

In Order to Get Returns You Must Invest

D. A. McADAMS, Associate Secretary, GC Publishing Department

There is a basic philosophy in the business world which always holds true. In order to earn interest or dividends, one must invest. In order to draw money out of the bank, you must first put money into the bank. This philosophy holds true in life. In order to get something out of life, you must put something into it. In order to get something out of the Bible, you must invest many hours in Bible study. In order to excel in any particular area in life, you must invest time and effort.

Now in our great world-wide mission program, in order to get results, it is necessary to invest. We thank God for the hundreds of missionaries around the world who are investing their lives and their time and their talents in the giving of the message. We are also thankful to God for the hundreds of thousands of Adventists who are investing their money in the Sabbath school. Through the Sabbath school the influence of the money invested goes out to the ends of the earth.

Many times we hear about the great needs in the mission field, and that is true—there are many needs. But since our faithful church members are investing literally millions of dollars in the world-wide mission program, I believe that from time to time they merit a report of how their money is being spent, how their money is being invested.

The following experiences are typical of the good which comes from investing money in houses and lands and from investing money in flesh and blood.

In 1951, I had the pleasure of visiting Fulton Missionary College, which is located in Fiji. There I saw an inadequate administration building and other parts of the physical plant which were not proper to serve the needs of the school. In 1964, I visited beautiful Fiji again, and how happy I was as I visited the campus of Fulton Missionary College! There I saw a beautiful new administration building. The president of the college told me that the building had brought about a tremendous change in the atmosphere on the college campus. I wish that you could have been with me as I greeted the faculty members and student body of this college after having spoken to them one evening. The warmth of every handshake would have made you feel happy that you are an investor in the world-wide Sabbath school mission program, because it was the overflow of a recent Thirteenth Sabbath Offering which made possible the building of this new administration building at Fulton Missionary College.

Yes, your money is being well invested in houses and lands, and houses and lands are essential to the program of the church. Nevertheless, people are more important. Listen to this wonderful story of how your investment in Sabbath school offerings is paying dividends in far-away Samoa.

Meet Pastor Tesese, Pastor Papu, and Brother Pulou, one of the lay members. After the meeting was finished in Pago Pago, Pastor Tesese and the brethren in Samoa were anxious to show me something of which they were very proud. Several of us got into the car, we traveled a few miles, and then they pointed out to me the old church where the Adventists used to meet in this community—an old, thatched-roof, tumble-down building. The brethren were proud to tell me that no longer was this the Seventh-day Adventist church. As we traveled on a few more miles, they pointed ahead to a beautiful new church with a metal roof, a strong, substantial building with a cement floor. They then told me the wonderful story of how Brother Pulou gave the land on which this new church was constructed. He is a trusted executive in a construction company in Pago Pago. Brother Pulou not only gave the land, but he gave a great deal of the material and money for the building of the church. He secured $700 worth of building material from the company for which he worked. This was not sufficient, so he borrowed $1,500 from a bank and purchased more material. Soon after the church was completed, the company for which Brother Pulou worked gave him a bonus of $800. This was sufficient to pay for all the material he had secured from the company, his tithe of $80, and he had $20 left over. As Brother Pulou told me the story, he said, "Not only did I receive the $800 bonus from the company, but I also received an increase in salary which was exactly equivalent to my monthly payments on the $1,500 loan." I asked how he felt about the whole thing. He said, "Oh, I am very happy. With this I could pay my bill to the construction company and my tithe to God, and I came out with $20 to the good. And now, when I have my $1,500 paid off to the bank, I will still be receiving my salary increase."

Yes, I saw the church. I saw Pastor Tesese, I saw Pastor Papu, I saw Brother Pulou and his family. What a wonderful spirit of sacrifice! Your mission funds have been invested in sending missionaries to far-away lands to win people to Christ such as Pastors Tesese and Papu and Brother Pulou and his family and hundreds and thousands of others scattered all around the world. Yes, in order to get returns one must invest. Every church member everywhere must be encouraged to invest more in the world-wide mission program through giving in the Sabbath school from week to week.

Union College

Department of Nursing

A part of the college—but not completely located on Union's campus—is the Department of Nursing. Ruth Haller, chairman of the Nursing Department reports that the department enrolled 117 students in its program at the beginning of the fall term. Of these 51 are freshmen, 22 are sophomores, 25 are juniors, and 19 are seniors. The freshmen and sophomores are located on the Lincoln campus; the juniors and seniors at Denver, Colorado.

The nursing program offered at Union College is a four year baccalaureate program leading to a bachelor of science degree. Upon completion of the academic course the graduate is eligible to take state board examinations in any state and thus become a registered professional nurse.

This program is accredited by the Nebraska State Board of Nursing and the National League for Nursing. Accreditation by the state means that the school has met the requirements established by the state for a program in professional nursing. National League accreditation means that the school meets the requirements established by the accrediting body of the nursing profession.

Union College also offers a one-year prenursing program for students who desire to transfer to another baccalaureate program or for those wishing to enter a diploma program. A diploma program is usually a three year program which leads to a diploma in nursing. This program is under the control of a hospital or other non-collegiate authority. There are no diploma programs in the Central Union, but some students from this union do attend the diploma schools outside the union.

The graduate of the baccalaureate program is prepared to care for people in the hospital and in various other community settings. She is concerned with prevention of disease and teaching the patient as well as ministering to him at the bedside.

She is also prepared to continue her education at the graduate level. The trend in post baccalaureate nursing education today is to prepare a clinical specialist. She may specialize in medical surgical nursing, nursing of mothers and infants, nursing of children, psychiatric nursing, or public health nursing. Along with her clinical major she may also have a functional major such as supervision, administration, or teaching.

The graduate of a diploma program is prepared to give patient-centered care as a beginning staff nurse in the hospital. She is not prepared to continue her education at the graduate level but must first finish preparation on the baccalaureate level.

Artist—Adventure Series

Ralph Franklin, explorer and lecturer, will present "Gift of the Nile," a pictorial adventure into the history of ancient Egypt, November 13 at 8:00 p.m. in the Union College Auditorium.

Realizing that the back waters of Egypt's new high dam would inundate the ancient art treasure of the Nile valley, Mr. Franklin began his photographic work in the Nile Region in 1960. The film will include Abu Simbel and many other temples located in the valley. At Luxor, Franklin visited and photographed the tomb of King Tut. Journeying away from Egypt, the film visits the Sinai Region, the Red Sea, and Mt. Sinai.

Denver Campus Classes Organize

The junior and senior nursing students on the Denver campus have organized their classes and selected their officers for the 1965-66 school year.

"Bible Conference Afterglow"

I wish to share with you my impressions and experiences at our recent Central Union Bible Conference. As I approached the camp area the awesome majesty and grandeur of the great Rocky Mountains directed my thoughts toward God. To look upon these huge massifs and contemplate their immense size and structure must be belittling to even the greatest of man, and even more so to myself, a young man from the flat plains of Kansas.

When I arrived, my very soul was moved with the magnificence of the occasion. The evening keynote address given by Elder R. H. Nightingale, Central Union Conference president, helped me to realize that there were great things in store for all who were there. Huge strides were made in each of our own Christian experiences. As I listened to the many talks by the leaders of our church; participated in the many discussion groups; contemplated, studied, and prayed in the beauties of nature, I was moment by moment drawn closer to my heavenly Father.

Finally as the camp came to a close, I descended from the mount with a determination in my heart to do whatever I could for that Almighty Lord, the Creator of the stately peaks on which my "mountain top experience" took place.

I wish to thank my school, Elder Paul M. DeBooy, and everyone else who made this camp possible and made it possible for me to go and feed on the spiritual food that was given to us all.

Speaking of Books

"Untouched by time, unchanged through the centuries, the 'golden yardstick of human behavior,' as the Decalogue has been so aptly called, has given dignity to man's endeavor wherever it has been exalted, and national growth and social integrity have flourished most where it has influenced rulers, counseled kings, and directed legislative decrees."

"To most of the earth's inhabitants, the Bible is a closed book. It presents to them only a dubious history of ancient and forgotten peoples, bare biographies of men and women long since interred in nameless tombs, unattractive moral maxims not applicable in the hustle and bustle of modern living, mystic references to the origin of sin and of a Saviour about whom they hear only at Christmastime, and pages upon pages of colorful symbols of a wrath and certain doom to come. Yet when approached with sincerity and a willingness to believe, God's Word unfolds to them a rich and beautiful experience."

The above are just a few of the thoughts included in the book, Voice from Sinai. It is a brief review of the implications of the ten precepts of God's moral law in the light of contemporary moral and spiritual deterioration.

This marvelous little volume is just one of eight books included in our regular FALL SPECIAL. The others are Wings of Faith; Jesus Never Fails; Wind High, Sand Deep; Religious Liberty; Last Day Delusions; Wider Circle, and Journey for Bobby. Retail price for all eight paperback books is $4.90, the special price is only $2.95, plus sales tax and $.20 for postage.

Catching

Conscientious Converts

Letters from many parts of the world find their way to your publishing house located at Mountain View, California. One letter was too good to file before it was shared with you. Actually, the writer of the letter expressed the sentiments of scores of other writers in succinct form. The following excerpt is shared for your information and enjoyment.

"The Signs of the Times is more than bait, it brings the fish in. It is all right to feed the fish, but in our family we like to catch them. . . . We are using one hundred dollars worth of Signs this year. We believe in this evangelistic program." H. J.

You, too, can enrich your own life and catch conscientious converts for Christ through the Signs ministry.

Porter Memorial HOSPITAL

Speech and Hearing Therapy at Porter

A speech and hearing therapy section has recently opened in the Department of Physical Medicine under the direction of Doreen Pollack.

Mrs. Pollack has pioneered a new approach in the treatment of infants with hearing impairments. The program includes therapy for children who "baby-talk," stutter, have a cleft palate and other voice disorders. Adults often need help following laryngeal surgery and strokes.

Mrs. Doreen Pollack directs speech and hearing therapy at Porter Memorial Hospital.

A speech therapist in England before coming to the United States, Mrs. Pollock has been employed by the Colombia Presbyterian Medical Center, Colorado Medical Center, University of Denver and Colorado General Hospital. She is certified by the American Speech and Hearing Association.

The expansion of our Department of Physical Medicine to include speech and hearing therapy has improved our service to the community and emphasizes the key position of this department on our health team. They assist the private physician in establishing the diagnosis and treatment aimed at maximum restoration and development of the patient's capabilities.

Riverton Effort

The effort at Riverton is off to a good start. It was my privilege to attend the meeting last Tuesday night at which time between 75 and 80 were in attendance. Thirty-nine of these were non-Seventh-day Adventists. This is certainly splendid for a town the size of Riverton where there is no Seventh-day Adventist organization. We trust that at the close of this series of meetings we will be able to organize a church in this attractive city.

We should remember Brother B. Z. George and Brother Lavell Ford in our prayers as they work for souls in this practically unentered town.

LEE CARTER

Joint Meetings—Big Piney and Kemmerer

Members from the Big Piney Company met with the three Seventh-day Adventist members in Kemmerer, Sabbath, October 23. Mrs. Johnny Earles led out in the Sabbath school. Pastor Josef Greig presented the sermon, "Forgive Us Our Debts." Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Earles, Mrs. Doris Beachler, Johnny Beachler, Gene Beachler, all of Kemmerer; Mrs. Reta Carr, Mrs. Fey Moore of Big Piney; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Genetti of Daniel; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Don Townsend, Eddie Townsend, Sharon Townsend, all of Boulder; Mr. Gardner of Pinedale; and Pastor and Mrs. Josef Greig of Rock Springs.

After a potluck dinner a group of 12 visited the people of Kemmerer. The purpose of the visitation was twofold. First of all a radio poll was conducted for the Voice of Prophecy. Secondly, members tried to secure Bible course enrollments. Several enrollments were secured.

Because the VOP program is not heard on the local radio station but on two stations which can be received in the area, it was felt that such a poll would be helpful in the possibility of securing time on the local radio station for VOP. The results of the poll were very enlightening. It was found that by far the majority of the people in this area watch TV rather than listen to the radio. Secondly, the people that do listen to the radio listen to the local station. Several indicated that they would listen to a religious broadcast such as the VOP if presented over their local station on Sunday.

News Notes

✓ Elder E. R. Taylor will begin a series of daily broadcasts in Gillette, November 8. If an interest develops, he will probably hold a series of meetings there a little later. The branch Sabbath school at Recluse is now consolidated with the branch Sabbath school in Gillette. Brother J. W. Fisk visits this branch Sabbath school twice a month. Brother Taylor goes once a month and one of the local elders from Brother Taylor's district goes once a month. This is a town where we have nothing except a branch Sabbath school. We do trust that shortly we will have a regular Sabbath school and later a church organization in Gillette.

✓ The Sheridan Seventh-day Adventist church has been completely renovated inside with new wall to wall carpeting, a new coat of paint on the walls and ceiling and some improvements to the masonry work on the outside.

✓ Brothers L. F. Sanders and Paul D. Clear have been holding book sales in various districts in the conference.

✓ Brother Paul Clear has also been looking for full-time as well as part-time literature evangelists.

✓ The Smokers Clinic will be held in the new YMCA Building in Sheridan beginning November 7 through 11.

✓ Brother Josef Greig has been showing temperance films to a number of organizations in his district.

✓ The Greybull Dorcas Society is meeting in the new room which was recently added to the church building. In this room they have ample storage place which they did not have before. This is a growing Dorcas Society.

✓ The Greybull church also has a lending library that is really working. In addition to this, during the month of September more than 400 papers and magazines were given out in the community around the church. Also, 60 radio logs were distributed.

✓ The fifteen-minute radio program, Religion in the News which Pastor Dick Stenbakken has been broadcasting, over the Worland Station KWOR has now been put on the Washakie Network and is now heard in Thermopolis at the same time, Mondays at 6:15 p.m., over station KRTR. The stations appreciate the program and produce it as a public service.

Temperance Films Shown

As part of the drive to "help youth know the truth" about alcohol and tobacco, Pastor Josef Greig presented two temperance films in the Rock Springs and Green River area. The two films were "Cancer by the Carton," and "Verdict at 1:32." Over 1300 young people saw these films.

Last fall Pastor Greig contacted the principals of the Rock Springs Jr. High and High School concerning the possibilities of showing the film, "One in 20,000." The high school principal was not interested but the junior high principal jumped at the chance. This year this same junior high principal called Pastor Greig requesting two more temperance films for a school assembly.

Since he would have the two films, the minister decided to contact the administrator of the Green River High School and Junior High. Both men were happy to call a special assembly for the viewing of these films.

The films were also presented to youth groups of the Nazarene, Methodist, Baptist and Adventist churches in Rock Springs.

Sabbath School Workshops

"The purpose of the Sabbath school is to expand and enlarge the church." This is one of the many ideas that Elder R. Curtis Barger and Miss Louise Meyer of the General Conference Sabbath School department presented during their workshops across the state of Nebraska.

It was most helpful to have this opportunity of receiving such excellent instruction. The Sabbath school officers and division leaders who attended personally expressed their sincere appreciation.

Elder Barger gave instruction for the primary, earliten, and junior divisions while Miss Meyer gave her instruction to the leaders and teachers of the cradle roll and kindergarten divisions. The question period brought the groups together. Many problems were discussed and many helpful suggestions were shared. Elder E. E. Hagen, Sabbath School secretary of the Central Union, was able to attend and gave excellent help in the North Platte and Lincoln area.

Since the foundation years are the most important, it was requested that the best help possible be given to the cradle roll and kindergarten divisions of our Sabbath school. The least we can do would be to cooperate to the fullest extent. We feel certain we are speaking for all our members when we say we are most willing to cooperate to the fullest extent.

Cooking Schools to be Conducted in Lincoln and Omaha

Mrs. Dorthea Van Gundy Jones, well-known nutritionist from the International Nutrition Research Foundation of Loma Linda Foods will hold cooking schools in Omaha and Lincoln during the month of November.

The Omaha school will be held in the church at 840 North 72nd from Sunday night, November 14, through Wednesday night, November 17, from 7:00 to 9:00 each evening.

The Lincoln school will be held in the annex of the College View church from 1:00 to 3:00 on Sunday, November 14, through Tuesday, November 16.

Mrs. Van Gundy covers such subjects as: "What's in Your Grocery Basket?" "How Important Are Vitamins?" "The Staff of Life—Is It Broken?" "Are You Getting Your Protein?" Samples and prizes will be given at each cooking class.

We would encourage our members to attend these classes to become familiar with the proper preparation of foods to foster good nutrition habits. Mrs. Van Gundy presents lively demonstrations that will appeal to the entire family. Non-Adventists are also invited to attend.

"Festival of Nations" for Investment

More than 900 people attended the Investment "Festival of Nations" sponsored by the College View Seventh-day Adventist church at the Union College auditorium, October 24.

The "Festival of Nations" featured many decorated booths representing different countries. Authentic costumes were worn by those who sold food typical of the countries represented.

Hawaiian punch, Italian spaghetti, Chinese noodles, Malayan Rice and Curry, and Norwegian pastries were only a part of the menu. There were many other delicious foods from Lebanon, Germany, Alaska, Mexico and the South Sea Islands.

Additional booths featured home-made breads, candies, and cookies. Available in "The Gift Shop" were kitchen utensils, Teflon products, hand-made quilts and other miscellaneous items including five kittens. Helium-filled balloons and supervised tricycle rides especially pleased the children.

"Around the World" was the theme of a variety program narrated by Arthur Hauck, Union College speech professor and planned by Mrs. R. H. Nightingale. A few of the high lights featured the playing of Swiss bells, and Italian aria, and German folk songs. The final number was a salute in song to our wonderful flag as a men's quartet sang "This Is My Country."

According to Mrs. Doris Schlotthauer, College View church investment secretary, approximately $725 was raised by the "Festival of Nations" to swell the College View Church's Investment Fund. Nearly $4,000 was raised last year, and it is hoped this can be surpassed this year as each member follows the motto, "Keep Alive, Investment-wise, In '65."

Missouri

Welcome to the Kings

Jim King comes to Missouri as pastor of the Clinton district which includes the churches at Nevada, Sedalia, Adrian, and Clinton.

Elder King is a native of New Mexico, accepting the three angels' messages in 1957 during an evangelistic campaign conducted by the Walter-Henderson evangelistic team.

Turning from his pre-medical training, he entered Andrews University, then EMC, in 1957, taking the ministerial course. He graduated from Andrews University in 1961. He took up his denominational work in Texas serving at Houston, Dallas, and Galveston before accepting the call to Missouri.

His wife, Esther Cantz King is a graduate of Southwestern Union College completing the secretarial course. She served a number of years as a secretary in the Texico Conference. She also served three years in the Lake Union Conference office as secretary in the Educational department.

We are happy to welcome Elder and Mrs. King, their son, Paul Dwain—age 3½, and daughter, Patricia Janell—age 1, to the Missouri family of workers.

A. V. McCCLURE, President

Welcome to the Wrights

Donald E. Wright recently came to Missouri to serve as secretary of the Missionary Volunteer, Educational, and Temperance departments.

A native of Maine, Elder Wright attended Union Springs Academy, graduating in 1950. He graduated from Atlantic Union College in 1954.

Beginning his denominational work as a district pastor in the Southern New England Conference, he served here for five years. He accepted a call to the Taiwan Missionary College as head of the department of religion and pastor of the college church. After five years of mission service he returned to the states. He became principal of the Toledo, Ohio, Junior Academy and pastor of one of Toledo's churches. At the same time he took graduate work at the University of Toledo.

In June of 1965 he completed his work on his Master's Degree in School Administration and Guidance at Andrews University. He also has a Professional Administrator's and Supervisor Certificate issued by the General Conference.

His wife, Gloria Zelnick Wright is a graduate of Atlantic Union College with a B.A. degree in Elementary education. She taught five years at the Taiwan Missionary College.

We welcome Elder Wright, his wife, and their two sons—Donald Evan, age 6, and Daniel Richard, age 5—to the Missouri family of workers.

Student Association Campaign

For its annual Student Association campaign for school improvement, the students of Campion Academy have voted to participate in the building of a campus church. This participation will be in the form of a financial contribution of $15,000.

The $15,000 represents the highest goal ever set by the Campion Student Association. Last year $6,000 was raised and combined with 1964's goal of $2,400 to landscape the barren front campus and playground. Until this year, the record amount of money raised during a Student Association campaign was the $19,600 toward a new school bus in 1963.

The campaign money has been designated to finance specific furnishings for the church. With $8,800, carpeting will be laid in the main auditorium. Windows and glass will be purchased with $6,200. Modernistic stained glass will be used in the sanctuary, which will seat 800. Construction of the $200,000 edifice will begin in the immediate future. It will be located west of the gymnasium.

Since the founding of Campion Academy in 1907, there has been no church to accommodate its students or village church members. The students and church members presently meet in the gymnasium for Sabbath services.

To help in providing an appropriate place of worship by reaching their goal, the 325 Campion students plan to earn $7,000 through candy sales and $8,000 from personal contacts and letters to parents, friends, and alumni.

Farmington Fair Booth

The Seventh-day Adventist church in Farmington, New Mexico, was happily surprised to be awarded a ribbon for the most educational feature (commercial class) at their San Juan County Fair booth in September of this year.

Utilizing the space of two booths, instead of the usual single booth they have occupied for the past two years in a most strategic position just opposite the front entrance to the main pavilion, a miniature theater was arranged with a seating capacity of some 18 chairs. Here the 30-minute film, "Cancer by the Carton," was shown almost continuously throughout the three days of the fair.

Many teenagers as well as younger children crowded into the small enclosure to watch the film, and most of them were eager to receive the free copies of Listen and Smoke Signals displayed on a table along one side of the booth. Many asked if they might have one of each different issue being offered. Several of the young people indicated a familiarity with Listen magazine through their high school programs, and one boy mentioned that his brother had at one time received it in the mail.

It was gratifying to note these same young people still carrying their magazines, neatly rolled, under their arms as they took in the other sights of the fair or participated in the adjacent carnival attractions.

The wide hallway behind the display was also crowded much of the time with spectators, including business and professional men, and officers patrolling the grounds, who watched with great interest the lung cancer operation featured in the film.

The words of the theme, "Stop Now—Ask How" (the idea borrowed from another booth pictured previously in a Tell magazine), arranged on colorful posters along the curtained outside wall, directed viewers to the entrance of the booth.

One young woman was heard to remark, after viewing the lung cancer operation on the screen, "I'll certainly never smoke in all my life—I always did think it was a filthy habit!" One man from a neighboring booth, himself suffering from a severe case of emphysema, told the attendant with great earnestness, "If this will just get the point across to these kids before they ever start. . . ." He was finally persuaded to accept one of the free booklets, "How to Stop

Elder and Mrs. Donald E. Wright and sons are new in the Missouri Conference. Elder Wright is in the MV, Educational and Temperance departments of the conference.

Smoking," although he insisted that he had tried, unsuccessfully, to lick the habit and failed each time.

It was decided by the fair booth committee to dispense with the usual quiz and drawings and special awards this year, since it might distract viewers who might otherwise be looking at the film. There were 1,084 pieces of literature given away during the fair.

One interesting aftermath of the venture was an invitation to Dr. Wetzel D. Williams of Farmington, to give a talk and show the film to two separate groups—the Optimist Club, and the Assembly of God church. Before the film was finally returned to the conference office it had also been loaned to the "Youth Opportunity Program" here in Farmington for viewing by the youth of that government organization.

Greeley Youth Hold Meetings

It all started when Wanita Miner and Virginia Oster were working during the summer months in Gilcrest, a small town located south of Greeley.

The girls were employed with Operation Head Start Anti-Poverty Program. Noticing that Wanita and Virginia were different than the other girls, a gentleman began questioning them about their belief. He appeared to be interested and asked many questions from day to day which the girls were most happy to answer. Because of their high standards and desire to let their light shine, seed may have been planted that will bear fruit in years to come.

Having a burden to do more, they talked with other youth in the church who felt they too would like to have a part in sharing their faith. This laid the foundation for the ensuing week of meetings entitled, "Youth Present the Bible." The meetings were held in the new gymnasium. Elder Jack Everett was asked to give the first sermon. Those presenting talks the following evenings were Sylvia Walker, Jerry Oster, Rex Bell, Kay Werner, and Franklin Walker. Special music was planned for each evening. Mrs. Roland Werner was in charge of the baby sitting department. There also was a program conducted for the kindergarten- and primary-age group under the leadership of Marybelle Wentworth and Iris Carmichael. It was indeed a privilege to watch the youth perform, and I am sure all who attended received a real blessing.

was begun on Saturday night, September 18. The attendance at the first meeting was approximately 150, twenty-five per cent of whom were nonmembers.

Elder C. R. Johnson, district leader, presented as his topic "Russia's Fatal Blunder," in which he identified the Rock of Daniel 2 as the third world force that would intervene in the great struggle between the free world and Communism.

Dr. Robert McCorkle, physician from La Crosse, Kansas, and a member of the Nekoma church, presented as his first topic, "The One Little Mistake that Has Cost Millions their Health." In

Week of Sacrifice Offering

The Annual Week of Sacrifice Offering will be received in all the churches on Sabbath, November 13. This is at the close of our Annual Week of Prayer. Truly we have all received a rich blessing from this week. Let us make it a liberal offering.

H. C. Klement, President

planning for this crusade, it was decided to add this emphasis in healthful living, thus reacting to the abundant counsel we have in the Spirit of Prophecy, including the following quotation: "The principles of health reform are found in the Word of God. The gospel of health is to be firmly linked with the ministry of the Word. It is the Lord's design that the restoring influence of health reform shall be a part of the last great effort to proclaim the gospel message."—Evangelism, p. 515.

The musical phase of the crusade is under the direction of Mrs. Marie Johnson, the program organist. Mrs. Sandra Pride who had recently moved from Wichita to Great Bend, was the soloist for the first two meetings. The district is blessed with an abundance of musical talent, much of which will be used in the course of the two-month series of meetings.

Running simultaneously with the evangelistic series, is a fifteen-minute radio program at 9:30 on Sunday morning, entitled "Present Truth." The main purpose of the program is to promote our three-night-per-week series of evangelistic meetings. It is under the direction of the writer of this article, assisted by Brother Howard Watts, a member of the Great Bend church.

We have been gratified to observe such a fine spirit of cooperation among the churches of the Great Bend district in this united effort of faith. Truly our good people realize the solemnity of the following challenge from the Spirit of Prophecy: "The most solemn truths ever entrusted to mortals have been given us to proclaim to the world. The proclamation of these truths is to be our work."—Evangelism, p. 120.

Sabbath School Workshop

The Kansas Conference conducted a Sabbath School Council and Workshop at Wichita, October 8, 9, 10. Guest personnel from the General Conference included Elder R. Curtis Barger, associate Sabbath School secretary, and Miss Louise Meyer, assistant secretary. Elder E. E. Hagen, Sabbath School secretary of the Central Union and Bernard J. Furst, from the conference, attended. Elder Barger spoke to the young people on Friday evening at the regular scheduled Missionary Volunteer meeting. He also spoke on Sabbath morning at the eleven o'clock hour.

On Sabbath afternoon a Sabbath School Council meeting was held for the children's divisions leaders and Sabbath school personnel from neighboring churches along with the Wichita officers. Part of the afternoon was devoted to special instruction and counseling in group sessions. Elder Barger led out with the primary, juniors, earliteen and youth leaders, and Miss Meyer with the cradle roll and kindergarten. Both of the instructors brought mimeographed material and visual aids to inspire our division leaders to devoted Sabbath school leadership and teaching.

Enterprise Academy Field Day

The Enterprise Academy Field Day was held on Thursday, October 21. Under the good leadership of Mr. Don Weatherall and Elder J. C. Gaitens, Bible teacher, a well-organized program, along with a bright fall day enabled the students to return with $1322, plus saleable produce.

The student body responded with 100 per cent participation again this year. The Kansas Conference is most grateful for the support given by the pastors and laymen in the field who drove automobiles, making it possible for our young people to participate.

The program of learning for Christian youth emphasizes the importance of having a definite aim. "Success in any line demands a definite aim. He who would achieve true success in life must keep steadily in view the aim worthy of his endeavor."—Education, p. 262.

"God will accept only those who are determined to aim high. He places every human agent under obligation to do his best. . . ."—Christ's Object Lessons, p. 330.

Enterprise Academy has through the Ingathering Field Day again set a goal and attained an achievement that will teach our youth to live by the principles stated in these quotations.
