

Central Union Elementary Teachers' Convention

"Wonderful," "most helpful," "inspiring," "the best teachers' convention I ever attended" were some of the comments made by the 153 teachers present at the Central Union Elementary Teachers' Convention held in Glenwood Springs, Colorado, October 8-12.

Elder D. W. Holbrook, director of college relations at Union College, spoke at morning and evening devotional meetings each day. The communion service which was conducted on Friday evening was a fitting period of heart-searching and rededication. The vesper service held on the banks of the Roaring Fork River at sunset Sabbath evening will live long in the memory of those who were there.

The lecture periods and workshops emphasizing art, music, mathematics, reading, and audio-visual aids filled a definite need. Among the guests and teachers who brought practical help and inspiration were: Mrs. Virginia Lohman Shoun, art consultant from Loma Linda, California; Merritt Schumann, music director of Campion Academy; G. P. Stone and Mrs. Autumn Miller, both members of the faculty of the Union College department of education; Miss Iris Donaly of Helen Hyatt School, Lincoln, and Mrs. Delphine Gates and other elementary teachers from Mile High Academy, Denver.

Mrs. Mary Beans of Canon City, Colorado, received a special certificate of perfect attendance for 30 years of church school teaching.

Honor was bestowed on Miss Mabel Madsen, Denver, Colorado; and Mrs. Mabel Haag, Nevada, Missouri, by awarding them each a five-star service pin and twenty-five silver dollars for having completed twenty-five or more years of teaching in Seventh-day Adventist schools. Previous recipients of five-star pins, Miss Maude Reid of Helen Hyatt School, Lincoln, and Mrs. Mary Beans of Canon City, Colorado, were at this time presented gold service pins and corsages for thirty or more years of teaching in denominational schools. An added honor for Mrs. Beans was the awarding of a special certificate of perfect attendance for thirty years. This is an enviable record and one that cannot easily be duplicated.

Mrs. Margaret Gunderson of Wichita, Kansas, received the Teacher-of-the-Year Award from Elder L. G. Barker.

Climax of the closing meeting of the convention was the presentation of the Central Union Teacher-of-the-Year Award for selfless service in the ministry of teaching which went to Mrs. Margaret Gunderson who for the past ten years has been a teacher in the Wichita, Kansas, school.

Two Treats

The editors of the Review and Herald have just informed me that one of the most significant series of articles ever to appear in the Review will begin in the November 14 issue. The series, prepared by Elder L. E. Froom, author of the four-volume set of books, The Prophetic Faith of Our Fathers, provides a preview of the material that will soon appear in The Conditionalist Faith of Our Fathers, two new volumes in the Faith of Our Fathers series.

In the eight articles Elder Froom presents in terse, popular form, the gist of evidence searched out in the libraries of the Old World and the New, showing that the Adventist position on the nature of man has been held by leading scholars throughout the centuries. The word "conditionalist" used in this series signifies a person who believes in the doctrine of conditional immortality, in contrast to the popular teaching that man has an immortal soul.

With Satan's final attack against truth to be made by marshalling the churches in league with Spiritism, this series of articles is especially timely and significant. It will fortify every reader to resist the deceptions that are destined to sweep the world.

Review readers have another treat in store also. Dr. Bert B. Beach is now in Rome covering the second session of Vatican Council II for the Review. His splendid reports on the first session last year were outstanding, and we believe that his articles this year will be of the same authoritative, penetrating quality.

Week of Prayer

"Safe to Save" is the theme of the Union College Week of Prayer being conducted by Elder A. Graham Maxwell, October 27 to November 2.

A. Graham Maxwell

This subject is intended to answer the question, "What is the only requirement for salvation?" According to Elder Maxwell the single requisite is that a man be safe to save.

For instance, Nicodemus kept the Sabbath, paid tithe, practiced health reform, and read his Bible. But, Jesus told him that he was not yet fit to be saved. That missing ingredient is what is being studied.

Elder Maxwell is currently director of the religion department at Loma Linda University where he has taught for the past two years. He is a graduate of Pacific Union College and received his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago in the field of the New Testament.

He is a brother of Union's C. Mervyn Maxwell, associate professor of religion, and a son of Elder Arthur S. Maxwell, author of Bedtime Stories, Bible Stories, and currently editor of the Signs of the Times.

Many weeks of prayer on the West Coast have been conducted by Elder Maxwell, and his most recent weeks of prayer have been at Walla Walla College and Andrews University.

Wednesday, October 23, was devoted to this venture, and approximately 65 bands of 4 or 5 students each, participated.

At the end of the day, the entire group met in the gym for a reporting session, and an auction of the produce brought in during the day took place.

Tragedy in Missionary Volunteer Work

On Sabbath, October 12, the young people of the Beacon Light SDA Church in Kansas City, Missouri, carried out their usual program of visiting the hospital to sing for the sick and shut-ins. For several years they have carried on this type of work. Little did the group realize as they left for their work that death and disaster was lurking behind them.

Having completed their work and en route home from the Shawnee Mission Hospital, the young man driving lost control of the car; it turned over throwing its occupants out. Killed almost instantly was Adolph Brown, Jr., 17; seriously injured were Paula Webb, Florestine Robinson, Ella Mary Clanton, and Hubert Allen. The driver of the car was unhurt, but suffered traumatic shock. Those riding in the other cars seeing the tragedy were greatly shocked, also.

Three members of the group have been released from the hospital; the other one is improving. Our hearts go out to the young people who had been helping others.

Adolph Brown was fine, faithful, and dutiful to the church. He was of great assistance to the conference at camp meeting and at junior camp. He was always courteous and dependable. We have suffered a great loss.

We point the family of the deceased and the injured to Christ, the Life-giver, knowing that He is too wise to err and too loving to be unkind. We know that our conference family of young people know these young people and would want to send cards and pray for them in this sad hour.

Evangelism Offering, November 9

Is there any greater thrill than to see individuals unite with God's remnant church? This is made possible by a consistent soul-winning program. In Evangelism, page 17, we note the following: "Evangelistic work, opening the Scriptures to others, warning men and women of what is coming upon the world, is to occupy more and still more of the time of God's servants."

We are earnestly urging that a very liberal offering for Evangelism be received on Sabbath, November 9. We are all interested in the regions beyond, and must never lose our interest in them. The light that shines the farthest shines the brightest nearest home. On this Sabbath, November 9, we invite all of our people to join in making a sacrificial offering for Evangelism. Some will be impressed to give large sums.

Let us all turn in our little bank containers on this Sabbath. Every one in attendance can have a part in this very important offering. If we do our best, it is pleasing to the Lord. We are counting on you.

Follow-up of VBS in Wichita

The Wichita Sabbath School followed its Daily Vacation Bible School this year with the organization of a Sunday school held in the church each Sunday morning at ten o'clock for the boys and girls of the community. Even though it began with small attendance, it has continued to grow. The Sabbath school council took action recently to make a concerted drive through visitation in the immediate area of the church to build up the attendance. It is hoped that in the days to come that the Sunday school will increase, and that

Oberlin Fair Booth Exhibit

The Oberlin church has maintained a fair booth exhibit for several years, and the theme for their 1963 booth was Disaster Relief. The accompanying pictures reveal the detailed art work that was displayed showing the aftermath of a tornado. In the foreground is pictured a health and welfare worker in dress uniform, supplying help to one of the victims as pictured in the lower picture.

The display attracted hundreds of visitors and as a result both literature and Bible school correspondence cards were distributed freely.

Speaking of using fair exhibits, the servant of the Lord says, "At all such gatherings there should be present men whom God can use. Leaflets containing the light of present truth should be scattered among the people like the leaves of autumn. To many who attend these gatherings these leaflets would be as the leaves of the tree of life, which are for the healing of the nations. . . . The time has come when, as never before, Seventh-day Adventists are to arise and shine, because their light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon them." —Evangelism, p. 36.

Mrs. Melvin Peters,
Church Press Secretary

not only children and youth, but adults as well will have the opportunity to learn God's precious truth.

One of the mothers of the children who has been attending, has already decided to become a member of the church. The children seem over-joyed with the messages that are brought through stories and the use of visual aids. They join heartily in the singing of the choruses and songs. This indeed is a splendid method to bring them to the feet of the Saviour so that they may learn of His precious love.

The Spirit of Prophecy has given encouragement for this kind of work in the following words: "If these lessons are presented in love and tenderness, they will leave a lasting impression upon the minds and hearts of the youth. As images and objects are reflected from the face of the mirror, when revealed by the sunlight, so these themes will be mirrored in the mind when illumined by the love of Christ."—Counsels on Sabbath School Work, pp. 107, 108.

A Pony for Your Child

For those of you living in a city this may not sound very interesting. However, before you skip this article, read on.

The thought questions at the end of the chapters help bring the good lessons home to each child. Everyone will enjoy the surprise that awaits the reader at the end of the book.

Flash!

Thirty-five smokers registered at Rolla's second Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking program conducted by D. F. Andreasen, M.D., of Rolla, Missouri, and P. A. Kostenko, temperance secretary of the Missouri Conference. Newspaper and radio publicity was superb. Excellent interest was manifested in the city. Some well-known Rolla citizens expressed appreciation to Seventh-day Adventists for this humanitarian work.

We need to conduct many more Five-Day Plans in the state. Please give liberally on Temperance Sabbath, November 9, to make this possible.

Education Moves Forward!

Educationally, things are not at a standstill in Missouri. Our church school teachers are of the finest quality. And, for the most part, they are continuing in their professional growth.

A Master's degree was conferred by Andrews University on James Hudgins this summer. Brother Hudgins is principal of the Kansas City Intermediate School.

He is to be commended for his dedication to the cause of God. In order to qualify himself to better serve our constituency, he forged ahead in spite of great personal sacrifices. He has heavy financial responsibilities with young people of his own in the academy. But how I admire him for his practice of what he believes!

And now, Christian friend, may I insert a word to you—you who go to church each week—yes, you who have not done "anything wrong"? But what have you done lately for the boys and girls who sit in your pews? Have you given them a chance at Christian education? Have you put your shoulder to the wheel? Many have, and thank the Lord for the same devotion to the cause of God by all our people as that which was display-

A Long Walk

I want you to use your imagination for a few moments.

You are in Canada—driving along one of the country's beautiful highways. As you round a bend in the road, you notice a funeral procession approaching. The mourners are walking. Thousands of them. You hit the brakes and pull off to the side of the road.

It's a strange funeral procession. You have never seen anything like it before in your life. It is not just a funeral for one—it must be a mass funeral! There is not just a single coffin—there are coffins as far as you can see! Most of the coffins are about the same size—custom made for adults. You estimate that they would average about six and a half feet in length. The procession is moving slowly—surely not more than three miles an hour. About 18 to 20 feet separates the coffins in the procession.

You wait for 10 minutes—you start to count—you lose count—you become impatient. But you can't move on. You wait a half hour. An hour. The procession moves slowly past. Two hours. Three hours—when will the end ever come? At long last—there it is! The end of the procession. Hundreds have gone by—how many? You inquire of the officer at the end of the procession. Grimed faced he tells you. "Two and a half thousand," he says. Suddenly you remember that you were born in a little town of two and a half thousand.

"Tell me, Sir, what terrible tragedy has befallen these people?"

"These were not killed in war," he replies, "Nor were they killed in traffic accidents, nor were their lives snuffed out by an earthquake, a landslide, or a hurricane."

"Tell me, Sir," you insist, "Tell me, what killed them?"

"These are they," he says, "Who died in one year in our fair land of lung cancer. Nearly all smoked."

He hands you a pledge. You sign it.

Remember the November 9 Temperance Offering.

A Week End At Kahoka

Food was the chief subject of conversation in the Kahoka Seventh-day Adventist church the week end of October 5 and 6. The Kahoka church invited Elder and Mrs. H. R. Coats to be their guests for this particular week end to conduct a cooking school. In addition to the Kahoka church a good portion of the Fairmont church were in attendance, as were several conference church members.

The school actually started Sabbath morning when Elder Coats took the regular worship service and sounded the keynote of the purpose of this project. Sabbath afternoon was largely taken up by a lively discussion of the various aspects of health reform, and especially of the Spirit of Prophecy quotations concerning the importance of mastering the art of cookery.

Sunday morning the cooking school was moved from the church basement to the Kahoka Public Library kitchen and community room. This enabled Elder and Mrs. Coats to illustrate their lecture by actually preparing the various foods and dishes discussed. Special emphasis was given to the use of herbs in seasoning the food to reduce the desire for flesh meat and sweets. There was a good attendance of the ladies for this actual demonstration Sunday morning with most of the husbands coming at the noon hour to sample the results of the morning's activities.

There was such an interesting array of food prepared that it was bewildering to the person with a limited eating capacity. The menu began with fine herb butter and went on to include stew, chile made without chile, vegetables of various kinds, boiled dinners, roast, and several of our health food preparations. Many made the same mistake, as did the writer, and took too large a sample and found themselves totally incapable of sampling everything. However, everyone sampled enough to agree that the school was a great success.

District 13 Report

We bring you greetings from District 13 and the beautiful Ozark Mountains. The fall air is turning crisp and the trees are putting on their red and gold fall coats. In this district God has about 250 members who are looking forward to His soon return.

We have two church schools in the district. Mrs. E. H. Neufeld is teaching at Mansfield. Mrs. Stephanie Williams is teaching our school for Willow Springs and West Plains which is held at West Plains. Both schools and teachers are having a good year.

Willow Springs has had a successful Vacation Bible School this past summer. The enlarged attendance has made it necessary to make additional Sabbath school rooms for the primary and cradle roll divisions. An area behind the pulpit is being partitioned off to provide the needed space.

The week end of October 11-13 saw the first district-wide Pathfinder Camporee which was held at Noblet Lake.

There were 21 youth and 9 adults in attendance. Each area of the district was represented. We had a good week end and I am sure the youth are looking forward to the future Pathfinder program.

Sunnydale Ingathering Field Day

Sunnydale Academy ingathers solicited more than eighty dollars per carload as they easily passed their $750 goal for Ingathering Field Day on October 8.

Of the eleven carloads of students participating, Dean Ivins' car was the most successful. The six boys in this group—Mike Sloat, Dean Rogers, Jim Chase, Bob Saunders, Dick Olsen, and David Gien—brought in $175. Of this total, ten dollars was a bonus promised by Elder Coats to the car which could bring in $165.

Four other cars topped the $100 mark, some receiving single contributions of twenty, thirty, and even forty dollars.

City officials complimented Elder R. E. Brewer, who drove one of the cars, for the fine manner in which his group conducted themselves. One policeman said that these were the "finest solicitors" to ever visit that city.

A thoughtfully refreshing presentation of the inspiring prophecies of Daniel and the Revelation. Here is a full-message book, built around the two books of Scripture most slanted to the space age in which we live. Final events and the course of history leading up to them, as well as the basic and testing truths of God's Word, are amply and convincingly covered in this new volume.

By R. F. COTTRELL

Time is getting short. "I have been instructed that the prophecies of Daniel and the Revelation should be printed in small books, with the necessary explanations, and should be sent all over the world." "There is need of a much closer study of the word of God; especially should Daniel and the Revelation have attention as never before in the history of our work."—Testimonies to Ministers, pp. 117, 112.

Appealing, heartwarming, and persuasive, the messages in Beyond Tomorrow are truly needed now as never before.

Porter Hospital Moves Forward

It is a pleasure to present a progress report on the new addition of Porter Memorial Hospital. The building is coming along on schedule and will, it is expected, be ready for occupancy sometime in February. The accompanying picture taken some time ago gives some idea as to the size of this new project.

When the new addition of the hospital is completed it will bring the total bed capacity to over 300. During the year 1962 Porter was host to 11,875 inpatients, and for the four years 1959-1962 inclusive the total number was 45,634.

Also shown on this page is a drawing of the housing plan for employees. To get the needed Seventh-day Adventist help at our institutions it is very important to have a place for the workers to live. The two housing units shown by the arrows have the foundations poured and are the ones that will be constructed at this time, and will be ready in about seven months. They will house 52 employees.

O. T. Moline

The administrator of Porter Memorial Hospital, O. T. Moline, has been advanced to Fellowship in the American College of Hospital Administrators, which took place last August in New York City.

This is the new addition being built at Porter Memorial Hospital.

With the many patients coming to Porter every year it can readily be seen that there is a very large opportunity to make friends for the Seventh-day Adventist church.

For what is being accomplished, I wish to express my appreciation and thanks to Brother Moline and the many fine, loyal, dedicated workers at Porter Memorial Hospital.
