A Marvelous Achievement

A few months ago, when the presidents of the seven conferences in the Columbia Union set a goal of $100,000.00 Ingathering, it seemed like a gigantic task. However, past history has revealed that under the blessing of God Columbia Union always measures up well. Each president went home determined that his conference would succeed in raising its allotment. He, together with his home missionary secretary, studied how better to organize for a short, victorious campaign.

Every minister was given a portion of the conference goal, and these men, inspired by love for souls, went to their churches, filled with enthusiasm which was caught by the church officers and members. Street singing evenings and having field days started the money to flowing toward the General Conference treasury. Week by week it mounted up until, just before Thanksgiving, the goal of 100,000 dollars had been reached.

How we praise God for this. No previous campaign was finished so quickly, and never have we had fewer leaders who did not measure up. At this writing a large number of districts in each conference are what we term "Over the Top." The remaining districts which have not reached their goals are to continue on until the quota is reached or another year begins.

Within the short space of ten years the Columbia Union has turned over to the General Conference, in Ingathering funds, eleven hundred thousand dollars. This money, which represents the combined effort of lay workers, has been, in the hands of God, a great factor in the spread of the truth in heathen lands. The fact that our message is being proclaimed in 325 countries and islands, and that every ten days a new language is added to the list, is an inspiration to every believer. Considerable credit is due to our seven conferences as the large sums of money coming from them have helped to make this possible.

Parents

We have almost reached the end of another year. Are we better parents than we were at the end of 1934? The Lord wants us to be better each year. It is time to take stock. We have our children only a little while and if we are going to do anything for them, we must do it quickly, and the sooner we do it, the easier it is to do. A knowledge of how to care for our precious flock does not naturally or miraculously drop on us at the children's birth. God expects us to gain the help we need through prayer and study, and

He provides us the opportunity. What more can we ask? What more could He give? He will hold us accountable for the use we make of it.

"No time for study," did you say? Stop and consider just what is the first work for parents? The making of successful lives is the most important work for those who have children, and that means character building.

"Upon fathers as well as mothers rests a responsibility for the child's earlier as well as its later training, and for both parents the demand for careful and thorough preparation is most urgent.

"Never will education accomplish all that it might and should accomplish until the importance of the parents' work is fully recognized, and they receive a training for its sacred responsibilities." "Education," p 276.

"No work entrusted to human beings involves greater or more far-reaching results than does the work of fathers and mothers.

"It is by the youth and children of today that the future of society is to be determined, and what these youth and children shall be depends upon the home. To the lack of right home training may be traced the larger share of the disease and misery and crime that curse humanity. If the home life were pure and true, if the children who went forth from its care were prepared to meet life's responsibilities, what a change would be seen in the world." "Ministry of Healing," p. 351.

Do we believe the foregoing? Will we act upon it?

How shall we answer before the throne when we are asked, "Where is thy flock, thy beautiful flock?"

Change of Editors

With the January issue of The Watchman Magazine, Robert Bruce Thurber concluded sixteen years of editorial connection with that periodical, ten years as editor. On December 6, he and Mrs. Thurber sailed from San Francisco, on the S. S. "President Wilson," for Poona, India. Here Elder Thurber will become editor of The Oriental Watchman, and the Eastern Tidings, as well as book editor for the publishing department of the Southern Asia Division. Besides promoting these periodicals, Elder Thurber's special work will be to develop a book literature in the nineteen different languages which the Poona publishing house prints as well as other of the many languages used among the quarter of the human race that live in southern Asia.

Elder Thurber goes to work well qualified by previous mission experience as editor, speaker, writer, minister, and teacher in this country. Mrs. Thurber is also a worker of rank and experience, having been for some years, before her marriage, secretary-treasurer of the Cumberland and Georgia conferences. In India she will serve as her husband's secretary and proofreader.

Elder James E. Shultz succeeds as editor of The Watchman Magazine. He comes to Nashville from Massachusetts, where he was for years pastor of the Boston Temple Church. He has had previous editorial experience in the Chinese Signs of the Times, Shanghai, China, and has seen mission service in both China and Korea.

We bespeak the prayers of our people for the Thurburs as they go to their important new work, and continued support of The Watchman Magazine under its new editor.

That Beautiful Picture

Many of our people had opportunity, at the past summer's camp-meetings, of seeing and purchasing a fac-simile of that beautiful picture "Christ Our Righteousness." The original picture was about 9x14 feet, painted in colors by the Review & Herald artist. The picture was first exhibited at the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition, where it was the center of attraction in the Hall of Religions. It was afterwards exhibited in Washington, D. C. and then sent on to California, where it was placed in the California Exposition at San Diego.

It is reported that a little girl, after viewing the picture for some time, slipped up unawares and kissed the feet of the Saviour. In another instance, a woman was so impressed by the appeal of those kind eyes and the out-stretched arms, that she felt convicted of sins and has since sent word that she made peace with those whom she had wronged.

In a recent sermon in the Takoma Park Church, Elder Haynes told of a young university student who had been presented by a relative with a picture of Christ. After studying the picture for some time, he said, "Yes, I will put Him up on the wall," although the walls of his room were covered with pictures of actresses, race horses, etc. The next time the visitor called the young man said, "Yes, I put Him up there but I couldn't stand to see Him in that other company, so I took them all down," and now Christ reigns supreme, not only on the wall of the room but in the young man's heart.

No one can tell the amount of good this beautiful picture "Christ Our Righteousness" will do in the homes of the people. In order to show it to them, you can secure one, backed with cloth, and folded so that it will slip into the side pocket or handbag. It will make a very acceptable holiday gift at 50c and will return 50% profit. This folder, to be used in taking orders, will be sent to any address for 25c, postpaid. Order of your Book and Bible House.

News Notes

We have just received an encouraging word from Brother Melvin Eck-enroth, one of our theological students of Washington Missionary College, who, with fellow students, is conducting an effort in the Pythian Hall in Frederick. The meetings are held only on Sunday nights. He writes as follows: "Here it is midnight, but we had such a wonderful meeting at Frederick tonight that I feel I just must tell you. Our attendance is growing weekly instead of diminishing. The interest is growing with a remarkable advance. I have three very fine families very much interested and two already have mentioned baptism. Our other workers also are giving studies. I spoke on the 'Millennium' and we really had a fine interest. Tears flowed and hearts were melted. Really, dear old Frederick is greatly awakening and we are finding honest hearts. We are making our expenses. Our attendance ranges somewhere about 65 to 140. Our souls are deeply stirred, pray for us."

Word comes from Brother Riston that several are ready for baptism in connection with the effort that he is holding in Salisbury.

On a recent Sabbath seven were baptized by Elder Phipps, seven by Elder King, and two by Elder Patzkowski in the Baltimore churches.

Small efforts are being held by Brother Patzkowski in the German Church in Baltimore, and by Elder King and the writer in a hall in Glenburnie.

We are very hopeful of passing the 1600 mark by the close of the year and have every reason to believe that at the rate we are going, with the blessing of the Lord, Chesapeake can eventually have a membership of 2000.

It was our privilege to attend the Ingathering festivals at Grasonville and Rock Hall. These were held on midweek nights. The members of the churches had prepared fine programs. A beautiful array of contributed fruits and vegetables were arranged in front of the churches; these were sold on the night following the program. The sales, however, were made in buildings other than the church. The returns were very encouraging.

We were very much interested in the outcome of the Sabbath School Investment program in Grasonville. Most of the members are sisters in this little church of 40 members, and very little money is handled. However, through the piecing of a quilt, every piece being paid for by some individual, $42.00 was raised for the investment.

We are pleased to note growing interest in the Investment fund in all our churches throughout the field.

We are very anxious that the week of prayer should be made an occasion of spiritual help in all our churches. We appeal to our members to endeavor to lay aside all unnecessary work and to devote special time in seeking the Lord. A general revival and reformation is the one thing that is needed to prepare our people for the latter rain and the finishing of the work.

W. C. Moffett

Eastern Shore Echoes

The Eastern Shore Trumpeters blew the trumpets and walls of Jericho fell; the "spoils" were gathered to the amount of $1700.00, for the advancement of the kingdom. The "spoils" were gathered easier and faster than any time in our history, and the trumpeters cooperated wonderfully for all had a mind to work.

Brother Henry Wilkins spoke the word, and the Dover members went out, Sunday after Sunday, until the goal was reached. This church is the second highest per capita in the conference, being $14.06 per member.

Clifton Downey of Rock Hall led his forces to victory within the allotted time, and great was the rejoicing on the day when the battle was won.

Garfield Mosley assembled his hosts, week after week, until the sum of $125.00 was gathered for the Master. The Cheswold church, over which this brother has been elder many years, was raised up by Elders Frank and Seenev, and is still faithful to the message.

Elder S. M. Cobb, our veteran elder and missionary of more than 84 years of age, stood by the work until Whiteleysburg Church sang the Jubilee song for funds gathered within the allotted time. Then Grasonville, labored until the beautifully arranged program was rendered when the fruits of earth were gathered for the harvest time, and this program capped the goal with the full amount reached. The church was beautifully decorated and, as the true purpose of all this ingathering was given in song, recitation, and dialogue, before a packed church, the strangers who came within our gates caught the vision of this meeting.

With the collection, the fruits, vegetables, and donations of jellies, jams, etc. at the sale at the school house the next evening, there was realized $40 cash. Surely the Lord was with his people on the Eastern Shore during this soul-saving campaign.

By faith the walls of Jericho fell before the hosts of Isreal, after we compassed them forty-nine days. And what shall I say more for the time would fail me to tell of Harters, the Huesmans, and Grandmas Harter and Dybeck, Chambers, sisters over eighty years old, gathering funds for the Saviour. The Downeys, Sewells, and the Witts, the Horneys, the Bryans, the Claggetts, the Durhams, the Seeneys, the Cobbs, the Wyatts, who, through faith, conquered their feelings on field days, left their home duties, and traveled on foot, telling the old, old story of Jesus and His love, asking for means to carry the gospel of the kingdom to all nations. They stopped the mouths of Sanballats, the Tobiahs, and the Geshems, and turned to flight the army of criticsers and faultfinders, who said we could not do it. All these obtained a good report by faith and works, knowing that a rich reward awaits the people of the Lord, when His jewels are made up for His kingdom. After this successful campaign the members are ready to assist in a progressive program in soul winning, and plans are being made to win many to the truth.

Contracts were made with lawyers, doctors, officials of state, and people of influence. The governor's wife gave $10 to the work, and an ex-governor of another state in our territory gave $10 also.

Our constituency has a mind to labor and to finish the work, that the King of kings may come again, with a retinue of holy angels, in the clouds of heaven.

Souls have been added to every one of the writer's five churches, so far this year, and still more are coming and accepting the message for these last days.

Remember us at the throne of grace. May His Spirit pervade this great Columbia Union Conference, and the world wide field, so that the Master may soon come.

William F. Schmidt.

Thirteenth Sabbath is coming soon, and it is our privilege to make preparations for having it go down as "Dollar Day for South America." Now is the time to start.

Cold Feet

Scores of people complain of habitually cold extremities. "I have poor circulation, the doctor says!" That settles it, if the doctor says so! Personally, I have never discussed the subject with any doctor but the explanation "poor circulation" has never seemed a logical one. Why not? I shall tell you.

Whether your extremities are habitually cold or whether they are habitually warm, your blood keeps right on circulating through its regular outlined course. The circulatory system consists of the heart, the arteries, the veins, and the capillaries. The heart, as you know, is the propelling force which pumps the blood into the blood vessels; the arteries are the blood vessels which carry the blood from the heart; the veins are those which carry it to the heart; the capillaries are the small fine little vessels which connect the arteries and the veins.

The heart forces the blood, by means of its regular beat, into the arteries which carry it to the remotest parts of the body. It gets into the veins through the medium of the numerous intersecting capillaries. The veins in turn carry it back to the heart. The time it takes a certain amount of blood to make a complete circulation of the body is called a cardiac cycle. Physiologists do not appear to agree on the time required for a cardiac cycle. Some teach the three-minute cycle. This is a long time. It is likely to be more correct to abide by the 26 to 28 heart-beat cycle.

In view of the established regularity of the circulation of the blood, the term "poor circulation" does not convey anything meaningful. "Poor digestion" is readily understood. It means that the stomach; or other part of the digestive system, does not secrete the proper digestive fluids; or the food does not pass out on schedule time; or perhaps gas forms, belching takes place, there is distress or a heavy sensation, or pain, or something uncomfortable. But "poor circulation," what is it? The blood travels through the feet, that is sure! It does not stop at the ankles and turn back. Your feet would become gangrenous and eventually drop off. "Well, what is it that makes my feet cold so much of the time?" I hear you say almost impatiently.

Let us see whether we can arrive at a satisfactory explanation. Have you ever been embarrassed and felt your face get hot? No one had to tell you that you blushed—you knew it all too well! Again, have you ever been so frightened that you felt your face blanch? Perhaps some one told you later "You turned as white as a sheet!" Yes indeed, you've had both experiences. The explanation which lies at the root of the spontaneous blushing and blanching may help us out with our "cold feet."

All the arteries of the body, both large and small, are supplied with two sets of nerves,—the vasco-dilators and the vasco-constrictors. The vasco-dilators perform the function of dilating or widening the lumen of the artery. The vasco-constrictors, on the other hand, constrict or narrow the lumen. The two sets of nerves work in harmony: the dilators see to it that the constrictors do not close the artery too much; the constrictors make it their business to keep the artery from expanding too much. In event of some mental excitement, as in embarrassment or confusion, the dilators get the upper hand—the arteries and capillaries are wide open, with the result of a crimson color of the skin. Again, in such momentary mental effect as that of fear or fright, the constrictors hold a tight hand on narrowing down of their lumen and the blood vessels, with a resulting blanched face.

When the extremities are habitually cold, it is due to the fact that the bloodvessels in the outer structures—the skin principally—do not open widely as they normally should. The blood vessels underneath are, no doubt, normally dilated to permit the proper circulation of the blood. The vasco-constrictors have a tighter grip on the skin vessels than do the dilators. The vasco-motor nerves, as the dilators and constrictors are collectively called, are a branch of the sympathetic nervous system. "And what is that?" you will say. Have you ever seen a diagrammatic representation of the nerves of the body? If you have, you will have noticed a fine net work of threads and fibers up and down the spine. From this collection, there radiated into every direction,—arms, chest, abdomen and lower extremities many fine fibers. This constitutes the sympathetic nervous system. The vasco motors are just a small part (though important) of this system. When the feet are always cold, something is askew with the vasco motor nerves and the sympathetic nervous system. Perhaps you are a cold-blooded individual, generally speaking. Some people like hot weather and some prefer cold. Some fat folks need more covers than their lean bed partners do. Some stew all through the warm summer while others are exactly comfortable.

I have never seen much good result from taking hot foot baths repeatedly—for cold feet. But I have seen cold feet warm up beautifully when hot fomentations were applied to the spine. You can understand the logic of this, can you not? By treating the spine you are getting at the root of the trouble—the sympathetic nervous system.

Harvest Ingathering Appreciation

With grateful hearts to God we express our appreciation to every church, to every worker, to every church officer, and to every member for their earnest, untiring efforts in making possible the victory that we now enjoy in having reached our Harvest Ingathering objective of $19,000.00. This gives us a per capita standing of $10.83 for our white churches, and $5.59 per capita for our colored churches, or a combined per capita of $9.83. At this date, November 30, the conference has $3,000.00 above its Union goal, and $6,000.00 above the General Conference goal. At the beginning of the campaign it was hoped that the full conference goal would be in hand by Thanksgiving week, and to this end the entire conference resolutely worked. We rejoice that the full goal is on hand, and on time.

Twenty-nine churches have their goal and more. The remaining sixteen churches will have their goal in a short time. At this early date the conference has more Harvest Ingathering funds in hand than at the close of the campaign December 31, last year. Only in the kingdom of God will we fully learn the results here in New Jersey and in the mission fields of this year's Harvest Ingathering work. We praise God for his blessing and for victory, and are grateful to all of our churches for their faithful service.

Believe in Your Work

How very often the enemy of souls confronts the colporteur with question and doubtings about his work, as to whether the Lord really is with him after all, and if he should continue as a literature evangelist.

A few words with reference to this question, I believe, will be very helpful in establishing one's faith in his work for God. I learned this experience from our good Brother Drott while visiting with him this past week down in the valley of the old Blue Ridge. He has found much prejudice, and the work of the enemy seemed to go ahead of him.

One morning, after driving up a country road, Brother Drott made an effort to begin canvassing, but discovered that his brief case containing his prospectus and other valuable items, was missing. It occurred to him that he must have laid it on the running board and it had fallen off en route, or perhaps he had left the case at home. He went back to his house only to find it was not there. He then decided to put an advertisement in the local paper, asking the finder of such to mail him a postcard. A little later an elderly couple advised him that they had found it about eight miles from where Brother Drott lives. Upon visiting this couple he found the folk had taken the brief case to their house and believing it to be locked, wrapped it up and put it away safely, thinking it belonged to a doctor. After a brief visit Brother Drott discovered that they were prejudiced against him and his work as he made known his business. Not being able to reward them with cash, our brother gave them the wonderful book "Bible Readings" and decided to visit them later to find out their faith in its teaching. The next meeting found them praising his work, and advertising it throughout their neighborhood by answering all their Bible questions, and two good orders were gained through their assistance. The experience that seemed sour to Brother Drott really turned out to be very sweet, for his last visit found a nice pail of honey waiting for him as a token of sympathetic friendship.

May each and every one of us go on, believing there are those somewhere awaiting us, even though the barriers do loom up very big at times, for "He is faithful that promised."

F. E. Thumwood.

Elder Schwartz's Health

The many friends of Elder W. F. Schwartz have heard of his recent illness and inquiry has been made as to his physical condition.

On October 4, 1935, Elder Schwartz, accompanied by his wife, was brought by Brother Cemer from Cincinnati to the Mt. Vernon Hospital-Sanitarium. He was in the sanitarium about one month, after which he returned to his home in Cincinnati.

After a careful diagnosis of the case, the physician said that it was necessary for him to have a complete rest for a number of weeks. At this writing I am happy to tell you that he is greatly improved in health.

On Sabbath, November 23, I had the pleasure of being with Elder Schwartz on the platform in the Cincinnati church. The audience was moved to tears when they saw their beloved pastor in the pulpit again, after several weeks' absence. Elder Schwartz is a faithful warrior of the cross, and has been a successful minister for many years. The Cincinnati church and many others are earnestly praying that he will have a speedy recovery to health.

The able leadership of the local elders, with the unanimous support of the members of the church, demonstrates what a well-organized church can accomplish even in the absence of its pastor. On November 23, the church reached its full Harvest In-gathering goal of $1500, and, at present, they have in excess of the needed amount, nearly $100. The local elders said: "Elder Schwartz, do not worry about reaching the Harvest In-gathering goal. The church is under the load and we will reach our goal." And so they did. As far as I can ascertain, the church program is being carried on in a very efficient manner, in every respect. We are hoping that Elder Schwartz will soon be able to again take up his church duties. The Lord has greatly blessed the labors of Elder and Sister Schwartz, in the Cincinnati field, and they are much loved by our people in that district.

Healed of Cancer

"He sendeth His word and healeth them, and delivereth them from their destructions. Oh, that men would praise Jehovah for His lovingkindness, and for His wonderful works to the children of men." (Psa. 107:20, 21 R. V.)

"Jehovah is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble, and He knoweth them that take refuge in Him." (Nah. 1:7)

Doctor and Mrs. Robert Jones came from Loma Linda, California, to the Wyoming Valley, Pa., in 1929. Dr. Jones established an office in Plymouth, Pa., in 1930. Sister Jones always took a prominent part in the activities of the Kingston church, established a junior department in the Sabbath school, and helped in many other ways as opportunities presented themselves. Her home life was also in strict accord with the principles of our faith.

Last February ill health began to undermine the constitution of Sister Jones. Her systemic condition grew worse rapidly. Her husband took her to our Sanitarium at Washington, D. C., on April 8. An exploratory operation was performed on April 24, and sarcoma (the most deadly form of cancer) found to be pervading her system. The patient realized the seriousness of her case, and at her request prayers were offered and an anointing performed by Elder C. S. Longacre and Dr. O. S. Parrett. God did not see fit to heal Sister Jones at this time.

Sister Jones was brought home on May 8 under the realization that death was imminent unless Providence should directly intervene. The writer visited Sister Jones shortly after her return, and she conversed freely regarding her condition. She bravely faced the awful death that was before her, but expressed regret at leaving her two young children. The writer felt impressed that prayer should be offered for the patient, and at his suggestion a day of fasting and prayer was appointed for the church. Also earnest prayers were offered for Sister Jones at the East Pennsylvania camp meeting. Still God did not see fit to glorify His name by immediately healing Sister Jones.

During this time the ravages of the disease had reduced the patient almost to a skeleton. But many of Sister Jones' friends did not despair.

With the light of the Holy Spirit we searched our hearts and endeavored to put away everything that was offensive to God. Sister Jones herself was of good courage and was sustained by such promises as Psa. 27:14 and 31:24.

Shortly before August 1 the patient's pains began to abate, and she was able to assimilate nourishment. Her general condition began to improve. A month later all pain was gone. Mrs. Jones was now gaining rapidly in weight and began to assume some of her customary duties. At a reception on September 13 given

A school of training for regular and prospective colporteurs will be held in Philadelphia, December 26 to January 4. Arrangements for transportation and entertainment must be made in advance. in honor of Doctor and Mrs. Jones' wedding anniversary, Sister Jones ministered to the guests. The growth in her side was now rapidly diminishing.

However a fearful struggle was still before the patient. Hypodermics of a narcotic nature had been administered to deaden the fearful pains attending the disease, and craving for the drug had begun to fasten upon the patient. After a hard struggle and with the help of Him who is able to save, Sister Jones came off victorious and is now in health.

The Kingston church is deeply thankful, reverently awed, and under loving obligations to Him who is able to save from death.

Charles. F. Booth.

New Subscription Rates for the "Review"

The subscription price of the Review and Herald will be increased from $2.50 to $3.00 on January 1, 1936, but those who subscribe before January 1, or renew their subscriptions if they are already receiving it, will get it at the old price of $2.50. The reason for this increase in price is that it will require twelve extra numbers of the Review to report the official actions taken at the General Conference, which is to be held in San Francisco, May 26 to June 11, 1936. This makes it necessary to increase the subscription price of this good paper 50c, but by subscribing now or renewing your subscription you will get all these reports of the General Conference session for no extra cost. However, if you fail to subscribe before January 1, you will have to pay the new price of $3.00. If for any reason some of our people do not desire to renew their subscriptions for the Review, the General Conference reports alone will cost $1.00. So, it will pay any one to order the Review for the entire year, which will include these reports.

This is an excellent opportunity for us to see that the Review and Herald is sent to every Seventh-day Adventist family in every church. We should like to appeal to our church officers especially and pastors to take advantage of this opportunity to encourage our people to avail themselves of this offer.

The minimum Review goal for the East Pennsylvania Conference is one Review for every four members in the conference, and at the present time we are 25 per cent short of this small goal. Let us change this situation and make it possible for every Seventh-day Adventist to have access to this good paper.

If anyone feels that this paper is not necessary, let him ponder these words by Elder W. A. Spicer: "I believe he needs the Review most who thinks he can get along without it."

Elder Daniells, who was for so many years our General Conference president, made this statement: "Those who have read the Review with care have been more firmly established in the truths of the message. They have been helped to keep pace with its progress around the world. They have been stirred to greater diligence and activity in missionary endeavor, in giving for the support of the work in its various lines, and above all they have been built up in the most holy faith to meet the Saviour who is soon to come for His people."

The subject of the lecture was "Ur of the Chaldeans — The City of Abraham." Illustrated slides was an additional feature of the very interesting lecture. Mr. Muir generously donated his services for the benefit of the Lancaster Church. The admission charge was 25c per person, and there was an attendance of 550. The amount raised is to be used for an evangelistic effort in Lancaster.

An expedition organized by the University of Pennsylvania Museum has been at work at the site of Beth-Shan, located in the land of ancient Israel, since 1921. Each year has brought to light new archaeological treasures. A great mass of material evidence has been revealed that not only supplements and confirms Old Testament writings, but also throws light on many prophetic utterances.

Seed That Grows

Like the mustard seed which, though the least of all seeds, becomes a tree, Present Truth published first in 1849, has grown until it has become one of the most fruitful literature soul winners. During the past 20 years more than 85,000,000 copies have been sent out from the publishing house.

And why this phenomenal growth? It is because Present Truth leads to conversion, and gives each new convert a message he feels bound to pass to others. Recently Mrs. J. W. N., of Sidney, Nebr., ordered Present Truth subscriptions for four friends, and said in her letter, "Someone evidently paid for a subscription for me sometime ago, and I have truly enjoyed the paper. I am wondering what church sponsors the paper. . ."

This is a story that might be repeated hundreds, yes, thousands of times — a subscription sent to another, resulting in conversion and more subscriptions to still others. And so it goes, an endless chain of light that encircles the world.

Send Present Truth to your friends and relatives, or choose names at random. Some seed will fall in good ground, and bring forth fruit, some an hundred-fold, some sixty, some thirty. Subscriptions are only 35 cents; three for $1. (In the District of Columbia, Canada, and foreign, 60 cents.) Send a list of names to your Book and Bible House. It will be a worthwhile investment in soul winning.

Obituaries

BABEL: George E., died at Baltimore, May 20th, 1935, aged 60 years. He had been a member of the Baltimore Number One Church for 33 years, and was faithful to the end of his life. He leaves to mourn him, a widow, one son, and a sister. Funeral services were conducted May 23, the writer officiating. Burial was made in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Frederick, Maryland. A great many fellow members and friends who held Brother Babel in the highest esteem deeply regret his passing but are comforted with the thought that he awaits the call of the great Life-giver on the resurrection morning. L. H. King.

BAKER: Ella, was born in 1862, and died November 9, 1935. Since the death of her husband, in 1912, she had lived in New York and Mount Vernon, falling asleep at the home of her son, Albert Irving Baker, in the latter place. He, with his family, a brother and sister, three nieces and a host of friends are left to mourn.

Funeral services were conducted by Elder R. F. Farley, at which time he addressed words of comfort and admonition to those assembled to pay a last tribute of respect. Interment took place in the Mount View Cemetery at Mount Vernon, Ohio.

HARE: Sadie A., nee Westbrook, was born in 1881; and died at her home in Sandusky, Ohio, October 6, 1935.

She was a devoted member of our church and her loved ones are confident that she will be numbered among the faithful when Jesus shall return.

Those who mourn their loss are her husband, one daughter, one sister, and two grandchildren, and many friends.

A number of years ago, the writer was privileged to bring this truth to this sister and her family while residing with them in Morgantown, West Va., and before her death visited her and found her steadfast in the truth, committing her all to the Master. F. H. Robbins.

BENTLY: Etta Belle Smith, was born in 1877, and died November 5, 1935. Married in 1897 to George Bently, three children were born to them. In 1925 our sister united with the Seventh-day Adventist church, remaining faithful till her death. She rests, awaiting the joyful resurrection when Jesus shall claim His own. Her husband, three children, four brothers, one sister, besides other relatives and friends remain to mourn her passing. L. C. Evans

JOHNSTON: Thomas, was born in 1876, and died June 16, 1935. In 1897 he was united in marriage with Mary J. Thompson. A few years later they came to America, settling in Elsmere where they lived ever since. He leaves to mourn, his faithful wife. Carl W. Guenther

THOMPSON: Clarence, son of James W. and Ida May Thompson, was born in 1877, and died April 10, 1935. He leaves to mourn their loss, his wife, two daughters, and one son. A message of hope was presented by the writer. Carl W. Guenther

A Profitable Work For Boys and Girls

A little girl's joy, enthusiasm, and trust in God for success are reflected in the following letter:

"I'm so glad that the Lord helped me to get enough money by selling Life & Health to get to girls camp. I know I'll enjoy it more too, because I earned it myself. I'm glad for the experience of going out in the work. The Lord has blest me and I hope the Lord has blest you too."

Such joy, enthusiasm, and trust in God as brought success in earning money for the Junior Camp may make it possible for many boys and girls to attend church school this year. The beautiful cover on Life & Health, the practical health information for every member of the family, and the low price of 10 cents, make the sale of this magazine a particularly attractive proposition for the children.

Twenty copies require an investment of only one dollar. With a little effort this investment will return with 100 per cent profit. The canvas carrying bag for boys and girls is only 25 cents. This amount will be refunded when 100 copies of Life & Health have been sold. Send all orders to your Book and Bible House.

Christians, Religious Workers, Teachers

"The Spirit of the Teacher"
by L. Flora Plummer

This book sets forth in attractive style the graces of character to which all Christians should attain. To the teachers these graces are of supreme necessity; for success in influencing others is measured by the revelation of the spirit of Jesus in the life of the teacher more than by his words. The drawing power of the truly spiritual life is set forth in statements of facts, in true stories of experience, and in the recital of illustrations that grip the soul.

There are eleven chapters in the book, each one dealing with a spiritual essential to right living and effectual working. This book has been chosen for study in the 1936 Sabbath School Workers' Training Course. It is published by the Review and Herald Publishing Association, Takoma Park, D. C., and is attractively bound in purple and gold. Price, cloth, in the United States, $1.25. Higher in foreign countries.
