Hadley Hall Dedicated at S.V.A.

HADLEY HALL, the new $350,000 girls' dormitory at Shenandoah Valley Academy, was dedicated on Sabbath, April 25, 1959. Dr. and Mrs. Henry G. Hadley, for many years generous contributors to the school, were special guests at the ceremony.

The main speaker, Elder Lewis E. Lenheim, President of the Columbia Union Conference, declared in his address, "The dedication of this building is a milestone in the history of this school. It will stand as a constant reminder for generations to come of the sacrifices made in order for the plans to go from blueprints to bricks."

Principal George H. Akers directed the dedication program. Mrs. C. C. Ellis, Dean of Girls, assisted by the 150 young ladies occupying the new home, read the liturgical response.

Also participating in the formal program were the following: Elder E. A. Robertson, Columbia Union Conference Secretary of Education; Elder H. J. Capman, President of the Shephard, President of Washington Missionary College; Elder W. C. Moffett, Columbia Union Conference Financial Counselor and former Chairman of the School Board; and W. C. Hannah, for 25 years Principal of Shenandoah Valley Academy.

Built to house 150 young women, this modern brick building was constructed as the first unit of the "new Shenandoah."

Special rooms of the dormitory include a worship room, recreation hall, office with telephone switchboard, Dean's apartment, infirmary, kitchenette, guest rooms, and sitting rooms, and laundries with automatic washers and dryers. Between each set of rooms is a complete bath.

Other programs during the week end were centered around the 50th Anniversary celebration. Many church officials and laymen returned "home" for the reliving of a yesterday.

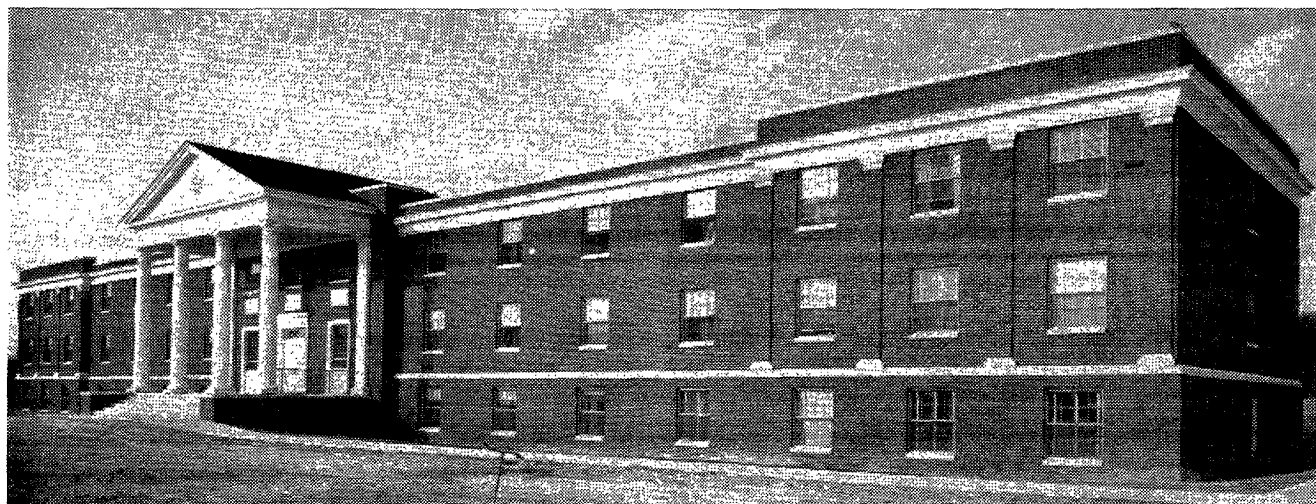

On Friday evening graduates spanning 50 years of time, told how certain spiritual moments in their lives at Shenandoah had become "hill-top" experiences to them.

Sabbath school was directed by John Ward from Richmond, during which more alumni were brought into the week-end spotlight. Others participated in the church service.

Darren L. Michael (class of 1941), Secretary of the Department of Public Affairs, Canadian Union Conference, gave the main address for the Golden Anniversary church service. He pointed out the values to be found in Christian education.

Dr. Shephard and alumni now attending W.M.C. presented a sun-

Twenty-fifth Anniversary Includes Corporal Doss

SEVENTH-DAY Adventists across the country joined the audience of 40,000,000 regular viewers of the "This Is Your Life" TV program on the night of February 18 in giving honor to one of the greatest heroes of World War II, Corporal Desmond T. Doss, only conscientious objector in the history of the United States to be awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. The inspiration of Corporal Doss will help untold numbers of young men who watched that program to live up to their own conscience.

Corporal Doss will be at the National Medical Cadet Corps Training Camp at Grand Ledge, Mich., this summer. This camp, which meets from June 2-16, is named in honor of Corporal Doss. The 1959 camp is the 25th anniversary of the military medical training begun in the 1933-34 school year at Union College under the direction of Everett N. Dick. Colonel Dick, who until his retirement from this work at the last General Conference Session, had directed the activities of the Seventh-day Adventist Medical Cadet Corps for the General Conference since 1940, will also be at the camp and will help celebrate the 25th anniversary of the M.C.C.

From present indications it appears that the 1959 camp will be the largest national camp yet con-

The current world crisis emphasizes anew the fact that Seventh-day

Adventists of this generation are living in the turmoil of the last days of this world's history and need to give their youth every training possible for this life and the life to come.

Posters and leaflets, including enrollment blanks, are being distributed to the churches. If you do not have one, write the MV Secretary of your conference or union conference and request further information about Camp Doss for 1959. Ingathering Victory At Youngstown

LIKE Israel of old, up from the hard trials of Egypt, who sang the song of Moses, I will sing unto the Lord, for He hath triumphed gloriously, so stands this picturesque group of loyal workers across the pulpit and before the beautiful baptismistry of Temple Emmanuel Seventh-day Adventist Church in Youngstown, Ohio.

Under the able leadership of Pastor A. N. Brogden and the faithful direction of the missionary leader, Edgar Williamson, they are ready to sing the victory song for the 1959 Ingathering and the Pine Forge dormitory drive.

The following group qualified as Jasper Waynes for 1959: Rosa Lemon, who turned in more than $200 (this is her fourth year as a Jasper Wayne), Ezra Lee Darnell, Rube Gandy, Lena Williamson, Jasper Gilmore, Henry Russell, Edgar Williamson, William Scott, and Pastor Brogden (not in the picture).

Other members pictured represent the faithful Minutemen who braved one of the coldest winters in the city's history in achieving this early victory.

Baltimore Intermediate School Repaired

THE Baltimore Intermediate School has been given some needed repairs which have improved the general appearance of the school building.

In order to meet the building regulations for entrances to a public building, the front door was changed so that it swings outward. A new panic bar with lock was installed.

The front porch and steps were repaired. In January we had the old porch and fire escape torn down. A new complete fire escape was built from the ground to the third floor. This fire escape complies with the laws of the Fire Department of Baltimore.

By the time this goes to print we shall have installed exit lights at each of the exits, a new door for the back entrance, a new cinder-block wall built where the side of the old porch was, and new floor plugs for the electrical outlets installed.

There are 86 pupils in attendance at the school and tests show that most of them have improved greatly.

Presently the pupils of grades seven and eight are working on a science project. The school personnel are as follows: Herbert M. Davis, grades seven and eight; Mrs. Mary J. Thompson, grades four to six; Mrs. Anna C. Timpson, grades one to three; and Alonzo L. Banks, grades nine and 10. Mrs. Mamie J. Jamerson is the dietitian and cook, and Elder W. A. Thompson is chairman of the school board.

Union Session Report

By F. W. Wernick

President, West Pennsylvania Conference

JUDGES 8:2 says, "And he said unto them, 'What have I done now in comparison of you?'" This verse expresses our feelings when we hear reports of our larger sister conferences. We rejoice in their success but take comfort in the fact that God takes into consideration the consecration and devotion with which the work is done. We are thankful for the evidences of God's blessings upon the West Pennsylvania Conference during the past four years.

The West Pennsylvania Conference is composed of 32 counties including the large metropolitan area of Pittsburgh. The population numbers nearly 4½ million. Its people engage in many types of work, ranging from some of the largest steel industries in the world to agriculture, coal mining, oil wells, forestry, resorts, and many other types of activity.

Western Pennsylvania is a land of beauty. Its mountains, valleys, forests, and an abundance of water draw thousands of vacationers each year. Deer, bear, and wild turkeys live in its remote areas and bridge the years from a primeval wilderness to a modern machine age.

To carry the message of Christ's soon coming to this part of Pennsylvania there are 2,287 Seventh-day

Adventists. There were at the close of 1958 27 workers, including 13 district pastors, six departmental or administrative workers, one Book and Bible House Manager, one Bible instructor, one assistant pastor, and five part- or full-time secretaries. In addition there are 12 full-time and 22 part-time literature evangelists as well as 11 teachers doing noble work in the educational field.

These workers with the other members of the churches bear a great responsibility and have revealed an excellent spirit in carrying out their work. The past four years have brought about many changes in the working staff so that many of the district pastors have come to West Pennsylvania since the last union session. This is also true of the office staff. I am personally happy to be associated with such a fine group of men and women who have a vision of finishing the work of God in this field.

We are grateful for the good foundations that have been laid in past years and upon which the work is being built now. There is reason to believe that the next few years will see excellent growth in every way. The membership is now 2,287, a gain of 260 members in four years. It is interesting to note that of this gain, 232 were gained in one year, 1958. Public efforts were held last year in 21 cities, half the number of congregations in the Conference.

This aggressive evangelism included two efforts by the Detamore team and a continuous evangelistic program by H. R. Veach, an evangelist of many years' experience. However, efforts were held in almost every district with good success.

While the finances needed for large scale public efforts are not available this year, we believe that the Lord will bless the efforts of our workers and church members as they continue to make soul winning first in their prayers and labors. It has been demonstrated that the membership of West Pennsylvania can grow and this gives us courage and faith for the future.

The tithe for the past four years was $902,914.99, a gain of $187,545.89 over the previous period. The mission offerings for this quadrennium were $325,240.20 and the Ingathering $185,455.30, both showing good gains over the previous four years. West Pennsylvania as usual was a Minute-man conference each year and is already within $800 of that goal for 1959.

Among the projects promoted by our departments are the Conference Welfare Depot built under the leadership of L. E. Reed, and the Youth Camp developed while L. L. Philpott was Missionary Volunteer Secretary. His place has now been taken by D. M. Ingersoll. Our literature evangelists have registered large gains under the leadership of R. C. Thomas and his assistant, Kenneth O'Guin.

One of the greatest needs in West Pennsylvania is better buildings for churches and schools. Slowly these needs are being cared for. During the past four years four church buildings were dedicated—Everett, Lowville, Lewistown, and Shannock Valley, and a number of new buildings are now under construction. A new church building which will also house the school is being built at Coudersport and a new building is under construction at Brockway. New schools will soon be completed at Sharon and Erie. The Erie school will also serve the Lowville Church. New churches at Washington, Clearfield, and Somerset are in the final stages of construction. Other churches are laying plans for buildings and gathering funds for that purpose.

This report cannot convey the real spirit of West Pennsylvania. This spirit is found in a church of 19 members building a new church building; by pastors and laymen doing Ingathering night after night in zero weather and knee-deep snow; by small groups of believers scattered here and there who faithfully support the work with their tithes and offerings though to a large extent they are isolated from fellowship; by the faithful work of literature evangelists and the zeal of the youth. This spirit of consecration is the greatest asset of the advent cause in West Pennsylvania. It is also the promise of success for the Lord's work in the future. We ask for your prayers that we might faithfully act our part as watchmen for the Lord in West Pennsylvania.

HAVE you made plans to come?

"God gave direction to the Israelites to assemble before him at set periods, in the place which he should choose, and observe special days wherein no unnecessary work was to be done. . . .

"God requires no less of his people in these last days, in sacrifices and offerings. . . . Men who possess thousands remain at home year after year, engrossed in their worldly cares and interests, and feeling that they cannot afford to make the small sacrifice of attending the yearly gatherings to worship God . . . come, brethren and sisters, to these sacred convocation meetings, to find Jesus. He will come up to the feast."—Testimonies for the Church, Vol. 2, pp. 573, 475.

An innovation, known as "The Bible Clinic," will be held daily. A series on "The Final Crisis," "The Spirit of Prophecy," and "The Christian Home," will be featured every day. Shenandoah Valley Academy Outdoor Club Camps Out

TWENTY members of the Outdoor Club of Shenandoah Valley Academy spent the last week end of January camping out in the Monongahela National Forest of West Virginia.

The campers were divided into three groups. Group one was composed of Mr. Battle, Mr. John, Gary Dickson, Billy Hooker, Bill Macey, Sam Schutte, and Charles Wood. Members of group two were Mr. Litten, Mr. Strickland, Ronnie Barnes, Don Baxter, Rusty Litten, Mike Murray, Jim Sanderson, and Clifford Stitely. Group three consisted of Mr. Jarrett, Herbie Copenhaver, Walter Hamann, Gary Quackenbush, and Carl Tolas.

All were assigned camp duties, each group having turns at worship, meals, fire, and clean up.

On Friday night Mr. Litten and Mr. Strickland conducted worship. After the group had sung a few songs, several of the campers commented on their favorite Bible texts.

On Sabbath morning everyone dressed warmly for the 20-degree weather and hiked to Spruce Knob, highest point in the Virginia-West Virginia area, with an elevation of 4,860 feet. Here Mr. Jarrett conducted Sabbath school. After hiking to a spruce grove, the campers ate lunch.

The cold weather actually added to the thrill of camping out, for the clouds and mist froze on the trees, leaving a coat of ice crystals three inches thick and giving the appearance of a heavy snowfall. Everyone felt nearer to God as he beheld the beauties of nature.

Two members of the club, Gary Dickson and Bill Hooker, have to their credit 500 hours in canoeing and camping. They, with Rusty Litten, Sam Schutte, and Carl Tolas have each logged more than 75 hours of camping during this school year.

Future plans include the purchase (as soon as funds are available) of six Grumman aluminum canoes. The club already is organizing a canoe trip to Washington, D. C., via the Shenandoah and Potomac Rivers and the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. According to the club sponsors, Roy Battle and Harold Milliken, the trip will be made a year from this spring.

New Workers in New Jersey

In recent months the New Jersey Conference has been blessed with additional workers who have joined our staff and are assisting us in carrying forward our work in this great field. We are happy to introduce them and know that our people will give to them a very warm and sincere welcome.

These workers will make a significant contribution to the continued progress of our work in this conference. At the forthcoming camp meeting, which will be the first general meeting in our field since many of these workers have joined our staff, our people will be happy to meet these new workers personally.

In a previous article we reported the formation of our new evangelistic team, composed of Elder J. J. Millet, who has accepted our call, from the Arkansas-Louisiana Conference, to be our state evangelist; Mary Bierly; and Wendell Lacy. We welcome to our field Elder Millet and Wendell Lacy and their families.

This evangelistic team will begin their work in Jersey City; and following the evangelistic campaign there, they will undertake an evangelistic mission for the West New York Church. We bid these workers a hearty welcome to New Jersey, and we believe that they will be instrumental in bringing many precious souls into the church.

Brother and Sister Tripp came to us from the Ohio Conference where he served three years of his internship. While in Ohio he labored in Columbus, Toledo, and Akron, assisting in pastoral work, and also was associated in several evangelistic campaigns. Mrs. Tripp is from New Jersey and we welcome her back home. She will be remembered as the former Helen Bohmer of Atlantic City, N. J. They have a four-month-old daughter, Teri Lynette.

In considering the needs of our field, the Executive Committee felt that it would greatly strengthen our work if the Mount Holly and Burlington Churches were formed into one district under the leadership of Brother Tripp.

Brother Tripp has now begun his work in this new district, and we are happy to report that real progress is being made. Plans are moving forward for the erection of the gymnasium at the new Mount Holly school, and some work was also done in the Burlington Church, increasing its facilities for Sabbath school rooms.

We welcome Brother and Sister Tripp to our field, and we believe that they will make a real contribution to the success of the work.

Jack Blanco and family. Jack Blanco was born in Chicago of Catholic parents. Just prior to the outbreak of World War II, he went to Germany to visit his grandparents. At the time of the outbreak of the war he was not allowed to return to the United States. Forced by these circumstances, he lived with his grandparents on a farm until the United States entered the war, but then he was placed in a labor camp.

He spent three years in the camp, suffering much during that time. When, toward the close of the war, those in the camp were given an opportunity to join the German Army, Brother Blanco, along with the others in the camp, did so in order that they might obtain more food.

After three weeks they escaped. Two days later the United States forces occupied that section of Germany and he was repatriated back to his home country.

He was allowed to live with his grandparents until all the papers were cleared, and at last he was returned to his home. Following his return to the United States, he enlisted in the Air Force and was soon transferred to the Far East theater of operations.

While there a copy of Bible Readings for the Home fell into his hands and he was baptized with Carl Pinterich, who is now teaching at Garden State Academy, by Elder Ray Turner, formerly of the Detamore evangelistic team. This baptism took place on the island of Guam.

After his conversion and discharge from the Air Force, he determined that he would give his life to the service of Christ. He attended Union College in Lincoln, Nebr., and then went on to the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary in Washington, D. C., where he earned the Bachelor of Divinity Degree last summer.

Mrs. Blanco was also born in Illinois with an Adventist background and holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Emmanuel Missionary College, and was employed for several years as a Bible instructor in the Illinois Conference.

They have two children, Cheryl Ann and Stephen John. We welcome these young workers into our field and believe that God will richly bless them and us, too, as a result of their ministry in our midst.

Elder and Mrs. Ned Maletin. The most recent addition to the working staff of the New Jersey Conference is Elder Ned Maletin who comes to us from Canada where he worked for five years, having come to Canada as a political refugee from central Europe.

He will serve as pastor of the Czechoslovakian and Polish churches in our field. He has had a rich evangelistic and soul-winning experience. He has had a distinguished ministry, having won many precious souls to the truth during the five years that he was in Canada. Previous to that time he worked in Yugoslavia.

Elder Maletin has had remarkable experiences and has witnessed the moving providences of God in his behalf. At one time he was captured by the Russians and taken to a concentration camp with 42,000 other prisoners. Of those 42,000 only 2,500 survived. He was spared by God so that he might continue his ministry of salvation for his people.

It was by a wonderful providence that visas were obtained for him and his family to come to New Jersey. We welcome them into our midst, and we know that our people will be greatly blessed because of the ministry and leadership of these dedicated people. Elder and Mrs. Maletin have borne much and suffered much for Christ, and out of that experience of suffering a rich and glorious ministry has been developed, and they are able to give a magnificent testimony of faith.

Elder Maletin already has laid strong plans for his ministry and evangelistic work in our field. We believe that he and his wife will be instrumental in helping to strengthen our work among this wonderful group of people who have favored us by coming to New Jersey and making this state their home.

As Elder and Mrs. Maletin work for our Czechoslovakian and Polish believers, we believe that the members will find in him a great soul winner and one who will help them

Family Receives Jasper Wayne Awards

RICHARD HURTIG; his wife, Doris, who once wept at the thought of Ingathering; and their 13-year-old daughter, Sharon, have made a unique contribution to the Bryan Church Ingathering campaign. Each determining to solicit a Jasper Wayne goal by Christmas eve, they set forth faithfully to complete the task.

Braving the bitter cold when other, more timid, souls hesitated to venture forth, they pressed on night after night. Brother Hurtig met with a number of unpleasant encounters and on one occasion was physically threatened, but, with his characteristic Christian attitude, he convinced the man of his worthy intentions. Shamefacedly, the man gave him a sizable offering.

Sharon's contribution brought the amount solicited by the district church school children to more than $400. Shown presenting the Jasper Wayne awards—tokens of appreciation for a task well done—is the district pastor, S. R. La Rosa.

The Canton Church is also happy to announce that it has eight of its 10 highway signs placed on the main highways entering Canton. This project was headed by Mrs. Eva Pangborn. Mr. Pangborn assisted in placing the signs even though he is not a member of the church. A special "thank you" to Mr. Pangborn.

• Ravenna. One hundred or more friends and members gathered for first services in the basement of the new Ravenna Seventh-day Adventist Church on Sabbath, February 14. Elder S. K. Lehnhoff, district pastor, and Elder W. E. Snider, assistant pastor, were also present for the occasion.

The 200-seat colonial brick church is scheduled for completion in the fall of this year when a special opening program will be held. The building, when completed, will provide five Sabbath school classrooms, a baptistry, choir loft, mother's room, a balcony seating 30 persons, and a full basement.

Construction has been under the direction of Elder S. K. Lehnhoff. Much of the labor has been donated by members of the local congregation. The old Ohio Avenue Church has been used for 25 or more years. The 65 members of the Ravenna Church are to be commended on the progress they have made in this important building project.

Columbus Church School Day Nets More Than $1,000

A GOAL of $1,000 was set by the members of the Columbus, Ohio, Eastwood Church for a special offering to be taken February 28, designated as Columbus Church School Day, to help support their 10-grade school.

Pastor Lawrence F. Kagels announced March 14 that the cash and pledges received on February 28 and the following Sabbath amounted to nearly $1,100, the largest offering given by the members of this church for one special offering for the school.

This is positive proof that the members of the Columbus Church will give loyally to the cause of Christian education when they are informed as to the needs of the school, he said.

The Columbus Church members are at the present time engaged in a campaign to raise funds for the expansion and improvement of their church and school buildings. During 1958 they contributed $14,000 to this fund.

down vesper program which included several musical numbers.

Fifteen hundred people filled the gymnasium-auditorium during a never-to-be-forgotten pageant which depicted Shenandoah's 50 years of history. Pictures, tape recordings, personal appearances, and pantomimes help tell the story of the pioneers who helped to make the school what it is today. The program was directed by two Academy teachers, Richard Harris, and Lowell Litten.

Said George Akers, Principal: "Shenandoah Valley Academy's teachers and students were pleased to play host to the many sons and daughters of Shenandoah on its Golden Anniversary. We sincerely hope that it has been an occasion that all may look back upon as a time of spiritual and social refreshment."
