New Opportunities in Mission Fields

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST hearts, ears, and hands are always open to know about and help in our missionary work overseas. This is the secret of the remarkable success that has attended our work down through the years. It is a part of our fundamental faith to pray for and support our work overseas. We enjoy doing this, for it means hastening our Lord's return.

A friend of the writer, of the Christian persuasion, recently wrote: "Our niece and her two boys from Peru, South America, are at home here for the winter with an invalid mother. They seem to know a lot about your work in Peru among the natives. She had entertained two of the missionaries in their home at one time and was very much taken with them. We were interested in hearing of your work in China and the Orient. How have you managed to keep your missionaries in the field and how have you gotten the money it takes to maintain them in that field? It surely is a gigantic task, but one of which any church might well be proud. Wish more churches could or would do the same. It must be that our God is putting His stamp of approval on your work for Him. Can see no other explanation."

Many have wondered how we do it. We support world missions because we believe it is God's plan. The truth has brought a new experience of joy into our lives, and we express our gratitude by doing all we can to pass it on to others who have not had the same privilege heretofore.

The Missions Extension this year will assist in building up more than a score of projects connected with publishing houses, sanitariums, and schools in overseas divisions. Advance is indicated regardless of present-day world conditions. We understand the cause of God will advance and strengthen from year to year until the population of the whole earth will be caused to take a stand on the Sabbath and present truth—either for or against it.

For more than 20 years the Missions Extension offerings which our people have generously given from year to year have gone a long way toward building up these institutions of God's founding in different needy places. We would have been greatly handicapped and possibly years behind had it not been for this annual offering. On April 10 the offering will be taken for Missions Extension, and it is hoped that $125,000 or more will be received. Begin to plan now to give a liberal offering.

The two Crisis books selected for Missions Extension Big Week have been well chosen. One is "Christ or Chaos," and the companion volume is "Seeing It Through With God." These two books meet a great need in the minds and hearts of men just now. Most of the popular literature of today pertains to war and its results. Give the people something that brings life and points to life eternal. Then there are also the health journals and the two magazines, Watchman and Message. Every church member should secure and dispose of some of the missionary literature prepared for this occasion, whether it is necessary to choose this means of providing for the offering or not.

The year 1943 will mark a new advance for God's cause. The hand of Providence is guiding His work and workers. We do not have much time left to finish God's work; we must speed on, each doing his part. God will bless every faithful effort for advance even in the presence of obstacles.

The Harvest Is Ready...

WESLEY AMUNDSEN

Sabbath School Secretary, Inter-American Division

It is just two years since Inter-America came to you with a special appeal for a large overflow on the Thirteenth Sabbath. You responded liberally to that appeal, for the overflow was one of the largest ever received. We asked you to help us with our educational building needs that first quarter of 1941. Possibly you recall the stories which were read to you in the Sabbath school, setting forth the fact that two educational institutions were to be built, one in Colombia, South America, and the other in the island of Cuba. How happy we are today to be able to say that these projects are well on their way to completion. Already the students are making use of facilities which you have helped to provide for them. They are grateful, and in every place that I have been they express their deep gratitude for the provision that has been made for them.

Some of the mission readings for the quarter have dealt with Inter-America and its needs for clinics and the establishing of our medical work in such fields as Haiti, Jamaica, Guatemala, Colombia, and the Leeward Islands. The needs have been presented from time to time. I need not add further word except to urge that you pray that the Lord Jesus, who for our sakes became poor so that we through Him might become rich, will guide you in your liberality. Oh, the need is so great!

Let me give you a little picture of what our people in these lands are doing, especially those poor, benighted Indian people back in the bush country of British Guiana, known to you as the "Davis Indians." I spent a Thirteenth Sabbath with them last October. They had a splendid program arranged for that day. Remember, these Indian people are but a step from heathenism, and only a few can read or write. There were songs and recitations in the English language.

One song that was sung by a quartet made up of four Indian boys still haunts me with its plaintive appeal: "I Want to See Jesus, Don't You?" It was the heartfelt echo of every heart among the 270 Indians gathered there that day. When the offering was received I was surprised at the result. Heaped up on the table were large round breads made from the cassava root. Plantains and other fruits were added to the store, and besides this a money offering of $12.08 was gathered in. There were only a few of us from the outside who contributed financially, so the larger part of this money came from the Indians themselves. Their hearts are grateful to God for what He has done for them.

Therefore, we invite you to help us this once more. We know that you will do what you can, and we want you to please accept our heartfelt appreciation in advance for the overflow offering which you are going to give to help us in Inter-America bring quickly to a close the great work that has been entrusted to us. May God bless you and prosper you.

Army Literature Fund

THE Missionary Volunteer Spring Week of Prayer comes this year March 13-20. Most of our societies and churches will naturally observe this week.

During the past two years we have had as our special project, in place of a missions project, the raising of funds for the Army Literature Fund. It was suggested that we take our offering during Missionary Volunteer Week.

As we told you in a previous article, we realized through the societies and churches of our union more than $600 two years ago, and over $1,000 last year. We sincerely hope that every society, senior and junior, large and small, will take an offering for this purpose so that we can continue to provide literature to our own boys in the service for their inspiration, and also literature of a missionary nature that they can use in an individual way with their buddies and friends.

Be sure that as the money from this offering is turned over to the church treasurer it is labeled "Army Literature Fund." We have discovered that societies have often set a goal and carried on a vigorous campaign toward the reaching of their goal. We have known of individual societies that have raised $100 and others $50 by "going after" a specified amount. We shall look for a goodly response from our societies for the Army Literature Fund.

Missions Extension

THESE are momentous times, when events of unprecedented magnitude are taking place all about us. Surely now is the time when every believer in our churches should propagate the message by the most earnest missionary endeavors. Bible prophecy is fast meeting its fulfillment. We have confidence in the final triumph of the message when this gospel of the kingdom will soon be carried as a witness to all the world.

The gospel belongs to all nations. With God there is no respect of persons. He "hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation. . ." Acts 17:26. The Spirit of God is pleading with all flesh, and those who receive Him out of every nation are adopted into the heavenly family regardless of creed, color, or nationality.

"Every one on whom is shining the light of present truth is to be stirred with compassion for those who are in darkness. From all believers light is to be reflected in clear, distinct rays. A work similar to that which the Lord did through His delegated messengers after the day of Pentecost He is waiting to do today." —"Testimonies," Vol. 7, p. 33.

We shall soon be privileged to participate in another Missions Extension campaign. The date is April 3 to 10. The offering will be used for a number of worthy projects this year. The thousands of dollars that have been given through the years by our loyal people have brought great strength to the missions program in providing new buildings and equipment for the many institutions in foreign lands.

Last year Ohio was blessed with a large Missions Extension offering, totaling more than $6,000, a gain of $2,000 over 1941. Every year is showing a nice increase, which helps us to respond to the many worthy appeals. This has been accomplished by the strong promotion that has been given by the district ministers and local church leadership. The work is enlarging; the needs are great; our people are now being blessed with a good income; money is flowing freely, and we believe we can expect an unusually large offering this year. The average goal is the same as we have had in past years—$2 per member.

I have confidence that every district leader with the local leadership of our churches will give the strongest promotion to the Missions Extension offering for 1943.

F. H. Robbins ..... President

C. H. Kelly ..... Secretary

Warren F. Adams ..... Editor

Issued weekly, 52 times a year by the Washington College Press. Price, seventy-five cents per year in advance.

Entered as second-class matter, November 10, 1941, at the post office at Washington, D. C., under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Address all subscriptions and make all payments to your Book and Bible House.

All copy for publication in the VISITOR should be submitted through the local conference in which the contributor resides or holds membership. Copy should be typewritten and double-spaced.

Warm sleeping quarters and nourishing food were provided along with a very fine program. Elder Anol Grundset was chairman and was supported by Elder W. M. Robbins, President of the Ohio Conference, Elder W. A. Scharffenberg of the General Conference, and Elder J. C. Holland of the Columbia Union Conference.

Greater efficiency and deeper consecration were the keynote of the convention.

Elder Robbins opened the meeting Friday evening with an earnest request that every man, woman, and child in our churches be enlisted in soul-winning work in these closing days of probationary time. The fields are white to harvest, but the laborers are so few. Sister White writes that we should be doing fifty times more than we are doing. Individuals who become Seventh-day Adventists automatically receive the commission to help give the gospel to every nation, kindred, tongue, and people; and every one who becomes a Christian automatically should become a soul winner.

Elder Scharffenberg spoke on the "Purpose of the Church," and "Are We Doing Our Duty by Merely Meeting Together?" Both Elder Scharffenberg and Elder Holland gave some of their experiences that can well be put to use by the leaders.

Systematic circulation and follow-up of literature was emphasized by Elder Grundset who cited several recent interesting experiences. The need of more reading racks in public places, our periodicals and books in libraries, Dorcas work, Ingathering, Society of Missionary Men and many other important topics were freely discussed.

Most of the meetings were held as round-table discussions. All were given an opportunity to ask questions, and local problems were solved.

There was a good representation from Ohio churches, and I believe I can safely say for each leader present that it was time well spent, and that more missionary work this year in our churches will be our way of showing our thanks to the Ohio Conference for the opportunity of attending the recent state-wide home missionary institute.

Wedding

In an army chapel at Camp Barkeley, near Abilene, Texas, Virginia Ann Leach of Washington, D. C. became the bride of Pvt. Melville Thatcher, Jr., at 8:45 Saturday night, February 6, 1943. The bride and groom were attended by Pvt. and Mrs. Glen W. Scheaffer, of Takoma Park. Pvt. Paul Richardson gave the bride away. The wedding marches were played on the Hammond organ by Pvt. Perry Beach, who also played appropriate music during the simple ceremony conducted by the camp pastor.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of about 50 guests, including soldiers from the groom's platoon, some Adventist soldiers and their wives, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Mae A. Thatcher of Santa Cruz, California.

A reception was held following the service in the home of the camp pastor in Abilene. Mrs. Thatcher plans to remain in Abilene until her husband has completed his basic training in the Medical Corps at Camp Barkeley.

"Farewell and 'Adios'"

As we leave the homeland in response to the call of the Mission Board, we solicit the prayers of all the people of God in Columbia Union, that our labors in the Inter-American field may be fruitful. Having labored in two conferences and in three institutions within the borders of this union, we feel that we have many friends to leave behind.

In these times of uncertainty, our confidence and security rest only in the God of Israel, who is leading the work of the church.

Wedding

MISS MARGARET PENHALLURICK and Corporal Bernhard A. Aaen, both graduates of Walla Walla College, class of 1942, were united in marriage by the writer on February 14, 1943, at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Roberts of Livingston, New Jersey. The groom is studying in the army radio school at Newark. Mr. Edward H. Schneider III was best man and Mrs. Edward H. Schneider was matron of honor. After the ceremony a fine supper was served for the wedding party and guests. Their many friends of the Newark Church wish them every blessing and much happiness.

News Notes

THE week March 13-20 is an important one for it is the youth's spring Week of Prayer. Work to save our youth is the highest type of evangelism. Let us also pray for the youth who will not be meeting with us because of their induction into national service.

The "Voice of Prophecy" program may now be heard in West Virginia over radio station WLW, Cincinnati, Ohio, every Sunday at 11:00 A.M. Eastern War Time. We believe most of our members will be able to receive this broadcast and will advertise it to their neighbors and friends.

It is not too early to inform you of the camp meeting dates for this year. The time appointed is August 5-15. The place is the conference-owned property now known as Ebert Memorial Park where for several years the annual encampment has been pitched.

We request the prayers of our loyal members in behalf of Brother C. M. Paden, our faithful conference treasurer, who is receiving medical attention at the Washington Sanitarium. We trust he may soon return to his post of duty. In his absence from the office, Marion, his son, recently of the New Jersey Conference and now a missionary appointee to the Atlantic Columbia Conference in South America, will substitute for his father.

Charleston Colored Church Dedicated

"Oh clap your hands, all ye people; shout unto God with the voice of triumph." These words of the Psalmist fitly portray the feelings of the members of the Charleston Berea Church as they recently saw their edifice dedicated and renamed. The name of the church has been officially changed from Charleston Number Two to Charleston Berea.

Elder G. E. Peters, Secretary of the Colored Department of the General Conference, delivered the Sabbath morning dedicatory message and also an evangelistic sermon the following Sunday evening. The church was well filled during the Sabbath services and on Sunday evening the largest colored Baptist church on the west side of Charleston suspended its services and the pastor, choir, and members visited with us. Our church building was packed far beyond its capacity, but even those who were forced to stand seemed so electrified by the timely message that they didn't seem to mind the inconveniences caused by the inadequate seating space. Elder Peters through his visit and sermons has greatly endeared himself to the hearts of both the members and citizens of Charleston.

On the afternoon of the Sabbath our Conference President, Elder W. B. Hill, buried five precious souls in the watery grave of baptism. Immediately following the baptismal service a free church dinner was served. At 4 o'clock Elder Hill brought to us a consecration sermon that was most touching. During this service three individuals took their stand for God and this blessed truth.

Elder Peters gave us a fitting climax to this memorable and history-making day by telling us in detail some of the progress that has been made in the Colored Department from 1844 to 1942.

Music for all the Sabbath services was beautifully rendered by the junior choir under the direction of Sister Mary J. Thompson.

Pray for us that God's richest blessings shall continue to be with the workers in West Virginia.

Conference-Wide Missionary Volunteer Convention

WITHOUT a question Sunday, February 17, will go down in history as the beginning of a real movement in Missionary Volunteer activity in the Chesapeake Conference. On that day most of the Missionary Volunteer society leaders, and all of the workers in the Chesapeake Conference gathered together on the camp ground for the entire day to discuss Missionary Volunteer problems and needs.

For a number of weeks Elder Leach, Conference President, and Brother Metcalfe, Missionary Volunteer Secretary, have carried a real burden. The program of the day was well prepared and gave evidence of hard work in that a great deal of material was placed in the hands of all present.

We were fortunate in having Elder A. W. Peterson of the General Conference with us. He had spent the week-end in contacting the Baltimore, Wilmington, and Blythedale societies. He laid a real burden upon us in placing the call to our youth before us. While the Missionary Volunteer membership in the Chesapeake Conference is around 800, we have reason to believe that there are over 1,500 Juniors and Seniors represented in the homes of our people in Chesapeake. Study was also given as to how we could make Missionary Volunteer societies a success, and carry on a real program.

Mrs. Metcalfe led us in a rousing song service and talked on the value of music in our Missionary Volunteer societies.

As a climax to the council, the district leaders and society leaders were asked to take a complete census in every one of their churches so that we might estimate our situation, draw up our plans, and then go to work in a real Youth's Crusade to win and to hold all our youth in the church.

We greatly appreciate the vision on the part of Brother Metcalfe, Elder Leach, and the Conference committee in taking this forward step which we believe will mean real progress in our young people's work in the Chesapeake Conference. We also appreciate the response of our district leaders and our society leaders toward the program of this new day.

Lebanon Evangelistic Effort

A SERIES of prophetic lectures under the direction of Elder E. E. Carman opened Sunday night, February 7, at the Masonic Hall in Lebanon with a fine audience of about 300.

Beautifully illustrated lectures are presented every night except Monday and Saturday. A good interest has continued in spite of the sub-zero weather that struck Lebanon the second week of the series, and the Lord is blessing the work.

The audiences seem to be very enthusiastic singers and join wholeheartedly in the spirited community song service conducted each evening by Harold A. Toms, assisted by Mrs. Toms at the piano.

The loyal support and cooperation of the Lebanon Church is much appreciated. The earnest prayers, faithful attendance, willing spirit, and encouraging words of the members are highly esteemed, and we expect a harvest of souls through the Lord's blessing.

Coast to Coast—Mutual Broadcasting System

THIS morning I find on my desk a most beautiful letter from—the wife of one of the most noted present-day song writers. This lady has completed the correspondence course. Her husband has just been called to a new church as pastor. I quote part of her letter:

"I regret deeply that I have finished my Bible course. I am, however, pursuing my reading with the books of Mrs. White. I was very hesitant in coming here for I feared my restrictions of worship; however, I am leaving God to work out a way for me, if it is His will, so that I may attend church here on Sabbath. There is a dear little Adventist church near here but I have not had the pleasure of meeting the minister yet and pray often for the Voice of Prophecy and feel it is without doubt the greatest religious program on the air. My heart thrills to news at any time of its success."

Last week a touching letter came from the wife of a high school teacher here in Los Angeles. She has accepted the Sabbath but her husband turned bitterly against her and forbade her going to church. Soon after he was stricken suddenly and may not recover. She wrote asking us to pray that the Lord will keep her faithful through it all though she dare not have any visitors from our church. You will pray for her and like cases, will you not?

From a Camp Pastor Overseas

THINKING that our friends in the homeland would be glad for a little report from one of our camp pastors overseas, I am glad to pass on a few brief items to you through the COLUMBIA UNION VISITOR.

On my arrival here in May for work in this field I was asked to act as camp pastor, in connection with my other duties. Having always been interested in young men, I was glad to respond and to give what time and effort I could to this work.

We know that not only are the parents and relatives of our "boys" anxious concerning the spiritual interests of the men in service, but that each church member is carrying an earnest interest and anxiety and praying that God will keep our men true and loyal to their country, that their lives also shall be kept pure, noble, and true to their God.

It would do parents, relatives, friends, and all our church members much good and it would be a source of great satisfaction to know of the loyalty of our men. You would be greatly cheered if you could "drop into" our little chapel here, one of the buildings of the Inter-American Division former headquarters, and meet with us in some of our services. Without exception, as far as we know, our Seventh-day Adventist young men are availing themselves of the gracious courtesy of Sabbath privileges accorded them in the army.

Soon after taking up this work as camp pastor we organized aside from the Sabbath school and other services a ministerial seminar, which meets each Sabbath afternoon at 5 o'clock. The purpose of this organization, which includes our soldier boys who meet with us and a number of civilian brethren, is to better qualify in the preparing and the giving of Bible readings and sermons to others. Thus in carrying out the spirit and purpose of the seminar some of the young men have had some very excellent and interesting experiences in giving Bible studies to individuals and groups of their comrades in camp. Other lines of missionary work have been well featured, especially the use and distribution of literature. Pray for us in this important work.

It would be a pleasure to speak of other interesting phases of our work with and for your boys, but space forbids our giving a long and detailed report. May this suffice to let you who have sons, husbands, and other relatives and friends in service here in this strategic place, the "crossroads of the world," know that all attention and effort possible are being given to the spiritual interests of our men.

We solicit the prayers of all relatives and church members in behalf of our men in service.

May I suggest also that we could use to good advantage for missionary purposes any of our good publications such as the Review, Signs, Instructor, Our Little Friend, etc., both in our camp and in church work.

"PRECIOUS PROMISES"

Just what you've been looking for. Something new in an inexpensive scripture card. "Precious Promises" come 30 cards to a set, each card containing a different choice "Promise" from the Bible. These scripture cards are neatly printed in two colors on attractive embossed cover paper, size 3 x 5 inches.

Mail or hand them to friends, relatives, soldiers, sailors, the sick, discouraged, new believers, and persons who have been bereaved of some loved one. Missionary Volunteer Societies and Sunshine Bands will find them just the thing to hand to the sick.

"Precious Promises" stimulate faith, hope, and courage in these strenuous times.

Price per set of 30 cards (all different texts), only 15c postpaid, or 2 sets (60 cards) for 25c. Nine sets (270 cards) for $1.

"Present Truth" for March

NO. 5—WARS

THIS is not a recital of the horrors of war, but an explanation of what war and its attendant calamities mean in the fulfillment of Bible prophecy. There is also a strong appeal for trust in God, knowing that whatever He permits to come across our pathway is for our own good.

NO. 6—MANNER AND PURPOSE OF CHRIST'S COMING

The greatest upheaval wrought by man will seem of minor importance compared with the wonderful world spectacle of Christ's second coming. For the wicked there will be a time of destruction when everything earthly will be shaken, but for the righteous it will bring the promised reward of immortality and the blessings of life in the world made new.

Now is the time to make known the glad news that Jesus is coming again. You can tell it to your loved ones, friends, and neighbors with Present Truth subscriptions that will bring each of them 24 sermons on the cardinal doctrines of Seventh-day Adventists for only 35 cents, three for $1. (In Canada, 70 cents; District of Columbia and foreign, 60 cents.) Order from your Book and Bible House.

FOR
AS THIS

The war effort is consuming much that formerly was available for civilian welfare. Thousands of doctors and nurses have gone to war, and more are going. Getting a doctor now is not the routine matter it was. Certain foods that most people have counted on as major items of diet have gone to war, and more are going.
