Let Us Win More Souls

Through different means we are made aware that El Centinela has a great influence over a large number of its readers. The magazine has the necessary moral ascendancy to perform its evangelistic work. One proof of this is the response we receive to several devices for establishing direct contact with the readers. The Voice of Prophecy Spanish Bible Correspondence Course coupon we print every month brings the most encouraging returns. Let us see one example of the remarkable work the magazine does in this respect. Here is a paragraph taken from a letter we received not long ago from Elder Manuel Nestares, director of the Voice of Prophecy Spanish Bible Correspondence School:

"We are receiving enrollments from readers of El Centinela regularly. The number varies from week to week, but a conservative guess would be an average of 30 enrollments every week, which makes a total of at least 1500 enrollments per year. This means that El Centinela is an instrument in the hands of the church to win souls that otherwise would never have known about the soon-coming Saviour."

We can also see how much people trust El Centinela by the great number of requests for advice on personal problems of almost every kind. This, of course, gives us the opportunity to lead those readers to God and His Word as their guide and source of comfort. In many cases we send their names to local pastors who follow up the interest better. Some of these people, so thankful for the benefits they have received by following the advice given, have sent offerings to El Centinela. We know of some who have also given their own lives as living offerings.

If these readers are so ready to follow advice given by El Centinela, they may also be willing to accept the religious truths it presents every month.

A word may be timely here about the source of articles for El Centinela. Because you might like to know what kind of material we publish. Although we get some original articles written in Spanish and our staff contributes in every issue, most of our articles are translated from a wealth of excellent Seventh-day Adventist magazines. From English we try to select what we consider the best of the American Signs of the Times, Listen, Liberty, Life and Health, These best of the American Signs of the Times, (from Australia), Our Time (from England), Our Times (from India), two French magazines (Signes de Temps and Vie et Sante), two Portuguese papers (O Atalaia and Vida e Saude). Sometimes we reproduce good editorials from our two sister Spanish magazines (Vida Feliz and Juventud).

Please use El Centinela with confidence because its material is the best we can possibly find to accomplish its soul-winning purpose, and mainly because the Lord has been using it for years to bring many souls into His kingdom. Would you add many more souls to the church by simply sponsoring more copies of El Centinela this year?

If you do not have names of your own Spanish-speaking neighbors, we are able to secure names of thousands of people whose only chance to know our message may be by reading El Centinela. If you supply the funds, we have plenty of good names. As in the past, the Lord will certainly add His blessing to our endeavors and YOUR GENEROSITY.

A Copy of "Signs" At The Right Place

Mrs. Charles Kelley found a copy of Signs of the Times in a rack at the bus depot in Fredericktown, Missouri. The messages she read brought hope and cheer to her heart.

One day Mrs. Kelley arranged for an appointment with Dr. Charles Michaelis, a very dedicated doctor in Fredericktown. In his waiting room office she found a copy of Signs of the Times. She read the articles

Dr. Charles Michaelis and Mrs. Charles Kelley in this issue her heart was stirred. She was impressed that here was truth.

Mrs. Kelley could not retain her joy, and talked to Dr. Michaelis about spiritual truths. Because of her interest, Bible studies were conducted in the Kelley home and, in January 1964, Mrs. Kelley was baptized. Already she is an ardent missionary for the Lord.

It paid to have copies of Signs of the Times at the right place at the right time. It resulted in a soul being born into the kingdom of God.

Ministerial Students

Hold Evangelistic Meetings

Four senior ministerial majors from Union College will begin a series of evangelistic meetings at the old Adventist Church, 15th and "E" Streets in Lincoln, Nebraska, April 9.

The four men are Don Baer, Gary Brendel, David Wolkwitz, and Ken Schelske. Elder Perry Green, Lincoln Piedmont Park church pastor, will be guiding and assisting them.

The meetings will last through April. "Dead Men Do Tell Tales" is the title of the first sermon, April 9. The meetings will be held four evenings each week, Friday through Monday. Each meeting will begin with a song service at 7:30. Al Mazat and Ray Daniels will lead out in this part in the meetings.

Features before the sermon will include special numbers and a nature or temperance film. Teams of two have been visiting nearby residents for the past several weeks. "All these ideas are efforts to get a better and more enthusiastic audience," remarked one of the group.

The evangelistic effort will close May 1. "We look forward to this series of meetings as a wonderful way to share

"Pan the Piper" is the story of the development of the orchestra. Ken Albertsen will narrate this picture in music.

Other special features will be the TrumPets and a featured piano solo with orchestra accompaniment.

La Vida Mission Well

One of the greatest blessings the Lord poured upon Israel as they traveled through the wilderness and desert land of Sinai, was to bring forth for them an abundant supply of water from the Rock which followed them. The Lord is also pouring out His blessings on our soul-winning work at the La Vida Mission for Navajo Indians. One of these tokens is that He has given this Mission an abundant supply of water for use in this dry and desert land.

Three cousins, Earl, Dick and Jim Spaulding, who run a pump business in Boulder, Colorado, along with Fred Harding, took their Thanksgiving vacation-time and made a trip to the La Vida Mission. They took with them also, dragline equipment and they sank a well for the Mission free of charge. The thanks of the entire conference, the Mission, and the Navajo Mission Board all go to these men and their associates for this wonderful advantage they have given to our Indian Mission work.

The well is about 25 feet deep and is sunk into the sands of the Chaco Canyon Wash. The well stands full of water to within about 20 inches of the surface at all times. It has been cased with 36-inch concrete casing so that it will be able to furnish sufficient water for all domestic and irrigation needs. Water can be pumped into three large tanks (one tank holding 1,000 barrels and two tanks holding 500 barrels each) on higher land on the mission and used by gravity flow on the entire project. Needless to say, this is a most valuable find in the midst of this unwatered country which we could have and insures the continued usage of this location as a school and mission outpost for the years ahead. On one official test of the output of this well, it seems at present it is flowing about 35 to 50 gallons per minute. This on a daily basis would figure about 57,600 gallons per day on a continuous pumping basis. This together with the pipe system being brought to the mission by Brother Victor Starret, should insure in days to come a very fine gardening project for the school and students. We anticipate a large vegetable harvest and small fruit yield which we believe can be grown in abundance with this insured water supply.

Naturally time will be required for development of these projects but the life-giving water is basic to all these operations. Our thanks to the heavenly Father for providing these essentials is heartfelt by every person in the Mission and those connected with this fine project.

The forthcoming offering for the La Vida Mission on April 17, should be strongly remembered by our people as this work rapidly progresses to its ultimate expansion.

Goal Device Boosts Participation

Many ideas have been used in the past concerning goal devices for Sabbath school but the one Campion Academy used for last quarter was quite effective.

The device was a replica of Andhra School in Southeast India where the mission offering went last quarter. The main purpose of the device was to encourage students to bring their Bibles, offering, and follow the Daily Lesson Plan. The device was designed by three Campion Academy faculty members—W. Bromme, J. Wall, and A. Velez.

The school was three stories high with the administrative section in the middle of two classroom wings. The five adult classes of the Campion church had their windows here and the students in the wings. There were 16 student classes with approximately 18 in each. Each class had three windows it must light up every Sabbath, one representing Bibles, one offering, and one lesson study. To each member in the class lighting up its windows throughout the quarter were given a devotional book.

The windows were covered with plastic (supplied by Campion's Silver State Packaging Factory) with spotlights in back of them for illumination. A shade covered the windows until the reports from the classes came in; the secretary then removed the shade from each window as the class met the goal it represents. It was thrilling to see the windows light up and realize the offerings will be helping the real Andhra school in India.

The "Old" and "New"

At the close of the year 1964, due to the efforts of the Williams-Leach Evangelistic team, the Sterling church was happy to add to its church family six new members.

In becoming associated with a new church, the new member must meet many unfamiliar things—new faces, functions, and ideals. Our pastor realized that many of our church papers and periodicals would be new to these folks, so he prepared a packet of materials, including The Review and Herald, Signs of the Times, Life and Health, a copy of Today's Food, and the Chop-let. Each of these publications was described on an enclosed sheet. Also included was an eight-page brochure telling of the responsibilities of membership in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Several other small items were added, and last but not least our family "Newspaper."

The pastor enclosed a letter which began: "We welcome you to our church family. You now have nearly 2,000,000 spiritual brothers and sisters around the world." What a comfort this is to the new member who has stepped out in faith, in some cases alienating himself from loved ones and friends.

And so the "old" of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination was brought to the "new." We pray that with the help of the old publications, which are tried and true, the new members of our Sterling church will find the narrow way a bit easier to travel on the way to the kingdom.

And to our new brothers and sisters we say:

The way may be long and hard,
that leads to the home up above.
But, work, pray, and walk steadily on.
Your goal is a kingdom of love.
When things seem too hard to bear,
The pathway filled with trials and fear,
Then lean on us, who are traveling along
We're here to give hope and good cheer.
We all stumble, and sometimes we fall,
But what a blessed assurance have we
To know a brother or sister in faith
A true helper in trouble will be.
So, we'll walk the pathway together,
Members new, and members old.
Together, we'll attain our heavenly home,
And find peace in the City of God.

BAPTISM AT LAMAR

The baptism of three young men climaxed the Lamar district meeting held at Springfield, Colorado, on February 27.

Members from the Lamar, Lyman, and Campo churches, plus many visitors, heard Elder H. V. Reed, Colorado Conference president, speak at both the morning and the afternoon services.

Pastor Westerberg of the Sterling church gives Dean Resler, a new church member, a packet of church periodicals and material. This assures our new members a better understanding of the new "home" church and its work.

ROCKY FORD CHURCH SCHOOL

Pupils in the Seventh-day Adventist school in Rocky Ford are shown working at their desks while their teacher, Mrs. Rufina Sanchez looks on. They are a "pretty lively bunch" Mrs. Sanchez says, but this has been a good school year and she really enjoys teaching. Mrs. Sanchez, who has taught for several years, finds it is much harder to teach one large class with 30-35 students than the smaller classes containing several grades.

In the small classes it is much easier to keep the children's attention, she says, and since classes change every 15 minutes there is no time for monkey business.

Optometrist Active in Church Activities

Dr. Thayer Morris and his family came to Delta, Colorado, in May, 1952 to set up practice, a few months after he graduated from the Southern College of Optometry, Memphis, Tennessee. He moved his office January 1, 1965 into this new modern building, which is an attractive addition to the town of Delta, as well as being built to give better service to his patients.

Dr. Morris was elected an elder in the Delta church the next year after they came and has carried on in that capacity since then. He has given able leadership to the church and has also been a teacher in the Sabbath school.

His wife, Jeri, is also an active church worker and has acted as leader in the cradle roll department several years, also in the junior division, directs the junior choir, plays the organ for church and is an active worker in the Vacation Bible School.

Their two boys, Terry and Randy, attend Campion Academy. The two oldest girls Theyl and Jennifer attend the Delta church school and Tina is still at home.

The Morrises are a musical family and often give special numbers as a family, duets or solos, as special music in the church, community musical programs and at district meetings.

First and Second Work

"To possess Christ is your first work, and to reveal Him as One who is able to save to the uttermost all who come to Him is your next work." These words were written in a letter by Ellen G. White back in the year 1897. They are quoted for us in the book, That I May Know Him, p. 94.

E. E. Hagen

Having Christ as your inward possession, what are you doing to reveal Him to others? Surely your daily life is a telling revelation. But besides living for Him, we must make Him known to others through the printed word. During April we think particularly of those to whom He might best be revealed through the printed word. bors, and relatives who might know Him as you share Message magazine with them?

You know the power that the word can be in your own life. Message magazine was prepared for you that you in turn share messages of hope with those you have on your heart. Have you a tendency to argue the truths of God's word? The printed word will not argue but will with convincing force bring conviction to hearts who contemplate the things they read.

Message magazine should be used by the hundreds and thousands through our union. We look to each of you to do your part in sharing Message with others. This is your second duty. We have this promise which brings a thrill to the heart, "God's truth, as it is passed out, will multiply greatly. And as the disciples, by Christ's direction, gathered up the fragments, that nothing might be lost, so we should treasure every fragment of literature containing the truth for this time. None can estimate the influence that even a torn page containing the truths of the third angel's message may have upon the heart of some seeker after truth."—Christian Service, p. 154.

Every page of truth-filled literature is precious in the sight of heaven. Share with others these precious fragments of truth. True joy will be yours in doing this good work for God and for others.

Investment Showers

Investment planning time produced a new all-church enterprise for the South Sioux City church this year. Every inch of rain will bring $1.00 from each family for the new 1965 project.

The aim this year is to have every member do something for Investment. Those families or members who have no individual project are encouraged to share in the all-church enterprise.

A rain gauge has been placed in Pastor John Sharp's yard, and a careful record is being kept of rainfall amounts. Monthly amounts of rainfall will be reported to the church and remittances will be made accordingly. Nearly half an inch of rain fell during February and already several dollars have come in for Investment.

Some members live miles from the church, so rainfall in their home areas

Taking Advantage of Every Opportunity

Little did I realize when my mobile home was damaged while being moved to our new area of work that God had a purpose in it.

Seldom do souls that need our books come to our door and ask to buy them, but that is what happened to me in a round about way. Early Monday morning I answered a knock at my door and invited a man and his wife to step in. He introduced himself as the claims adjuster for the company that moved my mobile home. As he and I prepared to go outside, I tried to think of a book that his wife could read while we were examining the damage.

I took the small edition of Your Bible and You and the missionary edition of Love Unlimited from the shelf and invited her to make herself comfortable and read while we were outside. She immediately said, "Oh! I have this at home." She explained that she purchased Your Bible and You from a motel owner in another state. After commenting on the merits of Your Bible and You she started to read Love Unlimited as her husband and I went outside. When we returned a few minutes later, she said, "I've been looking for a book by this author entitled, The Desire of Ages, do you know where I could buy one?"

(What an opportunity for a literature evangelist!) I asked her to wait for a moment while I got my case; and when I returned, I explained that my work was that of selling the books that I would show her. After a short canvass she told me of realizing her need for a closer knowledge of God's will for her. She spoke of reading a few pages in The Desire of Ages in another motel, but that the owner did not have copies to sell. In our conversation that followed she told of a serious injury she had received in an accident, and of how her doctor had told her that her life could end at any time because of damage of a permanent nature to her central nervous system. She is in constant pain and has to take strong medication daily to endure it.

Her husband told me privately that this would probably be his last trip due to his wife's condition. He explained that he needed to be with her because of the uncertainty she faces, and that traveling for his company took them away from their home on extended trips across country.

As they left my home with a set of Treasures of Life to return to their home in Denver, Colorado, I prayed that God would lead this sincere man and his wife in their search for truth, and I thanked Him for the damage done to my home that led them to my door.

The MV's and Pathfinders of Kingsville, Missouri, participated in "12 is my Target."

SYF Projects Moving

The Share Your Faith projects for the Central Union have caught the imagination of many youth in Missouri. "12 Is My Target" and "Project 65" have become personal goals and also personal joy and satisfaction. The Kingsville MV Society and Pathfinders met on Sunday night, March 28, in a victory program.

The senior youth have secured nearly 200 Bible school enrollments to date, and are still making further plans for other SYF projects.

The Pathfinders of Kingsville, though a small group, have enrolled 93 in the Bible school. One of the girls has set a personal goal of 50 Bible school enrollments.

There are many thrills awaiting the Missionary Volunteers who participate. It is always more thrilling to be a participant, rather than only a spectator. The Kingsville group proves it! Why not try it yourself!

Mrs. Earl Miller of the Casper, Wyoming, church vowed she would not be left out when it came to the Ingathering program this year.

It had been so easy to let others do it, but her sense of loyalty helped confirm her convictions.

When the Casper members began their Ingathering program this year, Mrs. Miller, along with many others, was on hand night after night, wind or cold, to do her part. She vowed she was going to raise a Jasper Wayne Goal and she did. No one is more pleased or happier than she is about this.

On one of the evening's caroling programs, Mrs. Miller called at the home of a lady who several years ago had been a member, but had become entangled with other doctrines and left the church. Now, Mrs. Maude Henderson is again attending Sabbath school and church. "She takes care of me like her own child," said Mrs. Henderson of Mrs. Miller's follow-up efforts to encourage her and get her to the church services. Although Mrs. Henderson has not been baptized, she stated that she enjoyed attending church again and that she wanted to do what the Lord wanted her to do. Elder Tom Carter, pastor of the Casper church, is studying with her.

We pray that the Lord will direct in Mrs. Henderson's most important decision.

Pathfinders Enjoy Winter Sports

Tobogganing and snowplane skiing have been the most vigorous winter activities of Pathfinders at Casper, Wyoming. The "Trailblazers" have branded several Casper Mountain snow-sleek slopes and snow-blanketed meadows with marks of winter-wonderland fun, leaving indentations of toboggan runs accented with sitz marks, and skijoring streaks of the plane. The snowplane, owned by club deputy directors, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Robinett, has provided hours of adventure and excitement. Toboggans owned by the club and members furnish plenty of slide-ride space for the 26 Pathfinders and seven counselors.

Associate directors and counselors of the Casper Trailblazers are: Mr. and Mrs. Vern Robinett, Mercedes England, George Bisgaard, Mrs. Neilan Current, Mrs. Bill Hansen, and Melvin Anderson.

Mrs. E. R. Taylor is the teacher for the Sheridan, Wyoming, church school. She graduated from Maplewood Academy in 1942; attended Union College for two years, and took additional college work at Whittenberg University, Ohio, and the Kansas City University, Missouri. She has previously taught: two years at the Junior Academy, Kansas City, Missouri, first grade; one year at the Hugo, Colorado, public school, kindergarten and sixth grade; and one year at our church school in Limon, Colorado.

Mrs. Taylor has many interests, but art is her specialty, and she hopes someday to teach art full time. She also enjoys working with small children. Nature activities and camping trips are also a part of the extra-curriculars enjoyed by Mrs. Taylor. She is the former Adeline Heglund.

Her duties as a minister's wife and full-time teacher make her life a very busy one. Elder and Mrs. Taylor have two sons: Lyndon, 14, a freshman at Campion Academy; and Marvin, age 11, a sixth grader at Mountain View School, the Sheridan church school.

Our Mountain View School, where Mrs. Taylor is teacher, gives her the special privilege of teaching at one of the most up-to-date and modern schools in Wyoming.
