What Civilian Defense Training Will Include

THE various things we shall be asked to engage in and train in, when state civilian defense plans are put into effect, will be seen when the following information is considered.

The Office of Civil Defense Planning of the U. S. Department of Defense has been instrumental in promoting passage of state civil defense legislation, and will not rest until all 48 states adopt such legislation. This legislation includes:

(a) Creation of a state civil defense planning body;

(b) The creation of civil defense planning bodies in each political subdivision;

(c) Responsibility for both wartime and peacetime disaster relief planning and preparedness measures.

While state legislation is desirable, inasmuch as it provides the governor and the heads of local government with the requisite authority to implement civil defense programs through such means as mutual aid arrangements between cities and communities within the state, and also between states, the formulation of local civil defense programs need not await such legislation.

Already 42 states have created state civil defense directors. Of this number 17 are civilian directors, and 25 are state adjutants general who also serve as state civil defense directors.

Reporting to the Atomic Energy Committee staff, the General Services Administration discloses that disaster relief planning is going forward under its supervision and by other agencies in its behalf, in the following fields:

"1. Prospectus on Planning for Wartime Civil Disaster Relief.

(Submitted to the NSRB on August 23, 1949.)

"2. Demolition.

"3. Housing and Community Facilities.

"a. Inventory of types of emergency housing and community facilities which may be needed and would be readily available in an emergency.

"b. German World War II housing experience.

"4. Legislation.

"a. Model wartime disaster relief legislation.

"b. Equipment and supplies for wartime disaster relief.

"5. Health and Medical Disaster Relief.

"a. Study of health services needs for nonprofessional personnel.

"b. Estimates of training requirements for nonprofessional personnel.

"c. Study and recommendations relating to specialized training, for wartime purposes, in the health fields.

"d. Recommendations relating to research, in the health fields, needed for civil defense.

"e. Survey of supply problems in health equipment, instruments, chemicals, medicinals, and related commodities.

"f. Surveys and recommendations related to health facilities.

"g. Plans for sanitation in production, distribution, and preparation of food, and adequate nutrition in wartime.

"h. Plans for wartime blood program.

"i. Plans for a wartime communicable-disease-control program.

"j. Plans for wartime standards for protection of public health.

"k. Organization for treatment of casualties.

"l. Psychiatric and mental health.

"m. Maternal and child health services.

"n. Industrial medicine and hygiene services.

"o. Vital statistics.

"p. Mortuary services.

"q. Special vehicles.

"6. Rescue Services.

"7. Road Transportation.

"8. Disaster Communications Service.

"9. Utilities (Water, Sewage, Gas, Electricity).

"10. Transportation Facilities (Street Railways, Subways, Airports, Bridges, Ports and Docks).

"11. Decontamination.

"12. Fire Protection and Fire-Fighting.

"13. Police and Warden Services.

Noncombatant Aliens and Naturalization

WHEN the U. S. Supreme Court settled the Girouard case it opened the way for aliens applying for citizenship to be naturalized even though their religious training and belief would not permit them to bear arms.

Since that decision was handed down an attempt has been made to reverse it by act of Congress.

This attempt was made by Senator Cain of Washington, when he attached an amendment to the Displaced Persons Act of 1948 requiring aliens seeking citizenship to take an oath to bear arms when required by law.

When this was brought to vote on April 5 last the Cain amendment was ruled out of order by Vice-President Barkley, as not being germane to the Displaced Persons Act. Senator Cain has not reintroduced it.

Now there is an opportunity presented to give the Supreme Court decision the authority of law. This presents itself in Section 336 of the Immigration and Nationality Act introduced by Senator McCarran, of Nevada, on April 20 last. It is embodied in the bill known as S3455.

Section 336 provides two oaths—one to bear arms when required by law, the other to perform non-combatant service in the armed forces when required by law.

All applicants for citizenship are required by this proposal to take the first oath unless they can show to the satisfaction of a naturalization court that for religious reasons they prefer to take the second.

In effect this would bring Congress and the Supreme Court together in permitting religious non-combatants to become citizens. And that would settle the matter.

My suggestion is that if you are interested in the passage of this legislation you write to the Hon. Patrick A. McCarran, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C., and tell him so, conveying to him your desire that Section 336 be not altered.

President's Report

(Concluded from last week)

IN addition to fostering and enlarging our present work we are entering new territory as rapidly as possible. Brother W. M. Schomburg, pastor of the Buckhannon, Elkins, and Webster Springs Churches, will conduct a tent meeting in Richwood this summer. Associated with him will be Miss Mary Bierly, a most efficient and energetic Bible instructor. Brother J. H. Tegler, who with his wife is teaching the Charleston Church school, will serve as tent master and song director, besides giving Bible studies to interested people as time and interest permit. We hope that a new church will be raised up in Richwood as the result of these meetings.

Elder Myers plans this fall to conduct an effort in Cameron, where there is a good interest. Brother George W. Mowry, pastor of the Bluefield and Princeton Churches, plans to hold meetings in Lewisburg this summer, and raise up a new church in this fine town. We have asked Sister Lillian Halstead Lippencott to assist in the Lewisburg effort until Elder Jayne is ready to conduct an effort in St. Albans or some other place near Charleston.

We plan for each minister to be actively engaged in evangelism, for this is the life of our work, as well as the life of the workers.

We have doubled the number of schools in the Conference. But this is not saying too much, for we have only six schools. But this is a move in the right direction and we need to establish more schools as rapidly as possible. In Fundamentals of Christian Education, page 226, we read: "Of all institutions in our world the school is the most important!"

We read in Counsels to Teachers, page 165: "While we should put forth earnest efforts for the masses of the people around us, and push the work into foreign fields, no amount of labor in this line can excuse us for neglecting the education of our children and youth."

And so we are greatly interested in the Christian training of our children and youth. Pray for our godly teachers, for our parents, and for our children. There was never such a difficult time to rear children as now. Let us do our utmost to save all our children for the kingdom of God.

As we view the setting sun, and recognize that salvation's day is almost gone; and then view the task before us in this field, and consider how few loaves and fishes we have to feed the multitudes, we implore Him who blessed the meager store in a long-ago day of need, to bless our little by the energizing power of the Holy Spirit that we may be able to sound the gospel invitation to the marriage feast of our King to every honest soul in this conference.

Rapidly fulfilling Bible prophecy proves to us that the day is far spent. We have not followed cunningly devised fables. Daily happenings confirm our faith in the belief that we are almost home. We have come to the crossing of the Jordan, soon to enter into our heavenly Canaan. Let us all press on just a little longer, and soon we shall hear the trumpet sound, when the saints shall gather home, forever in our Father's house!

"The Last Hour"

"The sunset burns across the sky,
Upon the air the warning cry
The curfew tolls from tower to tower,
O Christian, 'tis the last, last hour."

"The work which centuries might have done,
Now crowds the hour of setting sun:
And to all lands the saving Name,
Ye must in fervent haste proclaim."

"The fields are white to harvest: weep,
O tardy workers, as you reap,
For wasted hours which might have won
Rich harvest ere the set of sun."

"We hear His footsteps on the way:
Oh, work, while it is called TODAY.
Constrained by love, endued with power,
O Christian, in this last, last hour."

News Notes

SPECIAL notice! The location tent for the Allegheny Conference adult camp meeting which opens August 24 will be closed one hour before sunset on August 25, and will remain closed until sundown, August 26. This means that if you arrive during the interval that the location tent is closed, you will not be able to be housed until the location tent reopens for business.

Seventy-four campers from eight states and the District of Columbia are enjoying themselves in the beautiful Manatawny Valley in the third annual junior camp project sponsored by the Allegheny Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

Division leaders are Mrs. A. Buchanan of Philadelphia and Professor N. E. Ashby, registrar and teacher of languages at Pine Forge Institute. Counselors are Miss LaVerne Wainwright, Baltimore, Md.; Miss Marian Gresham, dean of girls at Pine Forge Academy; Mrs. Lillian Pinkney, teacher at Ebenezer intermediate school of Philadelphia; Professor J. T. Powell, Bible instructor at Pine Forge Academy; Ellis Young of Baltimore; and Mr. Samuel Ferguson of Philadelphia. Prof. R. L. Reynolds, Principal of Pine Forge Academy, is instructor of nature at the camp. Dr. Daniel Lee of Pottstown is the camp physician and Prof. A. V. Pinkney, Missionary Volunteer Secretary of the Allegheny Conference, is the camp director.

Samuel DeShay, pianist prodigy, scores again. Seventeen-year-old DeShay of Columbus, Ohio, has been the happy recipient of three scholarships for his musical prowess. Appearing on the television talent hour, he carried all before him, emerging the winner. This artistic performance was again repeated when the National Association of Colored Musicians and Women's Council held their talent contest recently in Ohio. He was acclaimed the winner again. On Irving Johnson's television program he was referred to by the announcer as "the boy with the million-dollar smile," and he again topped the field, winning his third $50 scholarship.

Samuel is the fourth child in a family of five. He is the son of Brother and Sister William DeShay of 1320 Clifton Avenue, Columbus, Ohio. He is an active member of the young people's society of the Ephesus Church in that city and has made application to enter Emmanuel Missionary College for the fall term. Samuel DeShay is now associated with Elder E. I. Watson in the evangelistic effort in Dayton, Ohio, as piano evangelist. Musical critics feel that his future is assured, and we are happy that he has dedicated his life and talent to the service of the Master.

Reading Adventist School

IN one of the recent issues of the VISITOR a picture was shown of the new school building in Reading. Those of us who have watched its growth feel this school will be a wonderful asset to the Reading Church.

This building has three splendid classrooms, principal's office, library, and partial basement. A gymnasium-auditorium seating approximately 550 people is adjacent to the school building. It is located on the outskirts of the city with about two acres of land for playground. A school indeed to be proud of!

A strong staff of teachers will be in charge. Mr. P. E. Pflaumer will teach grades 9 and 10; Mrs. P. E. Pflaumer, grades 4 to 8; and Miss Myrtle Johnson, grades 1 to 4. We welcome Miss Johnson back to Reading. We feel this coming school term will be another good year.

Elder Calkins and the members of the Reading Church are to be commended for their foresightedness, sacrifices, and response in making this wonderful institution possible.

will soon be back again, enjoying good health.

Elder Patzer wishes to remind the young people, ages 17-35, of the senior youth retreat to be held on our own camp ground, beginning Friday night, August 18, at 5:00 P.M. and closing Sunday, August 20, at 1:00 P.M. The cost for the week end is $5 which includes board and lodging. The youth must bring their own bedding.

The following have reported baptisms recently: Elder Wernick, five, three to unite with the church at York and two with the Lancaster Church; Elder Rafferty, four to unite with the Duncannon Church; and Elder Toms, three, two to unite with the Danville Church and one with the Northumberland Church.

Reports from the efforts being conducted in the Conference this summer are encouraging. While the attendance is not large, there seems to be a steady group and a number are definitely interested.

Branch Sabbath Schools

ABOUT eighteen months ago I was called to the city hospital in Marion, Ohio, to pray with a patient who was to have an operation for a cataract. I met a lady about sixty years of age. She told me that her mother, her grandparents on her mother's side, and her sister were Adventists. At one time she attended the church. She desired prayer for healing and promised the Lord she would again follow Him. The operation was a success.

After she went home my wife and I called and asked to have a branch Sabbath school. To this she gladly consented. For some weeks we had a branch Sabbath school at her home, but later it was transferred to her brother's home. Mr. and Mrs. Wright became interested. Having a full program, I asked Brother and Sister Hill and Dr. Maud Bull of the Marion Church to carry on the work. Mr. and Mrs. Wright were baptized on July 1 and united with the Marion Church. Mrs. Pilgrim attends regularly now and later she, too, will be baptized.

The Marion Church is conducting two other branch Sabbath schools at present.

Chillicothe District News

THE opening service of "The Bible Made Plain" series of meetings was held in the Armory Auditorium in Hillsboro, Ohio, Sunday evening, July 2, with an attendance of about 200. Elder John E. All spoke on the subject "Will Russia Rule the World?"

The half-hour musical program, which preceded the lecture, was conducted by Elder Cecil A. Paden, pastor of the Chillicothe district, with his mother, Mrs. C. M. Paden of Breezewood, Pa., presiding at the piano.

The lectures in the Hillsboro Armory will continue for about ten weeks.

The Chillicothe building plans have been approved by the State, and the permits from the city have been secured, so the church is ready to proceed with the building just as soon as materials can be procured. The Chillicothe building plans include facilities for a church school and a church auditorium with a seating capacity of 180.

Wedding

A BEAUTIFUL June wedding was solemnized Monday evening, June 26, in the First Presbyterian Church of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, when two Seventh-day Adventist young people were united in marriage.

The young couple was Miss Phyllis Kathryn Ernst, daughter of the late Mr. Adolph Ernst and Mrs. Elizabeth Ernst of Mt. Vernon, and Mr. Warren Jennings Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Knight of Loveland, Colo.

The writer, assisted by Elder Robert Spangler of Florida, officiated at the seven-thirty service. A reception for members of the family was given at the home of Mrs. Ernst.

The former Miss Ernst was graduated from the Mount Vernon Academy, attended Emmanuel Missionary College at Berrien Springs, Mich., and the last two years attended Union College school of nursing, until it was necessary for her to interrupt her course due to the serious illness of her mother. Mr. Knight was graduated from Campion Academy in Loveland, Colo., and in May completed his junior year at Union College in Lincoln, Nebr.

The young people plan to return this fall to the West to continue their education. May God's richest blessing rest upon them as they devote their lives to the Master's service.

Senior Youth's Camp Convenes at Mt. Aetna

SUPPER time, June 30, 1950, found twenty-eight senior young people becoming acquainted with one another and the second annual senior youth camp of the Chesapeake Conference at Mt. Aetna, Md.

This year found the camp prepared with two cabin areas of ten cabins each and wash houses. A few tents were pitched for the administrative staff and married couples.

Activities for the day began at 6:30 A.M. and did not cease until 9:30 P.M. Each morning the campers met on the parade ground between the two cabin areas and raised Old Glory with solemn pride on its live oak pole. Morning worship, church services, and vespers were held at the campfire area in nature's own cathedral.

The staff personnel certainly were patient, good humored, and proficient. Brother Stockton was camp director; Sister Cox, girls' division leader, instructor in conchology and leathercraft; Brother George Liedtke, camp nurse; Sister Morse, ceramics instructor; Sister Haines, chief chef, assisted by Sister Hall and Sister Huntzberry; Brother Haines, general maintenance.

Our guest speakers furnished one pleasing surprise after another. Where could the following roster be equaled?

Professor Tarr of Washington Missionary College spoke at vespers on Friday evening. Elder Pease of the Loma Linda Church had the Sabbath morning worship.

Elder Christiansen told of his part in founding our work in Craig, Alaska, during the Sabbath school hour conducted by Sister Isobel Butler. Elder Jemison of Washington Missionary College preached the Sabbath sermon.

Elder Vernon Rees conducted the daily morning worship and held consultations with each youth present. Elder Barringham of Essex, Md., was the inspiration for a lively and instructive youth's forum. Brother Keller held a two-hour lecture and exhibit on natural history. Elder Mansker of Frederick told stories during the campfire of his experiences as a missionary in Africa. Dr. Harry Weber, now in Baltimore preparing to return to the mission field, illustrated his discourse on Afghanistan with colored pictures. Brother Earl Elliott of the Baltimore Number One Church sponsored a perfect social evening. Special music was provided by the campers and guests from Washington Missionary College. The spiritual, educational, and recreational value of such a program was really priceless.

As the results of Master Comrade classes, nature, craft, and swimming classes, over 117 awards were presented.

Independence Day, July 4, marked the lowering of the flag from its living pole. As the sun's rays slanted over the tall tree tops, the girls watched with awe as the boys lowered to its foundation the new flag pole. The camp was climaxed by a patriotic program and the film, "Peace Builders."

How can one find vocabulary sufficient to express the gratitude to God for the unexcelled Christian companionship enjoyed by all present? Where could one spend a more profitable holiday free from the hustle and bustle of traffic that took over 700 lives?

The woods, the hills, the birds, and all nature spoke of God and peace and we at Mt. Aetna's second senior youth camp heard and understood.

Evangelism

Can Our Populous Cities Be Evan-gelized?

THE proclamation of the three-fold message of Revelation 14:6-12, illustrated by an angel flying, and "having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people," is most significant. Here is envisioned a great work of world-wide dimensions, importance, and consequence. It is a momentous and solemn revelation that all people are now deciding their eternal destiny; for the hour of God's judgment is come. Revelation 14:7.

We must reach the masses speedily by the use of every available, evangelizing medium. "Men need to be aroused to realize the solemnity of the time, the nearness of the day when human probation shall be ended. Decided efforts should be made to bring the message for this time prominently before the people. The third angel is to go forth with great power (Testimonies, Vol. VI, p. 16).

"Evangelistic work, opening the Scriptures to others, warning men and women of what is coming upon the world, is to occupy more and still more of the time of God's servants" (Ellen G. White, Review and Herald, August 2, 1906).

"The spiritual darkness that covers the whole earth is intensified in the crowded cities of population. It is in the cities of the nations that the gospel worker finds the greatest impenitence and the greatest need. . . . God is now calling upon His messengers in no uncertain terms to warn the cities while mercy still lingers and while multitudes are yet susceptible to the converting influence of Bible truth" (Ellen G. White, Review and Herald, April 7, 1907).

Every field is indeed blessed by having among its workers those who are burdened, gifted, and trained to give the message for these times in our crowded cities. These workers need the prayers and support of our entire church membership. The following counsel is to the point:

"Those who are engaged in the difficult and trying work in the cities should receive every encouragement possible. Let them not be subjected to unkind criticism from their brethren" (Ellen G. White, 1909).

In the cities, unwarned and unprepared for Christ's coming, the message must quickly be proclaimed. The most representative halls, auditoriums, and public meeting places in these congested centers of population, when used for the proclamation of the message, silently bear testimony to the importance and value of the truths presented.

"Large halls in our cities should be secured that the third angel's message may be proclaimed. . . . Thousands will appreciate the message" (Ellen G. White, Letter 35, 1895).

We may still pitch tents in most strategic and prominent places in many towns and cities where halls are not available. Obstacles and difficulties will vanish before earnest and united effort to speedily evangelize these strongholds of Satan, and scores of men and women, as a result, will be added to the faith.

Wedding

A SIMPLE but beautiful wedding ceremony united the lives of two young people June 18, 1950. In the home of her parents, near McKeesport, Pa., the bride, Mary Lou Lucas, pledged her troth with Harvey E. Flory, Jr., of Wooster, Ohio. A cousin of the bride and a close friend of the groom were the attendants.

We wish God's richest blessings for this young couple as they establish their home near Wooster, and trust they may find a foretaste of the joys of the eternal home to come.

Juniors will remember their kind counselors who guided them throughout the busy week. We express our appreciation to Mrs. Haase, Mrs. Raith, Mrs. Jeffreys, Mrs. Moss, Mrs. Moldrik, Miss Dey, Miss H. Stone, Miss E. Stone and Mrs. Tyson who acted as counselors for the girls; also to Mr. Raith, Elder Robbins, Elder Wellman, Elder Moldrik, Elder Reynolds, Elder Jeffreys, Elder Ipes, Elder Haase, and Mr. Barnes who were counselors for the boys. Our appreciation and thanks are extended to Elder McComas for his fine help as assistant director of the camp.

Sunday, immediately after dinner, our juniors began leaving for home after one solid week packed with thrilling memories of camping in the mountains. Practically every boy and girl expressed the desire to have the camp next year at Camp Pahaqua for they did have such a wonderful time.

With great anticipation we look forward to next year, praying and planning for an even larger and better camp, yet not entirely forgetting this fine camp which just closed, and the many boys and girls who gave their hearts to Christ for the first time, and the entire group of 107 who dedicated their lives to Jesus.

Junior Camp, 1950

ONE hundred and seven juniors attended the 1950 junior camp sponsored by the New Jersey Conference. This year the camp was held at a Boy Scout camp in the beautiful Kittatinny Mountains just above the Delaware Water Gap on the Delaware River. There were about equal numbers of boys and girls present. The girls camped on one mountainside, living mostly in tents, while the boys camped on another mountainside, living in open-type cabins.

Every junior thoroughly enjoyed the day's planned activities. From rising at 6:30, Morning Watch, flag raising, breakfast, camp duties, crafts, and recreation, dinner, rest period, crafts, and swimming, supper, flag lowering, campfire, and taps at 9:00 P.M., the juniors had a full daily program.

The meals were the highlight occasion of the junior camp day. Under the capable direction of Mrs. McComas, with Mrs. Vernal, Mrs. Weischadle, and Mrs. Brinton assisting, appetizing and nutritious meals were served in the spacious dining hall. Elder James Terzo and Elder James Meade organized the camp duties in connection with kitchen detail, and Mr. Gordon Barnes was the buyer for our camp.

The health of the juniors was carefully guarded by Mrs. Bessie Wills, a registered nurse who was on active duty during the entire camp. Many juniors learned to recognize the weed, poison ivy, only after they had come in contact with its shiny leaves. But they responded well to the treatments given by Mrs. Wills and about all the cases were cleared up by the time it was necessary to leave the camp.

The Sabbath program was planned especially to suit the occasion. The Sabbath services were held in the special outdoor chapel nestled between the two large hills, with the forest trees giving cooling shade and the mountain stream dashing and bounding down through the rocks. Sabbath school was conducted by Elder Jeffreys. Mrs. K. Moss acted as our Sabbath school secretary, reading a report of the Sabbath services held at Camp Lenape in 1949. Elder James Meade, a missionary from West Africa, gave the mission story and displayed many interesting objects from Nigeria. Mr. Barnes gave the review, and Elder Reynolds taught the lesson to the group as a whole.

The church services were held in the same spot immediately following Sabbath school. Elder Reynolds played his accordion for the organ effect for the services. Elder T. P. Ipes conducted the worship service, and at the close of his sermon about half of the 107 youth came forward to the stone altar in response to his appeal to give their hearts to Christ for the first time. Then, while we sang softly, "Just as I Am," the others came forward to reconsecrate their lives for Jesus. Not one junior was left in his place at this consecration service.

On Sabbath afternoon the campers were divided and two groups went on separate nature walks. The older group climbed the mountain behind the camp where they came to the Appalachian Trail, while the younger group took a nature hike in the valley. That afternoon the juniors saw turtles, lizards, snakes, and two deer as well as an abundance of plant life. The Sabbath-day program was an inspiration to juniors
