Opportunities in Physical Therapy

At the present time there is developing a nation-wide program of rehabilitation for wounded veterans and injured industrial workers. In this program of rehabilitation, physical therapy occupies a prominent place. It is so important, in fact, that Mr. Bernard Baruch has decided to devote a considerable portion of his fortune to the development of physical therapy in the United States. Through the Baruch Committee on Physical Medicine, he has already appropriated over a million dollars for the advancement of teaching and research in this field.

Recognizing the need for qualified physical therapy technicians in our denominational institutions, both medical and educational, the College of Medical Evangelists in 1941 established the School of Physical Therapy for the training of physical therapy technicians. The School is now almost four years old and its graduates are occupying important positions both in and out of our denominational work.

The course in physical therapy is twelve months in length. In order to take advantage of the excellent facilities for the teaching of anatomy, physiology, and other fundamental sciences, in the Pre-clinical Division of the Medical School, the first six months of the course are taught at Loma Linda. The second six months are spent at the White Memorial Hospital and Clinic in Los Angeles where opportunities for clinical experience in the actual handling of patients are numerous. There is no other technical course which gives such extensive and interesting contact with sick and appreciative patients.

The School of Physical Therapy is approved by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association. The twelve months' work given in the School is accredited for 35 semester hours. The requirements for entrance are: (1) sixty semester hours of college work including twelve hours of science, six hours of which must be biology, or, (2) graduation from an accredited school of nursing, or, (3) graduation from an approved school of physical education. Students who enter the School with three years of college work containing certain prescribed courses will be granted a bachelor of science degree upon completion of the physical therapy course.

The courses taught in the School of Physical Therapy include Bible, anatomy, physiology, pathology and bacteriology, psychology, ethics and administration, principles of physical therapy, kinesiology, massage, fever therapy, orthopedics, neurology, medicine, surgery, and certain elective subjects. The student is taught the Kenny method of treatment for infantile paralysis. This year a short survey course in occupational therapy has been added. In addition to these formal courses, the student spends 432 hours in actual clinical practice with patients. Since a thorough knowledge of anatomy is an essential fundamental in physical therapy, 288 hours are devoted to this subject.

Upon graduation from the School of Physical Therapy, the candidate is eligible to sit for the qualifying national examination given by the American Registry of Physical Therapy Technicians. Upon successful completion of this examination the graduate technician is designated registered physical therapy technician and may use the title R.P.T.T. There are less than 3,000 such fully qualified technicians in the whole United States at the present time. The demand far exceeds the supply. It has been estimated that 5,000 more technicians than are now available could be used.

The next session of the School of Physical Therapy is scheduled to begin July 1, 1945. Students who anticipate entering the next class should hasten to apply in order to allow ample time for action by the Admissions Committee, and for the procuring of proper transcripts of credit. Those desiring further information should write to Mr. Chester C. Fink, Registrar, Loma Linda, California or Fred B. Moor, M. D., Director, 312 N. Boyle Avenue, Los Angeles, California.

Ingathering Opportunity In 1945

AND it is an outstanding evangelistic opportunity, brethren and sisters of the Chesapeake Conference! Every department of this message, every campaign, has for its ultimate objective the winning of precious souls. Over the earth hundreds every year accept the message who were first introduced to it by an Ingathering worker or by an Ingathering magazine. The judgment alone will reveal the outstanding results of cumulative effort as expended in the Ingathering.

Scriptural Promise

The prophet Isaiah, addressing the remnant church, counsels, "Arise, shine; . . . the wealth of the Gentiles shall come unto thee." Isaiah 16:1, 5 (margin). Looking down through the centuries to the end, the Lord saw that the resources of the church alone would not be sufficient to meet the needs of a growing world movement; therefore, He provided through the Ingathering a way by which adequate funds might be gathered to meet the demands. Last year more than a million dollars, gathered in America alone, greatly aided the world mission treasury.

Threefold Blessing

There is a threefold blessing bestowed as we cooperate in the plan, viz. (1) the blessing bestowed upon the contributor, (2) the blessing bestowed upon those in darkness as missionary dollars flow to them providing the light of the gospel, and (3) the blessing that comes to those who directly participate in the work here at home.

One cannot contribute to the work of the Lord without becoming interested in the enterprise. As men and women are visited year after year to receive their contributions, their interest is stimulated in a message that has sufficient power to send hundreds of thousands forth into one of the greatest personal visitation movements of all time. They are encouraged to peruse the Ingathering annual and note the growth and progress of the remnant church in the earth. It is from this group that many come and join the advent band.

Thousands who formerly sat in heathen darkness now rejoice in the light of present truth because of Ingathering dollars provided by the Lord's faithful people. Yes, these missionary Ingathering dollars have been and are a vital factor in this great closing work.

Then, too, the blessing that comes to us who participate in the plan here at home is very great. It waters our souls to have, so directly, a part in the Lord's work. To contact a few men and women that go to make up the great throng of humanity and learn something of their needs warms and stirs the deepest springs of the soul of the Ingatherer. Many of us in the short Ingathering period discover a missionary field in which we may labor throughout the remainder of the year. Yes, brethren and sisters, the plan is heaven-born and should have the one-hundred-per-cent support of every member.

We thank the churches and members of the Chesapeake Conference for their hearty cooperation. Let us rise and reach the goal within the six-week period. We can do it if we will.

Call of the Hour

"THE call of the hour will be answered by the coming of the man" whose heart is consecrated to the Lord for the finishing of His work. And now in this late hour of earth's history the Lord is saying to many of His dear sons and daughters who are just "whiling away" their time as they await the coming of their Master, doing other things, and working for the world that is soon going down in ruin and degradation, "My son, go work today in my vineyard."

The four million people in the West Pennsylvania Conference, many of whom have never heard this message, bring to us a challenge as individual members of the remnant church to arise and go to work for these benighted souls and bring to them as fast as possible the books and magazines which contain the truth for this time, thus leading them to search the Scriptures and find this message of salvation.

Elder Loewen, our Conference President, tells us there are 75 cities in this great conference with a population of over 5,000 people in which not a single Seventh-day Adventist lives. This fact, too, is a mighty challenge to many of our consecrated men and women in our colporteur work to move out into these dark counties and live with these people and give them an opportunity to receive the truth.

Shall we not pray that the Lord will lay upon our hearts a burden for souls, and help us quickly to lay our plans to enter this great soul-winning literature ministry? While we delay, many are dying without the blessed hope of a soon coming Saviour.

CAN HE COUNT ON YOU?

The Lord has need of workers
In West Pa. today;
Four million souls are waiting
And they must know the way
Ere Jesus comes in glory
To take us Home to stay;
Oh, Master, can you count on me?

In hundreds of our cities
And hamlets we must give
The message of salvation
That they may turn and live
O, Jesus, lay a burden
Upon our hearts to save,
These precious souls, yes, count on me.

(Chorus)

Count on me, count on me
To give my life in service glad and free;
Yes, count on me, count on me,
I'll go, dear Saviour, count on me.

If you desire to join our faithful colporteur army and need help in getting started in the literature ministry, please write at once to P. O. Box 5092, Pittsburgh 6, Pennsylvania, and we shall do all we can to make your work a real success in soul-winning service for the Master.

A Visit to a Branch Sabbath School

I WISH you might have been with me when I stepped into a home where a branch Sabbath school is conducted. The songs that greeted my ears caused the after a prayer by their leader they heart of everyone to rejoice. Then began the lesson. Questions were asked and everyone was eager to answer, and the answers came in unison from each member of the school. Hands were going up everywhere for recognition to ask questions, from the smallest to the largest, and I believe that the way they answered the questions would put most of our Sabbath schools to shame. To my knowledge there was not a single one in the room who was not intensely interested in what was going on. It was about as perfect a lesson as any to which I had ever listened.

Then the time came to recite memory verses. I think the entire number correctly quoted these and gave references for the quarter up to that time. Then there were more songs and then a time of story telling. The hands were going up, indicating a desire to tell a story. I was especially attracted to one little fellow five or six years old who wanted to tell a story about a dog. He was about as enthusiastic a boy as I have seen in a long time.

After a few stories were told which claimed their interest for a few minutes, we came to a very interesting part of this program, and with great silence and interest the entire group was treated to many nice pictures of Jesus and His earthly mission. There was not a dull moment from the beginning of this program to the end.

One feature of this program I want to mention was the collection. I do not think there was a single child who did not have something to give. This entire group is composed of children who have been taken off the streets and brought into a home and taught the ways of God in righteousness. If you have an opportunity to visit this home and fail to do so, you will be missing a great spiritual blessing.

I learned that there are about 28 members of this school, all poor children who would never have known of the love of Jesus except through such an effort as this. If anyone wishes to make a visit to this school, the group will be found gathered at 220 East Third Street, Lewistown, Pennsylvania at 7 o'clock every Friday evening. Brother and Sister Ben Andrews are the sponsors of this good work. I trust that these words may stimulate a deeper interest in such a great and glorious work.

Philadelphia Academy

THUS far this year at the Philadelphia Academy, we have had a very full and pleasant school year. It has, with certainty, been proven that busy and contented boys and girls make the best students and promote the best school spirit.

The two outstanding school endeavors have been the Medical Cadet Corps and the glee club.

The Medical Cadet Corps has been directed by Peter Wood, and Edwin Reading, and Ralph Hallman, Eugene Ronning, Harold Mayer, Eleanor Boer, and others have ably assisted. Mr. Byron Logan has been overseer of the group. Pictures on all subjects from the army library have been secured to make the corps interesting and helpful. The girls' Red Cross section is being taught by Mrs. Ryan of the city and Mr. Fandrich is in charge of the boys. The corps is looking forward to the "field day" when they can display some of their training.

Cecille Ellis Pierce with her chorus of 46 voices has prepared and given three programs this year. The last one was given in the recreation room of the Temple Church. Heard on the program were a new and forceful arrangement of the "Star Spangled Banner," the three service hymns, "This Is My Country," and a flag drill made up of 20 girls and the song, "We Must Be Vigilant."

The spring days and the sign which says fifth period remind us all that it is only a matter of weeks until our 16 seniors will be awaiting their diplomas. Mrs. Ruth Stanley is acting as sponsor for this group of nine girls and seven boys.

The enrollment of the Academy this year shows a round figure of 50. The school program also includes 37 in the elementary division with eight finishing in the eighth grade.

What a privilege and, yes, a challenge to guide these young people in channels of training for the Master. MRS. C. C. ELLIS

Youth's Congress

PLANS are now under way for a congress to be held in Williamsport May 19 in the Odd Fellows' Hall for the youth of the Williamsport and Tioga districts.

These districts take in the following churches: Canton, Bloomsburg, Blossburg, Danville, Mansfield, Roaring Branch, Sayre, Shunk, Wellsboro, Jersey Shore, Morris, Northumberland and Williamsport.

Special speakers will be Elder Sorensen, Elder King, Elder Mitchell, Donald Christman, Colin Fisher, and others.

The musical and social part of the program will be under the able leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Christman.

A special young people's meeting will be held Friday night. Elder Sorensen will be the speaker. On Sabbath morning the Sabbath school will be under the direction of Kathryn Ertel, who will act as superintendent. The day will be filled with interesting and inspiring features. Saturday night will afford social activity. Mark this date, MAY 19, on your calendar.

All who are interested, especially all youth, are cordially invited to attend. Bring lunches, and stay all day. This will be the first youth's congress for this section of the field. A full attendance is desired.

The theme of every meeting will be THIS IS THE HOUR. No period of earth's history has offered to youth a greater challenge than TODAY.

Yes—a Junior Camp!

MANY folks are inquiring whether we are to hold a junior camp this year in view of the fact that no camp meetings are to convene. Yes, plans are being laid to hold junior camp at Fernbrook from July 29 to August 7. The fee is the same as last year—$15, $2 to be paid upon registration.

GOOD NEWS! Uncle Ray, a well-known naturalist, will be our nature instructor. Juniors who attended at Lake Hopewell will

Baptism in North Philadelphia Church

SABBATH, April 14, marked a very inspiring occasion in the North Philadelphia Church, when four tiny babies were presented by their parents to the Lord in a special dedication service. This was followed by seven candidates going forward with their Lord in baptism. Six others were unfortunately not privileged to be present because of various circumstances, but there will be another baptism in the very near future. Many names of other interested ones will be followed up with suitable literature.

The North Philadelphia Church is now busily engaged in the Ingathering work, with a view of "V-day the 5th of May." This will be followed immediately by the greatest literature movement in the history of the church, under the able leadership of Brother Charles Boyts, our church missionary leader.

Ingathering Successes

"A JOB well begun is half done." This was the keynote for the Ingathering Campaign among the members of the churches at Tamaqua, Pottsville, Wade, and Drums. Beginning with singing bands during the Christmas season, each of the churches laid aside a little "nest egg" toward the 1945 goal.

On Promotion Day, March 17, Tamaqua and Pottsville went over their goals. Drums went "over the top" on March 24, and Wade followed the next Sabbath, March 31.

In none of the churches was there any promotion during the worship hour. Encouragement was given for each member to do his part by telephone, letter, and by a few words during the 15-minute missionary service. Everyone co-operated in a spirit of love, and the presence and power of the Holy Spirit was felt by all.

A remarkable feature of the campaign was the willingness of the business men to give. Most of the work was done in the midst of Red Cross, Community Chest, Good Samaritan, and Boy Scout drives, to say nothing of income tax. One manager of a clothing concern was asked to double his last year's contribution. "No," he replied, "I'll triple it." Such experiences have convinced us that, regardless of anything else, God's work comes first.

May the Lord of the harvest bless His people as they move forward with Him.

News Notes

PROGRESS is being made throughout the field in Ingathering reports. Churches are taking hold in a splendid way. It seems that the resolution made at the workers meeting to finish the Ingathering in six weeks is about to be realized. Most of the churches are more than half way over their goals, and many are expecting to go "over the top" in the near future.

Elder W. R. Robinson has just returned to the office from his trip to Danville, Columbus, and Pittsburgh. He reported the marked improvements being made in the Danville Church under the able leadership of Pastor T. L. Davis. The renovations include new floors, cathedral glass in the windows, new carpets, and complete redecoration of the interior. Besides these revisions on the temple, they are one of the few companies that completed Ingathering in one week. Good responses came from the believers in Columbus and Pittsburgh concerning the Ingathering campaign. Field days and business solicitations netted profitable returns.

One of the most unusual feats in Ingathering this year is the fact that the Ebenezer Church in Philadelphia raised its goal in one week. The Elmwood Church also did the same thing. What Philadelphia accomplished is an encouragement to the field. This is as it should be, for the Allegheny Conference was organized in the Ebenezer Church.

Elder J. H. Wagner spent the week end in the Tidewater area. The Norfolk Church has reached its goal, and is now working on a church Minute-Man goal. Newport News exceeded its Ingathering goal and raised $665 on a new building project in one day. Along with financial goals being reached, the seed is being sown from which a rich harvest of souls is the result. Several have taken their stand for the truth. Elder Wagner will return to officiate in a baptism on May 12. Brother Jethro Lester is doing a fine work in keeping all encouraged in soul winning.

Sister Nell is doing a most excellent work in leading in raising money for the proposed new building in Newport News. Worshipping has been done heretofore in rather poor quarters for quite a long time, and the time has come to worship the Lord "in the beauty of holiness." They have in hand $8,000 in cash and in addition own some very beautiful corner lots. Elder Wagner will be going to Pittsburgh this week end to encourage Ingathering.

New Sabbath School in Covington, Virginia

SISTER PAUL H. JACK just sent in the following good report concerning the organization of our first Sabbath school in Covington, Virginia: "'Heaven on Earth'—This was the title of our lesson last Sabbath, but that which I am going to write about is a little bit of 'heaven on earth' that we experienced Sabbath, April 7, in Covington, Virginia.

"On this first Sabbath of the second quarter 12 believers, representing various sections of the United States, gathered together to sing hymns of praise and to study the word of God. Sgt. Jepson offered prayer and Sgt. Holm read the mission reading. Sister Holm was appointed secretary-treasurer of the Sabbath school, and Sgt. Holm was appointed to teach the class for the quarter. (These brethren are stationed at one of our army hospitals near Covington, Virginia.) Brother Jack, Sr. conducted an interesting lesson study for the day.

One of the most practical truths studied was the fact that what we are in character and service today indicates what we shall be in the future and eventually throughout eternity. . . .

As a summary of the lesson study, and the benediction and pledge, we sang, "Not I, but Christ," and thus ended the first organized Sabbath school session in the dark county of Allegheny."

This Sabbath school meets weekly at 2:30 P.M.

History of Harvest Ingathering—No. 3

(As related by Jasper Wayne, author of the plan.)

"I FOUND her reclining upon a couch writing. She laid aside her manuscript and greeted me pleasantly, saying Willie had told her of my desire to see her, and something of the object of my call. I then related my experience at length, with my impressions. Her face lit up with a peculiar expression that indicated a deep interest in what was being told her. She answered, 'That is a most excellent plan, Brother Wayne, and I shall help you all I can to bring it before our people.' This interview was to me the event of my life. Although many years have elapsed since, the scene and impressions are as vivid as through it were but yesterday. I felt that now success was assured and the Harvest Ingathering would become a great success, and I left that room as though I had been in the presence of an angel.

"Elder L. F. Starr, the President of the Iowa Conference, had heard me speak and was deeply interested, and extended me an invitation to visit four local camp meetings in Iowa that fall, and present the plan in his conference, which I gladly accepted.

"On my arrival at Algone, eight miles from Burt, the place of meeting, I found the train from there left at midnight. It was then towards evening and there being a fair in town, the thought occurred to me that I might obtain a ride to Burt. On going to the fairgrounds, I saw a man hitching up his team, and asked him if he were going that way. He answered, 'Yes,' and that I could ride with him. So I stepped into his buggy and was taken to the campgrounds, where

I rested and was refreshed. The Sunday morning meeting was given to me, and as I spoke of the plan and my experience, the blessing of God attended in a special manner.

"As soon as the camp meetings were over, I began visiting churches throughout the State. The appointments were made for me at the office and a district man was sent with me to help with the meetings and introduced me to the people. The Lord greatly blessed me, and gave me words to speak.

"As a result of this tour, a number were persuaded to give the plan a trial. Success attended their efforts from the start, and a goodly sum of money was gathered in the mission treasury. This start in Iowa made possible the nation-wide movement of which we will now speak."

It is interesting to note that since Brother Wayne penned the foregoing the Ingathering plan started by him has not only become nation-wide, but world-wide in scope and influence, not only a medium of gathering needed means, but the largest single effort put forth by us to contact tens of thousands of various languages with the message.

A concluding article on Brother Wayne's early experience will appear in a later issue.

Report of Marion Effort

THE Marion Church greatly rejoices over the newly baptized members who have come into the church as a result of the meetings held by S. K. Lehnhoff in the local armory which began last October and later were continued in the church building.

On Sabbath, April 14, Elder Grundset officiated in a baptism of seven, making a total of 30 precious souls who have been baptized up to the present time as a result of the effort.

Miss Pauline Flint, Bible instructor, has greatly assisted the work in visiting and studying with the interested people. We appreciated the loyal support given by the church members in the literature campaign and in distributing invitations. Brother Wesley Wolcott, a lay member of the Mt. Vernon Church, was faithful in coming to Marion each Sunday night and directing the song service. Also the students of Mt. Vernon Academy under the leadership of Miss Grimes rendered special music which was always very much appreciated and enjoyed.

We thank God for these new members, many of whom have taken their stand under great opposition. There are others who are studying the truth and will be baptized soon.

Interesting and Remunerating

OUR missionary leader, Mrs. Bellna Smout, writes that the Liberty Center Church arranged a field day as follows:

"Four cars and their drivers, and eight solicitors took part. In our group were two little girls, aged six and ten, who were very earnest in their endeavor to do something for Jesus. In working along the country road they passed a home that was located away back in the field. It wasn't long until they came to another one very similar.

The smaller girl said to the driver, Brother Wolfe, 'I think we should go back there; they may have something for us.' Seeing how earnest the little girl was, the driver drove back to this home. Upon arriving there they found five cars in the drive and five men all in a group talking in the yard.

"Seeing all those men just about cost the little girls all the courage they possessed. Realizing they felt timid in approaching so many at once, Brother Wolfe got out of the car and led them up to the group, introduced them, and said the little girls had something they would like to tell them.

"Before their little story was hardly told, those men began fishing in their pockets, and those that didn't have money on them went into the house and got some, so the little girls received a very good collection of offerings, which bore out little Beverly's prophecy that 'they might have something for us' back there, away off the road.

"Another young lady, 14 years of age, went into a home and gave her canvass. The people very ungraciously got up and went into another room and left Marylou standing there alone. For a second she hardly knew just what to do, but gripping her courage, she followed them into the room and added a few more words to her first talk. The result was a dollar bill. Some people are the sponge-type of giver—they must be pressed or squeezed a bit to get results.

"Well, we had several good experiences that day. One lady remarked that she had been listening to the Voice of Prophecy and taking the Bible studies for some time and that they were grand. When she slipped her offering into my hand I found it was two dollars. Another lady, after I assured her we were not one of those 'Witness' people, her face clearing up and with a pleasant smile, told me that she was going to give me a dollar today and next year when I called she would make it five.

"In all five hours of work we lacked just a few cents of having seventy dollars. We felt really encouraged, especially as these people in the rural section had never been contacted before and knew nothing about our work."

You will find house-to-house In-gathering in city or country both interesting and remunerating, and both old and young can share blessings and joys in gathering funds for missions and bringing our literature to the homes of the people.

May many go and do likewise.

OBITUARIES

HATT: Mrs. Margaret, nee Freidhof, was born July 11, 1882 in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and died March 24, 1945 at her home in Wilkingsburg, Pennsylvania. On December 31, 1906 she was united in marriage to Mr. Robert Bruce Hatt and for 38 years they walked life's pathway together. To this union were born three children: Mrs. Naomi Patton and Mrs. Lois Senseman of Washington, D. C.; and Corporal R. B. Hatt, with General Patton's Third Army in Europe. She leaves to mourn, besides her husband and children, three grandchildren, three sisters, and one brother. Mrs. Hatt joined the Seventh-day Adventist Church in 1911 and was faithful until death. Services were conducted by Elder E. E. Carman and the writer.

RALPH B. HILL

SPEAR: Miss Alma, was born in Bauer, Michigan, August 16, 1869 and died March 18, 1945. Her father, Henry F. Spear, and her mother, Phoebe Spear, embraced the advent message under the labors of Elder I. D. Van Horn. Converted early in life, Alma remained faithful to the message until her death. For more than twenty years she was a faithful worker in the bindery of the Review and Herald Publishing Association. Because of the suddenness of her death and the difficulties of transportation, the Rev. Mr. Madison conducted a very fitting service at the grave in the Baptist Church yard. We believe she sleeps in the care of the One whose voice will raise the dead at His coming. She was a half-sister to Alice Woodruff-Wilson of Henderson, Iowa, and George M. Woodruff of Callistoga, California; and a sister of Horace M. Spear, all of whom are deceased. Her brother, Leonard M. Spear, is the only survivor of her immediate family.

WILKINS: George B., was born in Burlington, New Jersey, September 13, 1874 and died March 12, 1945 at his home in Edgewater Park, New Jersey. Brother Wilkins first became acquainted with this message when it was preached in Burlington in the year 1890, but it was not until 1914 that he and his wife, the former Sarah J. Floyd, were baptized at camp meeting in Camden, New Jersey. In the following years, he was variously active in the Mt. Holly and Burlington Churches, and was a member of the latter at his death. His first wife died in 1940. In 1942 he was married to Miss Mattie Rodney of Florence, New Jersey, who survives. Services were conducted by the writer, who was assisted by Mr. Griner, pastor of the Florence Methodist Church of which Mrs. Wilkins is a member. Interment was in a local cemetery.

J. O. McLEOD

CLARK: Mrs. Roberta Simpson, was born in Charles County, Maryland October

9, 1866 and died at the Leland Memorial Hospital, Riverdale, Maryland, March 8, 1945. Mrs. Clark was a resident of Washington, D. C. most of her life. Her husband, Charles R. Clark, died in 1926. Her son, Samuel S. Clark, died in 1929. She became a member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church under the labors of Elder Ostrander about 1915. We feel that she will be among those who will hear the voice of the great Life-giver on the morning of the first resurrection. Left to mourn their loss are 13 grandchildren and 32 great-grandchildren; her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Edith Clark; and other relatives and a host of friends.

"The Lord reigneth; let the people tremble: he sitteth between the cherubims; let the earth be moved. The Lord is great in Zion; and he is high above all the people."—Psalm 99:1, 2.

A Startling Revelation

IN one BIG WEEK Miss Thelma Pangborn, a conference magazine leader, took orders and delivered the following:

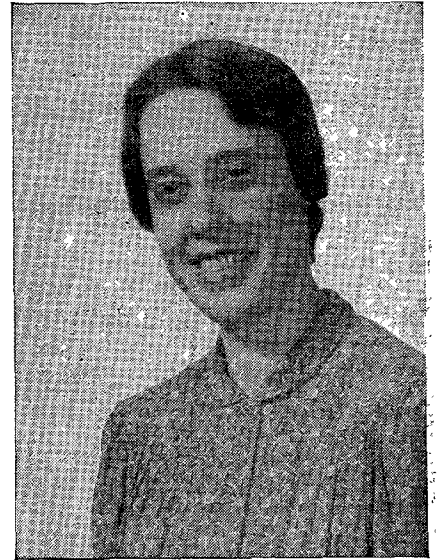

(11) "Modern Medical Counselor," leather, with 5-year Life and Health subscription; (10) "Modern Medical Counselor," cloth, with 5-year Life and Health subscription; (7) Life and Health 5-year subscriptions; (4) "Modern Medical Counselor" with 1-year Life and Health subscription; (4) "Bedtime Stories," cloth; (40) single copies of Life and Health.

Miss Pangborn says: "I worked in a project where there were only defense workers. At each of the first five homes visited I received an order for the 5-year Life and Health subscription with 'Modern Medical Counselor.' Most of these folks told me that this health instruction is what they have been waiting for. They said, 'It's almost impossible to get a doctor here.' At least three people bought who had purchased a 'Modern Medical Advisor' from a man selling for the Collier Company just the week before. These other books just do not compare with ours. One young Jewish mother whose husband had been taken into the army said, 'I can't really afford it, but this looks good, and I may not have another opportunity to get a good one like this.' She has only $80 a month on which to live. She ordered it on condition that I would make her payments less."

"Let none think that the circulation of the health journals is a minor matter. All should take hold of this work with more interest, and make greater efforts in this direction. God will greatly bless those who take hold of it in earnest; for it is a work that should receive attention at this time."—"Counsels on Health," p. 447.

It will pay you to investigate this important phase of God's work. Information will gladly be given by your Publishing Department Secretary.

From Our Men . . .

in the Service

By CHRIS P. SORENSEN

IN February of this year Elder Shepard, manager of the Oriental Watchman Publishing House sent to the Review and Herald Publishing Association a request for literature to be sent to three young men in the service in India. The Review and Herald sent the request to us and we immediately sent the Review and Herald, Youth's Instructor, and the Sabbath School Lesson Quarterly to the three young men. We soon were obliged to cancel the subscriptions going to one of the young men, for the sad word came that he had been called upon to pay the supreme price.

We recently received a letter from one of the other two men and we wish to share it with you. We quote:

Your kind letter dated 7 February 1945 was received here on Friday evening the 30th of March, for which I wish to tender my sincere thanks.

I am very much appreciative for your contact and more also for the favours now being extended to me to the effect of free supply of your periodicals. Words cannot serve as competent vessels to convey my gratitude to you, the M. V.'s, for generosity and benevolence both to me and comrades in the armed forces.

I also noted that you are desirous to know a bit about me. Well, in short, I am an African—a West African from the British Colony of Sierra Leone, otherwise called the "White-man Grave." I became an Adventist in 1931 when I was a boy of 12. I entered the S. D. A. Training School at Waterloo (then the headquarters for that field) in 1936 and was graduated there in 1940 during which time the military authorities seized the camp for military operations. I left West Africa in 1943 for service in this command and have ever since served here to this day. I am the only Adventist in my families, all being either Catholics, Methodists, or Mohammedans.

You might be surprised if I say that since I have been in this Army (from 1941-45) I have never had a serious cause to complain about. I am happy and well and NO troubles about religious LIBERTY or convictions.

It is indeed a pity to say that my address has been changed three or four times since the one you quoted, but all the same I have no fear of getting anything that might have been posted under that designation. The above address now supercedes all previous addresses and is here recommended for current use.

With best wishes to you from me and friends, while I remain to be forever,

Your sincere friend,

Sgt. J. N. L.
