A Feast of Good Things in the "Review"

The Review during the coming months will have a veritable feast of good things for its readers. Some of our denominational leaders and best writers have promised us articles on vital questions as relates to a Christian experience and to the advancement of the great second-advent movement. These articles may be enumerated as follows:

1. J. L. McElhany, president of the General Conference, will write on "Maintaining the Unity of Our Work." The following topics will be covered in this important discussion:

a. Unity in faith and hope how this unity was obtained.

b. Unity in proclaiming the message by voice and pen.

c. Unity in our world-wide organization.

d. How such great gatherings as the General Conference, Autumn Council, and the departmental conventions promote this unity.

e. Why our General Conference men frequently visit foreign fields.

2. "Fundamentals of the Gospel" as applied to true, practical Christian experience will be discussed by E. D. Dick, secretary of the General Conference. A live, appealing presentation.

3. You will be interested in reading a series or articles on "The Sabbath of the Bible," which will be furnished us by M. L. Andreasen, former president of Union College. The spiritual setting of this series will appeal not only to Seventh-day Adventists but to our friends and neighbors to whom we might lend the Review.

4. L. H. Christian, vice-president of the General Conference, in a series of articles will point out very clearly the "Proofs that Christ's Coming is Near." He will deal with conditions found in the social world, the physical world, the industrial world, the educational world, and the religious world. He will also discuss the European situation and its meaning, and the significance of conditions in the Far East.

5. "What the Second Coming of Christ Should Mean to Seventh-day Adventists" is a question of vital interest to every member of the church,—what is should mean in the home, in the business, in social life, in education, in the giving of the message. C. B. Haynes, president of the Michigan Conference, has promised us a series of articles on this important subject.

6. We have in hand a series of articles from D. A. Ochs of the General Conference Missionary Volunteer Department on "How to Find the Lord and How to Maintain Him in Our Christian Experience." To these may be added a series of articles on "Life's Practical Experiences," by Llewellyn A. Wilcox, pastor of the Glendale Sanitarium church.

7. G. A. Roberts, president of the Inter-American Division, will furnish the Review readers several articles on "Bible Finance."

8. L. H. Wood who has just completed an extended course of study in archaeology and who has spent some time in archaeological study in search in the Near East will give us some of the results of his study and show how faith in the inspiration of the Bible is being established by the untiring labors of the archaeologist.

9. Modern criticism of the Bible is seeking to cast doubt upon the Bible record of the flood in the days of Noah. H. J. Klooster, president of Emmanuel Missionary College, has given special study to this question and will give some unanswerable arguments in answer to specious claims which would cast discredit upon the sacred record.

From the home base we shall have cheering reports of our work of evangelism, and from our overseas divisions we shall be told what the gospel message is accomplishing in Catholic and heathen lands demonstrating that our sacrifice and toil in support of missions is not in vain but is wholly justified in the results seen.

If space permitted we could enumerate many other phases and features of our church paper during the coming months. It is the great newspaper of the church and as such will be filled with Biblical exposition, warning, exhortation in spiritual life; and reports of the gospel message, the progress of which constitutes a marked sign of the coming of the Lord.

Every Seventh-Day Adventist Needs the Regular Visits of the "Review and Herald"

Every Seventh-day Adventist who understands the English language should read the Review and Herald. There is no substitute for our leading church paper. Through the Review our people are kept in touch with the principles of the advent message. Our denominational leaders both at home and abroad contribute inspiring and instructive articles on the various phases of present truth. Reading a copy of the Review is like listening to a number of short sermons by our most able and prominent ministers. Each issue comes into the home as a fresh breath of life from heaven.

The Review also carries weekly messages from our missionaries who are scattered throughout the world. Our last published report shows that the advent message is now being preached in 378 countries and island fields and in 649 languages. In 1937 a new language was added approximately every five days.

How are we as a people to be able to keep in touch with such a rapidly expanding work? There is only one way, i. e., by reading the Review. Every week its columns carry thrilling stories of missionary adventure and advance. To the readers of the Review the names of our missionaries become household words. This gives the feeling that one knows the men who represent us in distant lands and whom we support with our mission offerings. Thus the Seventh-day Adventist church throughout the world becomes one large family.

There are other important departments in this journal which deal with the "Christian Home," "Christian Education" our children and youth, etc., any one of which contain much that is most valuable to our believers.

No Seventh-day Adventist can afford to be without the weekly visits of our general church paper. It would be far better to dispense with the newspapers or the radio than with the Review. The small amount of money required for a yearly subscription is nothing in comparison with its intrinsic value in building up the spiritual life of its readers. We simply cannot recommend it too highly.

We trust that those who do not now enjoy the privilege of reading the Review will plan to subscribe at once and form the habit of reading it through each week. Great spiritual blessing will result. Faith in the great fundamentals of the advent message will be strengthened, hope revived, and a new zeal for the winning of souls for the kingdom of God will be kindled in the heart.

Try it and see.

Our Assistant Pastor

Every Seventh-day Adventist pastor in the United States and Canada has an assistant that works with him and for him seven days in the week. He is not on the conference pay roll and requires no rent subsidy or travel allowance. He is always ready to speak a word in season, deliver timely sermons, and excels in promoting our foreign mission program. This assistant is our church paper, the Review and Herald.

To many of our believers the Review is the only means of keeping in touch with the progress of the Third Angel's Message in all the earth. They love it because it kindles anew in their hearts the blessed hope of the soon-coming of our Saviour. This is what they say about it—

"I fear if it had not been for the Review, I would have drifted out, but reading it and keeping pace with the message and the gathering of Israel has helped me to know that we haven't believed 'cunningly devised fables,' but that it is the truth, and how my heart rejoices that I know it."

"I am now 79 years old, and I have read the Review for many years. I would go on one meal a day before I would miss the Review."

"We do enjoy the Review so, and as we are isolated, we find it indispensable. Money is very scarce now, and we send this to you in faith that God will feed us and keep us."

"I'd rather go without a meal a day than be without the good old Review. It helps to keep me—just like a life belt thrown out to a drowning soul."

"My husband is 67 years of age, blind in one eye and only partial sight in the other, but he earned the $2.50 by very hard work, splitting and putting in very tough, large knots of wood which younger fellows shied away from as too difficult to split; so you can see we prize the Review and don't want to be without it."

If you do not know by experience the blessing of the weekly visits of the Review, make provision for them now while the special price of $2.25 is in effect.

If you are already subscriber take advantage of this opportunity to extend your subscription to the Review, Big Four, or Family Group at reduced rates. Your renewal subscription will be extended from the present expiration date. Do not put it off. The special offer expires June 4. Order through your church missionary secretary or from your Book and Bible House.

Youth's Congress, Baltimore

We have sent information to every one of our colored churches in the Union in regard to our plans for the Baltimore Youth's Congress. However, we may have a number of isolated colored believers whom these announcements to the churches will not reach. Hence this note in the VISITOR.

We hope as many of our colored believers as possible, and especially our colored young people, will plan to be with us at this congress beginning Friday night, June 3 and closing Sunday night, June 5. The meeting will be held in the Baltimore No. 3 church, located on Harlem Avenue and Dolphin Street. Those attending will naturally arrange for their own transportation. Many of our churches will charter buses. Others will come in private cars. The Baltimore church is securing rooms in the neighborhood of the church at a uniform rate of $.50 per person per night. Meals will be served in the basement of the church at the modest sum of $.75 a day for the three meals. An excellent program has been prepared. We will have more to say about this a little later on.

Cheering Reports

At the present we have five evangelistic efforts in the conference. Brother Clapp is holding one in Scranton; Brother Youngs is holding one in Williamsport; Brother Dower is holding one in Elizabethville, Elder Rowe in South Philadelphia, and Elder Ford in the Scottish Rite Temple in Philadelphia.

We are happy to report that the interest in all these places is good, and we all have reason to believe that a rich harvest of souls will be reaped in all these places between now and camp meeting. Let us all pray for the evangelistic program in our conference.

The Months Operating

Even though our expenses have been unusually heavy the first three months of the year, due to the heavy evangelistic program which we are fostering at the present, and also due to the drop in tithe, we are happy to report that we show an operating gain of $1138.62 for the first three months of the year.

This gain is largely due to the fact that our people have responded loyally throughout the conference to the support of our evangelistic program. Every monthly remittance brings a nice sum toward the evangelistic fund which we greatly appreciate. Let us pray earnestly that the Lord will prosper His work in all lines in our conference.

Wedding Bells

On Easter Sunday, April 17, 1938, Thomas Leo Fairfield of Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, and Ruth Naomi Snider of Washington, D. C., were united in marriage by the writer, the ceremony taking place at Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, at the summer lodge of Mr. and Mrs. Joice, in the presence of about one hundred fifty guests, all of whom wish the couple happiness in their united lives.

Philadelphia Evangelistic Effort

Knowing that the readers of the VISITOR are interested in the evangelistic effort which is being conducted in Philadelphia, Pa., at the present, we are passing on this word.

We are happy to report that after the Sabbath question was given, the attendance was affected very little. In fact, on the week nights the difference was not even noticeable. The interest at the present is so great that it is impossible for the present working force to take care of all of it properly.

As a result of the meeting, we have organized a new church, which is known as the Temple Church. The present membership of the church is 145. All are new members and have been baptized since the effort started with the exception of twelve.

These new believers are very enthusiastic over their new found faith and give expression to great loyalty to this message. Some very fine business men of the city have joined. On interesting feature is that several entire families have been baptized. We believe this newly organized church will add great strength morally, spiritually and financially to the East Pennsylvania Conference.

Elder Ford and his company are good courage and optimistic relative to the final results of this effort. Judging from the present interest, it looks as though the church will have a membership of 200 or 250 before we are through. I am sure that the family of VISITOR readers will join us in earnest prayer that the Lord will continue to bless and that many souls might be saved as a result of this effort.

A Helpful Attitude

A letter, which we print in part as follows, indicates the proper attitude toward the effort to relieve Mount Vernon Academy from at least a portion of its burden of debt:-

"Please find inclosed three dollars for you to send me the book that is published for Mount Vernon support—'Christ's Object Lessons.' I think you will know to give the fifty cents for missionary literature for me..."

"I am a very old woman and am shut in. This is all I can do now, but would be glad to do more if I could..."

We believe this will be helpful to others who are probably in better circumstances to give toward this worthy objective.

A Proven Blessing

In the year 1920 the General Conference launched the Missions Extension (Big Week) plan which has, through the years, proved such a valuable help in building up our foreign mission program. Since the launching of the Big Week plan, some three hundred various mission projects have been assisted and scores of new enterprises have been started which have borne abundant fruitage in souls won for Christ.

The medical, publishing and educational work share in funds raised by Big Week.

We have some twenty-six different projects to be assisted this year in Big Week, and $40,000.00 will go to establish new work.

Though the date for the Big Week offering has passed, we trust churches and individuals will continue the good work until your individual goals are reached. The General Conference goal for our churches is an average of $2.00 per member. We find many who gladly respond to this worthy cause with $5.00, $10.00, etc.

Let all our members do something that these urgent mission calls may be answered, and many heathen, without God and hope, may find the way of salvation, made possible by your cooperation and help in Big Week.

A Report and Appeal from Staunton, Virginia

Twenty-six thirty minute broadcasts have been made over the facilities of Radio Station WSWA in Harrisonburg, Virginia, by the writer during the past six months. Each broadcast has been a doctrinal phase of the third angel's message covering such themes as the Second Coming of Christ, Prophecy, The State of the Dead, The Law and the Gospel, The Judgment, and so on.

The consistent continuity of the effort has developed an ever-widening listening audience, and the mail response in care of the station has been a marvel to the station operators. Of course, many of our believers have written in their appreciation of the Bible Lectures, but we can report that an even greater volume of correspondence has come from non-Adventist listeners in response to our offer of free literature on the subjects presented.

This mail response has kept us on the air in spite of some scattered opposition from other ministers. The station manager is broadminded, and is not easily influenced against us, in fact there is a most kindly interest in our work and message on the part of the staff. We have been given very courteous consideration and co-operation in every way, but we still need the prayers and co-operation of every Adventist hearing our broadcasts. So be sure to not only turn your dial to WSWA, 550 k. c. at 12:30 every Sunday, but also urge your friends and neighbors to tune in, and then write in their comments and appreciation to the station.

So far the results of the effort are very satisfactory. In addition to referring interests to others of our workers, we are finding new interests developing locally that is keeping the writer exceedingly busy and making it necessary for many of the Staunton members who have been taking our Bible training to be enlisted in following up this interest with literature, missionary visits, and cottage meetings. Already we have an increased attendance in our beautiful new stone church recently erected on the corner of Windsor Lane at Dover Street. This location is in one of the best residential sections of the city of Staunton. It is easily located by visitors since it is only one block east of the Lee Highway No. 11, at the eight hundred block on north Augusta Street in the Edgewood section.

The building is not entirely finished at this writing but the congregation has been using the finished part of it since New Year's day which was the first Sabbath of this year. Present plans include the completion of the main auditorium within the next few weeks. The members are not only organized for progressive missionary work, but are giving their best in sacrifice and service toward the completion of their new church home which has been paid for as the work progressed following the no-debt plan.

The Staunton church has made consistent growth in membership, tithes, offerings, etc., the Sabbath school having been a pennant and banner school since its organization. In addition it has purchased a fine building lot, and has financed, with the help of friends, the building of the beautiful new church during the past eighteen months. It is thought that the entire property with the general improvements will have an appraisal value of around ten to twelve thousand dollars when entirely finished.

On account of the fact that the majority of the members are widely scattered, coming distances of from ten to eighteen miles, the services are at present being held in the afternoon, with Sabbath school at 2:00 p. m., and divine worship at 3:30 p. m. A cordial welcome is extended to all our friends and brethren to visit our enthusiastic congregation still in their first love of holy zeal.

We have a splendid opportunity here for a consecrated Adventist physician, nurse, treatment room operator, and any that can farm or otherwise operate a self supporting business of some kind.

Provision has been made in the new building for a church school which we hope we can begin to operate before long. If our situation appeals to isolated or those in our centers who are financially able to remove to this needy section and help us evangelize it, we invite your correspondence.

Many in the congested large cities should now be looking toward relocation before the time of trouble overtakes them. In this connection, we recommend a re-reading of the "Testimonies" concerning the time of trouble, which seems to be hastening upon us, and concerning the giving of our families the best opportunity for spiritual growth in Christian faith and service. Those that can be spared from service to the cause in our great centers should begin now to plan relocation.

The Shenandoah Valley of Virginia offers marvelous opportunities, and we invite your visit or correspondence. If interested in helping to finish the work in this splendid section of the great moral vineyard we will be glad to hear from you and do what we can to assist you in finding your place in soul-winning service. We also wish to again thank our many friends for their assistance in the development of the work so far and if there are those wishing to contribute in any way to the finishing of the new church in Staunton or to further investigate the opportunities here you are invited to address the writer at Fort Defiance, Virginia.

Newport News Effort

Brother Walter Connell, who during the past few months has been soliciting names in Harrisonburg and Hampton for the literature band of the Takoma Park church, was a recent visitor at the conference office. Brother Connell brings a very favorable report of the effort which Brother Andrew Fearing is holding in the Newport News church. On Sunday evenings the main auditorium of the church, as well as an adjoining room, are practically filled with interested listeners. A good number are also attending these meetings on week nights. At present Brother Fearing has approximately 225 names on his visiting and mailing list. It is keeping both Brother and Sister Fearing busy endeavoring to contact these people in their homes each week. Many of those who attend this meeting show a decided interest, and we trust that many may take their stand to obey the truth.

We take pleasure in the fact that those who are attending the meetings are of the better class of people and we trust that Brother Fearing may be greatly blessed as he now enters the time when the testing truths of the message are presented. We feel that this is one of the best efforts which we have ever held in the city of Newport News.

Camp Meeting Notice

The Potomac Conference camp meeting is scheduled for June 2 to 12. There is a possibility that this meeting will be held this year in Takoma Park if a suitable place can be found where we can pitch the large pavilion tent. We trust that many of our church members are planning definitely on being with us at this year's camp meeting. Weekly notices will be published in the columns of the VISITOR so that our people will be fully acquainted with plans for this meeting as they are made.

Camp Meeting for Our Colored Believers

Arrangements are now made for a colored camp meeting in the Potomac Conference to be held June 16 to 26. The meetings will be held on the grounds of the National Normal Training School for Girls located on Deanwood Avenue, N. E., Washington, D. C. We believe this is the first time that a camp meeting has been held in our conference for our colored members. We are looking forward to a good attendance at this meeting, and we trust that all of our colored believers will plan to be present for all, or at least part of the meetings.

Further notices will appear in the columns of the VISITOR regarding these meetings. Be sure to look for them.

The evening services will feature evangelistic meetings for those who are not Adventists but who will attend these meetings.

The Power of God

The promise of the coming of Christ, as recorded in Luke 21:27, is: "Then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory."

All around us we see that this is the day of power and might. More and more nations and individuals are leaning upon the power of armaments and the power of huge armies. Dictators and other rulers are leaning upon the power of vengeance and fear to subdue the will of others to their rule. More and more people of the world are going after such glory as this world can afford. Mussolini goes to visit Hitler, and day after day the power of an empire is paraded for the benefit of the distinguished visitor. Now Hitler prepares to go to Rome where he will see firsthand the power of a militarized nation stepping with heavy tread at the command of one man. The earth is being shaken with the tread of the armies of earth,—the largest in number that have ever trod the earth at one time.

However great these demonstrations of power and glory may seem to us at this time, there is still a greater power to come. Only then will the world realize what real power and true glory can be. When God makes bare His holy arm in front of the people, there will be some real demonstrations of mighty power.

Surely this power that will operate among the nations will also be visible in a marked degree in the church having the last warning message for the world. We believe that we see around us today in the church some of the manifestations of this power. During the past ten days, as we have launched the Missions Extension Campaign in New Jersey, we have seen the hearts of the people stirred as they have never been stirred before. The response has been greater and more whole-hearted than has ever been witnessed before. As the Spirit of God works on the hearts of the people in the church, the whole church is arousing as one man to finish the task; and this power in the church is destined to surprise and astound the world. The world has yet to see what God will do with this little band of people as they press on to the very ends of the earth with this message. Surely every opposition will be crushed, and everyone who stands in its way will fall.

The Missions Extension of 1938 is still on. If you have not had a part, why not this very Sabbath turn in at least the minimum two dollars, which will be your portion in this great spring drive to plant the message in new places. The greatness of God will be manifest to those who make great attempts for Him. Launch out with the four Big Week books this week, and make an earnest endeavor to raise a good sum for the Missions Extension, and also to give the truth to many who are now sitting in darkness in these great unworked cities of New Jersey.

WITTE: Edward J., was born in 1872, and died in Westminster, Md. on April 9, 1938. He and his wife accepted the truth as held by Seventh-day Adventists about seven years ago, and they have had the joy of seeing all their children accept the message since then, altho a number of them were married at the time. Two of the younger children are attending our school at Shenandoah Valley Academy, and all the children except one daughter were present at the funeral, with the mother. Our departed brother was a faithful Christian all his life, and a loyal S. D. A. after accepting the message and coming out of the Lutheran Church.

Words of comfort were spoken by the writer, and the body was laid to rest near the old home to await the Life-giver.

E. L. Cardey

DURHAM: Elizabeth, was born in 1852, and peacefully fell asleep February 6, at the age of 86. Early in life she became a Methodist, but later heard and accepted the third angel's message and was united with the Forest Grove S. D. A. Church of Cheswold, Delaware. Her life was an inspiration to all who met her. Illness and suffering did not mar her character for she lived under all conditions a consistent Christian life. She left to mourn her death, two brothers, two sisters, one daughter, four sons, six grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren. We sorrow not as do others, for she sleeps awaiting the call of the Life-giver. She was laid to rest in the cemetery adjoining the church. Elder Wm. F. Schmidt assisted the writer in the services.

Wm. L. Cheatham

FINK: Fred E., born in 1903, died at Newark, Ohio on April 19, 1938 shortly after having been received into the church following his acceptance of the faith as a result of singing band work in that city.

His wife, a daughter and a stepson, also two uncles, mourn his passing.

Funeral services were held on April 23, in the Criss Brothers parlors, after which interment was made in Cedar Hill Cemetery. The writer officiated.

OBITUARIES

FENNEL: Ruben, was born in 1868, and died April 9, 1938, in Baltimore, Md. Brother Fennell has been an earnest Christian and a faithful member of the Baltimore First S. D. A. church for many years. He loved the message of the soon coming of Christ and was always glad to scatter the seeds of truth along the way.

His wife, son and daughter, with a host of near relatives and friends, mourn him deeply, but are comforted with the belief that he was ready to depart. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer, and assistance was given in the services by Elder Moffett.

TESTIMONIALS

"The 'good old Review' has been a golden chain running through these eighty years and more, linking the advent people and their work together in one united world movement. We need this paper in all our homes. It is a means of grace that cannot safely be neglected in a time when we are seeking to stand ready for every call to service and ready in Christ Jesus for that searching moment of the judgment hour that must soon come to each one of us."

W. A. Spicer

"One important bond is the Review and Herald which, week by week, presents a vivid picture of the advance of the message in all the earth. The Seventh-day Adventist whose eye is constantly on this picture of mission miracles and victories, will not be overcome by doubts from the enemy as to divine leadership of this advent movement. He will be increasingly convinced that the great power of God is in this work. And it is this strong conviction that is most vital to the success of our world task. This, to my mind, is sufficient reason in itself why the Review should be in every English-speaking Adventist home." — C. H. Watson.

"The Review and Herald is one of the effective forces of the church to mould the thinking of the children and youth of our families in harmony with the purpose of God for them."

Alfred W. Peterson

"Of all the periodicals published in connection with this movement, the good old Review holds first place in my heart. It is always a privileged hour when I can sit down quietly and read its pages." — J. L. McElhany.

"If you have it in your heart to build up the work of God, there is, perhaps, no other one thing you could do to accomplish this more effectively than to get the Review into the hands of those who do not have access to it." — M. E. Kern.

"During the fifty-nine years that I have been reader of the Review, I have not known one soul who faithfully read the Review and drank in its messages of love and followed its teachings, who has given up his faith and gone off into apostasy. There is something about reading the Review that keeps loyalty to God burning in the heart.

"One cannot lose faith who will read the Review and Herald. The world-wide work of this advent movement; the great numbers coming to the faith, while other denominations are bewailing their loss of spiritual power and lack of growth; the unity of the believers in every land, embracing more than 400 different peoples, constitute a sure evidence that God has a work on earth today, and that He it with His people. Mass movements into the faith till the teaching force is wholly inadequate to instruct for baptism, and the appeals for experienced help to educate and train the new converts from many lands, stir the soul and move to a new consecration."
