There in the calm of ebbing day,
And in the crimson eve,
My better angel leads the way,
And ever loathes to leave;
There where the manna falls around,
And living waters stay,
May my poor trembling soul be found
Forever and a day.

Shut in from all the world without,
From every wrong within;
From turmoil and the dizzy whirl
Of discontent and sin,
I find the pillar of fire by night,
And the pillar of cloud by day,
Still leads the honest heart aright,
And shows and smooths the way.

Union College

Frederick Griggs

The twenty-second year's work of Union College will shortly begin. Tuesday and Wednesday, September 16 and 17, are registration days. The opening exercises of the school will be held Wednesday evening at 8:00 p. m., and the class work will begin Thursday, September 18. The time between now and these opening days will very rapidly pass, and our young men and women who are looking forward to next year's work will soon find themselves in the grind of school work. We want to see every student of 1913-14 here at the opening of school, and trust that they will be here by Tuesday, so that registration may be properly completed.

We are looking forward to an excellent year's work. There is every reason why we should do this, for the coming of the Lord is nearer and there should be more power for righteous living and more earnestness in preparation for vigilant service than has ever characterized the work of the school in the past. This in itself should insure the most successful year in the history of the school.

Also, plans are being laid by the faculty for training in Christian service, in the ministry, in Bible work, and in Christian help work. These plans are broader and farther reaching than those of the past. If our students would be educated for service, they must have practical work; it must not be a matter of theory. We learn to serve by serving, not by simply talking about it.

We have a strong faculty for the coming year, and we believe that our teachers are not only well equipped educationally for their work, but they are seeking God that they may have power to lead our young men and women in the Christian way. Our educational institutions should be channels of light and blessing to all. Such God designs them to be; such the faculty of Union College will most earnestly endeavor to make this school the coming year.

For these reasons, we call upon the parents of our young men and women to sacrifice and to put forth every effort to have their boys and girls in the school whose sole purpose is to prepare for gospel work. Heaven will reward the sacrifice. For these reasons, we call upon young men and women to sacrifice for the work of the gospel; to recognize that in securing educational qualifications for such work they are not to advance their own interests, but are to work directly in the cause of truth. With this purpose on the part of the managers of Union College, and with this effort on the part of the parents and young people, our hopes for a most successful year's work will be realized.

The Silent Hour

Just an hour away from the toil and strife
Of the hard old work-a-day;
Just a moment to spend with my inner life,
No matter the form or way;
For awhile to leave this passioned clay
And to cheer my tottering soul,
Is the call that leads my heart away,
And the call that ne'er grows old.

When the shadows lengthen into shade,
And the evening falls about;
When prayers from meadow, cliff, and glade
Their holy flags hang out;
As heaven opens to the sweet incense
That ascends from vale and hill,
My spirit held in awe suspense,
Bows to the mighty will.

CENTRAL UNION OUTLOOK

East Kansas Camp-meeting

In last week's OUTLOOK, we gave a report of the first part of the camp-meeting held at Ottawa, Kans., August 21-31.

About the middle of the meeting, Elders Russell and VanKirk left for the West Kansas meeting, and Elder W. W. Eastman for the Iowa meeting. About the time these brethren left, their places were filled by the arrival of Elder W. T. Knox from the Nebraska meeting, and Professors F. Griggs and M. E. Kern from Colorado.

The services devoted to preaching and Bible study were along practical and doctrinal lines, and seemed to meet with a good response on the part of the people. Much instruction which the people need was brought out during the "Question Box" hour, which on three days of the meeting was devoted to answering questions handed in.

Some features in connection with the business proceedings of the conference were not just what ought to characterize such meetings of a people professing to be preparing to meet the Lord. Elder Knox and others gave some valuable instruction, which was heartily responded to, and which, if heeded in days to come, will result in the spirit of criticism and distrust one of another being supplanted by a spirit of brotherly love and union.

Elder W. F. Kennedy, having stated that he could not longer serve the conference as president, Elder W. H. Clark, one of the ministers in the conference, was unanimously chosen to that position. Some other changes in the personnel of the conference officers were also made. Brother B. M. Emerson remains in charge of the conference office as secretary and treasurer of the conference and tract society.

There was a liberal response to the call for means for various enterprises, $1,527 being raised, mostly in cash, and the larger portion of which was for foreign missions.

Brother S. J. Abegg of the Pacific Press, Kansas City, was present during the whole time of the meeting, and with Brother M. P. Manny, conference state agent, worked in the interest of the sale of our denominational literature. Judging by the armfuls of books and magazines carried out of the tabernacle on several occasions, their labors were crowned with success. At a bookmen's symposium, some very inspiring testimonies were borne by those who have been in the field as canvassers.

The medical work was ably set forth in public addresses by Doctor Jones of the Kansas Sanitarium and Doctor Christmann of Parsons, Kans.

President Griggs, of Union College, in two stirring addresses, strikingly set before the people the underlying principles of Christian education. Several talks by Prof. M. E. Kern on the work of the Foreign Mission Seminary were much appreciated. He emphasized the sacred responsibility resting upon this people to give the closing gospel message to the world in this generation, and appealed to the young people to consecrate their lives to this service.

While the good Spirit of the Lord was present all through the meeting and witnessed to the word spoken, all who remained to the close, as most of the people did, felt that truly the best of the wine was reserved until near the close of the feast. On the afternoon of the last Sabbath of the meeting, at the close of an earnest, practical talk on the theme of "Home Religion" by Professor Kern, there was a great forward move on the part of the large number of young people present for complete surrender of their lives to God. The Baptist Church in the city was kindly offered for the occasion, where forty-three, mostly young people, publicly witnessed a good profession by following in the footsteps of the Saviour in the ordinance of baptism. If the army of young people, who at this camp-meeting surrendered their hearts to the Lord for the first time, or re-consecrated their lives to His service, keep their lives on the altar of sacrifice, there will be a new impetus to the missionary spirit and work in the East Kansas Conference.

The service at the early morning hour on the closing day of the meeting will long be remembered. Brethren J. W. Allison and A. B. Campbell were set apart by prayer and laying on of hands, to the work of the gospel ministry. Elder W. F. Kennedy offered the ordination prayer, the charge and welcome being given by the writer. The Spirit of the Lord was present and set the seal of heaven's approval to this solemn ceremony.

Sanitarium Notes

Avis E. Baker

Brother W. T. Knox, our General Conference treasurer, made a short visit to our sanitarium during the first week of camp-meeting. He arrived just in time to lead the prayer meeting Wednesday evening at the church. The following morning he occupied the time at morning worship with the sanitarium family. His remarks were very interesting, and we were impressed with the progress of the message and of the great necessity of consecrating our lives to the service of the Lord.

Mrs. Lulu Moore-Campbell, class of 1907, has undergone another surgical operation, and is getting along very nicely.

Mr. W. B. Austin, father of Brother Earl Austin, manager of our food company, sustained a serious injury to his eye while doctoring his horse. The horse was a gentle one, but while administering some liniment which caused a burning sensation, the horse made a sudden move with his foot, striking Mr. Austin in the eye. The wound was quite a serious one, and required several stitches.

Mr. E. G. Fine of the Temple Drug Company of Boulder gave a very interesting stereopticon lecture to our guests and employees Tuesday evening, August 26. His subject was "Beautiful Boulder," and the pictures presented gave proof that from the standpoint of beauty of surroundings and natural advantages that nature has bestowed her gifts upon our city with a lavish hand.

Brother M. E. Kern, president of the Foreign Mission Seminary at Washington, D. C., spent one night and part of a day with us. He spoke to the sanitarium family at services in the sanitarium parlor for our guests. He then spent some time getting in touch with the nurses who are planning on entering the seminary in order to better prepare themselves for foreign missionary work. Brother Kern said that he was glad to state that the Boulder Colorado Sanitarium had furnished its share of medical missionary nurses for the foreign fields.

Brother Peter Nelson, father of Edward E. Nelson, one of our junior boys, left for home August 27, having made a splendid recovery from a surgical operation.

Unfortunately, our Colorado camp-meeting came at a time when we were all so busy taking care of the exceptionally large patronage which our institution has been enjoying this summer, that it has been rather difficult for many of us to attend the meetings. However, arrangements were made whereby all who possibly could were allowed to go, and while some of us could not be personally present, we were present in spirit, and sincerely trust that it was an occasion of spiritual strength and power to God's people.

We are glad to report that our sanitarium continues to prosper, every available space being occupied at the present time. The food company is also sharing in the prosperity which is attending our work this season. Brother Earl Austin and his corps of assistants are working hard to keep the orders filled.

Kansas Sanitarium

S. S. Shrock

This summer while laboring at Wichita, I made my home at the sanitarium most of the time, and have learned to appreciate more than ever before the good work that the sanitarium is doing. Whenever I needed it, I took a good treatment. In this way, in spite of the long and intense heat of the summer, I was able to render better service in my ministerial labors than for many years in the past.

The spirit of unity and love, so manifest in the entire sanitarium family, makes the atmosphere of the place seem very homelike indeed.

The patients do not only receive the physical help for which they come, but also spiritual help. Two families, out of which the husbands were patients at the sanitarium this summer, are in a very hopeful state of mind to soon yield fully to the truth of the message.

Brethren, pray for the good success and prosperity of our sanitarium. There are many suffering mortals who need just the help both in body and spirit which our sanitarians can give them. If our own dear people appreciated more fully the superior grade of work which these divinely ordained institutions are doing, they would themselves, when in need, patronize these places instead of going to some worldly institution, and would also cause their afflicted neighbors to come. Try it faithfully, brethren, and you will see souls in the kingdom of God as a result.

Office Notes

R. W. Stewart and wife made the office a very pleasant call to-day.

O. N. Clark, treasurer of the Garland Church, is the first to get in his report for the month of August. If his remittance is an indication of what we are to expect for the month, the tithe receipts for the month will exceed our expectations.

W. F. Hahn has finished his delivery of "Daniel and Revelation" in Sheridan County, Nebr. He lost only three orders, making his delivery more than 97 per cent—almost 98 per cent. Who will be the next to do as well or beat it? Brother Hahn has gone to his home near Marsland but expects to go to Union College. We are pleased to report that he settled his account in full and left a cash deposit for a scholarship.

O. G. Pierce has sent in an order for $335 worth of books for his delivery.

Miss Mae Markert reports eleven hours' delivering last week of "Patriarchs" to the amount of $188.

Miss Virgie Rosenberger is canvassing in Spearfish and reports good success. She is not homesick, although she has been away from home for nearly four months. She enjoys the work.

Lee R. Canaday, elder of the church at Whitney, Nebr., called at the office one day last week while in town on business.

Mrs. N. J. Congdon, librarian of the church at Sheridan, Wyo., sends the first order for Harvest Ingathering Reviews. The number was four hundred. Who will be next? Do not delay or you may not have the papers in time for the beginning of the campaign.

We have just learned that the cost of passage for one person from New York to South Africa is about $140. The fare from our conference to New York is about $35.00, making the total fare from the Wyoming Conference to South Africa about $175. This will mean that our thirteenth Sabbath offering must exceed the last one we had by about $28.00, but we can easily do that. If we make it a real "Dollar Day," that is, each school gives an amount equal to one dollar for each member, we can raise enough to pay both the fare of Brother Jewell and his wife. Let us do it. What do you say?

Our Sabbath-school offerings for the quarter ending June 30, 1913, were $510.95. This is more than we gave for the whole of the year 1908, and lacks less than twenty dollars of being as much as for the entire year 1909. This increase is due quite largely to the liberality of the people and not to the increase in numbers. This means an average of about ten cents per member each week. Now if we can keep this up, it will not be a hard matter to raise the other ten cents by the mid-summer, ingathering, and annual offerings.

Last year the Wyoming Conference used 2,757 of the Ingathering Signs, and harvested $295, which was an average of a trifle over ten cents for each paper, or about fifty-one cents for each member of the conference. There must have been a good many who did not do any harvest work last year, but let us show a better record this year. Let each one do something, and with the Lord's blessing the grand total will be much toward helping the work in foreign lands.

Plans for Work

J. W. Christian

Our camp-meeting is now in the past, and we are ready for another effort in behalf of souls for whom Jesus died, that we may win them to a knowledge of the truth of God. We are glad to state that we can have four tent companies in the field after camp-meeting. We will give the places we will work and the names of the workers in each place.

Omaha: Elder G. R. Hawkins, Mrs. G. R. Hawkins, Ethel Beeson, Roxey Rollins.

Blair: Elder W. H. Sherrig, Brother Merton Helligso, Johanna Hendrickson.

Nebraska City: Elder G. J. Seltzer, Brother L. B. Schiek, Ada Madison.

Arnold: Elder C. H. Miller, Brother A. F. Kirk.

Curtiss: Brother C. J. Paulson, Brother E. L. Cook, Sister Wilkinson.

Battle Creek: Elder L. B. Porter, Maude Cotton.

Elder D. P. Miller will continue in his pastoral work at College View for the present. The work there seems to demand his labor. The Lincoln Church and outside interest will have the labors of Elder H. E. Lysinger.

Elder W. F. Kennedy will connect with the College View Sanitarium as Bible teacher and chaplain.

Elder Fred Johnson will labor for a while in Omaha among the Swedish people who are studying the truth.

Sister Dosenia Hendrickson will continue in the Bible work at Kearney. It is expected that Brother C. H. Miller will hold another public effort there this winter.

It has been arranged for Brethren Premer, Evans, and Andrews to attend Union College this year. Sister Emma Mallett will also attend.

Sister Pearl Jones will connect with the sanitarium business office as assistant and take work in Union College.

Our office force has changed in its personnel—Miss Anna M. Peterson as treasurer, Brother Arthur Smith as tract society secretary and treasurer, and Miss Beulah Moser as assistant in the two offices.

Elder B. L. House will give his undivided time, for the present, to the interests of the young people's and educational work.

Brother H. A. Hebard will be busy as usual with the book work. Not only will he assist in the fall delivery, but he will assist the new men who enter the canvassing field after camp-meeting.

As these laborers enter upon their campaign to disseminate light, let us remember them in our prayers that success may attend their labors. We are in great need of the power of the Holy Spirit in our ministry. Let us seek for a preparation that will bring it into our service.

Special Notice

The young people who are planning to attend the Hastings Intermediate School should be sure to write us before the opening of the school, September 17. Let us know the date, time, and train on which you will arrive in Hastings. We plan to meet every one at the train. It will save worry and inconvenience if you write us early.

I. F. Blue, Principal.

Field Notes

J. W. Christian

Elder C. H. Miller is moving from North Platte to Kearney this week. He locates there that his children may have the benefit of the school.

Professor Blue and wife stopped off a few hours at College View on their way to Hastings. They were looking up some new apparatus for the school.

Miss Clara Twing has accepted a position in the Plainview Academy, South Dakota, as assistant music teacher.

Brethren Seltzer and Schiek will begin tent meetings at Nebraska City, Sunday evening.

There will be four tent companies in the field after camp-meeting. They will be located in Nebraska City, Blair, Arnold, and Curtiss. We shall look forward for good returns from these efforts. Let us remember them in our prayers.

We are glad to welcome Elder Kennedy to Nebraska as a regular worker. He will connect with the College View Sanitarium as Bible teacher and chaplain.

The Commercial Club of Seward, on the Monday evening following the camp-meeting, voted unanimously inviting us back there next year with our camp-meeting. There is a very kindly feeling among the people, and I am sure all who attended will join us in expressing our appreciation to the citizens of Seward for their kind treatment and concern for our com-forts.

In the Interest of Church Schools

Harry G. Alway

After camp-meeting it was my privilege to visit a number of the churches in the interest of the Christian school. Never having been out in the conference before, I was truly surprised and gratified to find such a strong and general sentiment in favor of our school work. I passed through a territory of extreme drought; yet many seemed willing to carry the burden of a school, as we are enjoined to do in these last days. Some chances of school slipped for the lack of a suitable teacher.

The evidences of a good running school were strong in both Nevada and Eldorado Springs. In places where active steps have been taken to organize a school, the way is opening up far better than was expected. Those planning to move away are remaining, and a real line of church work, of special interest to all, binds the church together in unity. In viewing the situation of our youth and children, one can realize the force of the statement that "we need teachers more than we need preachers." There is still time to organize schools. Isolated brethren and small churches should examine the excellent plans devised for home schools. Prompt action may still secure the blessings of a Christian education to many homes.

The Turners School

Harry G. Alway

Two years ago we found the little school on "Advent Hill" struggling hard to keep its head above water. There were perils from without and within that had nearly extinguished the little beacon light in this place. Then began the policy of "we must have a school at any sacrifice," which, together with the tomatoes and canning factory, and, above all, the blessing of the Lord, has given a stability to the work that is assuring. This year, having outgrown our old quarters, we are building a new church and school building, which we will be able to dedicate free from debt. This enlargement has called for a new teacher. Miss Katie Fisher of Texas has been secured to teach grades one to six. She will need no introduction here, as many are acquainted with her work. The number now ready for the primary department is about thirty. The church is increasing steadily, both in numbers and courage, and nearly all the youth have given their hearts to God. At present we are in great need of an organ or piano. Any one feeling that one of these instruments is a burden to himself may quickly get rid of it, to the great benefit of the school.

North Missouri Conference

Glenn Shelton, Field Agent, Hamilton, Mo.

Harvest Ingathering

E. E. Farnsworth

The Harvest Ingathering campaign has become so well known among us that it is not necessary to enter into any explanations as to its purpose, needs, and advantages. Probably all are aware that this campaign has been planned this year to begin October 6. Last year the Signs Magazine was used for this purpose, but this year the Review has prepared the material and it comes to us in a most attractive issue of that paper.

It is hoped to make the effort this year the strongest that has ever been made by us as a people. The information in the paper, along mission lines, is of value to any one who will take the opportunity to read it, whether he be interested in the work of this denomination or not, if he only is interested in saving the lost, benighted, heathen world. Thus when the paper is presented, it is offering something of value for the gift to missions that is invited.

We very much desire that this matter be taken up in every church at once, if it has not been done by this time. An earnest effort should be made to secure the hearty cooperation of all in the church, and use a larger number of papers than we have ever used in this conference before. The work in the churches should be well organized, and the matter carried on systematically.

Then I hope that every scattered member will send in an order for as many papers as can be used, and thus all have a part in this campaign. All money raised in this way will apply on our twenty-cents-per-week fund, and we all know that this fund very badly needs assistance.

If there are those who desire further information on this subject, write to either Miss Guthrie or myself, and we will be glad to assist in any way that we can.

Office Notes

Allie Guthrie

S. N. Curtiss spent a few days at the Iowa camp-meeting.

Geo. E. Kingman, who has been canvassing in North Missouri this summer, has returned to College View.

Doctor and Mrs. Dawes are rejoicing over the arrival of a new baby boy on the morning of the third.

F. M. Conklin has sold his property in Utica, and will locate in Marceline for the winter.

Andrew Smith from Texas, who is visiting friends at Galt, is spending some of his time in the canvassing field.

We understand that Brother Herbert Griffith has been employed in the Union College business office and that he left for College View a week ago.

Elder Beams attended the camp-meeting at Cedar Rapids, Ia. He expects to locate at Nevada, where his children can have the privileges of a church school.

Prof. T. J. Roach has been employed to teach the Goldsberry Intermediate School again this year. He and the two older children, Gladys and Cyril, left for Goldsberry, August 24. Mrs. Roach and the smaller children will join them soon.

We are sorry to report that Elder Farnsworth is the victim of chills and fever again. He went to Utica, August 25, to officiate at a baptismal service, but was unable to fill the appointment. Elder Kunkel was called to fill his place, and Elder Farnsworth went to the sanitarium at Kansas City for treatment. A letter received this morning informs us of his improved condition and the prospects of his being out again soon.

Miss Margie Reynolds of Kansas City is the first of our magazine workers to remit in full on her scholarship. We expect, however, to receive a letter from Miss Frances Miller, also of Kansas City, as we have been informed that she, too, has earned her scholarship. These girls are to be commended for their faithful, untiring efforts, which have won for them success. At the last report, Miss Hazel Ringer of St. Joseph was doing nicely, and prospects for her success were evident.

The new lesson quarterlies have arrived, so we are now ready to fill all orders. We shall be glad to receive your order at once. We also desire your order for the new memory verse cards. Do not delay, and disappoint the children. Be prompt.

Brother Shelton spent the first part of last week assisting some of the canvassers in making their deliveries, but being near the Iowa line, the attractions for the "home land" were more than he could withstand, so he joined old friends and workers on the camp-ground at Cedar Rapids and enjoyed the last few days of their meeting with them.

Peden Chapel

E. E. Farnsworth

Shortly after the close of the camp-meeting, I visited the company at Peden Chapel. It has been about a year since Elder French began holding meetings in the church there. An excellent interest was awakened, and quite a number began to keep the Sabbath. Many of the interested ones had been associated with the Holiness people, and it has seemed slow work to get them established on the subjects of baptism, organization, etc.

A Sabbath-school of from forty to forty-five members has been in existence from that time to the present, but a large majority of these are children, and quite a number are from families who believe the message, but are not as yet living it.

At this visit a special service was held preparatory to baptism and the organization of the church. Although held in the afternoon of Wednesday, still there was the largest attendance I have ever seen at the church. After the sermon, we went to the stream half a mile away, and seven were baptized. An excellent deportment was maintained by the visitors, and the presence of the Lord was felt.

On returning to the church, the

CENTRAL UNION OUTLOOK

Peden Chapel Church of Seventh-day Adventists was organized, with eight members. We were sorry that it was so small to start with, but for various reasons others who are keeping the Sabbath deferred membership. I feel confident that as time passes we will continue to add until we have a good strong church at this place. I expect to hold a tent effort right away, only a few miles from this place and near enough so the interested ones can attend. Remember the work here in your prayers.

An Education for the Ministry

Frederick Griggs

The highest calling in gospel service is that of the ministry, and of a rank indeed quite equal is that of the Bible work. In the rapid advance of our message and the additions of high and sacred callings, too many of our young men and women plan for other lines of work, such as medical, teaching, editorial, and office, which are, of course, necessary to the advancement of this message; but the ministry and the Bible work are not receiving the proportion of our young men and women which these times demand. We ought to have scores in this work where now we have but few. Our ministers and Bible workers should be men and women of power and intellect, as highly educated as was Paul in his services; men and women who can meet the sophistries of this age, the false philosophers, and meet them with the holy Scriptures and in the power of the administration of the Spirit. Our young men and women will not be qualified for service in these sacred callings by a study of the many erroneous teachings and philosophies of the schools of the world, and for this reason our denominational schools have been established. There must be in Seventh-day Adventist schools such a deep study of Christian philosophy, of the mysteries of the gospel of Christ, and such a revelation of the power of salvation as will give to our young men a deep desire to engage in the teaching and exposition of God's holy Word. We need a great host of young men and women who have completed thorough courses—college courses of study—and who are not contented with low aims and meager ideals.

Let our young men and women be encouraged by the elders of our churches and by parents to enter the sacred work of the ministry and Bible work. Let them have held before them educationally the joys of teaching the Word of God around the firesides, in the homes of the people, of coming into that personal touch with them which will win them to Christ. Let there be a great move made on the part of all to bring into the ministry our brightest, strongest, young men, and into the Bible work those young women whose graces of life are such as will add force to the Spirit of God, teaching and working through them. Let us unite in this forward movement. Union College and all the schools preparatory to it in the Northern and Central Unions stand for this work.

Let Us Remember the Jews

The prophet Hosea said: "The children of Israel shall abide many days without a king, and without a prince, and without sacrifice, and without an image, and without an ephod, and without a teraphim. Afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the Lord their God, and David their king, and shall fear the Lord and His goodness in the latter days." Hosea 3:4, 5.

How true it is that the Jewish people have been for a long time without a king and without a prince. For more than two thousand years they have wandered without a home or without a prince. It is true they rejected their King and Prince, and so they have been at a loss to know why the Lord has thus dealt with them.

During the past nineteen centuries they have been bitterly and relentlessly persecuted by many of the so-called Christian people; as a result they have an erroneous idea of the Christian religion and of Christian people. But we thank God that much of this prejudice is breaking down among the Jews, especially where they learn of our people. Many words of encouragement come to us from Jews, telling us that they thank God that the Lord has raised up such a people as Seventh-day Adventists, for the children of the stock of Abraham who are acquainted with the present truth are beginning to realize that this people have a message that does appeal to the heart of the Jew.

There are many Jews now asking more of what we believe. There is a growing interest upon the part of many of the Jews to know why we, as a Christian people, observe the Sabbath, and believe so much in the Old Testament, since we believe in Christ.

This summer we are glad to learn that in different tent companies there are Jews who are attending the meetings, and many of them really seem anxious to know what we believe. We hope that our workers in the tent companies and in the cities will do all they can to interest themselves in these children of Abraham.

We would suggest to our workers when they come to such subjects as the law, the Sabbath, the sanctuary, the health reform, and the gift of prophecy, that they make special efforts to interest the Jewish people. Tell these children of Abraham that we, as a Christian people, believe in these things, and we believe as Christians they ought to be received. Let them know that there are many thousands of Christians who do believe in them, and we feel sure that with the blessings of the Lord many of the Jews will respond.

Let us put forth more earnest effort to reach these lost sheep. The time is here when many of them feel that there must be something for them along spiritual lines that they do not now possess; and we believe that the Holy Spirit will impress many of their hearts, and there will be those who will give themselves fully to Jesus, and they will accept the light. Let us remember the Jews in our work.

For the Jewish Department,
F. C. Gilbert.

The Next Thirteenth Sabbath a Great Opportunity

How it thrills our hearts to know that one hundred missionaries have turned their faces to the "regions beyond" in response to the action of the last General Conference. Even now some of them are tossing upon the seas, outward bound. We have set our hands to the finishing of the work, and there must from henceforth be no wavering. When the workers are willing to go, the means to send them must be supplied. The transportation expense of a hundred workers from the home land to the "uttermost parts of the earth" calls for a large cash outlay of means, and the resources of the General Conference treasury are strained to the utmost in consequence. Indeed, it is doubtful if the plans in full can be carried out if special help is not given.

To meet the emergency, the General Conference committee has turned to the Sabbath-schools in the home land for help, and set apart September 27, the thirteenth Sabbath of the third quarter, as the time when the schools may give for the special purpose of paying the transportation expenses of the one hundred missionaries who are to go this fall to foreign fields. Shall we not work and pray for an especially liberal offering? It will truly be a sad thing if any of these missionaries under appointment remain at home on account of lack of means to pay their fare to the mission field. As we love this truth, as we believe it is soon to lighten the whole earth with its glory, let us deny self, and plan to give on that Sabbath, as we have never done before, that every selected missionary may be hastened on his way.

Remember the date,—Sabbath, September 27.

Remember the object,—the transportation expenses of one hundred appointed missionaries to their mission fields.

Remember to pray that God will give His people liberal hearts, that His work be not hindered, nor His coming delayed.

Mrs. L. Flora Plummer,
Sec. Sabbath-school Dept.

Lessons Now Ready

The lessons of the Mothers' Normal Course—"Early Education" and "First Grade"—are now ready. Also the course in "Public Speaking." Students may begin at any time. Those who wish further information about these courses, or who desire copies of the new calendar, should address Fireside Correspondence School, Takoma Park, Washington, D. C.

"Conflict of the Ages" Series

Seventh-day Adventists will greatly appreciate the privilege of securing for their own use and to loan, sets of Mrs. E. G. White's large and important books, well printed on fine quality of thin paper and neatly bound in uniform cloth or leather binding. These books are "Patriarchs and Prophets," "Desire of Ages," "Acts of the Apostles," and "Great Controversy." These four books, in red, flexible leather binding, weigh less than six pounds, each one weighing from twenty to twenty-six ounces.

They have been made uniform in size, except that "Desire of Ages," because of its larger size of page, is eleven-sixteenths of an inch taller than the others. The width of all is the same.

These books are from the latest edition plates, and do not differ from the regular subscription edition, except that the full-page illustrations are omitted. In every other respect, the matter contained in them is identical with the subscription edition.

Price in full maroon cloth, $6.00; in flexible leather, $8.00. Single volumes, $1.50 each in cloth; $2.00 in flexible leather.

Address your tract society.

Free, for the Asking

It is designed that the new thirteenth Sabbath offering leaflet and accompanying map showing by lines where our one hundred fifty missionaries are going, shall be sent to each school, and each isolated member. Any who have not received these should write for them. They are free for the asking. Address your conference Sabbath-school secretary or Sabbath-school Department, Takoma Park Station, Washington, D. C.

Those who are not connected with any Sabbath-school, but desire to contribute to this fund, are cordially invited to do so, stating, when the money is sent, that it is for the thirteenth Sabbath offering fund.

"The Breaking of the Day"

Those who attended the General Conference were greatly blessed in listening to Brother and Sister Papp sing that beautiful and most appropriate song, "The Breaking of the Day." Many of these songs were sold on the ground in single sheets for five cents per copy.

We are sure that many will be glad to know that this song is in "Songs for Service," by Charles P. Whitford. The book contains 252 pages, and is brimful of the choicest hymns. It is published by the Southern Publishing Association, and will be furnished in the board binding, postpaid, for only thirty-five cents.

Obituary

Esau.—Little Dorothy Helen Esau, daughter of Brother and Sister C. R. Esau, was born May 31, 1912, and died Sept. 2, 1913, at the tender age of one year, three months, and two days.

The little sunbeam of the home was in perfect health in the morning, and ere night had passed was snatched from the parent embrace. It is hard to understand why this little, innocent life should go, seemingly so out of season, but we know our Father does not afflict His children willingly, and all must be for our good. No medical aid seemed to give relief, and it is not known just the nature of the sickness.

In this hour of sorrow, how sweet to know that the time is not far distant when the Saviour will come to gather His children, and then shall the little, innocent ones of believing parents be brought to their parents on angel hands to be in the better world where none shall say, "I am sick," nor death ever enter.

Funeral services were conducted by the writer from the College View Church. May the blessed Comforter comfort the sorrowing parents in this trying hour. J. W. Christian.
