COLLEGE VIEW, NEBRASKA, AUGUST 10, 1920

NUMBER 32

With The Union Evangelist In Kansas City

V. P. LOVELL

Elder C. T. Everson began his summer campaign Sunday night, July 11. The lectures are given in a large tent, (80 x 120) which seats twelve hundred and fifty people. We have a very good location. It is said to be about the best in the city. There is a large residential district around the tent from all sides.

The attendance has been good from the beginning. Sunday night, July 25, the tent was nearly filled when the lecture on "A Question God Can't Answer" was given.

Sunday night, August 1, the tent was full and overflowing. The tent was equipped with twelve hundred fifty seats, but the people kept coming until the seats were all filled. Besides all the extra chairs from the small tents and the rostrum being used, a number of people stood around the tent, while others sat in their cars.

Elder Everson gave a remarkably convincing lecture on the subject of "Spiritism, do the dead actually appear?" Many remarked after the meeting that the lecture was the most wonderful treatise on Spiritism that they had ever heard. There were four hundred twenty-one who signed cards for literature. At the close of the lecture a large number in the audience raised their hands for prayer. Opportunity was also given for those who wished prayer for healing to raise their hands.

The male quartette sings every night, and on Sunday nights a cornetist assists with the music.

The people are enjoying and coming early to take part in the live song service conducted each evening by Brother John Meyers.

The street car company has consented to give us one hundred spaces on the front of their cars for as long a time as they could spare the space.

There were nearly six hundred present Tuesday night to hear the lecture on "Who are the angels? Are they able to communicate with the dead?" A good spirit was felt in the meeting. Many expressed their desire to be under the protection of these heavenly messengers.

This is a special week on "Life after death" at the big tent.

We are glad to see that a greater part of our crowd attends nearly every night, and several of the new ones have already taken their stand for the truth. One of them is a civil engineer traveling for the Burlington Railroad. He said, "If it means my job, it must go; for I can not turn down the Lord and such a message as this."

Our workers are kept very busy visiting the people whose names are coming in each week, and we are glad to report a growing interest in the meetings and hope from among the thousands who come and go that the truth of God's word for these times will find a lodging place in the hearts of many that they may thus see their way through to the kingdom.

We ask that God's people pray each day for the success of the work here in Kansas City.

Everbody Lifting

W. A. GOSMER

In every church visited since camp meeting our people have lifted to help rebuild Campion Academy. There never was such an interest manifested in the school as at this time. For the first time the Colorado Conference, as a whole, is undertaking to build a conference school. We are, therefore, calling upon every Seventh-day Adventist in the conference to give what he can. Many of our people are poor, but everywhere we go, all give something.

Recently we visited the Buckingham Church. Our brethren and sisters there have had very poor crops for several years. This year the outlook is more encouraging. Everyone in this company pledged something. Brother J. H. Allen, elder of the church, called on the children to give something. This met with a hearty response, and the few little people there soon had pledged $19.00 to Campion. They wished to have a share in some of the bricks of the fine building. They will always feel a greater interest in Campion for having done this. So while we are asking the children to give what they can, we are asking the older ones to give more—hundreds and even thousands of dollars.

Brethren and sisters, the children and youth are worth saving. Our schools are God's agencies to do this.

Our schools must be built, and God will bless every soul who takes a hand in this noble work. Pray for Campion. Give liberally for putting Campion on a real basis. Send your young people to Campion the coming year, and lay your plans now to do it. Present indications are that one of the best years in the history of the school is just ahead.

Trinidad

We were delayed several days in finding a suitable location and getting permission to pitch the tent inside the fire limits. We have been kindly received by the city officials and the church as a whole are co-operating excellently. The members of our tent company are congenial and work in utmost harmony.

Our attendance has not been as large as we hoped, running from thirty to about one hundred, and an average of about sixty. There is no trouble with the rough element or children, and the near neighbors are very nice to us.

There are some deeply interested and have not missed a meeting. We feel we will have good results. Last Sabbath a dear old man, seventy-four years old who is a successful carpenter and contractor, kept his first Sabbath. His wife had been keeping it for some time but had not come into the church. This rejoices the little company here. We are just presenting the Sabbath question. Pray for us.

A Symposium

On the last Sabbath of the home missionary convention held in Denver, at the eleven o'clock hour, a very interesting and instructive symposium was rendered. The following are a few of the items gleaned:

William Butler, from the Atlantic Union, used as a basis of his five minute talk Gen. 12:3 and Gal. 3:29, showing that as the Lord intended that all the families of the earth should be blessed through the blessing of Abraham, so he intends through us to carry out this same purpose.

E. R. Numbers, of the Columbia Union, talked on the importance of giving Bible readings. He told how the early reformers went from house to house with their Bibles in their hands, and the great work accomplished. He thought we should give more attention to the training of Bible workers in the local church. We must go and teach the people from the open Bible.

E. Ray Corder, also from the Columbia Union, spoke of the blessing that comes to those who have a part in giving this message. He read from Dan. 12:3: "They that be teachers shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever."

George Butler, from Eastern Canada, spoke on the Harvest Ingathering work. He told of one old lady seventy years old who walked through the country and raised $50 for missions. A young lady in his union raised over $1,000.00. If they can do that in the Eastern Canadian Union, what ought we to do in the Central Union?

O. R. Staines, of the Southern Union, spoke on the subject of home medical missionary work. Christ spent more time healing than teaching. The Lord wants us to take our right arm out of the sling and use it in teaching this truth.

Earl Hackman, of the Southeastern Union, spoke on personal work. We must come close to people and live this gospel we profess to believe. "The only gospel some will hear is the gospel according to you."

J. L. McConaughy, of the Lake Union Conference, gave a very interesting talk. In their union, he said, they were putting on a campaign to reach every home with the truth. He is getting the church to send Present Truth to every home in their respective counties. They enclose with each paper a subscription blank. They have received many subscriptions to Present Truth by this method. People have already come into this truth as the result of following up this work.

V. O. Punches, of the home foreign department, told us how our own nation is fast becoming a foreign field. He spoke of the importance of our getting the truth to our foreign neighbors through the printed page. The foreigners are eager to get our literature. "Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbor." Zech. 8:16. Every man should hear the gospel in his own tongue. This will have to be done largely through the printed page.

Brother Ennis Moore, now under appointment for Brazil, South America, said he was eager to get to his field of labor and help to hasten the proclamation of the message in that needy field. "Work as though everything depended on you and pray as though everything depended on God."

F. J. WILBUR.

Medical Missionary Work

F. J. WILBUR

In the August number of the Church Officers Gazette we find that the fourth Sabbath service for August is on the subject of medical missionary work. The program, if carefully prepared and faithfully rendered in all our churches, will prove a great blessing to our people. The pastor or elder of the church should call the missionary committee together and plan the program at once. Have each person on the program study their part so carefully that they will not have to read it. This, to my mind, will add very materially to the interest of the meeting.

This subject is a live one, although it has been neglected of late years. The right arm of the message has been hanging in a sling; and the result is we are very much behind where we would be if we had made use of our right arm in our missionary endeavors. If we have been careless in living the health principles ourselves then we need to study them anew from the Bible and testimonies and resolve by God's help to live them better in the future. This will help us to be the help we should be to our neighbors and friends. The perils of the last days are upon us; diseases are increasing. Are we ready for what is before us? If not let us improve our opportunities. Let us help the churches to get ready by giving each one a training that will help them in doing the things for their neighbors that will be as an entering wedge in giving this message.

So let us plan ahead for this program that we may make it what it ought to be.

"Let us profit by the mistakes and defeats of the past year, by avoiding them in the year before us. Each passing year should make us wiser and better, more discreet and painstaking to redeem the time."

Colorado News Notes

Ten of our teachers have enjoyed a very profitable eight weeks in the summer school at Union College.

Mrs. Guy T. Burgess left Denver, July 30, to join her husband who is connected with the tent effort being held in Lamar.

Miss Verna White, stenographer from the Boulder Sanitarium, and Miss Letha Eastman, daughter of Brother F. R. Eastman, business manager of the Boulder Sanitarium, paid the office a visit one day this week.

Last Sabbath, Elder W. A. Gosmer met with the Ford Church, and upon his return to the office spoke of the good meeting they had, and especially of the interest the church was taking in the rebuilding of Campion Academy.

New Sabbath schools have recently been organized at Akron, Divide, Golden and Summit Hill near Las Animas. We trust these schools will grow to be strong centers of light radiating their beams through all the country round about.

The Colorado Sabbath schools have given to missions during the first six months of 1920, $11,312.00. This is an increase of $3,738.00 over the same period last year and almost as much as the total Sabbath school offering for the year 1918.

Professor L. O. Machlan, principal of Campion Academy, has arrived at Campion and is busy getting things in readiness for the opening of school. He plans to visit a large number of the churches in the near future in the interest of the school. We are pleased to welcome Professor Machlan to our field and are sure you will be pleased to meet him and assist him.

Very encouraging reports reach us from those engaged in tent work this summer. The Colorado Conference has seven companies in the field this summer and we look for a rich harvest of souls as a result of the untiring labors put forth by those connected with these efforts. Elder C. W. Allen, who is in charge of the Florence effort, was a caller at the office last week.

Wedding bells were ringing at Greeley, Thursday evening, July 29, at the home of Brother and Sister Arthur Carver, when their daughter, Miss Carolyn Kretchmar, and Mr. Paul Gibbs were happily united in marriage.

Elder Gosmer officiated. Friends from several places in the state were present, and some from College View. Delicious refreshments, vocal and instrumental music, social intercourse, and an unexpected shower of rice, contributed to a most enjoyable evening. The happy couple will reside at Grand Junction, Colo., Brother Gibbs being young people's secretary of the Inter-Mountain Conference. The sincere good wishes of their many friends go with them.

Colporteur Notes

Brother C. C. Moore, his brother and sister, of Loveland, are in the midst of their first delivery for the season. We wish them a most successful one.

Brother Glen H. Saxby, star colporteur for the Central Union, in sending in his report of $577.00 for week ending July 31, writes, "Indeed the harvest is ripe but the laborers are few. It seems that the people are just hungering and thirsting for the truth. It is my desire to be a faithful representative of the Lord."

"This last week I have been confronted with all kinds of difficulties, but the Lord has helped me to gain a most wonderful victory. I can truly praise him for such a wonderful message as has been given us. I could write pages upon the good experiences that I have been having. How thankful I am that the Lord has directed me to just such a territory. I am indeed enjoying a rich Christian experience. A missionary spirit is being born within me, which is something I have never before experienced. I hope to be at Union College where I may meet with all of the dear colporteurs of the Central Union, and in the gathering day to come, with others, bring in my sheaves. It is truly wonderful how the Lord works for an individual when they fully surrender their lives to him. I can only close by praising the Lord." —Also.

"With the Lord's blessing, my report in value is larger for Big Week than it has been for previous weeks, although I was unable to put in the hours. Wednesday evening, my best day, I finished the mining camps about five o'clock, but I was unable to get to new territory that day. Thursday morning I went east from Walsenburg, securing six orders from the Mexican farmers, but that territory became exhausted sooner than I expected, so I did not do much Thursday afternoon and Friday morning." —Harvey Hecox.

For the encouragement of the Colorado colporteurs we give you the following statistics: General average per hour, $3.80; average per colporteur for Big Week, $147.71; this being the highest record of any state in the Central Union.

G. R. Moore is now located in Denver, canvassing the small towns near here.

No meetings are held in the tent Monday nights.

The offerings in the tent have already been over $350.00.

Several from the tent have already begun keeping the Sabbath.

The question and answer feature at the tent is most interesting.

Saturday night is the best night in the week except Sunday night.

Mrs. S. S. Lane, from Poplar Bluff, is visiting her daughter, the pastor's wife.

Several from the tent have already begun attending the Sabbath services at the church.

Elder Martin Steuckrath spoke in the big tent the night the pastor was called to Clinton.

A most interesting and helpful program was given by the Missionary Volunteers last Sabbath.

Brother W. J. West, from Poplar Bluff, is visiting his sister and attending the tent meetings.

The pastor of the Central church was called to Clinton recently for special prayer for the recovery of Brother Hale.

"The Law," "The Making of the Sabbath," "The Christian Sabbath," and "The First Day of the Week," have already been presented in the tent.

Although not the largest congregation in the conference, the St. Louis Central paid more tithes last quarter, by over $2,000, than any other church.

A Bible class was organized at the tent last Sunday night for the further instruction of those who are especially interested. The studies will be held at the tent each Sunday at ten o'clock a. m.

Sisters Anna Orr and Freda Haegert have gone to Chicago to engage in the colporteur work. God has greatly blessed them in St. Louis, where they have so faithfully worked for a number of years.

The subject at the big tent last Sunday night was, "The Gospel Church." There are 480 tent chairs. Many extra chairs were provided, and yet every seat was taken. The Lord greatly blessed in the preaching of the Word.

Missouri News Notes

HERBERT GRIFFITH

Brother A. C. Madsen spent Sabbath with the church at Turners, Mo., and returned to Clinton Sunday night.

Many inquiries about camp meeting are being received on each mail and we are looking for a large attendance this year.

Brother R. T. Emery, our Central Union Conference auditor, is now at our office checking over our work for the year 1919.

Miss Margaret Miller, who is assisting in the Bible work in Kansas City this summer, spent Sabbath and Sunday in Clinton visiting Miss Lauretta Walters.

The readers of the OUTLOOK will be glad to know that Elder Hale is recovering from his illness and it may be possible for him to be on the camp ground a part of the time.

On Sunday evening, August 1, a few of Miss Walters' friends gathered at the home of Elder and Mrs. H. A. Fish and gave her a pleasant surprise. The evening was spent in playing games of an educational nature.

Miss Mary V. Walter returned Monday from Colorado Springs, Colo., where she has been visiting her sister since the home missionary convention held in Denver July 9 to 17.

Professor F. R. Isaac has returned to Clinton after spending some time in California and other western states. Mrs. Isaac is visiting in Jaroso, Colo., at present and will return later.

Miss Lauretta Walters, who has been connected with the tract society office for some time, has given up her work and has returned to her home in Lamar, Mo. We were sorry to lose the services of Miss Walters, and at the present time it leaves a vacancy in our office.

Colporteur Items

HERBERT GRIFFITH

"I met a man this week riding a horse along the Niangua River. He gave me his order for a leather binding and then told me of a family just a short distance across the river whom he thought would buy, so he loaned me his horse to ride over there. I took an order while he waited." The Lord helps our colporteurs in many ways to reach every family with our books.—R. W. Hinton.

"I am enjoying taking orders with the new prices."—W. E. Helt. From Brother Helt's report this week you will notice that he is doing well.

"As school starts the 17th of September I will have opportunity to canvass about two weeks after camp meeting. I am not going to lay around and let this precious time go by when I might be engaged in this work."—Max Christianson.

We wish that every one of our colporteurs had the determination that Brother Christianson has had this summer. He is a boy sixteen years old and has been canvassing by himself all of the time. Not once has he been discouraged. He has more than earned his scholarship to one of our academies this year and is already planning on his work for next year.

H. J. Neufeld, who has been working in Lafayette County with Oscar Reinmuth, has given up his work. Immediately after his delivery he intends to go to South Dakota to spend a few weeks before returning to Clinton for school this winter.

"I lack just $370.00 on my goal of $3,000.00. I will try for that amount next week."—Oscar Reinmuth. Brother Reinmuth has only been in the field nine weeks and this shows an average of $292.00 a week for the entire summer. We have no doubt but what he will make his goal in ten weeks instead of eleven as he had planned.

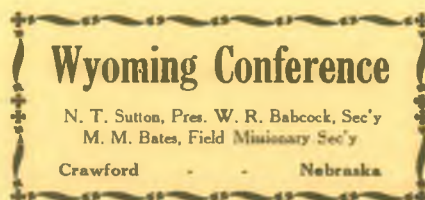

"I have certainly enjoyed the colporteur work this summer."—Mike Mayer.

"I am enjoying the canvassing work greatly." — Hamlet Niswonger. Just look at his report for this week and you will see one reason why he is enjoying his work. Brother Niswonger is still in his "teens" and he is demonstrating what can be done by the young men.

"I am looking for the Lord to do greater things for us this week in spite of the high prices of the books." —Clara Witzke. Clara and her sister, Laura, are working together and this week it is their plan to work in German territory.

Rex Jacobson and Bernard Graybill spent the week end in Clinton and both made the office a pleasant call. They were here arranging for other territory, having completed the county in which they have been working.

Local Camp Meeting

N. T. SUTTON

Word has been received from Elder W. A. Long that arrangements have been made to hold the local camp meeting at Lovell, Wyo. The date of the meeting will be September 14-19.

I trust the brethren of the Big Horn Basin will avail themselves of this opportunity and be present throughout the meeting.

Elder S. E. Wight writes that good help will be provided for this meeting. The message the servants of God will bring to us at this time will be meat in due season.

Brethren, we cannot afford to miss hearing the message of the hour. We are living in the solemn hours of the last days of probation. Surely it behooves us to avail ourselves of every opportunity that will help us to get a clear vision of the times in which we are living.

We cannot afford to miss this meeting so let us commence now to plan to be present throughout the entire time.

Remember the place and date. Lovell, Wyo., September 14-19.

Wyoming News Notes

W. R. BABCOCK

Elder W. A. Long reports the tent is up at Lovell, Wyo., and meetings began August 1.

Brethren Fred Winingar and E. E. Beebe from Sheridan, Wyo., expect to enter the field at once.

Lois Morey and her father, of Crawford, have returned from an enjoyable trip in the Black Hills.

Plans are being made for a Sabbath school convention to be held August 28, at Whitewood, S. D., for the benefit of members in that vicinity.

Brother C. T. Grubbs and daughter, Marie, started in the colporteur work last week and we are glad to know they are having good success. They are canvassing in the vicinity of Worland, Wyo.

Sister Susie Wells and children, from Whitewood, S. D., made us a short call as they stopped between trains on their way to visit her sister, Mrs. C. H. Evans, of Marsland, Nebr.

The Wyoming Conference more than reached their goal of dollar day for the second quarter, and very nearly reached the goal of 25 cents a week per church member.

Misses Ruth and Lydia Richards spent Sabbath in Crawford on their way home from summer school to Lander, Wyo. Miss Ruth Richards will teach the Crawford church school again this year.

Brother Bates is spending the first of the week with Miss Minnie Johnson near Gurnsey, Wyo., helping her deliver her books. Among others who are making their deliveries this week are Miss Emma Johnson, Miss Edna Brown, Cass Vail, Henry Meyer, and Wm. Kieser.

Elders Sutton and Fletcher are visiting the Black Hills in the interest of the educational work. In word just received from Elder Sutton he states five persons were baptized at Rapid City while they were there. Elder Sutton is making an extended trip among our isolated people in the Black Hills and vicinity and will not return to the office until the middle of August.

Colporteur Experiences

M. M. BATES

Miss Minnie Johnson, of Minatare, Nebr., had a remarkable experience that illustrates how careful our workers should be not to pass by any home. While working in a thinly settled county, Miss Johnson was advised not to call at a certain home as the people were strict Catholics and prejudiced. After thinking the matter over she decided not to call. The night following her horse got away and after two days' search she found the horse in the pasture belonging to this family and was obliged to go to their home to get help in getting the horse. They treated her kindly and after getting the horse, gave her supper and an order, paid in full, for a half leather book. Miss Johnson reported a nice visit in that home.

Brother Emil Meyer, working in a section recently settled by homesteaders, tells of getting lost and toward evening saw smoke from a little log house and after reaching the place took an order and received $5.45 advance pay. The next place he reached he found a young man living on a claim. After supper he took him to a neighbor where he received an order for another "Great Controversy," half leather. The next morning he took him down the road and met a man traveling. After a brief introduction of the work, he was asked to go to the house and explain the work to his wife who gave him an order in the Swedish language. After this they met a lady on horse back who gave an order, then the young man showed him how to get out of Rifle Pit Canyon. Brother Meyers says, "The Lord certainly did not want me to find my way out the day before for I took four orders."

We can see by these experiences that our disappointments are the Lord's appointments many times.

Misses Edith and Thelma Martin, of Scotts Bluff, are working in Cheyenne, Wyo., and report interesting experiences among the Christian Science people, and how the Lord is touching the hearts of many of those people, and helping them place our good books in the homes.

All of our colporteurs are of good courage and surely these experiences help us realize the great need of workers at this time. They remind us of the words of our Saviour, "Truly the harvest is ripe, but the laborers are few." As we are nearing the time when our student colporteurs will be returning to school, we are anxious to have some one step in and fill their places. Who will answer the call?

Iola

We are in the eighth week of the Iola tent meeting. Up to this time twelve have decided to keep the Sabbath. There are a number of others who are interested and some of these have promised to obey as soon as they can arrange their business so they can keep the Sabbath.

Last Sunday night, the beginning of the eighth week, we had about three hundred people out to hear the discourse on the "Unpardonable Sin." Of course our Sunday night attendance is much better than through the week.

Besides helping those not of our faith, the effort has been a real uplift to the Iola church people. They have appreciated the meeting and have stood by us nobly.

To the Children

Camp meeting draws near again, and once more we shall try to have our classes and work in our nice building, as we have done so many times before. We never get as much done as we plan to do, but that must not discourage us from keeping on trying, so all of you come prepared for work, as usual, and we will have splendid times together.

The big boys may bring their tools, and the big girls their embroidery hoops and crochet hooks. All the other children may bring pencil, rule, crayolas, library paste, and scissors. We hope to have more people to help us this year than we have ever had and are planning some lovely things to do, so everybody come and bring working things. I shall be glad, too, to have a letter from every child who expects to be at camp meeting.

News Notes

F. I. MOHR

Sister Cora Clark sends $11.00 as her share of the Mid-summer offering, which was taken July 10.

Brother Carl Mock, the colporteur from Bird City, was in the office recently sending out books c. o. d.

The matter of a Harvest Ingathering goal was presented to the Enterprise Church July 31. They very enthusiastically voted $1,000.00.

Brother H. S. Osterloh was in the office looking after the camp meeting affairs. He left at once for Topeka to secure furniture for the camp meeting.

Brother Ray C. Davis and wife and mother were here over Sunday to visit with Chas. Davis and wife. They were well pleased with the academy surroundings.

Brother Roy C. Baker made his appearance the other day after an absence of about five weeks out in the field and elsewhere. Brother Baker is now down near Ottawa.

Brother W. F. Surber reports that Chanute set its goal at $800.00, Eldorado $1,000.00, and Ottawa $1,000.00. The churches are very enthusiastic about the Harvest Ingathering.

Elder Wilkinson and Felix A. Lorenz left the office for the southeastern part of the state in the interest of the Harvest Ingathering goals. Arkansas City set its goal at $800.00, Oswego $1,000.00 and Wichita $2,000.00.

A bank draft on the Vesper State Bank for $75.00 was received from some one this week. No name was signed to the letter. Will the one who sent it kindly send us his name so that we might send receipt?

Professor D. D. Rees, of College View, was in our office the other day helping Brother Elmer E. Helligso, the new Missionary Volunteer secretary, with the work. Also Brother R. T. Emery was here for several days checking the accounts of the conference, tract society, and academy.

The committees for the camp meeting are as follows: Superintendent committee, H. S. Osterloh, A. E. Johnson, W. L. Nott; tents and equipment, H. S. Osterloh and F. I. Mohr; furniture, J. D. Conference

The first biennial (fortieth annual) session of the Kansas Seventh-day Adventist Conference will be held at Hutchinson, Kans., Aug. 26 to Sept. 5, 1920. The first session is called Friday, Aug. 27, at 11:00 a. m. At this meeting officers of the conference will be elected and such other business attended to as may come before the conference.

Delegates to the conference should be elected as soon as possible and names sent to the conference secretary. Blanks for this purpose have been mailed to each church clerk. One delegate is elected to represent the church, and one for every fifteen members or fractional majority.

Nebraska Camp Meeting

The camp meeting this year will be held in Heartwell Lake Park, a beautiful tract of land adjoining the sanitarium grounds, in Hastings, Nebraska, Sept. 2-12. A record attendance is expected, but we will be amply prepared to look after the needs of everyone. Thirty new tents have been purchased and fifty new bed springs. There will be more tents on the grounds this year than ever before, and plenty of good clean straw for ticks. Do not forget to bring straw ticks as these will not be available on the grounds. The rates this year will be as follows: tents $4.00 to $5.00, full floor $2.00, half floor $1.25, springs $1.00, straw for tick 35 cents. Advance orders for tents and equipment may be sent to me at the office in College View, and I will see that they are placed in the hands of the proper parties. Let us all plan to be at the meeting the full ten days, if possible, so that we may not miss any of the blessings the Lord has in store for us.

Obituary

BULLOCK: Sister Mildred Arloa Bullock was born in Portis, Osborne County, Kansas, June 7, 1900. In 1916 at the age of 16, she was baptized at camp meeting, and joined the Seventh-day Adventist church at Topeka, Kans. July 2, 1920, she was operated on for appendicitis in the St. Francis Hospital (Topeka). For nine days she lingered, but was unable to rally and passed away July 11.

Sister Bullock was in training in the Kansas Sanitarium for one year. During this year, and until the time of her death, her Christian experience was bright. Just before the end came she was asked, "Can you trust it all with Jesus"? She confidently replied, "Yes, I can."

Left to mourn their loss are the father and mother, Brother and Sister J. H. Bullock, three sisters, two brothers, many other relatives, and a host of friends. They mourn, but not as others, who have no hope.

The funeral service was held in the Congregational Church at Mapel Hill, Kans., which was the home of the deceased. Sadly we laid her to rest in the family lot until the morning of the resurrection.

"We may sleep, but not forever;

There will be a glorious dawn;
We shall meet to part, no, never,
On the resurrection morn.

From the deepest caves of ocean,

From the desert and the plain,

From the valley and the mountain,

Countless throngs shall rise again."

E. A. JONES.

"In The Land of The Incas"

Mobbed by a band of lawless priests, threatened with death if they would not kneel before the bishop, forced to go twenty-one miles on foot, and thrown into prison, was the experience of Camacho, our first convert to the truth among the Indians of the Andes region in South America, and a group of Christians at the mission conducted by Brother F. A. Stahl. The investigation of the false charges and the cruel treatment made by the Peruvian government widely influenced public sentiment in favor of Brother Stahl's work, and led to the passage of a bill in congress granting religious freedom. This is one of hundreds of experiences told by Brother Stahl in his new book "In the Land of the Incas" which tells the story of how more than fifteen hundred of these Indians in the region of the famous Lake Titicaca have been won to the truth. A wonderfully inspiring book. Now ready at your tract society. Price $1.25 post-paid.
