

"Signs" Reading Rack

It happened in Herman, California. "Mrs. Applegate had been making frequent calls at the office of Dr. Chaffin, where a Signs rack displayed copies of our missionary journal. While reading a copy she noticed the invitation to enroll in the Voice of Prophecy Bible Correspondence Course.

"In one of the magazines she also noticed an ad for the book, Bible Readings which she ordered from me. Mrs. Applegate read the large book in about two weeks during which time we kept in touch with her, for there were other leaders who were trying to change her mind. But Mrs. Applegate was convinced of the Sabbath truth and finally accepted the faith. Several of her relatives were enrolled in the Voice of Prophecy Correspondence Course, and three of them were baptized, with two others preparing for baptism.

"Mrs. Applegate, who is greatly enjoying her new found faith says, 'When new light is revealed to us, we ought to follow it.'"—G. G., Literature Evangelist.

Now for the good news! A beautiful Signs rack just like that pictured is available through the Oregon Bible House, 605 S.E. 39th Ave., Portland 14, Oregon. It is made of durable plywood, with a transparent plastic strip one inch across the top, and permanently attached supports at the bottom. The inviting words—FREE—TAKE ONE—appear on the bottom strip of convenient width to expose the larger portion of the beautiful cover page artistic presentation.

But the most attractive feature of this delightful missionary accessory is the price. Individually packaged in a corrugated case, it can be shipped anywhere in North America at a cost of only $1.85 per single unit postpaid. Remember, orders should be mailed direct to the Oregon Bible House, and will be handled with every possible dispatch.

For a certainty, it is highly significant that the church should be awake and alert as never before to the fact that these closing hours of this earth's history hold forth unheralded challenges and tremendous opportunities for its youth who will be led to prepare a firm and more sure foundation on Christian principles. Not only do the times in which we live demand this recognition, but the Lord also demands it of His people since He has provided the church with the plan of education in order "that our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth; that our daughters may be as corner stones, polished after the similitude of a palace; that our garners may be full." Psalms 144:12, 13. Therefore, being made more aware of the church's responsibility and the great challenge confronting our youth, it would be most expedient for every church, as well as every parent, to give some thought, make some plans, and originate some type of activity that will provide further encouragement in the promotion of attendance by our children and youth in Christian Schools this coming school year, 1958-59. Yes, Christian Education will mean a sacrifice to those who believe in and support it, but the value received in training our children and youth as co-workers for the Lord will more than justify the sacrifice.

The Kansas City, Kansas, Bethel Church School had a very good school year under the direction of Miss Jeffie L. Suttles, and their closing exercises for the church were a source of inspiration to those attending. The accompanying picture shows a scene in which the value of learning was depicted in a skit by the children.

The Kansas City, Missouri, Beacon Light School closed out their program for the school year with a very impressive Investiture service. Under the influence of Miss Shirley Smith, a teacher and Master Guide, the school children rallied to meet the requirements for their MV Classes. Together with the excellent teamwork provided by a co-worker, Mrs. Juanyta E. Moore, and the pastor, Elder M. A. Burgess, the children attending school received a very good program for the year. The accompanying picture shows Miss Smith with a group of children who were invested and who were in uniform.

Our final church school program was climaxed in St. Louis, Missouri, Berean church with the inclusion of the church MV society and Master Guide leadership in a combined church Investiture of 50 individuals, including two Master Guides, Mamie Penny and Helen Williams. With the pastor, Elder C. Sampson Myles, lending strong support to the MV and school program, the interest and enthusiasm are excellent for progress for greater achievements. The accompanying

Fairbury Church News

The Fairbury church members are alive for the Lord this summer. Last winter evangelistic meetings were held by Union College students, Nathan Sims and Jimmy Upchurch. Now the church members, plus four couples from Union College, are working under the direction of Elder E. S. Funk in following up the interests created last winter. We are happy to report one Bible study being given every week, besides general visitation.

The Fairbury church is also working for its young people. The MV Pathfinder organization has been started and members from three through ninety are faithfully coming for the MV Pathfinder meetings held Sabbath afternoons in the park. They join in the singspirations, Bible games, and are always ready for the big nature hike at the end of the program.

We consider it a happy privilege to work with the people of Fairbury in spreading the light of the gospel.

Torrington and Greybull District Camp Meetings

While at General Conference it was our good fortune to arrange for more guest speakers to attend these two district meetings. In addition to the men already announced for the Torrington meeting, Elder C. L. Paddock, Jr., of the Omaha Branch of the Pacific Press will be there. We are also happy to announce that Elder R. C. Williams, missionary to the Philippine Islands will have the Saturday night service and will show pictures of the mission work in the Philippines. Elder R. T. Carter from Platte Valley and Elder L. G. Barker from Campion will be at the Torrington meeting as well as the men from the Casper office and several of the district leaders. Elder N. C. Petersen, president of the Nebraska Conference, will be the guest speaker Sabbath morning. The Torrington meetings are being held in the grade school auditorium Friday evening and all day Sabbath, July 18 and 19. We urge those in the Newcastle and Cheyenne Districts to attend the Torrington District meeting.

The Greybull District meeting will be held in the High School auditorium Friday evening and all day Sabbath, July 25 and 26. In addition to having Elder L. L. McKinley, president of the Montana Conference, we are happy to announce that Elder C. W. Lee, veteran missionary to Korea, will be at this meeting. He also will have pictures to show and a thrilling report of the work in that part of the world. Elder Lee was at his post of duty during the war years and will have interesting stories to tell. Elder A. E. Storz, Bible teacher from Campion Academy, will be at the Greybull meeting as well as the men from the Casper office and several district leaders. The Worland and Sheridan Districts are included in this district meeting.

Everyone who is able to attend either of these district camp meetings will surely be thrilled by the report from the missionaries and the spiritual help and encouragement that always comes from meetings of this kind. We trust that everyone in the conference will either have had the privilege of attending the meetings in Casper last week, or will attend one of these district meetings. There will be a special book sale from the book and Bible house at each of these places.

Impressions!

The other day I had an experience that shook me, shamed me, and challenged me. A Literature Evangelist and I came to a home where there were three children, the oldest being about five years old. To our surprise, we learned that the mother had not been to church since she married. Here was an entire family without any church connection. Our hearts went out in sympathy to this mother as we urged her to take the children to church and to study the Bible with her family daily.

The lady also informed us that we were the first Christian people to encourage her, that no one had ever invited her to attend church. "There is a little church just a block or so away on the next street," the woman went on to explain, "but the members are so poor and so few that they come over sometimes to get donations to keep their church going. But they never ask us to attend their services."

As we walked away from this house, I stopped dead in my tracks, when I heard the Literature Evangelist say, "That little church mentioned is an Adventist Church!"

With a heavy heart, I marched on, my mind flooded with such thoughts as: What sort of impression are we leaving with the people? We collect money for Ingathering to aid others, yet somehow we leave the impression that we can't support our own local church. Are we really more interested in their donations than in their presence at our meetings? How can we correct such impressions?

My brethren, don't you think that we should awaken to the fact that time is short and that people everywhere need to hear the invitation to the marriage feast of the Lamb? I have learned by experience that one of the best organized methods of extending this invitation is by evangelistic canvassing with our wonderful literature. I appeal to you to use this effective soul-winning agency in your own neighborhood.

Vacation Bible School time is not only a time of Bible study and story telling, but it is also a time for play. Mrs. Ballard directs her group of primary children in a game of catch the ruler. Thank You

It is a pleasure to report that the Missouri Conference reached its objective in the MILLION-DOLLAR OFFERING. Our goal was $8,553.00 and to date we have received $8,953.49.

Certainly the Lord has blessed in what has been accomplished and we do want to take this opportunity of thanking the Missouri members for the wonderful way in which you responded to this great offering. Our local elders and district leaders promoted this in a strong way and they met with a hearty response from the believers. Conference Officials Chat with Native Minister

The first delegate to report at the registration desk at the General Conference Session in Cleveland, Ohio, was Kila Galama, a New Guinea native, whose head-hunting grandfather practiced cannibalism. Kila, a 37-year-old Fuzzy-Wuzzy, was born 70 miles east of Port Moresby, Papua (Australian New Guinea). He is an ordained native minister of the SDA Church and is president of the Western Papuan Mission. He directs the activities of 24 native ministers and missionaries working among the natives of the Fly River country. Kila speaks excellent English, which he learned as a student at our mission schools in New Guinea. He is a very intelligent person with a lively personality. He travels among the heathen natives giving the gospel and teaching them better health habits and hygiene. In order to raise more money to train and equip more native workers, Kila hunts alligators, whose hides he sells. Enroute to the General Conference Kila Galama spoke in the World War II Memorial Building in Kansas City, Missouri.

From West Plains District

Gary and David Haugsted graduated from the eighth grade of the West Plains church school this year, and plan to further their education at Sunnysdale Academy.

These boys have been an inspiration to the church because since they were little tots they have always helped with the Ingathering caroling program each year. Almost all of the people in West Plains know them by their names. These boys went out with me in bitter cold weather in the caroling program, and together they received almost $400.00. We are going to miss them, but wish them God's blessing. We are also thankful for their Godly parents who are willing to sacrifice that these boys may continue their education in a Christian school.

Elder Sherrill, on the night of graduation, also conducted an Investiture service. Those invested were: Mary Kunsman, Sharon Kunsman, Paula Scott, Daniel Hutchinson, Lynn Davidson, Gary Haugsted and David Haugsted. Mrs. Jannette Green, the church school teacher, led out in the progressive class work and prepared the students for the Investiture service. We have appreciated the fine work of Mrs. Green in the West Plains church school.

The Cooking School opened with great enthusiasm under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Wood of Willow Springs, one of the representatives from District No. 13 to the Cooking School conducted last fall in Kansas City. The classes were held in the home of Mrs. Homer Satterfield of West Plains.

The homemakers attending these classes were required to try a new recipe every week. The families benefiting from this Cooking School have enjoyed some new delights in eating, remembering the old adage, "You are what you eat."

We hope that this new experience in Cooking Schools will be repeated in other churches in the district, and that many more may benefit from these helpful lectures.

blessings to all of us. This means school is out for another year, a year which has been a very good one for the fine school operated by our Fruita, Palisade and Grand Junction churches. We had an enrollment this year of just over 100 students who were led through a most successful year by our fine staff of teachers under the leadership of Elder Max Torkelsen. Several families have moved to our district recently from areas where they had no church school, just to have their children in our excellent ten-grade school. We have been especially proud of the musical work of our students under Elder Torkelsen this past year. Over 40 students were enrolled in our two school bands. A project by the students during the school year was successful in raising funds for the purchase of some fine band uniforms. Our school will be headed again by Elder Torkelsen for next year and the faculty will include Miss Cora Lee, Mrs. Opal Northrup, Mr. David Carlson, and Mr. Sylvester Bietz.

We are in the midst of another good Vacation Bible School. It is being led this year by Mrs. Esther Brown who has a host of willing helpers. We expect an average attendance of over 100 children. Very soon we will be in the middle of Junior Camp. This is quite a task for us on the Western Slope as it means a round trip of over 600 miles. We are hoping every boy and girl of proper age will be able to go.

We have an expanding medical work in our area. Names of all our medical workers were given in my last report with the exception of one of our fine medical workers, Kenneth Phillips, medical technician at St. Mary's hospital. Soon to be added to our fine medical group are Dr. Byron Glantz, dentist and Dr. Ward Studt, orthopedic surgeon. It is hoped also that a dentist from the senior class at Loma Linda will be locating soon in Palisade.

We are gratified over the steady progress being made toward the raising of funds for our new Grand Junction church. If present plans reach fulfillment, and conference approval is granted, it should not be long before actual construction begins on our new church. Even though our people have given heavily toward the new church in Grand Junction, it is good to know that this year not only Grand Junction, but also our district, is well ahead of last year in tithes and mission offerings.

We are never satisfied with the spiritual progress we are making nor with the amount of work we do for others in home missionary work. It is our desire to fulfill our obligations to God and to our neighbors more completely all the time. We are happy over the baptism of ten souls thus far this year and pray that many others with whom we are working will take their stand soon. With a small increase in membership we will reach a membership of 300 in Grand Junction and 400 in our district. This is an important goal towards which we are aiming and which we expect to reach soon.

VBS News and Other News from Greeley District

The work of God is progressing in the Greeley, Fort Morgan and Briggsdale District. We have just finished conducting our fourth Annual Vacation Bible School and we are very happy with the results. We had an enrollment again this year of about 220 students which was a little under a year ago, but we intended it to be that way, since we were overcrowded last year. The Greeley church has recently placed new highway signs on the leading highways through the city so that passers-by might be able to pause and worship with them.

The Fort Morgan church has recently received a new roof as an added physical feature, but spiritually speaking, progress is being made there, too. At the moment about one-half of the city has been worked door-to-door in the New Survey

Greeley, Colorado, Vocation Bible School

Plan to get people to read the book, What Jesus Said, and there are about 75 persons now enrolled in study courses either in cottage meetings or correspondence courses. The work has been a little difficult there for some reason but God will surely bless and not leave His word to return unto Him void.

Presently we have enrolled about 35 laymen in the Greeley church who have set their hands to the task of giving Bible studies. About one-half of these are now actively engaged in the work of soul winning. A few of them are on the waiting list and as soon as the opportunity arises and they can be properly trained they too shall be on the battle front. There is a great work to be done, the harvest is ripe; we wish to ask an interest in the prayers of our believers in the Central Union. We shall be happy to remember our fellow-believers as well, that God will give us grace to do His work willingly and tactfully, so that we might soon be privileged to become the citizens of the new earth.

Serving Her Master for Seventy-six Years!

It is not at all unusual for us to hear of individuals who have been members of God's Remnant Church for periods of 30, 40, or even 50 years. But Mrs. Annie Anderson of Greeley, Colorado, whose picture you see has had the privilege of serving her Master for 76 years! She united with the church when she was a little girl of 13 and has been a loyal worker in the cause for over three-fourths of a century. Even though she now has reached the age of 89, and cannot attend church as regularly as she would like, she is faithfully discharging her duties and attempting to sow the seeds of truth faithfully beside such waters as she can. She faithfully labors with her hands, gathering used sweaters which she turns back into yarn and makes into Afghans, she crochets table pieces, chair sets, etc., which are turned into cash and sent to the Voice of Prophecy. During this past year she has raised over $800 in this manner! She also makes use of every opportunity to purchase books such as What Jesus Said and the like, to be given to persons with whom she makes contact. Truly she is doing what she can to advance the cause of God. Think what would happen if all our membership were as faithful as this dear sister. Perhaps those of us who are younger might well analyze our cases to see if we are doing what we can and ought to cause the church to grow and prosper; so that we too might be numbered among the blessed whose hearts have been kept warm and aglow for the truth with enthusiasm for the coming of Christ's kingdom, even after many years.

Cedaredge Revival Meetings

A series of meetings were held at the Cedaredge Seventh-day Adventist Church, beginning April 19 and continuing through May 31 with services being held each Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday evening. A film on the life of Christ was shown each evening. The attendance at the meetings averaged between 65 to 80. The local church members were faithful in supporting the meetings by attending and bringing their friends.

victory to our church members, culminated in an inspiring climax Sabbath afternoon, May 31, when eight dear souls followed their Lord in baptism, to unite with God's people in preparing for the coming of Jesus and to help others get ready for His return. Several others are studying and preparing to take the step in baptism soon.

Many members of the Delta Adventist Church attended the meetings and we especially appreciated the help of Mrs. Mary Jeffers and the quartet from the Delta church in conducting the music program.

It is a real privilege to live and labor in this field.

The Principal Reports

In a letter received from L. G. Barker, principal of Campion Academy, while he was attending the General Conference Session, were some interesting statements gleaned from a report given by the educational department. He mentioned that space does not permit using but one or two statements given.

We quote from his letter: "During our history we have sent about 10,000 missionaries to the foreign field since 1874. Over 9,000 of these are products of SDA schools. Of the 40,000 current employees now serving the denomination more than 90% are graduates of our schools.

"Last year we sent out 837 missionaries. All were the products of our schools."

Elder Barker stated that he was very happy for Campion Academy and all the other schools that we operate and what a wonderful plan God has for His youth in our own schools. Won't you plan to come to Campion Academy this coming fall?

DEWOLF - SAUER

It was indeed a happy occasion Sunday afternoon, May 25, when Miss Joyce Dewolf and John Sauer were united in marriage at the Greeley Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Wedding vows were exchanged with Elder D. H. Miller officiating.

Reception was held with 120 guests extending their blessings upon the new couple which will be at home at 1803 East Twentieth Street, Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Summer Evenings

by

Lydia Lion Roberts

"Where are the children?" inquired Mrs. West as she joined some friends on Mrs. Holmes' piazza.

"They are sailing boats in the bathtub," replied the hostess. "Very often on warm evenings, before they go to bed, I let them prepare the bathtub half-full of water, put on their bathing suits and play they are at the beach. They keep cool and comfortable in that way, do not disturb the rest of the family, and go to sleep quickly and happily afterwards. It is so much better for them than vigorous exercise out of doors near bedtime, in the warm weather."

"I wish the neighbors around us would keep their children quiet these warm evenings," sighed another woman. "The boys and girls race about the streets after dinner, running and shouting until they are too warm and tired to go to sleep at bedtime. When they finally are called into the house, we often hear wails and protests here and there for another hour before peace descends upon the neighborhood."

"The family next door to us have a clever idea," said Mrs. West. "The mother calls it a Bedtime Party. Everyone helps with the dishes except the father; he reads the paper. Then they all, including Father, go out onto the back piazza. An old blanket is spread out on the floor for the children to sit on. They take turns in choosing games and play for an hour. The mother watches the newspapers and magazines for new games that are interesting but not noisy. Sometimes other children join the party. At the bedtime hour everyone has a cool drink, and then the children trot off happily to bed. It is so pleasant to hear their voices and laughter and know they are being so intelligently cared for."

"That plan, too, gives the children an opportunity to get better acquainted with their father without annoying him at the end of a busy day," observed Mrs. Holmes.

"One of the loveliest memories of my childhood," said another woman, "is of summer evenings spent on the front piazza with my father. I did not realize until long afterward how much he taught me in that companionship. We listened to the hum of summer's many little voices and tried to distinguish them. We watched the changes in the evening sky and made up stories about the clouds. Often we played quiet games such as 'Twenty Questions' and 'Alphabet Store,' or exchanged conundrums. Of course, I went off contentedly, ready for a refreshing sleep."

Did You Know

That many churches are planning to have a Family Retreat this summer?

That your entire family—father, mother, children—should plan to attend?

That families that play together usually stay together?

Ask your Home and School leader about his plans for a Family Retreat.

Tiny Thinkers

After Marjorie had had a thorough shampoo, she went into the living room and curled up in grandpa's lap. She began wondering why his hair was so white when all the rest had dark hair. At last she spoke her mind, "Grandpa, your hair is white because you have washed it so many, many times, isn't it?"

"God's gifts make children happy and strong."

We wish the Lord's richest blessings upon this newly established home.

City Pastor Builds Church and Wins Souls

Our city pastors are dedicated and busy men. They have on their hearts the burden for the masses in their territory. In addition, they face the problems of adequately housing their congregations and providing church school facilities for the children of the church. These workers, along with all others, need our daily prayers and loyal support.

Typical of such pastors is Elder Ray Davidson, of St. Louis, Missouri. Recently, under his inspiring leadership, the St. Louis congregation completed their new church home. All agree that it is one of the finest church edifices in the Central Union. Not being content with this splendid achievement, Elder Davidson launched into vigorous evangelistic effort in the new building. The church members gave excellent support—well, let the pastor tell results. He writes:

"God has blessed the efforts of our people in the Central St. Louis church in a wonderful way in the past few months. Our laymen have been active in every phase of the Lord's work.

"In spite of the transportation problems in this great metropolitan area of St. Louis, it has been most encouraging to have such a large number of our church members attend every meeting of our recent evangelistic series in the church. The meetings began April 20 and continued two nights each week through June 15. Thus far 16 precious souls have united with the church by baptism as a result of the meetings, making a total of 32 that have been baptized and joined the Central St. Louis church the first six months of this year.

Surely this number would have been much smaller had it not been for the faithful work of our consecrated laymen in the church.

"As we come to the last six months of the year, pray that God will pour out His Spirit on His people that they will continue to work diligently in God's great program in this large city, that the work might be finished quickly."

We are confident that the St. Louis church will exceed its baptismal goal for 1958. The time is here for each church to do mighty things for God. Soon probation will close and what needs to be done must be done quickly.

What about your district? We are counting on it to add at least 25 new converts before the close of 1958. May we hear from you?

ALL CITIES TO BE WORKED

"All our cities are to be worked. The Lord is coming. The end is near; yea, it hasteth greatly! In a little while from this we shall be unable to work with the freedom that we now enjoy. Terrible scenes are before us, and what we do we must do quickly. We must now build up the work in every place possible."—Mrs. E. G. White, Evangelism, p. 40.
