June 21-25, 1960, at Atlantic City

Information Released on Congress Housing

You will find on the back page of this issue of the VISITOR an application for sleeping-room accommodations in Atlantic City, N. J., for the North American Youth Congress, June 21-25, 1960. Forms for non-delegates have been sent to the various churches from the office of the local conference MV Departments. These forms may not reach all who would desire them, however, so it was decided to place a non-delegate application form in the VISITOR. Those who are regular delegates will receive a special reservation form from their local conference MV Secretary.

There appears on page 11 of this issue a listing of all hotels and motels participating in the Congress housing plan. We believe the prices are exceptionally good for this time of year. Be sure to fill in your desires by giving first, second, third choice, etc., then designate the type of accommodations you wish. It is also necessary to give your arrival and departure dates. When you have finished filling out the form, tear the entire page from the VISITOR and mail directly to: Youth Congress Housing Bureau, 16 Central Pier, Atlantic City, N. J. You need not send a deposit with this form. The hotel or motel that accepts your reservation will contact you and will, no doubt, ask for a day's rate as a deposit.

Please look after your reservation as soon as possible. Most of the hotels and motels have requested that reservations reach them by May 15.

By E. M. Peterson

MV Secretary, Columbia Union Conference

After that date they will not hold space for those planning to attend the Congress. If weather is good, last-minute reservations may be hard to obtain.

If you have any questions, please contact your local conference MV Department, or the Columbia Union Conference MV Department.

Special Civil Defense Course For Seventh-day Adventists

A civil defense training course, planned especially for Seventh-day Adventists, was made available to the Columbia Union and Atlantic Union Conferences by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, at the Eastern Instructor Training Center in Brooklyn, N. Y., March 6-10, with 100 delegates in attendance. Dr. Fred W. Kern, director of the Religious Affairs Office for OCDM, with his staff, planned this special course. He was ably assisted by Howard B. Forbes, director of the Eastern Instructor Training Center. We were very happy to have the privilege of working with H. K. Halladay, director of Civil Defense for the Columbia Union Conference, in planning for this meeting. We were also privileged to have Ernest Edwards and Maybelle Vandermark of the Civil Defense Department of the General Conference present.

We felt that we had, as delegates, a most representative group of ministers and church Civil Defense leaders from both conferences and we believe that those in charge of the course were pleased with the diligent effort put forth.

So many of our people wanted to take these classes that arrangements have been made with the Eastern Instructor Training Center in Brooklyn, N. Y., to have another such course for those who could not be present at this one. The date set for this is Sunday, May 22, through Thursday, May 26. We are hoping that all the workers and Civil Defense leaders in our churches who are desirous of receiving the factual information and outstanding material given in this course will plan to be present. A quota has been assigned to each conference to be worked out with the conference Home Missionary Secretary who is the Civil Defense director for the conference.

LEMUEL E. ESTEB Director, Civil Defense, Atlantic Union Conference

No. 16

WILLIAM H. JONES, 71, a former official of the Potomac Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, died Friday morning, April 8, at the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital, Takoma Park, Md., after a prolonged illness.

He retired on June 30, 1959, after having served the Adventist denomination as a secretary-treasurer for 44 years. At the time of his retirement from active service he was Secretary-Treasurer of the Potomac Conference with headquarters at Staunton, Va.

Born in Pittsburgh, Pa., Mr. Jones began work for the denomination in 1915. His first post was in Richmond, Va., where he was a Bible instructor and Home Missionary Secretary of the Virginia Conference.

During the years 1917 to 1922 he was Secretary-Treasurer and Manager of the Book and Bible House of the Virginia Conference. In 1920, while serving in Richmond, Va., he was married to Louise Cousins who was a secretary in the church office.

In 1922 Mr. Jones was called to Baltimore, Md., to serve as Secretary-Treasurer of the Chesapeake Conference. Two years later he accepted a call to the East Pennsylvania Conference where he served as Secretary-Treasurer and Manager of the Book and Bible House.

From 1932 to 1938 he continued to work in this dual capacity in the New Jersey Conference. In 1938 he returned to the East Pennsylvania Conference with the single post of Secretary-Treasurer.

In 1944 Mr. Jones was called to the Greater Washington area to serve as Secretary-Treasurer of the Potomac Conference, a post he held until the time of his retirement last year.

He lived in Washington until 1955 when the Conference office was moved from Takoma Park, Md., to Staunton, Va.

In recognition of his 19 years of service in behalf of the church in Virginia, the Board of Trustees of Shenandoah Valley Academy, New Market, Va., named a new dining hall in his honor.

For the past 10 months Mr. and Mrs. Jones have resided at 1415 N. Hudson Street, Arlington, Va.

He is survived by his widow, Louise Jones, and many friends. Funeral services were conducted April 11 in the Takoma Park Seventh-day Adventist Church. Services were conducted by Clinton J. Coon, retired President of the Potomac Conference, under whom Mr. Jones worked for many years in Washington, D. C., and in Virginia. Burial was in George Washington Cemetery.

Manager Appointed by Furniture Concern

CLIFTON LAWSON of Willoughby, Ohio, has been appointed General Manager of Ecclesiastical Furniture, Inc., Corry, Pa. Mr. Lawson has had a wealth of experience. He served in supervision with Fisher Body, a division of General Motors, for 21 years. Twelve years ago when his job came in conflict with his desire to worship God on the Sabbath, he resigned. For the past 12 years he has served as a partner in an advertising business in Cleveland, Ohio. He is presently a member of the Willoughby Church. His experience in business and employee relations will prove to be a real asset to this organization.

As this company continues to grow under the blessing of God, it becomes more and more apparent that more qualified men are needed. We are thankful that the Lord has supplied us with a devoted man like Mr. Lawson.

How to Accomplish The Impossible

HAVE you ever wistfully asked yourself when it will be possible to accomplish the impossible in life? Thousands have a secret desire to accomplish some objective that apparently is impossible. In the April issue of These Times magazine Arnold V. Wallenkampf, Professor of Religion at the College of Medical Evangelists, has outlined a short formula for the achievement of the impossible. You will be interested in the methods that are outlined.

Governor Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon portrays the secret of "The Truly Satisfying Life" as he indicates that without Christ life is only a mockery. Hatfield, who is one of the youngest governors of the United States, says that in his own experience he has found that spiritual growth and personal development have been greatly enhanced by centering life around Christ's redemptive power.

Heaven's location and what it has to offer have been talked of for centuries. Evangelist John L. Shuler gives a beautiful portrayal of the kingdom of God and the glories which it has to offer. He reveals that heaven is a definite, specific place where God's people will long enjoy the privilege of blessed association with Christ.

A central theme in April is the story of the resurrection. Ellen G. White has written a gripping account of the rolling away of that stone 2,000 years ago and the emergence of Christ from the bonds of death.

Hot cross buns and rabbits are not modern in their symbolism of Easter, as some people think. They date back for centuries. Donald W. Mc-Kay depicts the origin of Easter customs and their significance both yesterday and today.

In addition to these interesting, appealing articles, there are the usual regular features, including H. M. S. Richards' pastoral counsel and advice; "Apples of Gold," which contains pithy gems and sayings; the medical column; and others.

The Child in the Home

"THE presence of a child in a home sweetens and refines. A child brought up in the fear of the Lord is a blessing in any household."-Adventist Home, p. 160.

If we are to be "rulers over many things" in the life to come, we must practice God's plan of rulership here on this earth. What better subjects could we have than our own children?

"Children are committed to their parents as a precious trust, which God will one day require at their hands. We should give to their training more time, more care and more prayer. They need more of the right kind of instruction."-Review and Herald, June 13, 1882.

"The Little Child That Believes in Christ Is as Precious in His Sight as Are the Angels About His Throne."-Adventist Home, p. 279.

These babies come to us with no bad habits to overcome, no mistakes or errors to correct. They learn to do what we do, to say what we say, to react to situations as we react.

"What the parents are, that, to a great extent, the children will be." -Ministry of Healing, p. 371.

In a very short time that infant has become a child and is beginning to contribute to the success of the family. His greatest contributions are made in obeying cheerfully, loving wholeheartedly, playing enthusiastically, working eagerly, eating happily, sleeping adequately, bathing sufficiently, helping willingly, smiling frequently, and praying lovingly.

"The value of a song as a means of education should never be lost sight of. Let there be singing in the home. of songs that are sweet and pure, and there will be fewer words of censure, and more of cheerfulness and hope and joy."-Education, p. 168.

"With a song, Jesus in His earthly life met temptation. Often when sharp, stinging words were spoken, often when the atmosphere about Him was heavy with gloom, with dissatisfaction, distrust, or oppressive fear, was heard His song of faith and holy cheer."-Education, p. 166.

"Faith for Today" to Be In Youngstown District

THE Faith for Today TV group from New York City will be making personal appearances in Youngstown, Ohio, on the week end of April 22 and 23, Elder M. W. Sickler, Pastor, reports.

W. A. Fagal

The group will be seen first on Friday night, April 22, at 7:30 o'clock. They will have the 11:00 o'clock service on Sabbath morning, and on Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock Elder W. A. Fagal will show his color motion pictures of his trip to the Middle East.

Appearing with Elder Fagal, the speaker and director, will be the male quartet.

All members in the northeastern section of the Ohio Conference have been invited to attend these meetings. The newly purchased Youngstown Church is located at Market and Earle Avenues.

Thirty-six Complete Lakewood Leadercraft Course

THE enthusiasm of the Lakewood MV Society resulted in a group of 36 members' completing the Leadercraft Course. Elder Warren Wittenberg, Conference MV Secretary, conducted a very inspiring course, setting forth new goals for youth leaders. He was assisted by Dan Burrow, Clarence Dunbebin, Alice Utley, and Walter Newbrander. During the leadercraft course baby-sitting was provided by the church's teen-age club.

The MV Society, under the direction of August Ronay, has been sponsoring an active Master Guide program this year. Progressive classes have been incorporated into the MV program plans. It is the hope of the Society members that they will be able to take part in a large investiture service sometime during the summer.

Middletown Completes Ingathering Campaign

THE Middletown Church, though comparatively small in numbers, completed a most successful Ingathering campaign, under the able direction of Walter Smith, Missionary Leader. The group reached its financial goal before Christmas, later receipts having brought the average solicitations to over $25 a member. The Pastor, Elder Mowry, gave most efficient support.

Sunday Morning . . .

"You can't get me up early on a Sunday morning because it is the only time I can sleep in," was the remark made by one of the parents of some children in the Toledo district.

Of course, this remark was only overheard, but it reflected the feeling of many of the parents. Little did some parents realize that on Sunday morning, March 6, a meeting of the newly organized Pathfinders' Club leaders was called by Elder Haase, the District Pastor, and not for the purpose of adding to the hours of some Pathfinders' parents' sleep.

The first meeting was given good publicity by church and school leaders and when Mrs. Yeagley, the school principal, arrived to open the school early on Sunday morning, he found many children already eagerly waiting for the meeting to begin.

The following leaders were chosen: leader, Fred Stauffer, assistant minister; Mr. Geach, boys' program coordinator; and Mrs. Russell Wall, girls' program coordinator. An excellent staff of more than 12 leaders, including two busy doctors, are freely and happily giving of their time and skill to educate and interest our young people in true recreation.

Rumor has it that some boys and girls give their parents rest neither day nor night until they promise to get up on Sunday morning and take them to the Pathfinder meetings.

At present more than 95 per cent of those from our school who are old enough to attend Pathfinders meetings are regularly attending. Transportation seems to be the problem of the other five per cent. I might add that the time seems too short for both the leaders and Pathfinders, and when the time arrives for the meetings to close much reluctance is

Farewell and Welcome

It is indeed with regret that I must announce to our people that E. M. Hagele, Conference Secretary-Treasurer and Book and Bible House Manager, is leaving the West Virginia Conference. He has accepted an invitation from the East Pennsylvania Conference to serve as their Conference Secretary-Treasurer. We shall miss Brother and Sister Hagele and Bonnie.

We have greatly appreciated the friendliness, faithfulness, and loyal support of the Hagele family in connection with our Conference program during their short stay. They have endeared themselves to the office staff, to the workers, and to the entire field. Our best wishes and prayers go with them as they leave our conference.

Giving consideration to filling this vacancy, the Conference Committee met with the Columbia Union Conference officers and after careful and prayerful consideration voted to call W. H. Smith, the Ohio Conference Book and Bible House Manager, as the West Virginia Conference Secretary-Treasurer and Book and Bible House Manager.

Brother Smith has had many years in denominational business accounting and finance, having served in Ohio approximately five years, and previous to this he served in the New Jersey Conference in the same capacity. Before his employment by the New Jersey Conference he had experience in banking finance. We feel that Brother Smith is well qualified to handle the Conference finances.

W. H. Smith New Secretary-Treasurer

We welcome Brother and Sister Smith and Linda to the wonderful West Virginia Conference. Brother Smith will arrive May 1 to take over his duties.

• THE Conference office was host to the Wood County Ministerial alliance meeting on Tuesday, April 5. The invitation for this meeting and luncheon was extended by Elder A. J. Patzer, Conference President who is a member of this ministerial group in Parkersburg. More than twenty clergymen responded to the invitation. A fine spirit of fellowship was evident as the ministers took a tour of the office. Expressions of appreciation were made by the group for this opportunity of Christian fellowship and to see our books and take our literature. Elder F. J. Kinsey, Conference Home Missionary Secretary, is the Treasurer of this ministerial group. Mrs. A. J. Patzer prepared the luncheon and she was assisted in serving this fine group of Protestant ministers by the office secretaries, Mrs. Glenn Cox, Mrs. May Hardman, and Anita Collins.

• L. A. Bierlien, Conference publishing leader, is busy arranging his summer program for student colporteurs from Washington Missionary College and Mount Vernon Academy, All indications point to a successful summer student program with perhaps twelve young people taking advantage of the summer months in earning scholarships for next year's tuition.

• David Kinsey has just returned from S.V.A. to begin canvassing for a college scholarship. David graduated last year but returned this year to be employed in the maintenance department of the school and to act as junior adviser on the school paper and photographer for the school annual.

• Elder J. H. Lantry, Conference MV leader, reports that 12 individuals have completed the MV Leadercraft Course, which he conducted in Parkersburg. The next training course will be conducted in Huntington on the week end of April 23.

J. N. Andrews School To Expand Facilities

THE John Nevins Andrews Elementary School, with a present enrollment of approximately 400 pupils, will be expanded to accommodate a capacity of 500 students. The new addition includes five new rooms, a library, and a gymnasium. Approximately one acre of additional land will be purchased to enlarge the present playground.

A breakdown of the financial budget to underwrite the total project is as follows: building, $120,000; land, $10,000; equipment, $5,000; total cost, $135,000.

To underwrite the above budget it is recommended that the seven supporting churches and the Potomac Conference contribute as follows: churches, $100,000; Potomac Conference, $35,000; total funds, $135,000.

The seven supporting churches, namely, Capital Memorial, Garrett Park, Hyattsville, Sanitarium, Silver Spring, Takoma Park, and Wheaton, will launch this building-fund drive in April and complete the fund raising by October, thus reaching the goal within the six months of this year. The Conference will appropriate from 1961 funds the amount of $35,000, thus making available the funds necessary to complete this project.

At a meeting on March 20 of the seven churches and their representatives, the general building plan for expanding J.N.A. was approved and architectural drawings and specifications were authorized. The construction work will proceed when funds are available.

As the pastors of these seven churches launch this campaign to enlarge J.N.A., let every member pray and give of his earnings to this very worthy project—an investment in the character training and Christian education of every Adventist child. All gifts to schools are deductible from income tax.

The cost of the project is approximately $50 for each church member. In what better place can any Adventist invest the small amount of $50 in the character education of an Adventist boy or girl? I commend this J.N.A. expansion project to the serious support and cooperation of everyone. Let us rise up and quickly build these needed facilities.

H. J. CAPMAN

Servicemen's Literature Offering, May 14

ALL of us, I am sure, are proud of the way most of our young men have stood for the truth of God while in the armed services. The majority of our young men have been ready and willing, if need be, to die for their faith.

On Sabbath, May 14, we shall be able to show our men who are still in the service our appreciation by giving a very liberal offering when the Servicemen's Literature Offering is received. We must help these men by providing them with good literature. Our aim is to send each Seventh-day Adventist serviceman the Youth's Instructor, Review and Herald, Sabbath School Quarterly, These Times, Listen, and "Share Your Faith" literature for missionary work.

This offering comes only once every two years. It costs $25 to send this literature to a serviceman for this period of time. Many express their appreciation and several state that they are in the Seventh-day Adventist Church today because of the supply of literature sent to them. They are our boys. Let us keep them well supplied with our church papers.

E. FRANK SHERRILL War Service Secretary

Takoma Park Launches School Expansion Project

PLANS were announced in the Takoma Park Church on Sabbath, April 9, for the enlargement of the John Nevins Andrews School in order to relieve crowded classroom conditions and also provide space for a much needed library and a multi-purpose room to be used for a gymnasium and for gatherings which can be held there better than in a church.

Plans also have been laid by each of the six constituent churches of the school to participate in this cooperative project.

On Friday night, April 8, the students of John Nevins Andrews School presented the annual Spring Festival of Music program. Prior to the announcement on Sabbath morning of the expansion project, choral and choir groups presented appropriate numbers and three children presented sermonettes. Ronald Geraty, eighth grader in charge of the church missionary service, said that more than 600 of the children attending the John Nevins Andrews School were baptized during the time they were students at the school, since the school opened in 1938 at its present location-117 Elm Avenue, Takoma Park. During the present school year the school has raised over two thousand dollars through Ingathering. Currently there are 14 full-time teachers and five part-time teachers on the staff, with 381 students. To date 734 have graduated from J.N.A. In closing his remarks, Ronald asked, "All we request of you is your love, your guidance, and a Christian education."

Franklin Schneider, chairman of the building committee, stated, "The best place to invest our money is in our children . . . in securing for them a Christian education which will prepare them for life now and hereafter. I am a businessman," he said, "looking at this not from a theological point of view, but from a logical point of view—though it is right any way you look at it."

Philadelphia "It Is Written" Evangelistic Meetings

JUST how to reach the teeming millions of America's fourth largest city is a question of tremendous importance. At the same time it places upon those who must try to evangelize this large center an overwhelming sense of responsibility that cannot be easily cast off.

The Bible record reveals to us that the Christian duty of Christ's followers is to teach and preach the gospel, yet in such an area of hurried, busy, and indifferent people one seems to come to an impossible challenge where the only ray of hope is the Lord's promise, "Lo I am with you even unto the end of the world."

The "It Is Written telecast" in cooperation with the East Pennsylvania Conference is presently attempting once more to reach the masses of Philadelphia. Meetings are scheduled every Sunday night through May 8 in the center city

Town Hall Auditorium located on Broad Street. Identical messages are presented at three other Philadelphia locations:

- Wednesday night, 7:45, Philadelphia Boulevard S.D.A. Church, 8437 Roosevelt Boulevard
- Thursday night, 7:45, Chestnut Hill S.D.A. Church, Corner Rex and Germantown Avenues
- Friday night, 7:45, Woman's Club, Swarthmore

This gives Philadelphia people the chance to hear two messages each week from George E. Vandeman, "It Is Written," speaker in a location near their homes.

The meetings for the next few weeks are listed as follows:

April 20-22, Boulevard, Chestnut Hill, Woman's Club-"When the Sabbath Was Changed."

April 24, Town Hall-"Why So Many Denominations."

April 27-29, Boulevard, Chestnut Hill, Woman's Club-"Psychic Masquerade."

May 1, Town Hall-"My Personal Confession of Faith."

May 4-6, Boulevard, Chestnut Hill, Woman's Club---- "When No Man Can Buy or Sell."

Correction—Air Force Band To Play at Mechanicsburg

Recently the "Visitor" published a notice stating that the Air Force Band would play at York, Pa. This was an error. The band is to play at Mechanicsburg, a suburb of Harrisburg, on April 24. We regret this mistake. The copy of the article sent to the "Visitor" stated that the auditorium in which the band is to play seats 600. We are advised that this should have read 1500. -Editor.

May 8, Town Hall-"Behold the Man."

We are anxious that all Adventists in the Philadelphia area will take advantage of efforts being put forward in behalf of the Philadelphia churches and cooperate by personally attending the meetings and bringing friends as far as driving distance will allow.

Elder Vandeman will personally greet you and answer questions about the Christian faith.

The opening meeting was practically rained out, but even then more than 500 people attended the central city meeting in Town Hall. Meetings of this nature require more effort

Plainfield Concert Set For 8:30 P.M.

ELDER John A. Toop, welfare director of the New Jersey Conference, has announced that the Plainfield, N. J., concert on April 30 will begin at 8:30 P.M. instead of 8:00 P.M. because of the fact that Daylight Saving Time will be in effect at that time.

The first of two concerts will be held this Saturday night, April 23, at Glassboro, N. J., High School Auditorium, beginning at 8:00 o'clock. The April 30 concert will be held at the Plainfield, N. J., High School Auditorium.

Guest artists will be Marilyn Dillow Cotton, the Peterson brothers, and the Trumpeteers, all from Washington, D. C.

The concerts will be for the benefit of the Conference welfare fund, says Elder Toop, and will help pay for the new welfare mobile unit and also assist in the construction of a new welfare depot at Kingston.

Tickets are available at the door. Come and bring a friend.

Servicemen's Day, May 14

THE Trenton Seventh-day Adventist Church, located close by one of the world's largest military posts, is host to many servicemen every Sabbath. Others attend the Burlington Church and gladly take part in the church activities. Twenty-five servicemen have been attending six of our churches regularly.

Dr. Richard Macri, a dentist at Mc-Guire Air Force Base and former resident of Chicago, Ill., directs the youth activities of the Trenton Missionary Volunteer Society. In addition to his church work he distributes literature to interested servicemen at McGuire Air Force Base. This literature is provided by Pastor Everett D. Calkins and his church.

Captain Milton Miller, Ph.D., assists Dr. Macri in the distribution of literature and in contacting Adventist servicemen at Fort Dix, military reservation for enlisted men.

"The denomination can point with pride," states Elder Derrell K. Smith, Missionary Volunteer Secretary of the New Jersey Conference, "to our servicemen, who by consistent Christian living uphold the standards of the church in one of the world's most crucial hours of political history."

The Mid-Winter New Jersey Youth Congress, under the sponsorship of the New Jersey Conference MV Department, reports many servicemen as guests for dinner in the two-day parley at the city's spacious War Memorial Building.

Elder Theodore E. Lucas, guest speaker at the Congress, appealed to the young people in military service to accept the challenge of the hour as he stated, "The world must see Jesus in you."

Captain Richard Macri, Trenton youth leader, asserts, "Most Adventist young men are noncombatants and in order to serve their country better, over 20,000 men have received their basic training in about 50 training units operated by the church within the past six years."

The servicemen's literature is provided by a special offering from all our church members. This offering is received only once in two years. It takes $25 to keep one serviceman supplied for two years. This offering is scheduled for May 14 this year.

Our young men appreciate the help thus provided. Their testimonials bear eloquent testimony to this fact.

Better still, the servicemen's literature helps them to know their Saviour and accept Him fully. Just recently three young men from Fort Dix were baptized and became members of the church.

Let us plan to bring a liberal contribution on May 14 for the "Servicemen's Literature Offering." They are our boys!

Missionary Returns From Africa

ELDER Richard Winfred Simons, Adventist missionary to the West Coast of Africa, has returned to the United States after serving seven and one half years.

Pastor Simons arrived at Idlewild, N. Y., from Accra, Ghana, a stopover from East Nigeria.

Elder Simons' brother, Donald B. Simons, is the Home Missionary and Sabbath School Secretary of the Allegheny Conference at Pine Forge, Pa. The former was Treasurer of the Liberian Mission for five years and Treasurer of the East Nigerian Mission for the past two and one half years.

East Nigeria has a membership of 10,000-35 schools and 70 organized churches.

Elder Simons stopped at Ilishan, Nigeria, site of the new College of West Africa. The Simons family have been in Wisconsin with his parents since last summer.

Pastor Simons said he drove his Volkswagen over the rough terrain in Africa for two years and covered over 29,000 miles. He plans to remain in the United States.

Brooklyn Sabbath School Evangelism

"SINCE we all have 168 hours each week, we all ought to be able to use at least one hour a week for soul winning." So reasoned the Brooklyn Sabbath School members recently as they launched a program of united evangelism.

The teachers are coordinating the various projects of their class members and keeping them supplied with literature and names to visit. Seventy-five per cent of the members are now working at least one hour a week for the Lord. Not all are doing the same thing. Some are visiting interested folk or giving Bible studies, others are mailing out Faith for Today enrollment cards, and Questions on Doctrine is being mailed to the

Program Scheduled at Spencerville School

WHERE: Spencerville Junior Academy gymnasium, corner of Good Hope and Spencerville Roads, Spencerville, Md.

WHEN: Sunday, April 24, 8:00 P.M.

WHAT: Repeat performance of "Ye Ole Country Store." Musical variety with country humor.

Admission: adults, 75c; children, 50c Refreshments will be on sale.

The high light of the morning was the launching of the Investment program with Anne Valles as leader. A beautiful evergreen tree had been placed on the platform by the superintendent, and by pre-arrangement the Sabbath school members marched, while singing, around the tree, clipping dollar bills and silver pieces to the branches. What a beautiful sight to see these Investment dollars mount up to over $35. A list was then made of those who had decided on their project for the year. Following this, 12 25-cent pieces were given out to those who would invest them with God as a Silent Partner and a prayer of dedication was offered.

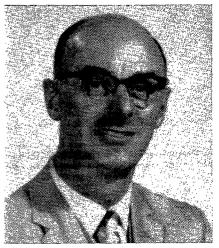

A report will be called for regularly concerning the methods used and the finance gained. Truly the Tekoa Sabbath School is expecting to do great things for God in 1960! ANNE C. VALLES ministers in the area. Tracts are distributed by some Sabbath school members in the places where they work.

Much of this activity overlaps with the various bands which the church already had functioning, such as the Bible Study Band. It is interesting to note that since the Sabbath school began the united evangelism, the membership of the Bible Study Band has doubled—50 per cent of the adult members are now either giving Bible studies or training to give studies by taking the Light Bearer's Course.

Spencerville Teacher at White House Conference

Cyril Futcher, ninth- and 10th-grade teacher at Spencerville Junior Academy, was nominated to attend the President's Golden Jubilee White House Conference on Children and Youth, which was held March 27 through April 1.

This adventure in Sabbath school evangelism is a special program with the end planned from the beginning. It will culminate about the same time that the members of the Community Bible School which Pastor Dahlberg is conducting will be "graduating." Eight weeks of concentrated effort will reach the climax in May, when Elder A. B. Butler will hold a short series of meetings in Brooklyn.

Centerville Meetings Completed

On February 6 a series of Bible truth evangelistic meetings was opened in Centerville by Elder D. T. Burke and Glenn Shafer with about 200 in attendance. Each night moving pictures were shown on the "Life of Jesus" for the first part of the meetings and the "Life of Paul" for the last part.

The sermons, which covered all the major doctrines of the Adventist faith, were illustrated with color pictures and held the interest of members and non-members alike. In all there were 19 subjects presented, only two nights being missed because of bad weather. On some nights there were as many as 40 nonmembers present. Some in attendance came as far as 40 miles. Enthusiastic congregational singing was under the direction of Glenn Shafer, Associate Pastor of the district.

On Friday night, March 11, the closing meeting was held with about 175 present to hear an inspirational sermon on "The Test of True Discipleship." Several have shown interest throughout the series and already Bible studies have been arranged with families.

We ask your prayers that a good number will embrace the truth and be ready for the Lord's soon return. DELMAR T. BURKE

Pastor

Correction

RECENTLY there appeared in the VISITOR an article concerning the constituency meeting of the Chesapeake Conference. In listing the Conference Executive Committee, one name was omitted.

The name of Elder Glenn Smith should have been added to the list of members on the Executive Committee. We are sorry for this omission.

COLUMBIA UNION VISITOR

Music Festival Is Host To Academy Bands

SEVEN Columbia Union Conference academies with over 200 bandsmen representing them participated in the annual music festival held here April 8 and 9. Four full bands and three ensembles from the secondary schools began arriving Thursday, April 7. The first rehearsal was on Friday morning.

The instrumentalists performed in services throughout the week end and staged a secular finale on Saturday night when the 200-member mass band, including the College concert group, performed.

Ray Couden, Mount Vernon Academy music instructor, headed the festival committee. Local coordinators were William Loveless, Takoma Academy band director, and
