Washington Papers Publicize Potomac Camp Meeting

FRONT-PAGE stories in a large Washington, D. C., daily newspaper four days in a row characterized the beginning of the Potomac Conference camp meeting session which started Thursday night, June 23, in the Sligo Seventh-day Adventist Church, Takoma Park, Md.

A total of over 250 newspaper column inches was printed in the three large Washington dailies during the first four days of the encampment. Following are some of the larger headlines which have appeared in Washington papers: "Adventist Urges Preparation for Second Coming of Christ," "Adventist Elder Sees Signs of 'Last Days' of the World," "100-Year

WE are all made sorry to hear of the tragic death of Elder T. A. McCoy of Ohio.

Belief in World Woes Vindicated, Adventists Told," "1,000 Youths Told Night Clubs Hold No Cure for World Chaos," "Year's Courtship Bodes Best for Marriage, Adventists Told."

The large morning paper, the Washington Post, featured Conference President Elder H. J. Detwiler's opening address on the second coming of Christ on the front page Friday morning, June 24.

On Saturday morning, June 25, Elder Henry F. Brown's sermon on the vindication of the Seventh-day

Seventy-Cents-a-Week Fund

By D. A. OCHS

RECENTLY I received the General Conference statement of the Seventy-Cents-a-Week Fund for the five months ending May 28 of this year. With reference to the amount per capita during these weeks, we show a healthy gain over the same period of the previous year, 1948. We stand the second highest of all the union conferences in North America in the Seventy-Cents-a-Week Fund, the total being $,974.

In this same letter received from the General Conference I note a statement made by Elder W. H. Branson, President of the China Division:

"At the present time we are dealing with evacuations from interior China and it now looks as if some twenty families would soon be going to the Far Eastern and Southern Asia Divisions. It is heartbreaking to see these fine young people leave China, but there seems to be no other way at this time."

This reveals in a brief way what our dear workers, missionaries, and believers are going through in that large division. Let us support them with our mission offerings and with our prayers.

Elder Elliott New Chairman, C. M. E. Board of Directors

THE appointment of Elder W. P. Elliott of Washington, D. C., as President of the Board of Trustees and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the College of Medical Evangelists has been announced by President George T. Harding. Official action was taken by the College Board in session on the Loma Linda campus following the resignation of Elder Frederick Griggs, Board Chairman for twelve years.

Elder W. P. Elliott has been the Publishing Department Secretary of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists since 1946, and was from 1936 to 1946 Manager of the Review and Herald Publishing Association. Previously he had been President of the Potomac Conference and Haitian Mission Superintendent.

Commenting on the appointment, Elder Elliott stated: "I feel greatly honored by the invitation to connect with the group of thoughtful, able men who constitute the Board of Trustees of the College of Medical Evangelists. The institution fills a most important place in the life of the community and in the training of personnel for the world-wide medical work of Seventh-day Adventists."

Retiring Chairman Frederick Griggs, noted educational administrator, has for fifty-nine years served in both the United States and the Orient as college president, missionary, and the chairman of various boards. He has been President of Union College, Emmanuel Missionary College, the Far Eastern Division, and the China Division, and Educational Secretary of the General Conference.

Elder Griggs, who is also resigning as Chairman of the Board of the Pacific Press Publishing Association in Mountain View, Calif., will remain in southern California, living at home in City Terrace, Los Angeles.

with the article on modern youth appeared in the paper.

The Washington Star has carried daily stories on the sessions, but in a prominent place in the inside pages. The Sunday Star published a picture of Elder Detwiler welcoming Robert Correia and P. H. Werner into the gospel ministry after their ordination service Saturday afternoon. In the Saturday Star a large picture of Elder Henry F. Brown was published. He had just returned from a 28,000-mile trip to Africa and displayed his souvenirs and curios at the Saturday-night meeting in the Sligo Church.

At this writing, June 27, there are yet six days of camp meeting to come, and more good news stories will be sent daily to the Washington papers. Other newsworthy speakers will be featured throughout the sessions.

Many thousands of non-Adventists follow the day-by-day account of the camp meeting in the newspapers. The cardinal points of the doctrines of the church are being presented forcefully to the people of the world through the newspaper columns. Conference officials have expressed their hope that similar endeavors can be successfully carried out in the other camp meetings in the Columbia Union.

Potomac Conference camp meeting leaders and speakers have expressed their appreciation for this unusual news coverage of the meetings. As one conference official has said, "The world is waking up to the fact that Adventists have something fundamental to tell to the public."

Appreciation is also expressed to the speakers and officials for their cooperation in reporting addresses and happenings to the correspondents.

Assisting in the newspaper publicity for the camp meeting are Elder L. R. Mansell, Potomac Conference pastor; Elder J. R. Ferren, Director of the General Conference Press Bureau; and the writer.

listen by telling them that the Voice of Prophecy is now featuring health instruction. You may announce to these friends that the latest information regarding cancer, heart disease, polio, and other very valuable and timely instruction on better living will come to them from outstanding doctors, nurses, and dietitians through our National Health Journal, Life and Health.

All around you, and perhaps in your own home, are those who are afflicted with one or more of these maladies that plague the human race. Many of these hearts may be temporarily closed to the advent gospel. Through this phase of medical ministry many of these hearts may be opened and prepared for other important truths pertinent to our solemn and momentous times.

Now, dear fellow advent believer, here is your opportunity to use "the right arm" as an "entering wedge" in your community. We are counting on you by this means also to help us expand our listening audience and increase the usefulness of the Voice of Prophecy broadcast.

Transfer of Worker

RECENTLY the East Pennsylvania administration requested permission of us to interview Elder and Mrs. Franklin Fowler concerning work in the Allentown-Bethlehem district.

Brother and Sister Fowler have labored for the Lord in the New Jersey Conference for nearly five years. They and their two fine children are well acquainted with most of our conference membership.

After much prayer they feel they should respond to this invitation from our neighbor conference, and therefore will terminate their relationship with the New Jersey Conference at an early date and immediately enter upon their new responsibilities.

Temperance Activities

THE month of May was promotion month for temperance in the Plainfield and New Brunswick Churches.

Early in the month Elder Kenneth H. Wood, Conference Temperance Secretary, was present at Plainfield Sabbath morning to participate in a program arranged for the church service by Mrs. Hannah Cruickshank and Mrs. Olive Hagmann.

Elder Wood gave an interesting talk, and thirty-seven signed the honor scroll as members of the American Temperance Society at the close of the service.

One Week to Camp Meeting

In the afternoon the Missionary Volunteer society of the New Brunswick Church presented a program arranged by Sister Hagmann. Songs and recitations were given by the young people, and Brother Maitland Brigham gave a very interesting and impressive chalk talk. Elder Wood gave some interesting facts and figures concerning present conditions in this country, and asked the audience to help by their membership in the American Temperance Society to wage combat against this great evil, drink.

The juniors have responded one hundred per cent, as all the young people in the church from six to sixteen have their names on the honor scroll. This is as it should be, and we are happy for such a fine record. The adults, too, have done well, and their temperance secretary, Sister Olive Hagmann, is working enthusiastically to make it one hundred per cent of the church membership, which I believe will be accomplished. Already sixty of the adult church members have signed their cards.

Program at the Methodist Church

On Sunday, May 15, the New Brunswick Church was invited to present a temperance program at the St. James Methodist Church in the city of New Brunswick for the regular evening service.

After the opening devotions led by their minister, Pastor John M. Long, he introduced Mrs. Olive Hagmann, who took charge of the program.

The opening number was a duet by Elder Kenneth H. Wood and Brother Kenneth McComas, "There Are Two Ways for Travelers." Miss Rose Catanese gave a reading, "The Stolen Bible," and Miss Lois McDermott recited "If It Were Not for Drink." Mrs. William Worrow of Plainfield sang "The Volunteer Organist," and Mrs. Elsie Garretson and Mrs. Jessie Mae Davis sang "The Saviour for Me."

Others taking part in songs, dialogues, and recitations were: James Anderson, Eugene and Richard Polhemus, Alfred Thode, Lynn Janata, Marlene Maurer, Antoinette Catanese, Carol MacCauley, Venetia Nelson, and Olga and Janet Weischadle.

One of the outstanding numbers on the program was given by Mrs. Agnes McComas, Fillmore Linkins, and Royal Reid, Sr., as they depicted in a very impressive way the "Tragic Results of the Social Glass." Many were in tears at the close of this number.

Elder Kenneth H. Wood made some timely remarks at the close, and an offering was taken which the Methodist minister turned over to Mrs. Hagmann to be used for temperance work.

Literature was given out as the people left, and they were indeed generous in their praise of the program. One little girl told Mrs. Hagmann very earnestly that "I am never going to drink or smoke in my whole life."

We feel that this type of work is well worth while, and we plan to press in whenever there is an opportunity to present temperance.

Wedding

ON Sunday, June 26, at 4:00 o'clock, Mr. David Kenneth Peshka and Miss Justina Batiuk were united in matrimony at the Perth Amboy Slovakian Church.

Most of the attendants were from Emmanuel Missionary College where both the bride and groom were well known on the campus.

Miss Batiuk has been a member of the faculty and Mr. Peshka, having completed his premedical course, is now a second-year student at the College of Medical Evangelists in California.

A large number of friends wished the happy couple a pleasant journey to the west coast where their new home will be established.

News From Field

ELDER R. L. VAUGHN of Strasburg, Va., writes:

"We have had two baptisms this year since completing the baptistry in our new church. Five were baptized. There are eight other good prospects, four of whom are now attending the Sabbath services. . . . Our new church building in Strasburg is the cause of much favorable comment. The community is proud of such an attractive house of worship in their midst.

"The church membership has been cooperating splendidly in the building fund campaign. . . . The little wooden banks are brought to church one Sabbath each month bulging with small coins and some bills. This project brings in from $40 to $50 monthly on our building fund. . . . Altogether, we have raised $850 this year for the building fund. We are of good courage, for the end is now in sight."

Meetings in Yellow Branch

THERE is a growing interest in the special series of meetings being held in the new church at Yellow Branch. Elder Boothby opened the meetings with four thrilling sermons on prophecies dealing with current happenings. We are sorry he could not stay for the entire campaign of three weeks, but all the friends here wish for Elder and Mrs. Boothby Godspeed as they travel to Michigan to start a ten-week summer effort there.

The meetings are continuing nightly with Elder Mansell of Roanoke leading out in the singing and preaching. Last Sunday night the auditorium was filled to capacity as Elder Mansell spoke on the subject, "Can the Living Talk With the Dead?" His presentation gripped the minds and hearts of the hearers, and many expressed a desire to return for the subjects announced for the week.

The beautiful Yellow Branch Church, newly erected, is set down in this community as a lighthouse, and its beacon lights are shining out to distant communities in the series of meetings now being conducted. We are praying that the Lord will lead many into the full light of Bible truth. Among those attending and showing a good interest is a local Methodist minister and his wife. The meetings are creating a spirit of good will over a large area.

Camp Meeting Speakers

THE Ohio Conference is fortunate in having some very good speakers again this year for the camp meeting. There will be good help throughout the entire ten days of the encampment.

For the first week end we shall have with us Elder H. F. Brown of the General Conference Home Missionary Department; Elder D. A. Delafield, Assistant Editor of the Review and Herald; and Elder S. C. Harris, Editor of Our Times. From the Columbia Union Conference there will be Elder D. A. Ochs and some of the department secretaries; and several instructors from Washington Missionary College will be present.

For the middle of the session and the last week end we shall have the following: Elder J. A. Buckwalter and Elder G. E. Vandeman of the General Conference; Elder A. E. Lickey, author of the Twentieth Century Bible Lessons; Prof. W. H. Shephard, President of Washington Missionary College; and there will be several department secretaries from the Columbia Union, and also Miss Mary Walsh.

Our people will be interested in seeing and hearing Elder A. G. Stewart, a missionary, accompanied by Pastor Robert Salau, a native of the Solomon Islands.

These two brethren plan to arrive on the camp ground July 11 or 12 and remain with us until the close of the encampment. Pastor Salau was converted to Christianity as a child and was a director of church work on Mussau during the war. He also acted as liaison officer between his people and military authorities. The lives of more than 500 servicemen were saved by his organization in the islands. A dispatch was sent to the General Conference office in Washington, D. C., by the American Army, commending Salau for his loyal assistance and his maintaining a high morale among his adherents. He speaks pidgin English fluently and has learned to speak orthodox English reasonably well.

All indications are that we shall have a large attendance at the camp meeting this year. I hope all our people who possibly can will plan to attend. The cafeteria will be closed on Sabbaths as in past years.

Baptism in Dayton

ON May 7, 1949 eight more souls united by baptism with the remnant church in Dayton, Ohio. This makes a total of 104 who have been added during the last twenty months as a reward for the faithful labor and prayers of the Dayton members under the leadership of Elder T. A. McCoy.

The Dayton Church is overcrowded and is working hard to build a new larger one. The lot has already been purchased and we hope to start building in the near future.

For the past several years the "Prophecy Speaks" broadcast has been heard over Station WING on Sunday mornings at 10:00, but will start on a new station July 3, WHIO, from 10:30 to 11:00 Sunday morning, 1290 on your dial.

We need your prayers as we endeavor to carry on the Lord's work in the Dayton district.

News Notes

Students. Fifty student colporteurs are now at work in the Ohio Conference and a large report is expected. Surely, as a result of the truth-filled literature placed in the homes through their earnest efforts, many sheaves will be garnered into God's kingdom.

East Liverpool. A nice start on the construction of the new East Liverpool Church has been reported by Elder Floyd Smith, the pastor.

Galion. On Sabbath, June 11, nine candidates were baptized at the Galion Church by Elder W. M. Robbins. These were the fruitage of the labors of Brother Robert Holst, the pastor. M. L. C.

Dorcas Federation Meetings

THE spring Dorcas federation meetings usually bring to us some very interesting and complete reports of the previous year. The meetings this spring were no exception. The five federations had their meetings during the last week in May and the first week in June. The presidents had their program well planned.

We want to share a few summaries of the reports rendered. On an average, every Seventh-day Adventist in the East Pennsylvania Conference gave away at least ten articles of clothing during the year 1948 to those less fortunate. The total sum was 76,714. If these were packed in boxes for shipment overseas, it would take an average railroad box car to transport them. We believe that if a complete report could be had, it would double this amount.

If one person would do all the hours of Christian help work reported it would take him fourteen years at the rate of twelve hours a day, or about 4,860 days. The total amount reported was 58,306. We believe, as stated above, that much more was done.

If we put a cash value on all items reported, we would have the sum of $61,016.49. This is almost as much as we raise for gathering in the Conference. We say to our brethren and sisters, well done! This is a good report and we know that 1949 will be still better.

Weddings

ON Sunday afternoon, June 5, at 3:00 o'clock, in the West Philadelphia Church, Eleanor Boer was married to H. Eugene Ronning. Both are members of that church.

The service was read by Elder H. W. Walker, pastor of the Chattanooga, Tenn., Seventh-day Adventist Church, and uncle of the groom. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Edward Halde- man, and Edward Haldeman was best man. Bridesmaids were Ed- wina Mae Ellis, Mary Ann An- dress, Anita DiBiase, and Barbara Shirley Beans. The ushers were Harold Mayer, Brooker Mills, and Richard Mayer.

During the service Edgar Brad- ley sang "Because," "At Dawn- ing," and "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Dottie Huber of Washington, D. C., played the wedding march. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. G. H. Boer.

Following the service at the church, a reception was given by the bride's parents at the Phila- delphia Academy for relatives and friends of the happy couple.

During the reception Prof. Harry Hadley Schyde, head of the music department of city schools in New Haven, Conn., sang several numbers. Miss Jean Zabady fa- vored the group with two solos. Piano solos were rendered by Miss Kathryn Hamm, music director at Philadelphia Academy, and read- ings were given by Elsie Glyn Bordeaux and Miss Marian Hart- lein. The couple left on Monday for southern Mississippi where Eugene will assist the student colporteurs this summer and also canvass. In the fall, they will re- side in Chattanooga, Tenn., where Eleanor will be employed as a teacher in the church school and Eugene will continue his studies at Southern Missionary College.

A BEAUTIFUL and impressive wedding was solemnized in the Blossburg Seventh-day Adventist Church Saturday night, May 28, when Robert Jackson of Canton was united in marriage to Alvina Smith of Blossburg.

The church was decorated with wild flowers. H. C. Reading, pas- tor of the church, sang "Because." Kenneth Smith and Maxine Bair were the attendants.

Following the service the re- ception was held at the bride's home where many relatives and friends gathered to wish them a happy, united life. The couple will reside near Blossburg. We wish them well. The service was conducted by the writer.

Camp Ground Improvements

J. H. WAGNER, President of the Allegheny Conference, demon- strated his leadership and courage in the line of duty when he ac- cepted the superintendency of the camp ground this year. It was a bold stroke, but he arose to meet the responsibilities with stamina matched only by his executive prowess in office.

First on the job in the morning, Elder Wagner has inspired the workers to Herculean achieve- ment and as we look back we can only say: Praise God for his lead- ership.

In less than two weeks a per- manent Book and Bible House was erected, roofed, wired, floored, and made ready for occupancy. During the same interval a per- manent kitchen was constructed, roofed, wired, piped, and modern appointments installed.

Two hundred family tents were pitched and floored. A new big tent, 90 by 120 feet, was raised, a new Y. P. M. V. tent, 60 by 90 feet, was pitched, both wired, plat- forms erected and decorated, to- gether with a new dining tent.

We thank the personnel of the Conference for their cooperation and unstinted effort to get the job finished, and, best of all, we thank God that we were able to work unhampered by the weather.

Let us enter upon this spiritual encampment seeking God for His richest blessings as we make new determinations for greater evan- gelism, while the door of mercy still stands ajar.

News Notes

THE tent effort in Everett has had a very favorable beginning with reference to attendance and interest. The tent effort in Clearfield is having a harder time in getting attendance. Brethren Gordon Frederick and James Hold are being assisted by Brother and Sister Krater in this effort, and a great deal of visiting will have to be done to make up for the lack of attendance.

We were interested in meeting at the Clearfield effort a sister from Matilda who had been reached through the radio work of Elder Mills of Chambersburg, had taken the correspondence course, and through the follow-up work by Brother Frederick is developing into a staunch Seventh-day Adventist. Brother Frederick reports another sister who came in practically the same way, who drives nearly forty miles to attend services at Lewistown on the Sabbath.

It is not too early to begin planning for camp meeting. The camp is just outside the city. This will make it convenient particularly for those who come in over the week end.

Elder George Vandeman will be with us during most of the camp meeting. From the College we shall have President W. H. Shephard; Elder T. H. Jemison, head of the Bible department; and Prof. Nis Hansen. Mrs. Griffiee, one of the supervising nurses at the Washington Sanitarium, will be accompanied by a student nurse. We are endeavoring to secure one of our physicians for part of the time.

Since our camp meeting does not overlap any other camp meeting in the Columbia Union Conference, the Union staff of workers will be able to give good help. Special plans are being made for the young people and children. There will be an ample number of rooms on the grounds for those who desire them, and also a few tents.

Diamonds in the Rough

It is said that in the mines of South Africa 400 tons of dirt must be removed to get one ounce of diamond. If we win only one soul to Christ with all our efforts, will it not be worth while? Each sinner is a diamond in the rough, even though we do have to move a lot of dirt to get at it. There are those who are on the verge of the kingdom, waiting to be gathered in.

Ellen G. White has said: "If, in order to do good and glorify His name, the Lord requires us to go among infernal spirits, where is the blackest darkness, He will encircle us with His angels and keep us unsullied" ("Testimonies," Vol. II, p. 222). During the month of June a group were out Ingathering on a Saturday evening. As two women were soliciting in a business establishment they met a man who wanted special prayer for his boy. It was suggested that he go out in the car and talk to me, and I would be glad to pray with him. When he found out that I was a Protestant minister, he rushed out and came to my car.

He then told me that several weeks ago his 12-year-old boy was hammering a nail into a board when the rusty nail flew up and lodged in his right eye. The eye had to be removed. The father went to the leading eye specialist in Erie and volunteered to let the doctor remove one of his and give it to his boy. He wanted prayer for the boy.

He then began to tell of his longing for something better in his life. He is one of ten children. One brother is a missionary in India. This man was outside the ark of safety and wanted salvation. With tears streaming down his face, he said, "Preacher, if you've ever saved anyone in your life, save me now. I'm the only one of ten children who hasn't come to Jesus." We both bowed our heads there in the car and I pleaded his case before the only One who can save sinners. He sobbed audibly throughout the prayer, and then he took my hands in both of his and could not thank me enough. I gave him my card and invited him to worship with us some Sab-

The Way Home

WARREN ADAMS, ARTIST

OF ALL the roads that run to and fro over the earth there is no road quite like the one that leads home. It may be a rough, dusty, country road that twists and turns, and jostles and bumps the traveler, but if home is at the end of it, or somewhere along the way, there is little that matters except getting there. Ask one who has been away from home for a long time how it feels to be on the way home, and, even before he speaks, his eyes usually reveal his heart.

There is another road, one on which men have traveled since the first transgression—the road to their eternal home. The way has been hard—winding, tortuous, full of pitfalls, ever challenging to the utmost—and those who have fallen by the wayside are legion. The din of battle, the clump of the boots of mighty armies, the rise and fall of empires, the overflowing scourge of oppression, and all the other myriad facets of life on a doomed planet have been waymarks along the road home.

And now home is almost in sight. Perhaps the next turn of the road will reveal in the distance the "city four-square," the New Jerusalem, our real home. Let us hold fast the profession of our faith.

"Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city."—Revelation 22:14.
