The Conference executive committee elected included Elder D. W. Hunter, chairman; Elder J. O. McLeod, Secretary; Elder C. L. Duffield, Dayton; J. L. Hagle, Worthington; Ray Hausted, Medina; Elder R. Elected also were members of the Ohio Conference Association and the Mount Vernon Academy Board of Trustees.

The devotional speaker was Elder V. G. Anderson, President of the Columbia Union Conference, who gave a very challenging message to the delegates. He told of the progress of soul-winning endeavors within the Columbia Union Conference and how the Lord is blessing with many baptisms as men and women step out in faith.

Committees to take care of the Conference business were selected

APRIL—STEWARDSHIP MONTH

“Such as I Have”

By Leon Roberson

Financial Counselor, East Pennsylvania Conference

“Such as I have, give I thee.” These familiar words of the Apostle Peter bring to mind an inspiring scene at the entrance to the temple in old Jerusalem (Acts 3:6). Might they not also appropriately express the sentiment of some humble Christian in a mission land who, likewise lacking silver and gold, gives of his livestock, his poultry, or the crops of his field to his beloved Master?

“Such as I have”—“the BEST that I have,” he might well say—for he carefully selects his plumpest chickens, his fullest and most symmetrical ears of corn, the choicest of whatever it may be.

Even a brief review of our early denominational history will bring to light many property gifts here in the homeland. As needs multiplied and sufficient cash was not available, one gave a horse; another, a cow. Someone provided a tent, another a site for a church, a school, or sanitarium. Such gifts still are made, but they are less common. Perhaps that is well, for money flows more freely now. There are situations, however, where the denominational program may benefit in greater measure through gifts made in the form of property, and where the donors likewise may save through diminished taxes.

Jesus made it clear that we should pay all taxes due. But income tax laws in particular are so designed

Blue Law Menace Proves Need For Liberty Offering April 26

"LEST coming suddenly he find you sleeping." With these words the Master emphasized the urgency of being prepared for His return. These words apply with equal force to the necessity of watchfulness lest the precious freedoms which have made America great shall vanish from the earth.

We must not take freedom for granted. Wherever liberty of conscience exists there the blood of brave men has been spilled to establish it. We must not hold this precious prize lightly. Unless we are willing to make sacrifices to be free, we shall be unworthy of freedom; and freedom can be lost SUDDENLY, while we are sleeping.

Conscientious minority groups in America may be facing a crisis. Strange events are taking place. The philosophy of American government—which we have thought to be well established—is undergoing change. Once an appeal to the clear provisions of the American constitution was the end of argument. More and more we grow aware of the fact that the principles we once thought to be firmly established are subject to change and adaptation. Not what is right, but what is the will of the majority has come to be the gauge of behavior. This is a dangerous trend.

Agitation to enforce Sunday observance is evidenced on every hand. The arguments are subtle and dangerous. Labor favors Sunday closing as an economic measure. Church forces are joining the procession in order to fill the churches. And what of him who conscientiously thinks otherwise? "Let him stand aside—the majority wills it" is the argument. What is happening to the high regard Americans have cherished for liberty of conscience? Possibly while we have been asleep the enemy has sown his tares.

We must awake! It is already very late. The "Freedom Fund" called for on April 26 is a grim necessity. We must fight for liberty on all fronts. Let no one be complacent. If you hold liberty as a precious gift, then be ready to sacrifice for it when the offering is received.

T. E. UNRUH

RECENT attempts to enforce the 1794 blue laws in various parts of Pennsylvania indicate an aroused interest in the whole question of Sunday-law enforcement.

The board of the Council of Churches for the Pittsburgh area recently voted to encourage ministers to preach on this subject and urge their members to work for passage of a law to promote Sunday sacredness.

In their meeting the group was asked to join with labor unions and the Roman Catholic Church in this all-out effort.

The Protestant Ministerial Union appointed a special committee and sent men to Harrisburg to help influence public officials and public

Your Union Youth Leader Says . . .

CONTINUING with the theme of last week, permit me to bring to your attention two other actions concerning some of our standards. These actions were taken at the 1957 General Conference MV Department Advisory Council and approved at the Columbia Union Conference MV Secretaries' Council.

Mixed Swimming: Voted, to emphasize our standard regarding mixed swimming: "To reaffirm our position upholding the ideal of separate swimming periods for the sexes at Missionary Volunteer-sponsored gatherings, including summer camps."

TV and Movies: Voted, that we reaffirm our standard on television films and movies as delineated in MV Leaflet No. 47, with special emphasis on the section dealing with films portraying Christ.

We have consistently discouraged the showing of films with scenes in which Christ is impersonated. For further information as to acceptable and unacceptable presentations for our schools, churches, and gatherings, read MV Leaflet No. 47, which you can secure from your conference MV Secretary.

May we encourage our leaders and laymen to abide by these standards set up for us in our church.

opinion in favor of Sunday legislation.

We as Seventh-day Adventists know what to expect when we see Protestants and Catholics joining hands to honor Sunday. It means that the time of persecution and final acts in the drama of the great controversy cannot be far away.

Now is our time to work to take a positive stand against the encroachment of government into fields reserved for religion alone. We Seventh-day Adventists should now give liberally to supply reading material as to encourage gifts to charity, which term in its broadest sense includes all the work of the Church and human welfare in general. It is right that we should avail ourselves of all such money-saving provisions.

The greatest benefits are to be found in those instances where one's investments in land, in houses, or in personal property have increased in value, and where a sale for cash would yield a taxable gain. This might be true where shares of stock or bonds are found to be worth more than their original cost; or, under certain conditions, when the sale of livestock is contemplated.

Tax laws are complicated; and regulations change constantly. But, while even skilled accountants and tax attorneys are at times perplexed, it is usually possible to ascertain by inquiry what the "tax impact" of a given course may be; so it is well to investigate carefully BEFORE entering into business transactions which might result in the payment of unnecessary taxes, especially where the values involved are large.

You will find your conference officers ready and willing to counsel with you concerning such matters, and to do what they can to be of help. As God's people prosper spiritually and financially, so His church will prosper.

We find it comparatively easy to heed the admonition to be diligent in business. Let us be as diligent as we plan for the advancement of God's cause in the earth.

"Such as I have, give I Thee." God never asks for more.

Temperance Literature Is Welcomed in Armed Forces

FROM the base chaplain of the 817th Air Base Group at Pease Air Force Base, N. H., came the following: "Thank you for sending us copies of Alert for distribution to our people. You will be interested in knowing our chaplains are enthusiastic about this issue. They would like 100 each quarter."

The staff chaplain at headquarters, USAF, in Europe, sent the following word: "After a careful review of your magazine, Alert, we consider it is a very useful tool and we anticipate good results from its distribution in our area."

"Can you send us a thousand copies?" So wrote the staff chaplain of Army headquarters in the Far East.

We might go on and on and report letter after letter of appreciation. Last week we completed the mailing of shipments of Alert varying from 50 to 1000 copies, to 57 air bases, 75 Army posts in all parts of the world, and 10 naval districts for further distribution in their areas.

Certainly no service this cause has rendered the Armed Forces in the way of distribution has been more appreciated and has met with such a universal response of enthusiastic support as has our temperance work.

All this good service has been made possible by your liberal offerings each year to the Servicemen's Literature Fund. We want to thank you again for this fine support. Let us not forget the boys in the armed forces.

To do only that which we ought to do is our duty. To do more than our duty is our privilege. Last week we listed all the churches which have done their duty. We honor those who have counted it a privilege to engage in the 1958 "Ingathering Crusade for Missions."

The members of the Steubenville, Ohio, Church perhaps stands out without a peer this year in their work of raising funds for our world-wide uplift work. They report more than $100 per member to date. This is the largest amount reported by any church in the Columbia Union Conference. Perhaps the Pottstown Church in Pennsylvania stands second, with nearly $50 per capita.

As we look at the report this week for the period closing April 12, we take courage and feel that before long our efforts will not be in vain and the objective toward which we are working will be achieved.

Which conference is to be the next Minuteman conference lies with you, and you, and me. Let us then be up and doing, with a heart for any fate, still achieving, still pursuing, learn to labor and to wait.—H. K. HALLADAY.

Excerpts From the Writings
Of Ellen G. White

Christians Are to Lay Up Treasure in Heaven

"If the eye is single, if it is directed heavenward, the light of heaven will fill the soul, and earthly things will appear insignificant and uninviting. . . . You will lay up your treasure in heaven. . . . All your plans will be made in reference to the future, immortal life. You will be drawn toward your treasure. You will not study your worldly interest; but in all your pursuits the silent inquiry will be, 'Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?' Bible religion will be woven into your daily life."—"Christian Service," p. 343 (From "Review and Herald").

God Gives the Increase

ONE plants the seed, another waters it, but God gives the increase. This is what happened in the case of Brother and Sister Joseph Henry of the Philadelphia Boulevard Church. Sister Henry writes:

"One Sabbath afternoon my husband went from house to house in our neighborhood, distributing literature. At one of the homes a man by the name of Bernard Becker answered the knock on the door. My husband said, 'I am one of your neighbors and belong to the Philadelphia Boulevard Seventh-day Adventist Church. May I come in to pray and talk with you? I would also like to leave this tract which is a reprint of an article which appeared in Look magazine, entitled "What Is a Seventh-day Adventist?"'

"While visiting with this man my husband suggested that we come to his home to study the Bible lessons with him. Mr. Becker replied, 'Not right now.' My husband visited him on several other occasions on Sabbath afternoons and became better acquainted. On one of the visits I accompanied my husband. When we approached him again on having Bible studies he said, 'I would rather come to your house if it is all right with you.' We assured him that it was and made an appointment for him to come the following Tuesday night.

"He came at the appointed time. During the course of our conversation we were surprised to learn that two of our own church members, Mrs. Harry Becker, a sister-in-law; and her son Albert, a nephew of his; already had planted the seed, but he could not make up his mind to accept all of the truth.

"I am happy to say that after we studied the Bible together and presented the Twentieth-Century Bible lessons on our S.A.V.E. machine, he accepted all of the message and requested that he be baptized. He is now a faithful member of the Philadelphia Boulevard Church."

Progress Report From District Number Three

District Number Three of the East Pennsylvania Conference includes Wyoming and Susquehanna Counties and has a population of 50,000. The Montrose Church has initiated a program of reaching every individual home in the district. DeForest Decker, who is carrying on a strong missionary program, has led in this missionary activity.

Ernest Blachek was chosen as MV leader when the society was organized last year. Under his leadership, with a membership of 42 in the church and 11 in the MV Society, he ventured out in a youth effort that proved to be a real inspiration to the church.

One person was baptized as the result of the efforts of our young people. During the year the Montrose Church was equipped with beautiful, stained-glass windows. At the present time the members are negotiating to purchase new pulpit furniture. There are plans to replace the seats with new pews, and also to purchase an organ in the near future. A wonderful spirit of Christian fellowship is prevalent.

Tunkhannock, which is the largest of the churches with a membership of 70, also redecored its chapel during the past year. Road signs have been purchased, and as soon as the weather is favorable, they will be placed on Highway 309 which leads from Wilkes-Barre to Binghamton. Under our new missionary leader and school teacher, Robert Hart, the missionary work of the church is making good progress.

Our new Dorcas leader, Bernita Griffin, has outlined a very active program, and the coming year promises to be one of activity and results. Our church school has 11 pupils and two teachers. Our teachers have manifested a spirit of devotion that has been an inspiration to the children of the school as well as to the parents.

The Beaumont Church, under the able leadership of its local elder, George Sayre, with the support of the entire membership, has been carrying on a very effective missionary program. At the present time the lower part of the church is being completely remodeled to accommodate our children with pleasant surroundings. Practically the entire membership of 27 is taking part in the work, and a wonderful fellowship is being experienced.

At present George W. Renton, local pastor, and John A. Kroncke, pastor of the Scranton Church, are conducting a series of meetings in the Beaumont Church. An eight-day series of evangelistic meetings will be conducted in each of the churches in the district. In addition another youth effort is planned by the MV Society of the Montrose Church.

Under the leadership of the Holy Spirit, we, the members of District Number Three, are looking forward to great things during the year 1958.

OHIO Conference youth at Mt. Vernon Academy and Worthington heartily responded to the challenge of medical evangelism presented March 26 by the College of Medical Evangelists physical therapy group.

As the students heard of thrilling soul-winning experiences many determined to become physical therapists. In this calling we wish them the same satisfactions enjoyed by an Indiana physical therapist who saw 14 of his patients baptized in a recent year.

Prolonged close contact with his patients enables the Christian physical therapist to show forth his Saviour's love and to speak convincingly of the advent hope. In the scientific application of nature's healing agencies the physical therapist daily sees the wisdom of the Spirit of prophecy counsel that led Seventh-day Adventists to emphasize this growing profession.

Enthusiasm was very evident in behalf of raising funds for a "Welfare-Survival Depot" to be erected at the Conference campground. With the Faith for Today benefit concerts as a beginning, every third Sabbath offering, as voted by the Conference Committee, for 1958 will be devoted to this project. All felt that now is the time to pull together in a strong way so we may be prepared for possible disaster needs. Various church groups already are working on special projects to make the necessary funds available quickly.

Greetings From Your Conference President:

GREETINGS in the Lord to all the Adventist families residing in the great Potomac Conference. Mrs. Capman and I are happily located in our new home at Conference headquarters in Staunton, Va. We assure you that we love the work of God and shall treasure prayers in our behalf as we go forward with the leadership of this field.

The great challenge of evangelism in our populous areas must be met. We must house our membership in adequate churches and schools as funds become available. The Potomac Conference administrators have achieved a good work and we shall continue this excellent program.

Thanks for the assurances of your constant prayers and loyal support as with your Potomac Conference committee we build upon the strong foundation already laid.

Already we have visited and worshiped in several of the churches and in due time we shall worship and fellowship with you in your church. If we can be of help in counsel, feel free to approach us at all times. Greetings to you all in the name of Christ.

"It Is Written" TV Evangelism In the Washington Area

LETTERS and requests are coming into our Washington office from various parts of the field for reports on the progress of the new "It Is Written" television evangelistic approach with Elder George Vandeman as the speaker. The "It Is Written" staff thinks that perhaps an up-to-date report should now be given to our people here within the Columbia Union Conference where God has led out so wonderfully in this new adventure. Since notice was given last fall concerning the rallies to be held in the Sligo Church to begin this mighty soul-winning endeavor the prayers and united cooperation of our faithful people have been so much appreciated.

God has blessed in this effort beyond our expectations. From the very beginning last September, plans and methods of organization have providentially been brought about so that we are now seeing a great move on the part of our laymen uniting their efforts with those of our ministers and church officers. All classes of society are responding and already many are attending various of our churches within the area being covered by TV Station WTTG, Channel 5, in Washington. We have thanked the Lord many times for opening the choice time of 9:00 o'clock on Sunday evenings for this telecast of the third angel's message.

With the splendid mail response coming direct to the station, along with enrollments obtained by the laymen for our "Take His Word" Bible Study Guide Course the enrollments have soared to nearly 12,000. We have received mail responses from more than 549 post offices in various cities and villages. The Holy Spirit is impressing families to write in from small hamlets with populations of from five to 25 as well as from the larger metropolitan areas. The station we are now on will double its power by the middle of April and no doubt the Lord will use this increased power to reach thousands more whose prayers and inquiries are ascending before His throne for more light on the Bible.

Among the hundreds of letters received from viewers we would like to share the following. "I have enjoyed your book ever so much and your Sunday evening program. Your first book came to me when I needed it most, for I was almost gone—where, I don't know—but I had given up. Now through the strength of God and understanding of so much I have never understood before, I am progressing nicely. Thank you. I and my Almighty God bless you. And may He bless me that I will be able to give abundantly to His work. Please pray for me for I have two little children and I don't know where my husband is." Another writes: "I am receiving the IT IS WRITTEN pamphlets—number 24 is the last one received. Please continue them. Also I would appreciate your sending me any Christian literature that you have. I am desirous of becoming a full-fledged Seventh-day Adventist."

This new plan of evangelism for these modern times is opening thousands of doors to human hearts we have not reached before. A most beautiful spirit of cooperation is being manifested and more than 700 lay visitors are faithfully following up the interest the Lord is now developing. The interest is beyond what the ministers can follow up, so the Lord is laying His hand on these hundreds of consecrated laymen to this work for helping to gather in the harvest.

As a part of the follow-up plan Elder George Vandeman of the General Conference is holding a three-week series of decision meetings in the Washington, D. C., Armory which began Sunday night, April 13, at 7:30 o'clock. Elder Ben Glanzer is the minister of music. All our churches with their respective pastors within the viewing distance of Station WTTG, Channel 5, Washington, D. C., are urgently requested to cooperate in these great decision meetings. Following Elder Vandeman's meetings, other capable evangelists will hold sectional decision meetings in and around Washington. The plan eventually is for a decision meeting to be held in all areas where a heavy sowing program has been carried on by various Adventist churches.

The personal testimonies of our ministers and laity alike give evidence of the unusual movings of God's Holy Spirit in this vast metropolitan area of our nation's capital. Surely this is the hour for prayer, the hour for action, the hour for decision.

First Service in Remodeled Ilda Church to Be Held May 3

ELDER E. E. Christian, pastor of the the Alexandria-Ilda district in Virginia, announces the opening service in the newly remodeled Ilda, Va., Church on Sabbath, May 3.

The speaker for the 11:00 o'clock service will be Elder H. J. Capman, President of the Potomac Conference. Another service will be held Sabbath afternoon.

The church has recently been remodeled and redecorated at a cost of more than $20,000. The congregation has been meeting in other quarters while the church has been renovated.

All former members are invited to attend this "Homecoming" service for the Ilda Church.

The remodeling program has been under the supervision of Douglas Cross, assistant pastor. Elder Christian and Brother Cross will direct the May 3 opening service.

Workers' Meeting Held At Hagerstown

ON March 26 the workers of the Chesapeake Conference gathered in the church at Hagerstown for a day of fellowship and study. The principal speaker was Elder Adlai Esteb of the General Conference Home Missionary Department. He urged a deeper and more complete consecration on the part of all Seventh-day Adventists. Only by total consecration to our cause can we expect this message to triumph.

Dr. Frank Yost of the Religious Liberty Department of the General Conference, accompanied by Elder G. E. Taylor of the Columbia Union Conference Religious Liberty Department, brought very vividly to our minds the events which are now bringing religious legislation to the fore. As the situation was reviewed and its relation to prophecy was emphasized, every heart present was impressed with the fact that we are indeed in the last days of the earth's history. The events foretold in the chapter, "The Impending Conflict" of Great Controversy should be re-read by every Seventh-day Adventist that he might prepare in his own experience for the events about to break upon us.

As the workers counseled together plans were laid for the future of the work this year, and a fine spirit of fellowship was enjoyed.

A special vote of appreciation was given by the workers to the ladies of the Hagerstown Church for their generous hospitality.

Visitors' Day Observed at Frederick Church

SABBATH, April 5, was visitors' day at the Frederick, Md., Sabbath school and church service. There were more than 60 in attendance who are not members of the local church, and 30 of these do not belong to any Seventh-day Adventist church. In this group were a young Methodist minister and his wife.

Awards were given to the oldest, the youngest, the person coming the greatest distance, and the one who brought the largest number of visitors. Everyone in attendance had a name card; flowers were given to visitors and bookmarks were given to those who brought them.

The Sabbath school program was under the direction of Irving Redmond, superintendent, and Dorothy DeLong, secretary.

A spring series of revival evangelistic meetings will be conducted by the pastor during the first three weeks of May. Duane Peterson of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary will be in charge of the musical program.

The Sabbath school and church service on May 10 will be devoted to mothers, to whom a special invitation is extended.

Visitors are always welcomed to all our services in Frederick.

Elder J. R. Wagner Speaks At Danville, Virginia

ELDER Jesse Wagner, pastor of the Oakwood College Church, Huntsville, Ala., was recently the speaker for the Week of Prayer, March 15-22 at the Second Seventh-day Adventist Church, Danville, Va.

His theme for the week was "Open Mine Eyes." Varied messages were presented from this theme each night. We can truly say that our eyes were opened to the wonderful truths of the Bible.

During the course of the week the pastor, W. L. DeShay, and Elder Wagner visited the local public schools in which our youth attend and made favorable impression upon the school administration and personnel. The members who were shut in were greatly blessed by their visits also. The youth of the church also engaged in sharing their faith.

The attendance was excellent each night, including many visitors and several members who had left the church.

Truly Christ was presented to our community by Elder Wagner. We trust that his visit will help the young people as well as the elders to grow taller emotionally and spiritually.

The March of

EVANGELISM

in the Columbia Union Conference

Vandeman Series at D. C. Armory Until May 4

NEARLY 3,000 persons attended the opening meeting of the "It Is Written" Decision Meetings on Sunday night, April 13, at the D. C. Armory in the capital city of our nation.

Meetings are being held every night until Sunday, May 4. All our members in the metropolitan Washington area are invited to attend every night during the series.

G. E. Vandeman

The great opening night of the session was well-planned and well-executed. Elder Ben Glanzer of Lancaster, Pa., is the song director for the reaping meetings. The television program has been shown on WTTG-TV, Channel 5, in Washington every week for the past eight months.

The entire musical program was very appealing. Marilyn Cotton of New Jersey was a vocal soloist and the Takoma Park Church choir sang.

The Lord certainly was with Elder G. E. Vandeman as he gave his opening sermon on "Footsteps in the Atom." His deeply spiritual appeal at the end caused hundreds to raise their hands in rededication and re-consecration to their Lord and Master.

At the close of the meeting the TV film, "Hidden Treasure," was shown in color.

All the ministers of the Greater Washington area are cooperating in this coordinated evangelistic endeavor. Laymen are acting as ushers and greeters and are assisting in many other phases of the program. All functions in the area churches and institutions are being courteously canceled in order that the Armory meetings might be a success.

This is one of the most aggressive evangelistic programs ever staged in the history of the Columbia Union Conference. Thousands of persons are taking the Bible-study series and are reading more about the gospel of Jesus Christ. We invite the prayers of all our people so that many souls might be won to the message as a result of this series.
