“Faith for Today” Offering

By D. A. OCHS

THE General Conference has set aside Sabbath, March 24, for our North American television offering. Elder H. M. S. Richards is being telecast from California on the west coast and Elder W. A. Fagal, from New York, on the east coast. Both of these programs are telecast under the caption, “Faith for Today—Sponsored by the Seventh-day Adventist Churches of North America.”

A letter from Elder C. L. Torrey of the General Conference states that our goal for this offering in North America is $120,000.

These telecasts are enrolling more people in the study of the Bible than radio or any other agency we have ever employed in our evangelistic endeavor to enroll men and women in the Bible correspondence course.

During the month of January alone 2,090 people in the east were enrolled in the Bible course as a result of the New York telecast. During one telecast 803 letters were received, and, of these, 750 asked for enrollment in the Bible course. Four-fifths of all those who replied enrolled in the Bible course. This is an indication that the great populous areas in the big cities in the east are being reached and people are being enrolled in the Bible course.

I am confident that our dear believers throughout the Columbia Union Conference will do their full share in supporting this new enterprise in soul winning.

Remember the “Faith for Today” Offering on Sabbath, March 24.

Spirit of Prophecy Books Wanted

WE met with the Home Missionary Secretaries from behind the Iron Curtain. They are all fine, serious Christian men. We spent four days with them, studying their problems, listening to their experiences, wondering how we who live in more favored lands could be of help to them.

On asking them what was most needed, we expected to hear them say “clothes,” because in the Russian-dominated sectors clothing is very difficult to obtain. Perhaps they could have said “food,” because most of what they produce is being shipped back into Russia. So when we asked, “What would you most like to receive?” our eyes filled with tears as they said: “The Spirit of prophecy! Our homes were bombed, our books were all lost. We have no German editions of the Spirit of prophecy, but most of us can read enough English to benefit from the

Foreign-Language “Signs”

THE circulation of foreign-language literature has been a fruitful part of Seventh-day Adventist evangelism since the earlier days of the movement. Beginning as early as 1860, tracts and publications in German, Dutch, French, and the Scandinavian languages made their appearance. The writings of many of the early leaders, including James White and Uriah Smith, were translated into these languages. As a result of the foreign literature that has been circulated, a great harvest of souls has been gathered. From these peoples has arisen a large number of the outstanding leaders in our world-wide work.

Today literature in more than a score of languages is being circulated in America and in 190 languages around the world. The printed pages are seeking out the peoples of “every nation, kindred, tongue, and people” to give the message of the soon-coming Saviour.

In reports come thrilling accounts of soul winning as the result of the circulation of foreign literature.

In New Jersey a family of four is rejoicing in the truth as the result of an interest that started when a German Zeichen der Zeit was found in an ash can.

In Michigan five persons have been baptized and there is a branch Sabbath school with twenty-two members because of a Spanish book sold by a colporteur.

From Saskatchewan, Canada, has come a report about five people

English editions. Can you not send us English copies of Sister White's books?"

We are therefore asking our people to look through their libraries and send us duplicates of Sister White's works—any of them—as we should like to answer this plea of more than a score of ministers in different parts of Europe. We can assure you that the books will be placed in receptive hands and will be read with profit.

Is There a Cancer Virus?

"QUITE likely," says the April issue of Life and Health. In this issue the editor takes a long look at the cancer virus through the giant eye of the electron microscope. The new vistas that are opening for virus research are revealing many fascinating new facts about cancer.

If you are interested in this disease, which accounts for one out of every eight deaths in the United States, then you will not want to miss the complete story in the April Life and Health. Learn how the prediction of Mrs. E. G. White in 1905 regarding cancerous "germs" in animals was finally confirmed by a famed Rockefeller scientist and now is reconfirmed by means of the electron microscope.

"News and Views"

THE first news bulletin on self-supporting and rural living interests was issued in June, 1947. This was a mimeographed monthly, usually six pages, called the Newsletter. The Newsletter has been mimeographed up to the present time, but, beginning with the year 1951, it is being printed, and the name has been changed to Self-Supporting News and Rural Living Views, or News and Views for quick reference. The paper will now appear as a small four-page printed monthly.

The Newsletter was first issued as a medium of exchange among self-supporting and private institutions to encourage laymen to launch enterprises for God, rather than engage in commercial enterprises for the world, having in mind particularly small sanitariums, rural schools, health food stores, treatment rooms, vegetarian cafeterias, etc.

It contained matters of interest to these groups, including news, announcements, experiences, reports, inspirational articles, committee actions, lists of opportunities and openings, items on rural living, gardening, manual arts, industries, medical missionary work, outpost evangelism, and healthful living.

You may secure a sample copy of this new, printed bulletin, News and Views, by addressing a post card to Self-Supporting Enterprises, in care of the General Conference, Takoma Park, Washington 12, D. C.

Naturalization and Bearing Arms

To supply information to answer numerous inquiries regarding the possibility of aliens' becoming naturalized citizens without the necessity of promising to bear arms if and when called to serve in the armed forces, the following provision of the newly enacted National Security Act is quoted:

"Heretofore, until a Supreme Court decision in the Giraourd case was made, a refusal to bear arms barred an alien from citizenship. This barrier is now removed. The new law requires signature to an affidavit which provides an alternative to bearing arms. That alternative is noncombatant service in the armed forces. This affidavit is required in addition to the customary oath of allegiance."

The affidavit, which those seeking citizenship from now on must sign, reads:

I hereby declare, on oath, that I absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty of whom or which I have heretofore been a subject or citizen; that I will support and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States of America against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I will bear arms on behalf of the United States or perform noncombatant service in the armed forces of the United States when required by law; and that I take this obligation freely without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion: so help me God. In acknowledgment whereof I have hereunto affixed my signature.

English churches that are located in areas where there are foreign-speaking peoples should provide missionary journals for mailing and distribution to their communities. Churches that have no foreigners in their communities may contribute funds to send missionary journals to the heavily foreign-populated sections. Order from your Book and Bible House the amount your church will provide. Names of those to whom foreign-language periodicals may be sent will be supplied by the publishing house.

New Sabbath Rulings in Army

As Army camps are reactivated and more and more of our Seventh-day Adventist men are assigned to them, it is becoming necessary to request anew the continuation of old Sabbath rulings or the issuance of new ones.

Potomac Camp Meeting

THE following statement from the Spirit of prophecy sets forth the importance of attending our annual camp meetings:

"It is important that the members of our churches should attend our camp meetings. . . Individually you need the benefits of the meeting, and God calls upon you to number one in the ranks of truth. . . Strengthen the meeting all you possibly can by being present with your families. Put forth extra exertion to attend the gathering of God's people."—Testimonies, Vol. VI, pp. 38, 39.

A Great Truth Simply Stated

"Every one who is a partaker of Christ's pardoning love, every one who has been enlightened by the Spirit of God and converted to the truth, will feel that for these precious blessings he owes a debt to every soul with whom he comes in contact. . . God gives us opportunity to impart grace that He may refill us with increased grace."—Testimonies, Vol. VI, pp. 43, 44.

concerning the numerous spiritual objectives of the camp meeting as set forth in pages 31-88 of this same volume.

June 8-17 has been set apart for this important meeting in the Potomac Conference for 1951. Some are now making arrangements for their vacations so that they may have the privilege of sharing the blessings in store for those who attend this annual convocation of God's dear commandment-keeping people.

Interest Created by Washington Telecast

FROM one of our district leaders in the Old Dominion State comes the following cheering word concerning an interest created through Elder R. L. Boothby's weekly telecast from Washington, D. C., over Station WMAL each Sunday night from 9:00 to 9:30:

"The influence of your impressive telecast on 'Daniel 2' is felt in one of the old historic mansions of the south about 200 miles from Washington, D. C. Members of this particular family were visiting in the National Capital at the time of your broadcast and were providentially led to look and listen. They were enthusiastic over what they saw and delighted that they could so readily and clearly understand this important Bible prophecy.

"They live in a large thirteen-room mansion known as 'Ivy Cliff' which they assert has existed for two hundred years. Nearby are remains of old chimneys and fireplaces once the center of much activity on the former 3,500-acre estate. We plan to follow up this interest with a branch Sabbath school, and are enthusiastic over your television program that has created this fine interest in a secluded home in the Old Dominion State."

News Notes

ELDER H. T. French of Winchester, Va., sends the following good word concerning a special meeting held for radio listeners of the Winchester and Front Royal broadcasts conducted by Elder French and Elder Jacques. A special meeting was held in Middleton, Va., about six miles north of Strasburg, on Route 11. Brother French writes:

"The meeting was conducted Tuesday night, the only night the town theater was available. Snow was on the ground, which undoubtedly kept many on the country roads from attending. However, two hundred people, according to the theater manager's estimate, were present. All were thrilled with the meeting, including the theater folk. Forty-two enrolled in the Conference Bible course. Twenty-two dollars was received in the offering, completely paying for all expenses.

"The way is now open for us to return to this town in a few weeks and put on another picture with a message and strengthen the Bible course which we are promoting. Many listen to either the 'Message of Hope' broadcast or the 'Back-to-the-Cross Radio Crusade' broadcast. This makes us believe that the large net for starting interests afforded us is the two radio programs.

"We believe that getting the people together studying the Bible course will lead the way to open up branch Sabbath schools. These our lay people can direct. We should have Sabbath keepers in all these towns in all of our territory and this is the view presented in the Spirit of prophecy. We hope and pray for the Lord's blessing to water the seed sown."

Baptism. Two persons were added by baptism to the Blackstone, Va., Church on Sabbath, January 27. Elder H. M. Dukes conducted the baptism.

Farewell. We are always happy to welcome new workers into our field; however, our hearts are tinged with sadness when we are required to say farewell.

Miss Freda Teis, who served in the treasury department of the Conference office as bookkeeper and secretary for the past twenty-one years, has accepted a call to the Columbia Union Conference office to work in the same capacity. Workers and constituency alike will miss Miss Teis's competent and efficient labors. We know that she will serve the Columbia Union equally as well, and we wish for her heaven's choicest blessings in her new duties.

Welcome. We extend to Elder W. J. Cannon, Mrs. Cannon, and their daughter, Ruth, a cordial and hearty welcome to the Potomac Conference. The Cannons recently came to us from England.

At the present time Elder Cannon is assisting with the Sligo Auditorium meetings in Takoma Park. We wish them success and God's continued blessings upon their labors in our field.

We welcome Mrs. Wilma Hall of Takoma Park to our conference office secretarial staff. Mrs. Hall has taken Miss Teis's place in the treasury department. We appreciate having her as a member of our congenial office family.

Our workers and constituency will be happy to learn that Miss Ada E. Dean will resume her work in the Potomac Conference as medical secretary sometime in March. Miss Dean was required to give up her position temporarily because of the illness of her mother. We again welcome her sincerely into our Conference family.

Report From Cleveland District

CLEVELAND, Ohio, is one of the vast metropolitan centers of the nation with over one and a third million people living in its greater area. This presents a tremendous challenge to God's people. For the past three years evangelistic campaigns have been held in various sections of the city. During 1950 twenty-two fine Christians united with the church as a result of the faithful labors of our workers and brethren.

Each week the message is going out over the air. We wish to invite our members in the northern part of Ohio to listen to our program which is broadcast by WDOK (1260 on the dial) each Sunday at 8:45 A.M. God has helped us to make a number of friends through our broadcasting.

Special advancement has been made in our Sabbath school department which is under the able leadership of Mrs. Helen Diehm and her assistants. Our Thirteenth Sabbath offering on December 31 was $1,043.87 which was the largest in the history of the church. During 1951 it is the goal of the First Church of Cleveland to increase its Sabbath school attendance and to visit all shut-ins systematically. The gain in mission offerings over the previous year was $2,267.93. Our tithe for 1950 was $3,418.04 higher than in 1949.

At present evangelistic meetings are being held in the Brooklyn-Parma area of Cleveland in the Dawning Public School auditorium. The severe winter has retarded the meetings somewhat, and yet our workers are busy contacting a number of very fine people whom we hope will soon be taking part in the baptismal rite. Associated with the writer of this article are Mr. James Hamrick, Mrs. Eva Bruder, and Miss Helen Oldham.

Starting in the month of March, the members of the Euclid Avenue Church are planning to carry on a systematic literature campaign. It is their plan to distribute 10,000 message-filled tracts to homes within the vicinity of the church.

Each Friday evening a stimulating program is given by our young people. Recently they have made plans to visit a number of older people who live in the tenement section of the city to bring cheer and hope to them.

It is inspiring to see a movement among our laity to engage in missionary service. On January 14, 102 church members enlisted in ten different missionary bands to become actively engaged in finishing the work of the Lord in our part of the world.

The First Church of Cleveland is known for its friendly spirit. There is a real Christian fellowship between the members. If any of the readers of this report happen to be visiting in our city, we hope that you will come to our church and share with us the joyful atmosphere at Euclid Avenue and East 86th Street.

News Notes

Baptisms. Elder E. H. Lehnhoff of the Lakewood-Elyria district reports that on December 23 four persons were baptized as the first-fruits of the Elyria evangelistic campaign. This brings to twenty-four the number baptized during the past year in the district.

Twenty-one persons were baptized by Elder S. K. Lehnhoff in the Springfield district during the past two months. The evangelistic services are being continued every Sunday night at the Springfield High School. Others are preparing for baptism. Erald Wheeler, ministerial intern, is assisting in the meetings.

Lima Temperance Meetings. The Lima district greatly appreciated the visit of Elder J. A. Buckwalter of the General Conference. On Friday morning, February 9, he spoke at the Shawnee High School, in the elite suburban section of the city, to about 400 high-school students. On Friday afternoon he spoke to about 700 junior high-school students in the Lima Central High School. In both these instances the students gave him an enthusiastic reception.

On Sabbath there were morning and afternoon services at the Lima Church for the district, and some from the Bellefontaine district also were in attendance.

On Sunday Elder Buckwalter spoke at the Methodist Trinity Sunday School at 9:30 A.M. and received sincere commendations of both the superintendent and the pastor. Then he spoke at the High Street E.U.B. Church during the morning preaching service. The pastor told the people that it was through the courtesy of the Adventist group that the speaker had been made available to them.

On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 Elder Buckwalter spoke at the Allen County mass meeting, sponsored by the Allen County Ministerial Association, the Lima Fundamentalists' Fellowship, and the County W.C.T.U. All these groups were represented on the program. Music was furnished by the Elida High School band, the Shawnee High School chorus, and a local marimba star player. Preliminary remarks were made by the Lima superintendent of schools. The attendance was about twice as large as that given to Sam Morris, the famous temperance speaker, two years ago.

Elder R. F. Farley, pastor of the Lima district, introduced Elder Buckwalter. Appreciation was expressed publicly to the pastor and congregation of the Seventh-day Adventist Church for making the services of Elder Buckwalter available to the community.

The entire program did not cost the Adventist Church a penny, and it is felt that it did a great deal in creating good will toward Seventh-day Adventists in that area as well as in advancing the cause of temperance.

Wedding

Miss Carolyn McClintock of Springfield, Ohio, became the bride of Mr. Howard Gold on February 5 at the home of the bride's parents. A reception immediately followed the ceremony.

The bride has taken nurses' training at Washington Sanitarium and the groom has attended Washington Missionary College.

We wish this newly wedded couple God's richest blessing as they establish their new home in Takoma Park, Md.

Camp Meeting

WE are pleased to announce the dates for this year's camp meeting. They are July 12-22. Many will desire to arrange for their vacations during this period.

The Lord has made it possible for us once again to utilize the Ocean County Park facilities at Lakewood, N. J. This beautiful location will provide an ideal setting for a great spiritual convocation. God's Call to Service

"WHAT shall I say to arouse the remnant people of God? I was shown that dreadful scenes are before us; Satan and his angels are bringing all their powers to bear upon God's people. He knows that if they sleep a little longer, he is sure of them, for their destruction is certain."—Testimonies, Vol. I, p. 263.

In such a time, will it suffice that we be merely "machine" Christians, spending all of our strength to keep the machinery of the great Advent movement going? Here is the answer: "... remember that those who know the truth for this time, and yet confine their efforts to their own churches, refusing to work for their unconverted neighbors, will be called to account for unfulfilled duties."—Id., Vol. IX, p. 34.

What then should we do? "The gospel commission is the great missionary charter of Christ's kingdom. The disciples were to work earnestly for souls, giving to all the invitation of mercy. They were not to wait for the people to come to them; THEY WERE TO GO TO THE PEOPLE with their message" (Acts of the Apostles, p. 28 [Caps supplied]).

In going to the people, it has always been God's plan that two should be associated together. "Calling the twelve about Him, Jesus bade them go out two and two through the towns and villages. None were sent forth alone, but brother was associated with brother, friend with friend" (Desire of Ages, p. 350).

Nor have we been left in doubt as to what we should do in connection with our visits. "Let the workers go from house to house, opening the Bible to the people" (Testimonies, Vol. IX, p. 123).

Has it been your thought that sometime in the future will be as good as NOW to do this work? "There is danger in delay. That soul whom you might have found, that soul to whom you might have opened the Scriptures, passes beyond your reach. Satan has prepared some net for his feet, and tomorrow he may be working out the plans of the archenemy of God. Why delay one day? Why not go to work at once?" (Id., Vol. VI, p. 443).

Some, perhaps, hesitate to go to work because they are skeptical of the results. The servant of the Lord has said: "We are to do our work, and leave the results with God" (Christ's Object Lessons, p. 65).

"Long has God waited for the spirit of service to take possession of the whole church, so that every one shall be working for Him according to his ability" (Acts of the Apostles, p. 111). How much longer must God continue to wait?

March 10 will soon be here—a day in which every church will be organized for house-to-house soul-winning endeavor. Will you, dear fellow believer, unite in searching for lost souls on that day? "God will do the work if we will furnish Him the instruments" (Testimonies, Vol. IX, p. 107).

THE western regional meeting was held in Columbus, Ohio, and drew representatives from Cleveland, Dayton, Springfield, Germantown, Delaware, Akron, Youngstown, Cincinnati, Toledo, Oberlin, and Canton, Ohio; Huntington, Charleston, and Eckman, W. Va.; and Pittsburgh and Uniontown, Pa.

The entire personnel of the Allegheny Conference were present and were aided in their work by Elder O. S. Hershberger, Missionary Volunteer Secretary, and Dr. J. M. Howell, Educational Secretary, both of the Columbia Union Conference.

Elder J. H. Wagner gave the morning message and sounded the keynote, urging a more conscientious Christian life, warning that we, too, can fall into the same category as the Jews.

The entire audience stood for re-consecration. A special ordination service followed at which time Henry Shelton was ordained as local elder of the Kimball, W. THE NEED OF THE HOUR

"Help one another," a member has cried.
"I once stood with you side by side
In my youth as long as I could work.
Many church duties I did not shirk.

"There were many calls for the needy and poor
Coming to us from the far distant shore.
All rallied this distress call to heed
And sent dollars the hungry souls to feed.

"Yes, money was sent for their shelter,
too,
Sharing their burdens as good Christians
do.
I, too, in this cause had a part
And gave freely from my cheerful heart.

"Now o'er my life there has come a change
And all things to me seem quite strange.
I've grown weary, worn, and tired with age;
Things are different since I've turned life's page.

"My money and friends, once cherished,
have gone,
Leaving me disappointed and very forlorn.
The place where I served for, lo, many years
Sits idly by and heeds not my tears.

"The world provided a place at Blue Plains
Where I could go, and helped ease my pains;
But here I saw that I could not conform
To the rules of our church on health reform.

"I thought in my heart, What can I do?
There's no other home or place in view.

"And then one day a member came by
And as we talked, I could not but cry.
This member said, 'I have hope for you
If only our members will help see it through.'

"Some members from both churches
formed a band
And promised, 'By God's help we shall stand.
Our aim is to provide a home for you
And others who are weary, worn, and sick,
too.

"We're proud of our name and the goal
we have set.
Some day soon our goal will be met
And tirelessly, joyously, with mercy acts blended
We'll be proud of those whom our home has befriended."

Special Offering March 10

THROUGH the years our laymen have been instrumental in winning hundreds to the truth. Before the work will be finished, our laity everywhere will be the means in God's hands to win thousands to the message. It must be so, or else the work will never be finished.

We believe that the National Laymen's Congress this summer on the Michigan camp grounds will be a real inspiration to our laity everywhere. The delegates will return to share the blessings and inspiration with their fellow laymen in the home conferences.

The East Pennsylvania Conference is entitled to thirty-eight delegates. I am sure that many of our laymen will be interested in attending this great gathering.

As churches we should help to defray part of the expenses of these delegates from our field. There will be a delegate from almost every church, and where the church is not large enough the delegate will represent the district. On Sabbath morning, March 10, this special offering will be taken. The amount for your church to raise has been sent out to the pastors, elders, and treasurers. If every member will bring a dollar that morning, your amount will be reached. Let us do that for our laity and for the sake of finishing God's work.

A Seed Sprouts

NEARLY thirty years ago a colporteur, who was working in southwestern Pennsylvania, sold a copy of The Return of Jesus to a Catholic woman. The book lay in the home for many years. Recently the conditions in the world caused the owner of the book to read it. As a result of her perusal, she sent it to her niece who is also a Roman Catholic. Her niece has read a good deal of the book, as have her mother and sister-in-law. As a result, they decided to write to the Review and Herald Publishing Association and see if they could not buy a copy for themselves.

One of our new colporteurs in company with the writer called on the niece above mentioned. As a result of the contact three de luxe copies of Bible Readings for the Home, each of which was accompanied by a year's subscription to Life and Health; The Great Controversy in English and in Slovakian; four small Slovakian books; and a set of Bedtime Stories were ordered. The three copies of Bible Readings for the Home were delivered immediately, and the other books are to be delivered in a few weeks. Patriarchs and Prophets, Desire of Ages, Daniel and Revelation, Modern Medical Counselor, Uncle Arthur's Bedtime Stories, and the Uncle Arthur's Children's Hour set are to be delivered a little later.

The total value of all this literature amounts to $170. Naturally, this was an encouraging beginning for a new colporteur.

The family also was happy to sign for the Twentieth Century Bible Course. Surely the colporteur who sold The Return of Jesus can say, "I have planted, Apollos watered (the Holy Spirit watered); but God gave the increase." Yes, "a seed sprouts" when it is placed in the right soil.

Sister White has told us that our literature will be of little value if it is allowed to lie on the shelf in the publishing house. From the above experience you can easily see the importance of the work of the colporteur evangelist. Yes, the literature may lie dormant for many years, but when it finds the right kind of soil it will sprout under the influence of the Holy Spirit, and souls will be influenced to accept the truth.

Thousands of men and women are responding to the call of God in this last hour of earth's history. Why don't you answer the call and say, "Here am I, send me"? An application to enter the literature ministry will be sent to you by your Publishing Secretary upon request.

Pittsburgh Young People's Society

WITH the beginning of this new year the young people of the three Pittsburgh churches have begun an experiment. With the formation of a Pittsburgh youth council composed of elected delegates from each of the three churches, a combined Missionary Volunteer society was organized. In an endeavor to build up a stronger young people's and Share-Your-Faith program, this Pittsburgh youth council elected as officers the following: Mrs. Peggy Kroncke, leader; Mr. Thomas Larkin and Mr. John Kentlein, associate leaders; Miss Martha Grassel, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Mildred McNair and Miss Leslie Kentlein, assistant secretary-treasurers.

Already Mrs. Kroncke has announced widespread plans for this new group. A large Share-Your-Faith program is speedily under way with an increase in Progressive Class activities. I bespeak for this new organization in Pittsburgh a grand success in its endeavor to reach all the young people in the Pittsburgh area.

Baptisms at Putneyville

ON Sabbath afternoon, September 20, the hearts of the members of the Putneyville Church were made glad as they stood on the banks of Red Bank Creek and witnessed the baptisms of two persons. Again, on January 20, at the same spot two more individuals, a husband and wife, took the same step in following the example of their Lord and Master.

The day of miracles is not past, for it is a miracle every time a person is born again and becomes a child of the heavenly King. We praise our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ who came all the way from heaven to earth to make this wonderful salvation possible. We praise the Holy Spirit that He is yet calling men and women to repentance.

May the grace of God ever be with these dear ones, giving them power to be overcomers that they may be clothed in white raiment and that their names will not be blotted out of the Book of Life where they have been inscribed.

Wedding

A BEAUTIFUL wedding was solemnized in the famous Ford Memorial Chapel on the Allegheny College Campus at Meadville, Pa., when Miss Verla E. McDuffy of Meadville and Mr. Howard J. Coleman of Detroit, Mich., were united in marriage on December 24, 1950.

Mrs. Coleman is an alumna of Allegheny College. She also has a Master of Arts degree. She is currently teaching in a college in Virginia, where she heads the department of speech. Mr. Coleman is an employee of the Ford Motor Company of Detroit, and is also a photographer.

A reception was held in the Y.W.C.A. reception rooms following the wedding, after which Mr. and Mrs. Coleman motored to Detroit. Mrs. Coleman will continue teaching until the end of the current school year when they will be at home in their new home in Detroit. We wish for these consecrated young people the best of life's blessings as they continue in service for their God and their church.

Baptism at Morgantown

FIVE months ago Elder Harold E. Metcalf, assisted by Miss Mary Bierly, Bible instructor, and our new ministerial intern, Brother William E. Snider, and his wife, began a series of evangelistic meetings in the Morgantown Armory. Attendance was good throughout the series.

On Sabbath, February 17, Elder Metcalf baptized twenty-seven persons as the firstfruits of this campaign, and about a dozen more are to follow soon. There are some forty who are now keeping the Sabbath as a result of this effort. The meetings are still continuing, with a good attendance, and others will eventually be won to Christ.

It is encouraging to all of us to see such a good harvest of souls won at a comparatively low financial cost. This inspires our church members to contribute to our evangelistic work. We are trying to make every dollar given do the most possible in soul winning.

It is planned for Elder Metcalf to begin another strong evangelistic campaign in the city of Fairmont early in September. Here we have a small church membership of only fifteen, but they are energetic workers. Fourteen of them are women, and these sisters decided to organize themselves and to raise their Ingathering Minute-man goal. At the above-mentioned baptismal service in Morgantown two of these Fairmont ladies who were in attendance told me that their little church has already exceeded its Minuteman goal, without any ministerial assistance. God bless this church, the first church in the Conference to reach its In-gathering goal.

These ladies also told me that during recent years they have been raising money for a new church building, and that to date they have about $1,300, and now they are going to raise more money for the building so that by this time next year they will have a neat little church building to house Brother Metcalf's converts from these proposed efforts. Such faith and works will surely be rewarded!

This was a fine group baptized in Morgantown, all adults or mature young people, coming in by family groups—two, three, and four in a group. This builds stability into the church. It was a happy occasion for the Morgantown believers to see so many added to their church, with the prospect of half as many more to join in the near future. God bless this church and these faithful workers!

News From Cameron

THE Cameron Church had a membership of five to begin the year 1950. Arrangements were made to meet in the Cameron Baptist Church as an act of faith, with the belief that the membership would increase.

Five were baptized during the spring and summer. Evangelistic meetings were held between September 18 and November 19 for five nights a week and then three nights a week for the rest of the year. On December 23 a baptism was held in the Christian Church where three were baptized and one was received on profession of faith. It was planned to continue Sunday-night meetings during the winter months.

On January 13, after the Sabbath sermon, a member of the Baptist board came to inform us that that was the last meeting the Adventists could hold in the Baptist Church. He was asked if that was the decision of the board. He said No, but he would see to it that the board agreed with him.

The Baptist members had invited a Southern Baptist evangelist to come to hold a series of meetings in their church for two weeks.

A house-to-house visitation was made, inviting people to attend the meetings. This evangelist met many who informed him that Sunday was not a sacred day.

This angered the Baptist evangelist and he demanded of this one board member that the Adventists be refused the use of the Baptist Church. This caused a real division in the Baptist Church. Some of the Baptist members made apologies, asking us to come back to the church. Others it embittered more.

As a result we are looking forward to baptizing ten more and there is a very good prospect that more will take their stand for the Lord. We are looking forward to erecting a church building in Cameron. The work is progressing nicely and the members are of good courage.

Wedding

A BEAUTIFUL wedding was held in the Wheeling Seventh-day Adventist Church on Sunday, January 28, when Edna Reiner of Wheeling was united in marriage to Raymond Schnoebelen of Lisbon, Ohio.

Because of a severe ice storm, few could be present to witness the ceremony. A reception was held for the couple in the parsonage. Because so many could not attend, gifts were sent in during the next week. The couple have made their home at Lisbon, Ohio. They will be members of the East Liverpool, Ohio, Church.

Review of "Shiloh, Man of Nazareth"

THOUSANDS of books have been written about the life of Christ, our Saviour. Their authors have approached Him from every possible angle, and piled tribute on tribute concerning His teaching, His healing, His divinity.

Now don't misunderstand me. Our Lord certainly deserves every tribute, and a thousand more. However, after reading many of the books about Him I still feel unsatisfied. Something is definitely lacking in these books. How does this divine life apply to me personally?

But here I have found a book that makes the life of Jesus vivid, practical, real. Mrs. L. D. Avery-Stuttle, in writing Shiloh, Man of Nazareth, has achieved the ideal of portraying Jesus—in His humanity, but in such a way as to enhance His glory and divinity. No dull, uninteresting story this, but a living narrative—one in which I feel myself to be a part of the scene. I am in the very presence of the Saviour, within the circle of His marvelous love.

Moreover, based on that masterpiece, Desire of Ages, and reliable authorities on the customs of the times, this book is accurate in fact and story.

Most wonderful of all, however, is that after I have read it I find within me a heartfelt desire to know my Saviour better and pattern my life after His perfect example. I am sure that you will experience that yearning, too, as you read Shiloh, Man of Nazareth. There won't be any question then as to what that matchless life has to do with your own.

"The Quest of Youth"

Young people are constantly on the search for something far beyond their present plane of living. In the path of this search, occasions arise when many decisions must be made and made right. These decisions made in the time of youth will ultimately determine the character to be gained. There is no important decision confronting youth today that is not admirably covered in the chapters of the book entitled "The Quest of Youth."

More than 225 illustrations clarify the principles set forth and will help the reader to remember the truths of both temporal and spiritual problems. You will enjoy reading paragraphs on nearly every page that begin as follows: "A number of years ago a Scottish lad was on his way . . ." "Major General O. O. Howard was once visiting in San Francisco. . . ." "As a boat on the Nile approached the shore a lion came. . . ." "Down in the railroad yards one morning. . . ." "Little Hattie Mae Wiatt had saved fifty-seven pennies. . . ." "The people were cannibals, the king, Mahetoa leading in. . ." You will read the rest of these stories and hundreds of others, as well as the answer to your problems.

Consider the following chapter headings: Youth Seeks to Prepare, Youth Seeks Strength, Youth Seeks Fellowship, Youth Upholds Family Honor, Youth Seeks a Good Time, Proper Age for Courtship, Ten Rules for Courtship and Marriage, Youth Reads, Youth Seeks the Mastery, Youth Builds a Character, and Youth Finds the Answer.

Secure your copy today. It will be worth YOUR reading. Give it to a young person, for he or she will be eager to read and reread the counsel presented in "The Quest of Youth" by C. Lester Bond. Send $2.75 to your BOOK AND BIBLE HOUSE for your copy.

"IT IS FAR ON IN THE NIGHT."
