Vol. XLVII No. 11 Lincoln, Nebraska June 1, 1978

Camp Meeting Time

CENTRAL UNION HAS NEW PRESIDENT

E. S. Reile

On May 9, only a few days after W. O. Coe was elected president of the Columbia Union Conference, the Central Union Committee met and invited E. S. Reile to be president of this union. He accepted, and almost immediately went to Loma Linda, California, to represent this field at the meeting of the union presidents of the North American Division.

Reile was only recently elected president of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference, after a term of nine years as president of the Carolina Conference.

Son of an Adventist minister, he was born in North Dakota. He is a graduate of Enterprise Academy and of Union College. His first ministerial assignments were in the Central Union, as a pastor and departmental director in the Colorado Conference, and then as a departmental director in Kansas. He was director of youth activities in the Georgia-Cumberland Conference for more than two years, and in the Southern California Conference for five years, before taking the Youth Department of the Southern Union in 1964. He became president of the Carolina Conference in 1968.

Mrs. Reile was Norma Jean Johnson, born in Nebraska and reared in Colorado. The Reiles have a daughter, Cynthia Tarr, who resides in Elizabethtown, North Carolina. Elder Reile's brother Lloyd is president of the Canadian Union Conference.

Although it will be some time before the Reiles move to Lincoln, Elder Reile will be filling appointments at Central Union camp meetings, and in the field.

COE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE COLUMBIA UNION

W. O. Coe

W. O. Coe, president of the Central Union Conference was elected by the Columbia Union Conference Committee to the leadership of that union on April 27. Several days later, he accepted the post.

It was in August, 1975 that Coe took the leadership of the Central Union. The emphasis of his administration has been on an acceleration of evangelism as the primary task and responsibility of the church. The Winning Adventure, launched as a union-wide program in 1976, called on every church, conference, and institution to set meaningful but challenging annual objectives, aimed at sharply increasing the rate of growth in the membership of the church. The long-range goal of 40,000 members in the Central Union was set. God's blessings and power have been seen as the baptismal reports have continually increased in all of the conferences. The membership of the union at the close of 1975 was 32,840. By December 31, 1977 it had grown to 35,345.

During this period the financial condition of Union College has improved materially, and there has been a steady increase in enrollment. The Mid-America Adventist Health Services corporation has been formed to strengthen the medical work in the union and step up the recruitment of medical and dental personnel. A new union office building has been erected.

Elder Coe has already assumed the responsibilities of his new office, but he will be present for the new office open house on June 11. Great disappointment has been felt throughout the Central Union at this cutting short of his administration in this field.

Improvements At Camp Shady Hill

By S. D. Meyers, President

When you attend camp meeting this year you will see that we have been working to make your stay much more comfortable. The parking area on top of the hill will be paved, restroom facilities by the pavilion will be improved, two dressing rooms will be provided for Sabbath morning visitors, and the chain link fence will be continued around the entire camp site for better protection.

Camp Meeting Highlights

By S. D. Meyers, President

Many outstanding speakers will be with us at our 1978 Central States Camp Meeting, June 16-24. We hope you have made plans to attend the full nine-day session. Included among the guest speakers are: C. D. Henri, general vice-president, A. V. Pinkney, associate temperance director and C. L. Brooks, associate Sabbath school director all of the General Conference; C. B. Rock, president and E. E. Cleveland, church missions director, of Oakwood College, C. D. Joseph, president of Lake Region Conference, W. S. Lee, secretary, and H. L. Thompson, evangelist of the Central Union Conference.

Ladies, we plan to have a cooking class this year. Barbara Tobias will conduct the class each afternoon, Sunday through Thursday. Whether you stay on the grounds or not, you need to take this opportunity to join the class and learn how to better prepare vegetarian dishes that are palatable. There will be a small fee of $4.00 which will include registration and a brochure of nutritional helps and recipes. You will be able to taste some of the delicious recipes that will be demonstrated.

Another lay Bible workers' workshop will be conducted by Phyllis Meador and other Bible instructors. We invite each of you who are interested in soul winning to attend each of these sessions Sunday through Thursday.

We hope you have turned in your Conference Evangelism Offering through your church. Each church is to make a report at camp meeting. Your liberal offering will help to support many evangelistic efforts that will be conducted around the conference this summer.

We hope to see each of you at camp meeting.

ANNOUNCEMENT

PINE FORGE ACADEMY ALUMNI will be held September 1-3, 1978 on the Pine Forge Campus, Pine Forge, Pennsylvania.

HIGHLIGHTS

Inner City Services Need Your Support

By W. S. Lee, Secretary,
Central Union Conference

The growing complexity of a social work in an inner city has made more apparent the need for professional social workers to train and direct those who work in the inner city. The perplexities and frustrations are too much for untrained personnel to cope with in these circumstances. However, much good has been done and is being done, but with professional help the work can be much more effective. We are hoping to open full-time centers with full-time help in all of the large cities in the Central Union.

The two main areas of inner-city work for the underprivileged are medical-missionary work and social work. Where there are no centers with full-time workers, the medical-dental van takes these services to the people.

We are making a special appeal for this year's Inner City Offering to provide centers with full-time directors and to fund the operation of vans so that 1978 can be our greatest year. The date for the offering is June 10, 1978.

Because of camp meeting, there may be a different date set for this

Sunnydale Retains Trophy

For the third consecutive year the Sunnydale Adventist Youth for Better Living (AYBL) team won the large AYBL trophy, and consequently is entitled to keep it for their permanent collection.

Les Pitton, Jr., (at the microphone) with the oratorical contestants.

The award was made to the Missouri Conference academy at the annual AYBL rally on the Enterprise Academy campus, at Enterprise, Kansas, on March 11. All of the academies of the Central Union participated. The oratorical contest was won by Anita Messengale of Mile High Academy, Denver.

The large trophy is awarded on the basis of many Better Living activities carried on by the academy students through the school year. The rally is a time for the presentation of orations, essays, posters, jingles, and cartoons, all dealing with tobacco, alcohol, or drug abuse.

The Collegiate Adventists for Better Living (CABL) club from Union College presented a program for the Friday evening vesper service on What Does Temperance Mean? Bruce Hayne is president of the club.

Mike Fellows, director of college relations for Union College, was the Sabbath morning speaker.

The guest speaker on Sabbath afternoon was John Rudometkin, ex-basketball player for the University of Southern California, the New York Knickerbockers and the Golden State Warriors, now an Adventist, who pro-notes healthful living. He told his personal experience in overcoming a disease that brought an end to his athletic career.

John Rudometkin, former athlete, who was guest speaker.

The rally was coordinated by Les Pitton, Jr., Central Union temperance director.

Andrews To Hold Food Service Workshop

The 1978 Food Service Supervisors' Workshop at Andrews University will be held July 9 to July 27. The program will include classes in cost control and accounting, personnel management, communication, techniques and tools of management, sanitation, safety, layout and equipment. Seminars, films and field trips, including one to the Chicago produce markets, will be on the agenda.

Any person presently employed or interested in food service supervision for institutions such as schools, hospitals, extended-care facilities or other food-related organizations may apply for the workshop. The program is planned to meet the needs of persons with various academic backgrounds, nationalities, and religious beliefs.

For an application, and information regarding credit and certification, write to Dr. Fonda L. Chaffee, Director of the Food Service Workshop, Home Economics Department, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49104.

FORMER CALIFORNIA TEACHERS, NOTICE

Following the out-of-court settlement in equal pay litigation between the Government and the Pacific Union Conference last October, efforts have been made to locate those who should be benefited.

Pacific Union Conference Administrative officers and Office of Education personnel suggest that no teacher refuse such funds, based approximately 59¢ on the dollar.

If you were employed in a Seventh-day Adventist school in one of the four California conferences between September 1, 1972, and June 30, 1974, and were not paid on the Head of Household schedule, you may inquire from:

They Are Still Counting on You

By Charles Martin,
National Service Organization

"I'm one of the young Seventh-day Adventist servicemen that you have so graciously been sending your publications. I just want to let you know how much I appreciate your thoughtfulness. I'm the only Adventist on my ship and it's always nice to hear what's going on around the various conferences. I think what you're doing for us is just grand."—U.S. Navy.

"It seems that when I've had a problem in my Christian experience an article in either the Review or Insight would be there to give me encouragement. I am thankful to you because you have not forgotten the servicemen and women of the church."—Sp5 in U.S. Army.

But someone says, "It's been six years since Vietnam, and the draft stopped in late 1972. You mean we still have church members in military service?" Right! Here are the facts.

As a result of unemployment problems, the attractive finances offered, the career and training opportunities promised, and other incentives outlined, the enlistment rate has kept up. In fact today we have almost as many Seventh-day Adventists in uniform as we did during Vietnam days. As a church, what are we doing for these members in uniform—most of them young and many of them newly baptized?

What they need are church papers, books, letters, and above all personal attention and prayers. The church is trying to provide these. Those on active duty with the U.S. Armed Forces who ask for these will receive the following periodicals: Review, Insight, Signs, Message and Listen. They can also have the Sabbath School Lesson Quarterly, missionary book of the year, and the daily devotional book by request, as well as the newsletter For God and Country. They are provided with missionary literature to be used for witnessing also.

Every other year an offering is taken across the United States. In 1976 this offering amounted to over $110,000 and every dollar is needed. It now takes over $60 per serviceman to provide supplies for a two-year period.

This is where you can personally be involved. Our men and women in service need your support. Sabbath, June 17, 1978 is your opportunity. Give generously.

Hoehn Is New Pastor For Boulder

By Wm. C. Hatch, President

The Colorado Conference executive committee is happy to welcome Jim R. Hoehn as the pastor for the Boulder Church. He comes from the Chesapeake Conference where he was director of the ministerial department.

Jim R. Hoehn, wife Roxy, John, Stanley, and Mary Jane.

Elder Hoehn's service to the church has also included pastoring churches in the Chesapeake, Missouri, and Texas Conferences.

A native of Oklahoma, he attended Southwestern Junior College, Keene, Texas, before completing his undergraduate work at Union College. He subsequently spent a year at Andrews University.

Hoehn is married to the former Roxy Youngs. They have three children, John, 13; Stanley, 10; and Mary Jane, 7.

C. Lee Huff left the pastorate at Boulder to become stewardship director of the Colorado Conference. During the period of transition, until Hoehn's arrival, Dave Bottroff, associate pastor, has served as leader of the 750-member congregation.

Eleven Added To Aztec Membership

By Shirley George,
Communication Secretary

Dennis Sellers, evangelist, assisted by his wife Judy, began an evangelistic crusade in Aztec, New Mexico, March 4, 1978, that added 11 new members to the Aztec Church, with the prospects of eight more.

The meetings were held in the new Aztec Civic Center. An average of 200 were in attendance each night, with more than half being visitors. On Friday and Saturday nights the High Country Singers, a Christian musical group from Durango, Colorado, gave special music. Meetings for the little folk were conducted by Mrs. Mattie Payne and Revay Douglas.

"God's blessings were enjoyed through the ministry of the Sellers," reports Earl Snow, pastor, "and we are anticipating another large baptism at the close of a special baptismal class."

Evangelist and Mrs. Dennis Sellers presented special music each night of the evangelistic meetings in Aztec, New Mexico.

Denver and Porter Have New Physician

By Greg Rumsey,
Communication Intern

We are happy to announce that Don Paden, M.D., a psychiatrist, has established practice in Denver, at 1666 South University Boulevard, and is joining the staff of Porter Memorial Hospital. He and his family reside in Loveland.

Dr. and Mrs. Don Paden, Donnalee, Michelle, Michael and Donald.

Paden, who most recently practiced at St. Helena Hospital and Health Center in California, is a 1972 graduate of Loma Linda University, where he also took a residency in psychiatry. He graduated from Union College in 1968 and from Sunnysdale Academy in 1961.

Living and working in Colorado are not new to him as he was the administrator of Rose Arbor Nursing Home in Sterling in 1965 and 1966.

Paden is married to the former Julia Albrecht, a graduate of Campion Academy. They have four children, Donnalee Ann, 12; Michelle Renee, 10; Donald E., III, 5; and Michael Edward, 3.

Reading Books Can Change Lives

By James Shaw,
Associate Publishing Director

In October, 1976 Dave Stoddard was stationed in Ft. Lewis, Washington, while his wife was living in Denver, Colorado. Having a lot of time on his hands he spent many hours reading. One day he picked up the book Great Controversy and noticed how different it was from others he had read. It was thought provoking. In fact, Dave said it scared him.

After he had finished it he wrote Wanda, his wife, and told her to buy a book called the Great Controversy. Wanda looked in different book stores, but could not find a copy available.

One day while Dave was in a hospital waiting room he noticed the Bible Story display book. Wanda had wanted a set for Leann, their daughter. Realizing that the Bible Stories were not just ordinary children's books, he sent the card to Wanda, suggesting it would be a good idea to have them.

Emma Cooper, a literature evangelist, received the lead card in August, 1977. While Emma was showing the Bible Stories to Wanda, she was told about Dave's request for Wanda to buy a Great Controversy, and told Wanda that she happened to sell that book. Wanda proceeded to buy the Bible Stories, along with the Desire of Ages.

Mrs. Emma Cooper is a diligent soldier in the literature evangelist ranks.

In January, 1978 Jack Bohannan was holding evangelistic meetings in Littleton, Colorado. Emma thought it would be a good idea to send invitations to some of her customers to attend the Prophecy 21 meetings. One evening while attending the meetings, Emma saw Wanda and Dave, and was overjoyed to find out that they had been there five nights previous.

On March 4, 1978 Dave was baptized. Wanda has not been baptized yet, but we believe that soon she will follow in her husband's footsteps.

Someone has said that soul winning is made up of a lot of little things that are done to the glory of God. This is what the literature ministry is all about—doing a lot of small things to let those for whom we labor know how much the Master loves them.

New Church Organized At Granby

By R. A. McCumber,
Communication Director

Middle Park is the name of the newest church family in the Colorado Conference. On Sabbath, April 29, Wm. C. Hatch, conference president, officially organized a congregation of 19 members in Granby, Colorado.

The members of this new congregation voted to hold the charter membership open for 30 days so that members who could not attend on the day of organization could still be charter members. There were six who indicated their plans to become baptized members in the near future.

It is at this point in the history of many churches that a building committee is organized and plans set forth to build a church home. Not so with this warm and active congregation. Since two weeks before the first frost, Dusty Pierce, a local building contractor, has been busily directing the work of building a new house of worship. The leader of the group, Eldo Bell and his wife Van, state that every member of the church family has had a part in the building of the new church.

"The future of this fine congregation is bright," states Wayne Vorhies, pastor. "With every member looking for souls we will soon double our charter membership. God has been good to us, and every member joins my wife and me in giving Him the glory for what has been accomplished thus far."

Right: The new church building, with provision for a church school, will be completed and furnished in just a few weeks.

Below: The charter members of Colorado's new Middle Park Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard V. Stitzel sign the charter membership registry. They were one of the first Adventist families living in the area in recent times.

Kansas City Central Has New Bible Instructor

By Jim Epperson,
Communication Director

Joyce Cupp has recently moved to Kansas City where she is serving as a Bible instructor with the Central Church pastor, James King.

Joyce is from Boulder, Colorado. While living in Boulder, she worked with Fordyce Detamore in evangelistic work. She worked part time as Bible instructor and coordinator for witnessing teams in the Boulder area. Most recently Joyce was employed by the Nebraska Conference as a Bible worker and resided in Columbus, Nebraska.

Mrs. Cupp has two children: Carmen, a sophomore at Union College; and Walter, who is in construction work in Lincoln, Nebraska.

News Items From St. Joseph

By Pauline Lewis

April 12, Jim Epperson had a program on the Seventh-day Adventist Church. April 14 and 15, W. S. Lee held a seminar on Spiritual Gifts with a question and answer period. That night there was a wedding. Debbie Giannattasic and Emmett Pendergras united in marriage. Debbie is a new member.

April 22, John Fowler spoke at both morning church services. At noon a fellowship luncheon was at the YWCA. A Sabbath School Council meeting was held in the afternoon.

April 24, the Heritage Singers, USA performed at the Missouri Theatre in St. Joe. April 28-30, the newly reorganized Pathfinder Club of 30 members went to Camp Heritage for a camporee.

May 6, H. D. Burbank from the General Conference Seventh-day Adventist World Service was the Sabbath morning speaker for both church services. On the evening of May 6 the Sunnysdale Academy tumbling team performed.

The new school building is almost ready for students to move into.

A Well-Planned Estate Will Give Peace of Mind

By Merle Barker,
Field Representative, Trust Services Dept.

If you have been waiting for an opportune time to plan your estate, do not wait longer. Do it now while you can be the one to decide how your property is to be distributed. And if you leave some to benefit the Lord's work, you may even designate how it is to be used.

The state has plans for all who have neglected to make their own; and you will not be pleased with them.

The Conference trust services personnel will be happy to counsel with you on some of the ways you can achieve peace of mind, have financial security, provide for members of your family and, at the same time, remember God's closing work.

The goal of the Trust Services Department is to aid church members in discharging their stewardship in a manner pleasing to our heavenly Father.

"God is displeased with the slack, loose manner in which many of His professed people conduct their worldly business. They seem to have lost all sense of the fact that the property they are using belongs to God, and that they must render to Him an account of their stewardship. Some leave their worldly business in perfect confusion. Satan has his eye on it all, and he strikes at a favorable opportunity, and by his management takes much means out of the ranks of Sabbath-keepers. And this means goes into his ranks," (Testimonies, vol. 1, p. 199).

It is the aim of the Missouri Conference that every worker and family have a plan. Contact the office if you have questions or need help.

LEGAL NOTICE

A meeting is called of the Missouri Conference constituency to be held on June 11, 1978, at 10 a.m., at Sunnysdale Academy, Centralia, Missouri. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss future plans for Sunnysdale Academy.

Dark Counties Lighted Up for Christ

By Jim Epperson,
Communication Director

Two more counties have been lighted up for Christ in the state of Missouri. This is a partial fulfillment of the goals outlined by the lay advisory committee and the administration of the Missouri Conference.

Kimberling City is an outgrowth of the Springfield, Missouri, Church. This is the third satellite church from the Springfield area.

The company in Lamar was formed after a series of evangelistic meetings conducted by Larry Cansler. The Lamar company is an outgrowth of the Nevada district.

Edible Wild Plants Served for Supper

By R. L. Johnson,
Communication Director

Katrina Howard, Lander Pathfinder leader, organized the church ladies to serve an edible wild plants supper on May 3. Included in the meal was a cactus casserole, raw cactus, creamed stinging nettles, watercress salad and mint tea.

Katrina had gleaned information on edible wild plants from a class, other research, and experience. Interest was shown in experimenting with other edible wild plants as more become available in late spring and summer.

After the meal R. L. Johnson, Wyoming youth director, showed slides on 50 edible wild plants. Many wild plants are nutritious and delicious.

Milham Is Employee of the Year

Bill Milham, cashier, has been selected as Shawnee Mission Medical Center's employee of the year for 1978. He began working at the hospital one month before it opened 16 years ago—helping set up the payroll, accounts payable and inventory control systems.

Bill Milham

A co-worker says of him, "Bill is always courteous and friendly. You see, he has to deal with the patients' pocketbooks, and that can be very upsetting."

In describing his work, he explains, "My job consists of handling money, but the most important part is the personal contact I have with the patients. Many times people come to the cashier's window upset about their hospital bill. Very few, however, are still upset when they leave."

Service Awards Dinner Honors Employees

By Greg Rumsey,
Public Relations Intern

Forty-three employees of Porter Memorial Hospital were recognized for their years of service at a recent awards dinner. The annual event serves as a thank you to those who have been employed at the hospital for multiples of five years.

Receiving the highest service award was Lyle H. Little, who has been the chef at Porter for 30 years. The Denver native, who has added many vegetarian dishes to the menu for patients as well as cafeteria customers, periodically instructs a class in meatless cooking which the hospital has sponsored in recent years.

Twenty-five-year service awards went to Valoua E. Caldwell, a switchboard operator at Porter for more than 20 years, and Menton A. and Norma Medford. Menton Medford served the hospital as grounds supervisor for many years and continues to work in maintenance, while his wife, Norma, is director of dietary services, which has grown substantially under her leadership.

The four top award recipients are all members of Denver South Church.

Other employees were recognized for five, ten, fifteen, and twenty years of hospital affiliation. Ronald L. Sackett, administrator, and Richard L. Scott, personnel director, presented the award plaques.

In addition to the awards ceremony, the occasion included a complimentary dinner; an address by Arvid B. Brekke, president of the Colorado Hospital Association; and a patriotic musical presentation by the Mile High Academy Chorale, under the direction of Hal Hampton.

Five Baptized In Omaha

By Suzanne Hula,

Five people from two families were baptized in the Omaha Memorial Church by Leonard Westphal on March 25.

Leonard Westphal (right) with new Omaha members — Eric and Martin Williams and Elaine, Susan, and Robert Johnson.

The new members are Robert and Elaine Johnson and daughter Susan, and Eric and Martin Williams. Both families come from homes in which the fathers were ministers.

Robert Johnson's father, James D. Johnson, was a Seventh-day Adventist minister for 55 years. Most of his ministry was spent in Blair, Nebraska, where he served until his retirement in 1969, at the age of 86. He died May 6, 1975, at age 92.

The Johnsons visited the Omaha Church and were so impressed by the love and friendliness they found, that they decided to be baptized.

Eric and Martin Williams are the sons of Ted and Carol Anderson. Ted is a former Baptist minister who, with his wife, accepted the Adventist message as a result of Dale Brusett's series of evangelistic meetings in Omaha last fall. The boys attended church with their parents, liked it very much, and decided to follow the Lord all the way and be baptized. Ted hopes to become an Adventist minister.

Bob Ihrig Is College View Intern

By H. H. Voss,
Conference President

The new ministerial intern at the College View Church is Bob Ihrig. He succeeds Murrell Tull, who has been appointed pastor of the Hastings district. Ihrig's responsibilities include pastoring the Holland Church.

We welcome the Ihrig family to the pastoral staff of the Nebraska Conference. Bob has just graduated from Union College with a major in theology and will be going to Andrews University in January, 1979. He assumed leadership of the Holland Church in March and is doing outstanding work.

Bob and his wife, Susan, spent three and a half years in Colorado before coming to Union to complete his education. They have three children—Jennifer, 6; Marc, 4½; and Matthew, who was born this past April.

We solicit your prayers on behalf of this family as they labor in Nebraska, Bob's native state.

New Omaha Members Tour Union College

By Suzanne Hula,
Communication Secretary

Leonard Westphal, pastor of the Omaha Memorial Church, recently led a group of 26 newly baptized members on a tour of Union College in Lincoln.

This is the fourth such group the pastor has taken to the college during the past year, with a total of 120 people visiting the campus.

The purpose of these tours is to introduce new Adventists to the philosophy of Christian education and to acquaint them with one of our institutions of higher learning.

The program included a banquet in

Congressman Appreciates Book

Dale Culbertson and Murrell Tull, both of the College View Church, made several attempts to see Congressman Charles Thone to present him a copy of The Desire of Ages. They were not able to see him personally, so they left the book in his Lincoln office. Congressman Thone expressed his appreciation in a letter to Tull: "You may be sure that I am pleased to own this book, the most beautiful news of all ages, in its nicely personalized binding."

Tekamah Church Hosts Voice of Youth

The Tekamah church sponsored a Voice of Youth evangelistic program at Tekamah City auditorium on February 25 and 26. The presentation consisted of gospel music and testimonies by Union College students Barry Bacon, Shelley Dickinson, Tim Rittenour, Mike Soren, Claude Doudna, and Minoru Mogi.

Each home in Tekamah was given a personal invitation to the meetings, and fliers were placed in all towns in the area. Twelve nonmembers attended, including the Catholic priest, who commented that he wished all young people in his parish could have heard the program.

the cafeteria, hosted by M. O. Manley, Union College president. The group was given time for questions and answers on financial aid, accreditation, and work availability. The day concluded with a tour of the Adventist Book Center.

Some of the visitors may attend Union or send their children or grandchildren there. Others will become financial supporters of the college.

Two Baptized At Fremont

By Forrest Kinzli, Pastor

The ministries of a literature evangelist and the Voice of Prophecy led to two recent baptisms in Fremont.

Lillian Anderson, colporteur from Lyons, first contacted Vesta Grissom several years ago. Mrs. Grissom accepted Jesus as Lord and Savior one year ago. Since then, with much prayer and personal Bible study, she has sought a church in harmony with the Word. Following nine months of fellowship with the Fremont church family and studies with the pastor, she was baptized April 1. Her parents, four children, and six grandchildren attended the service.

The Voice of Prophecy notified Forrest Kinzli, pastor of the Fremont district, that George Borisow had completed a Bible correspondence course and desired the address of the local church. Further Bible studies were conducted by the pastor and a Fremont member, Joe Friestad. As George studied, conviction deepened until he told his employer he could no longer work on Sabbath. Though repeatedly threatened with being fired for not working Saturdays, George stood firm in the Lord, explaining to his company that he must put God first. For several weeks he continued working five days a week in a six-day plant. George was baptized April 14. Since then the Lord has opened another line of work for him, with no Sabbath conflict.

HOLDREGE BAPTISM

January 28 was a Sabbath of rejoicing for the Holdrege Church, especially for Mrs. Tracey Wolzen, whose husband (above, left) was baptized by John Roeske.

KANSAS

Pratt Group Purchases Church Building

By Burton Santee, Pastor

In July, 1977 a group of Pratt, Kansas, members began the search for a suitable building where they could expand a study group. The home in which they were meeting was not adequate for their purpose. It was discovered that the Pentecostal Holiness church was empty. They rented the church and established a branch Sabbath school.

A. C. McClure, Kansas Conference president, had the first service in the new location. In fact, it was his first preaching service in the conference.

In January, 1978, it was learned that this building was for sale and the Pratt group began negotiations. With the generosity of the small group and help from the conference, the building was purchased in March. On March 25, ten members were organized into a company by A. C. McClure and Burton Santee, pastor. Forty-five were in attendance to welcome this new group.

Cooking School Students Serve Buffet Banquet

By Doris Hurcomb

Instructors for the Chapel Oaks Cooking School went to the attractive buffet-style serving table, took some of each of the foods displayed there, and went back to the tables for the final taste test. It was delicious!

This was the Proof of the Pudding Banquet—graduation night for the Chapel Oaks Cooking School. After six Sundays of listening to lectures, watching films, asking questions, and watching instructors prepare various foods, this seventh night had been turned over to the students to prepare a vegetarian banquet with the faculty and spouses as guests of honor.

Laurence Downing, director of training and education at Shawnee Mission Medical Center, was guest speaker for the evening. He shared some research and some of his personal experiences in striving to live a healthful life.

Free Credit to Be Given For Special Classes

"Next year, Union College students will be able to receive free college credit for classes in contemporary issues," according to Dean Hubbard, academic dean.

The new program of mini-courses will be initiated at Union College next fall. Its purpose is to give college credit to students for topics that have contemporary interest such as cloning or biological rhythms. "Through this program we hope to spark more interest in current issues, broaden the academic level and enhance the intellectual level on campus," says Hubbard.

These one-hour classes will be offered either as an intensive study type class or will meet once a week for an entire semester, depending on what the students' and faculty's needs are. "We hope to incorporate some of these classes with our scheduled weekend speakers," says Hubbard. "For instance when J. W. Provonsha was on campus this past year, we could have offered a mini-course in Christian ethics. We also want the students to feel free to make suggestions as to what they would like to learn about. I have seen this program work extremely well on other campuses."

The mini-course classes will not cost students extra tuition if they have enrolled in 12 to 18 hours of college credit. Information on specific classes will be available next fall.

College to Have Tropical Field Station

A few select Union College students will have the opportunity to study this summer at Union College's new Tropical Field Station at Antillan College in Puerto Rico.

Richard Tkachuck, recently named chairman of the Department of Science at Union College, together with Henry Zuill, an associate professor at Montemorelos University, has recently initiated the organization of a tropical field station at Antillan College, Union's sister college.

Two courses will be offered this summer for three hours of credit each and Union College is inviting any graduated high school senior to take advantage of this tremendous opportunity. In addition, the courses will be transferable to any college. Offered this summer are Tropical Natural History and Insular Biology.

"The Tropical Natural History course is an introductory course in tropical life," says Tkachuck. "Students will study the characteristics of tropical life. Essentially they will answer the question, What makes something a tropical species? The Insular Biology course will instruct students in the adaptation problems of island dwellers, the constraints that island living places on them and the migration processes from one island to another.

"The format will be to teach by showing more than by lecturing," says Tkachuck. The classes will be geared toward non-biology majors and students need not fear that the courses will be too difficult if they haven't had chemistry or biology.

Zuill, who has a doctorate from Loma Linda University in tropical plant ecology and has taught tropical field courses in Mexico, will instruct the classes.

The classes will begin June 2 and terminate August 2. The cost for air fare from Florida to Puerto Rico, room, board, and tuition will be $1200. For information, contact Union College, Department of Science.

Science Departments to Be Under One Chairman

Union College science departments, biology, chemistry and physics, previously each under separate chairmen, will be united next fall with Richard Tkachuck as chairman. Tkachuck was graduated from U.C.L.A. with a Ph.D. in zoology, was graduated from Loma Linda University with a master's degree in biology and from Andrews with a bachelor of arts degree in biology.

Last year Tkachuck served as campus chaplain.

Students who are enrolled in science-related classes will benefit from this reorganization because they are often involved in taking classes that overlap one another significantly. It is easier to alleviate this problem if all faculty are under one chairman.

The combining of the departments will also make more efficient use of the faculty's time. Team-taught classes can be instituted thus making it possible to use the best qualified teacher in each field. This change will also cut down on the non-teaching work that was involved with each area preparing its own budget and curriculum revisions and ordering of supplies.

A third advantage gives financial benefits. By combining the orders for supplies, it will be possible to order in larger quantities and receive larger discounts from suppliers. In addition one storeroom to store and organize supplies will cut down on clerical work.

As in other departments, in order to gain perspective in leadership, the chairmanship may be rotated to a qualified faculty member every three or four years.
