VOICE OF PROPHECY OFFERING

Sabbath, October 10

Radio Program Girds World; Offers Soul-Winning Potential

By D. A. Roth

Radio-TV Secretary, Columbia Union Conference

SABBATH, October 10, is a very important offering date for churches in the Columbia Union Conference—the annual Voice of Prophecy Day.

Here is an opportunity for every member to give a generous gift to help the world-wide ministry of our radio program. Last week Elder James Chase of the General Conference Radio-TV Department gave a real challenge in an article on page one concerning this important offering. Here is a last-minute reminder concerning this day.

The following are some important facts which have come to us from the office of the Voice of Prophecy:

✓ The General Conference has set the Voice of Prophecy Offering goal at $175,000, the highest in history.

✓ Station costs are continually increasing. Changes have taken place in many key areas and coverage can be curtailed if the offering goal is not reached.

✓ There are 57 stations releasing the Voice of Prophecy broadcast every Sunday in the Columbia Union Conference at the present time. This is excellent coverage, but more stations need to be added in cities and areas not yet hearing the message.

✓ Tens of thousands will never hear the message except through the messages on the air in the Columbia Union Conference.

Remember to give a generous offering this Sabbath for the Voice of Prophecy.

Confidence Spending

SEVERAL months ago there was in the United States a business recession, especially in the industrial centers of the nation. People seemed suddenly to hang onto their money and to fear a possible depression in the near future.

In Detroit, according to news reports, a businessman gave each of his fourteen employees an extra dollar or so each week for four consecutive weeks as a confidence spending measure. Since wage earners were holding back in their spending because of lack of confidence, he hoped in this way to do his part in returning the national economy to normal.

TELEGRAM

(The following telegram was sent to the readers of the Visitor from Glendale, Calif., by Elder L. E. Lenheim, President of the Columbia Union Conference.)

Goal set by General Conference for Voice of Prophecy Offering to be taken Sabbath, October 10, is largest in history of radio broadcast, $175,000. Unless goal is reached, new stations cannot be added in 1960, and thousands will not hear the message. Have just attended VOP general board in Glendale, and urge churches of Columbia Union to generously respond on October 10.

The money was to be spent immediately for something not normally purchased.

Confidence spending! If wage earners in the world spend their money to establish confidence in the future of the nation's economy, how much more should we, as children of the King of the universe, invest our money in confidence for the future of our eternal cause. As the artist of words in The Christian Century, writing under the name Simeon Stylites, aptly expressed it: "It is spending in confidence that the church is the church of the Living God, not just another country club or a bridge club. It is spending in confidence that the church has a gospel of salvation to a world on the dizzy edge of disaster, and that there is none other name but that of our Lord by which the world may be saved from the final explosion. . . . It is spending in confidence that God's kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and not a here-today-and-gone-tomorrow affair. It is spending in confidence that 'God's truth abideth still' and He must win the battle. . . . Giving in a niggardly fashion . . . is a vote of No Confidence in God and His church."

World Temperance Day is coming—October 24. This year we need more confidence spending, investing in the future of God's vital, living message to a dying world. Don't do what you did 10 years—five years—one year ago—do more. A quart of milk that cost a dime several years ago, costs more than double that now. We can't be satisfied with what we did back there. Can God gauge your confidence in Him by the extent of your response? God is calling on us this year to do some real "confidence spending" for Him.

Remember Temperance Day—October 24.

Voice of Prophecy Reaches Far And Wide to Spread Message

THE Voice of Prophecy has received thousands of letters from individuals whose hearts were stirred by the message they heard. Many of these persons have become members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. These, we might say, are concrete results.

The far-reaching influence of this program, however, cannot be measured. Radio waves go where preachers cannot go, and it follows that radio ministry can do a work which no other type of ministry can do in many instances.

As you read the appeals on this page for a generous offering on October 10, resolve to give as God has prospered you. Your offering will help maintain and extend this important program.

This quartet of faces is familiar to every Seventh-day Adventist in the Columbia Union Conference. The King's Heralds male quartet is heard every Sunday morning on the Voice of Prophecy radio broadcast. Their voices are also heard on records and tapes. They have come to be a regular part of the household in the homes of Seventh-day Adventists. Remember the wonderful work of this quartet and the entire staff of the Voice of Prophecy at the time of the offering this Sabbath. Make it a generous gift. Members of the quartet are Jerry Dill, Bob Edwards, Bob Seamount, and Wayne Hooper. Photo by courtesy of the Public Relations Department of the Voice of Prophecy.

Voice of Prophecy Offering, October 10

THE most important single day of 1959 for the broadcast of the Voice of Prophecy is Sabbath, October 10. This is the day which will to a large measure predict the economic future of our radio ministry on a national and international scale.

It is hoped and expected that once again God's people in this conference will respond wholeheartedly and sacrificially in keeping with the import of this appeal.

"We have warnings now which we may give, a work now which we may do; but soon it will be more difficult than we can imagine."—Evangelism, p. 31.

May God direct our response on October 10, the big day for OUR Voice of Prophecy.

Conference-wide Clothing Drive Begins October 12

WE appreciate the kindness of our Conference officers in again authorizing the use of our Conference van for our Conference-wide Fall Clothing Drive, which begins Monday evening, October 12, and runs through October 14. Below is listed the schedule of the time and place of pick-up in each Federation area.

Our Conference-wide Clothing Drive is sponsored annually in the fall for the purpose of aiding the General Conference, through their Eastern Warehouse in New York City, in supplying clothing for overseas relief. All clothing for this important drive is to be prepared, boxed, and labeled in harmony with the instructions sent our Dorcas officers for overseas relief shipments. Your full cooperation is sincerely appreciated.

Please Note: All churches within the Federation area should deliver their clothing to the pick-up station nearest them at least one day in advance to avoid delay. All kinds of clothing are needed at our New York Warehouse, such as coats, suits, dresses, et cetera. They can also use blankets, sheets, and layettes. Clothing for men, women, boys and girls, of all sizes are needed if they are in good repair. Please no women's shoes.

Inasmuch as our clothing drive for our Eastern Warehouse comes only once a year in the early fall we are anxious and desirous that each local Dorcas society take an active part in this fall drive by bringing their boxes to the nearest pickup station.

Remember: The Conference is happy to provide the transportation at their expense, but the wholehearted support and cooperation of all is needed to make the trip to our New York Warehouse worthwhile. While a society or church is low on clothing this need not excuse them from participating in the drive. Appeal to our members, your community neighbors, yes, even the laun-dries, cleaners, and department stores, to help you. "Let's all pull together by having each society represented with clothing in the coming drive."

Thanks so much for your cooperation.

Bread-Making Demonstration To Be Held October 13

AN unusual treat awaits Soilbuilders and Homemakers on Tuesday evening, October 13, 7:30 at the Washington Sanitarium gymnasium, in the form of a breadmaking demonstration and lecture by James and Viva Zachary, miller and baker extraordinary of Lewistown, Mont.

After years of research and experience, Mr. Zachary perfected a great discovery in milling when he developed a wonderful new "white" whole-wheat flour. This new flour, named Surviva, is smooth and easy to handle.

This invention by a Seventh-day Adventist miller, retains the wheat germ with all of its nourishment and natural goodness, yet does not spoil.

The recipe used in the demonstration requires only two hours from flour to finished loaf. Come and see this unique program. Bring your neighbors and friends. Free samples of bread. Do NOT park in the Sanitarium lots, but in College lots across the campus.

Sligo Church on Sabbath, October 17, both at the regular worship service and also in the afternoon.

The afternoon service, beginning at 3:45, will be a completely separate narrative from the one at the 11:00 o'clock service. It is being presented to allow large numbers from other churches in the Washington area to hear this informative and vital account. None of the items at the morning service will be repeated.

The Editor of the Review and Herald, after four months abroad at such a time as this, will be able to present to the church many things which have not appeared and will not appear in our church paper. You will not want to miss this!

At 5:00 o'clock, following this message, the regular Sabbath vesper service will be held.

New Book Announced

IN October a new book is to be ready for our members. You and Your Bible by Arthur Maxwell, will be made available to the church members at a special price for a short time so that during the holiday season copies may be purchased for holiday gifts and for personal use. Announcement of the details will soon appear in the field.

The book is outstanding in that it is fully illustrated with color pictures throughout. The message of the book presenting the doctrinal faith of the denomination is such that it will have appeal and power with anyone who will read it. Make room in your lists of gifts this year for the new volume. Watch for further announcements about it.

The 1960 books for our Senior, Junior, and Primary groups will be ready early this year. Many of them will be ready October 1, and we should have them in stock by the middle of that month. The club prices are to be published soon, along with the Morning Watch devotional book and the Morning Watch and new Christian Home Calendar for 1960. We are planning for a big response to all these items, even greater than in 1959.

News Notes

• ELDER J. M. Clemons and the members of the Kenhorst Boulevard Seventh-day Adventist Church rejoiced in the baptism of nine new converts Sabbath, September 26.

• John Bernet, East Pennsylvania Conference Publishing Secretary, reports that for the first eight months of this year, there has been a $61,000 gain in literature sales.

• The East Pennsylvania Conference committee met Wednesday, September 23, at the Conference office to deal with some of the growing pains afflicting the East Pennsylvania Conference relative to educational facilities at Blue Mountain Academy and medical service to the Conference. One of the important items facing the committee was the setting up of a financial system for the North American Youth Congress scheduled for Atlantic City June 21-25 of 1960.

• Elder and Mrs. V. A. Fenn returned from a tour of Europe, September 20, very enthusiastic over their trip. They reported a tour through eleven European countries touching most of the Seventh-day Adventist institutions located in those countries.

• Elder D. A. Roth of the Columbia Union Conference Public Relations Department was guest speaker at the Waynesboro Seventh-day Adventist Church, September 26.

• Elder T. E. Unruh, Elder T. H. Weis, and Elder J. N. Morgan recently attended the Radio, Television, Home Missionary and Sabbath School Council, held in Denver, Colo. This was a meeting of all the North American secretaries serving these departments formulating plans on how to more effectively serve the field and reach the masses with the message.

• Norman Matiko, an East Pennsylvania Conference student literature evangelist, recently placed five sets of Bedtime Stories in four Catholic parochial schools in the city of Lancaster. Mr. Matiko is a student at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary.

• Mrs. Gertrude Honicker, Press Secretary of the West Philadelphia Church, presented the work of Seventh-day Adventists and their relationship to Civil Defense activity in this country. Mrs. Honicker was able to place an attractive display and give a 30-minute discussion of Civil Defense work among Seventh-day Adventists before all the ministers of the Philadelphia area on September 24.

Second Annual Ohio Medical-Dental Fellowship Held

ON the week end of September 11-13 Ohio doctors gathered at Round Lake Christian Assembly campground for a three-day fellowship.

Organized under the leadership of the Ohio Conference Medical Secretaries, Drs. Clinton Trott and Lee

Kramer of Mount Vernon and Harry Slough of Geneva, Ohio, and sponsored by the Ohio Conference, the fellowship attracted more than 60 persons.

Guest speakers for the occasion included Elder H. E. Rice of the General Conference Medical Department; Dr. Gordon Hadley, head of the Pathology Department of the College of Medical Evangelists; and Elder W. R. Bornstein, Pastor of the Mansfield, Ohio, district.

Representing the Ohio Conference at the fellowship were Elder J. O. McLeod, Secretary-Treasurer; Elder

Ohio doctors and their families pictured at annual fellowship.

Marvin Reeder, Public Relations Secretary; and Elder Warren Wittenberg, MV Secretary.

Dentists from Ohio were unable to attend this year because of an American Dental Association meeting held concurrently in New York City.

A very good spirit prevailed. The quiet and comfort of the camp were thoroughly appreciated by all present. Besides the spiritual fellowship provided on Friday evening and Sabbath, swimming, boating, volleyball, and baseball were available on Sunday.

Food was provided by Mount Vernon Academy. The cooks, Mrs. R. E. Dickinson and Mrs. Minna Simmons, are to be complimented for the delicious meals prepared for the occasion.

Minister Ordained

GLENN HILL, a graduate of Emmanuel Missionary College and a worker in the Ohio Conference since 1954, was ordained to the gospel ministry in Mount Vernon, Tuesday, September 8. The occasion was a special workers' meeting.

Glenn Hill

Elder J. Ernest Edwards of the General Conference Home Missionary Department was the morning devotional speaker. Elder R. F. Farley of Mount Vernon, financial counselor for the Ohio Conference, presented Pastor Hill for ordination. The ordination prayer was offered by Elder D. W. Hunter, President of the Ohio Conference. Elder Edwards brought the ministerial charge and the welcome was extended by Elder T. R. Gardiner, Treasurer of the Columbia Union Conference.

Elder Hill came to Ohio directly from Emmanuel Missionary College where he was graduated with a B.S. in Theology. He served his internship in Cleveland. Later he accepted an appointment to "dark" county evangelism in the Coshocton area. More recently he has been district pastor of the Hillsboro and Manchester Churches.

Early this summer, just prior to leaving for a trip to the Holy Land, he was appointed pastor of the Portsmouth and Ironton district. He was named for ordination at the time of our annual camp meeting, but the service was postponed until his return from overseas. He is a native of Ohio and so is his wife, the former Mary Gyde of Oak Harbor. They have one daughter, Lucinda Sue, two.

Elementary Supervisor Appointed

ELAINE SCHANDER of Lincoln, Nebr., was recently named Elementary Supervisor of the Ohio Conference.

The former Anna Kwapinski served the Conference for five years, three years as grade-school teacher and two years as elementary supervisor. She resigned on June 30 to become the bride of Robert Daniels of Columbus.

Elaine Schander

A native of North Dakota, Miss Schander has served on the Educational Department staff of Union College, Lincoln, Nebr., for the past seven years. Prior to her work at Union College she taught in several of our church schools across the nation. This past summer Miss Schander also taught at La Sierra College in California.

A graduate of Union College and of the University of Nebraska, Miss Schander holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Union College and a Master of Arts in elementary supervision from the University of Nebraska.

We welcome Miss Schander to Ohio. Under her capable guidance we are looking forward to real progress in our church schools.

New Jersey

New Jersey Conference Consolidated School Program

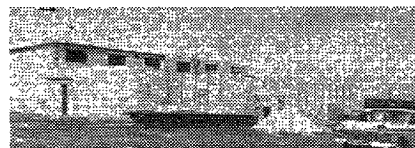

WHAT about the consolidated school program? Is it working? Has it been successful? Is it creating problems or solving problems? What about the finances? Is it running up the cost of education? These are some of the questions that are being asked concerning our consolidated school program.

The consolidated school program has been carried on most successfully in many of our larger areas.

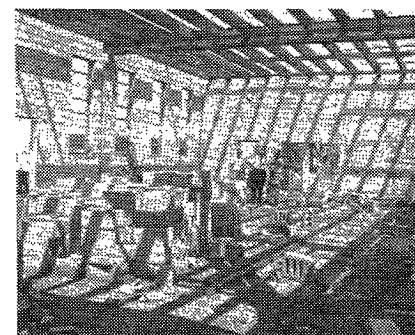

Here in New Jersey the first tangible results in consolidation were seen a little over a year ago in the New school building at Cape May Court House.

New consolidated school for Salem, Bridgeton, and Vineland.

After 10 days of work the Camden-Laurel Springs-Woodbury school is well under way.

building of the beautiful Lake Nelson School. Since that beginning two districts united to build a consolidated school. They are the Bridgeton, Salem and Vineland churches thus closing their individual two teacher schools and uniting to build a beautiful, new, consolidated, three-teacher, 10-grade school (see picture).

In the southwestern part of the conference two more districts have united—Camden, Laurel Springs and Woodbury. These three fine churches are also building a beautiful new junior academy. The results of this project could best be appreciated by quoting the words of the principal, LeRoy Weischadle, "We either get our new building up or we are in difficulty. We have more applications now than we could possibly accommodate in our old school building" (see picture).

The Burlington Church has now joined the Mount Holly district and these two fine congregations are uniting their efforts, adding to their beautiful new building an all-purpose room, a kitchen and another classroom. They have also hired a third full-time teacher.

Yes, consolidation works. Our churches in the northeastern part of our conference have voted to unite; and presently committees are working on the matter of the purchase of property for a consolidated school in that great metropolitan area.

What about the transportation problem? Throughout the conference school boards are buying either new buses or larger buses for next year. There is no retrenchment once one plan is tried.

What about the churches which are not close enough to have a consolidated school? New Jersey is not forgetting about these places either. Cape May Court House started a new school last year and now they have their new building well underway.

Last year Asbury Park started a new school in their church building. Now land is being purchased for a new building. It is being so located that it can become a consolidated school when the possibility arises. With a new company just organized in Tom's River, and an intensive evangelistic program being developed in Freehold and Red Bank, the conference is working, praying and looking forward to two or three new churches in this area.

A new school is being started in Hoboken for our Spanish speaking churches. Our newest church school will be located at Phillipsburg. Details on this were published in the August 20 issue of the VISITOR.

Yes, New Jersey feels that the consolidated program is working. At the present time we have three very fine two teacher schools located at Newark, Paterson and Hackensack. With these three churches uniting with the other churches in the area, they can go to a four-teacher school with ten grades and have a much stronger educational program.

This program is taking a lot of work and sacrifice on the part of the constituency of the conference. But when one sees the enrollment rise from 247 two years ago to 419 last year, and with the prospects of increasing to well over the 500 mark this next year, we in New Jersey feel that the sacrifice made has been worth while. Please remember us in your prayers as we continue to work and sacrifice for the cause of Christian education.

Prayer and Visitation Win Souls at Butler

IN the finishing of His work God uses faithful laymen. Eighteen months ago three dedicated men determined to raise up a church in the "dark" county of Butler in West Pennsylvania. Already a successful branch Sabbath school had been established and with intense visitation, prayer, and hard work, a small church of 19 was organized. Now there are 25 more people who are definitely interested in the message, 11 of whom attend church on the Sabbath. This work is done by prayer and visitation on the part of the members.

Why not stop by on prayer-meeting night? You hear that the burden of prayer is "for the souls around us," and "for those who are taking Bible studies." Now you see the power of prayer. One of the interested visitors asks that the church pray for him so that he may overcome the cigarette habit. The church members all kneel around him, each member praying for the victory. The petitioner arises from his knees with a look of triumph on his face, saying "I'll never go back to them again!" That is how the work goes forth—by prayer and visitation.

For the fall evangelistic program each member has pledged himself to interest one more person in the truth and to flood the county with Voice of Prophecy enrollment cards. Within two weeks the elder of the church contacted a neighboring family and brought them to church; a family of eight were visited with whom the pastor is now studying; the Sabbath school superintendent planned a branch Sabbath school in a nearby village; one of the young people brought his friend to church and the Home Missionary Leader is diligently leading the church to spread the truth "in every lane and byway." A common request to the pastor is: "Will you visit an interest I have?"

Yes, the best way to spread the truth, especially in these more difficult areas, is for the laymen to pray and visit.

Mt. Aetna Camps Attended by 383

A TOTAL of 383 boys and girls had the privilege of attending camp at Mt. Aetna this summer. Since Elder Tyson was on a trip to Europe and the Holy Lands he was unable to attend the camps this summer, so one of the features each night around the campfire was a letter from Elder Tyson telling about places of special interest he had visited.

Elder R. E. Hamilton was camp director and was assisted by Robert Skeggs. Mrs. Elizabeth Joost and Mrs. Generva Richardson were the camp nurses. They cared for many insect bites, poison ivy, and other minor health problems.

The teen-age boys and girls will remember hiking to Black Rock. Rain early in the day failed to dampen their spirits.

Even though it rained most of the week, the juniors kept things moving. Many of them passed their requirements for an honor in beginning swimming. A number of juniors received honors in trees and shrubs.

Mr. Chauncey Laubach taught nature classes at each camp. He arranged a trip to the fish hatcheries for the primary children.

Craft classes were taught at each camp. The children had a variety of crafts to choose from. Some of these were basketry, leather, suji, model planes and boats, plaster of Paris, and bird models.

Each night the camp pastor brought to the children a message from God's Word. I am sure that after being at camp each child felt he had been drawn closer to God and to the things He has created.

Did your child attend one of the camps? If not, it is not too early to begin planning for next year.

Chesapeake Sponsors Clothing Drive

AFTER making a trip by van to the churches in the Chesapeake Conference and picking up the boxes prepared by the Dorcas societies we had five tons of clothing to deliver to the New York Welfare Depot.

Upon arrival in New York I was cordially welcomed by J. C. Christenson, manager of the eastern warehouse. Both he and his wife were overjoyed as they viewed the 243 boxes sent by the churches and especially the 32 one-hundred pound bales prepared by the Charles Town Church.

This was my first trip to the warehouse and I was anxious to find out just how the clothing was processed for overseas shipment. I learned that about 90 per cent of the clothing received was in first-grade condition. The other 10 per cent passed as second grade; however, that also was sent overseas. I learned, too, that no clothing was ever discarded to be burned.

My heart was filled with joy when I realized that the clothes prepared by our churches completed the shipment to be sent to a country that could receive gift clothing only three times a year. The ship going to this particular country was leaving New York just a few days hence.

Since there is such a demand for clothing overseas it is our hope that the church members will soon prepare another load for shipment.

STUDENT leaders elected to positions last spring have taken office in campus organizations.

Don Ortner, senior zoology major, has assumed the presidency of the Students' Association. His home is Ormond Beach, Fla., where his father is a minister.

Assisting Mr. Ortner is Marlin Mathiesen, a Pittsboro, N. C., senior. Mr. Mathiesen last month returned from Mexico after a summer there as a missionary apprentice. Betty Eldridge, Orlando, Fla., is the Association's secretary, while Bill Ford of Takoma Park and Dick O'ffill of Newark, Ohio, are treasurer and pastor, respectively.

The weekly news publication, the SLIGONIAN, is being edited this year by Roger Hammill, Takoma Park senior. A religion major, Mr. Hammill is assisted by Charles Wilkens of Maryland, Md., and David Walther of Takoma Park.

Serving as editor of the Golden Memories, College yearbook, is Lester Mohr, a chemistry major of Takoma Park. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Mohr. Professor Mohr is chairman of the Physics Department here. Betty Eldridge, a sophomore, is assisting Mr. Mohr.

The office of the Dean of Student Affairs is expected to release a complete list of other campus leaders. At least one out of eight students at W.M.C. holds an office in a campus club or organization of the Students' Association.

is among your Jewish friends, many of whom are friendly to Adventists. We have several things in common, such as the Sabbath, religious liberty, our views on calendar reform, and the matter of clean meats. Make your contacts with them more effective by sending the Israelite, a magazine especially designed to interest the Hebrew mind in the message for this time. For only $1.00 you can send this specialized journal, the Israelite, to one address for a whole year. Why not fill in the coupon below now and send it with $1.00 to your Book and Bible House?

Enclosed is $1.00. Please send one year's subscription of the "ISRAELITE" to:

EVANGELISM

in the Columbia Union Conference

Soul Winning in Charleston, W. Va., Area

THE following is a very interesting story sent to our office by Elder Glenn Sharman, Pastor of the Charleston, West Va., Church. We are sharing it with our VISITOR readers as it shows the way the Lord is leading in our evangelistic and soul-winning program:

"Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the Lord, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks" (Jeremiah 16:16). Before God sends His hunters and fishers to execute judgment He sends his fishers of men to bring salvation.

About 60 miles from Charleston, W. Va., is the town of Indore. Although unknown to chorographers, its three or four buildings nestle proudly amidst the breath-taking grandeur of some of West Virginia's most lovely mountains. A few miles from Indore, on Sycamore Creek, lives Mrs. Pauline Osborne. Her first knowledge of this truth was from a radio program conducted by S. R. Jayne who was the pastor in Charleston. After taking the Voice of Prophecy Bible Course she accepted the message and for the past six years, although 60 miles from the nearest church, has remained faithful.

Last summer Mrs. Lillian Lippincott, Bible Instructor; Katie Geissinger, Home Division Leader; and Elder Glenn Sharman, Charleston pastor, made arrangements during a visit to begin a branch Sabbath school at Mrs. Osborne's home and prayed that the next Sabbath someone would come.

Some years previously Dewey DeBoard, a Seventh-day Adventist in Kentucky, felt a burden in his heart for his relatives who lived in West Virginia near a little town called Indore. Mrs. Osborne was unaware of the fact that week after week literature, Bible course enrollments, and later Voice of Prophecy Bible School lessons were being delivered at several homes in a nearby valley just over the mountain from her home. As the warm spring air brought sleeping nature to glorious life in her valley, so the warming influence of the Holy Spirit was at work in the adjoining valley, awakening hearts to new life.

On the same day that the branch Sabbath school was organized a visit was made to determine the interest of a certain Emma DeBoard who had just completed a Bible course. To reach the home we had to ford Sycamore Creek nine times. We were amazed when, after a brief introduction, Mrs. DeBoard stated, "I'm a Seventh-day Adventist." Skeptical at first, we began asking questions and were surprised at her familiarity with the truths of the advent message. She gladly accepted our invitation to attend the branch Sabbath school.

As the weeks passed Mrs. DeBoard brought more and more of the members of her large family to Sabbath school. Soon the house was too small to accommodate the crowd and Sabbath school was moved out under the trees. Benches were made by placing boards on nail kegs. The children's department, under the able direction of Katie Geissinger, was organized under the trees on the other side of the yard. The attendance grew until about 60 were present each week. Only twice during a rainy summer and fall was it necessary to move inside.

We shall never forget the thrill of sitting with those dear people out under the trees beside a beautiful mountain stream, unfolding to them the wonderful words of life.

One year has passed. Now there are 20 baptized members and the flickering flame that burned on Sycamore Creek has become a blazing beacon! The DeBoards are still sitting on boards outdoors at Indore. But not for long. With the help of
