Missions Extension Offering, September 12

God's ancient church was admonished many times not to come into His house empty handed. God, being all powerful, could have supplied the needs of His ministers without the assistance of His people; however, in His infinite wisdom, He saw that such a method would not be a wise provision for the support of His church.

He, therefore, instituted the system of "Tithes and Offerings." While the tithes are a definite, fixed portion of our income that God claims as His own, He leaves it up to us to decide on what our offerings shall be. There is only one stipulation in regard to an offering that makes it acceptable or not with God. We are told in 2 Corinthians 9:7 that ". . . God loveth a cheerful giver"; conversely, God does not love, therefore, must hate a begrudged gift, and such a gift becomes no gift at all. As God freely gave His son to the world that it might have salvation, so He rejoices when His children give freely of the bounties He has placed in their hands that this salvation might be extended to all the world.

Giving is a fundamental law of nature. Everything receives that it may give. A body of water that receives only soon becomes a stagnant, foul pool and is a curse to all that comes in contact with it. The great land-locked bodies of water, such as the Dead Sea, the Salton Sea, and others that are always receiving, but never giving, are examples of the above. They cannot give sustenance to man, beast, or vegetation because of the character of their water. In order to be sweet and refreshing they must have an outlet as well as an inlet.

How similar these bodies of water are to people who are always receiving but never get around to giving for the blessing of others. Their lives become dwarfed, their outlook distorted, and they cannot have a good influence on mankind. No one loves, and one is rarely influenced by, at least in a good way, a miser. It is evident that God's provision of tithes and offerings had a dual purpose, that of the support of His work and also that of the sweetening of the lives of those who participate in it; and who knows but that the latter may be the most important, as far as we are individually concerned?

Each year the church sends to the various fields of the world many people who carry on evangelistic, publishing, and medical missionary work. The support and travel of these people amount to a large portion of the mission budget. In order for these missionaries to accomplish the tasks which they are given, they require proper "tools" with which to work, and the purpose of the Missions Extension Offering on Sabbath, September 12, is to put these "tools" in their hands. These funds ("tools") are used to spread the good tidings of salvation to all the world. They help to fulfill the prophecy of Isaiah 9:2 which declares: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined."

The work of enlightening the dark areas of earth is carried on in several different ways, as for example: by evangelism, by spreading the printed word through the colporteur, by teaching the gospel to students in schools and colleges, and by the medical ministry. All these methods are effective means in the hands of consecrated workers to bring the light of Jesus Christ to the people of earth who sit in pain and darkness.

Being a medical worker, the writer

Union ASI Secretary Visits Wytheville Hospital

As your secretary for the Association of Self-supporting Institutions, it was my privilege to visit one of the most representative of the units in the Columbia Union Conference. In Wytheville, Va., is an institution that has been developed through the years in accordance with the instruction of the Spirit of Prophecy. The Wytheville Sanitarium and Hospital is filling a definite need in that community of southern Virginia.

Located in the beautiful mountain scenery just west of the Blue Ridge Mountains, the physical surroundings leave little to be desired. The consecrated labors of the staff have accomplished wonders in elevating Seventh-day Adventists in the opinion of the community.

Dr. Wendell Malin is in charge of the institution now housed in a new and modern hospital building of 50 beds. There are three Adventist physicians on the staff. The nursing staff comprises 16 graduate nurses and aides and the total of all employees is more than 40. This hospital is affiliated with the Medical Group Foundation, which also operates Leland

Philadelphia and Allentown "It Is Written" Meetings

As It Is Written begins its second year of telecasting over Philadelphia's NBC outlet, we are fortunate to be able to bring Elder George Vandeman to the area in two personal appearances, each for one night only. He will speak in the Allentown-Bethlehem area, at the Women's Club Auditorium, 1114 Walnut Street, Allentown, on Friday night, September 11. The Philadelphia appointment is at Town Hall, Broad and Race Streets, in downtown Philadelphia, on Sunday night, September 13. Both appointments are at 7:30, preceded by the showing of the color film, "God and the Cities," at 7:00.

While every Seventh-day Adventist should be present at one, or if possible both, of these meetings, yet we wish to emphasize that these are not rallies planned for Seventh-day Adventists only, such as the one held a year ago when the telecast began. Instead, these are evangelistic services, opportunities for viewers of the telecast to hear and to meet Elder Vandeman personally. This will be the only opportunity this autumn to bring these men and women under the influence of such a meeting, where we have faith to believe that many an interest will be deepened and a decision consciousness created that will bear fruit in months to come. We repeat, every Seventh-day Adventist should be present at these meetings. And every viewer possible should be invited and provided with transportation.

In spite of the early hour, the telecast is doing its work and steadily penetrating the city of Philadelphia as well as the entire area covered by Channel 3. The response coming in from viewers is most heartening, with a surprising number of genuine interests being revealed. One Mennonite couple in Reading have sent in a total of $85 in offerings to date.

We believe our membership will continue to pray for the telecast and support it by making contact with every viewer possible. These two meetings are a splendid opportunity to greatly deepen the interest already created by the telecast. As many as possible should drive in from the Scranton area where the program is continuing, as well as from the Harrisburg area where the telecast is presently off the air. We also invite our believers from neighboring New Jersey and Chesapeake conferences, as far out as the telecast has reached, to join with us in these two evangelistic appointments, bringing with them interested viewers. Our days for evangelism, either personal or public, are numbered. Let us use them wisely.

T. V. Zytoskee Accepts Call to Mission Field

ELDER T. V. Zytoskee, Missionary Volunteer Secretary of the Potomac Conference, has accepted a call to serve in the Indonesia Union Mission as Missionary Volunteer and Educational Secretary. Elder E. Frank Sherrill, at present MV and Educational Secretary of the Missouri Conference, took over Elder Zytoskee's position on August 15.

Elder and Mrs. Zytoskee; their children, Jackquie and Taryl; and Mrs. Zytoskee's mother, Mrs. Florence Fernald, left the Conference on August 14. They had two weeks' vacation and also will have one month in addition for the purpose of visiting relatives prior to embarking for the mission field.

In addition to supervising another most successful series of camps for youth at our Blue Ridge Youth Camp at Hidden Valley, Montebello, Va., Elder Zytoskee completed work

The Conference will miss the faithful work of our brother in the MV Department and also the efficient services of Mrs. Zytoskee, who for some time has been working as secretary to the Treasurer. They have served here for about two years.

The prayers of all who know the Zytoskees will go with them in this sacrificial move in behalf of the urgent needs of humanity in preparation to meet our Lord.

Fredericksburg Revival Closes; 20 Baptized

THE Fredericksburg Revival came to a thrilling climax Sunday evening, May 24. Twenty-five persons made decisions as the result of these meetings. Twenty have already been baptized.

The eight-day meeting was a beautiful demonstration of power that comes to a church when a pastor and congregation team up for evangelism. Practically the whole church attended the meetings regularly. Scores brought friends (one lady brought nine one night) so that more than 50 per cent of the audience were visitors through the entire series. Almost every week night surpassed the opening night in attendance. The last Sunday night, the church was full, with about 160 attending.

Offerings ranged from 30 to 40 cents per capita each night. More than once 10-dollar gifts were placed in the offering.

Special features for the meetings were black-ray chalk pictures drawn by the pastor's wife, who was also the singing evangelist for the revival.

Through this excursion in evangelism, we were all made more keenly aware of the fact that "there is no greater bliss on this side of heaven than in winning souls to Christ."

Wedding

ON Sunday afternoon, June 14, Miss Judy Meyers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Meyers of Dayton, Ohio, was given in marriage to George A. Vandeman, son of Elder and Mrs. George E. Vandeman of Takoma Park, Md. The ceremony was performed by the father of the groom in the Takoma Park Church.

Mrs. Norman Sooy, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Edrene Hansen, a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Gary Crissman, Barbara Miller, Faye Douglas, and Emmie Streets. Ronald Vandeman was his brother's best man, with Bobby Vandeman and George Meyers as junior ushers. Connie Jean Vandeman, three-year-old sister of the groom, was flower girl and little Billy French was Bible boy.

The reception was held at Takoma Academy, where the bride and groom were graduated together in the class of 1958. After a week at Honeymoon Village, Echo Lake, Pa., they returned to Takoma Park where they will make their home.

Chesapeake

Community Camp

FOR the past seven or eight years Community Camp in the Chesapeake Conference has been among the largest of our camps and 1959 proved no exception. The 151 campers included 79 boys and 72 girls with a complete staff of counselors and directors.

Nine cabins in each division were filled, some having as many as nine campers a cabin. Besides the usual numbers of homesick cases, cuts, bruises, etc., there were no serious mishaps among the boys and girls. The children conducted themselves well on the whole and showed by their eager faces how much they enjoyed camp. Only two days were interrupted by rain which helped keep dust and temperature down.

Elder R. E. Hamilton, Principal of Greater Baltimore Academy, was in charge of this camp and the three preceding camps. Robert Skeggs assisted the director and Mrs. Tyson was business manager and registrar. The nature instructor, C. E. Layton, ably taught God's "other book" and Elder Olney as camp pastor turned our thoughts regularly to the written Word. Bill Stevens and Mrs. H. F. Bankes successfully directed their respective divisions of boys and girls. Not among the least of the staff were Mrs. Welker, the craft teacher, and Mrs. Laubach, who assisted her. They helped 151 boys and girls make something to take home. At the nurses' cabin Mrs. Joost ably cared for all first-aid needs. Marinus Kip was the pool director and swimming instructor.

Besides craft time in the afternoon, the program was full of other activities just like the other camps. The most popular activities seemed to be eating and swimming, although in at least one cabin (that of the writer) rest period was also anticipated eagerly which is extremely unusual.

Most of the churches of Chesapeake participated in sending children. Laurel sent 30 children, three of whom paid their own way in their great desire to go. The other 27 were paid for from money solicited from businessmen of Laurel. Some churches sent as many as 50, others as few as two. Children were sponsored by service clubs, Dorcas societies, and individual church members. The Hagerstown Dorcas Society, other ladies of the Hagerstown district, and Dr. Hartle deserve a lot of credit for their part in supplying bedding, food, hours of free service, and other necessary items to help make the children's camp experience comfortable and enjoyable.

It is a rewarding experience, being with these children a few days and in sharing with them some of the wonderful Bible truths which we take for granted but of which they are ignorant. How far these children have been influenced and impressed in so short a time may never be known this side of the kingdom.

Twelve Baptized at Clifton Park

ON July 25 a baptism was held at the Clifton Park Church, bringing to 12 the number of persons who joined our little church during the month of July.

This day was also the last Sabbath spent with us by our pastor, Elder W. C. Anderson, and his family.

God's blessing will go with them, we know, in their new field of service for Him. Only eternity will reveal the true results of their labors. We shall miss them very much at Clifton Park.

Evangelistic Sacrifice In New Jersey

WE have had a most unusual experience during our recent camp meeting here in New Jersey, and we wish to share this experience with you. One of our believers, who wishes to remain anonymous, came to us on the last day of the camp and offered to us a very liberal gift for evangelism. The fact that is important is not the size of the gift nearly as much as the spirit that prompted it.

This dear sister, aged and with limited financial resources, went to the bank and withdrew her savings and gave it to the cause of God for evangelism in New Jersey. The amount was $700—to be sure, not a great amount in terms of evangelistic costs in the great cities of New Jersey, but the spirit that actuated this gift and the deep-down feeling of sacrifice that prompted this gift is in itself the greatest evidence of sacrifice and of the success of this investment in souls.

We are grateful to our heavenly Father for the large offerings that were given by our people at the New Jersey camp meeting. The offerings given this year were practically double those of a year ago. We marvel at the liberality of our people, and yet, in view of the great blessings that God has given to us, we are constrained to inquire as to whether the gifts that we brought to the Lord at this annual convocation really represented the measure of our love.

When confronted with the greatest evangelistic challenge in the history of our field, we cannot help but cry out to God that He will enable us to carry forward a great soul-winning program and that His people will be the instruments in His hands to provide the funds whereby this gospel shall be preached to New Jersey's millions.

If you did not give an evangelistic offering, will you not pray about this matter and send your check either directly to the Conference office or through your church treasurer, so that we might plan for even larger evangelistic campaigns in our field than our present budget would allow? If you send your gift directly to the Conference, your home church will receive credit for the gift. We pray God's blessing to be upon you as you plan with us to meet the challenge of this late hour of the world's history.

Ingathering Victories in New Jersey

One of the special features in connection with the New Jersey camp meeting was the time that was spent in recognizing the churches who have obtained their Ingathering victory each year. Above you will see a picture of those that received a banner in the New Jersey Conference for having reached their Ingathering victory for the 1959 campaign.

New Jersey leads the conferences in North America in the per-capita total that they have received for 1959. Their per-capita amount is $25.59, and they have gathered $72,668.04 which is a gain of $9,367.82 over 1958. New Jersey has held this standing for many years, and we appreciate the wonderful work that they are doing.

We extend to every church and the membership our sincere appreciation. We trust that their example may be emulated by many other conferences here in the Columbia Union Conference.

The students will soon be returning to their respective schools and if there are other individuals interested in the literature evangelist work, please contact Brother Bierlien. We need more literature evangelists in West Virginia.

• The Conference ministers and their families met recently in Parkersburg for a ministerial fellowship, discussing plans with the Conference President, A. J. Patzer, concerning all-out district evangelism during the months of September and October.

"Some years ago," Elder Holley relates, "A young man took the 'Faith for Today' Bible Course and accepted the third angel's message. He was the only one in his family to accept the message. His parents and his brothers and sisters thought it strange that he should join a movement that seemed so strange and radical as the Seventh-day Adventists. The young man was true to his decision, however, and attended our college at Berrien Springs, Mich., for two years. He became suddenly ill and died when barely out of his teens. One of his last requests was that one of the missionary leaders of the church hold Bible studies with his parents. Instead the couple were enrolled in the 'Faith for Today' correspondence course. When we came to town they already believed the message, but did not think it would be possible for them to join the church. However, they took their stand during the latter part of our meetings and are now baptized members of the church."

Another has been married to a Seventh-day Adventist for 25 years. When the meetings first began he did not even want to attend and told us plainly that it would be impossible for him ever to become a Seventh-day Adventist. His work and other problems held him back. However, in the latter half of the meetings he began to attend quite regularly and the last night of the series, took his stand. Now that he has taken his stand he wonders why he held back so long. His employer seemed happy to give him Sabbath privileges. Other things that loomed so big in his path have now disappeared and no longer are even a problem.

Several other interesting experiences are included in Elder Holley's report, but space will not permit their insertion here. We rejoice over the victories won. May the Lord continue to bless the work of our evangelists.

Wedding

THE bride's father, Elder E. D. Nelson, assisted by Elder D. W. Hunter, performed the wedding ceremony uniting Carol Gene Nelson and Robert Wilson Meckstroth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson E. Meckstroth of 3 Arden Lane, Mount Vernon, Ohio, Sunday afternoon, August 2, in the Seventh-day Adventist church in Mount Vernon.

Music was provided by Mrs. Cheryl Franks, organist, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Fillingham.

The bride's attendants were Jane Reynolds, maid of honor; and Mrs. Carol Slate, Mrs. Jeannie Fillingham and Sue Barnett of Wooster, Ohio, bridesmaids. The flower girl was Jill Hines.

Mr. Meckstroth had as his attendants, Donald Paul Meckstroth, best man; and Norman Sooy, John Lobberrecht, and Richard Meckstroth, groomsmen. Ushers were cousins of the groom, Glen Nederhouser, and Charles and Harold Fern. The Bible bearer was Phillip Nederhouser, cousin of the groom.

A reception was held in the Mount Vernon Academy gymnasium with Mrs. Hazel Phillips presiding at the serving table.

The couple spent a two weeks' honeymoon in Florida. They will make their home in Berrien Springs, Mich., where they will continue their studies.

Evangelistic Report From Bucyrus, Ohio

REPORTS from a recent evangelistic series held in Bucyrus, Ohio, are most encouraging. Elder Roger Holley, the Ohio Conference evangelist, conducted the meetings.

The attendance was good throughout the entire series. A total of 40 persons took their stand for baptism. At the time this is written 24 have been baptized. Elder F. E. Phelps, the district pastor, is conducting follow-up meetings and is scheduling other baptisms for the Sabbaths to come.

Memorial Hospital at Riverdale, Md.

The church school has been teaching 10 grades but the great need for a full 12-grade program has challenged the workers and very careful plans have been laid to start a self-supporting Academy. The Potomac Conference is now applying to the Columbia Union Conference Educational Board for the authorization to open such a school. This Academy will be 200 miles in every direction from any other Academy and will greatly strengthen the education work in that area.

In planning for the school it is expected that eventually there will be between 125 and 150 students. Therefore particular attention has been given to providing industries to care for the labor program as outlined in the Spirit of Prophecy. These industries are already arranged for and operating and will include eight different fields of work. These include a dairy, poultry farm, truck gardening, a bakery, a modern cannery, the farm, and employment in the hospital and construction activities.

The new self-supporting Academy will share the 300-acre grounds with the Sanitarium. Accommodations for a limited number of boarding students will be available immediately under adequate supervision.

The workers at Wytheville are of good courage and are rejoicing at the marvelous opportunities the Lord has given them to witness for the Message.

has been especially impressed by the gratitude of those who have been blessed by the medical ministry. The way to a person's soul is greatly smoothed by the alleviating of his physical maladies. Christ demonstrated this for three and one-half years when He was here on earth. At this season of the year, any gift bestowed will pay large dividends in relieving human misery and bringing the light of life to those who sit in pain and darkness.

A note of urgency should be sounded. As we see the ways closing up in different areas of the world due to worsening of political conditions, as in Iraq, and already closed in China and other areas, we must do quickly what we will do. Today we can still give, but who can tell what we will be able to do tomorrow? Let us give and work while it is day, for the "night cometh when no man can work," and further, our gifts will be of no avail.

being placed on skills and management training. Within the last quarter century, we have seen the development of the teaching of management in our schools of business administration. Fortunate it is for the students enrolled at W. M. C. that the instructional goals are supervised by instructors who had been successful in the business world before starting their work as instructors. Their fundamental desires are illustrated in the works of J. C. Penney—"It has been a primary aim, in my leadership of the firm, to bring in men of the calibre essential to high ethical principles." Undoubtedly that is the reason Sister White said in Fundamentals of Education, page 417 that "all should have some training" in this field.

Washington Union Academy Changes Location and Name

THE Dupont Park School, formerly Washington Union Academy, will begin classes Tuesday, September 8, in its new and spacious three-story brick building. The school is located adjacent to the Dupont Park Ephesus Church, 3985 Massachusetts Avenue, S.E., across the street from Fort Dupont Park.

Principal J. L. Moran states that pupil applications for the coming school year already exceed the number enrolled in many of last year's classes. To meet the expanding needs of the school, several additions have been made to the faculty. Grades one through 10 were taught last year. This year, for the first time, a kindergarten will be operated to meet a great need in the area.

A newly acquired school bus will operate for the convenience of the children living in the outlying areas of the District. Despite increased costs of operation, tuition will remain the same as last year.

Those wishing additional information may write to: Elder J. L. Moran, Principal, 3985 Massachusetts Avenue, S.E., Washington 19, D. C. Telephones: LUdlow 3-3973, LUdlow 2-7303.

African Legislator Visits Akron Bethel Church

APPEARING in Akron, Ohio, Mr. Tom Mboya of the Kenya African legislature was given a copy of "The Hope of the Race" by F. L. Peterson. The presentation was made by the Bethel Seventh-day Adventist Church. Mr. Mboya graciously received the book and said, "I am happy to add this to my library."

On his nation-wide tour of the United States, Africa's good will ambassador Tom Mboya has spoken to thousands of people in the key cities of America. Mr. Mboya, a member of the Kenya Legislative Council, is the General Secretary of the Kenya Federation of Labor and Chairman of the International Confederation of Free Trade Union's East, Central and Southern African Sub-Regional Organization. He is also President of the Nairobi Peoples' Convention Party, and in December of 1958 was elected Chairman of the first All-African Conference in Accra, Ghana.

Pastor James A. Washington is the minister of the Bethel Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Attendance Prospects Good at W. M. C.

REPORTS from the Secretary of Admissions indicate that the enrollment at Washington Missionary College next year will hold up to expectations.

Additional classrooms and teacher offices have been arranged. Thus any shortage is likely to be for dormitory rooms. Prospective applicants will greatly accommodate the college by making their wants known immediately. Inquiries may be addressed to the Secretary of Admissions.

Business Administration—the course that gives you the training for everyday life. The fact that the world of business changes and will continue to change is one of the relatively few things of which we can be sure. The business teachers at Washington Missionary College—Leonard I. Woods, Cecil Rolfe, and S. W. Tymeson—endeavor to keep well informed concerning significant developments in specialized fields of accounting, communications, business machines, finance, marketing, insurance and the many other related areas. The use of current business magazines offers the students a challenge to keep up-to-date with the trends in the business world. Although the Business Administration department had a large number of graduates last year it was impossible to fill all the requests which came in for men and women trained in this department.

The basic courses in accounting are developed with the recognition that the role of the accountant in industry and the business world in general has grown in stature and responsibility along with the growth of our denomination and business in general. These changes have created a demand for more and better records, more and better reports, and for more and better accountants.

The course in Business Administration gives emphasis to the values

Camp-Meeting Book Sale Sets Record

I KNOW that many have been waiting eagerly to find out what the total sales were for the West Pennsylvania Book and Bible House. I am proud to announce that they amounted to over $4,500. The big bargain sale was a tremendous success, amounting to over $800 in sales. This means that at least 1200 books were sold during that one-hour sale.

My able assistant, Thomas Kildare, and I want to thank YOU for helping us make this our best camp sale to date. We especially want to thank our super salesmen who participated in the bargain sale. They were: H. K. Halladay of the Columbia Union Conference; Hugh Forquer of the Review and Herald; F. A. Mote of the General Conference; and Ken O'Guin of our field. During the week we had excellent help in the book tent from many of our literature evangelists. They included C. D. Best, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. White, Richard McDade, William Reynolds, Jr., Emma Hershelman, and Mary Woodkirk.

On the first week end, Hugh Forquer of the Book Department of the Review and Herald Publishing Association was with us. On the second week end of camp we had Bob Kinney of the same department. Many of you purchased fine Bibles from these men.

Yes, camp meeting was a huge success. For this we thank our heavenly Father who makes all things possible.
