each member of the class secured the Secondary School Graduation Diploma, granted by the government of Ontario. Satisfactory completion of course work prescribed by our church department of education gave each graduate the privilege of receiving the diploma of achievement from this Seventh-day Adventist high school.

Student speeches were presented by Mike Butterfield, class president, Audrey Mitchell, valedictorian, and Jenny Topper, salutatorian. Elder William Easterbrook, formerly principal of Toronto Junior Academy, gave the commencement address.

Crawford Adventist Academy is the church's high school for Toronto. If you are going to be attending school in grades nine through twelve in September, you are strongly urged to apply at C.A.A. immediately. There is a broad curriculum available, and a wide choice of electives from which to choose. Phone the school at 633-0090 for information.

Bella Coola Adventist Academy to Open in September

The main classroom building for the academy is on the right. The church is on the left.

In September, 1982, a new boarding school will open in British Columbia—Bella Coola Adventist Academy. Grades 9 and 10 students from various locations will be treated to a fresh and exciting approach to education.

The Bella Coola Valley lends itself to an outdoor-experience focus in education. A beautiful coastal valley surrounded by rivers, mountains and waterfalls, it is an ideal location for students and teachers who want to supplement classroom learning with practical application and wholesome recreational activities.

The curriculum, while following the B.C. Conference guidelines, offers some additional opportunities: sewing, cooking, farming, animal husbandry, woodworking, mechanics and wilderness survival. Students will be involved in classroom studies for approximately 4 1/2 hours a day, and will spend a comparable amount of time in various work experiences, working side by side with the staff members.

The campus, including a small farm, offers home-style accommodations for the students. Two large homes will be available, with space in each for approximately 10 students and one faculty couple. There will be a small dairy, large garden areas, and an orchard. The church and classroom building are within easy walking distance from the main campus.

One of the main objectives of BCAA is community outreach, and the school choir seems to do this successfully. Each year they are asked to sing sacred music for the Arts Festival, the annual fashion show, and for many of the church groups in the valley. The choir is greatly appreciated and offers many opportunities for witnessing.

The greatest goal, however, of Bella Coola Adventist Academy is to help young people develop characters like Christ's: through experiences in enjoying the great outdoors, through the example and friendship of the dedicated staff, and through daily personal interaction with Christ. For more information, write: Gerald Amundsen, Principal, Box 187, Bella Coola, B.C. V0T 1C0, or call (604)799-5910, or (604) 982-2346.

Corner Brook School Scores High

This year the Seventh-day Adventist School Spring Evaluation program came to Newfoundland for the first time in history. It was therefore with much trepidation that our school in Corner Brook, at the top of the visiting committee's list, awaited the day of reckoning. The team of administrators, under the direction of Malcolm Graham, Union Education Officer, included Arlyn Sundsted, Nfld. Supt. of Education, and Robert Dukeshire, Principal of the Botwood School. The areas under scrutiny were the education philosophy, the administration, the curriculum, the school plant, the financial structure and public relations. At the end of the day we were extremely delighted to find that our school had scored highly in the assessment of the above areas.

It was noted that a tremendous upgrading of the school plant and facilities had taken place during the past two years and that enrollment had doubled from 27 to 61 pupils in just one year since the arrival of Principal Herbert Penney-Flynn.

Commendations also included appreciation for Bible classes, health-science activities, the quality of exhibits on bulletin boards and the tasteful pictures and mottos which enhance the atmosphere of the school. Special interest in Christian help activities such as music programs for the blind and infirmed were highly rated by students.

Recommendations for continued upgrading at the school included the extension of the existing library and audio-visual facilities and the addition of an extra room for gym and social-recreational programs and the purchase of a school bus in order to facilitate the transportation of students to gymnasium and swimming classes.

It is hoped that adequate financial support for implementation of these recommendations will be forthcoming.

Malcolm Graham looks on as Arlyn Sundsted presents Evaluation Certificate to Principal H. Penney-Flynn.

THE 1983 BOOK OF THE YEAR

These critical times have demanded this book. You'll agree that it has some answers well worth pondering.

By Lewis R. Walton and Herbert E. Douglass

How to Survive the '80s shows the way, step by step, to cope with the dangerous world in which we live. It looks at events and problems as seen by the secular mind, and offers solutions in a context all can understand. A graphic description of what we face in the future, how to maintain physical stamina in stressful times, and the gospel promises for these last days are key sections of this important new book.

Must reading for you. Valuable tool for your witness during the Church's "1,000 Days of Reaping." Strikingly gold-embossed.
