“Faith for Today” Goes to Court

On May 16 Faith for Today will appear in the Court of Special Sessions located in the Criminal Courts Building, Queens borough, New York City. At that time your television organization will go on trial before a panel of three judges for an alleged violation of New York's Sunday closing law.

Recently when the plea of “not guilty” was entered in this court the officer of the court responded with the question: “You are aware of the fact that you may simply plead ‘guilty,’ pay a fine, and avoid all that is involved in a court trial?”

But we felt that there was a clear case of principle versus a fine, and at stake was the principle of religious freedom. At stake is the right of a religious institution to engage in purely religious work in direct connection with its activities on Sunday. In this instance no amount, no matter how small or large, would change the principle nor the picture.

In this experience the telecast staff has felt the strong influence of many expressions of concern and the assurances of prayer that have come from our people. We view this whole episode as another message from heaven boldly declaring that the hour is late and the work is great!

Certainly the restless masses of humanity, exploding in numbers, need the message of God. It must be given in the most expedient manner. This is Faith for Today's unique position in communicating the gospel to the masses. This has ever been its charter as it enters its 13th continuous season of televangelism as America's oldest church-sponsored telecast.

Again the bonds and strength of prayer are solicited from our ever-faithful and alert membership of the church that our mutual task of giving God's message might be sounded with probing power. Allegiance to principle demands it. Love enables it.

Remember us especially in prayer on May 16.

Sligo MV Society Announces Student Missionary for '62

THE MV Society of Sligo Church, Takoma Park, Md., presented its Student Missionary for 1962, Friday evening, March 23, in a special program entitled “The Big Night.”

Recipient of the honor is Marie Moleta, 21, of Guttenberg, N. J., a sophomore nursing major at Columbia Union College. She was selected by the Sligo MV Student Missionary

Marie Moleta, Columbia Union College student nurse, is the Sligo MV Student Missionary for 1962. In the first week of June she will depart for a summer of service at Ile-Ife Mission Hospital, Ile-Ife, Nigeria, West Africa. Introduced in a surprise program, the student missionary receives flowers from Elder Melvin L. Tompkins, Associate Pastor of the Sligo Church.

Committee from 12 final candidates.

Miss Moleta's stay in Nigeria will entail three full months of work this summer at Ile-Ife Mission Hospital, a well-known Seventh-day Adventist institution in the city of Ile-Ife. Following her duty there, she will return to Takoma Park to report her experiences in several programs in the area. She will also become chairman of the Sligo MV Foreign Mission Band.

The Sligo MV Student Missionary program dates back to 1959 when the first student missionary, Marlin Mathiesen, was sent to Mexico. In 1960 Dick Ruhling went to Colombia and Venezuela, and 1961 Lester Mohr served in the Netherlands Antilles.

In order to give the current student missionary a few high lights regarding life, customs, and opportunities in Nigeria, four returned missionaries were present: Elder and Mrs. Jesse Gibson and Elder and Mrs. Grover Winslow. Colored slides of Nigeria also were shown.

The second secretary of the Nigerian Embassy in Washington, D. C., C. C. Uchuno, gave a brief outline of what Miss Moleta can expect to find and experience in his country. He expressed gratification that the student selected will serve in a hospital, in view of the great medical needs of Nigeria which has a population of over 35 million and only one doctor for every 350,000 people.

The parents of Miss Moleta, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moleta, were present at the occasion—a pleasant surprise to the young missionary.

In a service performed by Elder Daniel Cotton of the Columbia Union College Department of Religion, Miss Moleta was dedicated as a representative of Columbia Union College,

Retired Worker's Service Spans Six Decades

EMMA S. NEWCOMER was born near Hagerstown, Md., April 27, 1871. Her first introduction to the Adventist message was in 1898 when Elders John F. Jones and Jesse C. Stevens conducted a tent effort in Hagerstown. She was baptized the next year by Elder W. A. Westworth.

When the Chesapeake Conference was organized about 1899, she became its first Sabbath School Secretary, in which work she continued until elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Conference in 1912.

In 1920 Miss Newcomer became Editor of the Columbia Union Visitor. A year later she was called home to Hagerstown to care for her parents who died shortly afterward.

She then resumed work in the Conference as a Bible Instructor until her retirement at an advanced age. She still is a faithful member of the Hagerstown, Md., church.

Many of our members will remember the cheering, inspiring, stabilizing influence of this godly, self-sacrificing worker in the days when membership was small, workers few, and remuneration very low. Other workers came and went. She remained a pillar in the Conference.

In the 91 years of her life she has seen the horse and buggy give place to the auto and airplane, and the 50,000 members of her day spread to more than a million and a half Sabbath keepers as the message sweeps in triumph to the ends of the earth and the coming of the Lord draws near.

Adventist Doctor Speaks On "Voice of America"

DR. ERLO ROTH, one of the staff doctors of Hadley Memorial Hospital, writes a medical feature program in the Portuguese language for the Voice of America broadcast to Brazil. This program is heard twice a week. The first broadcast is live and the second is a re-run of the tape which was made at that time. Doctor Roth has been featured on this program for about six months. These broadcasts are in the interest of a better understanding of modern medicine. Subjects recently discussed were "Cancer of the Uterus" and "Treatment of Acute Intoxication."

The people of Brazil look forward to hearing Doctor Roth each week, and among them are his mother and father, Elder and Mrs. Ernesto Roth, who never miss a broadcast. Elder Ernesto Roth is located at Espirito Santo, Brazil.

Doctor Roth also serves as resident pathologist at Hospital Center, Washington, D. C. Other Seventh-day Adventists working at the Voice of America, Latin American Division, are: Edson Vasconcellos, translator in Spanish, of Argentina, and Amenco Gufford.

Win Souls With "These Times"

These Times faces its greatest and most encouraging missionary program. For in our missionary subscriptions received in 1962 we are prepared to deliver 12 great evangelistic reprints, written by W. A. Fagal of Faith for Today, covering all the doctrines, in 12 marvelous center spreads.

How fitting that we should include in our missionary subscription group a missionary subscription for every one of our loved ones and neighbors and friends whom we want to meet in the eternal land.

One reader wrote recently from Cleveland, Texas: "By chance I picked up a copy of the magazine, These Times, for June, 1961. I had never seen one before. I have read every article in it with delight. Please send me information on how I can order.—Mrs. A. A. R."

These Times is appreciated. From every section of the field come stirring reports of souls' being warned and won through this marvelous missionary journal. Your help is needed to make it ever more effective. A minimum goal of two subscriptions per member is our aim for this year.

Order through your church missionary secretary or Book and Bible House.

MEN IN SERVICE. For a number of years Fort Detrick, near Frederick, Md., has had stationed within its base a large number of Seventh-day Adventist servicemen. They come to Fort Detrick from all parts of the United States, including many from the Columbia Union Conference. The men first take their basic training at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio, Texas, and then they volunteer for a special Army Medical Department project at Fort Detrick. The picture above shows the majority of the men at Fort Detrick, including a delegation from the Columbia Union Conference.

Private Recordings of GC Session Not Permissible

In view of certain problems which would be faced in the promiscuous making and use of recordings of the General Conference session, the General Conference finds it necessary to make the following announcement governing recordings at the forthcoming session:

The making of private recordings will not be permissible, because any unauthorized recording of copyrighted music is a violation of the copyright law. Most copyright owners allow public rendition of their copyrighted selections; however, almost without exception, every copyright owner retains the recording rights. Many may have the opinion that as long as they make the recordings for their own use and not for sale they are thus relieved of responsibility under the copyright law, but such is not the case. The law does not differentiate between recording for sale and recording for private use.

Another reason for regulating the recording privilege is the present sensitive state of world affairs. It is not always appropriate for the church at home and abroad to have the work of the General Conference Session released for indiscriminate use. When allowing personal recordings of General Conference meetings, there is no control over the use of such material.

In view of these and other considerations the General Conference is issuing this notice, that no provision is being made for private recordings at the forthcoming General Conference Session. However, it has been arranged for authorized master recordings to be made of all meetings at the Civic Auditorium and the Sabbath meetings at the Cow Palace. Immediately after the meetings the tapes will be edited, duplicated, and made available through the Audio-Visual Department of the Review and Herald Publishing Association at a small handling charge in addition to the actual cost of the tapes. This plan eliminates the necessity on the part of delegates and visitors of bringing recorders and taking time to supervise them. All are left free to attend the meetings.

We trust everyone will cheerfully cooperate with this arrangement, and that with the official recordings and the very ample coverage of the session in the Review and Herald, the messages and actions of the General Conference will be carried to many who are not able to attend, and that the blessings of this great meeting will be felt in all parts of the world.

Birthday Offerings Help Mission Work

THE blessings of the Birthday-Thank Offering plan have been felt in mission fields all over the world. More than three million dollars has gone out to needy mission fields since this offering was begun many years ago.

Surely every member of the Sabbath School should participate in this plan to increase our help to mission fields and hasten the return of our Lord.

Church School Music Festivals

FIVE church schools in the capital and the Tidewater area of the Potomac Conference joined children's voices in a choral and instrumental music festival in Hampton and Richmond the last Sabbath in March and the first Sabbath in April. More than 200 young people participated in this hour-and-a-half program on Sabbath afternoon under the capable leadership of George Babcock, Principal of the Villa Heights Junior Academy in Norfolk; Mrs. Doris Chisholm, a teacher in Norfolk; and Mrs. Ellen Klim, wife of the pastor in South Richmond.

The programs included solos, duets, and instrumental, group, and massed-choir numbers. A 20-minute organ concert by David Babcock, organist of the Hampton Church, preceded each program. Mrs. Barbara Babcock also accompanied many of the numbers on the piano during the program. Presenting the selections were Carolyn Shobe and Mrs. Myrtie Belote, teachers in the Richmond school.

This first music festival in the Potomac Conference was so well received and so greatly enjoyed by all who participated and those who attended that it encouraged other areas to plan for theirs for another year. At least three will be planned for the spring of 1963: one in Shenandoah Valley, one in the Washington area, and one in the Tidewater area.

Plan now to have your boy or your girl of school age in church school next year so that they can participate in this music treat with the other many enjoyments and advantages of Christian education.

Morgantown Church Holds Branch Sabbath School

YEARS ago the Morgantown Church conducted a branch Sabbath School, and because of this groundwork the Masontown Church came into existence. The church was built and the membership reached about 35. Then "hard times" came and many of the members had to move away to find work.

The Morgantown Church again is ready to help its sister church. An evangelistic branch Sabbath School is being conducted in Masontown especially for the youth for the next two months. If interest can be aroused, the branch Sabbath School will be followed by a vacation Bible school and then later, in the fall, there will be an evangelistic series.

Your prayers are requested that the work might go forward in Masontown and that the church will continue as an organization and many will be ready to meet their Maker when He comes.

First MV Investiture in Weirton Held

THE Weirton MV Society is less than two years old; nevertheless, the officers saw fit to capitalize on the foundation structure of the original leaders, and on Sabbath afternoon, February 17, had their first investiture service. The entire group of JMV's were in full uniform for the occasion.

Weirton, as a church, has a membership of 36, yet 29 different people were invested in the various MV and preparatory classes. They earned and received 65 MV Book Club and 11 Bible Year certificates.

The program preceding the giving of the awards and charge by the Conference MV Secretary included many instrumental music selections as well as portions of the class requirements completed.

It is the hope of the Conference MV Department that this will inspire other small churches and societies to try and equal this feat for the sake of their youth.

MVA Sponsors "Academy Day" Program

THE largest number of prospective students ever to gather on the campus of Mount Vernon Academy converged on Mount Vernon Tuesday, April 24. It is estimated that 295 young people from churches across Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland, and Michigan participated in the day's activities.

The largest out-of-state delegation was from West Virginia, 13 carloads, totaling 44 prospective students. There were six students from Pennsylvania, six from Kentucky, three from Maryland, and one from Michigan. Ohio was represented by 136 young people.

Many were astounded when they learned that 131 of the 295 students present for the Academy Day were from public schools. Twenty of the group registered as non-Seventh-day Adventists. An added note of interest was the fact that of the 295 attending 140 were boys and 155 were girls.

The program was varied and interesting. The morning was devoted to registration, a tour of the campus, a welcome by Elder D. W. Hunter on behalf of the Ohio Conference, and a welcome by Bob Somerour, Student Association President, on behalf of the student body.

Following dinner was a ball game, a concert by the Academy Band and the Mass Choir, a trampoline demonstration, a drill by the Medical Cadet Corps, and finally refreshments before the youth were dismissed to return to their homes.

Cleveland Parents' Forum Termed Successful

THE second successful session of the Parents' Forum was held in the Cleveland Seventh-day Adventist Church on April 4. It is an outgrowth of a refreshing interest in the problems of the Home and School Association.

A group of five members of the Cleveland and Willoughby Churches is planning meetings that will encourage increased enrollment in the church school. The members are Elmer Metzendorf, Dorothy Ginal, Helen Diehm, Ruth Brining, and Sam Myers.

The first meeting gave helpful ideas about how to observe the Sabbath with children. The second meeting featured an excellent comparison of public and church schools by Mrs. Charles Zettlemeyer.

The Parents' Forum is making a real impact upon the minds of parents in this area. Already the school board has promise of a good increase in enrollment. "It should have happened before" is a typical remark about the program.

Not only will this kitchen serve as a home economics laboratory, but it will function as a church kitchen also. Two doors open into the large auditorium, where several hundred could be served.

Future plans call for steam and serving decks.

New Youth Camp Infirmary To Honor Dr. Maude Bull

It is planned that the infirmary at the new youth camp will be named in honor of the late Dr. Maude Bull. In her will Dr. Bull left a sum of money to be used for helping the young people of Seventh-day Adventist churches in Ohio.

Assigning this money for the constructing of the infirmary seems very appropriate in view of Dr. Bull's dedication to the practice of medicine and the education of young people.

Added to this gift from Dr. Bull's estate will be some $3,000 from alumni of Loma Linda University and other medical and dental personnel in the Ohio Conference.

It is the hope that this infirmary will be completed in time for use during the coming camp season.

VOP Group B to Visit Conference Campground

For the first time members of the East Pennsylvania Conference will have the opportunity of meeting Elder H. M. S. Richards, Jr., eldest son of Dr. H. M. S. Richards and program speaker, oftentimes over the nation-wide networks of N.B.C., Mutual, and A.B.C.

Associated with Pastor Richards in their tour of the East will be Del Delker, with her distinctive contralto voice and the musical team of Brad and Olive Braley. Mr. Braley is the Voice of Prophecy organist, and Mrs. Braley joins her husband often, forming an organ-piano team.

The Voice of Prophecy group will be on our campground Friday and Sabbath, July 6 and 7. Have you arranged your program so you can attend this great spiritual convocation? Are you planning to bring friends along with you, that they, too, might have the blessings that come through a camp-meeting experience?

Application blanks for cabin and tent space will be received in the East Pennsylvania Conference, beginning April 1. The application blank appeared in the VISITOR, April 5.

Voice of Prophecy Group B includes Harold M. S. Richards, Jr., who is heard oftentimes on the coast-to-coast radio program, speaking for his father, Dr. Harold M. S. Richards, speaker and founder of the Voice of Prophecy radio program; Brad Braley, organist; Mrs. Olive Braley, pianist; and Del Delker, contralto. This group will attend camp meeting at Wescosville, July 6 and 7.

Youth Rally Held at Clearfield

YOUNG people like action and action it was, during the entire day of Sabbath, April 7, at the Junior High School Auditorium in Clearfield, Pa. More than 600 people gathered together for the first Conference-wide youth rally to be held in the West Pennsylvania Conference in eight or nine years.

Elder E. M. Peterson, Columbia Union Conference MV Secretary, was the guest speaker at the 11:00 o'clock worship service. In his sermon he made it very clear that it does make a great deal of difference how young people spend their time, where they spend it, and with whom they spend it. We are in the world but we do not have to be a part of the world.

The afternoon program was varied and full of action. A splendid musical program was presented by the teachers and children of our elementary schools. This was followed by a "march-in" and presentation of all the Pathfinder Clubs in this conference. This phase of the youth work is growing steadily.

Probably the most outstanding feature of the afternoon, as far as color and public appeal are concerned, was the presentation of "Gideon's Army." It was made up of nine young people who were chosen to represent all of the various JMV classes that would be invested during the afternoon mass investiture service. Each individual carried a shield on the left arm painted in the colors and insignia of the class they represented. In the right hand of each was carried a gold sword inscribed with a Bible text that had to be memorized as a partial fulfillment of classwork. This demonstration helped to impress upon the minds of those in attendance that God's Word is truly the "Sword of the Spirit" and more valuable and sharper than any sword that man can make.

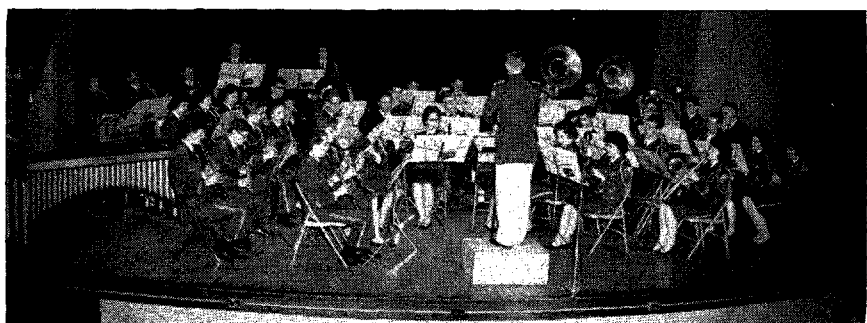

The large investiture service was the result of many month's work and the combined efforts of church schools, Pathfinder clubs, MV societies, and Master Guide clubs. A total of 170 people were invested, including seven Master Guides. Three others were ready to be invested as Master Guides but were not able to attend. Without a doubt this was the largest number to be invested at one time in the history of the West Pennsylvania Conference. Many church members and friends were greatly impressed with this display of activity, and realized for the first time the wonderful program our organization has developed in behalf of its young people. New interest is springing up all over the Conference and individuals are inquiring as to how they can get started in MV work.

During the entire day Blue Mountain Academy students and teachers gave strong support to the program by means of special music and student talks. The real climax to the day's activities came in the form of a wonderfully executed band concert. Everyone was thrilled to see and hear the academy students perform.

Because of the great enthusiasm

CHESAPEAKE MUSIC CAMP
Mt. Aetna

August 26-September 1

R. E. Hamilton

The Reisterstown congregation has gone forward on a pay-as-you-go basis. The Lord has blessed and, while there has not been an excess of money in reserve at any time, there has been sufficient to carry on a steady program of work.

The building has been under construction for the past five and a half years. It is in a choice location, just off Route 140 on Berryman's Lane in Reisterstown. The building is of brick construction and of a very conservative design. The main auditorium, including a balcony, will seat 250.

Tithe for March Shows Encouraging Increase

As most members know, the support of the evangelical work of a Conference depends almost entirely upon tithe. Sabbath School offerings and other mission offerings are simply tabulated at the Conference office and remitted on to the ultimate destination their name implies, but not so with the tithe.

In harmony with denominational organizational policies, approximately 60 per cent of the tithe is retained by the local conference. Normally this percentage is sufficient for the immediate demands at least, but as all know, there recently has been economic recession or business slump. Whenever this happens it can and does affect Adventists. This, then, would affect tithe.

There were apprehensions when January and February of this year showed tithe totals of under $38,000. The month of March brought forth the good news of over $50,000. This fact is worth telling, for it indicates that the economy is improving, but, more than that, it fairly shouts the faith, the optimism, and the loyalty of a people hungering to see the work finished.

Occasionally one hears that some misguided person or persons think to hinder God's work by selfishly using the tithe for their own purposes. Do not do it. It will only make you even more miserable. The Spirit of Prophecy refers to God's tithe as a "mere pittance" in comparison to the sacrifice at Calvary. We need the blessing from freely giving, and God's cause needs only free-hearted gifts.

Child Evangelism Workshop Held at Trenton

This is a part of the group that attended the Child Evangelism Workshop in Trenton, February 16-18. The Workshop was conducted by Elder E. B. Hare and Louise Meyer of the General Conference Sabbath School Department, Elder H. K. Halladay of the Columbia Union Conference, and Elder R. D. Steinke of the local conference. An excellent interest was shown in this phase of evangelism.—R. D. Steinke, Public Relations Secretary.

Hoboken Church School, Now in Third Year, Has 20 Students

The Hoboken Church school comprising all the elementary grades, is operating its third year with 20 wide-awake students. Among its number is New Jersey's 1961 church school student champion seller of "Life and Health." Two have finished their "Trail Friend" requirements and they now have their "Gold Stars" Pathfinder Club. Several of the students are taking music lessons on the accordion and the piano and together they have constructed the orchestra chart so they can visualize their music appreciation. On a record player they hear classical music such as Brahms' "Symphony Number One" and Tchaikovsky's "Overture" and they are able to give detailed description of different pieces of music and the composers. Some are endowed with gifts in nature studies and are developing into nature artists. Others are memorizing the Bible verses for the Bible classes several days in advance.—Mrs. Pauline Henkel, teacher.

World Evangelism Offering, May 26

VISITING our churches Sabbath after Sabbath, receiving and witnessing the reports of our good men in the field, shaking the hands of our dear people, and being assured by them of their support and their sincere prayers is a thrilling experience from week to week.

May 26, the fourth Sabbath in the month, has been set aside for our special world offering for evangelism. A report of this offering will be called for at the General Conference Session, and in the face of the abundant blessings we have received from God, we know your response will be reflective of His goodness to us all. Let every member, friend, and well wisher come before the Lord on Sabbath, May 26, with an offering of thanks that the angels may smile upon us.

Allegheny is a big conference and God is blessing in a miraculous way. Every department is able to show gains. Our treasurer, Elder W. A. Thompson, reports: "Last year was our best financially. We again baptized more than 1,000 souls." The literature evangelists again lead the world in deliveries, as reported by Elder C. M. Willis. Ingathering, Elder D. B. Simons reported, was the largest in the history of the Conference. The Youth Department, with Elder Jacob Justiss in charge, is in full swing. Pathfinder clubs are springing up all over the Conference and the activities of our youth are being channeled to Christ.

The educational program continues to show substantial growth, and we are all proud of the professional preparation of our teachers, to which Elder A. V. Pinkney points with a sense of humble pride. The Book and Bible House, with its annex, has been completely changed. Elder Edward Dorsey, recently called to this department, is taking hold encouragingly.

Yes, Allegheny has been blessed. And we thank our Union Conference President, Elder L. E. Lenheim, and his entire committee for the financial assistance in our building program, without whose help we would have been held to a standstill.

When Elder Figuhr and Elder Torrey call for this report, Allegheny must be ready. We look to you, knowing that you will give as your heart urges, that the cause for evangelism at home and abroad will not suffer. May I suggest a minimum of five dollars. Many will give more. No man has ever given to Christ and His work and regretted that he has done so. God's rewards go far beyond man's fondest dreams.

Give, give as God has given to you!

Singer Gives Concert In Dayton, Ohio

MRS. Evelyn Haney, soprano, was presented in concert recently by the Ethnan Temple School in Dayton, Ohio, and the officials of the school board of which Mrs. Irene VanDyke is chairman.

Mrs. Haney, a native of Kentucky, is an artist in her own right. She has studied at the Conservatory of Music in Lexington, Ky., and has been received in musical circles for her interpretation, warmth, and appealing voice.

On February 2 the artist appeared in Memorial Hall, and returned on March 10. Other recitals have been sponsored by the Wesleyan Methodists, the African Methodists, and other church groups.

An active member of the Ethnan Temple Church, Mrs. Haney uses her talent and trained voice in the promotion of the "good life," as she puts it, which is found only in Christ.

Among the numbers she sang at the benefit recital for the school were: "I Heard a Forest Praying," by Peter De Rose; and "Deep River," by Burleigh.

Many visitors and lovers of music were present. During the second part of the program Dr. Frank Hale, Jr., an instructor at Central State College, Wilberforce, Ohio, spoke on Christian education. The speaker formerly was on the staff of Oakwood College, Huntsville, Ala., and was a summer instructor at Columbia Union College, Takoma Park, Md.

Elder U. S. Willis, Pastor of the Dayton-Springfield area, and officials of the school participated.
