Literature Evangelist Rally Day Set

LITERATURE evangelists have opportunity to sow beside all waters. They sell the books which give knowledge and truth. They are doing the work of God, using their talents to the glory of heaven. God has promised to be with everyone who seeks to understand the truth that he may set it before others in a clear, understanding manner.

To the whole world, to men and women everywhere, to our friends and neighbors who live about us God desires to speak clearly in the following message: "The Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely" (Revelation 22:17). There is no time for delay. Signs all about us give evidence of the imminent return of Jesus to our world to gather His people.

The Publishing Department of the Columbia Union Conference has scheduled September 10-13, 1961, for a Special Training School for men and women of the Columbia Union Conference territory who feel called to this type of house-to-house ministry. Those interested should get in touch with their local Publishing Department Secretary.

The Lord is blessing the literature evangelists of the Columbia Union Conference territory as they seek the lost sheep of the house of God which are scattered abroad in every place. Men and women of the church are responding to the call and are coming from all over the Columbia Union Conference into the work of God before the hour of probation closes. Many individuals are being baptized into the church as a result of the unannounced visits of the faithful church member who has become a literature evangelist, devoting his talents and capabilities to the winning of souls. "... he that winneth souls is wise" (Proverbs 11:30).

These men and women are conscious of the fact that the books they handle are filled with truth concerning redemption. The literature evangelists of the Columbia Union Conference have asked me to convey their request to you to join them in the onward march of literature evangelism that every home might be visited, that every family might be invited to drink of the water of life freely.

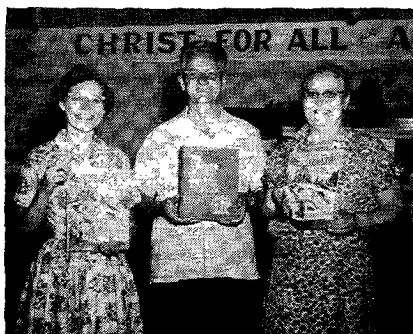

The call to service is a call to those who have fallen upon the rock and are broken, whose hearts have been opened and are now filled with the Spirit of Christ. The call is for men and women who are willing to separate themselves from secular employment to give all that they have in this life—their strength, their talents, and capabilities—to the gathering together of men and women who would be saved. This invitation is to you.

Success is promised. We live as in the sight of heaven. The canvasser who will handle the books bearing precious truth will find strength for his own soul. He will find it necessary to drink of the Spirit of these books himself, thus he will find it easier to put his whole soul into presenting the truth contained in the books to the people he meets from day to day. His strength and courage will increase in service and success will be his.

I invite you to visit the literature evangelists of your church and ask them to tell you some of the soul-winning experiences that they have and enjoy from day to day in their work. Following are a few brief stories of conversions from the printed page here in the Columbia Union Conference.

called at a delicatessen. The man there purchased a copy of Life and Health, and asked Mrs. Manzano to bring him a copy of The Great Controversy when she came back next month. When Mrs. Manzano delivered the copy of The Great Controversy, she asked the man how he knew about the book. He told her he had been reared a Seventh-day Adventist, but had left the church many, many years ago. She talked to him about coming back to church, and he said that if he could sell his place of business he would.

"Mrs. Manzano's husband, who is the minister in that district, began to visit this couple. After a few weeks an evangelistic effort was held in the area, and these folk attended. Also during this time the Lord helped Mr. Lentz sell his place of business, and on the day that Mr. and Mrs. Lentz were baptized he paid $250 in tithe.

"Two souls were won through the sale of one copy of Life and Health."
—OLEN GILLIAM, Publishing Secretary, New Jersey Conference.

"As I stood on the shore watching a baptism, my heart was overjoyed. I began to think back to one and a half years ago when I first met this family. I had canvassed a family close by and on my way back off that road I noticed a "for sale" sign on this home. I had been looking around for a home for my family and this looked rather nice.

"As the good lady of the house showed me through it, I couldn't help but think as I looked at her, "Jesus died for that soul." I breathed a prayer that God would help me say a word for Him, and He did. I got to canvass her.

"She couldn't afford to buy any books, but she was baking cakes to sell so I worked out a deal with her. I traded some of our smaller books for a nice big fruit cake. The cake was delicious, but I didn't want that to be the only blessing I'd receive

Missions Extension Offering Scheduled

"THE medical work is still the entering wedge, and is doing more to break down prejudice on Malaita than all other methods combined." So writes R. A. Harrison, President of the Eastern Solomon Islands Mission. Today we have approximately 1500 Sabbath keepers on Malaita and that field reports that credit goes to the medical work for breaking down the opposition and opening the way for these people to hear the Adventist message.

This year, 1961, marks the 25th anniversary of the medical work at Kwailibesi Hospital and Leprosarium. As we view the wooden structures, we realize that the tropical weather plus the damage of termites makes them beyond repair. This hospital must be rebuilt if it is to continue to care for the 600-1,000 outpatients a month, the 20 inpatients per month, plus the 30 lepers who receive treatments daily. In addition to the building, there is great need for medications and supplies.

From many parts of the world come the pleas for more funds to carry on the present medical program and to extend it to new areas. Some have waited for 30 years for a hospital. Take a look at Kerala, the beautiful state of South India, which has the distinction of having more people per square mile than any other state in that land of millions. In 1930 the first plans were made for a medical program but, owing to the pressure of the needs in other areas, the plan for Kerala's hospital has been delayed. Thirty long years have passed—the people of Kerala continue to pray. This year a portion of the Missions Extension offering will go toward a hospital in Kerala.

From East Pakistan, a land where rivers and canals replace roads, where nearly 1,000 people live on each square mile, comes the need for a medical launch and a small base hospital. As the launch moves from place to place many people can be treated and those needing hospitalization can be directed to the base hospital. The launch is under construction now, but its efficiency will be greatly curtailed unless the base hospital unit can be established.

These lands are looking forward with confidence to a generous Missions Extension Offering from the North American churches. Will you give liberally?

Charleston Vacation Bible School

THE vacation Bible school held in Charleston, W. Va., July 10-21, at the Edgewood Junior Academy, seemed to take the form of an evangelistic program conducted by the children. On the first day only 36 registered, but by the following Monday, thanks to the unceasing efforts of the children to encourage their friends to come, the enrollment mounted to 70. Of these 70 at least 25 were from non-Adventist homes.

The staff worked untiringly to make this Bible school the best Charleston has had. It might even be said that they performed beyond the call of duty, because one morning after a terrific storm, they opened the door to the school to be met with huge puddles of water covering most of the floor. The rain had come through the ceiling and under the doors. The teachers quickly slipped out of their shoes, found mops and buckets, and soon cleared away the water. Opening exercises were 30 minutes late starting, but were just as full of enthusiasm as ever.

The rain also had ruined many crafts the children had completed, but they soon forgot their disappointment as they became engrossed in the new craft adventure for that day.

All the Bible school students learned much from their wonderful lessons on "God's Noble Heroes." They also enjoyed their nature study on butterflies and had a great deal of fun working on crafts. All the children deserved the certificates presented to them during the closing program.

The hard-working group that made this Bible school a success was composed of the following: Kindergarten leader, Mrs. Lola Chase; teachers, Mrs. Jean Mick, Mrs. Margaret Ashby, Mrs. Leeta Dunlap; Primary leader, Mrs. Dee Lively; teachers, Mrs. Phyllis Davis, Mrs. Mickey Freelan, Mrs. Josephine Jones; Junior teachers, Mrs. Harry Crites, Mrs. Cloda Bailey; Craft leader, Mrs. G. S. Sharman; song leader and recreation leader, Judy Halstead; nature instructor, Elder G. S. Sharman; pianist, Mrs. Lillian Lippincott; juice maker, Mrs. Mable Guffee; baby sitters, Minta Halstead, Minnie Atkins.

The writer wishes to encourage all churches to plan a vacation Bible school next year. It is a very rewarding experience for both children and workers.

from that contact, so I began praying for that family.

"Later I stopped back. I invited her and the children to church, and they came with me. After a few weeks her husband came along also.

"I arranged for Bible studies in the home. They consented and invited her mother, father, and grandfather. One of the very faithful members of the church conducted the studies every week. The result of those studies and books was wonderful.

"Elder Butler conducted the baptism. It thrilled my heart as I stood on the shore and watched this young man, his wife, and her mother walk out of the water. They have four children in the church also. This is the real joy in the literature work. I'm so glad the Lord impressed me to stop there that day.

"Friends, there are honest in heart everywhere. Let's all search for them together that we might go home with Jesus. This is a wonderful work, and I love it. With the help of God, I want to be found doing this work until the very end."—PAUL ARNER, Literature Evangelist, Chesapeake Conference.

On page 2 is a boxed section, entitled "My Response." Won't you indicate your interest and join the literature evangelists of your conference and of the Columbia Union Conference? If so, will you not dedicate your interest in the box accompanying this article, and send your response to the Publishing Department Secretary of your conference, knowing that very shortly he will invite you to join the growing army of bookmen in your conference?

Won't you come to the Special Training School for literature evangelists scheduled for September 10-13 in Washington, D. C.? This will be held in the Review and Herald chapel.

Keep in mind that soon thousands will be converted in a day, most of whom will trace their first convictions to the reading of our publications. Again, it is evident that the seed must be sown. Someone must be a seed sower. Could that be you?

"Time for Singing" On Princeton Station

FROM one end of West Virginia to the other end, from east to west and from north to south, the message we love so dearly is being aired each Sunday, either by radio or by television.

Recently Radio Station WLOH, 1490 on the dial, began broadcasting the music program, "Time for Singing," on its Princeton outlet. This program produced by the Voice of Prophecy is aired at 12:15 P.M. on Sundays. It has been on the air now for a few weeks. Those in the area of WLOH are requested to tune in for this 15-minute singspiration program, then write to the station and tell how much you enjoyed it.

At least nine radio stations are carrying the Voice of Prophecy and five stations are carrying Faith for Today here in West Virginia. There is no place in this mountain state where at least one of the programs cannot be seen or heard. Let us pray continually for souls to be born into the kingdom as a result of the broadcasts and telecasts.

Blue Ridge Youth Camp

WITH 148 decisions for Christ, Blue Ridge Youth Camp, at Montebello, Va., is concluding a most successful and inspirational season dedicated to the youth of Potomac Conference.

Missionary Volunteer honors were issued to 300 of the 325 campers, a fine record for any camp.

Camps that were held this summer were Leaders' Camp, Kub Kamp, Junior Camp No. 1, Junior Camp No. 2, Teenage Camp, and Senior Youth Camp. In all of these camps there was no sickness; the health throughout was at an all-time high.

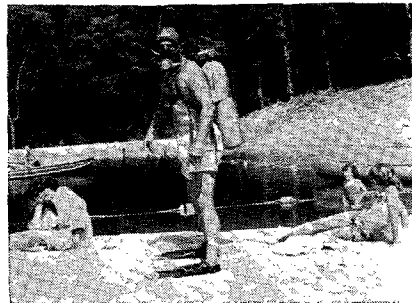

Much previous planning and labor contributed greatly to the successes mentioned above. A new nature building was constructed (see accompanying photo); an addition was made to the dining lodge to house the new quarters for crafts instruction; a new well was sunk providing sparkling, approved water for all and all buildings were painted.

We are grateful to the providences of God for sound direction in the affairs of our camp and our youth. (See accompanying photos for the rest of the story of youth in the summertime with nature and nature's God.)

Spencerville School Notes Improvements; New Bus Added to Fleet

THE 1961-62 school year of Spencerville Junior Academy opens September 5 with new physical facilities, a new school bus, a new principal, a new library, and an anticipated record-breaking enrollment, according to Elder Glenn Smith, Pastor.

Being rushed to completion this week is a $2,500 refurbishing program of the junior academy section of the school. This includes new lighting, new rest-room facilities, and a general "face lifting" of the older part of the school plant.

An enrollment of about 165 is expected this year, the pastor said, which is about 15-20 more than last year. Ready to greet new and returning students is a new Principal, William Stephens. The staff includes nine full-time teachers and two part-time instructors in music. Four devote time to the junior academy level, while five serve the elementary grades.

Making its first appearance next week will be a new 15-passenger school bus shown in the photo on this page. The bus will be added to the fleet of five other busses, which provide transportation over a wide geographical territory.

Plans are underway to install new maple flooring in the gymnasium-auditorium at a cost of more than $3,000, which will enable students to skate and participate in other activities during the school year.

Attractive rates are available for families with more than one child in school, says Elder Smith. Information concerning details of the school program can be obtained from Elder Smith or the Principal.

Successful Summer Camp Enrolls 110

CAMP MANATAWNY, operated by the MV Department and sponsored by the Allegheny Conference, closed after 15 days of swimming, hiking, crafts, nature study, games, and campfires.

The camp gave 110 boys and girls a rounded program in the out of doors, away from the congestion of city life.

Through the courtesy of the Cloverleaf Dairy, the campers were taken to the Pottsgrove Museum, the home of Daniel Boone, and given a tour of the dairy. As they entered the restaurant connected with the dairy, they were treated to French-fried potatoes and ice cold juice. Bill Grow was the host.

For the fourth consecutive year a group of children from the Kent County Welfare Department of the state of Delaware were sent to camp. Mrs. Beulah Gibbs is the social worker. These children, 18 in all, were among the best behaved at the Manatawny encampment.

Children from Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Md., Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Ohio enjoyed the privilege of camping which the Conference makes possible.

A special promotional feature was a trophy offered to the Missionary Volunteer society or school that sent the largest number of boys and girls to the summer camp. This award will be given to the Montclair, N. J., Society, the leader of which is Clarence Grant. The secretary is Sheila Golden and the Pastor of the Montclair Church is Elder Edward Dorsey.

The job of feeding the boys and girls with appetites sharpened by the mountain air was handled by Mrs. Hallie Hartie, chief dietitian of Pine Forge Institute; Mrs. Aida Hampton and Mrs. Mozelle Thomas, both from Williamstown, N. J.; and Burnette Smith, a student at the Institute from Bermuda, who is working during the summer.

West Pennsylvania

Report of Annual Camp Meeting at Somerset

NEARLY perfect weather, a record attendance, and a deeply spiritual atmosphere combined to make the 58th annual camp meeting of the West Pennsylvania Conference one long to be remembered.

Under the able leadership of Elder F. W. Wernick, President, the 10-day meeting featured a series on the great characters of the Bible, health lectures, a study on the book of Revelation, a review of overseas missions, workshops for church officers, and daily spiritual messages by General, Union, and local conference speakers.

Many vital decisions were made by delegates as calls were made for re-consecration and dedication to a challenging task which is ahead of God's people. Delegates are determined to make 1961 a banner year in soul winning and in every other phase of church activities.

Every facility of the camp was taxed to its capacity as a record number of people registered for the meeting held in beautiful Edgewood Grove near Somerset, Pa. The atmosphere was conducive to the spiritual messages presented from day to day.

The General Conference was represented by Elders R. A. Anderson, and J. E. Edwards. Loma Linda University sent Dr. Ellsworth Wareham who conducted a series of highly informative medical talks. The Voice of Prophecy Group B included Elder H. M. S. Richards, Jr., Del Delker, and Brad and Olive Braley. Elder H. E. Hass spoke for Faith for Today. The entire Union Conference staff, including Elders L. E. Lenheim, T. R. Gardner, N. C. Wilson, E. A. Robertson, E. M. Peterson, W. C. Moffett, H. K. Halladay, Bruce Wickwire, and the writer were present. Columbia Union College sent Dr. W. H. Beaven and Elder Euel Atchley, while the mission field was represented by Elder W. A. Hilliard.

Evangelism was the theme of the inspiring program on the first Sabbath afternoon when members pledged to support an all-out soul-winning program in the coming year. On the second Sabbath the challenge of Christian education was presented to the Conference constituency.

Other programs of interest included a meeting of the state Dorcas Welfare Federation; a series of public relations workshops for pastors, press secretaries, and others; a book sale directed by William Otis, and Elder Bruce Wickwire; two sessions for wives of ministers; a daily instructional meeting for literature evangelists; and an illustrated missions program directed by Elder Edwards who recently returned from a trip to South Africa.

The food service again this year was directed by a quartet of young ladies—Linda Gustafson, Shirley Campbell, Molly Gustafson, and Janyce Niedbalski.

Directing various phases of the camp program for the first time was Elder John Toop, recently appointed Home Missionary, Sabbath School, and Public Relations Secretary of the Conference. Assisting Elder Wernick in the camp program were Elder C. B. Green, Secretary-Treasurer, and Elder George Gainer, camp superintendent. Elder William Carey was chairman of the music committee and registration came under the wing of Elder Victor Zuchowski. Elder Dale Ingersoll took charge of the senior youth program; Harry Van Pelt, of the juniors; Mrs. N. R. Shepherd of the primary; and Betty Bish, of the kindergarten. Elder E. A. Roberts managed the food service and the store. The important post of platform manager was handled by Elder H. N. Bresee.

It was my privilege to spend the entire 10-day period at this camp meeting. I found that the Spirit of God was evident throughout the camp and the program proved to be a refreshing spiritual experience. Already the constituents are looking forward to the next such meeting.

OBITUARIES

BEACH, Oliver R., was born in Marion County, Ohio, July 7, 1890, and died July 24, 1961, at his home near Gallion, Ohio. He was baptized into the Gallion Adventist Church in December, 1946, and was a sincere Christian. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Edna Beach; one son, William; three grandsons; 10 stepchildren; and a brother, Joseph Beach. Services were held in the Gallion Church by Elder R. F. Farley, assisted by Marshall M. Wright, Associate Pastor. He was laid to rest in Fairview Cemetery, Gallion.

ZELLNER, Mabel E., was born September 21, 1895, in Heidelberg Township, and died July 18, 1961, at the home of her son, Wilmer, in New Tripoli, Pa. She had been a faithful member of the New Tripoli Seventh-day Adventist Church since her baptism in 1945. Surviving are her son; one daughter, Mildred Trine; her sister, Emma Zellner; and six grandchildren. She was laid to rest at Weizenberg Cemetery near New Tripoli to await the resurrection.

WILKES, Mrs. Emma, was born December 3, 1907, and died in her home in Sinking Spring, Pa., July 13, 1961. For many years she was a member of the Kenhorst Boulevard Church, Reading, Pa. She is survived by her husband, Alfred; her mother; two sons, Ronald and Alfred, Jr.; three grandchildren; and one sister. She was laid to rest in the family plot in Bern Cemetery where she awaits the resurrection.

BOYER, Mrs. Mabel, was born in Reading, Pa., March 13, 1888. She died in the Reading Hospital, February 22, 1961. Surviving are her husband, Isaac; one son, Edward; and three daughters, Ruth Boyer; Anna Hain; and Edith Kaszmierczak, all of Reading. She rests in the hope of the resurrection.

Williamsport School Dedicated

THE day long anticipated by the members of the Williamsport Seventh-day Adventist Church finally arrived after six years of saving and planning for their church school. Classes had been held in the two classrooms for several years, so the men and women gathered to give the walls a fresh coat of green paint and put down gray tile on the floor. This brought the investment in the building to almost $60,000.

At 2:30 in the afternoon of May 14 the auditorium was well filled with members and friends. Lilacs spread a fragrance in the room as the church choir under the direction of Mrs. Bausinger opened the program with several selections. Speakers included the Mayor, County Superintendent of Schools, and Elder D. D. Baldwin. Elder R. D. Fearing, who began construction of the school, gave the history. The dedicatory address was given by Elder E. A. Robertson. Elder G. M. Woodruff led in the act of dedication and Elder Arthur Kiesz brought the congregation and building before the Lord in dedication.

Open house followed the services and the public was served punch and cake from the Dorcas kitchen following the tour of the building which is located on a large tract of land in South Williamsport. A pictorial record of the day's activities was presented to the school by Mr. Noll who is a friend of the school. The local American Legion Post presented the school with a new flag.

Spot News

• A THREE-DAY workers' retreat was held at Blue Mountain Academy for the working ministerial force of the East Pennsylvania Conference, August 21-24. Elder E. J. Folkenburg of the New York Conference, guest speaker, stressed public evangelism. Also attending the meeting was Elder W. S. Jesske of the Voice of Prophecy. Elder Jesske gave instruction to the ministers on proper methods of Bible school visitation.

• Members of the Berks County Civil Defense Corporation were guests at Blue Mountain Academy, August 26. The corporation was making an inspection tour of the new administration building. Blue Mountain Academy would play an important role in county government in the event of nuclear attack.

• Elder A. F. Ruf has moved to Reading, Pa., where he will be associated with Elder Harley Schander in the Reading district and will assume the responsibility of Stewardship Secretary of the Conference. Elder Ruf will be available at any time to give assistance in regard to wills and legacies and financial matters pertaining to the work of the church.

• Elder W. S. Jesske of the Voice of Prophecy spent August 15-21 visiting Bible school enrollees with some of the East Pennsylvania Conference pastors. Several hundred people are led to a knowledge of the Bible each year through the method of public evangelism. These visits were made in the York, Harrisburg, Lancaster, and Danville districts.
